

College Who's Who" Lists 13 Wichita University Students

One Junior and Twelve Seniors Named;
One Grad Still On Campus
To Be Relisted

Thirteen University of Wichita students have been named the 1946 "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" according to the announcement received by Dr. W. M. Jardine, president.

Jack C. Paulsen was the only senior to receive the honor this year.

Seniors who were named were Geneva J. Brewer, Janice Cooper, Betty Deshler, Frances Douglas, Reba Ruth Funk, Reba Holloway, Helene Jean Luce, Helen McCaslin, Vernon McGuire, Dorothy Ransom, Ann Sullivan, and Claudine Ingmeyer.

Jack Paulsen, who returned to campus after serving with the armed forces, is president of the Kappa Delta Pi fraternity. Before going to the services Mr. Paulsen was an active member of the Alpha Gamma Gamma fraternity on the campus.

Geneva J. Brewer, a member of the Delta Omega sorority, has been treasurer of the organization. She also held the position of secretary of the W. R. A. and at present is vice president of the organization. Named to the dean's honor roll for a number of semesters, Miss Brewer has also been honored scholastically by being given the position of assistant in both the biology and math departments. Her organizations of which she has been a member are Aesculapius, Kappa Delta Pi, and Phi Kappa Phi.

Janice Cooper, a Pi Kappa Psi member, has held the position of vice president, treasurer, and representative on the Pan Hellenic board of the sorority. During her senior year she was elected treasurer of the class, and has been a class representative in Student Council. Other club offices which she has held are president of the swim club and treasurer of the Athletics. She is a member of W. C. A., W. R. A., and Student Forum board, and has been named to the dean's honor roll.

Betty Deshler, who has held the office of secretary and vice president of Alpha Tau Sigma and was president of the sorority pledge class, has also been named to receive the annual honor. During her freshman year she represented the women of that class on Student Council and this year is secretary of the senior class. A member of W. C. A. she has been on the cabinet and was president of the freshman Y. W. C. A. She has been former chairman of the Student Forum board and is executive treasurer this year. She is a member of the Young Republicans, rifle club, and W. R. A. Recipient of the Spencer scholarship, she has also been honored scholastically by being named to the dean's honor roll for a number of semesters.

Frances Douglas, who is a member of the Pi Kappa Psi sorority, has held the office of treasurer and is Hellenic representative for the organization. Besides her office as president of the Student Council, Miss Douglas is president of the Student Forum board, treasurer of the Hellenic council, a member of the Home Economics club, the W. R. A. and Wheaties.

Alma Ruth Funk, who is president of the Sorosis sorority, is another choice to receive the honor. Miss Funk, who was secretary-treasurer of the freshman class, is a member of the Student Forum board executive secretary this year and vice president of the Student Council. She is a member of the Mu Phi Epsilon music sorority, the Y. W. C. A. cabinet, and secretary of the band. Reba Holloway, present president of the Independent Students' Association, has previously held the position of secretary-treasurer, vice president and president of the women's division of the organization and vice president of general activities. During her freshman year, she served as treasurer of the class. A member of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet, she is also secretary of Athletics. Miss Holloway has been book editor and managing editor of the Sunflower, is editor of the Parnassus this year, and is a vice president of Matrix. A member of the Kappa Delta Pi honorary edu-

Ross Taylor Will Return

Expect Professor
Next Semester

After more than three years in the U. S. army intelligence corps on leave of absence from the University of Wichita, Major Ross Mc-Laury Taylor, associate professor of English, will rejoin the faculty for the second semester, according to Dr. Earle R. Davis, head of the English department.

Dr. Taylor, recently returned from the China-Burma-India theater, will offer a new course, "American Masterpieces," which covers the works of Emerson, Thoreau, Melville, Hawthorne, and Whitman.

Miss Holloway has also been named for a number of semesters to the dean's honor roll. She is a member of the Student Forum board.

Billie Jean Luce, a member of the Sorosis sorority, was named best pledge of the organization during her pledge term and since then has been rush captain and vice-president of the organization. President of the senior class this year, Miss Luce was secretary of the Student Council last year and during her sophomore year was secretary of the class. She has served as both secretary and president of the Young Democrats and has been chairman of the war finance committee. She is a member of the University Players, Y. W. C. A., International Relations club, Student Forum, and Alpha Epsilon. She has been named on the dean's honor roll.

