During the meeting Julie Sherz, Gretchen Torline and Darren Boatright spoke.

Julie Sherz – appointed by president. Signs off on eligibility for athletes and medical and other hardship waivers. Manages grievances. NCAA tracks academic progress rates closely, based on point system for staying in school and advancing (WSU is well above the 930 point target).

Gretchen Torline – academic and life skill support for athletes. Does not provide academic advising, but rather facilitate academic support. Acts as liaisons between instructors and coaches. Runs tutoring program – in desperate need of organic chemistry tutors. Provides mentoring program for students adjusting to college life. Run mandatory study hall for beginning or at risk student-athletes. All athletes sign a disclosure of information form, so faculty can share grade information with Gretchen’s office.

Darren Boatright, Athletic Director – program is undergoing big changes since moving to AAC. Currently have 15 sports and in good alignment with title IX goals. Athletics must mirror overall student population. Currently not planning to add any sports. Currently working on two building projects including phase five of Eck Stadium. Also building a $14M student athlete learning center and new space for track and field. Recently worked with Fine Arts to establish a marching band. The first performance will be a game with SMU. Currently looking at re-negotiating media rights.

| Deliberation: Questions for Senate Planning and Budget Committee | What would you like the Planning/Budget committee to review? What questions do you have: Related to Committee charge including:
| --- | --- |
|  | • Matters related to university planning and budgets.
|  | • Information concerning legislative request budget. (KBOR)
|  | • Revisions/reallocation process that occurs after the legislature determines the actual budget.
|  | • What do you want to know from the Faculty Compensation Committee/report (costing analysis based on 5 year plan with several scenarios).
|  | • What information is important to you?
|  | Discussion included question about increased transparency with respect to department budgets. More information about how the budget is developed including items like buildings and grounds. How does the process of allocations take place, how is input gathered? How does one learn more about the whole finance picture at the university with respect to origin and allocation of money? It was pointed out that planning used to be a bigger part of this committee’s charge. Planning and budget could be helpful in educating/explaining how different funds are constrained or earmarked and what those funds can be used for. How can this committee bring groups together to facilitate conversations? It was suggested that the senate rep on the WSIA also serve on this committee. |
