Shocker Cagers Go Up Against Tulsa and Southern California

Open Season Friday Night

Will Meet Tulsans Saturday Night At Forum

Ready for Some Tough Basketball

These two University men will join with several more this week-end in trying to bring basketball victory to the Shockers over the University of Tulsa. On the left is Gerhard Eiermann, pivot man, and on the right is Pike Gathrop, forward, and sure to be among the starting five.

Basketball—that king of door winter sports—will return to its place on the university calendar this weekend when the Shocker team meets the University of Tulsa at the Forum Saturday night preceded by game with Friends University tomorrow night.

With games are scheduled to start at 8 p.m. with the Friends to be played on the Quaker.

Under the direction of Bill Hen-

a new coach here and former shocker student, the University

put basketball back on the five Games In a Week

Five games in the open week of play is the record that will be hung by the Shocker basketball team before next day. Following three tough home games, the shockers will open up Central Conference season with Pittsburgh in two games on the Quaker court next Wednesday and Thursday.

for a three-months period will carry the team through schedule now loaded with 25 over the two games this week, with little rest, the Shockers meet the University of Southern California in another game at Forum next Tuesday night.

Admission tickets will be honored for three games, it has been decided by University authorities.

Tulsa game will precede a game between the Thurston Company, and El Dorado.

Battle for Lead

The Central Conference of this year is gunning for ranking. Southwestern and Pittsburg are first place last followed by Wichita, Emporia and Hays.

The pre-registration plan has been used for a number of years and has proved very satisfactory, since it offers a chance for more thoughtful selection of courses and more time for consultation with advisors.

Schedules of classes will be prepared during the Christmas recess ready to be placed in the hands of students when they return. Students are urged to go in consultation with their advisors as soon as possible after schedules are out.

The pre-registration plan has been used for a number of years and has proved very satisfactory, since it offers a chance for more thoughtful selection of courses and more time for consultation with advisors.

Students entering the University for the first time will be enrolled Jan. 27, at which time adjustments may be made in the schedules of pre-registered students who find any change necessary.

Final examination schedule will be announced after the holidays.

The group also voted to continue the gift to Morrison Library of a yearly subscription to "The American Scholar."

The meeting was in commemoration of the founding of the fraternity at the College of William and Mary, in Williamsburg, Va., on Dec. 5, 1775. Phi Beta Kappa is the oldest Greek letter society in America.

Roy W. Elliott Back From Phoenix, Ariz.

Roy W. Elliott, comptroller, returned Monday night from Phoenix, Arizona, where he was called because of the death of his mother, Mrs. Julia Elliott, who died on Tuesday, Dec. 3.

Mr. Elliott's mother-in-law died recently in Prescott, Ariz., and his wife had just returned from there when he was called to Phoenix.

Final Date Set McDonald Again For Schedules Made President

Jan. 18 Is Deadline For To Head Phi Beta Kappa Another Term

Pre-registration this year is scheduled for Jan. 6 to 18; according to Dr. Worth A. Fletcher, registrar. All students now enrolled in the University are expected to arrange their schedules by Jan. 18 or pay the $2 late registration fee.

Dell Hitchner Arrives In Lawrence for First Test Palmer Reviews Work in Clinic

Competes for Honor Of Scholarship At Oxford

Dell Hitchner, senior at the University of Wichita and president of the Blue Key fraternity, left Wednesday morning for Lawrence, Kas., where he will compete for the Rhodes Scholarship.

Mr. Hitchner will compete with the Kansas contestants comprising students from 14 different Kansas colleges. These tests will be given on Dec. 12 and 13 and will be personally supervised by Chancellor E. H. Lindley of the University of Kansas. Mr. Hitchner received acknowledgment of his candidacy and the schedule for his examination which took place this morning. Individual tests are held privately, but are similar to those of other candidates.

Winners to Des Moines

The two winners of the state meet will then compete at Des Moines, Iowa, in January for the final examination. The winner from this district meeting will be awarded a Rhodes Scholarship to England. The district meet comprises the winners from the various state meets which are held at selected cities in the nation.

The states are divided into eight districts comprising six states each. Dell Hitchner says that the different tests are similar in nature and cover all the fields that the young man of today should be acquainted with. In previous years this scholarship was given to some selected student from every state, but the new plan changes this.

