

University Band Goes To Topeka

200 Game Tickets Go On Sale in Business Office Today for $1.25

BULLETIN

Two hundred unreserved seats priced at $1.25, taxes included, were received yesterday from Washburn University for the Shocker-Ichabod game Saturday night in Topeka. Tickets can be obtained from the cashier's window at the University business office. These tickets were all that could be obtained for students, faculty and Wichita fans.

University band, drum major, majorettes, and cheerleaders will travel to Topeka this week end to lead students attending the Washburn-Wichita University game in traditional Shocker spirit.

A parade to be led down Kansas Avenue by the band will start at the Union train station. Students driving from Wichita to the game and desirous of entering the parade are requested to meet at the station at 4 p. m. It is suggested that they decorate their cars for this first pep event of the evening.

The buses for band members will leave Wichita at 11 a. m. Saturday or the night game. Keith Fisher, vice-president of the Student Council, pointed out that due to the difference in expense of students driving to Topeka and the expense

Parnassus to Honor Prince and Princess

Again this year, the staff of the Parnassus, University of Wichita yearbook, will sponsor a contest to determine the best snapshots of life and scenes of the University of Wichita campus, Lois Burrell, editor, announced.

"This contest will be open to any amateur photographer on the campus, and the man and woman submitting the winning pictures will be named "Picture Prince" and "Picture Princess," to be honored in a full page spread in this year's Parnassus."

"The photographer's name and classification, as well as identification of the snapshot subject, must be indicated on the back of each snapshot submitted. The picture should then be placed in the "photograph box," which will be located at the main floor rotunda," Miss Burrell, concluded.

Collection of Rare Books is Housed In University Library

Primarily, the University Library is a place to check out books and to study, but it is more than that. It also houses a fine collection of rare books.

The basis of the collection was started in 1903 by Theodore Morrison, librarian. With his father, who was then president of Fairmount College, he wrote to his friends in New England who sent books and periodicals. One of the contributors was Edward Everett Hale, author of "A Man Without a Country."

Since then the collection has increased rapidly. The oldest volume is a medical book written in Latin and dated 1529. There are also handwritten footnotes in Latin on the pages.

The most valuable set is entitled "Manuscript Facsimiles Relating to America, 1773-83." The value is increased because of many famous signatures scattered through it. The former owner of the set collected letters and signatures of famous people such as John Hancock and pasted them on the empty pages. A similar set, without the signatures, was sold to another university for $2,500.

Also included is a seventh edition of Ben Jonson's Dictionary, dated 1785. It includes his definition of oats: "A grain which in England is generally given to horses, but in Scotland supports the people."

Ride 'em Cowboy

Wearing of traditional Homecoming regalia — jeans, plaid shirts, 10-gallon hats, etc.—will begin on the campus next Thursday, Keith Oliver, president of Student Council, announced.

Oliver said that wood for the wood pile contest to be carried on among the four fraternities the eve of Homecoming must come from legitimate sources and wood from other sources will not be counted by the judges. Prizes will be given on quantity of wood gathered.

Traffic Rule Into Effect

Car Tagging to Start Change Violators Fee

"Tagging of students' cars will start next Monday, and a fee of $1 will be charged for parking violations," according to John Gaddis, superintendent of building and grounds.

"The violation fee will be immediately payable at the cashier's window," Gaddis continued, "and the fee is made necessary by the inability of the students to take care of the parking problem themselves and by the many violations noted each day even after the students had been warned."

Additional parking area will be available Monday immediately north of the present parking lot. A small space in the new parking area will be for visitors and will be plainly marked by signs. This space is prohibited to students' cars.

Prohibited areas for parking will be the service drives, some of the curves where parking congests the traffic, and spaces where sidewalks enter the pavement. All prohibited places will be marked by signs or red paint on the curbing. Students may park only on the right side of the street, determined by the direction in which the car is headed.

A measure that would help considerably is the pooling of cars by the students, stated Gaddis.

Shock Picks Yell Leaders

Men cheer leaders were chosen at the last meeting of the Shock club. They include John Cooper, Bob Tanner, Bob Neff, and Dean Mason.

Meetings will be held at 7 p. m. each Wednesday before a game in Room 436 Administration. All members are asked to attend. Men interested in joining will be welcome.

Club sweaters have arrived and members may obtain them at Henry's Clothing Store.

Rules for Varsities Announced; Group Will Approve Plan

Rules to govern all future varsities have been announced by the athletic policy committee, student affairs committee, and the varsity committee.

1. Use of the men's gymnasium for dances is restricted to varsities.
2. Decorations and any special lighting must be approved prior to the dance by John Gaddis, superintendent of buildings and grounds. Gaddis will also supervise preparation of the floor.
3. A special dance wax will be furnished by the University, no other wax is to be used.
4. All cleaning will be done by University employees.
5. Chairmen of the dances will consult Ab Bidwell, director of men's physical education department, before scheduling dates for varsities.

