Wichita Hosts Teachers Next Month

Kansas Association of English Teachers Assemble in March

A spring meeting of the Kansas Association of Teachers of English will be held in Wichita at 8 p. m., Saturday, March 8, in the auditorium at the University of Wichita High School. It was announced by the University of Wichita English department. The program will include an address by Dr. Merrel D. Clubb, head of the English department at the University of Kansas, a demonstration of writing at the seventh-grade level by Bill Martin, author of "The Bug"; and a luncheon by Katherine Bisop, Hutchinson, Kansas, language teacher from Winton, England, on "Impressions of a British Visitor in America." Robert Strawn, language teacher at Pittsburgh College, will lead a short session concerning the correlation of speech and English courses.

Productions to Be Given

Comic operettas, "Bastien et Bastienne" by Wolfgang Mozart and "La Serva Padrona" by Gio. Pergolisi, will be presented in the music and dramatic department of the University of Wichita auditorium, March 7 and 8.

Old A. Decker, professor of drama and George D. Wilner, professor of dramatic art, are in charge of the productions. "Bastien et Bastienne" was composed by Mozart in 1768 when he was 2 years old. It is the story of a young maiden who seeks the help of a magician in order that she might get her deserted lover back to her. The magician tells her that she should try the "get" technique. She does, and finds that this simple formula is successful in regaining her

"La Serva Padrona," written at the same time as "Bastien et Bastienne," is the story of a maid who attempts to make her master, for, fall in love with her. In order to fulfill her purpose, she uses one of his servants as a

Soil Expert Will Speak

Charles E. Kellogg, chief of Division of Soil Survey and head soil scientist, U.S.D.A., Beltsville, Md., will speak at a morning convocation at 10 o'clock, Feb. 12. This is the first all-school convocation since no one will be dismissed. The program will be sponsored by Gamma Xi, national honorary fraternity. Dr. C. C. McPherson, professor and head of the chemistry and bacteriology departments is president of the Wichita chapter of this organization. The public and all students who are invited to attend during three periods are

Tickets Going Fast

Special admission tickets for the varsity students wishing to attend the W.U.-St. Louis basketball game in the Forum tomorrow night may be obtained by presentation of the activation ticket at the Business Office in the Administration Building. These tickets are fast appearing and students are advised to obtain theirs before 4 p. m. tomorrow. Any remaining tickets will be available at the Forum at 6:15 p. m.

Students Support University's Revised Enrollment Procedure

According to the trend of student thought on the campus, it would seem that the student body supports the new enrollment procedure wholeheartedly. This is the first year this system has been used and as far as present indications point out, it's the best yet.

The enrollment figures to date are 2,770, while the official enrollment figures for last semester, as of Oct. 15, were 2,810, according to Worth A. Fletcher, registrar.

"According to our estimates, this semester's enrollment will probably exceed last semester's enrollment," Fletcher said.

"Dr. Fletcher has done a tremendous job and deserves a world of credit for it," said Max W. Milbourn, assistant to the president.

Roy W. Elliott, comptroller, stated, "enrollment ran smoother in my department than it has for many years. We are now running about two weeks ahead of time, in collecting fees.

"The excellent performance of registration and the ease with which students were enrolled is due to two things; first, the pre-registration period, and second, the greater facility with which sectioning was handled by having a definite number of class cards available for each section, and the requirement of presenting a paid class card at the first meeting of class. This eliminates people from signing up for a class just for a chance," said L. Hekhuis, dean of the college of liberal arts.

Leslie B. Sipple, dean of the college of education, and director of the summer session, said, "We have received no difficulty from the present system, and we plan to use this same system in the summer session."

Students, it seems, have almost the same opinion about the new system:

Mary Lou Hobson, president, Alpha Tau Sigma: "It's certainly much more efficient, but they should have announced what time they were going to pass out the place numbers."

Frank Wilson: "I was about the last one to enroll and I still got a pretty good schedule. I can't gripe."