Helen McCaslin, who is serving as president of the Alpha Tau Sigma sorority this year, has previously served as secretary and vice-president of the organization. She has served as secretary of the juniors and as treasurer, secretary, and president of the Young Republicans. She is president of the rifle club and secretary of the W. R. A. board. During her freshman year she was candidate for the H. Y. M. dance honor. She is a member of the Student Forum board.

Vernon McGuire, a member of the Independent Students Association, is one of the two men selected for the honor. He has served as

Victory Convo To Award Bond

A victory convocation, scheduled for the first week after the Christmas vacation, will be held to award a $25 war bond to the organization which sold the largest amount of war stamps and bonds during the recent Victory Loan Drive, according to Vernon McGuire, chairman of the Victory Committee.

All students are asked to turn in their receipts for bonds bought this school year, stating which organization shall take credit for it.

A letter praising the efforts of the Victory Committee was received from Henry Onsgard, professor of history and chairman of the committee.

In commenting upon the letter, Mr. McGuire said, "Praise of the Committee was certainly appreciated, but we feel that the success of the drive was due to the grand cooperation of the students."

Pi Kappa Psi sorority sold $104.00 in stamps and bonds Wednesday. Alpha Tau Sigma had charge of the bond booth yesterday.

Parnassus Orders Open

Yearbook Available
For $3.00

Former students, alumnae, members of the faculty, members of the University staff or any other interested persons may purchase the Parnassus through advance orders at $3.00 per book, according to Reba Holloway, editor-in-chief.

"Outside orders are being requested early because the number of yearbooks to be published must be determined soon," Miss Holloway said.

Price of Parnassus for students is included in their activity tickets.

Campus organizations whose club pictures have not been scheduled and who wish to be represented in the Parnassus year book may contact Miss Reba Holloway, editor, at the Journalism office, Morrison Hall, sometime during next week to make appointments, it was announced.

Most of the club pictures have been taken except a few scheduled for next semester, Miss Holloway said.

At a meeting held Wednesday, members of the Parnassus board announced that the plans for the yearbook were nearing completion and that the printing bids will be sent out soon. Those assisting Miss Holloway on the board are Maxine Sargent, Lois Burrell, and Bill Nelligan.

French Theme At Yule Party

Preceding their traditional Christmas program, members of the French club and guests will have dinner at 6:00 p. m. Tuesday in the pine room of the Commons. The program will be staged before the fireplace, which will be decorated in accordance with the Yuletide season.

The program is as follows:

R. F. Remodeling Science Museum

Remodeling of the museum on first floor of Science Hall for the Industrial Research Foundation is announced by John Gaddis, superintendent of buildings and grounds. The museum is being remodeled with complete office facilities.

Plans are also being proposed for the fourth floor of Science Hall to be turned over to the Industrial Research Foundation for Research laboratories.

Christmas Convo Thursday Prelude To 12 Days Vacation

All-School Food Basket Sponsored
By Y.W.C.A.; Social Groups
Plan Charities

Preludes to Christmas vacation will be the Christmas Convocations next Thursday and charity drives sponsored by campus organizations next week.

Christmas vacation begins at 4:00 p. m. on Friday, December 21, and continues until 8:00 a. m. on Thursday, January 3, according to Dr. Worth A. Fletcher, registrar.

"Christmas in the chapel" and "Christmas at home" will be featured at the convocation as presented by the cappella choir, according to Harold A. Decker, professor and head of voice department.

Chorales will be played before the program by the brass quartet. An organ prelude will be heard as the students enter the auditorium.

Candlelight Service
Chimes will introduce the familiar strains of "Silent Night, Holy Night," by Grueber, which will be sung by the "angelic choirs." Following this, there will be a candlelight processional as the choir sings "Adeste Fideles."

Parts of the Christmas story in the second chapter of St. Luke will be read by Nancy Glenn, and will intersperse carols sung by the choir.

Carols include: "The Dark Stole Up On Bethlehem" by Lorenz; "Hodie Christus Natus Est," Sweetlinck; "Sweetly Angel Choirs Are Singing," arranged by Morton Luvaas; "A Virgin Unspotted," William Billings.

"Glory to the New Born King" arranged by John W. Work will feature Beth La Gree, soloist, and "Lullaby on Christmas Eve" by F.

