

CAC Growth Plans Approved At $1.8 Million

The CAC expansion should end four players per snooker table; noon, between-class crowds as well.

Construction To Begin Exactly On Schedule

Preliminary plans for the CAC annexation have been approved by the CAC Board of Directors. Revenue bonds sold in the amount of $1.8 million have been proposed to finance the project. Construction will begin on schedule in the summer of 1966. Funds will be borrowed from a private market

It became apparent that the CAC building would have to be expanded in 1964 after the university became a state school. Last spring committees were appointed to plan the building. Twenty students served on planning committees along with faculty members and alumni. The state architect appointed Ramey and Jones, Wichita, architectural firm, to draw plans.

The proposed annex consists of a 79,000 sq. ft. wing added to the south of the present structure, plus a theatre of approximately 7,000 sq. ft. that will be located immediately west of the industrial arts building. The annex will be a five story structure (sub-basement for bookstore, storage, basement and three floors above ground level).

The present bookstore will be converted into a large lounge with an art exhibit in the rear part. What is now the snack bar will be remodeled to add space to the dining room. The fenced-in space outside of the snack bar will become a patio dining area.

Two elevators will be installed to go from the sub-basement to the third floor. Administrative offices, plus a beauty shop and barber shop will also be added to the first floor of the CAC.

Eight or nine new billiard tables will be added to the recreational area in the basement of the present structure when the Alibi Room is switched to the present Area 9.

Bishop Appeals For Unity; Appears At Discussion

Bishop Frederick Putnam, Episcopal Suffragan Bishop of Oklahoma, conducted a prayer service at noon Wednesday at Grace Memorial Chapel.

The celebrated pastor also appeared as guest of the Canterbury Association and International Club in a panel discussion at 3 p.m. Wednesday in the CAC

Ballroom. The panel's topic was: "One Church - Approaches to Christian Unity."

Also on the panel were Father Lambert, chaplain of Newman Club; Rev. Tom Townsend, United Christian Fellowship; Pastor Charles Thompson, University Lutheran Fellowship; and Father Sam Criss of the Episcopal Association on campus, who moderated the panel.

The discussion topic was extended to explain Bishop Putnam's belief that in an ecumenical movement that would result in a Christian merger, four basic doctrines must remain. These four points, known as the Quadrilateral Platform, are: the Bible, a creed, the sacraments, and the ministry.

Later Wednesday evening, the Belly of the Whale coffee house honored a visit by Bishop Putnam with a reading of "The Community" by Malcolm Boyd, an Episcopal college chaplain.

7:30 Classes On Schedule Next Term

Classes will begin at 7:30 a.m. next semester, according to Dr. Carl Fahrback, chairman of a committee appointed by the Administrative Council who approved the schedule Wednesday afternoon.

The change of schedule is not new in Kansas. The other two state universities, both KU and K-State, have been beginning classes at this time for several years.

The 1966 fall semester will carry the new time schedule as follows:

7:30 - 8:20
8:30 - 9:20
9:30 - 10:20
10:30 - 11:20
11:30 - 12:20
12:30 - 1:30
1:30 - 2:20
2:30 - 3:20
3:30 - 4:20
4:30 - 5:20

Although the morning and afternoon schedules have been altered to fall on the half hour, there will be no change in the evening schedule.

Cage Ticket Pick-up Process Changed Over Semester Break

By MYRNA FLETCHER
Staff Writer

Another change has been made by the Athletic Dept. in the basketball ticket pick-up policy, according to Dr. Noah Allen, Athletic Director.

This change, which requires students to bring their I.D.'s to the Field House the day before the game, was put into effect at the Feb. 3 Drake game. Previously, students were to turn in their I.D.'s at 6:30 a.m. the day of the game. With this policy, however, the department could not resell tickets that students failed to pick up until 5:30 p.m. the day of the game, which resulted in a loss of money to the department.

Because of this, it was announced at the Jan. 31 North Texas game that students desiring tickets to the Drake game should turn in their I.D.'s

This was the only notification the students had of the change, yet, according to Dr. Allen, there was no notable decrease in the number of tickets picked up.

Another change in policy is the distributing of student tickets that have not been picked up by 7:45 p.m. the night of the game. Students who for some reason or another are unable to turn in their I.D.'s the day before the game will be given these unclaimed tickets upon presentation of their I.D. cards at the student gate of the Field House. Any student who does turn in his I.D. for a ticket, but is unable to be at the game by 7:45 need only notify the Athletic Dept. and his ticket will not be re-issued.

