SUNFLOWER

VOL. XXXVII — WICHITA, KANSAS, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 16, 1931 — NO. 14

VACATION TO START ON DEC. 18

Students and Faculty Will Have Sixteen Days for Holiday Recess

MANY LEAVE TOWN

Arizona, Connecticut, Texas and Many Other States to Be Visited

CHRISTMAS recess for the students and faculty of the University of Wichita will begin when all classes are dismissed Friday afternoon, December 18. Classes will not be resumed until January 4, giving the students 16 days vacation.

Many students who have not been home since last summer are returning and others are visiting relatives and friends in various parts of Kansas and other states in the union.

Homer Hubbard, professor of public school music is going to Lincoln, Neb., to visit his parents. Miss Gladys Taggart, head of the women's physical education department, will visit her parents at Spencer, Ia., and Miss Evelyn Hinton, assistant in the same department, will see friends in Muskogee, Okla.

Holton Messick, student, left Saturday, December 12 for his home in New London, Conn., where he will visit his mother; Marian Reichmann will spend the Christmas season with his parents in Philadelphia, Penn. Bob Langtry is going to go to Kansas City by airplane and from there to Chicago to see his parents.

Mrs. Bliss Isely and her two sons are going to visit Mr. Isely in Phoenix, Ariz., and Miss Julie Spiller, secretary to the bursar, is returning to Murphysboro, Ill., to spend the Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Spiller. She will also spend several days in St. Louis, Mo.

Alden Brooks, president of the student council, will go on a tour of Oklahoma, Texas and old Mexico with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Brooks. Charles Millham will spend his vacation working on his father's newspaper in Plains and Clifford Van Sickle will be the guest of Wayne Hemphill and Kenneth Banic at their homes in Liberal.

OMAHA PRESIDENT PRAISES UNIVERSITY

"One of the Best of Its Kind," Declares Dr. W. E. Sealock, Here for Visit

Holding the foremost position among institutions of its kind in the middle west, University of Wichita, despite its youth, is showing exceptional progress, probably surpassing that of other municipal schools, according to Dr. W. E. Sealock president of the Municipal University of Omaha, Nebraska.

Dr. Sealock, who spent Thursday on the university campus inspecting the school and discussing with President H. W. Foght problems of the municipally owned institution, was particularly impressed with the administration offices and the science building, which are among the finest in this territory, he declared. He was also impressed with the plans which have been drafted for the future construction of university buildings.

In discussing municipal universities, Dr. Sealock praised the progress shown by the University of Wichita in the field of extension work, stressing the fact that the urban school is not limited by its campus, but carries on its activity over the entire city. Social life of the municipal school is also extended to include the whole city, rather than limited to the college campus.

Dr. Sealock, as president of the Municipal University of Omaha, recently returned from the meeting of the Association of Urban University Presidents, held at Toledo, O., and was impressed by the progress made by municipal schools. The university supported by taxation, in his opinion, will lead all other institutions of higher education in development during the next 10 to 20 years.

Omaha university is the youngest municipally owned university in the country, having been opened as a municipal school this fall. Enrollment in the Omaha school, according to Dr. Sealock, is about 850, an increase of 30 per cent over the last year as a private institution.

In remarking on the plan of Wichita university for future construction, Dr. Sealock brought out that the school of which he is head plans too scrap its entire present campus; moving to a new location and adopting a unified plan of construction.

Dr. Glenn A. Bakkum, head of the department of sociology of the University of Wichita, is convalescing after a tonsil operation last week.

LIBRARY TO REMAIN OPEN OVER HOLIDAYS

Morrison library of the University of Wichita will be open week days during vacation from six to four (nine to 12 on Saturday) with the New Year's day.

Books on the reserve list will not be held at the library over vacation, but students are welcome to study. Graduate students will find conditions particularly favorable for research work.

BROOKS RETURNS FROM DES MOINES

Competes for Scholarship with Eleven Mid-west College Seniors

Alden Brooks, senior and president of the student council of the University of Wichita, returned to Wichita late Friday from Des Moines, Ia., where he, with 11 other middle western college seniors, participated in the competitive examination for the four Rhodes scholarships to be awarded. Two of the awards went to students from Minnesota while the other two went to entries from Nebraska and South Dakota.

The Rhodes scholarship award carries the student receiving the award to England for two years of study at Oxford, to be followed by one year of preparation at any college on the European continent selected by the student.

The tests for the scholarship were given orally to the contestors at the Hotel Fort Des Moines early Wednesday morning. They were very brief and covered a number of subjects.

Among the members of the examining board was Sir William Craigie, noted scholar and editor of the New Oxford Dictionary.

For the election this year of the Rhodes scholars the states of the Union was divided into eight districts of six states each. The students who were selected will enter Oxford in October, 1932.

FACULTY MEMBERS TO ATTEND TULANE MEET

Occasion Is Annual Meeting of American Association Advancement Science

Dr. Hazel Branch, Dr. William Goldsmith, and Dr. H. D. Ayres of the faculty of the University of Wichita will attend the eighty-ninth annual meeting of the American association for the Advancement of Science. The conference will be held at Tulane university in New Orleans, La. Thirty-four scientific societies will hold their annual meetings in conjunction with the regular meeting.

Dr. Branch will read a thesis on the subject "Identification of Chironomid Egg Masses" before the Entomological Society of America. Dr. Branch is chairman of the Junior Academy of Science, which is a branch of the Kansas State Academy of Science.

Dr. William Goldsmith will attend the yearly meeting of Tri Beta the national honorary scientific fraternity, being held during the general conference. Dr. Goldsmith is president of this organization.

LIBRARY STAFF HAS CHRISTMAS MEETING

Supper Served to Members; Toys Brought for Poor Children of City

Library staff of Morrison library of the University of Wichita held its annual Christmas meeting at the home of Miss Alice Isely, assistant librarian, December 11.

Supper was served the members and afterward the staff attended "Sun-Up" at the Henrion Annex. In place of an exchange of gifts as has been the custom in former years, each person brought a toy for some poor child, which will be distributed by the Salvation Army.

Members of the staff who attended are: Misses Alice Buckner, Pauline Gibson, Elizabeth Chacon, Dorothy Dempsey, Esther Fletcher, Thelma Hartman, Genevieve Hopkins, Edna Klassen, Velma Kroeker, Pauline Murphy, Mary Neff, Betty Oliver, Lois Schopf, Lucretia Shelley, Lorene Stone, Lucille Thayer, Ada Tully, and Marguerite Shrenk; Messrs. Clinton H. Collister, P. Y. Feng, Holton Messick, George Squibb, William Townsend and Dolan Welsh. Guests were: Mrs. Dolan Welsh and Mrs. George Buckner.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB HOLDS YULETIDE MEET

A Christmas program by the International club will be held in the Y. W. C. A. room in the Administration building on Wednesday, December 16, at 8:00 p. m.