GI's To Form Constitution

Seven To Compose Committee

Seven veterans were elected to a constitution committee at a meeting of GI students third hour, Tuesday, according to Dr. Worth A. Fletcher, veterans' advisor.

The men who were elected are Elmer Hildenbrand, Wayne Simmonds, Eugene Galloup, Vann Jones, John Stover, Robert Jackson, and Robert Gerber.

Also at the Tuesday meeting, Vann Jones, John Stover, and Eugene Galloup gave reports on the convention of veterans which they attended at Kansas City, Friday. Representatives from Kansas, Missouri, and Nebraska discussed the social, scholastic, and faculty problems which returned GI's face on the campus.

"I hope to look to this club for a mature type of leadership," said Dr. W. M. Jardine, president of the University.

The next meeting of the club will probably be after the Christmas vacation when the constitution is ready for ratification by the group. Approximately fifty men have been attending these meetings.

Lost and Unlamented Items Languish In Crowded Corner

If 36 co-eds have not recently purchased new head scarfs, they now cross the campus with swirling hair and rosy ears. Seventeen Shockers would, no doubt, appreciate new gloves for Christmas. Fourteen students will likely beg, borrow, or steal a textbook during final week. Nine students are probably affixing their signatures with fountain pens borrowed from classmates.

One hapless W. U. student is perhaps groping his way to classes, for his glasses, as do the 36 scarfs, 17 pairs of gloves, and 14 books now repose idly in the Lost and Found department of the University bookstore.

The department abounds with other unretrieved items: an umbrella, a compact, numerous pencils, and lipsticks.

First impulse of a student or

Melius Christiansen will feature Phyllis Hardy, soprano.

Carols by the madrigal singers will introduce Christmas at home, which will be climaxed by the familiar scene of Christmas carolers, Baskets For Needy

"All students are urged to be generous in their donations to the Christmas basket established for needy families this year," was the request made by Betty Deshler, Y.W.C.A. president. This organization is sponsoring a drive for non-perishable foods beginning Monday and lasting through Friday. The basket will be located near the Christmas tree in the administration building.

Geraldine Covey is in charge of the drive. Food will be distributed to needy families through the Family Consolation Service.

Twenty-five dollars in cash will be given to a needy family, selected through the Family Consolation Service, by Alpha Tau Sigma. Delta Omega will donate a basket of clothing and a basket of food.

Three needy families will receive food from Pi Kappa Psi. The families will be selected through the Christmas Clearance Organization.

Orphans Party
A party for 40 orphans from the Phyllis Wheatley Orphans Home has been planned by the women's division of the I. S. A. Each girl will select an orphan for whom she will bring a gift.

Games will be played, refreshments will be served and gifts and candy will be distributed by Santa Claus. Dorothy Stinnit will be Santa Claus.

Ten families will be helped this year by the men's division of the I. S. A. The donations will be cleared through the Wichita Beacon.

Music Review To Be Tuesday

To obtain a big name band for an all school varsity, January 21, the first Monday after finals, is the purpose of a musical review featuring the music of Irving Berlin, third hour, Tuesday, in the auditorium.

Proceeds from the admission (30 cents), combined with the dividends from the dance will be used to pay for the orchestra.

Name of the orchestra will be announced during the review. Participating in the musical is an all-student cast. The program consists of vocal solos, a reading, a two-piano number, a piano solo, chorus numbers, and music by an orchestra.

Committee in charge of the musical includes Bob Hollowell, chairman, Gloria Fouts, Junior Ashcraft, Lyle Dilly, and Zillah Dustin.

Place where the varsity is to be held will be announced later.

professor who spots a misplaced article is leave it alone, expecting the loser to return to claim it. Often, after a few weeks, when the finder has at last brought the lost item to the bookstore, the loser has ceased to inquire about it.

"When students miss anything, they rush frantically to the bookstore. It is always best to bring lost items directly here," says Mrs. Rose Wakefield, manager of the bookstore.

Neglect Brings Regrets

As the Christmas season once again approaches, the atmosphere of gaiety envelops campus life.

Plans for formal dances and parties are in the making. Students are busy with plans for making this Christmas a memorable one. Many students who live out of Wichita are going home for the first time since the semester began.

