Anchoresses Plan Viet Nam Support

As a symbol of moral support for troops in Viet Nam, Wichita State's Anchoresses will lead a Veteran's Day parade downtown tomorrow at 2 p.m. starting at McLean and Douglas.

The Anchoresses, all girls' Navy drill team, have set up a booth in the CAC where students may sign a petition and donate money to help the South Vietnamese refugees.

This money and petition will be given to Wichita Mayor Bill Terrant following the parade. The money and signatures will be sent to U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge in Viet Nam.

Ironically, while the Anchoresses were working on their program called S.O.S (Support Our Servicemen), Wichita community leaders were also thinking of a Veteran's Day Rally.

Rev. J.D. Forest, of the Pilgrim Congregational Church, and Father Davis Max, associate director of Catholic Services, made a visit to the campus feeling out student interest.

Election Tomorrow, Friday

Homecoming Activities Scheduled For Weekend

Five Homecoming queen finalists were announced Sunday at the 1965 second annual Homecoming Convocation in the DFAC. Election of the queen will be tomorrow and Friday in Area 9 of the CAC.

Polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. both days and all students with identification cards may vote.

Finalists are Eileen Broadie, Graduate Club; Jane Taber, Gamma Phi Beta; Sue Thompson, Army ROTC; Marsha Wilson, Alpha Chi Omega; and Bobbi Woodman, Delta Gamma.

Opening the convocation, each candidate, wearing an evening gown and carrying a mum, was escorted in a procession to her chair on the stage.

Following the processional, Keith Thompson, president of SGA, welcomed alumni and students present. He said, "We have a duty to make this year's Homecoming enjoyable for ourselves--but not to the extent that we are not enjoyable to those around us."

Ethel Jane King, head judge of the candidates for Homecoming queen, then commented on the afternoon activities of the judges. In reference to the candidates, she said "They are all queens."

Fans Behind Team

Dr. Noah Allen, director of athletics, spoke following Miss King's commentary. He directed his message toward the 'WSU graduates' interest in the school. Speaking for the campus, Dr. Allen said, "It's the greatest school I've ever had the opportunity to attend."

He commented further, "In spite of the fact that the football team has had a poor year, the student body has stayed behind the team."

The convocation closed with

the audience singing the "Alma Mater."

In preparation with Homecoming, a bonfire pep rally will take place at 7:30 p.m. Friday behind Grace Wilkie dormitory in the old practice field.

Phi Alpha Fraternity Holds Formal Pledging

Formal pledging of the Phi Alpha local fraternity took place Sunday, Nov. 7, in the Alpha Chi Omega sorority house.

Phi Alpha, which is a local and autonomous fraternity, is not associated as a chapter or colony with the Sigma Alpha Epsilon (SAE) chapter. The fraternity does hope to be nationalized into SAE in several years, according to Captain John Ellison, faculty advisor.

New members of the fraternity had dinner at the house before going into pledging ceremonies. Several Alpha Chi Omegas hosted before the dinner. Serving at the dinner were Sandra Croston, Anne Mullen, Ginnee Mullen, Marsha DeFoe, Nancy Olive, and Ann Barker.

During the dinner, each pledge introduced himself to his new pledge brothers and to the various SAE alumni present at the dinner. Following the dinner, 30 diamond shaped pledge pins were given to the new pledge members.

New officers of the Phi Alpha pledge class include: Rick Van Voorhis, president; Bob Fulks, vice president; Roger McClure, secretary; Bill Marti, treasurer; Tom Mayhill, chronicler; John Gibbs, warden; Jim Koontz, eminent herald; Jim Gardner, eminent chaplain; Jim Lund, social chairman; and Jack Westacott, parliamentarian.

Captain Ellison spoke at the pledging concerning the challenge of keeping fraternity systems from becoming extinct.

Wichita Symphony To Play In Concerts Sunday, Monday

Ruggiero Ricci

Ruggiero Ricci, with the Wichita Symphony under the direction of James Robertson, will play Paganini's "Violin Concerto No. 1" in concert this Sunday and Monday, Nov. 14 and 15.

In addition to the Paganini work, Robertson has programmed Telemann's "Concerto Grosso No. 1 in D" and Rochmaninoff's "Symphony No. 2."

