'3-Penny' Set For Thursday

Tickets for the final University Theatre performance of the season, "The Three Penny Opera," may be secured by staff, faculty and students by presenting ID cards at the Box Office in Wilner Auditorium. The curtain will be 8:30 p.m. May 13 to May 15.

The musical by Bertold Brecht is set in London during and before the coronation of Queen Victoria. The lyrics, with the exception of Mack the Knife, are not well known said Richard Welsbacher, Director of Theatre, because they are so closely tied to and a part of the action on stage. The music for "Three Penny Opera" was written by Kurt Weill in Germany. Brecht is also well known for other theatre productions such as "The Private Lives of the Master Race," and "Mother Courage."

The WSU production is being staged by Welsbacher with Bob Austin in charge of musical direction, Larry King as set designer, Richard Huff, lighting director, and Nancy Keast, costume director. The cast is headed by Larry Dean who plays the street singer.

WELL, HELLO—A gentleman (Larry Klein, right) meets a lady woman (Dalene Barry, left) in dress rehearsal for University Theatre's "Three Penny Opera."

Convo To Honor Students Friday

The 11th annual Honors Convocation will be held at 9:40 a.m., Friday, May 14, in the Duerksen Fine Arts Center Concert Hall.

University students and faculty are urged to attend the Honors Convocation. The Convo schedule is as follows:

8 a.m. classes	8-8:40
9 a.m. classes	8:50-9:30
Convocation	9:40-10:40
10 a.m. classes	10:50-11:30
11 a.m. classes	11:40-12:20
12 noon classes	12:30-1:10
1 p.m. classes	1:20-2
2 p.m. classes	2:10-2:50
Resume normal schedule	3

The convocation will recognize students who have achieved honors status in three categories.

Twelve graduating seniors will be accorded University honors for maintaining an overall grade average of 3.75 or better.

Honors will be given to approximately 210 graduating seniors who have maintained an average of 3.00 or better.

Class honors will be presented to approximately 68 non-graduating seniors, juniors, sophomores, and freshmen who possess an overall grade index of 3.75 or higher.

To be eligible to receive honors the students selected must have maintained the required grade averages, and also they must have a minimum of 12 hours of University credit.

Next Friday will mark the first time the Honors Convocation will recognize those seniors who have maintained high averages.

Dr. Emory Lindquist, University President, will preside over the Paper Sets '65 Banquet For May 19

The 18th annual Journalism Department Photo Field Day and Awards banquet will be held May 19.

Mr. Dave Wilson, well-known television news director of KARD-TV, will be the featured speaker at the banquet at 6:30 p.m. that evening in the Main Ballroom of the CAC. Mr. Wilson will give a presentation on modern television news practices and ethics.

During the day, a number of round-table discussions and exhibits will be held.

Journalism scholarship award winners and the staff of next year's Sunflower and Parnassus will be named at the banquet. Also, the top winners of the high school and collegiate photo contest entries will be announced.

The banquet enables professional people in Journalism and related fields to meet and become acquainted with graduating seniors in their field.

convocation. The featured speaker will be Dr. James K. Sours, Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. His topic will be "The Domain of Privacy in Public Perspective."

Students Protest Dorm Food

Residents of Brennan Hall #1 lodged a formal complaint with C. K. Pittser, University food services manager, against the sanitary procedures and quality of the food prepared in the Grace Wilkie Cafeteria.

Dorm residents complained of the menus which at times 1) did not contain a vegetable; 2) the fact that hot food was cold and cold food was hot; 3) food's being either overcooked or undercooked; and 4) the overall preparation of the meals in general.

Pittser informed the residents that their complaints would be acted upon immediately and asked that a demonstration that had been planned be delayed at least five days to give the food services a chance to make adjustments.

Election Notice

All engineering students are encouraged to vote in the Engineering Council elections slated for May 14.

The election will select a president, representatives from aeronautical, electrical, industrial and mechanical engineering schools and all alternates for those positions.