In the midst of this atmosphere, students are prone to neglect assignments, and other things seem more important. However, neglect now means using vacation to catch up, and somehow there is no day during vacation which is convenient to use for study.

Finals follow closely on the heels of Christmas vacation. Keeping up now will prevent staying up the night before finals.

Tunes Of The Faithful

"And the band played on."

The University of Wichita band, under the direction of Walter Duerksen, professor of band and theory, has really gone all out for the varsity this year.

While the rest of the student body sat around at the football games munching on hotdogs or apples and completely ignoring the proceedings going on on the field, the faithful band members proceeded to blow their lungs out on "Hail Hail, Wichita" or "Shocker Victory March."

The band never missed a football game this season. Now with basketball the talk of the campus and with the Shocker team spending all free time in the gym, members of the band are organizing an outfit to play at all the home games.

However, the University band does a lot more than just play at the games. Remember the Kansas University vs. Wichita University game when the band presented an entirely original and unique half-time program. That took a lot of time and a lot of patience but the band presented it and with perfection.

Lieurance Appears In Tulsa Concert

Thurlow Lieurance, dean emeritus of the College of Fine Arts, appeared in a recent concert at the Philbrook Art Center in Tulsa. The concert was a part of the annual drive for club membership at the Philbrook Art Center, Mr. Lieurance said.

Woodrow Crumbo, a student of Clayton Staples, director of the University art department is exhibiting his art work in connection with the festivities. Mr. Crumbo is a winner of the four-year Rosenwald fellowship.

Others who appeared in the concert were: Edna Woolley Lieurance, soprano; George B. Tack, flutist; Beatrice Sanford Pease, violinist; Guy Snyder, accompanist; and Marguerite Munsell-Waddell, harpist.

National Music Frat Promoted

Organization of a national honorary music fraternity, Phi Mu Alpha, on the University of Wichita campus is being promoted by a group of men students from the music department.

"All men interested in music or the function of music and who would like to join Phi Mu Alpha, or Sinfonia, as it will be called see Bob Hollowell, Junior Ashcraft, or myself," announced Harold Lutz, acting chairman of the committee on the organization of the fraternity.

He added that there will be a meeting of the committee and all prospective members Wednesday evening at 7:30 in the band room.

Members of the organization committee are as follows: Harold Lutz, acting chairman; Bob Hollowell; Junior Ashcraft; Walter J. Duerksen, assistant professor of band and theory; Anthony Chiuminatto, instructor in violin and instrumental theory; and Adrian Pouliot, professor of theory.

The present active members on this campus are as follows: Dean Earl K. Hillbrand, professor of education; Dean Thurlow Lieurance, dean emeritus of the College of Fine Arts; Mr. Duerksen; and Mr. Pouliot.

Hanson Conducting Tests in Ellinwood

As a new step in the counseling program of the Kansas public schools, Dr. Gordon C. Hanson, associate professor of education, is currently conducting a series of aptitude tests at Ellinwood, Kans., dealing with the scholastic difficulties of retarded students.

Dr. Hanson has recently worked with nine children of elementary school age, and will leave December 20 for Ellinwood to continue his work with 15 high school students.

Assisting Dr. Hanson are two clinically trained teachers from the Ellinwood public schools.

Education Group Initiates Seven

Seven pledges will be initiated at 6:30 tonight at a dinner meeting of Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education fraternity, at 3120 East Central.

Anthony Chiuminatto, assistant professor of violin, will be the speaker. A Christmas theme will be used in decorations, according to Reba Holloway, chairman of the committee. Also on the committee are Margaret Cate and Bob Peters.

The following pledges will be initiated: Betty Hodge, Harriet Johnson, Barbara Gill, Mrs. Lois Burnett, Marjorie Plott, Margaret Cate, and Hilda Penner.

She is vice president of the seniors, a member of Alpha Epsilon, Young Republicans, and Student Forum board and has been named on the dean's honor roll.

Barbara Watson Beaty, named in last year's Who's Who, will automatically be named again this year due to the fact she is still on the University campus.

Typed on a Wednesday

By Robert Levey

Several days ago I learned that a Polish refugee, Earl S. Inger had recently joined his uncle in Wichita—after resisting and outwitting the Gestapo for six years from the eastern borders of Poland to the western coast of Germany.