From Hitchner

Mr. Hitchner was graduated from the Hutchinson High School in the spring of 1932 and entered Kansas City Junior College that fall. He attended this school for one year and entered the University of Wichita in the fall of 1933.

Mr. Hitchner is a member of Webster and Blue Key fraternities and is interested in the field of political science where he has been an assistant to Dr. Hugo Wall.

All-Around Student

Selections for this honor must fulfill four qualifications. These are character, personality, athletic vigor and leadership. The faculty committee that selected Mr. Hitchner as the University representative was proud to offer his name as a selection because of his high scholastic averages and his all-around merit as a student.

The scholarship allows the winner a three year course at Oxford University as well as paying for many smaller expenses incurred.

This award is valued at more than $2,000. The winners of these tests will enter Oxford University in the fall of 1936.

Classes Switched Again for Convocation

Classes will again be switched next Monday morning to make way for the Christmas convocation.

The 10 o'clock classes will meet at 9 o'clock, and 9 o'clock classes will not meet at all, according to Dean Earl R. Hillbrand, chairman of the convocation committee.

Play To Tell Of Christmas

Y. M. and Y. W. Plan Convocation for Next Wednesday

Dramatization of "Why the Chimes Rang" will feature the Christmas convocation to be held Wednesday, Dec. 18, at 10 a.m. The program is in charge of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A.

Miss Alaine Dunn, senior, will be the reader. Those taking parts in the play are as follows: Miss Roberta Brown, rich woman; Glenn Moss and William McMurry, rich men; Geneva Rehr, Betty Gensch and Eleanor Martin, pages; Bob Gaskins, writer; Norman Wilmer, boy; and Frank Malone, king.

To further carry out the theme of the story, the stage will be arranged in the fashion of a cathedral with Christmas trees completing the decorations. Paul Oberg will direct the music furnished by the sight-singing chorus; members of the choir will be robed.

The planning committee for the convocation includes Miss Marjorie Sims; Glenn Moss; Miss Mary Cleo; Miss Mary Alice Naramore; Carson Davis; and Hiram Gordon with the cooperation of Paul Oberg and George D. Wilmer. Roles will be furnished by the St. John and the St. James Episcopal Churches.

W. U. To Be Prominent In Student Meet

Annual NSFA Meet Is Scheduled For Kansas City

University Student Council representatives will attend the 11th annual congress of the National Student Federation of America to be held in Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 27-31 inclusive. Jack Rathbone, president, announces. Delegates have not yet been chosen but selections will be made at a meeting of the Council tonight at 7 o'clock.

Last year the University representative was Joe Solter, who was elected chairman of the west-central district which included the states of Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, North Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa and Missouri. He was also a member of the national executive board.

Plans for the formation of a "W" club will also be discussed at the Student Council meeting.

Purpose of the national meeting is to discuss perplexing campus problems and help decide the place of the undergraduate in national public affairs. Discussion subjects will include fraternities, publications, honor system, curriculum, military training, students in national politics, financing student government.

Plans for Holiday Made by Y. W. C. A. At Last Meeting

In decorating the Y. W. C. A. lounge for the holiday season, cabinet members placed a Christmas tree in a setting of white snow on the table. The tree was decorated at the cabinet meeting, and around it are placed toys for which the girls had previously drawn names. These will be given to families in the annual Christmas basket. Hostesses during the meeting, which is the last one before the Christmas vacation, were Miss Frances Baldwin and Miss Velda Gahan.

Wednesday at the weekly meeting for Y. W. C. A. members, entertainment was furnished by "Three Men on a Bike." This trio consists of Bill Woolin, Bob Day, and Ray Shodgrass. Miss Mildred Stinson from Friends University conducted a scrapbook program.

Miss Marjorie Simonet led the group in singing Christmas carols with the assistance of Miss Mary Alice Naramore, accompanist. A surprise and treat was given the Y. W. C. A. members who were in attendance.

No meeting will be held next week as the Y. W. C. A. is co-operating with the Y. M. C. A. in plans for the convocation.

Chemistry Classes Attend Standard's Gas Demonstration

As proof of the value of recently developed gasoline, J. P. Jones, sales manager of Standard Oil in Wichita, last week gave a demonstration on the campus of the vaporizing and warming properties of winter gasoline of the 1926, 1935, and 1936 types before the chemistry classes and an R. O. T. C. class.