The speaker for the program will be Mr. Harry Kurdian from Armenia. He will give his impressions of a six-months' tour in Russia and the Orient.

51 TEAMS IN MEET

Fifty-one debating teams from 31 schools in Kansas, and from Nevada, Mo., attended the second annual invitation debate tournament at the University of Kansas, December 11 and 12. A schedule arranged five debates for each team, on the subject of unemployment insurance, but there were no decisions. Critic judges heard all the early debates and offered suggestions to the debates singly and in groups.

BROWN TO COUNCIL MEETING

Leaves for Toledo During Holidays; Will Present Local Student Problems

REPRESENTS COUNCIL

Will Ask National Meet Be Brought to Wichita for Next Year's Conclave

SECURING the 1932 National Student Federation Council convention for Wichita will be one of the purposes of Miss Anita Brown, vice president of the University of Wichita Student Council when she leaves on Christmas day to attend the annual meeting of the N. S. F. C. in Toledo, Ohio.

The Wichita Chamber of Commerce has expressed itself to be heartily in accordance with the plan of bringing the Council to Wichita for the next convention and will give Miss Brown every assistance to bring about a successful completion of the project.

Any club or organization on the campus which wishes to have some problem presented for the consideration of the National Student Federation Council is requested to get in touch with the University delegate, Miss Anita Brown, in order that their especial campus problem may receive the attention of that body at the convention.

The headquarters of the council will be maintained at the Hotel Commodore-Perry in Toledo from December 27 until 31. The council brings together the student representatives from the many universities of the United States to discuss the major campus problems that have arisen during the past year. All sessions will be held either at the hotel or at the municipal University of Toledo.

Miss Brown is taking with her copies of all student publications of the University of Wichita to be exhibited at the convention. She will attend a special session of municipal school representatives where she will investigate the methods of other schools in managing part time students who are engaged in work outside of school.

Miss Brown is planning to meet Miss Dorothy Strawn, president of the student council of the Kansas State Teachers college of Pittsburg, in Kansas City, Mo. They will spend Saturday in Chicago and take advantage of an opportunity to see one of the latest plays written by Vicky Baume. According to Miss Brown the trip to Toledo will be completed late Saturday evening, December 26. She expects to return to Wichita on January 1.

The convention of last year was held in Atlanta, Ga. The University of Wichita was represented there by Frank Salisbury.

Matilda Gaume and Orchestra

LIEURANCE FURNISHES MUSIC

Dean Thurlow Lieurance and a group of musicians from the fine arts department will furnish the music at the last meeting of the Wichita Garden club this year. The program for the meeting, which will be held at the Twentieth Century clubhouse tomorrow night, will be in charge of Dr. E. E. Stauffer, member of the board of regents of the university, who is vice president of the Garden club.

Charles Millham will spend the holidays in Plains, Kan., visiting his parents and friends.

Season's Greetings from The President

NEXT Friday our holiday season begins—the longest in many a school year here at Wichita. May the blessed season bring cheer and happiness to you all. Students and Faculty, coming after a period of earnest application to daily school routine. And shall we not make the Yuletide joyous by thinking of others—helping those who are in distress and want, as did Jesus of Nazareth, the Savior of the World? Let us be like children again, at home with father and mother, and there forget our grown-up and sophisticated modern ways. Let us give rather than receive, for therein lies the greatest blessing of all.

The world needs rest and peace today, if ever it did. Why not, then, during the holidays seek out this rest and quiet in places where reflection is truly possible? And there learn to see how futile are our seekings and strivings in this world, unless they are attuned to and harmonize with the teachings of love and forgiveness taught by the Savior, whose birth we celebrate at this time of year.

Again a Merry Christmas, and a Happy New Year full of blessed promise to all!

H. W. FOGHT, President.

UNIVERSITY ASSISTS IN NORTH CENTRAL ASSOCIATION SURVEY

Attempt to Find New Methods of Accrediting Universities and Colleges to Association

THE University of Wichita will be associated with sixty colleges and universities throughout the country in making a survey with a committee of the North Central Association of colleges. Dr. Harold W. Foght, president, attended a meeting of the committee in Chicago last week at which time plans for the survey were completed.

The purpose of the survey is to try to find a new method of accrediting colleges and universities to the North Central association instead of the methods now used.

Concerning the method now used, Dr. Foght stated, "There is a feeling that it is not sufficient for a school to have fine buildings, large endowments and well paid professors. Some of the largest schools turn out poorer, trained graduates than the smaller schools."

The new survey will seek to set up new standards based on actual student achievements not alone in study while in school. They will be followed into business and professions and will be checked for several years after school. "It is believed that this system will be a much safer measuring stick of what the schools are actually doing than the standard now used," stated Dr. Foght. "The University of Wichita is very glad to have an opportunity to have a part in the work."

UNIVERSITY STUDENT REMOVED TO HOSPITAL

Harry Hamilton, senior in the University, is confined in Wesley hospital, with injuries presumably suffered in an athletic contest this fall.

Suddenly taken ill Monday evening at the Pi Alpha Pi fraternity house, Hamilton was taken to the hospital where his injury was diagnosed a concussion of the brain by doctors who examined him. Hamilton is progressing nicely according to attaches of the hospital where he is confined and will probably be able to return to school in two or three weeks.

Miss Thelma Schellenberger, freshman, will visit her parents over the holidays at Marion, Kan.

RIFLE TEAMS ARE INVITED TO ENTER AT KEMPER SHOOT

Girls Have Won Two Years in Military Tournament at Booneville; Klopfenstein Placed First in 1930

THE boys' and girls' rifle teams at the University of Wichita have again been invited to participate in the Kemper Military Academy rifle tournament at Booneville, Mo., February 26 and 27, according to Capt Cecil Rutledge, sponsor of the teams here.

Teams from schools throughout the Mid-West are invited to the meet. For the past two years, the girls team from Wichita has taken first place firing the prone position.

Although it is not definitely assured that the two teams will be sent, it is expected that funds will be raised to finance the trip. Last year the trip was taken as a private enterprise.

Margaret Klopfenstein, captain of the girls team, placed first last year from the entire group of girls entered in the individual matches. In practice so far she has consistently shot high scores and should repeat her last year's performance.

Sgt. Manning L. Euthon is coach of the girls' team, while Captain Rutledge is developing a boys' team to send to the tournament.

ORGANIZATIONS JOIN IN VESPER SERVICE

Joint vesper service of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. organizations of the University of Wichita and Friends university was held Sunday afternoon, December 13 at the First Methodist church.

The program was under the direction of Miss Helen Day, program chairman of the Y. W. C. A. University of Wichita, and Miss Virginia Stanton, program chairman of the Y. W. C. A. Friends university.