KMUW

Program Notes

KMUW will conclude its programming for the 1964-'65 school year at midnight, Friday, May 14. Station operation will resume next fall with the new semester.

The KMUW staff would like to thank everyone who helped out at the station and urges all WSU students to tour the station and explore the possibilities of working there next year.

The final "Concert of Classics" program, Thursday at 8 p.m. will feature a Toscanini Omnibus and Rimsky-Korsakov's "Scheherazade."

'65 Yearbooks Now Available

Parnassus distribution begins at 8 a.m. today in Area 3 of the CAC. Students may pick up yearbooks until 2:30 p.m. Thursday.

Students with a minimum of nine hours each semester of the 1964-'65 academic year may obtain Parnassus' free. Those with less than nine hours for one semester and more than nine hours for the other, will be charged $3.25. Part time students with less than nine hours for both semesters will be charged $7.50.

ID cards will be checked and students receiving yearbooks will be required to sign a registration sheet indicating the number of hours taken each semester.

Students Urged To Heed New Pre-registration Plan

Today is the fourth day of pre-registration. The Le's through the O's finished registration last Friday. This is the last day for the P's through the Sp's.

Class cards are assembled in the basement of Ablah Library according to the following letter schedule:

- P through Sp Today
 - Sq through Z May 12, 13
 - A through Cl May 14, 17
 - Co through G May 18, 19
 - H through La May 20, 21
- Evening students may pre-register from 6:30 until 8:30 p.m. tomorrow. The registrar's office will provide schedules for currently enrolled students at any other times than those listed above except May 24 and 25. Schedules must be signed by their respective deans during spring pre-registration before class cards are pulled.

Three CAC Board Spots Still Open

The CAC Board has three student openings besides two representatives at-large which will be selected by the Student Government Association. Openings are for a night student representative, married student representative and graduate student representative, according to Willy Dunlap, CAC coordinator.

ISSUE
INTERPRETATION

A Vicious Circle...

A fumbling student court is one thing, but anarchy on campus is quite another.

Anarchy you say? Well, whenever an election held at this University goes awry, there's nobody to formally turn to.

You can't blame the administration for not wanting to step in. Everybody would shout tyranny if they did and besides students have always been very touchy about having their election jurisdiction infringed upon.

Of course, distressed parties should be able to approach the Student Court, but let us not suggest impossibilities. When the great Homecoming bitterness was running rampant, the Student Court made a crucial decision not to decide.

The student court is made up of five justices, three students and two faculty people. The job of heading the court is assigned to one of the faculty members.

A case is considered to be properly before the court when it is a dispute between an association member (a student) and the congress or between an association member and an organization or any combination of these parties.

Election disputes are obviously disputes between organizations or between students and therefore under court jurisdiction. Thus, if the court had been able to function, it had the jurisdiction.

After the recent Young Democrat elections, lines of disgruntled people formed outside the dean's office seeking redress. The proper action would be to go to the court, but nobody can find it. Or rather, nobody can find it all in one place.

SGA, during the last congress, sought to reactivate the Student Court, especially in the area of parking fines. Well, there wasn't any intelligible set of traffic rules for the re-organization to begin with and there was little real communication between the SGA committee and the administration on the matter, so, back to anarchy.

Student Government will certainly make another effort in the area of the court again this session.

The secret, as has been witnessed in the growth of Student Government, is dynamic, dedicated and energetic leadership. The initiative however is not entirely the Court's or even SGA's.

The initiative also lies with the student body. To halt the vicious circle that always returns to anarchy, students must start to demand a better student court now, not when the next cycle of a disputed election begins.

News In Brief

By CLIFF TARPY, Staff Writer

ON SATURDAY, April 24, at 3:30 p.m., three sergeants and some civilians in the Dominican Republic capital of Santo Domingo seized the radio station and announced the revolution returning Juan Bosch to the presidency.

As chaos broke out in the city, President Johnson sent 556 marines "in order to protect American lives . . . (and) nationals of other countries."

