

rection of New Union Building Is Step Nearer As Contract Is Awarded

Hahner and Foreman Awarded Contract With Low Bid of $183,955; Work To Be Done in 312 Days

Contract for the $183,955 student auditorium and nons building was awarded to the Hahner and Foreman Construction Company, 111 North Waco, following executive meeting of the University Board of Regents, today noon.

Work, scheduled to start soon, will be completed within 312 working days according to the time specified in the contract. The new building, though the well known Wichita Union firm was low bidder at $183,955, this amount is expected to be reduced to about $180,000, according to Roy W. Elliott, controller.

Make Change The change, according to Mr. Hahner, is yet to be approved by the board of regents. He indicated a change of stone trim on the building. According to present plans the building will be exactly as shown on the plans submitted. This will replace more masonry work.

Contracts as a whole, declared Hahner, were 10 to 15 per cent less than was anticipated. This is due to the fact that the large number of contracts being submitted before the government's deadline, Dec. 15.

Thomas in Charge Hahner, Kansas City, Mo., native of P.W.A. and L. Z. of Topeka, were present when bids were opened. They were in the interest of the allocation to be made by the board for the new structure. It was learned, will cost $101,200 for the building.

The construction a government engineer will be on hand to see that all specifications are followed. Mr. Thomas, architect, will have charge of the work, while Hahner, president of the company, will see that construction proceeds steadily and smoothly.

er and Foreman are known for their construction of the new building, the new Wesleyan Church, the new building, Wichita Art and the International Har-Building now under construction North Broadway.

Students Contribute Food To Help Needy Families

Tomorrow will be made a truly thankful day for at least four families in Wichita as the result of contributions made by students this week to the Young Women's Christian Association barrel.

Among those Y. W. C. A. members eager to be on hand when the baskets of food are delivered this evening are (left to right) Misses Betty Gensch, Mildred Norris, Beulah Barrett, Eleanor Martin and Margaret Branson.

Four families will be supplied with Thanksgiving baskets this year by contributions from University students. The Thanksgiving barrel will be under the rotunda till 5 o'clock this evening. Students have been asked to buy a can of corn or a peck of potatoes at the grocery store and bring it as their contribution.

The Y. W. C. A. service committee, which is in charge of the Thanksgiving baskets, is particularly anxious to meet its quota of four families. Money contributions will also be welcomed. These may be given to any Y. W. C. A. girls.

Members of the committee in charge are Miss Mildred Norris, chairman of the Y. W. service committee, Miss Eunice Schweiter, Miss Marjorie Royer, Miss Eleanor Martin, and Miss Mildred Hershey.

Each student in the class has selected a play, a cast, and is busy with rehearsals. This is excellent opportunity for the young person to learn the technique of play production.

Those who will direct plays include Miss Elizabeth Caswell, Miss Vera Setzer, Miss Mary Allen Cook, Miss Eleanor Corcoran, Miss Martha Sells, president; Miss Helva Webo, Miss Beulah Barrett, Miss Ruth Sharp, and Miss Marjorie Simonet. This conference is an annual affair. Miss Marjorie Simonet and Miss Martha Sells were delegates last year.

Two talks by University faculty members were the main features of the program at the meeting of the Graduate Club last Monday evening at the home of Dr. W. M. Goldsmith, 1845 North Hillside.

Dr. Worth A. Fletcher, professor of chemistry, spoke on "Research in the Field of Chemistry." The topic of Henry Onsager, associate professor of history was "Some of the Difficulties Encountered by the Graduate Student Before the Examination Committee in History."

John McQuinn, newly elected president, was in charge of the meeting. As the guests of Dean Earl R. Hillbrand, dean of the Graduate School, four University students attended the luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club Monday and heard former Senator Henry J. Allen tell of the Italian-Ethiopian situation. The students were Jack Beethbone, Edwin Thomas, Cramer Reed and Mierle Martin.

Senator Allen pointed out that Thanksgiving Day may be observed in the United States this year in the true sense of the word inasmuch as immediate war clouds over Europe have disappeared.

Geologists Take Field Trip Under the leadership of Dr. W. A. VerWebe, four auto loads of students from the advance class in field geology took a trip to Ellsworth County last Sunday. The purpose of the trip was to study indications of life in that part of the state. Dr. VerWebe said that the trip proved interesting from a geological point of view.

Poster Aids Rogers Memorial Drive With final plans for the Will Rogers Memorial Fund activity in Wichita being made rapidly this week, the members of the student body of the University this morning became among the first to subscribe to the fund. Last week the faculty and employees of the University also made a unanimous contribution to the fund before the regular campaign for subscriptions had begun. Plans for the drive in Wichita are being handled through the headquarters at the Hotel Lassen. Dr. W. M. Jardine of the University is in charge.

Convo Today Marks First By Students

Sororities Present First Program Of Series

Thanksgiving convocation to be held at 10 a. m. today in Henrion Gymnasium, will be presented by the sororities of the campus.

This convocation will start a new system in the arrangement of programs. The faculty convocation committee, working with the student council, is hoping to utilize student talent in the future for convocation programs.

Sorority members will be entirely responsible for the program to be put on this morning. They have planned, managed, and furnished the entertainment to be presented.

In previous years the Thanksgiving convocation has always been under the auspices of the Y. W. and Y. M. organizations on the campus.