The following program was presented: organ prelude, Myrth McGaugh; Friends male quartet, Willard Yenser, Bill Paswater, Ed Smith, Clifford Billings; scripture reading, Roland Priboth; trumpet duet, Kenneth Stanton, Robert Whitely; reading, "The Mansion" Lucille McLaide, vocal solo, Mildred Monson.

CHRISTMAS WAS NOT ALWAYS CELEBRATED ON DECEMBER 25

Time Dragged into Fifth Century Before There Was Consensus of Opinion as to When Mass of Christ Should Be Held

Christmas, or the mass of Christ, as originally called, has not always been the regular, orderly, and undisputed commemoration of December 25, for time had dragged along into the fifth century before there was any general consensus of opinion as to just when Christmas should come.

The earliest body of gospel tradition as represented by Mark and the primitive documents embodied in the first and third gospels, begins, not with the birth and childhood of Jesus, but with his baptism. Hence the early church adopted commemoration of the baptism of Christ.

Not only were the ancients slower in adopting Christmas but they also seriously questioned the wisdom and righteousness of keeping it at all. The true birth of Christ, they urged, came with his divinity and baptism, and this was celebrated with the feast of Epiphany on January 6. As late as 245, records show that Origen repudiated as sinful the very idea of keeping the birthday of Christ "as if he were a king Pharaoh."

The exact date of Christ's birth itself has been the object of much speculation and conjecture. The earliest identification of December 25 with the birthday of Christ is in a passage, otherwise unknown and probably spurious, of Theophilus of Antioch to the effect that the Gauls contended that as they celebrated the birth of the Lord on December 25, so they ought to celebrate the Pascha on March 25, when the resurrection befell.

The celebration of Christmas as the actual and first birth of Christ certainly originated in the West, but spread quickly eastward. In 353-61, it was observed at the court of Constantius Honorius, emperor in the West (395-432) informed his mother and brother of how the feast which was celebrated in Rome, entirely separate from the January feast.

As early as 400, Rome, by imperial rescript, included Christmas among the three feast days, the other two being Easter and Epiphany, on which theaters must be closed. But it was not until 534 that Epiphany and Christmas were made "days on which the judges do not sit."

FORTER WINS WEEK'S RIFLE COMPETITION

Schafer Places Second and Kinchloe Gets Third Position

Making high scores in all positions, Cecil Forter, senior, was able to place first in the week's competition on the boys' rifle team at the University of Wichita, according to Sgt. Manning L. Euthon. Forter scored 360 points out of a possible 400 to win top position. Leon Schafer placed second with 359 while Howard Kinchloe came in for a high third with 353 points.

Although it is early in the season, Sergeant Euthon expects the men to be shooting around 380 after a little more practice. Matches will not be fired until the first of February, thus giving the team almost two months to practice before the season opens.

Phil Diesinger, a freshmen, placed fourth with 337 points; Pierce garnered fifth position with 331 points; Herron scored 323 points to hold down sixth position; Carlyle Grage placed seventh with 299 points.

Tidwell and Sauer have not completed all four positions of firing and their final score has not been tabulated.

Brooks Harryman who is attending the University of Kansas will spend the Christmas holidays in Wichita visiting relatives and friends.

DR. VER WIEBE ELECTED BY KANSAS GEOLOGISTS

Dr. Walter A. Ver Wiebe head of the geology department of the university, was elected vice president of the Kansas Geological society, at a meeting in the Innes Tea Room Saturday, December 12.

Other officers elected at the meeting were: E. A. Wyman, president; Edward Koester, secretary-treasurer; and Anthony Folger, director for two years.

The society also decided to sponsor the sixth annual field conference which will be held next year.

AVERAGES FOR FIRST SEMESTER COMPILED IN CUP COMPETITION

President's Cup Is to Be Awarded Fraternity Having Highest Average; Sorority to Get Tea Set

AVERAGES of the sorority and fraternity grades for the second semester of last year have been announced by the registrar's office. These grades will be averaged with the grades made during the first semester of this year.

The fraternity and sorority making the highest averages for the two semesters will be awarded the silver cup offered by Dr. Harold W. Foght, president, and the silver tea set offered by Mrs. Foght.

Sorosis receives the highest grade with an average of 86.65, for the semester. Pi Kappa Psi and Alpha Tau Sigma run a close race for second with Pi Kappa Psi ranking 85.93 and Alpha Tau Sigma 85.90. Epsilon Kappa Rho grades average 85.58 and Delta Omega receives the grade of 84.64. The grades of Psi Tau Delta average 80.57 for the semester.

GEOLOGY STUDENTS TO TULSA MEETING

University Professors Are on Program of Geology Society of America

Students majoring in geology plan to accompany Dr. Walter Ver Wiebe and Instructor J. M. Jewett to Tulsa, Okla. for the 44th annual meeting of the Geology Society of America to be held there from Tuesday, December 29 to New Year's.

The program will consist of reports on research work done during the year and a series of field trips to the neighboring Ozark, Wichita, Arbuckle and Ouachita mountains to determine more clearly their stratigraphy.

This is the first time in its history that the society has met in the mid-continent section of the country and is, according to Dr. Ver Wiebe, a courtesy to the petroleum geologists.

Included in the list of the speakers is Dr. Ver Wiebe. He and Mr. Jewett plan to take advantage of the field trips in order to collect more fossils and rock specimens for the university laboratories and the museum.

Among the students planning to attend are Briggs Caldwell, Woodrow Speer, Julius Simonet, Harold McNeil, Russell Cooper and Jack Murray.

MAY FORM HONORARY AERO SOCIETY HERE

An honorary aeronautical fraternity is being considered by the University air department since an invitation from Tau Omega, Oklahoma university society, to form a chapter here. The department is also considering the fraternities at the universities of California and Michigan, according to Tom Solter, president of the Glider club.

HOLD CHARITY DEBATE

A charity debate on the subject of unemployment insurance for the benefit of the unemployed was taken last Wednesday evening at Argentine high school in Kansas City, Kan., between the debate teams of the University of Kansas and the University of Missouri.

AND NOT A NOTE TO PLAY

Although he has $1,200 worth of band music at his disposal, Walter Duerkson, director of the band and leader of the orchestra at the University of Wichita, finds it necessary to borrow music for his two organizations.

"When I took charge of the band this year, I found that we were about the best equipped department in this section, as far as the value of the sheet music is concerned," he said. "It was issued by the U. S. government, and the only trouble is that we can't play it—it's too tough."