The demonstrations were carried out with a carburetor, an electrically sensitive thermometer, and a system of lights. It was proved that 1936 gasoline could warm up a cold engine in much less time and had less waste, than the 1926 and 1935 types.

Mr. Jones pointed out that quick warming and chemical purity were two essential elements in a winter gasoline. He also said that any gasoline containing sulphur or gum can easily damage or slow down an engine.

Many works of the Romantic poets and prose writers, together with biographies of their lives, and books dealing with the development and significance of the period are now available to University students.

Dr. Davis feels that, while other phases of English literature have more books available in the library, many additions will still have to be made before the department can consider itself well-equipped.

Students To Debate For Places on Team

Presenting the first in a series of debates, Harry Stuckenbruck and Forrest McKown will debate against Frank Matson and Harry Corbin, Thursday, in the old book store at 8 p.m.

This debate is one of a series to determine which team will represent the University in Kansas City.

The question is: "Resolved: That Congress should have the right to override the decision of the Supreme Court declaring it unconstitutional."

Hein Has Valuable Stamp Collection

Taking a place of honor in the stamp collection of G. H. Hein, custodian of the Administration Building, will be the two stamps used on letters carried on the first round trip of the new China Clipper. Mr. Hein addressed his letter to Major Cecil Rutledge, formerly a captain in the University Guard unit of the R. O. T. C., who was transferred last year to Honolulu.

Mr. Hein had the post office in San Francisco put on his letter one of the Clipper Ship stamps. Major Rutledge, in answering, enclosed the letter he received; so today Mr. Hein is the possessor of two stamps of the first trans-Pacific trip of the China Clipper.

Students Will Direct Plays

Art of Acting Class Is In Complete Charge

Prof. George D. Wilmer will present the members of his class in acting and play production in two programs of three one-act plays next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at 8 o'clock in the University auditorium.

Intended as a project assigned to members of the class, most of whom will expect to direct productions of high school plays, the plays are simply a class venture, for which the students have assumed the entire responsibility of casting and direction.

The three short comedies presented Tuesday night, the duration of which will be from 15 to 40 minutes apiece, will be directed by Misses Elizabeth Caswell, Eleanor Corcoran, and Mary Ellen Cook. Those for Wednesday evening will be produced by Misses Lilian Douglas, Opelia Gorum, and Vern Sorger.

The members of the class will act in plays produced by others and their own, whenever possible. There is no charge for admission.

Students Begin To See New Campus As Changes Remold Appearance Here

Work Slated Monday To Be Signal for Expansion Which Will Take School To Commanding Position

Awaited for several months and destined to add considerable zest to student activities on the campus, construction work on the new Union Building will begin next Monday morning if definite plans now materialize. A federal supervisor from Topeka was on the campus Tuesday to see that everything is in readiness.

Word has been received by Roy W. Elliott, comptroller, that unless something unexpected happens, the first pick will bite into the dirt next week. The building will be located on the site of old Fairmount Hall which was destroyed by fire in 1929. In all probability both the Phi Kappa Psi and Alpha Tau Sigma sorority houses will be moved to new locations.

Art of Acting Class Is In Complete Charge

Prof. George D. Wilmer will start carrying the ground for year Union Building probably the sixteenth of this month. Frank A. Beeson, inspector of engineering, has been assigned to the project. Contracts are still being signed and approved, and there are many technicalities matter to be disposed of before we can begin work, but that date I am tentatively setting the one on which we will start construction.

The Union Building will contain a large auditorium capable of seating 1,800 persons. A faculty lounge, a men's lounge, a women's lounge, a dining room, two private dining rooms, and a suite for the dean of the university will complete the setup in the interior of the building.

May Have Ceremony

It has been suggested by certain examiners that some ceremony be arranged in connection with the breaking of the soil Monday morning.

Glen H. Thomas, well known Wichita architect, designed the new building. Mr. Thomas has been the architect of such buildings as the Wichita High School North, and the Administration Building at the airport. His ability is recognized by the examinations.

In Support of the Amendment
To Prevent Compulsory Training

R ECURRENT in the history of any nation is the question of how closely and under what conditions the lives of the citizens shall be administered by their government. In the United States, governmental powers are based on the premise that governments derive their powers from the consent of the governed. Conscription of any class of citizens is un-American and is not justified under the Constitution, except in times of national stress when such a policy is necessary to provide for the common defense and promote the general welfare of the nation. Even in such circumstances the stated premise holds; for Americans have proved themselves ready in critical times to voluntarily submerge personal liberty in a mass effort for the good of the country.

