Art Week to Be November 1 to 7

American Art Week to publicize and advance the work of American artists will be held November 1 to 7, sponsored by the American Artists Professional League with national headquarters in New York.

Objectives are to draw attention to the local artists and craftsmen by bringing their work before the public.

Art Week helps the artist and his community in many ways, chief among which are the following:

- (1) Brings local artist directly before the public.
- (2) Disseminates ideas to enrich the community.
- (3) Brings government and civic recognition to the artist and his home town.
- (4) Emphasizes by exhibitions the worth of local crafts and fine arts.
- (5) Stresses local historical and beauty spots.
- (6) Offers local and national publicity to the artist and community.
- (7) Enhances the art education.
- (8) Presents prizes of paintings, sculpture and prints competitively to states showing the most outstanding results.

Student Forum Season Ticket Sale Winners Are Announced

ALPHA TAU SIGMA sorority won the Student Forum ticket sale contest this year, according to Bob Hill, executive secretary of the Student Forum Advisory Board.

First prizes for individual sales were awarded Rosalie Greenberg, I. S. A., and Charles Purnell, Alpha Gam. Miss Greenberg was awarded $7 as she sold more tickets than any other member of the Student Forum Board. Mr. Purnell was awarded the $5 prize.

Second place winners among the girls were Elizabeth Forter, Alpha Tau, and Virginia Crosswhite, Alpha Tau who tied. Miss Forter and Miss Crosswhite were awarded $2 prizes. Charles Goodrum, I. S. A., was second place winner among the boys and won a $3 prize.

Third place winner was Al Munroe, I. S. A., who was awarded a $1 prize.

This is an annual contest sponsored by the Student Forum Advisory Board in which the five University sororities, four University fraternities, and I. S. A. participate.

Last year Sorosis sorority won the organization prize. Mr. Hill was the first place individual winner last year.

Sievers Goes to Army

Dr. Clement H. Sievers, assistant professor in the department of psychology, received orders last week to report to Omaha, Neb., on November 4 and it is understood that he will be assigned to some phase of the psychological service in connection with army organization.

Seven Faculty Members Speak

Kansas State Teachers Will Meet Here Nov. 5-6-7

Seven members of the University of Wichita faculty will take part in the seventy-ninth annual session of the Kansas State Teachers Association to be held in Wichita on November 5, 6 and 7.

Major Walter Duerksen will lead the R. O. T. C. band for the first general session.

Dr. L. H. Hekhuis, dean of the College of Liberal Arts, will speak on "An Appraisal of the Efforts Made by Kansas Colleges to Meet the National Emergency." Dr. M. V. Palmer, director of the Institute of Logopedics, will discuss "Self-Realization—Achieving Physical Fitness," and Clayton H. Staples, director of the art department, will discuss the purposes of picture study in grade school.

Cecil B. Read, head of the mathematics department, will discuss the significance of mathematics for college preparatory students. Ralph Graham, football coach, will hold a roundtable discussion on the subject of football. And Dr. Hugo Wall, head of the political science department, will discuss "Reorganization of the Post-War World."

Miss Alma Eikermann, University art instructor and president of the Kansas State Art Teachers Association, will have charge of the art session during the meeting here.

W.U. Directory Goes on Sale First of Week

Two Bindings to Be Made Available To Students

University student directories will be on sale in the University book store next week, according to Leo W. Allman, head of the University journalism department.

Two bindings will be available this year. One will be the ordinary stapled binding which will be 15 cents per copy. The other will be the new plastic spiral binding which will be 25 cents per copy.

The page proofs have been posted in the Rotunda of the University Administration Building for the past week for corrections.

This year's directory will be the same style as that of last year. Sorority and fraternity members will be listed at the back of the directory. The directories will also include a listing of faculty members, all University student numbers, and a list of numbers around the University which are frequently called.

There are 100 copies of the 25-cent directory and 900 copies of the 15-cent directory.

Fields of Wartime Employment For Women Available

There are five fields of wartime employment available to University women now, according to a bulletin released by Miss Grace Wilkie, University dean of women.

This bulletin, released by the American Council on Education at Washington, D. C., states that women are needed in health fields, in diplomatic service, and special investigation, in scientific fields, in business, and in schools and colleges.

For trained University women in the health fields there are openings for physicians, dieticians, nurses, laboratory technicians, bacteriologists, chemists, psychiatric social workers, occupational therapists, physiotherapists, and pharmacists.

For University women interested in diplomatic service or special investigation there is a need for linguists, mathematicians, and specially trained secretaries.

University women interested in sciences may find government positions as physicist, chemist, geologist, mathematician, agricultural expert, or home economic expert.

For business women there are openings for mathematicians, statisticians, accountants and secretaries.

In American schools and colleges there is a need for teachers, nursery school experts, and psychologists.

Dr. Edward Elliott, chief of the division of technical professional personnel of the War Manpower Commission, says all college women should participate directly either in necessary community service in war production, or in service in the armed forces.

Miss Wilkie will speak to any University girls interested in the above mentioned courses.

Kansas Editorial Group to Convene

Members of the Fifth District of the Kansas Editorial Association will hold their annual fall meeting on the University campus this week end.

The University journalism department will act as host to the organization as it has during the past several years. About 50 members are expected from among the editors of Butler, Harvey, Sumner and Sedgwick Counties.

The editors and their wives will be guests of the University at the Wichita-Emporia football game Saturday afternoon. Following the game, members of Matrix, honorary journalism sorority, will serve coffee and doughnuts.

Officers of the association are Glen McHarg of the Western Newspaper Union, president; Ed Welsh of Towanda, vice-president; and George Venneberg of Clearwater, secretary.

Play Director

Prof. George D. Wilner will direct the University Players in their first dramatic production of the year, "Yes or No," to be presented November 5, 6 and 7, in the University Auditorium.

Pictures to Be Made Downtown

Class Photographer Of Parnassus to Be Announced

Parnassus class pictures cannot be made at the University this year, contrary to previous announcement, according to Leo W. Allman, head of the University journalism department.

Because of labor shortage, photographers will be unable to leave their business establishments downtown this year to make class pictures on the campus as they did last year.

A new W.P.B. order just released will also affect student pictures. This order limits the photographers' film supply to 75 per cent of last year's supply. This rationing is made on a monthly basis.

This film and labor shortage may result in a slight cost increase in individual student photographs, Mr. Allman suggested.

There is also a possibility that more than one studio might take the class pictures, if any individual photographer does not have enough film to make all the University pictures.

Announcement of the photographers' contracts will be made as soon as all bids have been received and decided upon, he said.

Forum Board To Meet Tonight

All members of the Student Forum Advisory Board will meet in the French Room in the Administration Building, Thursday evening, November 5, at 7:45, according to Bob Hill, executive secretary of the Forum.

"The meeting is important and all members should make an effort to attend it," Mr. Hill said. "We want to complete the business in as short a time as possible so everyone should be present at 7:45."

Parnassus Picture Contest Is To End Tuesday, December 1

PARNASSUS picture contest will begin this week and will end on Tuesday, December 1, according to Frances Blume, Parnassus editor.

Each organization will elect a member to represent it in the contest and the winners will be honored by receiving recognition in the Parnassus as "Picture Prince and Picture Princess."

Rules for the contest are as follows:

1. Each candidate must turn in 25 photographs on the above date.
 2. Each picture must be a minimum of 3 1/4" x 4 1/4" in size. They may be larger if desired.
 3. Each picture must be a glossy print.
 4. No picture may have any identification mark on it other than the number designated by the Parnassus editor, which is to be written in a soft lead pencil on the back of the photograph.
- Each of the candidates will meet

University Play Is to Be Given Nov. 5, 6 and 7

Critics Say 'Yes or No' Is Entertaining As A Play

What critics say is one of the most amusing and entertaining plays to be seen here in recent years will be presented in the University Auditorium this week with the staging of "Yes or No," under the direction of Professor George D. Wilner.

The play will be given three times—on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings at 8 p. m. Admission will be approximately 45 cents for those not having student activity tickets. These will admit students free.

The cast consists of seven persons, three men and four girls. They are Virginia Popkins, La Wanda Foulston, Marilyn Wheeler, Meredith Fraker, Russ Moss and Jim Cash. With one exception the cast is still the same. Bill Massey, a guest player, will be unable to attend because of conflicting schedules.

"I am very sorry to lose him," said Mr. Wilner. "He was a good influence on the cast and they all liked him. His interpretation of the English reverend would have been excellent. Because he is English he could have done the part exceptionally well," Mr. Wilner concluded.

The characters in the play are both quaint and colorful. The sober, disagreeable Mrs. Webb, who is the housekeeper for the Jarow family, adds many highlights to the play. The Reverend Jarow with his forgetfulness brings many laughs when he forgets where he is going or why he is going. Both daughters are of marriageable age and no one knows this more than their mother who is quite anxious to see them married. They, however, are more interested in music and dramatics than prospective suitors. Therefore the eldest daughter refuses her suitor when he asks her to marry him and go to Persia with him.

Complications arise when the rejected suitor turns to the younger daughter for consolation, and gets it. They fall in love and then the eldest daughter changes her mind and decides to accept him. How he gets out of this entanglement presents many amusing moments.

Staples to Speak To Art Division

Professor Clayton H. Staples will speak on the subject of "The Use of Pictures in the Classroom" to the art division of Kansas State Teachers Association being held in Wichita and five other cities November 5, 6 and 7.

Miss Alma Eikermann, instructor in art at the University, is president of the Kansas State Teachers Art Association.

Students Must Exchange Tickets

Students who plan to attend the Seversky lecture November 24 in the Forum must present their activity tickets in the registrar's office by noon, Monday, November 9 and receive a separate ticket for the lecture, according to Bob Hill, executive secretary of the Student Forum Board. No University student will be admitted to the Forum without this ticket.

Since Major Seversky is an important speaker, an overflow crowd is expected. However, University students will have first chance to be seated since the lecture is primarily for them.

By receiving separate tickets for the lecture, Forum officials will know how many seats to reserve for students and only these will be admitted.