"There are symphonies and marches with five or six flats and sharps. About the only bands in the country that could play this music are the military service bands or Sousa's band. The local American Legion organization, which won the national championship years ago plays simplifed versions of the same music we have and can't use. We are forced to borrow

BARBS ARE SUPPORTING YEARBOOK

Have Larger Subscription Rate Than Sororities and Fraternities

HEMPHILL OPTIMISTIC

Mahin Announces Completion of Student and Faculty Section of Annual

SUPPORT from the "barbs" of the University of Wichita for the Parnassus exceeds that of the fraternities or sororities on the campus, according to Wayne Hemphill, business manager of the annual.

Although the student subscriptions up to date have been sufficient to assure success, Hemphill feels that their support will not be lacking as the book nears completion.

The financial success of the book depends entirely upon the student and is compulsory in no way. The year book at the Kansas State Agricultural college is managed in a similar manner and is supported practically one hundred per cent by the students.

The Parnassus of 1930-1931 with Geraldine Hammond as editor was classed as third in the state. Editorially the book this year promises to be better than last year according to Hemphill who was business manager last year.

Amy Ruth Mahin, editor-in-chief, announces the completion of the student and faculty sections and that the other sections are well under way.

"The cooperation and moral support of the faculty, board of regents and the administration is greatly appreciated by the staff," said Hemphill, "and it is hoped that the fraternities and sororities will respond unanimously when the situation is presented to them at various meetings this week."

Vance Gilmore, circulation manager, declared that each person must have a 90 per cent subscription before they may have space in the book. This year a special offer is presented. If there is 100 per cent subscription the organization is entitled to half price on their page and a book for the house. So far Sorosis holds first place among the sororities with 51.27 per cent subscription and Webster leads the fraternities with 31 per cent.

EIGHTEEN TAKE APTITUDE TESTS

To Be a Factor Considered When Application Made at Medical College

Pre-medic students of the University of Wichita who expect to apply for admission to medical schools next fall took the aptitude tests sponsored by the American Association of Medical Colleges Friday, December 11. Eighteen took the examinations, according to Dr. Hazel Branch, head of the department of zoology.

This test was given all over the United States at the same time and the results will be sent to Washington, D. C. where they will be compiled in book form and sent to deans of medical schools over the country. As soon as a student files his application to attend an institution his record is looked up and serves as one of the qualifications for his entrance.

Those who took the examination at the university are: Lyle Puman, Howard Lander, John Basham, Karl Catlin, R. O. Farmer, Danvid Menzies, Harold Hyndman, Lloyd Warren, Polly Ayres, Louise Drake, Jack Grove, Don Mac Roberts, Sloan Wilson, Dick Gottschalk, Walter Abel, Raymond Clapp, Kern Hayes, and Charles Daniels.

FUTURE REPUBLICANS CONVENE AT TOPEKA

Potential Republican leaders of Kansas met in convention Saturday, December 12, in Topeka to organize preparatory to the 1932 Republican convention. As delegates from Sedgwick county, Miss Barbara Gibson, Tom Harley, Jr., and Edgar Dunn attended the convention. The following students from the university were in attendance: Adolph Ohrvall, Tom Croft, Oliver Witterman, Bill Ward, Ashford Wanka, John Kelley, Ralph Stuart, Hubert Snook, and Charles Millham.

The convention comprised a buffet luncheon at noon, a business meeting in the afternoon for organization purposes, and a banquet and dance in the evening. During the business meeting the following officers, for the organization were elected: A. A. Hotchkiss of Lyndon, chairman; Fred Seaton of Manhattan, Claude L. Jones of Kansas City, Kan., and Mrs. Manley Asher of St. John, vice chairmen; Frank Eresch of Topeka, secretary, and Tom Harley, Jr., of Wichita, treasurer.

A Plea for Faith

ON a clear silent night nearly 2,000 years ago, three solitary figures made their way out of the East. They were led by a star, a symbol of faith.

The world has traveled a long way since that night. And in such trying times as this, times of political unrest, economic upheaval, and spiritual doubt, it sometimes appears that civilization has lost its ideal, that its compass of faith is out of adjustment.

Faith is a precious thing and must be jealously guarded. Upon it empires are built, and when it is lost the empire becomes a chaotic Babel, fit only to breed doubt, distrust, and misunderstanding. The three Wise Men had faith, a faith that led them to their ideal, symbolic of peace on earth, and good will toward men.

There is not peace on earth today because of a lack of faith. The absence of faith is responsible for the distrust of man for man and nation for nation. If civilization is to reach its ideal, it must have faith in the ultimate goodness of mankind. If the world cannot believe that in the final analysis man is good, it is lost—as surely lost as the three Wise Men would have been had they lost their symbol of faith, to wander aimlessly over a trackless waste.

Students Must Compete

When L. W. Brooks of the Wichita city schools appeared before University of Wichita students in convocation last Wednesday to discuss education of the future, students were conscious that the man who spoke is an authority in his line.

He mentioned as one of the expected changes the abolishment of the present system whereby one must conform to certain standards, and the substitution of a system where individual students will receive more attention.

There is no doubt that changes are imminent in education. But in all of the theories advanced thus far, it would seem that one question has been left unanswered. When the present grading system is abolished, what disciplinary measures will be used to keep students from growing lax? What incentive, what public recognition, will there be to spur the student on to his best efforts?

The desire to learn or the joy of creation is not enough for the average person. Before they abolish our present system, educators should substitute a better method to keep competition strong in the breasts of future students. Competition is the life of progress!

New Christmas Formula

Pi Kappa Psi sorority is to be congratulated for their change in policy this Christmas. Heretofore this sorority has entertained their alumni with a Christmas spread at the house. This year the girls are going to entertain some children from the Phyllis Wheatly home in Wichita. The party for the children will be held on the campus and will include games, a Christmas tree and presents for all. The party is scheduled for December 22.

In a time like this the action of a sorority in doing charitable work draws the plaudits of the philanthropic as well as the needy people of our city. The money that would be spent on entertaining old graduates is now turned to the more worthy purpose of bringing cheer to a score of homeless children. It is a fitting remembrance at this glad time of the year, when everyone's heart is made happy not only by the gifts of others, but by being able to do his share in making other people joyous at Christmas.

Why a Degree?

Why do you go to college? Why do you spend four of the best years of your life getting a "higher education?"

The accusation is often made that young people go to college just to get a degree, to say they have been to college, have studied psychology, entomology, and sociology, even though they can't remember exactly what the courses were about.

Yet this accusation cannot generally be accepted as true, for there are great numbers of young people who make sacrifices and work hard in order to go through college. Do these people think that a college education will increase their earnings in later life sufficiently to make up for working eight hours a day and trying to study and attend classes besides? Do they feel that the so-called prestige, either social or otherwise, that a degree may give them is worth the price of spending four years economizing and doing without many things they want in order to get this degree?