Yet it is true that at 113 civil schools and colleges a form of conscription is practiced under a project financed and authorized by the United States through the War Department. And unless the Ne-Kvale Amendment to the National Defense Act is passed, the number soon will be increased by about 113 other schools and colleges.

THE PROJECT referred to is the Reserve Officers Training Corps. Boys attending the schools where this training is obligatory must enter the corps. Those who object, whether for religious reasons or otherwise, are summarily dismissed by the administrative head. Such decisions have on several occasions been upheld by court action, on the ground that the school executives have the right to say that a course shall be compulsory and to require it of all students.

Few people would deny the wisdom of such a decision. The educational systems most common are based on such administrative authority. The student who wants to be a physician is required to take preventive medicine; another, training in secretarial science, must take shorthand; and another, a student majoring in art, finds that a course in perspective is obligatory. All these required subjects are necessary to the adequate preparation of the student for his chosen vocation.

BUT THE logic by which the courts upheld the right of school officials to require students to take such class work as will prepare them for life does not justify compulsory military training in schools not primarily founded for military purposes. Neither does it warrant the dismissal of students from schools, founded and supported by federal land grants for the purpose of making available to students of each state preparation for life in trades or professions—dismissal for conscientious objection to military training, making it necessary for the student to attend school in another state at added expense and inconvenience. Never should government sanction permit the shackling of a system built on the ideals of optional training for each citizen.

Advocates of compulsory training use three main arguments to advance their point. Such training, they say, is necessary to the defense of the country. It is simpler, substitute for physical education and has a character-building value. A third argument is used to justify compulsory military training in land grant colleges and is, briefly stated, that one of the ordained functions of these schools is military training of all men students.

THIS LAST claim is based on the Morrill Act which established the land grant schools. Yet in referring to this point, the attorney general in 1930 said: "The Federal statutes nowhere require that the offered course in military tactics must be compulsory."

This statement simply added the authority of the judiciary to the Secretary of War's declaration six years prior: "So far as the war department is concerned, it is optional with the authorities of the school, college, or university whether military training shall be elective or a compulsory course in the curriculum."

If such training is a good substitute for physical education—and numerous surveys have given cause to doubt this—it's character-building value is even more doubtful. To quote Edwin C. Johnson, secretary of the committee on militarism in education: "After all, the autocratic application of external military authority . . . can never substitute for the sense of responsibility and discipline of inner self-control which flower best only when motivated by the consent and interested volition of the individual student."

The most mistaken of the arguments is that concerning national defense. Radicals would have the uninformed believe that only by R. O. T. C. work for all available boys can the glory of the nation be preserved.

EVEN IF, in this world of mechanical gadgets for effective warfare, the man-power methods of waging warfare were holding their own—and the war games of the past year prove that they are not—R. O. T. C. products would still hold a doubtful place in the practical defense of the country.

Only two years' work in the corps are compulsory. The two extra years' work, which are necessary in order to obtain a commission, are voluntary.

Yet General Johnson Haygood, commandant of the Seventh Corps Area has declared that "to say that such men (C. M. T. C. and R. O. T. C. graduates) can command regiments, brigades, and divisions is a travesty upon the military profession."

What, then, can be said for the value of two years' training in terms of national defense. If four years of that training does not make soldiers?

No one denies that such men as wish to take R. O. T. C. training should have that opportunity. It should be available to them. But it should not be compulsory. Congress should pass the Ne-Kvale Amendment to guarantee student freedom of choice for a course whose lasting value in the trades or professions is yet to be proved.

Referring to opinions on the outcome of the Rose Bowl Game and the favorite sport, Lillian Parks declares, "I protest the unauthorized use of my name in last week's edition of the Sunflower attached to revoltingly inane twaddle."

In the University Bookstore is an interesting little booklet titled "The Psychology of Getting Grades." It contains nothing new or original on the subject, but it does put into complete, convenient form that which has been known and practiced by certain types of college men and women. One can easily see friends and acquaintances in every line of it.

—O.

The book shouldn't be available to faculty members, because although they are familiar with such psychology, if they see everybody consciously practicing the art they are likely to stamp down.

Dr. Wall's 10 o'clock hour has so long been dedicated to less formal phases of academic life that on the big class-schedule chart in the registrar's office has been drawn, in the 10 o'clock space, a cup of steaming coffee and various smoking tools.