Cooperation of students in accordance with these rules will determine future use of the men's gym for varsities.

ELECTION IS FRIDAY

Queen, Union Up for Vote By Students

Queen to Reign Over Festivities on Nov. 9; Polls Open at 8 a. m.

Bulletin

In the election tomorrow, students will vote on the pending Student Union Building question as well as for the Homecoming Queen. This proposal is explained in an editorial on Page 2. The proposal for a Union Building states that money is to be raised by allotting $3 of each student's tuition to this fund.

Election for the Homecoming Queen will be held from 8 a. m. to 1 p. m. tomorrow in the Commons Lounge under the supervision of the Student Council. Candidates are Pat Suhm, Shocker coalition, and Jerry Baumgardner, Campus party.

Rules governing campaigning and voting have been announced by Jo Miller, Student Council member in charge of the election.

The rules prohibit campaigning in the lounge and campaign literature in the voting booths. Also, the coalitions are requested not to put posters on newly painted walls with scotch tape. The final campaigning rule prevents the use of a loud speaker except between classes.

Miss Miller also explained the voting rules. Pencils will be provided in the booths and the ballots should be marked with an X for Homecoming Queen and marked with a YES or NO vote for the pending Student Union Building. The voter should write the number of the ballot and sign his name to the card which accompanies the ballot.

After marking the ballot, the card is handed to the Council member just outside the voting booths and the ballot is given to Ruth Price, Commons hostess. Mrs. Price will tear off the number and place the ballot in the ballot box, stated Miss Miller.

Student Council members and a representative of each of the social organizations will supervise the election.

Play Sports Large Cast

Tryouts for casting of the next University Players production, "Family Portrait," will begin next Monday at 3 p. m. A large cast of 10 women and 20 men will be chosen from all members of the school, including the faculty, George D. Wilner, professor of dramatic art, urges all who would like to participate to come Monday and try for parts.

"Family Portrait" depicts the family of Jesus Christ in a modern setting and shows how Jesus Christ would appear in the world of today.

Members of the play production class will present a series of one-act plays on Nov. 15 and 16. The members producing plays are William Glen, Gertrude Greenburg, Patricia Hinshaw, Sylvester Hotze, Maxine Sargent and Shirley Tedlock.

Instructor Receives Prize in Art Show

Alma Eikerman, instructor in the fine arts department of the University of Wichita, received the second prize of $75 at the thirteenth annual Kansas Prairie Water Color Show, held Saturday at the Wichita Art Museum.

Clayton Staples, head of the fine arts department, was one of the judges of the works entered in the contest.

The exhibition will be on display for the next three weeks.

Homecoming Recalls To Mind 'Good Old Days' of Yesteryear

That day so cherished in the hearts of University of Wichita alumni—Homecoming—is just around the corner again. For the twentieth time since the school was made a municipal university the graduates will cast aside more serious matters to meet with the "old gang" when the Shockers hold their annual celebrations the week-end of Nov. 6.

On Homecoming Day alumni gather to talk over old times and discuss the things that used to be. It is an occasion that is looked forward to with longing by old grads. Friends meet past friends for the first time in years. Lettermen meet their former team mates and stories are told of how "back in '29 so-and-so caught a pass in the last two seconds to enable the Shockers to beat Embraceable U. 6 to 0."

Homecoming Week has become a standout event in a large number of the larger colleges and universities of the country. Absent during the war years in many of the schools, it is now making its appearance again with the return of football teams to full strength.

Snake dances, burning of freshmen caps and the election of Homecoming Queens will be the order of the day once again the nation over. Some Homecoming traditions which were absent during the war will appear this year. With the male students back on the campus in great number the old custom of beard-growing will add to the color of the celebration.

One of the old traditions is the bonfire. Grads and students traditionally spend Homecoming eve cheering and snake-dancing around the fire. In the days before the war the fraternities competed in trying to build the largest wood pile for the bonfire. There were times when some irate farmer would arrive on the campus and angrily identify part of the wood pile as his chicken house or other property.

Back in the days of Fairmount College the annual Fairmount-Friends University game was recognized as the Homecoming game. In those days Homecoming activities included such things as cross-country races.

In 1926 the Shockers played their first Homecoming game under the name of the University of Wichita. The parade students staged that year was the largest in the school's history to that date. Led by the R.O.T.C. band, the parade consisting of students and alumni on foot and in autos, stretched for several blocks, and the Shockers defeated their Southwestern rivals 17 to 0 at old Island Park.

One of the biggest Homecoming celebrations occurred in 1929 when a parade which included 25 floats was led by a police escort. A prize was given to the alumnus who had traveled the longest distance to attend the celebration. However, the old grads sat in the stands that day in the midst of a pouring rain and watched their Alma Mater go down to defeat at the hands of the Emporia State grid team.