Women Between Ages of 18-65 May Be Drafted to Aid in War

THERE are 42,000,000 women in the United States between the ages of 18 and 65 who are eligible for drafting into the wartime industry, according to Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the war manpower commission of the United States.

The possibility of women being drafted depends directly on whether sufficient women can replace the men now in war industries who will be called into military service in the next year, Mr. McNutt said.

An additional 13,000,000 workers must be employed in war industry by the end of 1943 to meet the necessary production figures.

There must also be 7,000,000 men, he said, inducted into military service before the end of 1943.

To fill the vacancies left in the production industries, approximately one out of every six women must go into defense industries in 1943.

At the University there are approximately 339 girls enrolled who are 18 years of age or older. If it becomes necessary Mr. McNutt says college educations will be interrupted to fill the vacancies in war industry.

War-time courses which will be offered the second semester of this year are Fundamentals of Radio, Wartime Photography, International Code, Air Traffic Control, Home Nursing and Canteen Service. The University administration has made these courses possible to aid the war effort.

Requirements to Be An Army-Navy Nurse Are Difficult to Pass

Approximately 17,000 women are now in the Army-Navy Nursing Corps, according to a statistical bulletin from the American Council on Education, released by Miss Grace Wilkie, University dean of women.

There is a need for 3,000 new enlistments a month, the bulletin stated. The requirements of the Army-Navy nurse are that she must be single and under 40 years of age. Of the 200,000 active graduate nurses registered in the United States not more than half can pass these requirements.

This bulletin anticipates that at least 50 per cent of those who meet the marital and age requirements will be disqualified because of physical defects and other factors. Veterans Administration alone reports 1,400 vacancies and will need an additional 2,000 nurses in 1943.

Three thousand nursing positions remain unfilled in the public health field alone.

In 1941, United States Health Service showed 17,700 vacancies in nursing positions in hospitals.

College students with two or more years of college preparation are recommended by the American Council on Education to complete the clinical program in 24 to 28 months, or to enroll in an accredited nursing school.

Nursing, the bulletin advises, is a beneficial profession in relation to present war service and in improving the health problem of our nation in general.

Aesculapius Group Will Have Meeting

Aesculapius, honorary University science society, will hold a meeting November 12, in the University Science Building, Room 102 at 7:30 p. m.

Dr. Lloyd McKinley, head of the University chemistry department, will speak on synthetic rubber.

Aesculapius meetings will be held every other Thursday, according to Furman Nyberg, president of the organization. Members of the organization must be majors or minors in chemistry, botany, physics, physiology, zoology or logopedics department. At each meeting one of the departments represented provides the program.

Pledges are Edward S. Robbins, Sue Worden, Bethenis Jones, Barbara Watson, Glorene Titus, Emily Cross, Victor Lebow, George Steeples, Maryann Plumb, Mildred Pottorf, Jack Randle, Martain Hajex, Connie Lavin, Thelma Wood, Gladys Dart, John Miller, Dewain Braungardt, Eugene Moss, Pauline Zenor, Billie Duncan, Lyda Maxwell, Virginia Bray, Mary Catherine Quint, Eva Barbara Gill and Melvin Waldorf.

Scrapping an 118-year-old tradition, Rensselaer Poly of Troy, N. Y., will admit women next January for training to replace men in war jobs.

HAVE you peeples repucrated from your walkout last Mond.? ... Yes or No? ... Did you Twerps go to the show,—study,—sleep, or did you? ... Yes or No? ... After hour vacation, maybe we'd butter start churning to burn the midnight oil,—or is it rationed, yet? ... Yes or No? ... When we aren't studying at home, let's be contemplaters up in the Commons. Have you got your coffee card, yet? ... Cards ain't we? ... Yes or No? ... Also, let's be rational. Have you thought about a way to come to school without wearing out your rubber (heels)? ... Yes or No? ... If not, you'd better start early and save fool. ... Since there's to be no more cooking with gas, we're burning questions. ... Yes or No? Let's stop this play and see a real one, "Yes or No."

CHRYSANTHEMUMS to Sorosis and Pi Alph for winning the $10 first prize in the Homecoming contest. Not only were their ideas good, but also the caricatures were cute for each. And congrats to Alpha Tau and Webster on second.

While we're on the issue of Homecoming, we'd like to comment favorably (we can do it sometimes) on the way this year's student body responds to the pep rally, the snake dance, and—finally the game. ... All in all, it is queen.

THISA and thata which we see roundabouta—Sweater mates Georgianne Paston and Harry Rice ... Phi Sig Senior Bob Sutton and Alpha Tau Dorothy Voight ... Commons minded Don McKay and Betty Darbyshire ... Sunday nite dates Max Kocour and Boydine Quiring ... C. W. Cookie and Virginia Rowley ... Library dates Margaret Noble and Leonard Dixon ... Alpha Toot Pauline Zenor and Bill Larson ... Varsity nighters Dolly Wallace and George Davidson ... Seemly steadies Mickey McCoy and Foster Minard ... D. O. pledge Helene Howell and Richard Kenny—both boogie-woogie pianists.

SORRY news to us is that about Jack Greene leaving for Leavenworth next Monday. He's not going to school this week, but just gettin' ready to go ... By the way who's going to be the Varsity chairman? ... Also we'd like to know who it was (as if we didn't know) that Dave Evans was with on his last (Sunday) night. He's left for the marines ... We'd like to comment on the case of Bill Burke and Mildred Fair ... It's sizzling, we're told.

SOMEONE ought to console Hiram Walker about the mix-up of the Alpha Gam decorations for Homecoming ... In case you're wondering, Hiram, who was in charge, worked on the plans for three days, and made the decorations and then turned them over to a committee to carry out ... They forgot or somepin' ... Anyway the committee is in the dog house, now.

BY THE way, we know some sorority pledge groups that are really being punished for what they did to some active members on their walkouts ... Talking about walkouts, reminds us of an incident at the Uptown, Monday ... Seems that Margaret Noble bought two candy bars—one for herself, and the other for her friend. He, in the meantime, brought her two more which he had meant for her. Do you want some candy, Margaret? ... What I.S.A. girl has a certain someone smitten about her, and all she does is ignore him ... (We know the answer to this one, too).

PI-CAP pledge Jeanne Davenport was so worried about her man leaving for army services the other day, that she forgot to return to her job at the library ... Delores Larson has been receiving airmail letters from Fred Beaty out at San Diego. He's in the marines. ... Joan Cooke had her man, Paul Mason here who's from out California way.

Raincoats Worn Whether Raining or Not

Natural gabardine raincoats, flats, anklets and fatigue hats may be seen on any collegiate campus thoroughfare. Typical of W. U. is this foursome snapped while walking across the campus. Weather does not influence their choice, particularly.

Calendar

Thursday, November 5—University Play; Concert Band Practice, 5:7:30.

Friday, November 6—University Play; Alpha Tau Sigma Party.

Saturday, November 7—Football Game, Here, Emporia; University Play; Pi Kap Date Night.

Tuesday, November 10—Symphony Orchestra in the Auditorium.

Wednesday, November 11—Co-ed Band Practice, 5:7 p. m. Thursday, November 12—Concert Band Practice, 5:7:30 p. m.

Wish a certain Phi Sig would settle down and continue going steady with his lovely standby ... Also surprised to know of a freshman couple that have broken up. They've gone steady for several years ... He's a Webster, but we won't tell you what affiliation she is.

WE LIKED to tease Max Kocour about his rather new founded club of high school girls ... Yes, it's his practice teaching class of girls that come out and cheer for him at all the football games ... Also we like the stag that Whock had Friday night—seems that the Pi Alph painted the basement floors and they weren't dry in time for them ... For your info, Mary Lou Southworth has a marine pin which she is wearing from Jerry Waite ... Mary Lou says it's only a friendship pin. H—mmml

A SPECIAL question we'd like to throw out to you kiddoes is this one ... What D.O. is to get a ring for Christmas—and she's not telling (but we know).

IN CLOSING, we'd like to tell you about the little moron who had his teeth pulled, so he could chew his gum.

MALONE(Y)'S BALONEY.

Continuity Writer Speaks to Writan

Writan, creative writing club for studying creative writing and problems of creative writers, will meet Sunday evening, November 15, at 7 p. m., in the home of Betty Givens, 1705 Fairmount.

"Writing for Radio" is the subject of a short talk which is to be given by Miss Kathleen Hite, continuity director at KANS. A general discussion will follow.

Freshmen and anyone interested in creative writing are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

At the first meeting, November 1, Bob Hill was elected president; Joan O'Bryant, vice-president; Betty Givens, secretary, and Dick Gavitt, treasurer.

The Audio-Visual Aids Center of the University of Connecticut has been designated as the war information film depository for the state.

Recent Marriages Are Announced By Students of W. U.

Three Former Students Have Announced Engagements

Mrs. F. J. Hamilton announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Miss Roberta Mae (Bobbie) Hamilton to Mr. Stephen Ronald Slade, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Slade, Sr. The wedding will be an event of Saturday, November 14, at 5 p. m. in the chapel of the First Presbyterian Church.

Miss Hamilton was graduated from Wichita High School North and attended the University of Wichita where she was a member of Alpha Tau Sigma sorority. She is a member of Beta Sigma Phi sorority and is now employed at the Cessna Aircraft Company.

Mr. Slade was graduated from Wichita High School North and is now associated with the Beech Aircraft Corporation.

Miss LaVetta Bolan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Bolan, became the bride of Lieut. Jack W. Coleman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Coleman, Wednesday evening, October 28.

Miss Mary Armour attended the bride as maid of honor and Miss Betty Ruth Charles was bridesmaid. Jack Walker served the bridegroom as best man, and ushers were Hal Brammer, Don Shirley, Ralph Sheridan and George Purnell.

Mrs. Coleman was graduated from the University of Wichita where she was a member of Sorosis sorority.

Lieutenant Coleman was also graduated from the University of Wichita where he was a member of Alpha Gamma Gamma fraternity.

The couple will reside at Ft. McClellan, Ala., until December 1, and then at Ft. Washington, Md., where Lieutenant Coleman will attend the Adjutant General School.

