SGA allocation format questioned by Farha

by Leslie Burk
staff writer

The "revamping" of the present allocations format of SGA is "important and urgent," according to Adib Farha, SGA vice president.

The main problem lies in the fact that this year the first session by SGA for allocating funds was scheduled before the deadline for the some 80 campus organizations to apply, Farha explained.

Organizations present at the first session were allocated fairly large sums, while those at a later session received considerably smaller amounts.

According to Farha, Wil Goering, SGA treasurer, agreed that some of the organizations applying in the second session were good and worthwhile and that they had not received more money simply because there was no more to give.

Farha's main change would be to set the deadline for applications before the Organizations Committee began recommendation of allocations.

He also suggested the committee take two points into consideration while reviewing funding. First, consider the number of students in the organization unless their project has a bearing on the whole student body.

Second would be that money be recommended on the basis of how the organization's activities would be useful to the student body.

"I prefer that the Student Senate allocate money to organizations as such rather than specifying the line items to which the money should go," Farha said. His reasons were that the organization can transfer the money from the item it was allocated for, to another item without the knowledge of the Senate anyway.

It would also make the process of voting on allocations more simple so that the organizations wouldn't be delayed until nearly the end of the semester for funds. Freeing the Senate of this nitty-gritty problem would give them more time for more important issues, he said.

An additional suggestion was to establish some rules on which they would allocate money based on the organization's projects, regardless of personal or other vendettas.

"These criticisms are not directed towards the present Organizations Committee or treasurer, but the process," Farha said. "I will not, however, have the blame put totally on the Student Senate. The allocations were made upon the recommendations of the committee and the chairman because we assumed they knew what they were doing."

Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern touched down in Wichita Monday for a brief speech to about 3,000 cheering fans, after a 45-minute delay.

With less than 12 hours to go before polling was to begin, McGovern reiterated attacks at Nixon, emphasizing alleged tip-offs to big grain speculators over the Russian wheat deal.

As the McGovern entourage arrived in Wichita, thunder clouds began to form overhead. Candidates for various Kansas positions were on hand to greet McGovern.

Before his speech, a woman identified only as "Mrs. Krishner," the wife of a POW, told the crowd her husband had been given "four more years" of life in a Vietnamese prison camp.

As McGovern began to speak, rain began to pour. The speech was cut short by the rain, but not before McGovern accused Nixon of cheating every farmer in Kansas.

Noticing several Nixon signs in the audience, McGovern commented he was glad to see them there. "That's as close as those people ever get to Nixon," McGovern said.

Despite the downpour, McGovern went into the enthusiastic crowd and shook hands until Secret Service men formed a ring around him and forced him back into the plane.

Friday final deadline for slots on Sunflower

Students interested in The Sunflower positions of Managing Editor or News Editor for the Spring 1973 Semester must submit applications by noon Friday to Dr. Leo Poland, chairman of the Board of Student Publications, 343 Clinton.

Application forms are available in Poland's office, The Sunflower newsroom, 004 Wilner, and the journalism department, 111 Wilner. Monthly salaries for Managing and News positions are $175 and $150, respectively.

Both slots require that students have a 2.0 gpa and be carrying at least six semester hours at the time of application.

All Sunflower editors must be full-time students, as defined by their respective colleges, while holding their positions.

A screening/appointment meeting of the Pub Board is scheduled tentatively for Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 15. Time and place for the meeting is pending and will be announced in a subsequent issue of The Sunflower.

GOP Kay assures student gathering he has open door

Morris Kay, GOP gubernatorial candidate, assured WSU students last Friday that if elected he would have an open door administration.

Kay met with students in an impromptu question and answer session in the CAC. He was surrounded by about 50 students who waited quietly to begin their questioning.

Amid the confusion of large numbers of students passing through the CAC on their way to classes, only persons standing next to Kay could hear his answers.

The students waited 45 minutes for Kay because of a delay at Friends University where he also was meeting with students.

An early night election get-together is going to be held in the CAC television lounge, according to Kathy Miles, program assistant.

The TV lounge is decorated with appropriate colors and free coffee and pretzels will be served tonight between 8 and 10 p.m.