Flavor was added to the 1934 Homecoming game by the fact that the Shocker's opponent was again Southwestern. For several nights before the big game Southwestern students made trips to the Shocker campus to paint the school's initials on the sidewalks.

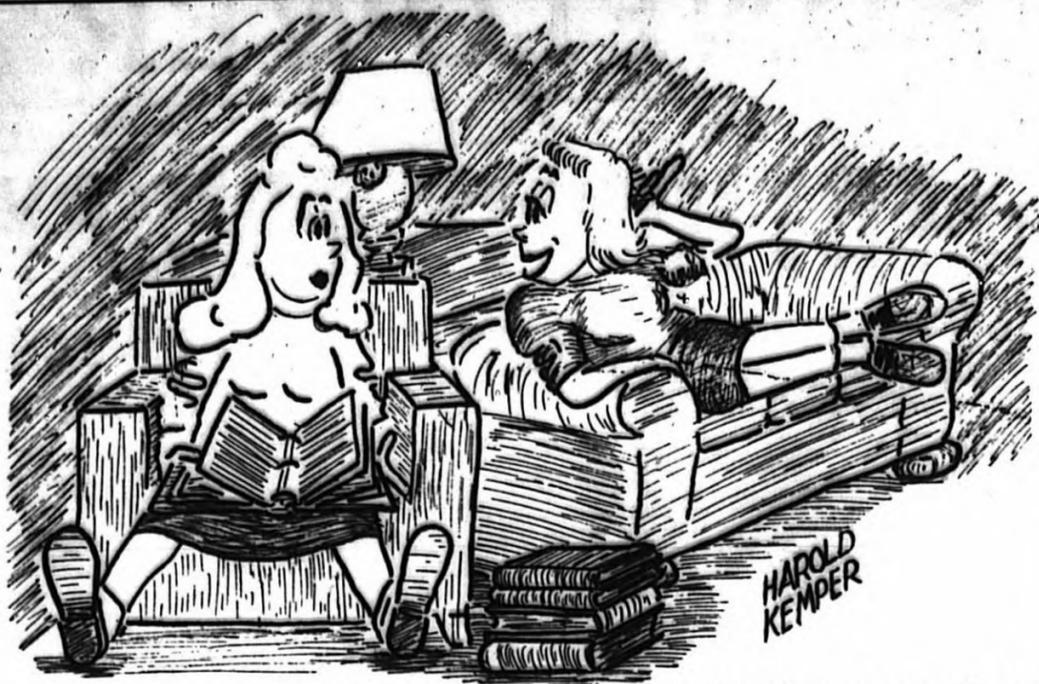

When some University of Wichita students attempted to retaliate by painting "W's" at the entrance of the Administration Building at Winfield, they were met by more than 100 Southwestern students. Local men returned home minus their hair. Finally a treaty was agreed upon by the student councils of the two schools.

Plans are being made for the 1946 Homecoming. Though it probably will not be as riotous as some of the past celebrations, it has prospects of becoming one of the largest in the school's history.

Homecoming Ticket Sale

Oh, I don't believe that a boy friend should necessarily have to have a lot of brains, money, and a car—after all, what are a few brains?

Student Building

The Student Council has adopted unanimously the following resolution favoring a method of raising funds to finance a much-needed Union Building:

"WHEREAS, the Student Council of the University of Wichita is of the opinion that present facilities for relaxation and refreshments on the campus are hopelessly inadequate because of the limited size of the Commons, and

"WHEREAS, the Student Council believes that the passing of time will find these crowded conditions more acute, therefore,

"BE IT RESOLVED, that the Student Council go on record as favoring the institution of proceedings to result in the erection of a building on the campus to serve as a Student Union Building.

"BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Student Council go on record as favoring the following method of raising funds for this project; each student shall pay a sum of $3.00 once each semester at the time of tuition payment. This money is to be placed in a fund, and may not be removed except for this project. The approval and consent of the Student Council must be obtained before any construction may commence."

A vote in favor of this resolution is a vote for a better University.

GRAD GOSSIP

Charm of the East—

What is this charm that the far East has for University of Wichita grads? Melba Van Sickle, '44 (1946 Homecoming chairman), Dorothy Dunn, '45, and Helen Hege, '45 (Sorosis), have just returned from a two week's vacation in New York City and Washington, D. C. They planned to fly both ways, but because of certain strike complications they came back on the train. Edward "Pete" Armstrong, '42, and Jim Mader, '42, headed east about the middle of September. They stopped at Boston, Mass., and saw Jim Kirkwood, '42, and Tom Barr, '39, at Harvard. Mader then headed for Worcester, Mass., to attend Clark University, and Pete returned to Wichita after three weeks. Paul Hesse, '46, and his new bride (Betty Aylward) are making a honeymoon tour through New England and other eastern poifits of interest.