Mrs. David Irvin Hall announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Iona Mae Hall, to Mr. Glenn Hardin Markille, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther James Markille. The ceremony was solemnized on October 10, at 8 o'clock in the First Presbyterian Church of San Diego, Cal.

Mrs. Markille was graduated from Wichita High School East and the University of Wichita where she was a member of Delta Omega sorority and was Kodak Queen in her freshman year.

Mr. Markille was graduated from Wichita High School North and business preparatory school. Before joining the coast artillery he was associated with the Santa Fe Trailway System.

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Carson of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Virginia Lee Carson, to Lieut. James L. Garver, Quartermaster

Y. W. C. A. to Have State Conference

Herbert King, an active leader in youth social work, will be the main speaker at the Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. regional conference which is to be held at Emporia State Teachers College, Emporia, Kan., November 6, 7 and 8.

Training for youth leaders and officers and a general program to arouse the thinking of youth are the aims of the meeting.

Anyone interested in attending the conference should contact Betty Hannah, president of Y. W. or Jerry Preston, president of Y. M. Registration fees are $3. The Y.W.C.A. will pay part of the expenses of any girl who wants to go, although transportation costs are not included.

Corps, United States Army, son of Mrs. J. L. Garver. The ceremony was solemnized Thursday afternoon, October 29, at 5:30 o'clock in the Grace Covenant Presbyterian Church in Richmond, Va.

Miss Catherin Brooks of Sweet Briar College attended her cousin as maid of honor, and Lieut. Robinson B. Minnick served the bridegroom as best man.

Mrs. Garver attended Sweet Briar College and has just completed her nurse's training at Children's Hospital in Boston.

Lieutenant Garver was graduated from the University of Wichita and is now stationed in Richmond, where he is assistant adjutant at the Quartermaster depot. After a short wedding trip the couple will make their home at 3505 Chamberlayne Avenue, Richmond, Va.

Miss Alma Louise Gray became the bride of Lieut. Edmond Jacoby, U. S. Navy, Monday, October 26, at Philadelphia. Mrs. Jacoby is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Gray.

Miss Ruth Ann Huff of Columbus, Ohio, attended the bride as maid of honor, and Paul Bedford served the bridegroom as best man.

Mrs. Jacoby is a graduate of East High School and of the University of Wichita and has been an actress in amateur theatrical circles here.

Lieutenant Jacoby returned earlier this month from almost two years on duty with the fleet in the Pacific. He was at Pearl Harbor during the bombardment and participated in the actions which led up to the battle of Midway and in other war engagements.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Lawson announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss June Lucille Lawson, to Sgt. Robert A. Powell, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Powell. The wedding date will be announced later.

Miss Lawson was graduated from Wichita High School East and attended the University of Wichita. She is now associated with Beech Aircraft Corporation.

Sergeant Powell was also graduated from Wichita High School East and was graduated from the University of Kansas. He will soon attend officers candidate school in North Carolina.

Miss Maxine McElheny, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. McElheny, became the bride of Lieut. A. Arthur Prophet, son of Mrs. Edith Prophet.

The bride was attended by Miss LaVetta Bolan, who was maid of honor, and Miss Carolyn Morris, bridesmaid. Mr. Richard Prophet served his brother as best man, and ushers were Mr. Jack Cady, Mr. Bob Allen, Mr. Harry Deck, and Mr. Harold Brammer.

Mrs. Prophet was graduated from the Wichita High School East and the University of Wichita where she was a member of Sorosis sorority.

Lieutenant Prophet also was graduated from High School East and the University of Wichita where he was a member of Phi Upsilon Sigma. The couple will make their home at Camp Hosze, Texas, where Lieutenant Prophet is now stationed.

Members of the Delta Omega Mothers Club will entertain their daughters at a luncheon Wednesday, November 11, from 12 to 1 p. m. in the sorority house, according to Mrs. Ray H. Johnson, chairman of the affair. Price for the luncheon will be 25 cents. Assisting Mrs. Johnson on the luncheon are Mrs. Frank J. Ablah, Mrs. Dean C. Jones and Mrs. H. E. Mayfield.

Because of lack of interest among the girls, the intramural hockey games for women have been dropped from the sports schedule, according to Ann McLean, women's intramural manager. For the game with Friends University, a team will be recruited from girls interested in the sport.

Pi Kappa Psi Was Established In 1922 as a Literary Society

PI KAPPA PSI was organized in the fall of 1922 as a literary society on the Fairmount campus. Closed membership was suggested, but five members of Sorosis, three members of Alpha Tau Sigma, and two members of Delta Omega volunteered to leave their respective groups so the sorority might be founded.

On Thursday, September 19, 1922, 10 girls resigned from their respective organizations to form the nucleus of their new society. To these were added 10 pledges selected from the freshman class. These 20 formed the personnel of the sorority.

Miss Shirley Smith was chosen the first president of Pi Kappa Psi. She was at that time Sorosis president and laid down her gavel to become the first volunteer. The regular ritual and the initiation ritual which Pi Kap sorority is using today was written by Miss Marcella Lyman, Alpha Tau volunteer. Mrs. Laura M. Cross, assistant registrar, is one of the charter members of the organization.

Since the sorority was organized, Dr. Hazel E. Branch, head of the zoology department, has been Pi Kappa Psi sorority sponsor.

The Pi Kap pin is oval with the Greek symbols inside the pin, signifying the bond of friendship. Above the band are 10 pearls, which stand for the original members and the 10 pearls below signify the freshman pledges. The name of the sorority was formed by the three Greek letters, Pi, Kappa and Psi. The sorority just recently moved to their new home at 3616 Clough Place which was the dream and hard work of former girls of Pi Kappa Psi.

Members of Matrix, honorary journalism sorority, will serve coffee and doughnuts to the members of the Fifth District of the Kansas Editorial Association, following the game Saturday, November 5, in the Journalism Office.

leen Weigand, Marian Peck, Joanne Lamb, Caroline Swonger, Margaret Murray, Dorothy Ledbetter, Betty Richey, Jeneva Brewer, Pauline Bushkouski, Wanna Tullis, Doris Johnson, Marilee Jewell, Margaret Buss, Norma Roberts, Shirley Sleeper, Peggy Miller, Terry Erich and Betty Hannah.

Websters to Have Founders Day Stag

All members of Men of Webster fraternity both past and present are invited to attend "Founders Day Stag," Saturday evening, November 7, from 9 to 12 at the fraternity house.

John Megaffin, house manager, and Jack Howse, president, are making the arrangements. They are being assisted by the members of the social committee.

The evening's plans call for a general get together followed by a dutch lunch. Due to the war the annual dinner has been eliminated.

It is the purpose of the stag to better acquaint past members with the present active chapter and to revivie the history and traditions of Webster in past years.

British Girls Take Over Radio Broadcasts and Control Rooms

RADIO'S "for-men-only" jobs of a short time ago, are now being tackled by women in rapidly-increasing numbers. Radio in Britain has seen women take over its control rooms, operate its recording equipment, and even handle overseas programs. Women technical assistants—500 of them—are doing men's jobs in the British Broadcasting Corporation.

Housewives, secretaries, actresses, journalists or shop assistants before the war—now these women may be found balancing orchestral concerts, dramatic productions and other such programs, or handling the fades and breaks of four or five microphones and cueing the artists in the studios, or maybe recording foreign-originated broadcasts on steel tape, disc or film records for rebroadcast.

Contacting British parents with their children evacuated overseas or with Britishers serving abroad, or conducting programs describing Britain to listeners in the United States, women of the BBC also produce programs for foreign listeners. Day and night, these programs are directed to different sections of the globe, maintaining closer contact between the fighting forces and their homes.

Art teachers of the state of Kansas will be honored at a tea given by the art department of the University, November 6, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Staples from 4 to 6 p. m.

Freshmen girls from the art department will assist at the affair, which is for all art teachers who are here attending the meetings of the State Teachers' Association. Mrs. W. M. Jardine will pour the tea.

Wheaties, University women's pep organization, will hold its next meeting Tuesday, November 17, according to Betty Richie, president of the organization. The meeting will discuss the forming of a constitution, Miss Richie said.

Matrix Will Hold Pledging Services

Members of Matrix, honorary journalism society, will hold a pledging service for their new pledges Thursday, November 10 at 8 p. m. at the home of Pat Malone. A novel program has been planned and refreshments will be served.

The new pledges are as follows:

- | | |
|-----------------|-------------------|
| Earline Duke | Mary Elizabeth |
| Barbara Slusser | Rienlets |
| Jean Finney | Virginia Braltsch |
| Terry Erick | Margaret Burress |
| Marie Martin | Marjorie Johnson |

The intramural bowling tournament for girls begins next week, according to Ann McLean, women's intramural manager. All girls interested should sign up in the women's gym. Each girl will be paired with a girl from another organization.

Katherine Hogue Heads Coed Band

Katherine Hogue, fine arts sophomore, was elected president of the coed band at the first official meeting of the group Monday afternoon, October 26, in the band room.

Other officers elected were Virginia Campbell, vice-president, and Peggy Miller, librarian. Activities for the year were discussed by the 26 coeds and Maj. Walter Duerksen, conductor of the organization.

"Among our activities this year are plans to play at several of the basketball games," Major Duerksen said. "We have a good instrumentation, lacking only one more trombonist, and hope to make as many public appearances as possible."

Members of the group are: Virginia Base, Betty Klaver, Virginia Popkins, Lela Mae Brown, Kathryn Hogue, Glorine Titus, Virginia Campbell, Glenna McPeck, Kath-

Shocker Shots By Olberding

He's a little moth-eaten, but we're sure proud of him.

Typed on a Wednesday

By DICK GAVITT

"Ah, distinctly I remember..."

WHERE, oh where is our fraternity? Is there a Don Key man in the house? What has happened to our honor group? We beg, entreat, pray, plead, wheedle, cry, request, ask—even on our knees in supplication we want to know what has happened to Don Key?

