Election To Be Held For Women's Student Council Representatives Friday

Shocker and Campus Coalitions Announce Platforms, Candidates; Balloting To Be Held In Commons Lounge Between 8 a. m. and 1 p. m.

Election of women's Student Council representatives for four classes will be held in the Commons Lounge from 8 a. m. to 1 p. m. tomorrow with members from every campus organization at the polls to supervise the balloting. General election rules for the campus will remain in effect. Campaigning will not be permitted in the Commons, and public address systems will be used only during the five-minute periods between classes. Votes must be cast according to classes.

Campus Coalition

Candidates of the Campus Coalition for tomorrow's election of Student Council representatives have been announced as Lois Burrell, senior representative, Jane Miller, junior, Blye Hinshaw, sophomore, and Bette McIntosh, freshman.

Among accomplishments emphasized are the facts that the Campus Coalition supported the movement of the Union Building, played a major part in writing of a new constitution which will give unaffiliated students definite representation, fostered better relations between faculty and students and worked actively into all charity and aid association drives on the campus.

Points emphasized in the Campus platform are:

1. Better campus representation of non-Greeks as well as Greeks.
2. More efficient administration in regard to varsities, and hold elections on dates scheduled in the constitution. (Tomorrow's election was scheduled for the second Friday in January.)
3. Fuller co-operation with non-campus organizations on the campus.
4. Better co-operation with the

Shocker Coalition

The election tomorrow will see a slate of progressive candidates offered by the Shocker Coalition. Heading the list is the senior candidate, Joan Bond. Maxae Wells Fey is the junior choice. Margaret Ann Hesse leads the sophomore ticket, while Jo Ann McKinley is the freshman candidate.

The Shocker campaign is emphasizing its constructive record of administrative accomplishment. Among the many progressive ideas adopted by the present Shocker Student Council is the Student Union project, the gaining of smoking privileges within the buildings on the campus, and the suggestion of ten minute intervals between classes. (To be put in effect next semester.)

The highlights of the Shocker platform include the following points:

1. Continuation of recent Shocker gains, such as fair elections, smoking privileges and representation of all classes of students.
2. Adoption of needed revisions in the school student body constitution.
3. Early completion of Student Union project.
4. Additional improvement in parking situation.

Jo Miller, chairman of the Shocker Coalition for this election, remarked, "I feel confident that the discerning voter will recognize the superiority of the Shocker candidates. It is evident that the record of the present Shocker Administration justifies the continued support of the student body. Look to the Shockers for leadership."

New Combo On Campus

In keeping with the nation-wide trend of breaking down to small dance outfits, a group of University musicians have formed a jazz dance combo to play varsity and social organization dances.

All members of the band have played previously with name bands and with service outfits returning to Wichita to attend the University on the GI Bill. All played with popular local bands before joining road groups.

Members of the union combo are Jim Starkey, bass, George Urish, piano, Dean Skaggs, drums, Bill Skillman, trombone, Eddie Millar, sax and clarinet, and Harry Budke, trumpet.

A full library of popular, danceable tunes have been arranged.

Proof Deadline Near

Proofs for Parnassus pictures must be returned to the Rembrandt Studio, 127 N. Topeka by January 31, according to Lois Burrell, editor of this year's yearbook.

"Pictures of those who have not returned their proofs by the 31st will not appear in the Parnassus", said Miss Burrell.

Theta Chi Becomes Only National Frat On Campus

Theta Chi, University of Wichita men's honorary music fraternity, became the only national men's fraternity on the campus, as a 43-year-old precedent of the Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, national music organization, was broken.

For the first time in the history of the national organization a petition was submitted in person for membership at the national convention. This year's convention was held at the University of Michigan, Dec. 28 and 29.

The precedent was broken when Ted Cervania and John Davies, president of the local chapter, traveled to Ann Arbor, Michigan to present the petition in person, and the petition was voted on at the meeting. Customarily, petitions are circulated among the chapters by mail, for voting.

Phi Mu Alpha is the largest honorary men's music fraternity in the world, with 27 chapters in major universities in the country. Members must be of at least sophomore standing and must be a music major or must have made a contribution to music.

The local chapter was organized in the fall of 1945 by a handful of music students, with Robert Hollowell as the first president. The fraternity numbered 20 members at the time of its organization and has 32 members at present.