Paul Jerome Preston—
Paul Jerome Preston, '43, is interning at the St. Luke's Hospital in Kansas City, Mo. He received his M.D. degree from the University of Pennsylvania in March, 1946. While on the campus, Jerry was a member of Phi Upsilon Sigma.

Harold Bell, '46—
Harold Bell, '46, is teaching physics at the Lawrence Institute of Technology in Detroit, Mich. Lawrence Institute has about 2,200 engineering students, and Harold writes that he's keeping quite busy.

Lt. Hugh S. Brady—
Lt. Hugh S. Brady, '40, has joined the staff of the Army General Dispensary at the Kansas City Quartermaster depot. Lt. Brady received his Doctor's degree in 1945 from the University of Kansas and interned in St. Francis Hospital, Wichita. The Army General Dispensary serves all armed forces personnel in the Kansas City area.

Alpha Gamma Gamma—
Alpha Gamma Gamma Fraternity held a memorial service in the University auditorium last Sunday. Memorial talks were given by Bob Fidler, active, and Charles Dunn, '40, alumnus. The service was in commemoration of the 17 Alpha Gams who lost their lives in World War II.

R. L. "Pete" Simmons—
R. L. "Pete" Simmons, '33, has returned to Japan to help repay his debt to GI's by teaching. After three years in a Manila prison camp, Pete was rescued by U. S. soldiers. He feels that education is the best way to serve these men. When the army's need for teachers was revealed, Pete was working on his Doctor's degree at U. C. L. A. He has asked for assignment to the Eleventh Airborne Division in Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost island. Associated Press carried this article in last week's paper. You will be interested to know that Pete was here this summer visiting his sister, and has recovered from his prison illness.

Dinner Meeting—
Still reminding people about the dinner meeting in Topeka, Nov. 2, at the Jayhawk Hotel, before the Washburn-W. U. game. We'd like to have your reservations here in the alumni office.

Annual art exhibition of the art faculty of the University of Wichita presented Sunday in the gallery of Morrison Hall was well attended by other faculty members and patrons of the fine arts. The exhibition will be open to the public during school hours until tomorrow.

A reception was held in the gallery of Morrison Hall for Harold A. Decker, tenor, and Beatrice Sanford Pease, his accompanist, following his recital Tuesday evening.

Dr. W. B. Burnett, head of the Foundation for Industrial Research, spoke at a meeting of the Winfield Chamber of Commerce last Monday noon at Winfield, Kansas.

the mail with the subsistence check.

VETERANS who have service-incurred wounds or disabilities may file claim for these at any time after their discharge. If a statement was signed at the time of discharge stating that they were in good health and that they did not desire to file for a disability pension, it is not binding. This particular situation is covered by Sec. 105 of the G. I. Bill.

For information and assistance in filing for a disability pension contact the local offices of the Veterans Administration.

VETERANS who are holders of National Life Insurance will receive cash dividends. No date has yet been set for their distribution. The dividends will be paid on the policies in effect and on policies that have lapsed. The size of these payments has not yet been determined but they will be more than mere token payments. The big delay in these payments is because of the present accounting system and that many conversions of policies have taken place.

REPORTS from the Census Bureau state that there are four million veterans in the nation who desire other quarters. Some would buy in the next 12 months if suitable housing or materials are available at the right price.

The average veteran is on the market for a house that rents for not more than $43 a month or for one that sells for not more than $5,500. These figures show a close correlation with the income of the average veteran. According to the survey the weekly income of most prospective renters is $44; of prospective buyers, $48.

The survey shows that six million of the ex-servicemen surveyed are married. Of these married veterans almost two million are living in trailers or rented rooms or doubled up with other families. These two million veterans desperately need other quarters.

The veterans housing situation in Wichita shows no signs of improvement. The various service organizations here are making a study of the problem. It has been suggested that anyone having rental property would help the veterans by placing it with the Veterans Information Center, downtown. This would give the veterans first chance at any available housing.

College veterans who are in desperate need of housing may still get in at Plainview. Applications for this housing may be obtained in the office of Grace Wilkie, dean of women.

The story really began back in 1775, but repercussions did not begin until 1946, in Brooklyn. During the American Revolution, an immigrant, newly graduated from the Polish OCS, arrived in America to advance the "rebel" cause. His name, typical of all good Poles, was Kaskiasko.

After leading many a successful cavalry skirmish against British Boy Scouts, "General" Kaskiasko was acclaimed a military genius and a hero of American freedom. When final victory was achieved, and Kaskiasko returned to his homeland to become master of ceremonies for the Polish programmes, the citizenry of Brooklyn, to show their appreciation of his departure, named a street in his honor. To this day, in the backwoods country of "Greenpernt," there is a narrow, lonely lane known as Kaskiasko Street. Therein lies the story, for Kaskiasko Street is so far removed, even Kilroy wasn't there.