Dick Gavitt

Where is the great humanitarian group which so conveniently solved our parking problem in 1941-42? What has happened to that gleaming beacon of non-partisan brotherhood in a world of politics? It still exists, you say? I answer—Ha! Even as this is written, the outcasts of Don Key huddle shiveringly over a spent fire, their cross-bows broken and discarded as they mutter a final "rosebud" before passing silently away. The brazen men of honor are strangely silent.

THEIR projects doomed to inescapable failure, their principles once so noble soon rejected for more convenient practices, they have fallen: the victims of a just and beautiful satire. Blue Knee has won.

There will be protests. Oh, indeed yes. There will be those who will maintain that Don Key is still alive. They will say "Just wait. The men of integrity will rise and their work will go on." But these cries must be as ineffectual as the group itself. A defeat must by definition be a defeat, and few are in as practical a position to recognize this as the boys of Don Key.

This leaves little to be said, save one thing: any time Don Key feels the necessity of resuming a protrusion of the neck, Blue Knee stands ready to whack it off again.

So You Didn't Want a Walkout?

WELL, neither did I. Granted that a homecoming victory over Kansas State is nothing to be sneezed at, by the time Monday came I had cooled down considerably. I was ready to go back to work.

Some of us weren't. We staged our walkout, such as it was, and the formality of class was observed. That much is history, and of such type as is best forgotten.

But with you, the deans, lies one responsibility. Walkouts are a nuisance, but they are preventable. Discouragement from the authorities, exercised at the proper time, can render a demonstration such as Monday's completely ineffective. The proper time is not after the walkout has been staged.

I BELIEVE a reasonable appeal, not overdone with emotion or sentimentality, issued when the first yell for "no school Monday" went up would have stopped our little demonstration cold. Walkouts may be staged by a majority, but they are engineered by a minority which merely increases in size the longer it is allowed to operate without opposition. Saturday it could have been stopped. Monday was too late.

The principle of walkouts is childish and stupid, especially today, and I have no desire to advocate it nor to make excuses for the ones who do. Nevertheless, we must necessarily face the reality of the situation: that principle and its advocates still exist, and both can be stopped. Wake up!

University Bulletins

Women's Rifle Club will hold its first meeting of the year, Friday noon in the Women's Gym. There will be an election of officers and the collection of dues, which are 50 cents a year. All University women interested are invited to come and are hereby notified that practices will be held throughout the year every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon from 4 until 6 o'clock.—Anna Louise Rowan.

There will be a meeting of the Math Club in Room 436 Administration today at 4:00. There will be election of officers. Mr. Wedel and Mr. Sears will speak on the construction of the slide rule. Everyone is invited.—Mr. Greer, sponsor.

Any girl who is interested in Girl Scout work as a profession should see Miss Taggart or Miss Wilkie this week. They will secure interviews with Miss Adams, the National Representative for those girls who desire them. Scout work is a vital part of our war program and many campus girls should be interested in it.—Miss Grace Wilkie, Dean of Women.

All Blue Key members will meet in the Commons on Friday noon, November 6, for the first meeting of the year.—Dick Gavitt, one of the presidents.

ARMY officers graduated from Texas A. & M. College in the future not only will be well grounded in established military tactics but plans are now under way to train them in Commando practices.—Collegiate Digest.

Alumni Service Flag Presented

BETWEEN halves of the Kansas State-University of Wichita football game, Saturday afternoon, the Alumni Association Service Flag was presented to the public for the first time. The flag was displayed at the annual reunion banquet in June but this was the initial public showing.

Brought on to the field by four senior officers of the R.O.T.C. the flag was displayed for several minutes.

Dr. John W. Willis, president of the alumni association, made the official presentation from the public address booth.

It is particularly significant that on this Homecoming Day we pay tribute to the nearly 500 alumni and recent former students who are serving their country on the many war fronts," he said. "Most of the men represented by the stars on our service flag would be here today—but they have a more important job to do elsewhere. To those who are not with us on this happy occasion, let us wish them well and pray for their early and safe return."

Immediately following Willis' message, the R.O.T.C. band, under the direction of Maj. Walter Dierksen, played "God Bless America."

The Service Flag will be displayed permanently in a prominent place on the campus, either in the Administration Building or the Commons Building, alumni officials inform.

Joining the active list of alumni association members during the past week were these grads and former Shocker students who paid their 1942-43 membership dues:

Mr. and Mrs. Byron W. Beebe, Laura Cross, Annetta C. Davis, Mrs. J. Omer Dressen, O. C. Glenn, Mrs. William Hardie, Mr. and Mrs. Bliss Isely, H. Mercer Johnson, Don Kimel, R. J. Kirk, Fred Nixon, Ralph Stuart, Lester Wilkinson, and Annalaura Williamson.

Several hundred alumni and friends of both Kansas State College and the University of Wichita were guests at the annual Homecoming Coffee held in the Commons Building immediately following Saturday's football game.

Presiding at the table were Mrs. John W. Willis, wife of the local alumni association president, and Mrs. Ralph M. Graham, wife of our athletic director. Mrs. Graham is an alumna of Kansas State College.

The coffee was in direct charge of the faculty alumni committee with Geraldine Hammond and Laura Cross serving as co-chairman. Assisting them were: Miss Helen Lohr, Mrs. Carol Holman, Mrs. Donald Small, Dean Grace Wilkie, Dr. Hazel Branch, Miss Gladys Sissel, Miss Jacquetta Downing, Miss Clara Nicholas, Dr. R. G. Mood, Dr. Gordon Hanson, and Maj. Walter Duerksen.

Carol Shuler, '41, is now in Washington, D. C., working in the personnel office of the Air Transport Command. She took over her new duties early in September. Miss Shuler formerly was with the regional office, Farm Security Administration in Lincoln, Neb., where she worked with the personnel unit. She is making her home with her sister, Mrs. Charles W. Addington, '39, 115 Glebe Road, Alexandria, Va.

Jeanne Burgess Gimple, '42, is working for the Kansas Gas and Electric Company. She is living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Burgess, 1127 Perry. Her husband is now stationed at Chico Air Base, Chico, Cal.

H. Mercer Johnson, '37, is associated with the natural gas department of the Sun Oil Company in Dallas, Tex. His office is located in the First National Bank Building of that city.

Mrs. J. Omer Dressen (Mary Lorraine Shoemaker '39) is acting as receptionist and stenographer for the Shoemaker-Novinger clinic which was recently opened by her mother, Mrs. George O. Shoemaker, in memory of her father. Mrs. Dressen was a member of Epsilon Kappa Rho while a student here and majored in business administration.

Lieut. and Mrs. L. E. Stetler are the parents of a daughter, Sandra Jean, born November 2 in St. Francis Hospital. Mrs. Stetler is the former Effie Wilson. Lieutenant Stetler, formerly with the Santa Fe Railroad Company at Wellington is now stationed at Camp Pickett, Va. He was a leading chemistry student and was graduated here in 1939.

Mr. and Mrs. John Barrier, 623 South Broadview, have announced the birth of their son, David Carl, November 1, at St. Francis Hospital. Mrs. Barrier is the former Mary Ellen Brosius, an alumna of Sorosis sorority. She was graduated here in 1940.

Lieut. and Mrs. John G. Elwell are the parents of a son, John Mitchell, born October 28 at Wesley Hospital. Lieutenant Elwell is attending the officers' candidate school at Duke University, Durham, N. C. Mrs. Elwell, the former June Hamilton, has been associated with the Institute of Logopedics.

Lillie Mae Clawson, who was graduated from the University in 1940, is now employed in the statistical department at Boeing Aircraft Corporation. Miss Clawson was librarian at the Institute of Logopedics at the University last year and part of this year. She will continue as an editor on the staff of the Spastic Review, national magazine for spastics.

Bill Snider, '41, is now employed in the accounting department at the Boeing Aircraft Corporation. Snider was president of Whock, boys' pep club, during his senior year at the University. He was also a member of Alpha Gamma Gamma fraternity, Y. M. C. A., and the Student Forum Advisory Board.

Don't Wait—Buy a Stamp Now

IF AMERICAN armies decided to put off fighting for a week; if our naval forces determined to halt the hunt for enemy submarines until next month—how long would America remain free? This is a war of time; every minute counts.

While we can't think of one person who hasn't said—"I'm going to start buying war stamps without fail"—we can think of several people who have just forgotten to buy a stamp.

It is vitally important for students to invest their dimes and quarters in the United States as wholeheartedly and as regularly as their parents invest their pay-day dollars.

Who Said "Praise the Lord..."?

WHILE the country sings it ever more lustily, credit for the inspiration for Frank Loesser's new war song, "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition," flits about unhappily.

First we were told that the song was inspired by the historic remark of a Navy chaplain as he manned an anti-aircraft gun at Pearl Harbor. Almost overnight it became so popular that the Office of War Information, fearing that the public would tire of it prematurely, asked broadcasters to limit its performance to once every four hours instead of once every two.

Then began the hunt for the man whose wit it was. Chaplain William A. Maguire got the nod. But last week that Catholic dignitary, in a joint interview with his bishop, declined the credit and discounted the story. For a chaplain to man a gun against the enemy was as serious an offense "as arming a hospital ship," he said. Furthermore, it was a violation of international law and of the Geneva Conference.

Then into the breach stepped Chaplain Howell Forgy, a strapping 34-year-old Presbyterian and ex-football player from New Jersey.

"The boys were dog-tired," he explained. "All I did was slap them on the back and say smilingly, 'Praise the Lord and pass the ammunition, boys!'"

Whoever started this thing—and we don't think the charges against him will be too severe—started, all unconsciously it seems, what is almost certain to be one of the most popular war songs of millions of fighting Americans.

Criticism Essential to Liberty

FULL co-operation on the part of all is essential to winning the war. Nothing should stand in the way of complete co-operation by Americans of all political creeds toward this great and immediate objective.

But once our people have agreed on this objective, there is no reason why their beliefs on matters not directly related to the war should be straight-laced and fully uniform.

Nothing is so dangerous to freedom as complete uniformity of belief. Though bombs fall and cities are invaded, the critical spirit must be preserved. Otherwise America would not be a democracy any more.

It is natural for youth to be critical, as natural as for age to be conservative—perhaps more so. And when American youth comes to accept society as it is, or with only minor reservations, then it will really be time to worry about the future of the country.