Local officers are John Davies, president; Harold Lutz, vice-president; John Moore, treasurer; Merrill Gresham, secretary; Lyle Dilley, historian; and Gaillard Mattsen, sergeant-at-arms.

Festive Plans Set Date For January 28

Candidates for Queen Honors are Chosen; Royalty Reign at Dance

Festive Parnassus varsity featured annually in honor of the Parnassus Queen will be held from 8:30 to 12 p. m. Tuesday, Jan. 28 at the Blue Moon, Bill Mandle and Duane Hamilton, co-chairmen of the varsity committee announced.

Candidates for the honor, each representing a social organization on the campus, are Donna Baillie, Delta Omega; Karen Van Brimmer, Independent Students Association; Kay Brown, Alpha Tau Sigma; Beverly Butcher, Sorosis; Barbara Mitchell, Pi Kappa Psi; and Jean Gay, Epsilon Kappa Rho. The candidates were chosen by the executive board of the sorority they represent.

Don Glazier and his versatile band have been secured to provide the music for dancing. During the first half-hour of dancing a newly organized varsity dance combo organized by Jim Starkey, popular local musician, will play.

The gala affair will be the first semi-formal all-school dance of the year.

Highlighting the evening's features will be the intermission announcement and coronation of the Parnassus queen chosen by Glazier. The other candidates will be introduced by Lois Burrell, yearbook editor, and her court, comprised of the other five candidates, will reign throughout the remainder of the dance and the queen will be honored by special music by the band. The royalty and their dates will be seated at a prominent table.

Glazier will meet the candidates prior to the dance at a dinner to be held at the Moon. Lester Rosen will be in charge of the dinner.

Guests attending the dinner will be Mr. and Mrs. T. Leeford Givens, (Continued on Page 8)

W.U. Backs Polio Drive

In co-operation with the officials of the city wide polio drive, University of Wichita Student Council will conduct a drive on the campus and urges all students to be represented by their contributions, Keith Oliver, president, announced.

The date of the drive on the campus has not been decided due to the conflicting finals week followed by registration week.

However dimes with the campaign slogan pasted on them have been circulated on the campus and students are urged to give every cent they can spare.

"If all marked dimes received on the campus in change for cokes or candy bars are contributed to the drive, the University will have done much to prevent the spread of this dreaded disease," Oliver pointed out.

The city-wide drive which started down town Saturday is under the direction of the Wichita Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Mary Lou Hobson is in charge of the campus contributions.

Enough Books This Semester Says Head

There are now enough books to prevent any significant shortages such as were encountered last semester, if our estimates are correct, Mrs. Rose Wakefield, manager of the University book store stated this week.

"Sale of books for next semester will begin the first day of enrollment, Jan. 27. The book store will be open from 7:30 a. m. to 4 p. m., including the noon hour," Mrs. Wakefield continued.

Locks for student lockers are good for next semester.

Second semester staff positions of the student newspaper, Sunflower, and position of Business Manager for the year book, Parnassus, have been filled, according to Max W. Milbourn, acting head of the journalism department.

Modern Dance Group to Give Performance

Veterans' News

By Dean Campbell

Questions have been pouring in to the Veterans' Guidance Center about legislation now in the offing in the Eightieth Congress. One of the most up-to-date pieces of information comes from the "Vet Letter," published by Army Times.

Vet Legislation: Bills seeking more billions for veterans are raining in on Congress at the rate of 20 to 30 a day. They range from a proposed federal bonus to back pay for Joe Doakes...

Enactment is the pay-off, not introduction, and most of the big-money bills for vets are measured to make the home-town law makers look good without committing themselves very deeply.

Right now the biggest issues are (1) cash for terminal leave bonds and (2) repeal of the ceilings on combined wages and subsistence.

Only $627,000,000 in terminal leave bonds have been issued thus far against an estimated overall cost of nearly $2,500,000,000.

There are a lot of bills, but they lack organized support either inside or outside Congress and have not yet assumed a national status.

But there will be more issues when the "Big-Five" vet organizations submit their full legislative programs.

Typed on a Wednesday

For lack of inspiration, I have decided to take you on a cool tour of one of America's most unusual cities. In fact, some people say this city is not even part of the United States; others, more radical, go so far as to assert the city is out of this world.

As we enter the burrough of Brooklyn, via the Williamsburg Bridge, we are stopped by customs officials who check our passports and credentials carefully.