After Raymond Shelley plays several selections on the new Hammond electric organ, the Fine Arts Chorus will sing under the direction of Paul Oberg.

Miss Vera Setzer will give a set of interpretive readings, "Prelude" by Chalmers will be played on the harp by Miss Marion Jean Goldsmith. Then Delta Omega trio, composed of Florence Hergetz, Maxine Wideman and Eleanor Hannah, and accompanied by Mildred Sanders will sing "Thanks Be To God."

Fraternities on the campus will have charge of a convocation in the morning. It is the aim and purpose of President Jardine and the faculty committee to present programs in which the students are represented.

Y.W.C.A. Will Meet at Baker

To bring together university Y. W. C. A. members from all over the state, a sectional conference will meet at Baker University in Baldwin, Dec. 6, 7, and 8. "The New Citizenship" will be the topic for the meetings and discussions.

The highlight of the week-end is the banquet on Saturday evening. An international theme is carried out in decorations and the program.

Several cabinet members of the University Y. W. C. A. are attending the conference. Tentative list includes the following: Miss Martha Sells, president; Miss Helva Webo, Miss Beulah Barrett, Miss Ruth Sharp, and Miss Marjorie Simonet. This conference is an annual affair. Dr. Worth A. Fletcher, professor of chemistry, spoke on "Research in the Field of Chemistry." The topic of Henry Onsager, associate professor of history was "Some of the Difficulties Encountered by the Graduate Student Before the Examination Committee in History."

Enthusiasm for New Union Building Grows

Wheatshockers Anticipate Good Times They Will Have in Recreational Center

Will the erection of the new auditorium and Union Building help to bring students into more intimate contact with the sparkle of college life? Will it help to satisfy the tastes of young moderns? Increased enthusiasm is being voiced among students as the time draws nearer and nearer for the work to begin on the massive structure, which is to be built on the site of old Fairmount Hall.

Let us hear some of the "campus opinions." Dr. W. M. JARDINE, president of the University of Wichita: "I feel that this building, which is to be comfortable and cozy but not expensively elaborate, will help to create more interest in campus activities. I think it will help to keep the students on the campus and more interested in University affairs."

RUTH BRYANT, Junior and member of Sorosis: "The new building should be plenty snappy, with soft seats in the auditorium, lounge rooms for the girls, small dining rooms for private organizations' parties, and a stage better than any in Wichita."

MARK WATSON, Pi Alpha Pi active: "Again the University of Wichita comes to the front. The new Union Building will be a show-place in the City of Wichita. The overstuffed furniture should appeal to the upper-classes, and for the freshmen the hard chairs are plenty good enough. But seriously, the University does need a place to present their plays and concerts. We have a fine band, a great dramatic department, but these have been handicapped for lack of a suitable place to present their productions to the public."

CECIL B. READ, assistant professor of mathematics: "For the teacher who has tried to conduct a class in the present auditorium (with an accompaniment of the moving of large numbers of chairs, indefinite noises) the definite and the new building seems to offer possible attainment of an ideal, a reasonably quiet classroom."

Give the college editors of America their way and President Roosevelt will be re-elected without turning a wheel.

Or so it appears from a recent magazine study of political attitudes of collegiate scribes.

Four hundred and eight editors were for Roosevelt, 52 for Borah and 26 for the publisher, Frank Knox.

Grades Have Important Bearing on Life Success

WHAT type of college student is most likely to attain success? According to a survey conducted by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology the student with the highest scholastic averages has a strong monopoly on the road to success.

Jobs Obtained

The Institute made a survey of 1,000 of its graduates, picked from all parts of the United States and foreign countries. Those graduates who made averages of 90 and above had very little difficulty finding employment, and after finding a position increased their salary at the rate of $1,000 a year.

Students scoring an average of 85 or over also found employment easily, and increased their salary at the rate of $500 a year. Those students who had average grades found employment difficult. They received few wage increases and were seldom placed as executives.

An interesting summary made in this survey showed that the greatest number of successful graduates were students formerly from the mid-west. The survey also showed that two-thirds of the successful graduates were the sons of college graduates. A large number of the graduates canvassed had parents who were at one time instructors.

Enthusiasm Up

CHARLES KINSEY, sophomore and member of Alpha Gamma Gamma Fraternity: "Without a doubt the Union Building will be one of the greatest improvements for both the faculty and the student body that our University will ever make. It will be an excellent place for the pupil to spend his spare time, due to the fact that he will have at his disposal lounging rooms, study rooms, and game rooms. I sincerely believe that next year the students of W. U. will be 'loners' rather than 'hookers'."

MAX MILBOURN, Alpha Gamma Gamma fraternity: "The erection of a student recreational center on our campus will, I believe, be another big step forward in the building of a great University. Students have long needed a common meeting place on the campus. The 'union' building will serve to more closely unite members of the student body. It will be a monument to new ideals, new hope, and progress for our school. Money spent in this construction will be used to a good advantage."

Impressive formality, military pomp and splendor made the Military Ball, given in honor of Honorary Colonel Loneta Brown by the R. O. T. C. unit last Friday night at the Heurion gymnasium, one of the most brilliant affairs of this season.

During intermission, the honorary colonel and her escort, Cadet Lt. Eugene Wolf, passed under a silver arch formed by the senior members of the R. O. T.