It is plain that a college education does not add a large amount to the average person's salary, and the prestige so often expected is usually not accorded. Even the four years of good times so colorfully pictured in the movies and so blatantly played in newspaper headlines are usually unattainable to the working student or even the person of moderate means.

So, unless college broadens the mental horizon of the individual unless a degree materially adds dollars to the monthly check, unless the student makes enough contacts to make it worth his while, why do many students spend four years of their lives just getting by in order to gain the mythical honor of being a college graduate?

From Out-front

Wichita audiences, ever skeptical were awed into absolute silence on several occasions by the dramatic moments in "Sun-Up," presented by the University Players last Thursday and Friday nights in University auditorium. Figuratively speaking, even the peanut-shellers and foot-scrapers leaned forward, tense and breathless, and now and then a sob was audible coming from the feminine element of the audience.

"Sun-Up," by Lula Vollmer, is a story of North Carolina mountaineers, simply and powerfully told. It centers around a widow who knows only the laws of the feud and cannot understand why her son, Rufe, has to fight in the World war for the government, whose laws she has been "breakin' for 40 years." Her son is killed in France, which Pap Todd, a neighbor, "has heared wuz about 40 miles 'tother side of Asheville." The climax comes when she finds she has been harboring from Sheriff Weeks an army deserter who is the son of the man who killed her husband in a fight between moonshiners and revenue officers. She decides to save him, however, and forgets the hate of the feud for the love she has in her heart for other mothers whose sons are in the war. She says, "Hit wuz sundown when ye left me, son, but hit's sun-up now."

Five minutes after the opening curtain, the audience forgot that there was a girl named Mary Sipple, for in her place the widow Cagle, living, loving, and hating with simple and powerful restraint. Miss Sipple gave one of the finest pieces of acting that ever has been seen at the university. Carl Johnson as Pap Todd, an old moonshiner of the "hound dog" type, furnished amusement and kept his character at all times. Roy Schuessler as the son, Rufe, did not seem as effective as he might have been. Robert Cunningham, as Sheriff Weeks, was conscious most of the time that he was acting for an audience and seemed too blustering. Charles Ellis as the stranger who turned out to be a deserter was good, as always, and sobbed realistically through the most dramatic scenes. Others in the cast were: Emmy, played by Miss Geraldine Hite; Bud, Clifford Stoner; The Preacher, Virgil Knowles; and Bob, Bert Wells.

Lighting and scenery were strikingly effective. There was only one set used, that of the interior of the widow Cagle's cabin. Robert Pinaire was stage manager and Max Sipple the electrician. Miss Helen Hillyard and Miss Alberta Watkins were in charge of properties.—M. B. T.

Art Club Party

The Art Club at the University entertained twenty members at a Christmas party Thursday evening, December 10, at the home of Miss Irma Teten, president of the club. Members worked on their current art projects. Light refreshments were served at the end of the evening.

Miss Anita Brown will leave December 23 for Toledo, O., where she will attend the convention of National Federation of Student Councils.

Shockin' Susies Discuss Plans

Basketball season starts a new period of activity for the girls' pep clubs, Shockin' Susies and Yell-a-lots. The latter organization, for junior and senior girls, met Wednesday, December 9, to discuss plans for stunts to be given the ensuing season. A business meeting will be held Wednesday, December 16, at 6 o'clock in the Henrion gymnasium. Further plans for stunts will be discussed in the meeting.

HEIGH HO
A Cross-section

Apologies to Mr. Roger Babson for the error which appeared in, this column last week, in which he was referred to as Mr. A. Babson. Which calls to mind a slip that passed in the night in a recent issue of one of the local papers. A dispatch read: "A cordon of troops was thrown about in the county jail. Droll lads, these convicts.

Seems to be an undercurrent of strangeness in crowds milling about in preparation for the annual Christmas celebrations. Farmers with their spouses hurry past, trying to get into the spirit of the affair, but with a cautious counting of the family shekles before each purchase. The recently rich are still trying to keep up appearances, they still laugh and pretend to be having the time of their life, but their laughter contains a note of hysteria.

Overheard on the limping electric: "Oh I guess I'll send her a chemise but she'll probably give me a handkerchief in return for it." Lady, lady, how you talk! Just for that crack, you huzzy, I hope she overlooks the hanky. Then you will have just blown your old chemise.

Depression club has gone the way of all flashes. It is rumored that they contemplated a hunger march on the city hall, but nobody had a ear, and they'd be hanged if they'd walk that far.

The week got off to a bad start Monday when a blood-red sun rose out of a blue smoke which enveloped the city. The alcoholic look of old sol was entirely too connotative of a hang-over.

Over in the eastern part of the state there is a college which boasts a sport page in its college paper. And their columnist turns out about the world's worst. He sends Emporia off weeping in a vitriolic denunciation regarding football players and their respective merits. Which recalls Haywood Broun's story of the two fullbacks who ate their souls out for four years, trying to learn dropkicking, only to find that there was no future in it. He also leaps up and defies the other school to attack him, saying he is not afraid to blend a few adjectives with our verbs whatever that means. Why not bottle them up, add water and coloring and peddle it in Coffeyville?

Just tripe:

Singularly depressing air prevailing on the campus lately . . . . . Whatsa matter . . . . . University professor hocks timepiece for five gal. of gas . . . . Sign on E. Douglas hot dog stand: Hoover Turkeys —10c . . . . . Motes sings in sleep, according to rum mate . . . . . Pins going out, pins coming back . . . . . Smoke issuing from the ZD chimney . . . . Home Economics Girls Honor Miss Fultz at Supper

Honoring Miss Edith Fultz whose marriage to Dr. Worth Fletcher was recently announced, the Home Economics Club entertained at a buffet supper in the home economics laboratory December 15. Miss Grace Wilkie, dean of women and head of the home economics department, was also guest at the affair.

The foods nutrition class prepared the spread, with Miss Ethelyn Butler in charge of the arrangements. A gift was to be chosen by members of the group.

Following the supper, the guests adjourned to the home of Miss Fultz, where they were shown her trousseau.

Miss Marguerite Brooker, senior, will visit friends and relatives in Newton, Kan., over the holidays.

Louis Yeager who is attending the University of Oklahoma at Norman was in Wichita last week-end.

No Santa Claus?

By Richard L. Forster

YOU tell me there is no Santa Claus. You scoff at my stories about a little old fat man with white whiskers and a red suit, and double chin. You laugh at my tales of Dunder and Blitzen and all the rest prancing over the roofs, and old Santa himself scooting down chimneys with a pack full of toys.

And I, have to admit you're right—that such things never were, nor could be. But wait—who is that man who just dropped a quarter into the crippled newsboy's hand? And who is he who gave that blind peddler a dollar for a pair of shoe laces he forgot to take with him? And walked on a little farther to drop a bill into the Salvation Army kettle "to keep the pot boiling."