Cliff Tarpy

AS EVENTS indicated a potential communist takeover of the island, attention was divided between the new crisis and the chronic troubles of Viet Nam.

Johnson then decided to make it clear that he would prevent another Cuba in the Caribbean.

As expected, the immediate effect from the rest of Latin America was heated criticism but many felt that it was not as far reaching as had been expected.

BUT THERE was little disagreement on the expectation of much comment and criticism from the president's own country.

Secretary of Defense McNamara recently disclosed that the bulk of the Viet Cong arms was being supplied from external sources and that casualties of the Viet Cong forces were so great that, for the first time, North Viet Nam sent a regular-army combat unit in to South Viet Nam.

Also, in Saigon, the commander of the air force of South Viet Nam said that the bombing raids have had scarcely any effect upon the movement of men and supplies from the north.

THE COMMANDER, Nguyen Cao Ky, demands a full-scale invasion of North Viet Nam.

Students Nix Honor Idea

—SCHENECTADY, N.Y.—(I.P.)—
Union College students have turned down a proposal to institute an honor plan to govern undergraduate conduct on examinations and in other areas.

An opinion poll on the question, conducted by the Student Council, produced a vote of 467 to 358 against such a plan.

The referendum was part of a larger investigation which included study of honor plans at several other colleges.

Club Slates Dinner

WSU Spanish Club will wind up the year's activities with a Mexican dinner at 6 p.m. tomorrow at El Charro restaurant on East Kellogg. A songfest will follow.

All students and faculty are invited to attend. Reservations may be made through the Spanish Office at extension 395. Cost for the dinner is $1.50.

The Spanish Club plans to take advantage of the Spanish film, "Lazarrillo," at 8 p.m. tomorrow in DFAC. Cost for the film is 50 cents.

Correction

It appeared in the May 7 issue of the Sunflower under the heading "Inside SGA" that a change was being contemplated for the SGA rules concerning organization elections.

The column stated that the membership of all campus organizations be closed for one-year before the voting. To correct the impression that the administration suggested one-year as part of the rule, it must be stated that a year was only one of other specific time periods suggested in the meeting last Tuesday for the purposes of discussion only. The time limit and the change in SGA organization rules is now under consideration by SGA as no definite decision has been made.

Shocker Shenanigans

By LORRY BROSIUS, Society Editor

"THREE-PENNY OPERA," which will be presented by University Theatre May 13, 14, and 15, is set as a benefit for the John F. Kennedy Scholarship Fund. Reserved seat ticket sales are being handled through the Student Government Association office. Only tickets bought through SGA will count as contributions for the Scholarship.

High school seniors who have enrolled at WSU and their mothers will attend a convocation sponsored by Panhellenic Council and open house at the five sorority houses Sunday afternoon. The purpose of the program is to acquaint the girls with the campus organizations and their activities, and to explain rush procedures.

Tri Deltas will honor senior women from all of the sororities at their annual Pansy Breakfast Friday morning. Delta Delta Delta scholarships will be awarded to three women who will graduate next year.

ALPHA CHIS will honor their seniors with a banquet Saturday evening and entertain them with a skit planned by the younger girls. Parents who have been of special help with sorority projects will also be honored.

Delta Gamma Mothers' Club treated their daughters to dinner Monday evening. The girls honored their mothers with a short program.

TRI DELTAS and their guests dined and danced at the Petroleum Club last Friday evening at their Spring Formal.

Alpha Chi pledges planned a casino party for actives and guests last weekend. Decorations and a combo helped create a "Reno" atmosphere.

SPRING WILL really be in the air Friday evening when Alpha Phis decorate their house and patio for a party for their guests.

DG Mary Ridgeway has passed the candle to announce her engagement to Jim Sickler, and Virginia Thompson is pinned to DU Bob Long.

Announcements at the Alpha Chi Spring Formal included the engagements of Mardy Waddell and John Shearer; Kathie Bone and Glenn Keller; and Marilyn Minor and Dean Morrison.

ALPHA CHI Sheryl Kern became Mrs. John Swaim in ceremonies last week.