Pre-registration begins tomorrow

All former and currently enrolled WSU students are reminded that pre-registration begins tomorrow and will continue through November 21.

The schedule for pulling class cards at Henry Levitt Arena is as follows:

Seniors (90 hours or more at close of present semester)—Nov. 8, M-Z; and Nov. 9, A-L.

Juniors (50 hours or more at close of present semester)—Nov. 10, A-F; Nov. 13, G-M; and Nov. 14, N-Z.

Evening Students—Nov. 13, 6:30-8:30 p.m., and Nov. 14, 6:30-8:30 p.m.

Sophomores (24 hours or more at close of present semester)—Nov. 15, A-L, and Nov. 16, M-Z.

Freshmen (less than 24 hours)—Nov. 17, N-Z; Nov. 20, G-M, and Nov. 21, A-F.

Former BS&T lead vocalist set for concert Saturday

David Clayton-Thomas, the man who set the vocal style for the marriage of rock and jazz, will appear in concert at 8 p.m. Saturday, November 11 in Century II.

Thomas, former lead singer of Blood Sweat and Tears, is appearing with the Sanctuary Band, a group of noted black and white musicians, some of whom worked with Thomas in his pre-BS&T days.

Thomas has been a popular vocalist since 1963. He began his career in his native Canada, then worked his way up the pop music ladder. As lead singer for Blood Sweat and Tears, he became nationally known.

Tickets for the David Clayton-Thomas Show are $4.50 in advance and $5 at the door and may be purchased through Central Ticket Agency, Sgt. Peppers and Davids department stores.

Take 5 sponsors needed by Thurs.

The SGA needs 150 more sponsors by noon Thursday for the Take 5 program at WSU's game against Trinity in Cessna Stadium Saturday.

Expenses for these sponsors will be covered by donations, according to SGA President Mike Meacham.

Anyone wanting to participate in the Take 5 program is urged to contact the SGA office, 212 CAC, ext. 3480, anytime between now and noon Thursday.

UNYCE ROSE, WSU Democrat, does some last minute campaigning in CAC. Both Republicans and Democrats are passing out campaign literature from adjacent booths reminding passers-by today is election day.

Today the circus ends

Tonight, one of the greatest shows on earth will bring down the curtain until 1976.

Some of the acts were good - some were bad. Some probably needed more practice before going on the road and certainly many of the artists were never meant to be more than amateurs.

But they all answered the call. Even in the face of boos and verbal tomatoes the show went on...and on...and on.

Undoubtedly many of the spectators wanted to chuck their popcorn from witnessing the dizzying heights that some of the stars performed.

There were the usual con games down the midway to the main event too. A tent for Watergate and a darkened tunnel wherein one of the performers changed partners.

Tickets to these attractions have been held at the competing box offices for adult viewing only. Perhaps the price of admission was too high for the general public anyway.

In the early morning hours Wednesday the trucks will be loading up and the acts will be heading for home except for a few who will have been called for long run performances.

Those who have put up their advance reservation payments will be back in '76 claiming the act has been polished and that new and unique stars have been added...others will vow they will never return, and some will not rerun due to fickle public opinion.

The "ole folks" will go to bed as soon as they get home breathing a sigh of relief and be thankful that the circus doesn't come but every four years.

The young folks will talk for days and never agree which was really the greatest act of all.

I am a Greek on the Wichita State University campus. I realize that this in itself is a strike against me, but I have something to say.

In the year that I have been a student here, it did not take very long to realize the basic views taken toward the Greek system. It was blasted at you from every issue of The Sunflower. The word "sorority" is associated with terms such as husband-hunters, party people, snobs and "creeps." Fraternity men are labeled as dumb beer drinkers. I will not deny the fact that there are parties and that some girls are husband-hunters; however, I believe this is just as true for the non-greeks or "independents" as well. Much is said of the bad points in the sorority system, but very little, if any, is said of its good qualities. The majority of the girls are hard working and at school for an education like the rest of the student body. They are involved in SGA, Spurs, religious and academic organizations, CAC committees, Sunflower, Homecoming activities, the band, and many other organizations. Many of the houses are responsible for parties for the blind, handicapped, underprivileged, and donations to the campus. Basically, they are involved and do work to support the campus.