When Ruggiero Ricci made his debut at the age of nine in 1927, he was acclaimed one of the most spectacular "finds" in the world of music. Only two years later, Fritz Kreisler called him the greatest musical prodigy since Mozart.

In one of the busiest concert schedules on record, Ricci ful-

Fair Play Urged . . .

Tomorrow and Friday students will again trek to the polls as they vote in the second all-school election for this year -- this time for the 1965 Homecoming Queen.

The campaign conduct exemplified in the last election and past "popularity" contests has not been that of mature collegiate individuals, to say the least.

In an effort to clear up some of the strong-arm tactics in campaigning the Student Government Association and Panhellenic Council have joined forces to draft workable rules to govern Homecoming Queen campaigning.

Of the three recommendations drawn by Panhellenic Council, SGA Congress endorsed one they thought would be workable. It was to the effect that "there be no campaigning in the CAC on the days of the Homecoming election."

President Keith Thompson feels confident that the election will run relatively smooth considering all sororities have agreed to adhere to all recommendations drawn up by the Panhellenic Council.

However, two of these "workable" recommendations have no enforceable SGA authority outside the CAC, unless the organizations involved in the election abide by all the recommendations endorsed or submitted by the SGA and Panhellenic.

It is hoped that all members of the participating organizations in the election feel a personal honor not only to their organizations but, moreover, to themselves. We, too, feel confident that this election will be handled well, but only if these organizations are honor-bound to the new election code.

KU Civil Rights Council Head Says Frats Still Discriminatory

LAWRENCE, Kan. AP - Kansas University Civil Rights leader told a campus fraternity group that despite recent rulings against discrimination Negro students still are kept out of Greek organizations.

Sims Stokes of Mobile, Ala., said alumni pressures, the blackball system is pledging and discriminatory statements in secret rituals and constitutions of many fraternities are being used.

Stokes, chairman of the university Civil Rights Council, spoke to the Inter-Fraternity

Council last week for over an hour.

He suggested that individual fraternities set up meetings with the Civil Rights Council allowing two or three Negroes to meet with members of each house in an effort to correct any misunderstandings fraternity members may have about Negroes at K.U.

The adoption of such a proposal was left up to the individual houses. One Inter-Fraternity Council representative said reaction seemed mixed.

First Health Conference Suggests U.S. Use More Medical Manpower

WASHINGTON AP - The first White House conference on health opened recently with a call by two doctors for new steps to make better use of American medical manpower at all levels--from specialists to nurses' aides.

But they said the education of more doctors is not necessarily a key solution to the nation's health needs.

The two - Dr. John M. Weir, director of the Rockefeller Foundation's Medical and Natural Sciences Division, and Dr. William N. Hubbard Jr., dean of the University of Michigan Medical School - gave their views in remarks prepared for the opening session.

The conference, called by President Johnson, is being held at a midtown hotel.

Dr. Weir said the United States has a much higher ratio of doctors to population than either Great Britain or Sweden, yet continues to have higher infant mortality rates than those two countries.

He also voiced some doubts about the value of Johnson's program to establish new centers for treatment and research on cancer, heart disease and cerebral strokes. He said such centers would place greater stresses on the medical manpower available under current patterns of utilization.

Academic Freedom

Indignation Voiced Over Berkeley Student Claims

By ALFORD KLEIN, Staff Reporter

Is Berkeley's academic freedom being violated? Why all this talk about students' rights? Why all this interest concerning politics?

Recently state and local officials at the Berkeley campus of the University of California were warned of possible mass arrests as Berkeley's Vietnam Day committee went ahead with plans for a mass march from the university's campus to the Oakland Army Terminal.

The 7-1/2-mile march through Berkeley and adjacent Oakland was to be part of a worldwide series of demonstrations protesting United States involvement in the Vietnam war.

Contrary To Belief

Americans are accustomed to reading about universities as storm centers of political disturbance in Latin and Asiatic countries. In a country like the United States, however, most criticism of student bodies in the past has been directed toward their political apathy.

A few months ago a building was seized by students at the Berkeley campus causing the arrest of some 800 students and bringing all administrative activities to a halt. This incident has focused attention upon a question of considerable complexity--the rights, and the responsibilities, of students.

Do students enjoy the right of academic freedom? This depends on what is meant by academic freedom. Perhaps the best short definition was offered by Arthur O. Lovejoy, founder together with John Dewey, of the American Association of University Professors.