Immediately upon crossing the bridge we can observe the difference. The costumes of the natives are strange and the language is definitely foreign.

Crime seems to run rampant through the streets. On a corner we notice a character leaning against a lamp post, nonchalantly shooting old ladies as they emerge from a home for the aged.

From crime we move to education, and Brooklyn's numerous high schools. First to my own alma mater, Boy's High, where for days a week, 7,000 juvenile delinquents learn the intricacies of the blackjack and the nomenclature of the lead pipe.

Brooklyn is also a great sports town, for the average Brooklynite prides himself on his fair play. Whereas most ball parks are peanuts and popcorn, the vendors in Ebbetts Field hawk brick knuckles, lead pipes, and high powered rifles.

Leaving the sports arena, we travel in the direction of Coney Island, Bagdad on the herring. As it is a hot summer day, notice below us millions of people basking in the sun on a stretch of sand, referred to by the inhabitants as Brighton Beach.

Not to be outdone by other cities, Brooklyn also brags about its sons and daughters who have made good in a big way. Cliff Fadiman, literary critic of the "New Yorker", is a graduate of Boy's High.

People Like Parking Meter — So Survey By Students Proves

A university student conducted survey for the city traffic engineer of residential districts and downtown merchants to obtain a consensus of opinion on the downtown parking meters showed that women were three to one in favor of the meters while the men were almost equally divided, showing a slight margin in favor of them. Merchants were three to one in favor of retaining the meters.

Twenty-five students conducting the survey found that, in general, merchants were more opposed to the meters according to the type of business they operated. Restaurant owners and other service industries were more objectible to the meters than were merchants in other types of businesses. Service industries objected most to the drain on their supply of change that the meter created.

A thorough study was made of the non-complaint merchants and, after a hypothetical analysis, showed only a variation of no more than 7 per cent in the opinion of all the merchants.

This survey was scientifically conducted with students contacting more than 3,000 homes in the residential districts.

Opinion varied in the different sections of the city. The eastern section being more in favor of keeping the parking meters than were persons living in the western section of town.

Dr. Whan will discuss the local parking meter situation with several prominent Wichita merchants at 8:30 p. m. Thursday over station KFBI. Dr. Wall, head of the political science department will act as the moderator of the discussion.

Robert Wolf To Give Twirling Instruction with Marching Band

Class in twirling taught by Robert Wolf on the campus will be offered next semester, according to James Kerr, director of the University band.

"The new class is mostly for preparation for the fall football season and it is for both experienced and inexperienced people. Class will meet 6th hour on Wednesday and Friday with the marching band. One hour credit will be given, which may be substituted for physical education or R. O. T. C.," Kerr said.

Wolf, who has been twirling for nine years has been teaching this semester at Cathedral High School where he had groups from the high school, intermediate and grade schools. He is affiliated with the American Legion Drum Corps in Hutchinson and in Wichita.

He was head twirler of Hutchinson High School during his sophomore year, drum major there in his junior year and drum major of Wichita High School East during his senior year.

In 1941 he was declared National High School Champion of Twirling. He won all state championship at a contest at Emporia, Kansas in 1940 and was champion of Kansas American Legion for two years.

While in the navy, Wolf was featured in several exhibitions. He won first place in the Minneapolis Aquatennial and owns a trophy and a plaque which he was awarded for first place at the Hopkins Raspberry Festival.

Students interested in joining the class may contact Kerr or enroll for marching band.

HAVE you joined the T.G.I.F. (Thank God It's Friday) club yet? Just one more day and it will all be over—cept the hard part. But with finals over, foremost in every one's mind will be the swell Parnassus dance to be held at the Moon. Also which lovely candidate will be chosen queen.

ADD to that long list of steadygoers the names of Dick Mullen, Mickey McDonald and Dean Allison, Patti Hills and Chuck Mayfield, and Betty Colliette and Bill Snook.

But to be different, Venita Hood and Milton Wilkinson decide to call it a day, as do Joyce Salmons and navy boy Bob Brolund. George Meloy and Shirley Fisher reveal that they were steadying but no more. Popular gal is Frances Asher who could go steady with not one but two Gammas, so enticing are her charms.