Current bridal shower honorees at Alpha Chi Omega are Ruth Anne Olive, who will marry Bruce Ellis in June, and Shelia Peters, who plans a June wedding with Marvin Lampton.

Book Buying Nears Finish

The Ablah Library's Lenora M. McGregor Shakespeare collection is nearing completion, according to Downing P. O'Hara, head librarian.

"Our $10,000 grant from the McGregor estate for purchase of representative Shakespeare works is nearing exhaustion. However, we have many shelves of books in the back-room which are being catalogued, and plan to purchase more," stated O'Hara in a recent interview.

German, French, and Spanish translations and rare print collections are also among the uncatalogued volumes.

O'Hara emphasized that no attempt has been made to collect rare first editions. "Many of our books are new editions. While we do have some fairly scarce volumes, we are primarily concerned with presenting the students with as much good Shakespeare as the fund allows."

O'Hara added that the location and purchase of even the recent editions is often a taxing experience. "Several library personnel and English department people scan the publishers' lists in search of new and used volumes of merit. Some titles have eluded us for a long time."

The McGregor estate, executed in 1963, states that the Shakespeare allocation must be spent in two years. O'Hara says, "This accounts for our hurry in finding books. Our time is about up."

O'Hara hastily adds, "The exhaustion of our fund doesn't mean that maintenance of the collection will cease. We plan to continue the expansion of Shakespeare's works and criticism in the future."

High School Drama

Unique three-level scenery will highlight the 25th Campus High School production of Cole Porter's musical-comedy "Kiss Me, Kate," at 8:15 p.m. May 13-14 at 2100 West 55th Street South.

The story concerns a cast of Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew." One actor can't resist gambling, to the point that he signs the director's name to a ten thousand dollar IOU.

Adult tickets are $1 and children will be admitted for half price. This is an unusual Shakespearean version set to modern music.

Air Force ROTC has now been updated to fit into today's busy undergraduate schedule.

Here are the facts about the new two-year AFROTC Program.

Who is eligible for two-year AFROTC? Any male undergraduate who still has two years remaining in college. It's an especially good break for junior college students who plan to complete their baccalaureate requirements at a four-year institution.

What's the curriculum like? It's been thoroughly revamped. You won't find pat answers and traditional ritualized solutions to problems. New instructional methods teach the student to arrive at his own conclusions, and to test them against those of his classmates and instructors. Symbolic of the change is the new title - Department of Aerospace Studies.

How will students for the new program be chosen? First, you must pass the Air Force Officer Qualifying Test and have a medical examination. Then you meet with the interview board of senior Air Force officers, who will decide whether you are to be selected to attend the Field Training Course. This will be held during the summer before your junior year. Its purpose is two-fold; to let the Air Force judge you and to let you judge the Air Force. Only after you are both satisfied will you be enrolled in the program. So you see, you have everything to gain and nothing to lose by applying now. But you must act fast—applications will be closing for next year's juniors. Forms are available from the Professor of Aerospace Studies, or from Headquarters Air Force ROTC, Maxwell AFB, Alabama.

As an AFROTC cadet, will I receive pay? Yes, you will be paid for the Field Training Course which will amount to approximately $120. During the school year, you will be paid $40 a month, and you will also get free uniforms.

Will I have a chance to fly while I am in AFROTC? Senior graduates are eligible for the Flying Instruction Program. This involves 36½ hours of flight training and 35 hours of ground school. Successful completion earns you a civilian private pilot's license.

U.S. Should Negotiate...

'Francophile' Mitchell Cites U.S. Viet Policy As Failure

By MICHAEL SNYDER, Staff Writer

The South Viet Nam government is "ruthless, tyrannical, but beyond all-incompetent. The Viet Cong is more representative of the people than the Saigon government." These comments began an interesting afternoon discussion on South Viet Nam by John Mitchell, the sociology's department far-ranging commentator on the world.

He spoke at last Wednesday's 3 p.m., Tea and Conversation sponsored by the International Club.