I requested an interview with the 21-year-old refugee—who had been in the United States for only two months—and within a short time I heard an almost unbelievable odyssey of escape and revenge.

At the conclusion of the interview I was able to comprehend the hideousness of Buchenwald and Auschwitz and fully realize that stories which emanated from Stanislawo and Wadowice could be any degree "just propaganda."

It then gripped me that the nearest I had ever been to the war was a newspaper.

The life of Earl Inger, before that fateful day of September 1941, was one similar to that of any average American youth. He enjoyed swimming, bicycling and skiing in the small Polish town Bielitz—located deep in the Carpathian mountains and bordered one side by Romania and the other by Germany.

In this town existed a so-called Gymnastic Society. When the Teuton hordes sank their fangs into the helpless Poland, this "society" mined and machine-gunned the entire town. All the Poles were forced to flee, and the Inger family—within a few days—found itself a prisoner of the Bocha. In 18 days, the nation of Poland was but a memory.

Earl, his parents and little brother, were allowed to migrate to the Russian division of Poland where Earl was requested to attend Kolonyja Agricultural Academy.

June 22, 1941 the Nazi beast sprang again—this time at the throat of the Russian bear—and the Inger family was forced to flee to the Polish city of Stanislawow, where more than 5,000 anti-Nazi and racial minorities were massacred.

Here Earl's parents and brother were machine-gunned.

The youth made his way back to Bielitz after six weeks of hiding in the woods. He was discovered here by two SS men and taken to the concentration camp of Wadowice where he suffered brutalities almost two years before he escaped.

Now 19 years old, he again returned to Bielitz, walking 60 miles during the daytime and walking at night, living on the leaves and roots of forest plants. In Bielitz he found one of his father's friends who eventually furnished him with identification papers of a Polish soldier.

Backed with false papers, Earl joined the slave labor corps to avoid suspicion. He worked on a Silesian farm as a slave laborer two years until the Russian armies from the east forced the German population to its western borders. Losing himself among the persecuted super-race, Earl crossed Germany from east to west on a bicycle, heading for the American lines.

As he approached Frankfort, he heard the Americans bombard the city.

"This was the most beautiful music I had ever heard," he says. When the Americans entered the city, he volunteered to locate anti-allied elements as a member of the Allied Counter-Intelligence Corps.

Remembering his uncle in Wichita—the only surviving member of his family—he laid plans to join him, and soon got a job as a worker at the German seaport of Bremerhaven.

One evening Earl noticed an American Merchant Marine cargo ship being unloaded. He quickly hid himself in the bowels of the ship, having with him only his meager lunch, consisting of one bottle of coffee and three slices of bread.

Before he had established himself in the superstructure below deck, the massive hatches were closed, leaving him in pitch darkness for the next 10 days.

He became violently seasick and slightly delirious, and was forced to use the stagnant coffee only to wet his fevered lips. He finally climbed to the top of the superstructure to give himself up.

After pounding on the hatches with a loose piece of iron for several hours, the doors began to open, and the emaciated youth was helped aboard. Actually he was a stowaway, but the master of the ship prevented his being returned to Germany by giving him light tasks aboard the vessel. Technically he was no longer a stowaway, and within five days he sailed into New York harbor as a free man.

When asked how he was able to carry on, he said: "Never before did I have any religious beliefs, but as I flirted with death—and when I began to believe that some supernatural power was watching me and guiding me."

An "American Medical Aptitude Test" will be given at 2:00 p. m. tomorrow in room 119 in the Science building to all students planning to go to medical school in 1946. All students planning to take this time test should report to Dr. Hazel Branch, professor of zoology. According to Dr. Branch this test has been given to students of the University of Wichita for the past 16 years.

plans were discussed. "American Drama," a new hour course offered next semester by Dr. Earle Davis, professor of English will consist of twenty century plays, by O'Neill, Strindberg, Kaufman, Anderson and others.

Pledge services were held for Jerry O'Hurd during the Matrix meeting, third hour today in the Commons, according to Betty Dickman, president. Christmas party

The Madrigal Singers will be guests of the Rotary Club Monday noon. Those singing will be Nancy Glenn, Gloria Fouts, Jean Grist, Helen Zimmer, Beth LaCelle, Zella Dustin, Vernon McQuire, Robert Oursler, and Cisco Price.