Brooklyn, like all good cities, has a constabulary, and like all good constabularies, the four members, McDougle, McBride, McGinty and Shapiro, Shapiro being the chief, were "flatheaded" as well as "flatfooted." It was their duty to protect the life and limb of the citizens residing in their district, and they did their work well. They played pinochle while "Greenpernt" burned.

McDougle, pride of the force, was a man of unusual stature. He was seven feet tall, weighed 57 pounds, and was the only constable who could squat standing up. McDougle was facing the chief waiting for his assignment.

"McDougle," screamed Chief Shapiro, "I got a tough assignment, and you're the only one I can count on to mess it up."

McDougle beamed at this compliment, and arose from the chief's lap to draw himself to attention.

"You mean to stand there with your bare face hanging out, and your ruby red lips just flapping in the breeze and tell me I'm gonna cover Kaskiasko Street?" McDougle gasped as he picked himself off the floor.

The chief stiffened at those words—stiff from drinking. "Easy man, them's fighting words where I come from."

"Well, why don't you fight?"

"Cause that ain't where I come from."

After embracing each other tenderly, McDougle, without a backward glance, left. Upon reaching his beat, he amused himself by slugging rats in the garbage cans. Slugging rats is a time-honored sport in Brooklyn. Rounding a corner, McDougle stubbed his toe on the carcass of a horse which was nonchalantly lying in the middle of the street.

"Too big to stuff down the sewer. Guess I better make out a report and call the nearest butcher. Can't let fresh meat go to waste."

McDouglas had little trouble making out the report until he came to the question which asked for the name of the street the horse was found. Unable to spell Kaskiasko, and lacking the intelligence to look at the street sign, he took the only other alternative.

Two days later McDougle was found dead from exhaustion. He had dragged the carcass a total of five miles to Myrtle Avenue.

As the sun sets over the beautiful burough of Brooklyn, and the odor of the garbage dumps rise over the Geowanis canal, 35 male voices from the Fulton fishmarket chorus croak a tribute to the memory of Officer McDougle:

"Here's to McDougle, the cop on the beat.
He protects us bravely through rain, snow and heat.
Where his soul is going, no one can tell,
But he'd still be with us if he knew how to spell."

Gala Hallowe'en Feed Held by Sororities

A joint Hallowe'en picnic was held by Sorosis and Pi Kappa Psi sororities yesterday immediately after sorority meeting. Tables were set up between the two houses and a weiner roast followed, thus reviving an old Hallowe'en tradition of the two sororities.

Carol Groom, Sorosis; and Mary Ann Cruse, Pi Kappa Psi, served as co-chairmen for the affair. Included in the committee were Ellen McEwen, Rita Steinkirchner, Mary Lou Hereford and Virginia Kiefer.

HAPPY HOMECOMING to you and may the best party win. With election stunts hitting a new high, election rivalry climbs steadily.

ANGELS' music was in the air t'other night when Delta Omega serenaded the fraternities and several houses where unaffiliateds live. Kappa Rhos are mighty pleased to see Bernie Witt's ring back on Nadine Cumming's finger. She passed chocolates very unexpectedly last week with the Big Event set for Valentine's Day. Elmo Reiff declares the story of the year lies behind Jack Magathan's nickname of "Frisky."

LEGIONS will be interested to know that there is a movement under way to revive the "Blue Knee," honorary organization which thrived on the campus before the war. Gammass proudly announce the purchase of a new rug for their spacious living room floor. A. T. Pat Hinshaw comes out with Andy Chandler's K. U. frat pin while Katie Parham and Helen Frambers pass chocolates over D. O. way. The fellows are Dale Taggart and Loren Lake. Latest report on the Christy-Marten jalopy romance is that they have exchanged piston rings already.

SOROSIS and Pi Kaps pull a friendly neighbor act and entertain one another at a joint Hallowe'en party with all the trimmings. Don't be surprised if you hear of one big, tragic suicide following the Gamma dance Saturday... enough said. Kappa Rhos are buzzing 'bout their hay-rack party that's planned to keep Hallowe'en ghosts up all night. Raves were heard about the floor show at the Pi Kap date night last week... Findlay in her "Roarin' Twenties" costume laid them in the aisles.

CHECK the guest list this week to see how many B.T.O.'s will attend Both the Phi Sig and Gamma dances. The Sunflower is deluged with requests as to where the fire towers are, in reference to smoking regulations in buildings. Jerry Beardsly is still ravin' about her big week-end at Illinois U.

Mu Phi to Initiate Pledges at Service

Formal initiation services will be held by Mu Phi Epsilon, national music sorority, following a dinner at Droll's English Grill at 6:30 p. m. tomorrow. Pledges to be initiated are Beverly Coldsnow and Marjorie Raders.