It is the opinion of Dr. Allen that the new policy will benefit both the students and the Athletic Dept. The monetary loss will decrease because the public will have more than just two hours to buy unclaimed student tickets and students will have more time to procure a ticket. Before, I.D.'s had to be turned in by 6:30 a.m. the day of the game, but students now have from 6:30 a.m. until 4 p.m. the day before a game to arrange for a ticket.

It is the hope of the Athletic Dept. that students will be prompt in picking their tickets on game nights.

Phi Alphas Progress Toward SAE Approval New Frat May Be 1st New House To Move Into WSU In 5 Years

Phi Alpha, local colony of Sigma Alpha Epsilon was visited by three SAE officials from the Kansas-Missouri province Wednesday.

The representatives of the national fraternity discussed the possibility of granting a national charter with Capt. John Ellison, faculty advisor for the colony.

Both Phi Alpha and the University must be approved by the national offices before the charter on this campus can be issued. Formal approval of the local group could come at the next province convention April 30.

The chapter hopes to be nationalized in 1967 at the province convention in Atlanta, Ga. If the charter request to be nationalized is accepted, all men in the Phi Alpha colony of WSU will be retroactively initiated.

At present, the Phi Alpha's have no regular meeting house.

A residence house for members is desired with low enough cost so that members may live there within their means.

If Phi Alpha is approved for a charter, it will be the first national fraternity to move on campus in five years.

MEETING TO APPROVE - Steve Bert, Phi Alpha Fraternity president; Dr. George A. Comstock, Director of Counseling and Men's Activities; Ray Davis, president of Zeta Province of SAE; and Capt. John Ellison, Phi Alpha faculty advisor complete another step toward Phi Alpha's acceptance as a national chapter

Glamour Contest deadline, the CAC-Pep Council Dance following the St. Louis game and Sorority Open Rush are important dates on the social calendar for WSU students.

Deadline for applications for the WSU Glamour Contest is Friday in the Student Services office. The local contest is sponsored by the AWS Council. The contest is scheduled for Feb. 20. The winner will represent WSU in the national competition.

A dance sponsored jointly by the CAC and Pep Council has been slated for Saturday night in the CAC Ballroom following the basketball game. A combo will play for the students' entertainment. Admission for the hop will be 50¢.

An Open House by the sororities has been scheduled for Monday afternoon for all coeds interested in visiting the sorority houses. Houses will be open 5-6 p.m.

Monday the Arab students will sponsor a lecture at 7:30 p.m. in the East Ballroom of the CAC. "The Age of Conflict in the Middle East" is the topic Farouk Mawlawi, Director of the Arab Informatikn Center in San Francisco, will discuss.

Alpha Chi's honored three girls Monday evening with carnations for their scholastic attainments. They were Linda Lewis, Judy Bridges and Patty Gray. Delta Delta Delta's honored Sandy Hamm as the Activity Girl of the Month.

During the halftime of the Louisville game Saturday night the Tri Deltas will be collecting money for their "Hold-Up For Scholarship." Funds will be used for the awarding of scholarships to Wichita State coeds.

The men of Sigma Phi Epsilon recently initiated eight new members. They are Dane Conn, Chip Temple, Greg Salmon, Ron Rouse, Jim Agerlie, Tom Laird, Tome Gillespie, and Dennis Wenchel.

Pledges and actives of Alpha Chi will go out to a breakfast of pancakes and maple syrup at the Pancake House. The women will attend the First Methodist Church's services following the breakfast.

Friday night the Sig Eps, rushees and dates will have a rush party at Cowtown. Dancing and other entertainment has been planned for an evening of western atmosphere.

Delta Upsilon's will have a party this weekend at the Broadview Hotel. A Valentine theme and decorations have been planned for the gala event.

Alpha Chi social affiliate Sandy Lindeman announced her engagement to KSU Phi Delt Alan Pinkstaff before the meeting Monday night.

"Bridge On The River Kwai" Surprise Flick Slated in CAC

An unexpected show will be featured by Two Bit Flick at 7 p.m. Friday in the CAC Ballroom with a one-showing, capacity-only policy. "Bridge on the River Kwai" had been cancelled previously from the Flick semester schedule but was received in the mail and will be shown.

Winner of seven Academy Awards, including Best Picture, Best Director, and Best Actor, "Bridge on the River Kwai" was directed by David Lean, who also directed "Lawrence of Arabia," and the current "Dr. Zhivago."