ROUNDABOUT we see former Rectangle pledge Bob Hudgins home on leave from the navy... Charlene Parrott up and around after a recent illness... commonsensical Janet Brosius and steady fellow B. Jones... Bev. Brown making plans for a big wedding March 23... Drowsy Pi Kaps who were dragged from their beds at 5 a. m. for a breakfast at the sorority house... Pat Pottorf still searching for her lost pig... Lyn, Lawrence who still has a red face. Lipstick maybe?

JUST a few of the faces seen at the Newman club dance included Margaret Ann Hesse, Bob Neff, Dotty Gorges, Bud Elliott and Fred Garlick. Prize of the week was awarded to Sally Cuykendall at the Sorosis hen party. Nothing less than a white bunny. Anybody who wants to buy a white furpiece, just see Sally.

WITH no juicy stories to relate, we'll call it a day with this entrancing thought... Happy Final Week.

'Haul Your Man' Hop Is Reversal of Date Procedure

Gentlemen, beware! Lassies, prepare! It's male call time again—when shy maidens lose their gentle ways and snare the lads of their choice. "Haul Your Man" is the themesong of the campus as members of YWCA prepare for their annually sponsored HYM dance to be held from 9 to 12 p. m. Saturday, February 15 in the men's gym.

Betty Brush Ensign heads the dance committee with Shirley Galatas and Marjorie Van Camp serving as assistants.

One woman from each social organization on the campus will be chosen to sell tickets costing $1 per couple. She who sells the largest number of tickets will crown her date "Bill of the Ball."

A complete reversal of date procedure is in order for this one night. The girl makes the date, calls for him and throughout the evening observes social niceties such as opening doors, helping him with his coat and bringing the piece de resistance, a corsage made of vegetables, stove lids, lollypops, bottles or other appropriate articles.

Proceeds from the HYM dance go into a fund which enables University of Wichita women to attend the YWCA Estes Park encampment each summer.

Forum Board Tickets

Members of the Student Forum Board are requested to turn in unsold tickets so that tax returns can be filed. Tickets may be returned to Bert Davies, George Meloy and Kelley Sowards.

Campus drives, like highways throughout the state, were blocked by the recent snow storm. Driving on the campus last week was a bedlam of snow, honking horns and slipping tires, but through the cooperation of Russell McClure, city manager, campus roads were cleared. The city supplied a snow plow and personnel to help the University clear the drives.

Two books were reviewed recently by Dr. Forest L. Whan, head of speech department. The reviews will appear in the Quarterly Journal of Speech. The books are "Radio, The Fifth Estate" by Judith Waller, director of public service for the National Broadcasting Company, central division, and "Professional Radio Writing" by Albert Cruse.

Members of the art department will attend the meeting of the Kansas State Federation of Art at the Wichita Art Association at 4 p. m. Saturday.

SHOCKERS SEEK UPSET OVER TALL AGGIE

Oklahoma A&M Invades Tomorrow Night for Vital Valley Tilt with W.U. Five

Binford Hoping for End to Scoring Slump In Conference Games When His Team Meets National Champions in Tilt on Friday

Invading Wichita territory tomorrow night for the first of two Missouri Valley tilts with the Shockers will be the intercollegiate national champions of last season, the Oklahoma Aggies of Stillwater, Okla., who will go against the University of Wichita quintet in what promises to be one of the basketball thrillers of this season in the Wichita Forum.

The largest crowd ever to pack the Forum is expected to witness the Shockers third conference game, with the reserve teams clashing in a preliminary starting at 6:45 p. m. and the varsity teams tangling at 8:30 p. m.

The Aggies, coached by Henry Iba, are attempting to rebound from a stunning upset suffered at the hands of the St. Louis University Billikens last week by the score of 38-20. They will be out to hand the smaller Shocker quintet a thorough beating in order to regain their leadership in the Missouri Valley conference.

SHOCKERS DRILL HARD

Coach Mel Binford, Shocker basketball mentor, has been drilling his squad in hitting the basket and is hoping that his quintet will come out of the scoring slump which cost it the first two conference games of this season to Creighton and Drake.

Coach Iba's men will possess a definite height advantage over the small, but speedy, Shocker five. Many students and faculty will remember last year's clash of the two teams in the Forum when seven foot Bob Kurland was the Aggie star with height. The smaller Wichitans commanded the lead in the game most of the way, and it was not until Kurland could get free of the close guarding of five foot, ten inch Keith Oliver that the Oklahomans went ahead to win 35-24.