MITCHELL described himself as a "Francophile," and said that he endorsed French President De Gaulle's position on Viet Nam, that the United States should suspend military activities and negotiate.

"Lyndon Machiavel gets on TV, and tells the American people that the U.S. is fighting for freedom in South Viet Nam, and the American people believe it," he said.

The United States backed the "concentration camps or strategic hamlets" which failed. Now "Mr Rusk (Sec. of State) and Mr. McGeorge Bundy (Undersecretary) are trying "programmed punishment against North Viet Nam." We drop both napalm and pamphlets on freedom on the North Vietnamese at the same time, he said, perhaps they can read the literature by fire light.

THERE ARE those who object. There are the "feeble voices of ineffectual moralists and pacifists, and even people like Mr. Bertrand Russell who thinks that Viet Nam could escalate into the third world war."

The rationale of the United States has been that if South Viet Nam falls so will the rest of Southeast Asia—this is false, he said. "The domino theory has already worked because the U.S. has carried on French colonialism." He alluded to the snubbing which Cambodia and Indonesia have given the U.S., and the displeasure which India and Pakistan have shown the U.S. as condemnation of the U.S. Asia policy.

The U.S. military policy has failed in South Viet Nam, therefore the government has expanded the war to the North. The United States should continue to extend economic aid to Viet Nam, Mitchell said but terminate military aid.

THERE ARE those who object. There are the feeble voices of ineffectual moralists and pacifists, and even people like Mr. Bertram Russell.

The program ended with two foreign students engaging in a candid debate over Communism. One of the students was so carried away that he switched from English to Spanish—which perhaps made as much sense to the other student as the whole Viet Nam question makes to the rest of us.

International Club Chairman Jim Roberts commented that this program is "the type we try to bring to the campus." The club is looking for people who will stick their necks out—this is why we had a good turnout for this program.

TOMORROW'S Tea and Conversation will feature Mr. Erwin Schawacker, from the department of English who will speak about the Baha'i World Faith.

Mr. Schawacker is head of the Wichita Baha'i Assembly and recently he and his wife returned from the Baha'i National Convention held at the American headquarters in Chicago.

ANOTHER coming International Club event is a canoeing and picnic party at Santa Fe Lake on Saturday, May 15, according to Ray Springston, social chairman. Santa Fe Lake is located 15 miles north of Wichita.

A car caravan will form at the CAC parking lot at 1:30 p.m., and a picnic supper will be provided at the lake at 5:30 p.m.

Tickets are $1 per person or couple and must be paid at the lake gate. Canoes and rowboats will be provided, said Springston.

'3-Penny Opera' Traces Origin To German Social Criticism

By JOHN CRITTENDEN, Staff Reporter

A social commentary on German society of the 20's, "The Threepenny Opera," to be performed by the University Players Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, was actually based on an older English play, "The Beggar's Opera" by John Gay.

Gay's play was written in 1728 for the purpose of satirizing the English government. "The Beggar's Opera" was intended to point out that there is no honor between government officials just as there is no honor between street thieves.

BERTHOLD BRECHT, the leading German writer of his generation, saw a revival of the play and was inspired by its witticisms to write an updated version exposing the problems of the Germany of his time.

Together with Kurt Weill he wrote the modern classic "Threepenny Opera." It and other musicals by the two were hailed as creations of a new style of opera. Unfortunately their play was allowed only a short run in Germany. Within a few years of its premier the Nazis siezed power and immediately banned it and other Weill-Brecht works. Many of Brecht's original manuscripts were burned and parts of a film version of "Threepenny" were mutilated.

This had not happened in John Gay's case. Gay, a Tory who was snubbed by the Whig court, was determined to laugh the Whigs and their corruption out of office.

THE WHIGS, under leadership of Robert Walpole, were enjoying the height of their power when "The Beggar's Opera" was produced. The Whigs had been the majority party for 14 years and the Tories were glad that John Gay had decided to join forces actively and show their opposition up.