Starring in "Bridge on the River Kwai" are: Alec Guinness, who won the Best Actor award; William Holden; Jack Hawkins; Geoffrey Home and Sessue Hiakawa.

Set in a Japanese prison camp during World War II, the film portrays the daring escape by American and English prisoners of war to destroy a bridge which threatens to be instrumental in the Japanese conquest of the world.

Second semester season tickets for Two Bit Flick will be on sale at the door for $2.50.

Classes...

Melvin Voth, found in 7:30 a.m. classes were better traffic flow, less crowded lunch breaks and more convenient classes for working students.

The flow of traffic to and from the campus prior to 7:30 classes would not conflict with the heavy work traffic between 7:30 and 8:00 a.m. A similar traffic advantage would also result during the noon hour.

A half-hour schedule would assist with the crowded lunch conditions, especially in the CAC, the committee said. Both the snack shop and cafeteria are extremely crowded during the noon hour. The half-hour schedule would permit two eating hours, one at 11:30 and the second at 12:30.

The committee received the Student Government endorsement Tuesday evening before they presented their report to the Administrative Council.

Career Interviews

Interviews will be held in the Placement Office, Morrison Hall, from 9:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. Students not already registered with the Placement Office will need to contact Mr. Don Jordan, Director of Placement.

Musical Chairs ...

When confronted with a complaint, the classic excuse of any bureaucracy that is bogged down in its own regulations is always "look how much work we have to do!"

Students on this campus have been complaining for years about long lines and red tape at registration time, and their complaints are always dismissed with "standing in line is a small enough price to pay for your education," and "it won't hurt you to wait."

If the work load for the registrar is so large that even with the most efficient organization possible, students still have to stand in line, then we should all be grateful. But, if all the hold up is due to nothing but red tape, then students have a legitimate gripe.

Here is the narration of an incident that shows symptoms that resemble a situation where the bureaucracy is bound up in its own rules and regulations.

There is a sociology class this semester for which 67 students have pulled cards. The classroom in which it meets, when crowded with chairs, seats 60 pupils.

After a day of watching students taking notes on the backs of other students while standing up, the instructor went to the registrar's office to ask if there was another room to which his class could be moved.

The professor admitted that he argued with the registrar for some time, but finally gave up and vowed never to prostrate himself before the pile of red tape again.

But some of his students were not so easily pacified. At the next class meeting, they searched the building and located a psychology class with 65 seats that was only three-fourths filled.

The students asked for the registrar who was "in conference" and finally gave their complaints and suggestions to another office official. Their issue was treated patronizingly, but the suggested remedy for the crowded classroom was a real clincher and shows how one goes about avoiding red tape.

"Just wait until a few drop the course and there is more room," was the suggestion the students received.

Well, the registrar business probably is pretty tough. It's a big job, but when a bureaucracy stops listening to common sense and can't even manage enough flexibility to reassign a class to a classroom to remedy their own mistake then it is in danger of suddenly one day having a procedural seizure and stopping all together.

It is one thing for students to play musical chairs in sociology class and quite another for tax dollars and educational time to be wasted. Let us hope that situations like this do not become the rule and that all great organizations can be humble enough to apply common sense where it is needed.

Legislative Activity Increasing On Plan For Deductible Tuition

When Wichita State University students pay tuition and fees next week their parents may be able to credit part of the amount toward their income tax.

A plan designed to ease the financial burden of parents of college students and to create new sources for the establishment of scholarships is receiving increasing attention and support from both educators and legislators.

The concept of granting tax credits for some expenses of higher education has had backing in both houses of Congress for more than decade but has never been enacted into law.

In 1964, a bill, introduced by Senators Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., and Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., failed passage by the narrow margin of 48 votes to 45. The bill has been reintroduced in the present congress.

During recent weeks added support for tax credit legislation has been gained from various political groups including the Young Republican Federation and the House Republican Conference.

"I think all professors would be in favor of the legislation, but probably the majority of them are not aware that it had been reintroduced," Henry H. Malone, assistant professor and scholarship counselor said.

"Colleges are currently approaching the peak of their enrollment and the saving to parents could be a sizable amount.

Congress has been trying to help and encourage students to go to college and this would be a good device to further these aims," he added.

The tuition tax concept has stemmed from widespread concern over the mounting costs of tuition and fees at both private and publically supported colleges and universities.