Academic Freedom Defined

"Academic freedom, he wrote, "is the freedom of the teacher or research worker in higher institutions of learning to investigate and discuss the problems of his science and to express his conclusions, whether through publications or the instruction of students."

A number of interesting implications may be drawn from this definition, according to Michael V. Miller, author of the book, "Revolution at Berkeley."

Teachers Benefit Most

First, academic freedom exists primarily for teachers. Strictly speaking, it makes no sense to talk of "academic freedom" for students. Students have a right of freedom to learn. The best guarantee of freedom to learn is academic freedom for those who teach them. Where teachers are deprived of academic freedom, students are deprived of the freedom to learn.

Second, academic freedom is not a civil right like freedom of speech. A teacher who is dropped or refused a post on grounds of incompetence because he indoctrinates his students in a conspiracy to destroy America is not being deprived of freedom of speech. A teacher must win the right to do these things by certification from his peers that he is competent and by having acquired tenure.

Third, responsibility for the certification of a teacher's competence, and for interpreting and applying the rules of tenure, must ultimately lie in the hands of the faculty.

Fourth, an important aspect of the faculty's responsibility for the entire educational enterprise is ultimate control over the classrooms, meeting halls, and other educational facilities of the campus and over the conditions of their use.

Berkeley Students Charged

"The very fact that speech can be used not only for advocacy--which is permissible--but for incitement, defamation and slander--which is not--shows how absurd it is to hold that a speaker plans to incite to violence," says Miller.

University officials at Berkeley charge students with this very fact, says Miller--creating violence either by demonstrations or peaceful protests.

The irony of the situation is that students in our mass institutions of learning suffer today far more from the failure of faculties to attend to the students' individual educational needs than from alleged suppressions of their freedom of speech. It is an open scandal that the worst teaching in the American system of education takes place at the college level.

Large Class Harmful

Miller goes on to speak of large introductory courses where skillful teaching is of critical importance in arousing student interest. These courses often are turned over to young, inexperienced graduate assistants who stumble along by trial and error. As the number of students grow the situation deteriorates.

Girl Scouts Hold Festival

Wichita State University Field House was the scene of the Girl Scouts 16th annual Doll and Toy Festival.

The 13,000 Wichita Area Girl Scouts contributed over 8,000 dolls and toys to 25 charitable organizations to be distributed to needy children in the Wichita community. The annual festival is designed to be a tangible thank you to the many who have helped the Girl Scout movement through the United Fund of Wichita.

The girls started making the dolls and toys about a month ago. The ideas were as varied as the personalities of the young designers. Mrs. W. C. Page, Festival Chairman, said each doll and toy was tagged, "I was made by a Girl Scout, Wichita, Kansas, U.S.A."

There was a Girl Scout Sing held during the afternoon. Under the direction of Mrs. William Klobuchar, the girls helped senior scout Jan Snyder recall in song her 10 years in scouting.

Club Registration Sought By SGA

The Student Government Association is seeking to contact every club on the campus to make certain they are eligible for allocations and recognition.

Tim Cornett, SGA organizations committee chairman, requested that every campus organization register as soon as possible to become eligible for these benefits. Efforts to contact all organizations have proved futile up to the present, and Cornett urged that all clubs register immediately.

KU Demonstrator Guilty On Disturb Peace Charges

LAWRENCE, Kan. AP - George E. Kimball, 21, a former University of Kansas student who was arrested Oct. 16 during a demonstration in front of the Selective Service Board office here, pleaded guilty recently to an amended charge of disturbing the peace.

He was sentenced by County Court Judge Charles Rankin to 60 days in the county jail.

Kimball, who has withdrawn from school, originally was booked on a charge of gross indecency. He was arrested while carrying a sign police said assailed the draft law in abusive language.

Police said Kimball joined a student picket line made up of members of the Student Peace Union protesting U. S. involvement in Viet Nam, but the head of that organization said Kimball was not a member.

Music Student Is Awarded Lieurance Memorial Stipend

WSU music education senior Dennis Danders was recently awarded the $100 Thurlow Lieurance Memorial Award.

As a performer in string bass, Danders has been active in various music ensembles at WSU, including the University Symphony Orchestra, Concert Band and the University Singers.