Despite the negative attitudes revealed through many articles put out by The Sunflower, we are a large part of the campus. The coverage of anything dealing with the Greek system has become next to nothing. What is written is presented as a put-down. Little was made of Homecoming, Hippodrome, intramural sports, sorority functions, or anything dealing with Greek activities, in either The Sunflower or The Parnassus.

I am curious as to how many "independents" were present at the Homecoming pep rally, nightshirt parade, and Gold Fever Carnival. I wonder if it were left up to the independents to support our campus activities, how long we could maintain any campus support!

The Sunflower has been described as an "objective" paper, but I have yet to see any objectivity.

So we, the WSU students, are labeled apathetic if we don't participate in the "Take 5" program November 11. There are several reasons why students may not be participating. One of my reasons, for example, is that this is also Parents Day. If my parents do come up, I doubt if they would relish the idea of five more kids at their heels.

I, personally, do not know even one younger, underprivileged child, let alone five. I don't believe it was made clear if the students invite the kids themselves, or if they are already chosen when a student signs up. If they are already chosen by the program, who wants to sit through a game with five kids they don't know from Adam, and how would the kids enjoy this?

For many WSU students, $11 is simply too much money to spend for this program. Students are having all sorts of other expenses right now and I can think of many other ways I could bring some happiness into some underprivileged kid's life without taking him to a football game which he might not even enjoy for $11.

Many students are involved with Shocker Day, and with the semester soon drawing to a close, students have papers which are due and have turned their worries toward this and final exams.

I probably sound like a very unhuman person, but I felt the WSU "apathy" could be defended to some extent, and to me, the "Take 5" program wasn't all that brilliant an idea.

I simply want to make it clear that I think it's fine for people who do participate in the "Take 5" program, but I feel that we students who don't participate, shouldn't be put down.

In helping at the blood drive, I would like to thank the Nursing Department, Health Related Professions Club and Angel Flight for all their hard work. Also I feel thanks should be given to all the people who gave blood and for their co-operation in waiting in line.

Less time will be required to give blood at the next drive, but I feel there should be made mention of the fact that the time to give blood will not be shortened to five minutes as was stated in the October 31 Sunflower, but more likely it will take approximately 45 minutes so that students will be able to make it to their next class if they come during a break.

I would like to thank The Sunflower for covering the blood drive, but I hope that more correct information, such as the proper date and time, can be given in the paper when the next drive comes next semester.

German dept. offers new literature course

The WSU German Department will offer a new course, Modern German Literature, in upper division this spring for the first time, according to Dr. Allan Cress, department chairman. The program will leave the door open for any student wishing to enroll irrespective of his major. It can be taken as an upper division course for students of majors other than German wishing to fulfill a language requirement. This will not apply to those intending to major in German, Cress said. The course will cover a wide area in the fields of foreign languages, English, the Humanities, or the Social Sciences, he said. Lectures will be offered from the works of great German scholars such as Nietzsche, Herman Hesse, and Thomas Mann.

Entrance to SMU subject of visit by young lawyer

A former Wichitan and recent graduate from Southern Methodist University School of Law will meet with WSU's Pre-Law Club Thursday to discuss entrance requirements to that school.

Theron E. Fry, member of the Houston firm of Liddell, Sapp, Zivley and Brown, will speak to students at 7:30 p.m. in the Political Science Lounge.

Fry also is interested in convincing WSU students to apply for the Hatton W. Sumners scholarship program. He received the scholarship during his three years at SMU and said it is worth about $11,000 towards books, tuition and other college-related expenses.

Physics prof clears myths about computers

Most people have the misconception that computers are a big black magic box containing all sorts of complicated information, according to David Alexander, assistant professor in WSU's Physics Department.

In order to dispel such notions, and to expose students to college, the math and physics departments scheduled a computer seminar, held October 28, for area high school students.

Alexander explained that computers best solve problems involving repetitive tasks. The important part is in knowing just how to ask a computer a question.

About 19 high school students attended the day-long program. They learned the basics of computer operation and actually solved problems using computers.

The program was limited to high schools outside of Wichita, but no other requirements were made.

Alexander said all students who participated caught onto operation of computers very well.