Proponents of the measure point out that increased enrollments, necessary increases in faculty salaries, and general increases in expenses have forced annual operating budgets sharply upward. This increased cost has been passed on to the student and his family.

Tuition tax credit was conceived to relieve financial pressure on persons paying for college educations and to reduce the threat of students being priced off the campus.

The measure would permit a credit against the Federal income tax of persons paying for tuition, fees and other essential expenses of college students.

Advocates of the plan emphasize the difference between a tax credit and a tax deduction. Each dollar of credit would reduce a person's tax by $1. If a taxpayer owed $1,000 at the end of the tax year and had qualified for a $400 tax credit, he would owe the Federal Government only $600 in income tax.

A $400 tax credit would save the individual exactly $400 whether he earned $5,000 a year or $20,000. A deduction, on the other hand, would save a $20,000-a-year man more tax dollars than a $5,000-a-year man.

The Ribicoff-Dominick measure is based on the first $1,500 paid for tuition, fees, books, and supplies per student at an institution of higher learning. The amount of the credit would be 75 per cent of the first $200 spent, 25 per cent of the next $300, and 10 per cent of the next $1,000. The maximum credit allowable would be $325.

Such a tax credit would come to anyone - student, relative, friend, or benefactor - paying the educational costs. Broad assistance in support of the most needy students could, therefore, be generated by the colleges and universities themselves, proponents of the bill point out.

In addition, scholarship-holding students from middle-income families could reduce their scholarships to the extent that they received tax credits allowing the institutions to make more generous and selective use of increasingly inadequate scholarship funds.

Opposition to tuition tax credit has come from several quarters but generally it has been based on a lack of understanding of the difference between a tax deduction and a tax credit.

Proponents of the tax credit legislation feel that such a measure stands a good chance of passage in the current congress. It is a chance that should grow better as more people become acquainted with the issues involved.

"Pamburger Hatties" Is Food - Not Apparel

Does your tongue ever get tangled up?

Maybe you are a victim of spoonerism. These slips of tongue can happen to anyone - and generally do - causing considerable embarrassment and humor for one's companions.

The Rev. William Archibald Spooner gave his name to this kind of mistake because of his fame for mixing up his words. He is said to have told his congregation: "I want only to be a shoving leopard to my flock."

Radio announcers seem to be most likely prey of the affliction. One, some time ago, drew a deep breath and in his most velvety tones announced to a million listeners: "And now I give you the President of the United States, Hoobert Heever." A colleague introduced Germany's Prince of Pilsen as the "Pill of Princeton." Another fired off this one: "You will know that the king and queen have arrived when you hear a twenty-one sun galoot."

One unfortunate announcer told his listeners about the "Duck and Doochess of Windsor." Another, covering a parade spoke of the "Girl's Bum and Droogle Corps." And there once was an announcer who greeted actor Walter Pidgeon by saying, "Mr. Privilege, this is indeed a Pidgeon."

One newscaster during World War II spoke of the "Battle of the Belch in Bulgarian."

It's easy to spoonerize. Grocers report customers have asked for "pamburger hatties, terry charts, cheamed creeze, jineapple poose, and cram of sushroom moop."

Spoonerisms may be deliberately applied to many things. Try going up to some friends and saying their names, switching the first letters. But, beware! Don't say too much, or you may find yourself in an embarrassing situation.

Engineers and Scientists:

Let's talk about a career at Boeing...
50-year leader in aerospace technology

Campus Interviews, Monday, February 14

The most effective way to evaluate a company in terms of its potential for dynamic career growth is to examine its past record, its current status, and its prospects and planning for the future, together with the professional climate it offers for the development of your individual capabilities.

Boeing, which in 1966 completes 50 years of unmatched aircraft innovation and production, offers you career opportunities as diverse as its extensive and varied backlog. Whether your interests lie in the field of commercial jet airliners of the future or in space-flight technology, you can find at Boeing an opening which combines professional challenge and long-range stability.

The men of Boeing are today pioneering evolutionary advances in both civilian and military aircraft, as well as in space programs of such historic importance as America's first moon landing. Missiles, space vehicles, gas turbine engines, transport helicopters, marine vehicles and basic research are other areas of Boeing activity.

There's a spot where your talents can mature and grow at Boeing, in research, design, test, manufacturing or administration. The company's position as world leader in jet transportation provides a measure of the calibre of people with whom you would work. In addition, Boeing people work in small groups, where initiative and ability get maximum exposure. Boeing encourages participation in the company-paid Graduate Study Program at leading colleges and universities near company installations.