He has contributed to many activities in the School of Music, such as the Student Music Educators National Conference local chapter, Symphonic Music Fraternity, workshops, clinics, and festivals. Danders also plays string bass in the Wichita Symphony Orchestra, and serves as librarian for the orchestra.

Chosen by the Memorial Fund Committee, Dennis Danders is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Danders, Niles, Ill.

Three nominees were chosen on the basis of scholarship, character, musical development, musical potential, service to the school, and service to the community.

The award is given in memory of Thurlow Lieurance, former dean of the College of Fine Arts of the University of Wichita. The Thurlow Lieurance Memorial Fund has been established by former students and friends of the dean.

This is the second award made from the Lieurance Memorial Fund. Last year's award was made to Susan Hollowell. Danders was presented this year's award in the WSU Lieurance Music Library in DFAC by members of the Memorial Steering Committee, Harlin Bond, chairman, and Mrs. Elton M. Holman, secretary.

Twenty concerts in West Germany were once booked and sold out a year in advance of his return there.

Tickets to the concert will be available to any full-time University student upon presentation of his ID card at the Music Office in the FAC. University student tickets are not transferable.

Friday's 2-Bit Flick

Kansas Is Setting For Film, 'Picnic' Starring Kim Novak

A Kansas town is the scene of William Inge's screen production of the Broadway hit, "Picnic." This week's Two-Bit Flick presentation will be shown at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. Friday in DFAC.

Stars in "Picnic" are William Holden, Kim Novak, and Rosalind Russell as Rosemary. Also playing in the show are Arthur O'Connell and Susan Strasberg.

William Holden, a ne'er-do-well drifter, arrives in the Kansas town to look up a college friend in hopes of getting a job there. He meets the wealthy friend's best girl and her family--mother, younger sister, and an old maid schoolteacher who boards in the house. His stay lasts one day--the day of a Labor Day picnic.

The next morning he hops a freight leaving behind him a sea of confused emotion. The friend's best girl has fallen in love with him and leaves to marry him in Kansas City, the younger sister experiences her first thoughts of romance, the mother sees in him the worthless husband who deserted her years before, and the old maid schoolteacher, played by Rosalind Russell, is jolted into catching a man.

Dr. Paul Tasch was co-chairman of a Paleontology session at the meeting.

Students Give Rally Support

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON AP - Calls to rally in support of U.S. policy in Viet Nam have gone out to workingmen and college students.

The calls came from:

1. The AFL-CIO leadership which said the tide has turned in the fighting.

2. A group of student leaders aroused by the protests of what they called "a small minority" on campuses.

AFL-CIO President George Meany said Thursday: "We expect our people to act locally to counter any anti-government demonstrations."

A group of student leaders met at Georgetown University Thursday and launched what they hope will be a nationwide, bipartisan "Student Committee for the Defense of Viet Nam."

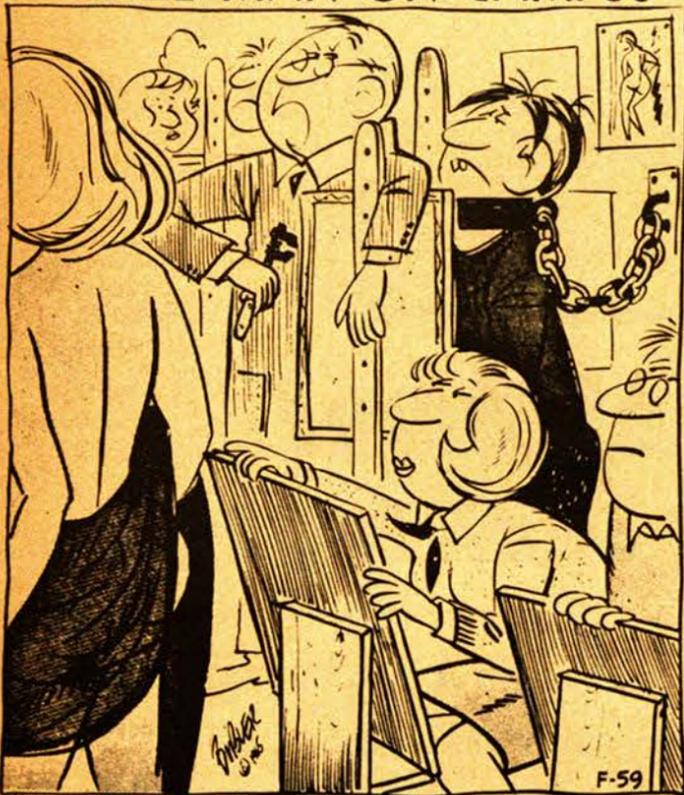

Tom Pauken, 21, of Dallas, Tex., national chairman of College Young Republicans, hit at what he called a "small noisy minority" of students who are getting attention by demonstrations against government policy.

