SHOCKERS ENTRAIN FOR EMPORIA TRIP SATURDAY MORNING

Highlights of Day's Celebration Include Football Tangle with Hornets, Special Varsity; About 450 Students To Go

BULLETIN

Word has been received from Emporia that neither the school gym nor Union Building there will be available for a Wichita Victory Varsity, although arrangements had been made three weeks in advance. No reason was given for the announcement. Since the Board of Deans will not permit a dance away from the Emporia campus, the Student Council has provided that the special train leave Emporia at 7 p. m., in order that students may return in time to stage a Victory Varsity in Henrion Gymnasium, according to Ross Denison, council president. 'Gripe Session' Will Be Dancing will last from 10 till 12 p. m.

Shocker rooters will leave Wichita Saturday morning at 9:55 o'clock for Emporia, on their annual booster trip. The Shocker-Hornet game is to hold the spotlight of the day. Approximately 450 students are expected to buy tickets for the trip within the next two days, according to Ross Denison, president of the Student Council.

The Wichita Eagle published an editorial requesting citizens to build up their board walks and paint their buildings. Kansas joined the Populist movement, as thousands of mortgages were foreclosed, Eastern interests lost on investand became embittered against the state.

Thus, in brief, the old trustee narrates the plight of the city. Meanwhile the college was having worries, too. It needed endowments to keep it in operation; to finish the still incomplete Fairmount Hall; to purchase books for a better library The Congregational Educational Society had heretofore followed a policy of supporting only one college in a state. Therefore, according to Dr. Graves, Washburn, the first school of the denomination, waged relentless war upon its new rival. Dr. Morrison spent much of his time in Eastern cities in efforts to obtain money for the school's coninuance. He found antagonism toward the state, and even evidences of disunity in Wichita circles cropping up. But all the while the president was sending books back home. more than 2,500 books per year. Too many books, in fact; because the faculty found it hard to meet the freight bills. Publishers sometimes gave copies; others were purchased. Ultimately Fairmount secured the largest library in the state, with the exception of the state University's. Andrew Carnegie, donor of Carnegie libraries, promised Dr. Morrison $40,000 for a building, provided he could raise a like amount locally. This was done and the selection of a ite for the structure was the final service that the president could rive his college. Three days after he had chosen the spot with the adice of an architect, he died of