No Santa Claus? Well, not in the age-old form perhaps, but he's here, all the same, in a million forms and spirits—just doubling for God at Christmas time.

MODERN YULETIDE GREETINGS TRACED TO NORSE MYTHOLOGY

Gods, Druid Priests and Mistletoe Figured in the Earliest Message of Holiday Lore and Friendship; Is Universal Custom Today

Although every country in the world has a different method of celebrating Christmas, there is one custom that is observed in every nation in the world, pagan or Christian. This is the sending of greetings with messages of love and friendship.

This custom of sending Christmas greetings may be traced to ancient times. Loki, of Norse mythology, was jealous of Balder, god of the summer sun, who could be hurt by nothing on earth or under the earth. Noting that the mistletoe grows above the earth, on a tree, Loki topped a spear with a branch of it and guided the arm of Hoeder, the blind god, who threw the spear and killed Balder. When all things on earth and heaven wept for Balder, Freyja, goddess of love, restored him to life, so it was decreed that the mistletoe should be sacred to live as it was neither on earth or under the earth.

The Druids in Engand sent their young men around with Yuetide greetings and branches of mistetoe. The mistetoe was regarded as sacred, and a white oxen was sacrificed whenever misteltoe was found on an oak tree. The Arch Druid cut it from its parent stem with a golden knife, taking care that it should by no means touch the ground. It was regarded as so sacred that if enemies met under it they laid down their arms and maintained a truce until the following day. Thus grew the practice of hanging mistletoe in a doorway, pledging peace and friendship to be sealed with a friendly greeting to whomever entered.

From the early days Christmas has progressed steadily as an occasion for greetings, until today the most universal evidence of the Yuletide spirit is the sending of greetings to friends and loved ones far and near. This is true south of the equator where Christmas is a midsummer holiday and the Fernking is the mythical master, as it is with the Lapps, in whose long, cold winter night Christmas is the greatest occasion.

SANTA CAN CIRCLE EARTH IN 1 NIGHT

How Santa Claus from his home in Icy Cape can arrange his time and route so as to visit expectant children all over the world in a single night of 42 hours of darkness has just been explained by E. A. Beito, assistant professor of mathematics at the University of Wichita.

By taking the course outlined by Mr. Beito, Santa Claus would have almost two days of regular length to make his Christmas eve journey, and by traveling about 1,000 miles an hour he would have ample time to make a trip round the world visiting all continents before the next daybreak.

The outlined route is as follows: Leaving from near Rome, Alaska, where the sun sets shortly before 6 p. m. at this season of the year, Santa would travel westward across Bering strait into Siberia, which is west of the International date line.

By doing this he could really start Wednesday, Dec., 23, which would be Thursday, Dec., 24 in Siberia, their Thursday beginning 18 hours earlier than ours.

From Siberia he would go to China, Japan, Australia, over the Indian Ocean, to Europe, Africa, South America, and so back by way of Wichita to Icy Cape, Alaska, where the sun rises shortly after 1 o'clock at this season of the year. All this time, owing to his clever use of the International date line, he travels in the dark so that no one could discover him, as anyone may see by tracing the 40,000-mile trip on the map of the world.

Football Team Entertained by Campus Sororities

Several courtesies have been extended recently in honor of the members of the football team of the University of Wichita and Coach and Mrs. A. J. Gebert.

They were guests at the buffet supper at which the Alpha Tau Sigma sorority presided Thursday, December 10, at their house.

The guests were seated at one long table presided over by Miss Margaret Wiley, president, and Miss Gladys Taggart. Pledges of the sorority served the supper which was planned by Miss Margaret Klepfenstein. During the supper a program was given by Miss Alberta Bainbridge, Miss Doris Bainbridge, Miss Josephine Warren, Miss Ada Frances Warren and Miss Mary Katherine Gelbach. Following the supper the guests enjoyed bridge and dancing.

Members and pledges of Pi Kappa Psi sorority were hostesses at dinner to the members of the football team in the home of Miss Betty Stanley of 1115 Stanley, Tuesday evening, December 15. Table appointments expressed the Christmas motif.

Miss Marjorie Morrison was chairman of the committee in charge. Following dinner, the pledges of the sorority entertained the guests.

Preside at White Elephant Party

A "White Elephant" party was extended by pledges of Epsilon Kappa Rho to the active members on Wednesday, December 9, at the home of Miss Myrta Whitney, 297 South Pershing.

White elephant gifts were brought by all the girls. On their arrival, the members were presented with a white card in the shape of an elephant on which were numbers telling which gift they were to have and their number for the evening.

The guests spent the evening playing such games as miniature croquet, horseshoe, cat and dog, dominoes, bridge and bowling.

For the community supper decorations were in pink and white. The table was centered with a bowl of pink roses, and pink tapers in silver holders were on either side.

A feature of the evening was a beauty contest in which all actives were entered and the pledges served in the capacity of judges.

Wichita U. Meets McPherson Cagemen at East High, Saturday, Dec. 19

Shockers Meet Strong Bulldog Quintet Next Saturday at 8 o'Clock

Same Lineup to Start Game with Possibility of Beeman at Forward for Johnson

JOHNSON PROBABLY OUT WITH BAD ANKLE

University of Wichita Shocker basketeers meet their second test in the current season when they play the fast McPherson Bulldog quintet in a game Saturday, December 19, at East high school gym, starting at 8 o'clock. Many flaws in Wichita's play, discovered in the Alva contest, have been ironed out by Coach Johnson, and he expects to be able to put a steady playing five on the floor.

McPherson has most of least year's lettermen back for this year, losing only their regular center by graduation. Besides their veterans, a large group of freshmen have been showing up especially well, and are sure to see some service in the coming game.

Johnson Out

Coach Johnson probably will start the same lineup that began the Alva contest. Vaughn is sure to be at center with Hennigh and Ragland at the guard positions. Francis Johnson and Don Dedrick are the likely choices for forwards, although Ray Beeman may get the starting choice. Beeman was a letterman last year, but was kept from the Alva game because of low grades. Johnson suffered a sprained ankle in the last game and may be unable to start.

Randle, guard, and Seedle, forward, are sure to see some service in the game, while Neeley and McLaughlin may get in. Both Randle and Seedle played against Alva as did Neeley, all showing a strong floor game, although Neeley was weak around the basket.

Play Alva Again

Following the McPherson tilt Johnson will take his men down to Alva, Okla., for two games against the Northwestern Teachers. Wichita defeated this team last Monday in a close battle, 26 to 19, and Alva is expected to put up a much improved game on their home court.

The Teachers have practically a veteran team back with Martinez and Coffman at forwards and McLaughlin at guard. All of these players have a good eye for the basket, and caused the Wichita team most of its trouble last Monday. Besides these three players, Alva has an exceptionally large crop of freshmen who have been showing some nice basketball.