McGovern, Nixon apart on campus concerned issues

Sen. George McGovern and President Richard Nixon would take sharply contrasting actions on campus day care centers, youth discount air fares and foreign military aid, according to the results of a questionnaire given the two candidates by the National Student Lobby (NSL).

Nixon opposes day care centers on principle. Sen. McGovern would publicly support both passage and funding of campus day care centers for children of students, faculty and staff.

McGovern as president would support legislation permitting discount air fares on airlines for persons under 22 and over 65, thus preventing the Civil Aeronautics Board from banning them. Nixon feels this is an area the executive branch should not involve itself in.

McGovern would end the Nixon policies of committing troops and opening bases overseas without Congressional approval and of giving foreign aid to military and colonial governments such as Rhodesia and Portugal.

The NSL questionnaire also asked the candidates' views on student financial aid, Price Commission controls of tuition and/or room-and-board increases, the war, abortion, a volunteer army and economic conversion.

Nixon supports the idea of financial aid going directly to all qualified students. However, the level of funding he would support is uncertain in view of his four first-term education vetoes. McGovern would support substantial funding in fiscal year 1973 of Basic Grants, work-study, community service work-study, and supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants going directly to students.

McGovern favors price guidelines for tuition and/or room and board. Nixon's staff did not know if the current exemptions from price controls for tuition and room and board at public and private universities would be continued or if one or both of these costs would be limited.

The President's position on the war has been that POWs must be released and other agreements reached before forces would be withdrawn from Indochina. McGovern has supported stopping war funds simultaneously with POW release.

McGovern would continue to support helping convert from a defense industry-based economy to a civil science systems-based economy by spending money on research and development (R&D) of mass transportation, pollution control, health care systems, etc. in an amount equal to that of military R&D, as required in the Senate-passed S. 32. Nixon's staff said the nation is already converting to a peacetime economy since more of the tax dollar is now being spent on human resources than on defense.

In fiscal 1973, $8.9 billion is being spent on military R&D and $7.6 billion on non-defense R&D. All R&D spending has increased greatly under the Nixon Administration. A McGovern Administration would bring defense and non-defense R&D to a parity.

Both President Nixon and Sen. McGovern would leave abortion law changes to the states and would convert the military to an all-volunteer force when the present draft expires June 30, 1973.

The items on the questionnaire were taken from NSL's second annual referendum by which students from NSL's 153 member schools will determine NSL policy for 1973.

The National Student Lobby does not endorse individual candidates.

Varsity bowling rolls on

The WSU varsity bowling team traveled to Ft. Hays for a meet Sunday where the men's team set a new school record when they rolled 1,002 pins in one game. This is just under 202 pins for each man.

The men moved back up into second place behind Kansas State University. The men are only six points behind KSU.

The women's team embedded themselves deeper into second place when they gained 10½ points on first place Oklahoma State.

Mark Higgins of KSU had the high average of the day with 204. WSU's high bowler of the day was Gordon Vadikin with over a 190 average.

Wendy Mace was the high woman bowler of the day with an average of 176 pins for OSU. Cindy Hubbard had the high WSU average with 171.

WSU reigns as MVC cross country champs

WSU's cross country team retained its title Saturday as Missouri Valley Conference champions at Peoria, Ill.

Wichita State only had 28 points, with the nearest competing team, North Texas State, totaling 78 points.

Alan Walker set a new course record when he captured the individual championship with a time of 24:52.5. Leon Garcia, last year's champion, was clocked at 24:56, running second to Walker.

MVC individual champ Walker.

Bob Ream finished fourth with 25:20; Steve Lee fifth, 25:29; Randy Smith sixth, 25:38; Leon Brown 13th, 26:19; Hal Hays 15th, 26:30; and Doug Lee 23rd, 27:06.

This Saturday, WSU will host eight teams from the Big Eight Conference and three teams from the Missouri Valley in the NCAA Regional meet. Among the teams will be Big Eight champions Oklahoma State University, Colorado University, Missouri, and Kansas State; New Mexico State, Drake University and North Texas State are the three teams from the MVC.

The meet will be at Echo Hills Golf Course, 53rd St. North and the by-pass, at 11 a.m.