Meantime, Dr. Benjamin Spock, baby care specialist who is critical of both sides in the struggle over Viet Nam, met with other planners of a Nov. 27 march on Washington in behalf of negotiated peace.

Continues To Improve

Debate Teams Bring WSU Nine Trophies From Tourneys

This semester's debate squad has made a favorable showing for the WSU Speech Department in tournament participation this year.

Thus far, the debate squad has had 19 debaters entered in a total of six tournaments. They have won 77 rounds of debate and lost 27 for a 74 per cent win average. They have brought home one first place trophy, four second places, three third places and one fourth place.

At Kearney, Neb., last weekend, Bobbe Hannan (Fr.) and Paulette Lightner (Fr.) won first place in Junior Division debate. Bobbe was top speaker in Junior Division and placed second in oral interpretation.

In the Senior Division at Kearney, Bill Balthrop (Jr.) and Karen Dill (Fr.) placed fourth in debate. Bill was top speaker in Senior Division and placed second in extemporaneous speaking. Karen was rated second in the top speaker category in the Senior Division.

Third place trophy was won last weekend at the Texas Christian University debate tournament in Fort Worth, Tex., by the team of Bob Glenn (Sr.) and Bob Shields (Soph.). They had an overall debate record of 6-2. There were 60 schools and 170 teams in the tourney. At that same tournament, Bob Smith (Jr.) and Eric Park (Sr.) had a 4-2 record, and the team of John Buckley (Soph.) and Dan Hughes (Soph.) had a 5-1 record.

Executive Secretary Chosen For Urban Studies Center

The appointment of Marjorie L. Taylor as executive secretary of the Center for Urban Studies at WSU has been announced by Dr. Hugo Wall, academic vice president of the University and chairman of the Urban Studies Committee.

The Center for Urban Studies, conceived as an inter-disciplinary facility for the study of urban problems, was established in 1957, and is under direction of an inter-departmental committee representing all social sciences.

The Center primarily serves as a stimulus to University faculty members and other interested citizens in dealing with the complex problems of urbanization--economic, sociological, and cultural, as well as governmental. The Center will carry on both independent and contract research studies, working with University faculty members and graduate students.

Past service activities of the Center include the Police Seminar which concentrated on administrative problems in police administration.

Homecoming . . .

"All students are urged to attend," said a spokesman for the cheerleaders. "We plan to sing songs, and in general to build morale for the football team. Last year's bonfire homecoming rally was a big success and we're hoping this year's will even be better."

Saturday morning, all campus organizations will gather at 9 and parade downtown at 10. The parade will go through the heart of downtown Wichita.

At the present time, the Center for Urban Studies is co-sponsoring, with the Brookings Institution of Washington, D.C., a 12-session seminar on urban policy planning for 45 business and community leaders at WSU. The third session in the series will be held today at 10 a.m. Eric E. Lampart, professor of history, University of Wisconsin, and William Alonso, professor of regional planning at Harvard, will be on campus to participate in this session.

The aims of the Center, according to Mrs. Taylor, will be the establishment of a central library of specialized materials on urban and regional problems, and to provide information services to officials and civic groups; to conduct seminars, workshops and conferences for officials and interested citizens; and to provide training in research for selected students.

Mrs. Taylor is married to L. Warden Taylor and has three children: Christopher, a freshman at WSU; David, and Kent.

Garrett, California Look Toward Pitt

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer Mike Garrett and Southern California may have a bad case of anticipation this week.

The cause is an appointment the sixth-ranked Trojans and their ace runner have this Saturday with Pitt, a team that has become adept at giving up more than a few points.

Garrett, the nation's leading college football rusher, and his teammates are looking forward to picking up where Bill Wolski and Notre Dame left off. Wolski and the Irish, in turn, picked up where Floyd Little and Syracuse left off.