Marysville Strong

Following the Alva game, the Shockers will journey up to play the Marysville Teachers in Missouri. This team is considered one of the strongest squads in the Middle West, annually going far in any large tournament they enter. Last year they reached the finals in the Southwestern Invitation tourney but were defeated in the last game by Wichita.

Building their team around McCracken, star center and former all-American high school pivot man, Marysville has most of last season's speedy squad returning. Last season they had 12 good all-around players to build around McCracken, and nearly all of these men are back.

Shockers Meet Kansas Aggies in First Game

A tradition of many years will be broken next year when the Washburn Ichabods replace Friends in the annual Thanksgiving grid feature on the Shocker field. The tentative schedule, which was announced recently, places the annual classic with the Quaker school second on the list, with the Kansas Aggies opening the Shocker season at Manhattan.

Another highlight on the brilliant schedule announced for the 1932 season is the proposed tilt with the "praying colonels" of Centre college, Danville, Ky., which has not yet been definitely scheduled, but may be played sometime during October.

Opening the season, the Shockers journey to Manhattan to battle the Kansas Aggies on their own field September 24, following which will come the annual Friends game on October 1. The October 8 date, which was refused by Centre, is being held open, while the Shockers travel to Pittsburg on October 14 to meet the Teachers.

Another date which has been considered for the Centre college game is October 29, on which the University team is scheduled to meet the Hays Teachers at Hays.

Featuring early November, the Builders will travel from Southwestern to meet the Shockers on the Shocker field, continuing the rivalry of past years, and once more bringing to life the historic jinx. Closing the regular season, the Central Conference co-champions, Washburn, will meet the Shockers on the University field.

1932 W. U. Football Schedule

Sept. 24—Kansas Aggies at Manhattan.
Oct. 1—Friends U. at Wichita (night).
Oct. 8—(Held open for game.)
Oct. 14—Pittsburg Teachers, Pittsburg (night).
Oct. 21—Emporia Teachers at Emporia.
Oct. 29—Hays Teachers at Hay or Centre here.
Nov. 4—Southwestern at Wichita.
Nov. 11—College of Emporia at Wichita.
Nov. 19—(Open.)
Nov. 24—Washburn at Wichita.

18,006 Chose All-American Football Team

NEW YORK, (Special)—An All-American football eleven, the first ever chosen by a large section of the American public and the first ever chosen through the medium of radio, was announced today.

Eighteen thousand and six voters, who began to make their choices immediately following the Hart, Schaffner and Marx Trumpeter broadcast November 19, in which regular weekly program the poll was announced, gave Marchmont Schwartz Notre Dame back, first place in the matter of popularity. Schwartz received 16,887 votes. The three judges, Ted Husing, ace sports announcer of C. B. S., Sol Metzger and Warren Brown, both nationally known football authorities, in each case approved the popular choices, which, in almost every case coincided with prominent All-American elevens picked by football writers and experts in various sections of the country.

The Hart, Schaffner and Marx All-American team follows:

Center — Tommy Yarr, Notre Dame.
Right guard—John Baker, Southern California.
Right tackle — Jim McMurdo, Pittsburgh.
Quarterback—Barry Wood, Harvard.
Left halfback—Marchmont Schwartz Notre Dame.
Right halfback—Ernest Pinckert, Southern California.
Full back — Ernest Rentner, Northwestern.

Tommy Yarr, believed to be one of the two most important pivot men on national gridirons this year, placed second in the popular vote, 14,003 of the 18,000 voters naming him on their teams. Vernon "Catfish" Smith, Georgia end, with 12,727, Jerry Dalrymple, Tulane with 12,506 and Ernest "Pug" Rentner of Northwestern with 12,384 took the next places in number of ballots received.

One of the unusual features of the poll, a matter in which all three judges concurred was selection by the voters of Barry Wood of Harvard for quarterback, with 12,157 votes. Husing, the C. B. S. announcer, who was barred during the season from any further broadcasts at Harvard, because of his description of a play in which Wood figured, had no hesitancy in approving the voters' choice of Wood on the Trumpeters All-American. It was in the controversial broadcast that Husing referred to a play in which Wood participated as "putrid."

Ward Heads 1932 C. of E. Grid Team

C. OF E., Dec. 16—Guy Ward, three letter guard on the College of Emporia football team, was unanimously elected to head the 1932 squad at the annual football banquet held at Emporia last Thursday, December 3.

Ward, a junior, won his choice as captain-elect through his steady playing through the recent season, playing more. He was also selected on several All-Central conference second teams.

During the latter part of the banquet, football letters were recommended for 19 Presby players—Captain Don Long, Captain-elect Guy Ward, Roger Thatch, Dick Barnes, Raymond Beal, Dick DeBolt, Rumsey Lohr, George Fankhouser, Alvin Emch, George Cheney, Earl Daniels, Ernest Cipra, Homer Bigham, Rice Brown, Leo Koons, Gerald Meek, Ronald Powellson, LeRoy Starbuck and Keith McCarthy.

Bigham, DeBolt and Cheney are the only C. of E. lettermen who will be lost through graduation.

Georgia Elwell High Scorer in Archery

Georgia Elwell, Thelma Butler and Inez Heilman hold high scores in archery. From 30 arrows shot at 30 yards Miss Elwell made 21 hits and scored 103 points. Miss Butler made 21 hits and scored 100 points one day and the following day made 25 hits and scored 123 points. Miss Heilman made 23 hits scoring 107 points.

Other high scores were:

Players Rosters for Intramural B. B. Due Friday

Among the latest aspirants for intra-mural basketball honors is a team being organized by Tip Tucker, Shocker grid flash, who was chosen on the 1931 Kansas all-state and Kansas Central conference football elevens.

This team has not officially entered the league as yet, but Tucker has assured the committee that he will enter before the close of the week, thus making a total of eight teams competing for the intramural cup. If no more teams enter only one league will be maintained, while if another barb entry is received, two leagues, one composed of fraternity teams, and one of barb teams, will be formed.

The newest feature of this year's play provides that no man shall play who is down in any subject, and he also must be passing in at least twelve credit hours. Grades shall be checked each week, and the rule will be strictly enforced.

All team entries with their complete rosters, maximized to fifteen men, must be turned into the committee not later than Friday, December 18, at the Brig.

Opening games shall be played Tuesday, January 12, in the University gymnasium, the pairings to be announced following the Christmas vacation. Teams will play twice each week, Tuesdays and Thursdays, until the schedule is completed.