Officers of the sorority for this semester are Gloria Fouts, president; Nancy Glenn, vice president; Beth LaGree, recording secretary; Abbie Slentz, corresponding secretary; and Melba Bram, treasurer.

Dance Held By Phi Sigs

A dance honoring pledges of Phi Upsilon Sigma fraternity will be held from 9 to 12 p. m., tomorrow in the English Room of the Broadview Hotel. Sully Sullivan and his orchestra will play.

Chairman of the dance is Bob Johnson. A skit entitled "The Week-End That Lost Dan McGrew," under the direction of Bill Fox, will be presented by pledges at intermission.

Topeka Trip

At game halftime the Shocker band will go onto the field to present a "Salute to Kansas Industry." Opening the salute will be Thurlow Lieurance's "Wheat Salute," at which time the band members will stand in the form of a wheat shock. While representing an oil derrick, the group will play "Happy Days Are Here Again," and closing their salute the group will play "Army Air Corps Song" while forming an airplane.

Other traditional pep songs will be led by the band and during the halftime they will honor both Universities by forming a "W.U."

Approximately 80 band members will make the trip, James Kerr, director, announced.

Wichita String Quartet will present its first recital on Nov. 4, at 8 p. m. in the Common's lounge. This organization is sponsored by the music department of the University. The personnel includes David Robertson, first violin; Beatrice Sanford Pease, second violin; Dorothy McConnell, viola; Gretchen Dalley, cello. The concert will feature the music of Beethoven and Dvorak.

Don McNeil's Breakfast Club will feature the Institute of Logopedics on his program between 8 and 9 a. m. tomorrow, according to Velma Rippeteau, instructor at the Institute. The broadcast will be over the ABC network and radio station KFBI.

Logopedics Opens Citizenship School At University

Official opening of the Citizenship School and Workshop for speech handicapped children, newest branch of the Institute of Logopedics, was held Monday, according to Velma Rippeteau, instructor at the Institute.

Florence Magilton, occupational therapist at Swarthmore, Pa., will direct the activity of the workshop.

Purpose of the new School and Workshop is to offer vocational training to some of the more severely handicapped persons now receiving speech correction training at the Institute. Fifty cases weekly will soon receive training, it is estimated by Miss Magilton. Social adjustment and general personal habits will be stressed, along with vocational training.

The workshop is believed to be the first of its kind in the nation set up for speech defectives. Each person is to receive sufficient training to make him, to the greatest extent, self-sustaining, and reduce his chances of being dependent on family or community.

Already some finished products have been turned out by the enthusiastic children and adults experimenting with crafts offered. There are courses in sewing, gardening, carpentry, housework, pottery, silversmithing, gem-cutting and setting, typing, painting, industrial arts and other crafts.

Pegasus, which meets each Friday has named four new officers. Jean Hays heads the membership committee and Marge Morris is co-chairman.

Whan Releases New Research Studies

Three radio research studies have been released by Dr. F. L. Whan, head of the speech department.

These studies are the result of statewide studies of three states. The material was collected by 800 colleges and universities, of which the University of Wichita served as the nucleus.

"Reconversion Plans of Kansas Families" is a statewide study of the purpose, plan, savings, radio ownership and residence of Kansas families.

"Oklahoma Radio Audiences of 1945-46" is a study covering every county of Oklahoma for listening attitudes, program preferences and opinions concerning educational programs.

"Iowa Radio Audiences of 1946" is a study of listening preferences and attitudes toward commercials.

Rifle Team Positions Open for Competition

Competition between members of the R.O.T.C. for positions on the rifle team began last week when the small-arms range was opened. Targets have been under a steady barrage and score sheets show considerable improvement of shooting skill among members of the unit.

S/Sgt. Charles S. Ryburn, who is in charge of the range, states that training will continue for quite some time and badges will be awarded to those who pass qualification tests in firing.

Organization of a crack drill platoon composed of advanced students is underway. The platoon will make its debut at the halftime of one of the football games played at Veterans Field.

Awards will be presented to top-notch men and units of the University of Wichita R.O.T.C. by the John Hopkins Legion Post of Wichita, according to Capt. Glen H. Burrow.

Members of Faculty Will Attend Meeting Throughout Kansas

Many members of the faculty will attend meetings throughout the state this weekend. Several of the faculty members will be speakers at their various meetings.

Jacquetta Downing, chairman of the French department and state fellowship chairman for the American Association of University Women, will attend a state board meeting at Topeka tomorrow and Saturday.

Eugene Savaiano, French and Spanish instructor, will speak before the Kansas Modern Language Association at Topeka tomorrow. His subject will be "Franco-American Relationships During World War II."

Katherine Van Keuren, assistant professor of home economics, will speak to the home economics roundtable of the Kansas State Teacher's Meeting tonight at the Allis Hotel.