Using Prime Minister Walpole as the basis for the character Peachum and the German king of England, George II, as a model for Macheath, he fashioned the play which lightly disguised leading politicians, lords, and ladies of the day as street peddlers, pick-pockets, and prostitutes. Brecht's later adaptation did not use disguised people except as symbols for greed and other vices.

The response was tremendous; it accomplished more than all the propaganda sheets and badly written satires of the preceding years because of its subtlety and quality.

IT LABELED Robert Walpole "Bluff Bob" and "Robber Walpole" for the rest of his career and held his problems of meeting the demands of both his wife and mistress up to public ridicule.

Walpole was forced to let the play continue its run; to stop it would have been an open admission of his government's corruption.

But the play did not achieve the desired effect; the government did not fall. Walpole stayed Prime Minister for the next 14 years but with less security than before.

And "The Beggar's Opera" is now credited by most historians as being one of the first of a number of plays that led to the closing of English theaters in 1737, depriving the Tories of their chief medium for criticism of the

ROTC Dept. Secretary Gets Award

Miss Pat Edwards, the Military Science department secretary, was awarded the Department of The Army Sustained Superior Performance Award, Wednesday, in a ceremony at the ROTC Armory.

Miss Edwards was given the award in conjunction with an outstanding performance appraisal, approved by Major General Kermit L. Davis, Commanding General, XVI U.S. Army Corps, Omaha.

Miss Edwards has been employed by the U.S. Army ROTC Detachment at Wichita State since January 1961.

Valley Compact Meet JFK Fund To Receive Proceeds Seen As Constructive

By RONALD SPATH, Staff Member

Bradley Scout
Bradley University

Bradley Student Body President, Dick Nitto, the first president of the Missouri Valley Compact, ended his term as MVC president saying, "The Compact itself is progressing slowly but surely and it is my strong belief that this organization, with the diversity of people working together, can achieve its initial purpose of a closer bond between the schools. However, as in all organizations, the success of its purpose lies in the attitude of its members."

The Missouri Valley Compact was formed last spring with the intent of formalizing the Missouri Valley Conference in fields other than athletics. Its purpose is to help strengthen both the individual schools of the Valley and the area as a whole.

The Compact held its second annual meeting at Bradley on April 23-24, 1965.

THE MEMBER schools which sent delegates were: Bradley University, Drake University, North Texas State University, St. Louis University, the University of Tulsa and Wichita State University.

The Compact opened with registration and the payment of dues.

Friday evening and all day Saturday were spent in committee discussion groups and general and specific compact meetings. After the business of the convention was finished, the delegates chose a president school and an executive vice-president to head the Compact for the year 1965-66.

THE OUTCOME of the election placed Drake University as the president school with Burrus Carahan of Drake as the executive vice-president.

Compact programs are handled by five committees: Athletic, Entertainment, Arts and Debate, Journalism, and Student Government.

The programs which are proposed by each committee must be passed by the Compact and then taken to the individual school senates to be ratified. If this is done, work in these areas will start.

KEITH THOMPSON, the president of the Student Government Association, stated: "I really believe that the potential of this Student Compact, even though the practical limits have not been great up to this time, is beyond even the dreams of the members of this conference.

"If each member school will unselfishly consider the effects of their actions on the Missouri Valley Conference as a whole, each will gain many times their input effort in the form of the benefits of unified conference action."

Although there were times when the conference became bogged down over trivialities, the overall accomplishments were many times greater. A workable program was set up by the committees, and work will soon begin of these pro-

A-ROTC Lecturer To Speak Today

The fourth and final presentation in the Guest Lecture series sponsored by the Military Science Department will be given at 11 a.m. today in Area 9 of the CAC.

The lecturers, Captain Volpe of the Corps of Engineers and Captain Swartz of the Signal Corps, will discuss career opportunities for the commissioned ROTC graduate in their respective branches.

The lectures are open to the public.