AGGIES ARE TALL

Leading the Oklahoma scoring attack is Joe Halbert, six foot, eight inch center. Halbert is aided by A. L. Bennett, six foot, two inch forward, who was the leading Aggie scorer in 1946. The Aggie lineup is completed with Joe Bradley and B. Williams, both six foot, two inch guards and Bob Rogers, six foot, at the other forward spot.

Coach Binford is expected to stick to the lineup which he used in the games with Drake and Southwestern. Harold Beal and Bud Weaver at the forward berths, Keith Oliver at center, and Cy Sickles and Jim Nebergall at the guard spots.

W. U. RESERVES IMPROVE

Also expected to add strength to the Shocker cause is a noticeable improvement in several of the taller men on the reserve roster. Davey Jones, six foot, seven inch

Cagers Lose Three Games

In what appears to be a bad scoring slump, the University of Wichita basketball squad dropped three games within the last week, two to conference teams on the road and one to an old rival in the Shocker gym.

The non-conference tilt played with the Southwestern Mountbuilders of Winfield, Kans., proved to be the closest and most exciting game of the season with the Shockers dropping an overtime decision, 43-41.

Balke, tall forward of Winfield, tied the game 39-39 in the last minute and the two teams played the extra stanza with the 1,800 persons on their feet all the way.

A set-up by Harold Beal gave Wichita the lead 41-39. The Shockers stalled for a minute and a half and then the ball was captured by Winfield. Balke then connected for a bucket and was later fouled and tallied two free throws to give the game to the visitors in the last minute of play.

The Shocker reserves also dropped a game to the Davis Skyliners, 44-41.

Missouri Valley play opened in a bad way for the Shockers as they took two consecutive defeats in a road trip which took them to Creighton University at Omaha, Nebraska, where they bowed 44-38 and then traveling to Des Moines, Iowa, where they received a trouncing from the Drake University Bulldogs, 67-37.

Keith Oliver, center, and Bud Weaver, forward, led the Shockers scoring with 11 and nine points, respectively. Pinky Knowles led the scoring for the Bluejays with 14 points.

Daniels, Voigt, And Ashmore Win Even

Last weekend the first wrestling team in the history of the University of Wichita opened wrestling season by losing to the University of Nebraska at Kansas State. Jim Trimble, "Big Nine" wrestling champion at Indiana University, is coaching local matmen.

In the first meet, held at LeNebe, the Cornhuskers won Allen Daniels and W. Ashmore the only Shockers to win decisive over opponents.

Kansas State won the meet by a 17-8 margin as the five, tied one, and lost two matches. Allen Daniels and Voigt decided their opponents and Jack Stanger wrestled his opponent to a draw.

One change has been made in the cost of living table. From now on indexes of the cost of gas and electricity will be presented separately from those on other fuels and ice. It was felt that the old series—fuel, electricity, and ice—which showed a rising trend, did not do justice to the gas and electricity industry, whose product is the major item in the Bureau of Labor Statistics index that has shown a consistent downtrend.

Bud Weaver Has Dead Eye On Free Throws To Lead Scoring

By Bill Mendell

Though the scoring averages of other Shocker players fell off during the past week, forward Bud Weaver continued to boost his stock with 40 points in the last four games until the former Newton high school star now leads the University of Wichita individual scoring with an average just short of eight points per game.

Weaver has dumped in 35 free throws in the past seven games, and coupled it with 16 field goals over that same period, they have given the aggressive sophomore the points needed to overall the early season scoring leaders.

Davey Jones, 6-foot, 7-inch freshman center, broke into the varsity lineup in the Drake game and the ex-Salina High School ace scored seven points for high honors for Wichita.

Cy Sickles, big sophomore from Winfield, moved up in the scoring with 17 points in the last three games.

Highest individual scoring performances for a single game this season has been Weaver's 16 points against Oklahoma City.

Oliver, Jones, Weaver and Sickles lead the Shocker conference scoring.

The Shockers have scored 521

Binford Goes To Hospital

Head Basketball Coach Mel Binford reentered a Wichita hospital last night for further observation, Ralph Graham, athletic director, has revealed.

Binford, who recently spent several days in the hospital, has suffered from a back ailment for the past four years. Recently his condition became acute and his confinement last night was encouraged by his physician and Coach Graham.

Binford probably will be absent from the W.U.-Aggie game Friday night. In that event, Ted Warren, assistant coach, will handle the squad.