Kansas Music Educators Conference will meet in Topeka on Nov. 1 and 2. Members of the University faculty who will attend are Carl Holman, assistant professor of public school music, David Robertson, director of the symphony, Walter Duerkson, chairman of the music department, Oriem Dalley, professor of musicology, Harold Decker, professor of voice and choral singing, and Gordon Te williger, instructor of piano.

P. S. Albright, professor and head of the physics department, W. Burnett, head of the Foundation for Industrial Research, and L. Lyon, a member of the Foundation for Industrial Research, attended a meeting of the Oklahoma section of the American Chemical Society last Saturday.

Leslie B. Sipple, dean of the College of Education, will be chairman of the college section of the State Teachers Association meeting at the Allis Hotel tomorrow.

Shockers Out to Win At Topeka

Team Meets Washburn On Saturday Night For Seventeenth Time

The University of Wichita Shockers, renewing football activity after week's layoff, will meet the Washburn University Ichabods at Topeka this Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock.

This will be the seventeenth meeting of the two teams since 1928. The Shockers hold the advantage when past records are considered. The Wichitans have emerged victorious in 10 of the 17 meetings while the Ichabods have been able to win only 5. In 1941, the two squads fought to a 7-7 deadlock. The Shockers have amassed 239 points to Washburn's 116.

Coach Ralph Graham has stated that the team is primed and in top shape for its tilt with the Ichabod eleven. The Shocker mentor would not make any predictions as to the final outcome of the game.

DOPE IS EVEN

Pre-game dope has placed the two squads on an even keel for the game under the lights.

Linwood Sexton, who dropped somewhat in the national football standings this week because of last week's open date, will be in the starting lineup at his regular left half position. Sexton is expected to mark the team with his running and passing to the Shocker's second string of the season.

Art Hodges, fullback, will also be in the starting lineup against the Ichabods and he is expected to aid Sexton in the rushing department. Hodges also came into mention in the national football ratings last week with his outstanding work in blocking.

Charles Gibson, 165-pound senior right half, has been showing up well in practice sessions this week and may get the nod for that starting position in Saturday's game.

HARMON IS TRICKY

The Ichabods, who are undefeated in play this year, have a strong squad to throw against the Shockers. Coach Dick Godlove can get an ace fullback in the person of Roy Harmon into his lineup.

Harmon does nearly all the passing and kicking and a good share of the ball carrying for the Topeka team.

Other personalities standing out in the Washburn lineup are Clarence Eddy, 265-pound right tackle, Bennett Eddy, 182-pound left guard, and Art Fletcher, right end, who is the outstanding pass receiver on the Ichabod squad.

Once again the Shocker line will be outweighed as the Topekans will average 204 pounds.

The Washburn team is a member of the Central Conference and at present is leading that circuit with 10 victories.

U. SEEKS REVENGE

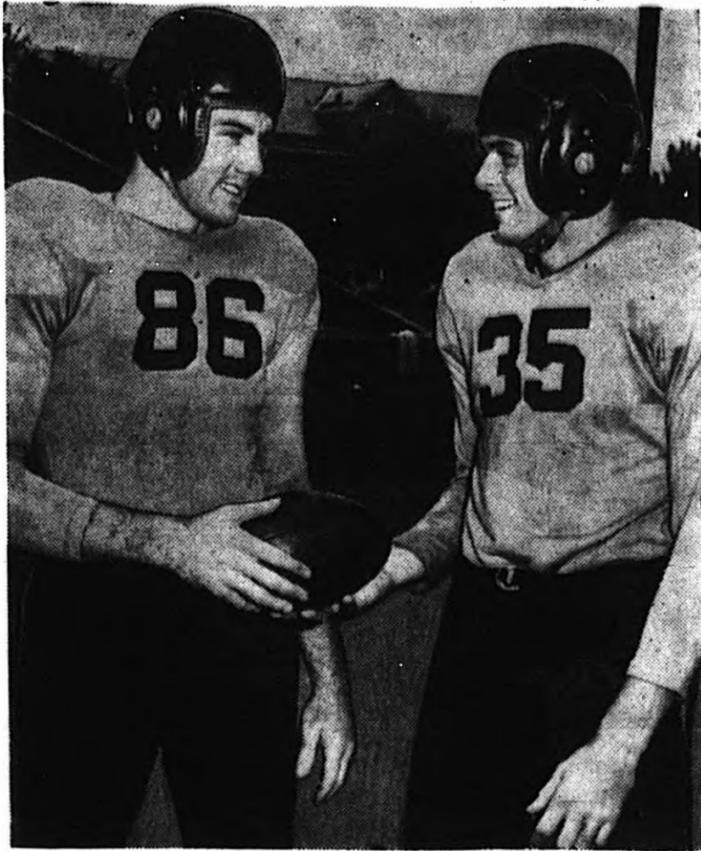

Previous Ichabod victims this year have been Hastings College, Augustana College, Emporia State, Iowa Wesleyan, Pittsburg Teachers, and St. Benedict's College.