Christmas Tea Fetes Council

Council of University Women hold a tea from 4 to 5:30 p. m. in the faculty women's room, Administration building, Friday, announced Dorothea Ash, reference librarian, who is in charge of the tea. The tea will feature a Christmas theme with yuletide decorations and refreshments. A musical program under the direction of Shirley Answorth, instructor in voice, will provide entertainment.

Art Club Plans Christmas Party

Beta Chi, Art Club, will have Christmas dinner party at 6:00 p. m. December 17 at Morrison Hall, for all major and minor art students, according to Marjorie Lighton, president. Christmas tree will be decorated, there will be exchange of gifts, and carols will be sung. Reservations may be made by signing on the bulletin board in Morrison Hall.

Christmas party for the art majors and minors will be held in Morrison at 7:00 o'clock, December 17, according to Marjorie Haugh-party chairman.

Bright spots on the campus: Rhoda Capps' long red nose... Jean Haye's knitted crazy-quilt sweater... Neal Pott's bright red sweater with green and yellow figures... Bill "Walrus" Calhoun's orange combination sweater and hunting hat... Bob Hudgin's bright green and blue stocking cap... Herbie James eye shocking yellow jacket... and Johnny Cooper's black and yellow checked cords.

The decorations for the bookstore were made and put up by Warren Ohrvall. Brings lots of Christmas spirit into the air. Thanks!!

At Rectangle's swimming party at the Y.M.C.A., those splashing around were: Charleen Parrott, Galen Christen; Eileen Lucas, Wayne McKay; Virginia Kesterson, Delbert Phillips; Midge Moore, Bob Hudgins; Nancy Quinlisk, Bob Johnson; Donna Hendrickson, Herbie James; Bette Heft, Paul Boyher; Carolyn Cruise, Bill Gilbert; Waymuth Wollner, Clyde Brown. Lotsa fun.....

Retraction action: This column has made a mistake!! Again! Contrary to printed matter read in an earlier issue Nadine Cummings' "Bernie" IS NOT home. The Navy cancelled the guy's leave at the last moment and made us out a double-eyed liar. Long live the Army Air Corps!

Champeen pipe smoker is the newest award given Barbara Mitchell. She won this tender title at a slumber party given by Leenda Andeel. Other members didn't do so good... and are they glad!

Holding Hands Dept. ... Beverly Leonard and Bob Baker; Charlene Parrott and Galen Christian; Virginia Kesterson and Delbert Phillips; Donna Jo Gerard and Dick Crellin.

There seems to be a definite technique to the "Art of Making Love," if Bob Rumsey is to be believed. Seems as though he had people hanging on the ropes during a recent speech positively begging for MORE!

Betty Kinney is so happy now that Bob Hutchinson is home on leave. In fact she carries a new picture of him around with her now just to prove it 'er somethin'.

Kappa Rho and Pi Kap pledges swelled their respective bank accounts when they dragged the active members out of bed at a heathenish hour and took 'em to breakfast. The main idea of the deal is: For each article of clothing the active puts on she must pay a "certain price" and then she continues to pay and pay and pay as the morning progresses. She finally must buy not only her own morning meal but must provide for one pledge. Pledges think it's FUN.

Take it from Virginia Sewell it's more fun to talk to Carl Dehmer, stationed in England, at 3:00 o'clock in the morning than to some local Joe at the same hour. She got a terrific call this week and we understood that it came through loud and clear.

Is Joan Primm a jinx? ... It seems she rode to Topeka to see Helen Cartter with Dale Gardner, Bob Bauerle, Marc Stover and Ray Batt. On the way up they had two flats. The fellows proceeded to Kansas City and returning picked up Joan and were down the road a piece when the fan flew through the radiator. So they all had to catch a train and finally arrived home about 2 a. m.

Navy pea coats and army fatigue flight jackets have become THE vogue for campus coeds. Incidentally we hear that shoes are coming in for their share of reconversion. The heels will either be three inch spikes or pancake flats. Also the less shoe leather tacked onto the sole the better. Sandals are coming into their own again because stylists say that enclosed loafer styles are harmful to the feet. However this season it is a toss-up between moccasins and sandals on the campus.

Wonder what all those returned veterans find to talk about as they sit huddled together 'round a table in the Commons? Must be i-n-t-e-r-e-s-t-i-n-g... 'cause they ALWAYS draw the crowd!