T. J. Curry, Alpha Gamma Gamma: "Compared to last semester's enrollment it was 100 per cent better."

Jo Miller, Sorosis: "It was fine although, I don't think it was right to hand out tickets so late at night and not tell anyone about it."

Jack Magathan, Alpha Gamma Gamma: "They made a mistake by making a night club affair out of it, besides I ran out of C ratings."

Betty Abernathy, Epsilon Kappa Rho: "They didn't give a hang about where they put you when classes were closed, otherwise it was very efficient."

Thornton Anderson, Phi Upsilon Sigma: "It's a fair system, saves time and is obviously more efficient than the system used last fall."

Pat Jesseph, Pi Kappa Psi: "Much better than it was, except you had to stay up all night."

Al Littleton, Webster: "Freshman students had to get up too early, but once inside everything went off smoothly."

University officials urge all students who have any suggestions as to how the enrollment procedure could be improved, to turn them in to Room 153, Administration Building them over to the proper authorities. There are still a few kinks to iron out and the cooperation of the student body is asked to make the needed improvements.

Syracuse U. Denies Profiting From Increase in Enrollment

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—(I. P.)—Despite increased enrollment, Syracuse University is now operating at a deficit because "expenses rise with enrollment figures, but at a rate entirely out of ratio," Dr. Douglass Miller, director of the bureau of public information declared recently.

Dr. Miller hit at student opinion that the University was profiting from the increase in enrollment and expansion of facilities as "thoroughly ridiculous." He asserted that financially the University could best operate with an enrollment of 7,000. "Particularly when an enrollment increases rapidly does a university suffer financially," he emphasized.

Citing the expenses incurred in the University's expansion, Dr. Miller mentioned that in the emergency outlying living areas, expenses in preparing comfortable quarters could not be met out of rent payments. "These housing units are not of a permanent nature and rents can not possibly cover investments made," he pointed out.

Also mentioning property purchases at current high prices, he declared that in addition the University was accepting expenses in attempting to rush housing units to completion.

Because of its expenditures to provide facilities for a larger number of students, the University is operating at an anticipated deficit of $111,000, Dr. Miller stressed.

Rifle Team Beginning Tournament Matches

The ROTC rifle team is now engaged in a tournament match with four other local teams, including the 127th Fighter Squadron National Guard, Sedgwick County Company State Guard, Wichita Company State Guard, and the Civilian Air Patrol. The matches will continue for eight weeks. The ROTC riflemen have won one match.

Another tournament match engaged in by the rifle team is the William Randolph Hearst Trophy matches which will end Feb. 15. Results will not be known until all college and university ROTC

ELLIS ARNALL, former governor of Georgia, spoke to a capacity crowd last night on "Whose Country Is This Anyway?" in the Wichita High School East auditorium. Arnall was brought to Wichita by the University Student Forum.

Alpha Tau's To Sponsor Next Varsity

Varsity Crew's Music And Skit To Emphasize 'Cupid's Capers' Theme

"Cupid's Capers" is the theme of the Alpha Tau Sigma sponsored varsity which will be held in the women's gym 9 p. m. to 12 midnight, Saturday. The dance will be informal.

Red and white streamers with hearts and balloons will add atmosphere to the varsity, according to Dana Wallenstein, chairman of the dance committee. Mahlon Hawkins and the Varsity Crew will offer their popular style of dance tempos throughout the evening.

Work has been completed on the skit which will be presented during intermission. "Dreams" is the title of the skit which will feature interpretive dancing accompanied by popular melodies of the past and present.

Members of the dance committee are Dana Wallenstein, Ru Beuke, Beverly Coldsnow, Marge Haughton, and Bly Henshaw.

Tickets are 75 cents per person and may be purchased at the booth in the Commons or at the door.

Station WU Broadcasting

Station WU, University of Wichita's own radio station made its debut Monday when it presented a half hour of transcribed dance music from 4 to 4:30 p. m.