The Shockers, who have met longer opposition than the Ichabods this season, will be out to seek revenge for a 14-0 defeat they suffered at the hands of the Topekans last year.

A large group of students and alumni are expected to accompany the team to Washburn to witness the second night game on the Shocker schedule.

Following are the probable lineups for both teams:

Wichita	Pos.	Topeka
Olson	LT	Meads
Eddy	LG	B. Eddy
Shields	RG	Joe Pollom
C. Eddy	RT	Fletcher
Fraser	RE	Yeoman
Anderson	QB	Harmon
Anderson	LH
Anderson	RH
Harmon	FB

SHOCKER SIDELIGHTS

By Lester Rosen

There are but six undefeated top teams in the nation with the beginning of the second half of the football season. The six teams are Army, Notre Dame, Pennsylvania, U. C. L. A., Georgia, and Harvard.

Those listed above are the elevens ranked high in national ratings, there are many other undefeated teams that do not receive the recognition because of meeting lighter opposition. Among such teams are the Shocker opponents for this week-end the Washburn University Ichabods.

The Ichabods are leading the Central Conference with six victories and will be out for their seventh win against the Shockers.

Teams Even

The Shocker squad will be out to stop the Washburn eleven and get revenge for the 14-0 defeat administered by the Topekans in 1945.

As for the dope in the game Saturday night it is about even, but we personally look for the Shockers to come through with the victory in a close fought game.

Washburn and Wichita first met in 1928. Since that time they have played 16 games with the Shockers winning 10, the Ichabods 5, and one game ended in a 7-7 tie.

Boost the Team

With the game being played in Topeka, Kans., which really isn't too far away, many students could follow the team to Washburn and see a good football game. The kickoff is at 8:30 p. m. That should give those persons who work until noon on Saturday sufficient time to get to Topeka.

The marching band under the direction of James A. Kerr is making the trip and the alumni association is holding a reunion for grads now living in Topeka at the game. These should be inducements for students and alumni to make the trip and boost the team.

Intramural Football Started

Intramural touch football is now in full swing each Tuesday and Thursday afternoon. The four organizations entered are hard at work polishing up on their plays and before the season is out some excellent performances can be expected from each of them.

Ab Bidwell, supervisor of the intramural program and men's physical education instructor, and Dick Elving, director of the program have done well in providing a clean, lively sports pro-

Four Teams Play Today

Phi Sig 'A' Team In Touch Football Lead

Two touch football games are on the intramural schedule for this afternoon starting at 4 o'clock with the Men of Webster "A" team meeting the Phi Upsilon Sigma "B" squad and the Alpha Gamma Gamma "A" team meeting its own "B" squad.

Phi Upsilon Sigma "A" team grabbed the lead in the football series when it won an 18-0 victory over the Independent Students Association "A" team last Tuesday. The victory was the second win for the Phi Sigs in that many starts.

Alpha Gamma Gamma "A's" and the Webster "A's" are tied for second place, each having won one game. The I.S.A. "A's" and Webster "B's" are also tied for third place with one win and one loss each.

In the second game played on Tuesday the Webster "B" team defeated the I.S.A. "B" squad, 14-2.

In games played last week the Alpha Gamma "A" team defeated the Webster "B's" in the closest game of the series thus far. It was not until the final seconds of play that the Gammas were able to come through with the winning tally to make the final score, 13-12.

The Webster "A" team played hard charging ball to defeat the Gamma "B" squad, 18-6, in the second game of the afternoon.

Following are lineups in Tuesday's games:

I.S.A. "B" (2)	Pos.	Webster "B" (14)
Konecny	RE	B. Daniels
Richee	C	Taylor
Stangar	LE	Keefer
Breth	LH	Mandel

gram for the organizations entered.

Homecoming Game Next

St. Louis University will bring a strong team to Wichita for the Homecoming game, Saturday, November 9.

We did fairly well in our predictions of last week. Last week's score was eight correct and two missed. This week we select Wichita over Washburn, Oklahoma A&M over Kansas, Notre Dame over Navy, Indiana over Pittsburgh, Army over West Virginia, Cincinnati over Tulsa, Nebraska over Missouri, Illinois over Iowa, Oklahoma over Texas Christian, and Texas over So. Methodist.

The second soccer game was scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 30, when Alpha Tau Sigma was to meet Pi Kappa Psi.

Following are the starting lineups in the first soccer game:

I.S.A. (5)	Pos.	Pi Kappa Psi (1)
Masters	RW	Clark
Bradshaw	Inner R	Findlay, H.
Rainey	CF	Douglas
Green	Inner L	Grieb