K. U.'s rule limiting the time which faculty members may keep library books is one which might advantageously be adopted here.

Considered worth picking up:

Most anyone can be an editor. All you've got to do is sit at a desk 12 months in the year and edit such stuff as this:

"Mrs. Jones of Cactus Creek let a can opener slip last week and cut herself in the pantry."

"A mischievous lad of Pileville threw a stone and struck Mr. Pike in the face last Tuesday."

"While Harold Green was escorting Miss Violet Wise from the church social last Saturday night a savage dog attacked them and bit Mr. Green several times on the public square."

"Mr. Fong, while harnessing a horse last Saturday, was kicked just south of the corn crib."

Montelle Steele is having hard luck. For the past three years he has been injured at the very start of basketball season. First it was his wrist, then his knee, now his ankle.

George Az and John Cotter are still looking for a ride back to Pennsylvania for the Christmas vacation. They beg that if you aren't going yourself to please look around and see if anyone else is going. They really want the ride.

Collegiate World

BY ASSOCIATED COLLEGIATE PRESS

Personal prediction:

Within two years nearly all the major colleges will be openly paying their football players for their services.

It probably will mean a complete realignment of the amateur-professional relationship, but it is bound to come. Already a large number of college editors are back of the move. The situation is much like that of prohibition in the latter twenties. Everyone knew that liquor was universally sold—so why not bring it out in the open where it could be regulated?

Latest college paper to advocate this more is the Orange and White of the University of Tennessee. Its editor points out the significant fact that college editors are generally paid for their services. Why not fullbacks? That's a hard one to answer.

Definition of the student body at the University of British Columbia as stated by the student paper:

"A comfortable body of nondescript spineless morons."

That, we would say, is editorializing.

Somebody's definition: "An alumnus is a graduate who knows precisely how the football team should be run."

Students of national defense will be interested in the statement by Colonel C. A. Chapman, head of the coast artillery unit of the University of Illinois R. O. T. C.

He declares it is probably much for frightening to think of an air raid than to experience one.

The armed social forces of the whole world are not big enough to raise either New York or Chicago, he said in an interview. He believes anti-aircraft gunnery would destroy a bombing flight before it could ever get into action. To escape being hit, the colonel maintains, a bomber would have to fly at a height where his chances of accurate bombing are about 1,000 to one.

Before closing, let me make note of the fact that the sports editor of the University of Minnesota Daily picked his All Big Ten Team the other day and eleven out of eleven were Minnesota players. That's loyalty!

Freshman College, a government night school project organized to give first year college training at government expense to those who could not attend regular daytime college or university classes, may be postponed indefinitely, according to Earl K. Hillbrand, dean of the graduate school and director of the University College.

Dean Hillbrand heads the committee in charge of the Freshman College project in the eight counties under the supervision of the University. He made his statement very brief but indicated he had given up hope that whatever obstacles were holding up the project would be cleared and the employment of teachers would be completed and when would proceed as planned.

"We received a number of applications for teachers," Dean Hillbrand said, "and they were sent to the National Youth Administration offices at Topeka for approval, according to instructions."

Dean Hillbrand said that Miss Anne Laughlin, Kansas director of the Kansas Youth Administration offices at Topeka, under which the Freshman College will operate, had gone to Chicago to try to unwind some of the red tape which had enveloped the project.

Miss Laughlin, he asserted, urged strongly that the project proceed with non-relief teachers for a period of four months, instead of holding up the project until eligible teachers can be picked from relief rolls. The results of this conference will be known soon.

Towns in which Freshman Colleges will be organized in this division are Harper, Anthony, Sharon, Wellington, Coldwater, Medicine Lodge, Larned and Wichita.

Bulletin of Information Prints Theses

Ten graduates of the University were given mention in a recent issue of the Bulletin of Information, published by the Kansas State Teachers' College of Emporia, for their master theses on various forms of the history of education in Kansas.

Only a few of the 600 people that are enrolled in this division will be presented, but they will be representative of the group enrolled. The recital will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the downtown building. Students of this division of the University and the public are invited to attend.

An annotated bibliography of their efforts is listed along with a short resume of the test of their theses. Some state leaders in the field of education, say that this work is a thorough and complete history which will be of aid in future times in compiling larger histories of Kansas education. The pamphlet contains only the unpublished theses of graduates of the University of Wichita, University of Kansas, Kansas State College, Manhattan, and the State Teachers' Colleges.