We're looking forward to meeting engineering, mathematics and science seniors and graduate students during our visit to your campus. Make an appointment now at your placement office. Boeing is an equal opportunity employer.

Spring Plans, Speaker, Highlight SGA Meet

By JUDY FAIRHURST
Staff Writer

May Queen election, a Hippodrome report and a guest speaker highlighted the Student Government meeting Tuesday evening in the CAC.

Proportional representative and University College representative positions are now open by the failure to meet required scholastic attainment by Jeff Brooks, proportional representative and Paula Arbuckle, UC representative.

Brooks' chairmanship of the Kansas Relations Committee was filled by proportional representative Jim Roberts in an unanimous vote by SGA Tuesday night. Deadline for applications will be March 1 for the other positions.

May Queen election has been scheduled for March 9 and scheduled for March 9 after a long debate from Congress. Many congressmen felt the election was slated too early in the year.

Volunteers receive a $75 a month salary with board and room. They also receive a $50 mentally retarded, and underprivileged persons.

"It would help us in the planning of the May festivities," said Judy Nydegger, Hippodrome chairman, who is also in charge of May Day activities.

Miss Dotty McCall from VISTA, a group fighting the war on poverty, addressed the SGA briefly.

Miss McCall reported that all young men, engaged in VISTA activities, have had draft deferments. VISTA volunteers work with the mentally ill, stipend at the termination of their service.

Other important dates which were brought before Congress were those of upcoming elections, conferences and meetings.

SGA elections have tentatively been set for April 5 and 6. Members of the CCUN will convene March 2-5. The Conference of Higher Education has been slated for April 22. The Missouri Valley Compact Conference will meet at Drake University.

Film Society Slates French Movie

"Sundays and Cybelle," a French film being shown by Wichita Film Society, will screen at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday in the Duerksen Fine Arts Center Concert Hall.

A lyric tragedy "Sundays and Cybelle" portrays a rather magical relationship between a war veteran who suffers from amnesia and a lonely twelve-year-old girl. The two meet each Sunday and their lives are greatly enriched by their friendship. Even the amnesiac's mistress understands her man's need for a relationship with the young girl, until the conventional townspeople attempt to disrupt both child and man by their condemnation.

this summer and is scheduled for completion in September 1967.

The theatre is a most important facility in the CAC program. While it is necessary to locate it just a few feet from the CAC because of the Industrial Arts Building, its size will not be hampered. Approximately 500 people can be seated in the theatre which will host the film society, 2-bit flick, lectures, and conference.

Total added space in the annex will be approximately 86,000 sq. ft. and the remodeled space in the present building will equal 24,000 sq. ft. Construction on the building will begin

Cincy Bearcats Tumble Shockers 93-76

Cincinnati -- Special -- The Cincinnati Bearcats broke a five game losing streak to the Wichita State University Shockers Thursday night with an impressive 93-76 victory in a Missouri Conference game.

The loss dropped the Shockers to a 4-4 count in the rugged Valley play, despite a 28-point effort by Jamie Thompson, Wichita had won five straight games from Cincinnati before dropping tonight's contest in the Armory.

Led by sharpshooters Mike Rolfes, Johnny Howard, Roland West and Rolf, the Bearcats took a 51 to 35 lead in the halftime. West was high with 23, Rolfes netted 22, Howard 18 and Rolf 19.

Wichita fought to within nine points, 70-79, of the Bearcats with four minutes to play, but Cincinnati pulled back ahead to a comfortable margin. Three baskets by Howard helped the Cincinnati resurgence.

The Shockers played without the services of Lillard Harris, brilliant Junior guard, whose sister was killed Wednesday in an automobile accident in Fort Worth. Harris is not expected to be with the Shockers in Saturday night's contest with the Louisville Cardinals.

A dazzling 65% field goal average in the first half by Cincinnati overcame a brief 2-0 lead. They stayed out in front for the rest of the contest.

The game shooting percentage from the field for Cincinnati was a hot 56.5 on 35 out of 69. The Shockers hit 39 percent.

Warren Armstrong, Wichita's sensational sophomore, ran into foul trouble with three early in the first half. He fouled out with 2:18 to go with nine points to his credit. Mel Reed hit 14 points and Kelly Pete scored 12 for Wichita.

Still undefeated in their friendly Field House, the Shockers will meet one of the toughest teams in the Conference when they meet Louisville. It will be the first meeting this season for the two teams.