Students who wish to secure tickets for non-university personnel to the University Theatre production, "The Three-Penny Opera," and who want part of the proceeds to go to the JFK Scholarship Fund can contact JFK Scholarship committee members, or the SGA Office.

General admission is $1, and it is important to indicate the night of the performance desired and the number of tickets wanted. The tickets will then be waiting at the box office the night of the performance desired.

Committee members include

Steve Kraig, Tom Cummings, Janice Kaufman, and Mike Snyder. Chairman for the scholarship this year is Miss Judith Might, history senior.

The scholarship is given to an incoming freshman who is a member of an underprivileged minority group.

WSU Debate Society Elects Glenn Pres.

Bob Glenn, incumbent president of WSU's Debate Society, has been re-elected for the 1965-66 academic year. Other officers elected were: Bob Smith, vice president; Bill Balthrop, secretary; John Buckley, treasurer; Steve Joseph and Paulette Lightner, historians.

Zeta Phi Eta, Professional Speech Arts Fraternity for Women, also has elected officers for next year.

Linda Chapman was elected president; Connie Duvall, vice president; Mary Grisier, secretary-treasurer; Judi Dansby, rush chairman; and Janet Neagle, historian.

jects after the committee programs have been ratified by the individual student governments.

Heartfelt thanks were bestowed on Dick Nitto for the fine job which he did this past year in leading the Compact.

There is room for improvement, and Burrus Carahan of Drake will now be carrying out the programs of the young Missouri Valley Compact.

Stallworth, Bowman Chosen

Former Wichita State University basketball stars Dave Stallworth and Nate Bowman were chosen in the first round draft by the National Basketball Association last week. Stallworth was picked by the New York Knickerbockers and Bowman went to the Cincinnati Royals.

Under a new NBA ruling the Knicks and the San Francisco Warriors were able to choose two players in the first round draft.

Player-of-the-Year, Bill Bradley of Princeton was the first man picked as he went to New York under the territorial draft system. Although Bradley has stated time and again that he does not plan to play pro basketball as he will be a Rhodes scholar next year, the Knicks still chose him first.

The Warriors chose Fred Hetzel Davidson and Rick Barry for their first round choices. Both Hetzel and Barry were all-Americans last season and Barry was the national scoring champion.

Also picked under the territorial rights system were Gail Goodrich of UCLA by the Los Angeles Lakers and Bill Buntin of Michigan by the Detroit Pistons.

Rounding out the first round choices were Jerry Sloan of Evansville by Baltimore, Bill Cunningham of North Carolina by Philadelphia, Jim Washington of Villanova by St. Louis, Ollie Johnson of the University of San Francisco by Boston.

Bowman and Stallworth will make the third Wichita player in the professional ranks. The other is defensive ace Gene Wiley of the Lakers.

Both Stallworth and Bowman recently returned to Wichita after competing in the Russian-United States touring team matches.

Victory League Is Underway

Victory League baseball opened last Sunday in Lawrence Stadium as many ex-major league players were represented by the various teams.

The Victory League is made up of teams around the Wichita area and the winners of this league will play in the state tournament held in the stadium.

in Lawrence Stadium and a chance of all fifty states represented is possible.

With the University spring sports coming to a close the semi-pro games held in Wichita will give sport fans an excellent opportunity to view good baseball.

Tennis Team Takes First; Golf, Track Second In MVC

By MIKE HALL, Sports Editor

Wichita State University's defending Missouri Valley Conference championship tennis team captured its second straight title 18-12 and the University's track and golf squads both took second places in the annual spring sports carnival held over the weekend in Denton, Texas.

Wichita's chances to win the second tennis title vastly improved as they picked up victories from unsuspected positions. Friday, Lin Harris won the semi-final round of the number three singles to put the Shockers in good position.

THEN EARLY Saturday, Wichita's number two doubles combination of sophomore Ned Stoll and Harris upset Tulsa's Ron Pitman and John Wymore.

The Harris-Stoll team surprised many as they had lost two previous season matches to the Hurricane team.