Those former students of the University and the subject of their work are:

Calendar

Ed Palmer forced to sing what notes to the blond waitress at the Bucket... Bob Cramer nominates himself Joe College with his spell-binding lies... Maybe that new Oklahoma high school ring had something to do with Willis Samuels declaring the Pi Alphas to be only necessary evils... If a certain Kappa Rho Beta doesn't return to school next semester it will be Mr. and Mrs. in Manhattan... This merely because Mr. Brill wanted to know why he didn't make Roundabout... Any day but Monday would be better for the supposed upper crust to caper... Will some subtle siren please see that James Matthew Armor boasts no more of never having kissed or been kissed... What coach repeatedly moves his desk closer to the door when class dancing classes are progressing in the gym... To hearts a flutter: Dick Sampson has a what-you-call-it in Herrington... What prettette Alpha Tau pleads had the colossal dumbness to drive her date to the airport and then decide it wasn't being done... We wonder why Nickels chooses dark stairways... And then there's the vivacious Sophomore who bought a bottle of "Surrender" perfume to use in the presence of her drummer man in the band... Is, or have they "already been married?" that perpetual conundrum... Webster and his wide-eyed heart throb... And that is the campus this week—C. E.

University Society*French Group To Have Party*'La Veille de Noel' Will Be Given at Christmas Affair Carrying on the annual custom of having a party the Monday before school is dismissed for Christmas vacation, the French club will hold its Christmas meeting Monday evening, Dec. 16, at the Sorosis house.

In addition to the play, "La Veille de Noel" which will be presented on the evening of Dec. 16 to the French Club and its guests, various musical numbers will have their place on the program. These will all be in keeping with the theme, "Christmas in a French Family."

At the beginning of the program, French children will be portrayed putting their shoes out for le petit saint. Then mother announces that they will be entertained with a play. At this time "La Veille de Noel" will be presented. Following this the family goes to midnight mass. While at mass the bell will hear Miss Pauline Daek sing a solo with violin obligato by Misses Marjorie Catlin, a vocal duet by Miss Pauline Daek and Miss Mary Margaret Schroeder, two solos by Miss Ernestine Briles, accompanied by George Griffin, numbers by a boy's quartette, a solo by Edwin Brimmer accompanied by Raymond Shelly, and selections from a French Bible by Barbara Clason, Dorothy Smith, and Mary Clegg.

Following mass the family returns home to indulge in their midnight feast which is a custom in France. At this point refreshments will be served to the guests of the French club.

Kid Party To Be Given by Students

Costuming as kids and playing kid games will be the entertainment for the students of the downtown division of the University on Wednesday evening, Dec. 18. The party will take place at the building downtown and faculty members will take part just the same as students.

Games will start the evening and carol singing will be part of the entertainment.

The decorations, of unusual beauty, will be built around a color scheme of blue, silver, and green. The tables are to be centered with mistletoe and holly imported from the south, and attached to this will be silver reindeers. The same color scheme will also be carried out in the invitations and place cards. The ballroom will be lighted entirely by blue tapers.

The gowns are to be seated in panels of six, eight, and 12. Miss Camilla Jackman, president of the sorority, will occupy the place of honor, and her seat will be marked with a large poinsettia, and a branched candleabra.

Dancing will be featured between courses and during the evening Hal Newman's orchestra will furnish the music.

Those assisting Miss Seitzer with the arrangements include: Misses Parry Grubis, Eleanor Hannah, Maxine Wideman, and Isabel Barnhart.

Matrix Sorority Holds Pledge Service

Matrix sorority held pledge service for eleven girls Monday afternoon.

Those who were pledged are: Misses Laura Howard, Phyllis Powell, Janet Jones, Marvyn Earle, Betty Behner, Ernestine Briles, Ruth Bryant, Ruth Miller, Lois Carpenter, Nedra Schleifer, and Katherine Hiltz.

U.S.C. Brings Rangy Squad

Shockers Play in The Forum on Tuesday

Wichita basketball fans will have the opportunity to witness a classy brand of basketball played by the University of Southern California Trojans when they meet the University of Wichita Tuesday Dec. 17, at the Forum.

The Trojans play a delayed type of ball using a man-for-man defense. Occasionally fast breaking plays are used to move the ball around.

