Excerpts from Ellen

I can hardly believe that a year has already flown by and its time to welcome newly elected Senators to the Classified Senate. It has been an exciting year and the Senate has accomplished many things.

The first annual Meet Your Senator event was held last September giving each of you the opportunity to meet your Senate representative face to face. The intention of the event was to get classified employees more involved in the Senate and give Senators an opportunity to hear about issues that are important to you. This was a well-attended first event and will hopefully become as important as any other Senate sponsored event.

We produced our first newsletter last October giving you up-to-date information on all Senate activities. We have received many accolades from the staff regarding this newsletter, proving that this is an important endeavor.

In keeping with the University mission, a community service committee was created so that classified employees could participate in service to the community as a group. This year the committee chose to assist the Exploited and Missing Child Unit by collecting stuffed animals. The event was a huge success and we thank each of you who donated animals. We hope to sponsor two events next year.

The Kansas Council of Classified Senates began meeting quarterly for the first time this year. It is important to meet with other Regents schools so that we can work together for the common good. Each university senate has expressed an interest in bringing in other state agencies to establish our position for Legislative Information Day.

The President of the Board of Regents, Reggie Robinson, called the first meeting of the Classified Senate Presidents in his Topeka office. President Robinson understands the importance of developing regular interaction between the Board of Regents and classified employees and has expressed an interest in meeting quarterly. Hopefully, this will be a first step in keeping classified employees in the loop.

On April 26th, Senate members will meet with Board of Regents representatives during their annual campus visit. Our agenda includes 1) getting classified issues included on the BOR legislative agenda, 2) importance of quarterly meetings between BOR president and classified employees, 3) employee morale, and 4) status of KU proposal.

It has been an honor and a privilege to serve as Classified Senate President this year. I encourage each of you to take part in the Senate either by serving on committees or participating in Senate sponsored events. Together, everyone makes a difference.

Ellen Abbey

Spotlight on Denise Burns

Denise started at WSU in October of 1986 when she worked as a temporary employee in what was then Placement and Career Services, for two weeks. Next she went to work as a temporary employee for the History Department until February 1987 when she became a full-time permanent employee.

Denise's duties include (but are not limited to) answering calls and questions, typing, copying, and all the normal day-to-day duties of an office. Helping students find their way around campus and through the system is one part of her job she really enjoys! Plus she gets to meet new people all the time, of all ages and from many different parts of the country and world. Denise is the only classified staff in her office of 13 full time faculty, 1 part-time faculty and 5 graduate teaching assistants.

Denise became involved with the Classified Senate when she began her term as a Senator mid-way through the first year for someone who could not finish their term.

Denise has the following advice for new senators; "Volunteer your time on and off campus. It is a great way to really understand what is happening in our community and a great way to meet people. Also, use the internet to find out information about Classified Senate, what they do and what problems they are addressing."

Outside of work, Denise likes to walk, go to baseball games (or watch them on TV), and read mysteries and detective novels. She and her husband also like to go to Las Vegas. Denise says "The most exciting and fun thing that has happened to me was winning a trip to Las Vegas last spring. My husband, John, and I got to stay at the Venetian Hotel and see Tim McGraw perform in concert. We had a wonderful time and the best part was spending six days with each other!"

Denise believes that the Classified Senate gives a voice in what happens to us as a whole. Unless we are heard and seen it is easy to forget about us as a group which is what has happened for the past four years. No other group has had to do without any type of raise the way the classified employees have. Everyone has something to contribute to the Senate and that is what makes us a strong group across campus and the state.

"The Classified Senate is a great way to meet people across campus and see what problems or situations they face in their day to day work schedule. It is also a way to make your job at WSU more rewarding and more interesting. You are more likely to really understand the problems that face WSU, classified employees and the state."

Denise feels that the major issue for Classified Senate will continue to be the problems we face as our salaries and benefits slip farther behind. "We shouldn't have to pay for a larger part of our benefits. This has always been a problem and needs to be solved. Classified employees need to work together, because there is strength in numbers!"

The copy centers and printing services have combined their operation in order to save university departments money.

Q: What's the difference between copying and printing?

A: In photo copying, there are no real start-up costs. Each printed piece costs about the same, no matter how many are printed. In offset printing, there are start-up costs for film, plate, press and ink preparations. The printed piece keeps getting less expensive the more you produce. As a rule of thumb, at about 1,000 copies, the cost of offset printing starts going down while the cost of photo copying stays the same.

Q: Do you offer color printing?

A: Most printing produced in Printing Services involves one- or two-color printing. Occasionally three and four color projects are printed. Four-color printing is limited to small quantities with "pleasing color".

Q: How do I know where to take my print job?

A: You may drop off your print job at printing services or at any one of the copy center locations, whichever is more convenient to you. We will determine the least costly way to produce the job by the deadline given, copy or print, and get the job where it needs to go.

Q: What about electronic job submission?

A: You may request print drivers be installed on your desktop computer, pc or Mac, by going to our website and clicking on the Get Connected button. There is no fee for this service. We will also accept jobs on CD or Zip or via e-mail at copy.centers@wichita.edu or submitted to a Central Services staff member's e-mail address. We support the Microsoft Office package which includes Word, Excel, Publisher, Access and PowerPoint. We also support Mac products including PageMaker, Quark Express, Adobe InDesign, Adobe Illustrator and PhotoShop.

Q: How do I order business cards, letterhead and envelopes?

A: If you have ordered any of these items in the past and don't have any changes, you can simply call Printing Services to place your re-order. Business cards may be ordered from our website. There is a link to Printing Services on the Central Services website.