The Zeta Delt team is the first to officially enter the league. Their roster contains the following men: Max Dack, Jay Esco (Captain), Claston Kerr, Richard Sheaffer, Leon Barnes, Dwight Hornberger, Elnion Jones, Jack Hutchinson, Russell Cooper, Don Pray, Douglas Shay, and Melvin Bowlin, manager. Their basketeers are much improved this year, defeating the Cathedral high school quintet in a recent practice game, and appear as a strong contender for high honors.

The Pi Alpha Pi squad is made up of the following: Vic Callahan, Abe Dye, Frank Purcell, Allen Schaeffer, Louis Koch, Cecil Inman, Jack Jukes, W. Gilmore, Homer Wilson, Jack Grubb, Lawrence Parcher, Kenneth Banie, Warren Beebe, and Francis Householter.

Alpha Gamma Gamma: Clyde Davis (Captain), Frank Brooks, Garnet Mason, Virgil Priboth, Ernest Gough, Ernest Belt, Raymond Priboth, Paul Jones, Arlo Mitchell, Jimmie Wilbur, Ed Bloss, Ashford Manka, Bill Lipp, Marshall Foltz, and Al Winzeler.

Phi Upsilon Sigma: Robert Heasty, Clifford Ferguson, Kenneth Hays, Roscoe Bryant, Julius Simonet, Joe Messick, Loyd Parker, and Will G. Price.

FRESHMEN COMPILE BOOKLET

M'PHERSON COLLEGE, Dec. 16—Freshmen students here have prepared a souvenir booklet to be distributed among members of their class. The booklet contains a short statement of welcome and advice from Dean F. A. Replogle and an excellent code of personal and group ethics embodying the aims and ideals of the class. Two pages are devoted to the class roll, including the number of freshmen coming from each state. The last election gives the motto, class flower, colors and officers of the class of 1935. Voluntary contributions from members of the freshmen class have made the book possible.

Intra-Mural Basketball League Rules Season 1931-1932

No man shall be eligible to play on any intramural team if he has played in any Freshman or Varsity basketball game this season.

Three men will be required as a starting lineup. Any team not able to have three men start a game, shall be required to forfeit the game.

Teams must be ready to play at least 10 minutes after the scheduled time.

The league games must be conducted in an orderly fashion; remember the referees are volunteering their services.

The games shall be played in four 10 minute quarters. One minute rest between quarters and five minutes rest between halves.

Pledges will not be permitted to play on a Barb team.

A fraternity may enter more than one team but the members of these teams will not be able to transfer from one to the other.

The player originally submitted on the roster of one team must finish the season with that team or drop out of the league. He will not be permitted to play on another team.

Any student who plays in any industrial game as a member of an industrial team after January 1, 1932, shall be ruled ineligible for further play in the intra-mural league.

To be eligible for intra-mural play, each player must be passing in 12 credit hours. Scholastic standings will be checked at the end of each week, and any student reported down shall be ineligible for play the following week and thereafter until the grade is brought up.

The maximum number of players to be turned in as a team shall be 15. Complete rosters must be turned in to the committee in charge not later than Wednesday, December 16.

Men newly enrolling at the beginning of the second semester may be submitted to the committee for team membership. The committee will pass on these cases individually.

The committee reserves the right to expel any member of any team for violation of the rules.

Any difficulties arising, not specifically covered by these rules will be adjusted by the committee.

Committee on Intramural Basketball:
MR. HARRY T. GOERGER
KENNETH HAYS,
VIRGIL PRIBOTH.

A special arrangement will e made for team membership of the Eagles Athletic club. A representative of that club should get in touch with the committee at once if league entrance is desired.

Wichita Defeats Alva Teachers in Ragged Game

In a game featured with ragged play by both teams, the University of Wichita Shockers defeated the Northwestern Teachers of Alva, Okla., Monday evening in the opening game of the season on the East high school court. After the first few minutes, the university players were never threatened, holding the long end of a 26-19 score at the end.

Breaking into the scoring early in the contest, Alva took the lead during the first few plays, but was soon passed by Wichita and the half ended 14-9 in favor of Wichita. During the second period, the Shockers slightly increased their lead, finishing the contest seven points ahead.

Both teams, while ragged on offense showed up fairly well on defense, though this department was also erratic at times. Both teams fouled freely and a large number of the points were scored from these errors.

Leading the scoring for the Shockers was Ragland, guard, who tallied three field goals and one free shot for a total of seven points. Scoring honors for the Teachers also went to a guard, McLaughlin, who tallied eight points for high score of the game.

Captain Hennigh, who left the game on personal fouls, and Vaughn, center, were other leading scorers for the Shockers, with six counts each. Dedrick, J. Johnson and Seedie completed the scoring for the university.

Finals in Volley Ball Meet to Be Played Tonight

Championship and final consolation game of the intra mural volley ball tournament will be played tonight at 7 o'clock in the girls gymnasium. The teams competing are the Barb No. 1 and Barb No. 2's. Those battling in the consolation finals are Psi Tau Delta and Delta Omega sororities.

The Pittsburg Gorillas, under the tutelage of Coach John Lance, have established one of the strongest basketball records in the state of Kansas. Winning six titles in seven years, with a string of forty-one consecutive victories is no mean accomplishment for any team according to the latest reports from the Pittsburg camp, cage prospects are brighter this year than ever before.

Washburn is all downcast over the loss of Johnny Calahan, Wichita Henry's guard. Earlier it was Calahan's intention of playing the present season in an Ichabod suit, but has evidently changed his mind. One wonders whether he would have been eligible for play under Central conference rules, if he had stayed.

One of the poorest pieces of sportsship ever seen in a W. U. contest was exhibited here last Monday in the Shocker-Alva cage tilt. Captain Bill Hennigh had been playing an excellent floor game, but in the referee's opinion was a little too rough on some Alva players. Finally, when Van Voorhis called the fourth personal on Hennigh, "Big" Bill picked up the ball and fairly lifted the official off his feet with a nicely placed heave to the midruff. The Shocker captain prived his ability to rough things up during the football season, but he seemingly doesn't realize that the grid sport is passed now.

Clarence Edwinson and Charles Crank, both selected on the All-Central conference football eleven, have been chosen as co-captains to lead the Washburn Ichabods in the 1932 season. Crank plays at the tackle position while Edwinson is a left half. Both are juniors.

Emporia Teachers and Washburn are still fighting over the comparing abilities of Elwin McCoy and Barnett at handling the quarterback position. McCoy was chosen to represent the Central conference on Dana X. Bible's Mid-West grid team, while Barnett has generally been considered by sports experts as the headiest field general. From the adjectives used it seems the opposing writers don't think much of each other.

'Leroy Neely provided the humor for the last game with some rather wild heaves at the basket, one especially standing out above all others, both in height and comedy. After intercepting an Alva pass in mid-court, Neeley dribbled through two opponents for a fast setup, only to put the ball over the backboard by at least ten feet and nearly upsetting a scorekeeper.