Wolski rammed for five touchdowns last Saturday as the fourth-ranked and once-beaten Irish mauled the Panthers 69-13, equaling the most points ever amassed against a Pitt team in its 76-year history and taking another step toward their crucial Nov. 20 clash with Michigan State.

The Spartans, the nation's No. 1 team, clinched at least a tie for the Big Ten title and the Rose Bowl trip by crushing Iowa 35-0. Arkansas, No. 2, also extended its record to 8-0, trouncing Rice 31-0, as did third-ranked Nebraska by whipping Kansas 42-6.

But even with the easy victories by the top trio, the performance by Notre Dame was the most awesome. It even topped two earlier scoring-at-will exhibitions against Pitt.

On the previous Saturday Syracuse bombed the Panthers 51-13 with Little racing for four touchdowns, and several weeks before West Virginia outlasted Pitt 63-48 as Allen McCune fired five scoring passes.

But the Irish, now 6-1, scored more points in one game than the Panthers at one time normally gave up in a season. In their first 49 years of football, the Panthers allowed less than 69 points in 38 different seasons.

Garrett, meanwhile, galloped 74 and 87 yards for a pair of touchdowns on punt returns as Southern California walloped California 35-0. He also gained 67 yards rushing, giving him a total of 962 yards and an average of 5.4 yards a carry.

Clint Jones exploded for four touchdowns in Michigan State's romp toward the Rose Bowl, where the Trojans most likely will be the opponent if they get by eighth-ranked UCLA Nov. 20.

UCLA edged Washington 28-24 as Gary Beban raced 60 yards for one touchdown and passed 60 for another.

Arkansas ran its victory string to 20 in a row as Bobby Burnett scored two touchdowns and John Brittenum one. The Razorbacks very well could have a return Cotton Bowl match with Nebraska, the nation's most prolific rushing team that gained 419 yards on the ground against Kansas.

Alabama, the No. 5 team, improved its bowl chances by slugging Louisiana State 31-7 behind the passing of Steve Sloan and the running of Steve Bowman.

Another Southeast Conference team, 10th-ranked Kentucky smashed Vanderbilt 34-0,

Shocker Frosh Challenge Okla. Juco Tomorrow

Tomorrow night a 7:15 p.m. the WSU Baby Shockers will play their second and final football contest of the season, against Northern Oklahoma Junior College of Tonkawa. The game will be played on Veterans Field.

Last Thursday the freshman opened their season with a 32-7 trouncing of Pratt Junior College.

The frosh scored almost every conceivable way possible. Tom Snodgrass turned an off-tackle play into a 94 yard touchdown, Jim Lynch caught a John Burchell pass for six points, and Jimmie Jones carried a blocked punt into the end zone.

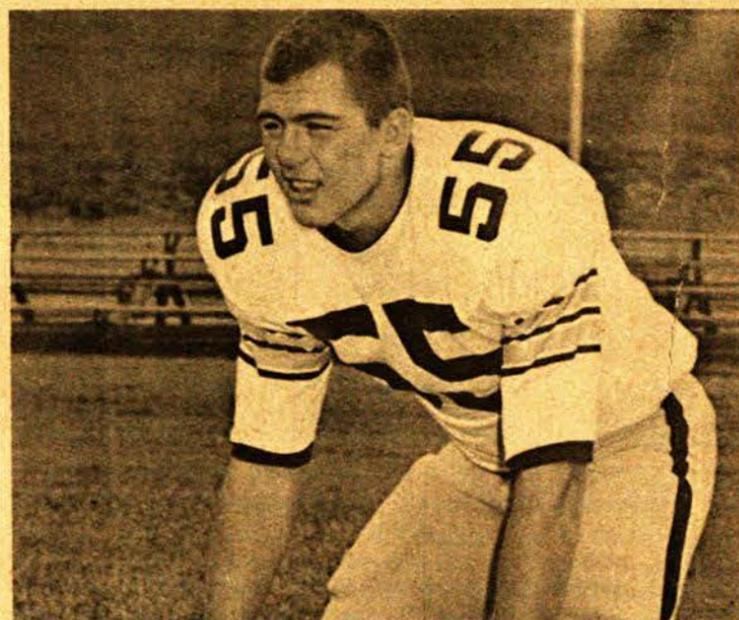

In fact, the way the frosh were expected to score was not how they did it at all. Bert Davis kicks barefooted, and shoeless kickers in Juco ranks are very scarce. So scarce in fact, that the officials would not let him kick.