Station WU operates on 600 kc. and is directed by Don Williams, instructor in speech and radio speaking.

On last Monday's broadcast Bob Barnes was the engineer and Jack Chester was the announcer. The station will broadcast each day for the next two weeks.

"It is 12 noon, Monday, Feb. 3, 1947. Mark well this day." With these words, announcer Jack Chester began the first regular broadcast from the studios of station WU.

Station WU will be on the air every day, Monday through Friday, from 12 to 12:30 noon. The program is called "Music of the Maestros" and features transcribed (Continued on Page 8)

Dance Group Will Be Host

Modern dance groups from five schools will be guests of the junior and senior Orchestras Saturday for an all-day Dance Symposium to be held in the women's gym. The dance students will represent Emporia State Teachers College, Pittsburg State Teachers College, Oklahoma College for Women at Chickasha, Okla., McPherson College and Wichita East High School.

Registration for Dance Symposium will be at 9 a. m.

Charles Weidman, modern dance artist, will be on the campus from 10:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. and will give group lessons to students who are interested in modern dancing. Admission for these classes will be $2.

At 4 p. m. groups from the above mentioned schools will present a modern dance program.

A dinner at Droll's Restaurant will be given at 6 p. m. Anyone interested in attending this dinner should contact Mrs. Ruth Belew in the women's gym for reservations before p. m. today. Price per person will be $1.

The climax of the day's events will be at 8:30 p. m. in the University Auditorium where Charles Weidman and company will present their program.

Assessment Brings $8,500

Keith Oliver, Student Council president, announced Monday following a meeting of Student Council, that the $8 assessment added to the current semester's tuition for each student will bring an $8,500 fund to be used toward the erection of the new Student Union Building.

Monday's meeting was the first held since the Shocker coalition's victory in the Jan. 17 election of Women's Student Council representatives, which placed in office Joan Bond, as senior women's representative; Maxae Wells, junior women's representative; Margaret Ann Hesse, sophomore women's representative; and Joan McKinley, freshmen women's representative.

Some of the advertising jingles heard over the radio are enough to turn one's stomach. We've often wondered what old poets would think if they could hear some of these little pieces—probably turn over in their graves. Then again, we've wondered what it would have been like if some of the old boys had to write singing commercials for their bread and butter.

The young genius John Keats had an exquisite feeling for music of fitly chosen words. Had Keats been given the opportunity to write for the radio advertisers, he might have gifted us with such as—

I met a lady at a dance
Full beautiful, a fairy's child
Her hair was long, her foot was light
And her eyes were wild.

I led her to my Ford V-8
Where we could not be seen
But as her lips pressed mine, I found
She needed Listerine!

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, better known for his series of Sherlock Holmes adventures, was also a poet of merit. If Doyle were to write a modern advertising jingle in the manner of his "The Blind Man," it would probably go something like this—

Little boy Love drew his bow at a chance
Shooting down at the ballroom floor;
He hit a young debutante there at the dance
And oh! but he wounded her sore.

"Hey, Love, you're too late
Hi, Love, she's got her mate
Look at her face,
Look at her hands, (poetic license, kiddies.)
She's engaged! She's lively! She uses Ponds!

If Samuel Taylor Coleridge had had to work as an advertiser, his Rime of the Ancient Mariner might have been somewhat different—

Day after day, day after day,
We struck, nor breath nor motion;
As idle as a painted ship
Upon a painted ocean.

Water, water, everywhere,
And all the boards did shrink;
Water, water, everywhere
Nor any drop to drink

There was no water in that place
Fit to drink, but never fear;
We simply opened up a case
Of Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer.

If Thomas Moore had turned his talents to the advertising business we might have read—

Believe me, if all those endearing young charms
Which I gaze on so fondly to-day,
Were to change by to-morrow, and fade in my arms,
I'd pack up and be on my way.

If you let yourself go, I'll not shed a tear.
Let thy loveliness fade out and die.