Even extreme or radical views here and there are not to be put down ruthlessly; for it is out of criticism that progress is born.

Wilner Presents Series of Plays

"This Town" Presented As Part of War Chest Drive

As a part of the 1942 Wichita Community-War Chest campaign, George D. Wilner presented his play, "This Town," at the meeting of the Twentieth Century Club, Tuesday, November 3. This performance was the first of a series of six to be presented before various civic organizations between now and November 9 which marks the beginning of the local campaign.

The play, based on Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer Prize winning play, "Our Town," has been adapted to Wichita and shortened to fifteen minutes. The cast composed of University students includes ten characters. Mr. Wilner will also present the play at meetings of the Lions Club, the Business and Professional Women's Club, Metro Club and Kiwanis Club.

The film, a color and sound production, is ten minutes in length and was filmed by L. H. Caldwell, principal of Gardiner School. Among the cast members are Miss Alma Louise Gray, Lieut. Thurlow Lieurance, and Mrs. Bettina Coover all graduates of the University and former dramatic students of Mr. Wilner. Also shown in the film are scenes from Wichita war production plants and a battle scene enacted by members of the Kansas State Guard.

Other University faculty members who are taking an active part in the Community-War Chest campaign are Dean Earl K. Hillbrand who is in charge of the solicitation of students at the University; Dr. Hugo Wall who is chairman of the University division of the school of education committee of the Chest; and Dr. Lambertus K. Hekhuis who is a member of the school education committee.

Mikesell Receives Outstanding Honor

Dr. W. H. Mikesell, former head of the University psychology department, has been made a full member of the American Psychological Association—an honor accorded for outstanding experimental work or executive functions.

This news came to Wichita last week from Denver where Dr. Mikesell is stationed with the induction center of the United States Army. His work there, in conjunction with medical and military officers, includes the testing and passing of from 150 to 200 men a day.

Dr. Mikesell discontinued his University connection and entered the army last month. He is commissioned as a second lieutenant.

Cocker Spaniel Is Dance Mascot For Downtown Division

Like the University campus, the Downtown Division of the University also has a mascot. Mickie, the Rhodes' blonde cocker spaniel, is the dance mascot for the division. He disappeared some time ago, but now has returned. He has finally decided to stay in local circles for his dancing.

One of Mickie's greatest accomplishments was the ability to nip the heels of the fastest jitter jivers going at top speed. While serving as mascot last summer for ballroom dancing he proved very useful by removing the chewing gum from under the desks, chairs and other furnishings about the building.

Mickie would tug for a while until he had a presentable "cud" then he would lay down near the table and enjoy a good second hand chew, much to the amusement of the class.

One reason Mickie left, according to the explanation of Mrs. Rhodes, may have been due to the crowded conditions in Wichita, for he was found in Andover a week from the time of his disappearance.

Now Mickie is back and the family is happily reunited. As a coming home present, Mickie was presented with a brand-new studded harness. The students hope Mickie finds the old homestead agreeable and the dancing classes not too strenuous.

Mickie is the dog belonging to Aline Wealand Rhodes, instructor in dance and expression. The Rhodes home is at 621 North Terrace Drive.

Plans Are Made For Chest Drive

Plans for an intensive Community-War Chest drive are being formulated this week, according to Dr. E. K. Hillbrand, who is directing the drive.

Last year, the faculty and employees of the University contributed more than a thousand dollars to the Chest. If each student would give only a dime, the total for the student body would exceed a hundred dollars.

The chest this year will fulfill another purpose—that of helping people in war-stricken countries with food, fuel and clothing. Therefore, it is hoped that each student will contribute more, so as to help reach our quota.

"Now, more than ever, each one should feel a double responsibility—one, to those who need help in his local community and another to those whose land has been ravaged by war," said Dr. Hillbrand.

Irwin to Discuss Photography Here

Some of the mysteries of infrared and ultra-violet photography will be discussed before members of the wartime photography class here Thursday night by Bill Irwin of the General Electric Supply Corporation.

Mr. Irwin is the first of several speakers and specialists to be invited to appear before the class which is taught by Prof. Leo W. Allman, head of the University journalism department.

Pledges Eat Pudding

Three unhappy fraternity pledges, above, are making a noble effort to remove some chocolate pudding topped with meringue from the dishes before them. The object is to remove the pudding, it doesn't matter whether it goes on the outside of the face or inside the mouth.

Civilian Defense Needs Helpers College Students Can Be Home Front Fighters

In answer to the oft-repeated cry: "What can I do?" Civilian Defense Director James M. Landis has issued a call to students and faculty members to come to the aid of their country as "home-front fighters in civilian defense."

Mr. Landis, dean of Harvard Law School on leave, said the immediate responsibility of a campus civilian defense organization was to provide physical protection for students, faculty and buildings from the hazards of warfare and, beyond that, to maintain the morale of college men and women by giving them a part in the war effort.

"Undergraduates today face many new problems," he said. "They are concerned not only with winning the war but also with the nature of the post-war world and their place in it. The best release from the conflicting emotions raised by the impact of total war is provided by the satisfaction of becoming full-fledged home front fighters in civilian defense."

The first part of civilian defense recruiting is accomplished, he said, and the second part—training volunteers—is under way. Student and faculty specialists are sorely needed by state and local defense councils as consultants on technical aspects of the task of keeping the home front intact.

Some of the specialists who are in immediate demand, according to Director Landis, are these:

1. Experts in instructional methods and school organization to supervise training programs.
2. Technical experts, including engineers to advise on planning and selection of air raid shelters, designers on camouflage, engineers and physicists on the control of lights and the effects of bombs, chemists and sanitary engineers on gasses and decontamination.
3. Specialists on municipal government to advise cities on readjustments of public services.
4. Health educators, medical students and instructors to co-operate with the Red Cross in instructing students and civilians on health problems.

With SHOCKERS Fighting for Uncle Sam

Second Lieut. Wilbur T. Fuller, who was graduated from the University in 1941, was given credit last week for landing a bomb amidships on a Japanese cruiser in operations off Guadalcanal early last month. Lieutenant Fuller, a marine flying officer, was piloting a dive-bomber when his flight blasted a Japanese task force which had been under attack by other American fliers the day before. When he released the bomb, it made a bull's-eye hit on the cruiser below.

Lieutenant Fuller was quite active in University affairs having been president and secretary of his fraternity, Phi Upsilon Sigma. He was also social chairman and a member of the board of control of that organization. He was secretary of the Pan Hellenic Council, a cheer-leader for Whock during his freshman and sophomore years, a member of the French Club, the Spanish Club, Y. M. C. A., and the Varsity Committee.

Jack Armour, stationed at Camp Edwards, Massachusetts, has been promoted to first lieutenant, his mother was notified recently. Lieutenant Armour is attached to the commanding officer's staff at Camp Edwards. He was graduated from the University in 1940 and was employed by the Wichita Eagle prior to joining the army.

Dr. Carleton H. Lee, physician and surgeon, was commissioned a captain in the army medical corps this month and has reported for duty at Tobins Field and Wellston Air Depot, Georgia. The captain received his A. B. degree from the University in 1935 and later an M. D. degree from the University of Kansas. He is married to the former Mildred M. Anderson.

WAVES Begin Officers Training

Candidates Take Tests To Gain Ensign Ranking

Eight hundred and ninety WAVES have checked in at the Northampton Training Station, Smith College, to begin their training as women officers in the United States Naval Reserve.

Of these picked young women, 120 are probationary officers, who have had working experience in civilian life which qualifies them for administrative and technical jobs in the WAVES. After a brief indoctrination course, they will receive commissions. Except for this first Smith group, few probationary type officers will be accepted. The other 770, now officer candidates who meet educational requirements but have no specific training, will receive technical instruction mostly in the communications field to equip them as officers after they have completed their indoctrination course.

Applicants for officer candidacy must be United States citizens in good health, and must be between their 20th and 30th birthdays. Minimum height is five feet and minimum weight 95 pounds. They must have either a college degree or two years of college plus two years business experience, and must pass an intelligence test. They may be married provided they have no children and their husbands are not in any branch of the armed forces.

The incoming WAVE officer candidate will have one month's indoctrination training, after which she becomes a midshipman. Then she takes three months technical training, making her an ensign in the U. S. Naval Reserve. Her pay will be the same as a Navy man of equal rank, $50 a month in training and $150 a month base pay when she becomes an ensign. Extra allowances are given for uniforms and maintenance. Enlistment is for the duration of the war plus six months and as regulations now stand she may not be ordered outside the continental limits of the United States.

To obtain a preliminary application blank, a written request stating age and educational background must be submitted to the Director of Naval Officer Procurement in the city or Naval district in which the applicant lives.

Wheatshocker Squad Battles Emporia State In Stadium Saturday

Hornets Expected to Play Razzle-dazzle Football Against Graham's Team; Wichitans Will Outweigh Visitors

Playing for the first time this season with a slight weight advantage instead of the handicap to which they are accustomed, Ralph Graham's Wheatshockers will encounter the Emporia State Hornets in the University stadium at 2 p. m. Saturday in a game that promises to give the razzle-dazzle fan a fair show.

Passes, laterals, double reverses, triple reverses, and flashy end runs are among the favorite offensive weapons the Hornets are inclined to employ. Coach F. G. "Fran" Welch, of the Emporians, has had to form his squad from light, fast material and is a firm believer that the wide-open style of football is the type that his team can best use.

The Wichita team will have reason to be on its toes thruout the contest or they may be caught out of position, said Coach Graham. Deception under a master like Welch is a potent weapon. In addition, the Emporia team has scouted Wichita four times and the Shockers have only one scouting report on the Hornets.

This does not mean, however, Graham pointed out, that the locals are taking this game lightly. The Shocker coaches have been drilling the boys hard in anticipation of a natural letdown after the stirring win over Kansas State.

Graham said that the Emporia squad has always had a reputation for being a scrappy team. Whether this will be a match for the hustle and fight that the Shockers have shown is a hard question to answer.

"If we continue playing like we have in the first six games, we should be able to take them," said Graham. "However, if we let down we will get taken into camp."