Louisville's 6-foot-7 sophomore Westley Unseld has been described by his own coach as the "finest sophomore" he ever coached in his more than three decades of coaching.

Attention W.S.U. Students!

Can you afford your present auto insurance rates?

College students often find that liability insurance alone, consumes almost one fourth of their yearly income.

Here's what you can do to get good reliable automobile insurance at reasonable rates.

. Kell Hawkins, a former W.U. student, understands the problems a college student faces in purchasing auto insurance. In the past he has proved so helpful to his clients that he has recently expanded.

If you feel that you cannot afford your present insurance rates, call Kell Hawkins at MU 2-1517.

He can probably help you.

Careers/in Adventure at General Electric

TO: General Electric Company
570 Lexington Ave., Rm. 801-C
New York, N. Y. 10022

Gentlemen:
Show me what it's like to be one of the new generation of idea men at General Electric. Where I might work. What I'd do. What kind of people I'd work with.

Send me my free copy of the 20-page booklet "Careers in Adventure," filled with full-color photographs that show G.E.'s young men - and women - at work in today's most challenging fields: electronics, urban lighting and transit design, aerospace and computers, jet propulsion and nuclear power and all the rest.

Name _____ (PLEASE PRINT)
College or University _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____ Zip _____

Got a pencil?

Frankly, General Electric is after the cream of the 1966 crop of graduates.

Not just the top engineers. And not just the top scientists. But the outstanding graduates in other fields: economics, business, law, accounting and the liberal arts as well.

See for yourself what you could be doing next year. Fill out the coupon for a copy of our booklet "Careers in Adventure."

And talk to the man from G.E. during his next campus visit. Come to General Electric, where the young men are important men.

Coffeyville Hands Freshmen 1st Loss

COFFEYVILLE, Kan. — Wichita State's freshmen were beaten for the first time last night, 76-59, by Coffeyville Junior College, the leaders in the Jayhawk Junior College Conference. Wichita State's star guard, 6-foot Ron Mendell from Ottawa, sprained his left ankle with 4:29 to go in the first half. It is not known whether Mendell will appear in the Garden City Junior College contest scheduled for the Baby Frosh in the preliminary to the Louisville game here Saturday night.

Rebounding was the key to the Coffeyville success. The loss was the first for the Shocker Freshmen in the last 11 outings. They now have a 11-1 record.

Coffeyville, which holds more than a four-inch height advantage over Wichita, cleared the boards, pulling down 37 caroms against 24 by the Shocks.

Both teams launched a zone defense from the beginning with Wichita going to a press in the closing minutes of the game.

High point men for Coffeyville were forwards Allen Draper and Henry White, each with 19.

Harlem Trotters Slated Monday At WSU Field House

Wichita area basketball fans and even WSU students will have the opportunity to see the hilarious dribbling and round-ball antics of the renowned Harlem Globe Trotters this Monday, February 14.

The "globe trotting troupe" will perform in the WSU Round House to the tune of "Sweet Georgia Brown" starting at 8:00 p.m.

"I have been with the club at only a few spots," said Jerry Saperstein, son of owner Abe Saperstein, "but we had a sellout two straight nights at Vancouver, B.C. and have been drawing well all along the West Coast."

Tickets are not available through the ticket office in the Field House. All ticket arrangements are being handled by the Central Ticket Agency and $2.00 and $1.50 tickets are available. Tickets can be reserved by calling Central Ticket Agency, FO 3-4717.

Miller's Iowa Cagers On Shocker List

Head Basketball Coach Gary Thompson, now in his second year as the "chief", will have the opportunity next season to show his former boss how much he has really learned.

Dr. Noah Allen, WSU athletic director, announced recently that the Shockers will meet University of Iowa, coached by ex-Shocker mentor, Ralph Miller, December 29, 1966.

Another perennial match with a national power will be UCLA. On December 8, 1967 Wichita State is scheduled to travel to Los Angeles to play the famous Bruins and Lew Alcindor.

The game with Iowa during the 1966-67 season will be played at Iowa and is one of the six new teams on the Shocker schedule. Other games recently scheduled are at Lansing, Mich. against Michigan State, Dec. 10, and El Paso, Tex. against Texas Western, Dec. 17.

Wichita will also host Creighton, Dec. 8, and San Diego State, Dec. 23. There is one more spot remaining on next season's schedule and will be filled by a top-ranked team, Allen assured.