But I'd advise you to take DuBerry's charm course, my dear
Or you've seen the last of this guy.

Sir Walter Scott's talents might have been put to good use writing the singing commercials on one of the daily soap operas of the air—

A new wash powder is come out of the West,
Throughout the world it's strictly the best.

O' save the good housewife,
She rest has had none,
But now this new miracle
Gets all the work done.

So just lie back and live like a king,
There's no more work to do; Duz does everything!
And we close with our idea of how George Gordon, Lord Byron would sound as a modern-day jingle writer for the radio ads—

She walked in beauty, like the night
Of starry skies; no charm she lacked;
And all the males agreed, quite right
This mellow lass was really stacked;
Just like the Luckie she stops to light,
So round, so firm, so fully packed.

Congratulations

Second semester enrollment is now a thing of the past. The results of careful planning and efficient operation made the entire procedure quicker, smoother and less confusing.

As a fair representative of the University students, the Sunflower wishes to congratulate the curriculum and schedule committee, headed by Dr. Lloyd McKinley, the faculty members, counselors and those students who, in any way, helped with the big enrollment task.

Record enrollment and indications of overcrowded classes put the new plan to a severe test, but Thursday pictured a difficult job well done.

It is worth mentioning that University officials will welcome any suggestions or criticisms from students pertaining to the new enrollment plan.

Club Holds Meet At I. S. A. House Tonight

First meeting of the International Relations Club for this semester will be at 7:30 tonight at the I.S.A. house.

Discussion topic for the meeting will be the United Nations Organization and its most recent actions. The discussions, to be led by Leona Sowards, president, will also include the forming of a college organization for mock world government operations.

Dr. John Rydjord, professor of history, and Dr. Dell Hitchner, associate professor of political science, will help lead the discussions.

his death, and as part of an estate insurance loses its identity as such and is subject to all the laws governing estates, including claims of creditors, administrators' fees and court expenses. In those cases where insurance is payable to the insured's estate, it is possible that those whom the insured otherwise would have chosen will never realize the benefits.

ALL restrictions on the choice of beneficiaries which were imposed by the original National Service Life Insurance Act have been removed. Formerly, the insured was permitted only to designate beneficiaries who were near relatives. He now may designate any person or persons, a corporation, or his estate as the beneficiary or beneficiaries of his insurance policy. The payment of the proceeds of the insurance must also be designated by the insured. If lump-sum payment is not requested in writing at the insurance office in St. Louis, Mo., the payment of the proceeds of the insurance will be paid in monthly installments.

BENEFICIARIES designated in National Service Life Insurance policies should be thoroughly checked by the veterans holding the policies. In addition to naming a primary of first beneficiary, also important for a veteran is name contingent or secondary beneficiaries because in many cases unpaid benefits will be paid to insured's estate after the death of the first beneficiary. This might necessitate reopening the veteran's estate many years after his death.

IF the insured is not survived by designated beneficiary, the proceeds of his insurance will be in a single sum to his estate at popular music from WU's transcribed library.

Jack Chester will be at the mike each Monday, Wednesday and Friday and Dick Williams will work on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Bob Barnes is the engineer and platter spinner. Barbara Dunlap is in charge of the record library and is at present classifying and arranging the records.

News, sports, discussion and drama will be added to the program schedule as the staff is completed. The next step is to wire in from the auditorium stage and enable the station to carry such activities as convos, concerts and other group programs that cannot be accommodated in the studios now.

The station was started last semester under the sponsorship of Professor Don Williams, speech department. Station WU is operated on a frequency of 600 kilocycles and the programs can be received on that frequency by any radio on the campus.

Station WU is located on the fourth floor of the Administration Building in Rooms 413, 414, 415 and 416. The station is a pioneer in its field since few other schools have sets owned by the school and operated from the campus. It will serve to give practical experience to students interested in radio as well as providing entertainment for the student body as a whole.