Only one additional man, Stauffer, is on the injury list for the local squad this week and he is expected to be in action Saturday. He injured his ribs in the Kansas State tilt. Hyndman and Fleming are also still out with bad ankles. However, Stine may be out because of low grades and in that case, Graham has indicated that he will start Hamilton, who usually plays blocking back, in the position. Robinson would then take over that backfield assignment.

On the offensive side of the picture, Emporia has shown more power than the Wheatshockers. Against Ft. Riley, who held Wichita scoreless, the Hornets tallied 13 points. Against Ft. Hays the Emporians scored 40 points and last week they managed to tally 33 playing Hastings College of Nebraska.

On the bright side for Wichita is their much better defensive record. Ft. Riley scored 39 points against the Hornets and only 6 against Wichita. The small Hastings crew ran 20 points across the Emporia goal last week.

This will be the first time since 1940 that the teams have met in Wichita. In the 1940 game the Hornets were victorious 14-7 scoring in the last few minutes. A year later, Wichita gained its lone victory of the year over the Emporians 27-13 at Emporia.

Three standout stars of the Hornets will be seen in action this week here. Bernard Taylor, 152-pound halfback, has consistently made long runs. His most spectacular was a 73 yard punt return against Washburn.

Fischer, 170-pound end from LeRoy, is an outstanding player on defense. He is a senior as is Taylor, and, with Taylor, is co-captain of the Hornet squad.

Knox, 175-pound junior fullback, is a real threat according to advance scouting dope. He can hit hard for his weight and is proficient in other departments.

All advance indications seem to point to a high-scoring battle when the rivals take the field in Shocker Stadium Saturday.

Score Winning Tally In Second Period Of Battle

Staging a second period drive to score their counter, a hard-fighting and driving Alpha Gamma Gamma eleven upset the favored Davis-Westholt Aircrafters last Sunday afternoon by the score of 7 to 0.

Showing unexpected defensive power and a bruising attack both on the ground and by the aerial route, the Gammass scored on a deceptive play that found the entire Aircrafter team out of position. A pass from Wallace to Bell who crossed the goal unmolested was responsible for the victory.

Just previous to the winning play, Feldner took the ball on an around-end play to drive his way from the Westholt 35 to the 20. After vainly trying to crack the semi-pro line twice the scoring play was called by the Alpha Gams.

However, the standout action of the Gammass was on the defense. Time and again the Aircrafters attempted to crash the line and run the ends only to be thrown for a loss. Jack Paulsen, who later was carried from the game with a head injury, Clifford Wade, Frank Berberich, Dave Christian and Art Dyer carried much of the defensive load.

The game was fraught with numerous minor injuries, the only serious one coming on the side of the Gammass. George Angle received a cracked ankle that will keep him out of the Thanksgiving Day game with the Webster team.

Originally scheduled primarily as a practice game for the Beer Keg tilt on Thanksgiving, the game developed into a furious battle with both teams throwing all they had into the fray to gain victory. The semi-pro Aircrafters threatened several times but the threats failed to materialize in touchdowns.

Tulsa Tops Ranks Of Unbeaten Teams

Tulsa University tops the list of unbeaten and untied college football teams of the nation in number of points scored against opponents.

Undeclared, untied and unscored on, Tulsa finished the first two-thirds of its nine-game schedule with a scoring total of 296 points. Ohio State, Alabama, Army, Syracuse, Texas Christian, and Detroit were among the teams bounced out of the all-victorious circle last week.

Henry A. Shenk, director of men's intramural sports at the University of Kansas has revealed that a total of 204 individual and team entries are engaged in intramural fall sports program at the Lawrence, Kan., university this year.

Emporia Co-captains

Leading the hustling Emporia State Teachers College football team this year are two co-captains. They are, left, Curtis Fischer, of LeRoy, Kan., and Bernard Taylor, of Colby. Both are seniors having earned three letters in football. Fischer is an end and leads the team on defense. Taylor is halfback and directs the offense. Taylor ran a Washburn punt back 73 yards for a touchdown.

Mark 40 Years Of Rivalry Here

Rivalry between the University of Wichita and Emporia State Teachers College dates back to 1902, just 40 years ago.

During the four decades 32 contests have been played between the two schools with Wichita winning 16, Emporia 15, and one ending in a tie. Wichita has scored a total of 389 points to Emporia's 302.

Wichita's worst defeat at the hands of the Emporians came in 1912 when the school was Fairmount College. In that year the Hornets chalked up 34 points to down the locals.

Wichita defeated the Hornets in 1931, 26 to 0, and in 1908, 30 to 4, for their largest margin. Since Wichita became a municipal university, the Shockers have won nine of the contests with Emporia taking five and one ending in a 13 to 13 tie.

Do Pros Outclass Wichita Shockers?

Are the Commandos the best football team in Wichita as the downtown quarterbacks were inclined to think early in the season? Let's look at the facts.

Fort Riley Centaurs scored 10 points against the Aero Parts pro team while they managed to push over only one touchdown for 6 points against the Shockers. Also, there was not enough difference in the yardage gained by the C. R. T. C. team in the two games to show any pronounced superiority by the pros. The Centaurs gained a net yardage of 251 against W. U. and 239 against the Commandos (including passes). The pros gained 166 yards against Ft. Riley and the Shockers 159.

But despite the facts, some of the "experts" still hold to their views unwilling to acknowledge that a fiery, fighting Shocker squad under brilliant coaching has upset their appercept of predictions. They weakly retort "the Centaurs played under wraps against Wichita University in a sincere attempt to point for their game with the Commandos."

Personally, we think that a game between the Shockers and Commandos would see our boys on the best end of the score. What do you think? . . .

Shocker Cage Practice Starts

Coach Binford Reports 26 Men Out For Basketball

Basketball practice is now under way for Shockers under the direction of Mentor Mel Binford with five lettermen, five sophomores, and 16 new men reporting for the semi-weekly practices that have been held. In addition, there will be two lettermen and about 11 other men who will be out after the conclusion of the football season.

Practices are being held twice weekly at 3:30 on Thursday and Friday afternoons. It is not planned to hold daily practices until following the football tilt with Southwestern College.

Although no official schedule has been announced, it seems likely that Wichita's first opponent will be Sterling College on December 8, said Binford. Another game that is definitely set is a game with Hank Iba's Oklahoma A. and M. cagers. This is one of the basketball leaders in the nation.

While there will be no freshman team this year as in the past due to the eligibility of every freshman for the varsity, it is planned to play some reserve games. Other men than freshmen will be on this reserve squad, however, said Binford.

A blow to Shocker cage chances came recently when Harold Beal, who transferred here from El Dorado Junior College was ordered to report for induction on November 5. Beal was a regular on Binford's state junior college championship team and was all-state for two years.

Lettermen reporting for practice were Bob Dalton, letterman two years ago who is now back in school; Maurice Curry, Gene Steinke, Bailey Strain and Doyle Koontz. The two who are on the football team but will be out later are Don Hollar and John Hyndman. There are three sophomores and four juniors among these.

Sophomores back from the 1941 freshman squad are Keith Oliver, Bill Ellis, Bob Collum, Fred Bell and Bill Howard.

Wildcat Eleven Humbled Before Shocker Grads

Sturdy Runs Wild To Score Against K. State

With the biggest game of the Wichita grid calendar hanging in the balance, a fiery Shocker eleven hammered the Kansas State Aggies to the short end of a 9-0 score last Saturday before 3,500 rabid homecoming fans who saw their spunky crew humble the Bix Six Wildcats for the first time in 40 years.

The Wichitans seemed to have that "old feeling" and from the kickoff until the final gun it was the Shockers all the way with the Wildcats limping in a poor second, marking their fifth loss of the season.

The initial Shocker score came in the first period when in three plays the locals went a distance of 86 yards. "Ramblin'" Lyle Sturdy skinned around his left end to score standing up in the winning play.

Hollar led the attack in the first play, when, starting around his own right end, he reversed his field and, shaking off two tacklers, dashed 24 yards before being downed. Sturdy then stole the honors on the very next play with a jaunt down the right sideline which would have scored but for a desperate block which forced him out of bounds on the Kansas State 18. From there, Sturdy carried the mail across the double stripe and put the Wichitans out in front 6-0. Hamilton converted.

Stymied for the next two periods, the Shockers returned in the fourth quarter to chalk up two more points with a welcome safety. This came after another Wichita drive had placed the ball on the Aggie goal line. When the Wildcats attempted to punt, the play was smothered by the rushing Shocker line and the lead increased 9-0.

Probably the most spectacular defensive play of the afternoon was the Shockers' brilliant goal line stand in the second quarter. The Wildcats threw their powerful backs into the light Shocker line for four plays after taking over on the Wichita 7-yard line. The line held, however, and the locals punted from their one-yard line to midfield. Here the teams battled for the remainder of the first half.

The Kansas State team came back at the start of the second half with fight and determination, once threatening to score. However, the Shockers held them and then turned to their passing attack to gain before finally kicking. It was Sturdy's punt that stopped on the Aggie two-yard line that led to the blocked kick and safety for the Wichitans. Campbell, right end, blocked the kick.

Pittsburg Heads C.I.C. Conference

Pittsburg Teachers are now in the driver's seat of the Central Conference (the loop that W. U. formerly belonged to) with a record of three wins and no losses.

Pitt last week won 6-0 from St. Benedict's while Emporia State (Wichita's next opponent) defeated Hastings College of Nebraska 33-20. Southwestern (Wichita's opponent on November 14) tied the Springfield, Mo., Teachers, 7 to 7.

Emporia State is in second place in the league with two wins and one tie. Washburn, lately a member of the Missouri Valley Conference, remains in the cellar of the Central Conference standings having won one and lost three.

Phi Sig Is Only Unbeaten Touch Football Squad

Alpha Gam A Is Second In Intramurals; One Game Protested

SCHEDULE

November 5	Webster	Phi Sig B
	Rambler A	Phi Alpha
	Phi Sig A	Gamma B
	Gamma A	Rambler
November 10 (Postponed)	Round	From
October 15	Phi Alpha	Webster
	Phi Sig B	Gamma B
	Rambler A	Rambler B
	Phi Sig A	Gamma A

With only two rounds and several postponed games left to be played, the Phi Sig A intramural touch football team remains as the only undefeated team in the league with four victories against no defeats. Second place is taken over by the Alpha Gamma Gamma A team which now has three victories and one defeat.