MSU makes Shocks glad to be home

WSU stays home Saturday for their last home game of the season when they host Trinity at Messna Stadium for an afternoon game at 1:30.

Last Saturday WSU lost to the Memphis State Tigers, 58-14. Things looked good for WSU at the start when they gained a first down after the opening kickoff. Memphis State was able to hold the Shocks when Tom Owen completed a pass to Don Burford that was shy of a first down forcing a punt. Burford, who leads the MVC in punting average, kicked only a 25 yard punt. MSU's Dornell Harris broke through a hole and returned the punt 72 yards for the Tigers' first touchdown. Roger Carter made an extra point attempt which gave MSU a lead they did not relinquish.

WSU could not gain any momentum throughout the first quarter and was forced to punt three times and again. A 43 yard field goal and two more touchdowns gave the Tigers a staggering 24-0 opening lead.

The second quarter was also disastrous for the Shocks as WSU scored 14 more points.

The second half started off with a bang when Harvey passed Stan Davis for a TD.

On WSU's next possession they went to the air but a Gary Monty pass was picked off by MSU's Everett Taylor and he went down the sideline for a 35 yard return.

Four plays later quarterback David Fowler faked a hand off to Kirby and went over for a touchdown. Carter's extra point kick was bungled when the snap went high. Fowler made an attempt to run wide for a conversion but his effort was stopped. MSU then had a 51-0 lead over the Shocks. On the kickoff, Chuck Henn, tailback, returned the ball 72 yards. The second play after the return, Burford went up the middle on a draw play and fumbled the ball when he was hit. Jeff Richey, defensive end, recovered the ball for the Tigers and ran 17 yards.

The Tigers made it down to Wichita's 1 yard line but the defense held for the Shocks.

Monty carried the ball three yards up the middle. A personal foul was called against the Tigers and WSU retained possession and had a first down on their 19 yard line.

Don Gilley then went 14 yards for a first down. The WSU offensive team could do little more and once again Burford was forced to punt.

Later WSU did get things moving when a series of Monty's passes were completed. WSU's drive was stopped however and MSU took over possession. MSU then fumbled and Tony Marshall recovered the ball on the Tigers' 19 yard line.

On the next play Monty passed to Ed Plopa for an eight yard gain plus five yards for a personal foul against the Tigers. Plopa was injured on the play but left the game under his own power.

Monty then passed to Burford and he went over for the Shocks' first score of the game. John Potts extra point attempt was good.

Don Tetrick kicked off, and in a series of 17 yards which netted 80 yards, John Maddaluna went through the Middle of the line for MSU's final TD.

Late in the fourth quarter, MSU fumbled again and Gary Watkins recovered for WSU on the Tigers 2 yard line.

Gilley took a hand off from Monty and went wide to the right for WSU's second touchdown, with 1:04 left in the game. Potts extra point was good for the 58-14 final score.

Coach Bob Seaman said after the game that the team's morale was a factor in the game. Lino Venerucci was taken out of the game early in the first quarter with a leg injury. He said the guys on the line know that if they make a mistake that Venerucci is back there to back them up.

"We haven't been able to hit hard in practice with so many guys banged up. When you don't hit hard in practice, you won't in

Men's volleyball ends

The intramural volleyball championship for the men's division ended with Beta Theta Pi winning first place.

Phi Delta Theta placed second ahead of Varsity Manor, who took third.

The deadline for the basketball free throw contest is Tuesday, November 14. Participants should notify the Intramural Office in Henrion Gym.

Ken Russell

WHO GAVE YOU "WOMEN IN LOVE," "THE MUSIC LOVERS" & "THE DEVILS" NOW BRINGS YOU A SENSATIONAL NEW FILM!

Ken Russell

He is a creator of powerful, yet strange and uncommon love stories. It was Russell's production of D. H. Lawrence's "Women in Love" that firmly established his cinematic reputation. This film was followed by "The Music Lovers," the controversial "The Devils" and most recently his light-hearted and spectacular musical "The Boy Friend."

Now Ken Russell gives you "Savage Messiah," the true story of the haunting relationship between a young French sculptor and a woman twice his age. Set in Paris and London, "Savage Messiah" is yet another example of Russell's unconventional approach to the films I do best-films about people I believe in."