Students To Sit In North Parquet

For the University of Southern California basketball game, student activity books will be acceptable for admittance to seats in the north parquet section of the Forum. Single admittance without activity books will be seventy-five cents.

down the court, but Coach J. M. Barry prefers a more set type of basketball.

The offense of the team is built around captain Jack Hupp, who is tall and slender and was runner-up in scoring in the Southern Division Conference of California last year.

U.S.C. Have Lettermen on Team

Ward "Balface" Browning, a two-year letterman plays a sensational game at the other forward, and is an exceptionally good shot. At center the Trojans use Dorisette, a sophomore who plays a good floor game and was the outstanding player on the freshman team of S.C.U. last year.

Last year the Trojans scored an average of 45 points per conference game and held their opponents to an average of 31.4 points. The Californians have their defense worked out by a man-to-man method and are able to hold most teams. Double passes and natural blocks are features of Coach Barry's tricky offense and helped them in

Season Opens For Shockers

First Game Against Friends Tomorrow At 8 P. M.

After tying for first place in the Central Conference football race, the Shockers have turned their whole interest toward securing a clear title to the basketball crown. The University of Wichita quintet will open their season with a non-conference tilt against the Friends University five tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the Friends gymnasium.

Shockers First Test

Coach William H. Hennigh and the Shockers are set to win this game tomorrow for it is the first game coached by Hennigh as well as the first of the season. This encounter will give Coach Hennigh the opportunity to see the Shockers in competition before they tangle with the University of Southern California in the Forum next Tuesday, Dec. 17.

Shocker fans are asked to notice that the place of the game has been changed and that it will be played in the Friends University gym.

Last year the University of Wichita engaged in the Central Conference competition after being out for two years. They finished the season in a tie for third place with the Emporia Teachers. The Shockers won four games and lost four in their conference tilt.

Four Lettermen

Coach Hennigh will have as a nucleus for his team four lettermen from last year's squad, two forwards, a center, and a guard. Tom Kornhans, all-conference guard of the 1933-34 team and captain of the 1933-34 team, will hold one of the guard posts. Lucy Gawthrop and Earl Vore are the lettermen back for the two forward positions. Gerhardt Eikerman, another letterman, will in all probability hold down the pivot position for the coming campaign.

Jimmy Wilson, senior forward, has been looking well in practice sessions and is expected to be one of the Shockers' mainstays this year. Calvin Stewart, center, and Roland Skinner, forward, from last year's star freshman team are others that Coach Hennigh has on his "A" squad and are expected for the yellow and black during the coming months.

Galaxy of Stars

Among those who are showing their talents in practice among the comers are, Grant Garner, forward from Oxford; J. Riddell, guard and forward of Cathedral High; Ray Kaufman, guard of Moundridge; Ray D. Hahn, forward from Pittsburgh; Dick King, who plays guard for Belle Plaine; Wayne Johnson, forward from Jamestown; and Ed Webber, a guard from Mullenville.

At present Coach Hennigh has the group divided into two squads—an "A" team and a "B" team. The forwards on the "A" squad are as follows: Gawthrop, Garner, Wilson, Skinner, Vore, Johnson, and Ed Webber. At the guard posts, Smith, Kornhans, Riddell, Kaufman, Nye, and King.

Those on the "B" team are guards, McElveen, T. Smith, and Webber; Steele, Lotteridge, and Morgan; forward Durkee, Sonders, L. B. Smith, Graham, Jacques, Wolfe, and Wells.

Coach Hennigh announced that it would be improbable that the Shockers would attend the Southwestern tournament as they were playing Baylor University (Oklahoma) here on Dec. 28.

Games this year will be played at North High, East High, or in the Forum.

The Wichita "B" squad will play the preliminary round at 7 o'clock tomorrow evening. George Gardner of Arkansas City will officiate for the game.

Swimming

To have or not to have a swimming class next semester? That is the question confronting Miss Taggart. You see, there must be at least 15 girls sign up before there can be a class, so if you're planning to take swimming sign up early. If there is no class, it will be the first time in eight years, and it will be impossible to enter the state and national swimming meets. Let's not break that eight year record!

Orchises

Say, this ought to inspire you to attend Orchises more regularly! Members are planning to give a social sometime in March, and are learning clever new dances now in preparation for it.