Games this afternoon will see Webster meeting the Phi Sig B and the Rambler A team taking on the Phi Alphas at 3:30. At 4:30 the strong undefeated Phi Sig A team will meet the Gamma B squad while the Rambler B team will meet the Gamma A squad.

The Phi Sig A team added another victory to their win column last week when they defeated the Websters, 13-0. During the first half the Webster team held the Phi Sigs deep in their own territory with the splendid defensive play of Darrell Black and Taylor. However, the Webster pass defense weakened during the last half, allowing the Phi Sigs to score on two pass plays. Outstanding play in the Phi Sigs' offense was furnished by Bob Dalton and Hugh Dean, who teamed together for most of the pass plays.

A protest has been lodged with the intramural council by the Alpha Gamma Gamma B team resulting from a referee's decision on an intercepted pass during the Rambler B-Gamma B team game. The game victory depended upon the pass interception which resulted in a Gamma touchdown.

Another upset occurred in last week's play when the Rambler A team earned a victory by defeating the Alpha Gamma Gamma A team 6 to 0. The Gamma A team showed reversal of form in their following game to trounce the Phi Sig B team 19 to 0, in a postponed game from the schedule of October 19.

The intramural council announced that all postponed games will be made up at the close of the final rounds. At the present time five postponed games will have to be played before Thursday, November 12. Postponed games to be played are: Phi Sig B vs. Phi Sig A; Webster vs. Rambler A; Phi Sig B vs. Rambler B; Rambler A vs. Gamma B; and Gamma A vs. Gamma B.

Team	W	L	Pct.
Phi Sig A	4	1	.800

Phi Alpha	0	5	.000

*A protested game between the Rambler B and Gamma B teams will effect the included standings.

Missouri's Steuber Leads Grid Scorers Of Entire Country

Bob Steuber, senior halfback for the Tigers at the University of Missouri, still is the leading scorer today among the nation's college football players.

Steuber, a former end, now has a total of 83 points to his credit. In six games with the defending Big Six Conference champions he has rambled to 13 touchdowns and kicked five extra points.

The 195-pound speedster ran 70, 44 and 35 yards for three of his touchdowns on October 17 when the Tigers opened the defense of their conference title with a 46-2 triumph over Kansas State. He continued his long scampers a week later by running 57 yards for a third-period touchdown against Iowa State. He went over from shorter distances during the first half and kicked two extra points for good measure to help the Tigers win 45-6.

In 15 attempts with the ball Saturday, Steuber averaged 9.1 yards and completed one of his three passes for a touchdown in the second half.

In piling up their score—the largest in the Missouri-Iowa State series—the Tigers used more than four full teams, and gained almost 600 yards by rushing and passing. It was the seventeenth consecutive home triumph for the Missouri team.

May Start Saturday

When the Emporia State Hornets clash with the University Wheatshockers in the University stadium this Saturday at 2 p. m. they may find Fred "Tuffy" Robinson opposing them in the blocking back position. Robinson was out early in the season as he was ineligible but has played in the last two games. He is a junior hailing from El Dorado Junior College; is 5' 10" tall and weighs 190 pounds. He kicks right footed but passes with his left hand.

By MARTIN N. PERRY

"I GOT AS MUCH ENJOYMENT out of the game Saturday as any game I've ever watched," commented Coach Ralph Graham, following the pasting that his Wheatshockers handed the Kansas State Wildcats. There probably isn't a student, alumnus, or Wichita fan who saw the game that would not say the same. It gave everyone genuine satisfaction to see the Big Six giant tumble to the dust.

It was simply a Wichita day. The boys had pointed for the game and were determined to add to the list of defeats that Kansas State had suffered. Nearly everything went well for the Shockers and their defensive play in at least one instance was brilliant.

While Graham is very quick to give full credit to the team, all who have followed the Wichitans' season closely know that the boys have had superb coaching to bring them from a green, inexperienced team to the first rate ball club that they now are. Comments were heard all over town this week about the wonders that he has done with the team. The members of the squad are among the first to give him credit, also.

The Shockers' victory over Kansas State was the dividend returned Graham for his untiring work and his faith in his boys. The team knew how badly he wanted to win that one.

And while we are on the subject of coaching, a word about Kansas State.

Ward Haylett may be a track coach—he may be the best track coach in the country, as far as that goes—but he is very evidently not a football coach in any sense of the word. His team that played Saturday showed that very clearly.

Potentially, the Wildcats had twice the power and ability that Wichita had. But they showed evident lack of competent coaching. They outweighed Wichita and still couldn't get their power plays going. They had a good passer but couldn't gain appreciably that way.

However, the most important point was that there was lacking what the USO worker calls "morale," but what we call "will to win." A member of the Wildcat team admitted that between halves "everyone cussed everyone else." It was even evident on the field among the players. A team that is fighting itself is licked before it starts—and Kansas State has yet to win against a first or even second rate opponent.

If the coach cannot keep his men off each other's necks then it is no wonder that they lose.

And here is the well known "horselaff" to that local sports writer who all week long preceding the Ft. Riley-Commando game told how the Centaurs "played under wraps" against W. U. and were "pointing for the pros." It was all very nice for getting a crowd at the Lawrence Stadium but he found his "apples" rather upset when the highly touted Commandos fell victim to Ft. Riley by a larger score than the Shockers.

Shocker fans will have the opportunity to see some wide-open football this week when the Emporia Hornets travel here. Razzle dazzle is distinctly what "Fram" Welch's team will use. They will be small but fast and tricky. Welch is noted for his tricky formations. However, it should be a victory by the locals by three touchdowns.

At this writing, it is not known whether or not Stine will be scholastically up to the level required to play or not. If he is ineligible, Hamilton, quarterback who played center in high school, will take over with Robinson holding down the blocking back post.

To Dale Moore goes the thanks of this column for making that necktie tackle in Saturday's game thus saving the day for the Shockers.

To Hamilton, Shocker blocking back and erstwhile center, even the Homecoming crowd estimated from 3,000 to 5,000 must look small. He once played before 101,000 people in Soldiers Field at Chicago for the city championship.

It now seems likely that Joe Brock will meet Charles Crum in the finals of intramural tennis singles unless Babb should spring an upset to oust him. The Crum-Brock match will be a real championship play.

In intramural football the situation is fogged by the terrible mess that the schedule is in with postponed games and forfeits. The Phi Sigs lead but the Gammas are still strong and may be able to whip the boys from over on Vassar when the postponed first round comes up. "The issue is still in doubt."

Coming back to the pros and cons of pro and college football,

Shockers to Have Weight Advantage

When the University of Wichita Shockers and the Emporia State Hornets take the field Saturday for the renewal of their ancient feud dating back to 1902, the teams will shape up something like this:

	W. U. Emporia
Avg. wgt. of line	180	169
Avg. wgt. of backs	172	163
Avg. wgt. of team	176	167
Avg. wgt. of ends	178½	166
Avg. wgt. of tackles	192½	188
Avg. wgt. of guards	171	166
Avg. wgt. of centers	183	167
No. of seniors	7	4
No. of juniors	8	6
No. of sophomores	1	9
No. of freshmen	22	22
No. of players	38	41
No. over 200 lbs.	4	1
No. of lettermen	10	5

it is to be noted in the records that the Commandos have drawn only half (by any stretch of the imagination) the crowd that the University team has shown to. Last week the figures were approximately 3,500 and 1,500.

Keep in mind that Thanksgiving Day classic Beer Keg game between the Alpha Gams and Websters. It is always a blood-battle and should be even more so this year. Both teams have lost stars but both have also gained a number of excellent players as pledges.

Students Harvest Much-Needed Crops

Answering an appeal from Gov. John Moses, 800 students and faculty members from North Dakota State University swarmed into the beet, potato, and wheat fields of the Red River Valley and saved vitally-needed crops which had been threatened by a shortage of labor.

The University closed down for two weeks while strapping members of the football squad, sedentary doctors of philosophy and 260 gay co-eds worked from dawn to dusk to harvest food for the armed forces of the United Nations.

Dr. Margaret Beede, Ph. D., of the english department volunteered to drive a truck and stuck to her task under a broiling sun. The volunteers were paid at the regular rate for farm help, ranging from $5 to $10 a day.

Lucky Pass Keeps Long Record Good

Only one second remained in the hot football game between the high schools of Baldwin and Spring Hill recently, and it looked like Baldwin's 28-game winning streak was about to be ended. The score was 0-0.

But in that second the Baldwin center beat the timekeeper's gun. He flipped a pass for 13 yards which was completed for victory No. 29. The score: 6-0.

The War Production Board has gone on a work schedule of eight hours a day, six days a week for the duration.

Tennis Matches End This Week

Crum Into Finals To Meet Winner Babb-Bruck Match

Intramural tennis, which was scheduled to be completed last week will definitely come to a close the latter part of the week, Bob Sutton, senior intramural manager announced last Monday.

At the present time Charles Crum, freshman Rambler, is the only player to enter into the final round of play. Crum defeated Howard Kantor, Rambler, last week in his semi-final match, in one of the best tennis exhibitions seen in the tournament thus far. Crum started out the match by winning the first set 6-2, but dropped the second set to Kantor in extra games, 5-7. Crum took the final set easily winning by a count of 6-1.

Only one match remains to be played in the quarter-finals, that being between Joe Brock, Alpha Gamma Gamma, and Dean Babb, Rambler. Babb advanced to the quarter-finals last week with a 6-2, 6-1, victory over Joe Guyer, Phi Sig. The winner of the Babb-Brock match will meet Roy Taylor, Webster, in the semi-finals for the right to meet Crum in the championship round.

Intramural doubles champions were crowned last week when Babb and Crum, Ramblers, defeated the Alpha Gamma Gamma team of Brock and Gensch.