The Shockers placed four men in the finals and swept through the three head-on matches as Harris won the number three finals, Van Thompson the number two, and Benny Anzola his second straight number one championship.

ANZOLA FOUND winning the MVC championship easy as he topped Bob Rader of North Texas State 6-1, 6-4. Anzola has been beaten in only one set in Conference championship play.

The Wichita junior also won his second straight doubles championship as he teamed with Thompson to defeat NTS's Chrane and Ingram 6-2, 6-2. Last year Anzola and Chester Anderson won the championship by defeating North Texas.

Wichita has now won the MVC title four times and is the first team to repeat that feat since 1958.

NEXT SEASON the Shockers will have almost the same squad as they will lose only Van Thompson.

Track Team Second

The Shocker track team came within a breath of taking their first conference championship, but the Drake Bulldogs combined their depth with front line power to take their third straight title 70-67.

The Shocks chances for a championship were halted as sprinters John Morton and Terry Guidry had to drop from their respective races with lame muscles.

MORTON'S INJURY came on the third leg of the 440-yard relay and the Shocks had to settle for fourth place in that event.

The Wichita junior also had to drop out of the open 440, an event where he was expected to finish at least third.

In the 220, Guidry, who was running second, had to drop out of the race just 70 yards from the finish line. His injury also slowed his performance in the 100-yard dash as he did not score any points for the Shockers.

IN THE FIELD events, the Shockers were as strong as expected with Dick Carpenter taking his second straight javelin event championship with a throw of 200-0.

Over-all Wichita took six first places and finished 1-2 in five events.

Rodd Wilkerson won two of the Shocker's firsts as he took both the shotput and the discus titles. Jim Waskiewicz placed second for Wichita in both events.

IN THE HIGH jump competition, Wichita picked up another 1-2 via as basketballers Melvin Reed and Kelly Pete placed 1-2 respectively.

Wichita's only other two event winner was Cal Elmore as he took both the mile and two-mile events. Two years ago Elmore was a triple winner before his foot operation.

Golfers Also Second

North Texas State won its fifth consecutive golf title but the surprise of the weekend was Wichita State's second place in the link championships.

THE EAGLES won by an 18 stroke margin over the Shockers who Friday were fourth in the running. They came back to beat Cincinnati by one stroke and Tulsa by six.

Before the Saturday round the Shocks trailed the Bearcats by one and the Hurricane by four strokes.

Wichita State junior Ron Consolver led the Shockers with a three round total of 220 for seventh place in individual play.

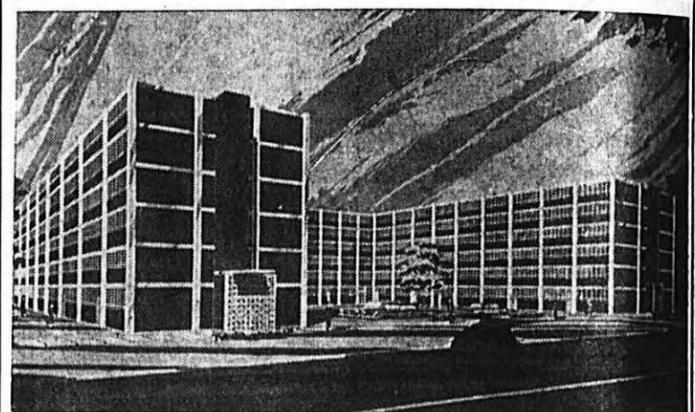

THE SHOCKS' Saturday afternoon comeback was led by Consolver, Don Atchinson, and Bob Hunsinger with two-over-par 72's and Jamie Thompson's 73.

In pacing the Shockers to their second place standing, Consolver hit 16 pars and two bogeys in his Saturday afternoon round.

The winning North Texas squad was led by senior Ron Folk with a three round total of 214 and medalist honors and teammate Ras Allen with a 216.

STRIKE ONE—Pitcher Ken Dean hurls the Shockers to a 7-6 victory over the Drake Bulldogs. The Shocks split Saturday's double-header 6-3 and 1-4.