Archery

To Agnes Wilson goes the honor of making the highest score of the Turkey Shoot held in November. Her score was 200 with Ruth Anderson following close at her heels with a score of 161. Frances Wright came in third with 118. A "Santa Claus" Shoot" will be held this month and the girls competing may shoot at any time it is convenient for them, as long as it is during the month of December. It will be a columbian round as the Turkey Shoot was.

A plenty exciting game took place Thanksgiving morning between the varsity and the alumnas with the final score of 0-0. Predictions were made that it would be a close game, but oh, not so close.

The varsity hung up a victory 3-1 in a scrimmage with Friends Tuesday afternoon. They enjoyed a hot chocolate at the Pi Kappa House afterward to celebrate their victory.

Pi Kaps Lead In Tournament

Vikings Forfeit Game To Kappa Rhos

Pi Kappa Psi took the lead in the inter-society volleyball tournament Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock when they triumphed over Sorosis 37 to 32 and won over Epsilon Kappa Rho 32 to 24.

The Vikings, non-sorority team, forfeited to Epsilon Kappa Rho Monday and are scheduled to play Sorosis Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. More tournament games will be played off next week.

Volley ball practices will be held every Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock and Friday at 2 and 3 o'clock. Inter-class points will be judged on at least five practices, counting one inter-society class game 25 points.

The following point system will be used for the tournament:

If playing in three-fourths of games, 75 points; varsity will receive 25 additional points; inter-society: 10 points for playing in all games, two points for each additional game won; first, 15 points; second, 10 points; third, 5 points.

During the entire season of 1935, Hennigh was switched to guard and under the able tutelage of Gene Johnson, rapidly developed into one of the Central Conference's best players.

Shock basketball reached a peak in 1931 when they won the Southwestern College tournament by defeating Hank the Marauder Teachers. The Wichita team finished 12 winners in the conference and placed third men on the All-Central; Hennigh, James Moffatt, and Harold Grove.

Captain of Shockers Team

While a senior, the present W. U. coach mentor served as his team's captain, again made the mythical conference team, and aided the team in finishing third place at the close of the season. He was also vice-president of Pi Alpha Pi during his final school year.

It seems that Tom Scott, Pittsburg's ex-Henry's player, had been coaching at Mountbridge High School. In the spring of 1932 he resigned to accept a position with Halstead High. Mountbridge desired a capable experienced athlete for a coach. The job was offered to William Harold Hennigh, University of Wichita. He took it, a position which proved to be a stepping stone, which brought him back to his Alma Mater three seasons later as head basketball coach.

Dime novels got their start toward popularity as Sunday school literature, according to Frank K. Walter, University of Minnesota librarian.

Activity Books Good At Friends

In an agreement with the officials of Friends University, student activity books of the University of Wichita will be honored at the W.-U. Friends game, on Friday, December 13, in the Friends gym.

Hennigh "All-American" Returns to Coach Alma Mater Basketball Teams

IMMEDIATELY after the close of the National A. A. U. basketball tournament at Kansas City, in 1932, coaches and sponsors of teams, sports writers, and officials conferred and issued their All-American selections for that year. On the second team, paired with Duck Dowell, was found, "Bill" Hennigh, guard, S. K. S. L.

In that tournament of 1932, Bill Hennigh played perhaps the best basketball of his career. He was halted by some experts as both the best looking and the best working guard of the tournament field, which was placing him above even Henry's Burke and Dunham and Frank Wilson of the Olympic Club.

Displaying unexpectedly good football, the Barbs clicked long enough to score three touchdowns and swamp their greatest rivals, the Alphas, 19 to 0 in a bitter battle fought in the Shockers Stadium last week.

Soon after the kick-off the Barbs were evenly matched down to the Pi Alpha Alphas 30-yard marker and from there saw Price over on a lateral play. White passed to Sullivan for the extra point.

Play was even until late in the third quarter with frequent penalties being called by the officials. Then the Barbs staged a steady march for a touchdown while Winters, giant fullback, doing all the ball-hogging. As the game ended Bowden, Barb halfback, intercepted a desperate pass by "Big" Jones and galloped 93 yards for a touch-down.

Outstanding for the Pi Alphas was the work of Watson, Bodkin, and Payne in the line and of Jones in the backfield. Starring for the Barbs were Beaver, Price, and Winters, among the backs and Gladys, Nick and L. B. Smith in the line.