Warwick Is Named To Captain Squad

Coach Ralph Graham has announced that "Fighting Bob" Warwick, 165-pound Shocker guard, would be game captain in the Emporia tilt. Bob was captain in the St. Benedict's game.

Night Students Number 250

Per Cent Enrolled For Credit Is Higher This Year

Over 250 students are now enrolled in night classes at the University, according to Dr. E. K. Hillbrand, head of the University Extension Division.

This is about the same as last year, but the per cent of credit students is higher than last year, he said.

"This is a good showing," Dr. Hillbrand said, "in view of the fact that the government is offering so many free classes. These are courses for which tuition is charged, but they are for college credit, whereas the others are not. It is a very good sign when 250 people want to continue with their college courses in spite of competing courses such as C. P. T., K. U. extension courses, and opportunity schools at both high schools."

Enrollment in the course in traffic control taught by Dr. F. L. Whan has reached 24; 30 have enrolled in a course in fundamentals of radio; 23 are taking international code, and 15 are taking wartime photography.

Dr. Earle R. Davis teaches a class of 16 in literature of the war; Dr. Hugo Wall reports that 20 are enrolled in his class in municipal government.

Comparable enrollments are reported in courses in college algebra, trigonometry, Spanish, cost accounting, principles of accounting, engineering drawing, sociology, extemporaneous speaking, and school administration.

Leroy Strong Is Given a Degree

Graduate Leaves For Infantry School In Georgia

Leroy Strong, active University student, graduated last month from the University of Wichita with a degree in military science. He left October 25 for Fort Benning, Ga., where he will attend infantry school for a period of 13 weeks. After being graduated from this school, he will be sent out as an officer.

During this semester Mr. Strong has been instructing sophomore R. O. T. C. students in theory and classroom work. He attended the summer school session of the University. During the three and one-half years he spent on the University campus he was an active member of many organizations. Among these were rifle team, University Players, medical fraternity, Y. M. C. A., and Whock.

Previous to coming to Wichita Mr. Strong lived in St. Joseph, Mo. While there he attended St. Joseph Junior College. He was graduated from high school in St. Joseph. He has been a member of some R. O. T. C. unit since he was 14 years of age.

Mr. Strong was employed at the Y. M. C. A. office in Wichita until the beginning of this school year when he resigned his position. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee R. Strong, 302 North Madison, of this city.

Fourteen C. P. T. Boys Go to Texas

Fourteen Civilian Pilot Training students left for Waco, Tex., Saturday, October 31, where they will continue their training, according to Roy W. Elliot, head of the University C. P. T.

These boys completed their 10 weeks training period at the University October 13.

Since they have completed their University training they have been awaiting orders from Washington, regarding a transfer.

These students are liaison students.

Jameson Is New Member of Board

Mary Frances Jameson, a freshman in the College of Liberal Arts, is the new member of the Student Board of Publications, serving as freshman representative.

Faculty members are Dr. Francis Nock, chairman; Roy Elliot, Max Milbourn, and Leo W. Allman.

College Car Owners Can Alter Driving Habits, Says Jeffers

THOUSANDS of college car owners must alter their driving habits under the country-wide 35 mile speed limit, put into effect on October 1 as a rubber saving measure by Rubber Director William M. Jeffers. Although many colleges eliminate their tire conservation problem by banning or limiting cars on their campuses, the tires that carry student-owned or driven cars still constitute a substantial part of America's only rubber stock pile.

The 35-mile speed limit is one of five rules set up by Jeffers to conserve the tires on American cars until the middle of 1944—the earliest possible date at which new tires can be expected. The rules designed to tide car-owners over the next year and a half are:

Drive only when absolutely necessary. Necessary, government officials stress, does not include that coke a college student may want to drive downtown to get. Pleasure drives, convenience drives, all driving as usual is outside the "absolutely necessary" class. Relatively closely grouped college buildings give students a chance to save their tires by walking.

Keep under 35 miles an hour and slower when possible. The normal life of a tire is doubled when the average speed is lowered from 40 to 20 miles per hour. A government-approved horn tooting campaign has recently been initiated on the West Coast in which tire-conserving drivers blow three short blasts and one long—the Morse code "V" for victory—at every speed violator who whizzes past them.

Keep tires properly inflated and be careful of them. Rubber experts report that driving continually with a tire underinflated by one pound will cut 600 miles off the tire's life. Tire inflation should be checked weekly. Jackrabbit starts and brake squealing stops scuff rubber off tires. When parking, drivers should be careful not to bruise and scrape tires against the curb. Tires should be rotated every few thousand miles.

Have tires inspected regularly. Every few days bits of glass, stones, tacks, etc., should be removed from tire treads. Drivers should check the wheel alignment of their cars every six months. Figures show that many car owners lose from 20 to 50 per cent of tire mileage by having wheels out of line.

Car pooling. Colleges, where cars are traditionally packed to overflowing, invented car pooling. A full car on every trip is the government's goal, and it ought to be a cinch for college students.

Purdue University organized a concentrated four hour scrap collection contest, which teams competed to amass the most impressive piles of scrap.

Lieutenant Dunn Is Transferred

Lieut. Charles E. Dunn, University instructor of military science and tactics, will leave the University this week for troop duty, according to Col. Horace K. Heath, head of the University military science department.

Lieutenant Dunn has been teaching at the University since April 11, 1941. He graduated from the University in 1940.

During his student life at the University, Lieutenant Dunn was enrolled in the College of Fine Arts. He was a member of University Players during his senior year, a member of Whock Club during his junior and senior years a member of Pi Beta Chi during his first three years at the University, and a member of the Varsity Committee during his senior year.

Kansas Library Group Meets

W. B. Harrison Speaks To Members At Session

Approximately 175 librarians from public and school libraries attended the forty-first annual meeting of the Kansas Library Association which was held last Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 29-31, with headquarters at the Allis Hotel.

The first meeting was held Thursday evening in the University's Morrison Library. W. B. Harrison, a member of the Kansas Industrial Commission, spoke about the "Industrial Possibilities of Kansas." Following his speech, a reception was held and the visitors were taken on a tour of the library.

A general session began Friday morning. Highlights of the meeting were a talk on "Education and Legislation" by Glenn Archer, director of Professional Relations for the Kansas State Teachers' Association, and "A Preview of 1943 Taxes" by Dr. Harold Howe, professor of Agricultural Economics at Kansas State College.

The annual dinner of the association was held Friday evening at the Allis Hotel, with Dr. Hugo Wall, professor of political science at this University, speaking about the "Price of Peace."

Round tables for high school and college librarians were held Saturday. Consultant for college librarians was B. E. Powell, librarian of the University of Missouri. He led an informal discussion about how best to administer and work in college libraries in order to meet emergency needs as well as ordinary needs.

"I think it was a very good convention, especially considering the present war conditions," said Downing P. O'Hara, head librarian of Morrison Library.

Students Day Is World Celebration

Schools and colleges thruout the world will celebrate November 17 as International Students Day in tribute to 500 Czechoslovak students massacred and thousands more thrown into concentration camps by the Nazis two years ago.

Palmer Attends Topeka Meeting

State-Wide Program Planned for Aid Of Children

Dr. M. F. Palmer, head of the Institute of Logopedics at the University, attended a follow-up meeting in Topeka recently of the fourth session of the White House Conference on Children in a Democracy. The purpose of this meeting was to plan a state-wide program for the benefit of children before the next White House conference.

The first White House Conference was called in 1909 by Theodore Roosevelt, for the purpose of discussing the role which government should play in child welfare. The Conference recommended that a Children's Bureau be established in the Department of Labor. The members agreed to meet every 10 years. The meeting in Topeka was a follow-up on the conference held in 1939.

"Kansas is rather progressive along the line of child welfare," Dr. Palmer said. "Children are fairly well cared for in this state by existing laws and agencies. Our problem is not so much the creating of new agencies, but the extending of services already available."

Miss Esther Twente, professor of sociology at the University of Kansas, was acting chairman of the meeting at Topeka. C. Q. Chandler, Miss Helen Mawer, head of the Child Welfare Committee of the Kansas State Board of Social Welfare; Miss Anne Laughlin, regional administrator of the National Youth Administration; Miss Twente, and Dr. Palmer were the Kansas delegates to the White House Conference in 1939, and were among those present at the meeting in Topeka. Representatives of all types of children's work in Kansas also attended the meeting.

Moore Presents Baton Performances At Football Game

A new and different feature concerning the R. O. T. C. Band appearance last Saturday at the homecoming football game was the twirling act presented by Allen Moore, fine arts freshman from Kansas City, Mo.

"Baton-Spinner" Moore, self-taught with the aid of books by Paul Painter and Charlie Benner, noted authorities on the art, holds the record for high tossing in the state of Missouri. He has also been drum major of the championship V. F. W. bands of both Kansas and Missouri for the past four years.

During his four years in high school he was drum major of many organizations, chief among these being the Central High School Band. Other organizations were the American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, the Post Office Band, the Kansas City Junior Police drum and bugle corps, and his own drum and bugle corps, sponsored by the American Legion.

In 1939 Allen won second place in the national solo baton twirling contest and in 1940 he was awarded an honor rating I in the same contest, which included twirlers from all over the United States.

He plays oboe in the R. O. T. C. concert band this year but is also an outstanding performer on the clarinet and saxophone.

Sorosis, Pi Alphas Chosen Winners

Pi Alpha Pi and Sorosis won the first prizes for the best decorated houses for the Homecoming celebration October 31. The fraternity and sorority were each presented $10 in war stamps.

Men of Webster and Alpha Tau Sigma were given second place.

Miss Lorena Cassidy and Mr. Anton Richerts, instructors at Wichita High School East, were judges of the contest.

Hillbrand Talks At Teachers' Meeting

Dr. Earl K. Hillbrand, dean of the University's Extension Division, has been invited as an in-state speaker at the annual meeting of the Kansas State Teachers' Association at Hays this week-end.

Dr. Hillbrand will address two groups. He will speak at an Administrator's Roundtable on "Fitness for Freedom." His other subject is "For the Living of These Days" about which he will address a group of county superintendents.

Sorosis Wins Homecoming Prize