Taking over the extra point duties was John Pajor, who hit one of two attempts. Pajor was credited in high school with a 48-yard boot.

Tomorrow night the Baby Shocks plan to open-up their offense somewhat.

Students and faculty will be admitted with their ID card. Regular adult price will be $1, high school and under will be 50 cents. The gates will open at 6:30 p.m.

T U Convincing Over Louisville

Associated Press Sports Writer

It was quite a day for Tulsa. That's putting it mildly.

Tulsa all but clinched the Missouri Valley football championship and did it convincing fashion 51-18 over runner-up Louisville.

A record Tulsa crowd of 35,783 watched split end Howard Twilley score 36 points and take over the national scoring lead with 110.

Quarterback Bill Anderson set a national one-season record of 234 completed passes, with two games still to play. The old NCAA mark of 224 was set just a year ago by Tulsa's Jerry Rhome.

Twilley, who was edged 111-110 by Brian Piccolo of Wake Forest for the national scoring crown a year ago, took charge of the race with five touchdown passes, four extra point place-kick and a two-point conversion pass.

The amazing 5-foot-10 Twilley ran his season total to 106 catches, breaking his own NCAA mark of 95, by grabbing 15 for 230 yards. His career record shows 233 catches for 3,050 yards and 30 touchdowns, all best in major college football history.

Louisville, led by Benny Russell, was down only 3-0 at the quarter and 9-6 in the second period before Tulsa ran its bulge to 254 and its Valley record to 3-0 with only last-place Wichita left in league play Nov. 20 at Wichita. Tulsa has an open date this week.

North Texas took its second straight Valley victory in the final two minutes, 24-21 over Wichita at Denton, and tied Cincinnati for second place at 2-2. Cincy and Louisville, 3-1, passed their league records by beating Dayton.

Cincinnati's Bill Bailey gained 131 yards in 17 carries, one an 80-yard end run for a touchdown as the Bearcats evened their season record at 4-4 by beating Kansas State at Manhattan, 21-14.

John Love of North Texas kicked a 22-yard field goal 77 seconds from the gun for a 22-21 lead. A safety on the kickoff gave the Eagles two more.

South Dakota plays at Cincinnati, Louisville at Drake, Memphis State at North Texas and Utah State at Wichita this Saturday.

THE STARTING LINE - UP

Without breaks you can't win ball games. And it was obvious, that the Shocks didn't get any this weekend in Denton.

The North Texas State Eagles won the game 24-21 and the Shockers won the battle for penalties 105-5. At least we won by a more decisive margin.

The Game

Upon arriving in Denton, I was informed that the Shockers were in for a terrible beating, and that Tulsa had been lucky to beat them. One part of this is true. Tulsa was lucky to beat them.

But, I didn't agree with the first part. If we were going to win a game it had to be them, and after talking to some of the boys, I was convinced we would beat NTS.

Halfway through the third quarters, the major portion of the 14,000 homecoming crowd were also sure that the Shockers had the superior team. Wichita was winning 21-12.

Obviously, someone was not convinced.

NTS Came Slopping Back

Although they were down by nine points, North Texas came slopping (fighting wouldn't be the proper word) back.

They scored a touchdown to make the score 21-19 with (9:55 remaining in the game.

Then the roof fell in.

Wichita received the kick off and moved the ball up to its 49 in four plays, but the next one gave us a 15-yard penalty. With first and 25, John Eckman's pass was intercepted on the NT 23, with 7:02 remaining.

Three plays later, Howard Starks intercepted the ball on the NT 40, and gave us a great chance to run out the clock.

Then the big break came.

After gaining 10 yards to the Eagles 31, Pete DiDonato, who had not fumbled the ball for two seasons, saw it squirt out of his arms and into those of a NT defender.

The Field Goal

Then came the now famous field goal attempt. North Texas missed the first one and all of Wichita thought the game was wrapped up, but alas, there was a penalty and NT capitalized to make the score 22-21.

A safety on Wichita made the score 24-21 and that's where it stood and will remain standing.

An Explanation

Although the Shockers could be accused of giving the game away after they had won it, I do not think that this was the case. There is no question, in my mind at least, that the Shocks put more into this game than any other that they have played.