Students Are Asked To Return Textbooks

Many used textbooks are needed this semester due to the shortage of new books. All students are urged to turn in books that are urgently needed, stated Mrs. Rose Wakefield of the University bookstore.

Following is a list of books which are needed immediately: "Art of Writing Prose" by Loomis, "Business Organization" by Spriegel, "Fundamentals of Economics" by Gemmill, "College Chemistry" by Briscoe, "Europe Since Waterloo" by Hall & Davis, "Story Survey" by Blodgett, "English Drama" by Party & Beatty, "Machinery of the Body" by Carlson & Johnson, "Economic Geography" by Kleim, Stokely & Hall, "Earth & Man" by Davis, "Rise of American Economic Life" by Bining, "Outline of Geology" by Longwell & Flint, and "Historical Geology" by Schubert & Dunbar.

Because of continuing textbook shortage, Dr. John Rydjord, professor and head of the history department, asks students owning history books not in use to sell them to the University bookstore.

Volumes particularly in demand are the following: "Civilization, Past and Present" Volume 2, Wallbank Taylor; "Short History of Civilization", Thorndike; "American Political and Social History", Faulkner; "People and Politics of Latin America", Williams.

Dr. Donald O. Cowgill, professor of sociology, has been elected vice-president of the Midwest Sociology Executive Council. Dr. Cowgill is also chairman of the Midwest Research Committee, having been appointed to that position last spring by President Becker of the Executive Committee.

Arvin Wins High Honor

Lester C. Arvin, member of the University debate team, won the Arthur Capper award January 28, at the annual banquet of Native Sons and Daughters of Kansas in Topeka.

Virg Hill of the editorial staff of the Topeka Capital presented the award to Arvin. Students from all colleges and universities in the state compete for the award.

Professor C. C. Harbison of the speech department coached Arvin on his speech, "What's Wrong with Kansas Industrially?"

Sweeney, Kane Win Mu Phi Scholarships

Sally Sweeney, vocalist, and Zoe Kane, cellist, have been named winners of the annual Mu Phi Epsilon scholarship for applied music credit.

This award is made yearly by the music sorority to the fine arts women who qualify for the honor as the result of competitive auditions.

Announcement of the scholarship winners was made at the sorority's formal dance which was held January 31 at the Blue Moon.

Logopedics Institute Opens Two Branches

Announcement by the Institute of Logopedics of the opening of new branches in Bedford Hills, New York, and Bridgeport, Conn., was made recently by Dr. Martin F. Palmer, director.

Barbara Gill, former University student, will carry on the work in the newly-opened Institutes.

Clayton H. Staples, professor and head of the art department, was surprised Tuesday morning, when the Pi Beta Chi art club sponsored a birthday party in his honor. A home-made birthday cake and coffee were served.

Attention Presidents

Presidents of all University organizations are to fill out registration blanks in the office of the dean of women, Room 113, Administration Building. This information should be filed immediately, according to Grace Wilkie, dean of women.

LES "Master of Manuscript" Arvin is wondering if anyone has a soap box for rent or sale . . . and then there's the story on Joyce Morgan . . . it seems that she naively embarrassed everyone in the Governor's office in Topeka recently . . . for further explanation see Joyce.

GOOD to see Beezee Smith out again—tell us, Bz, is KC expensive? Pledges of the future take note, Bob Partridge has sixteen king-size mouse traps willed to posterity. Best snowjob of hell-week was the one with which Art Hodges smothered Gamma actives—seems he was bent under the burden of a bag supposedly weighing twenty-five pounds BUT in reality the total content was one large pillow.

HEAR tell there's to be a miscellaneous shower for Nadine Cummings at the Kappa Rho House this week. She's to marry Bernie Witt on Valentine's Day. Ice-caping it is Phyllis Aldrich who joined the troupe and left on tour a short time ago. She is now in Oklahoma having a fine time.

WHILE lovely ladies lounged forlornly in their boudoirs last Friday nite, the stag line at a local club hit an all-time high complete with Charles "Moptop" Crum and Bob "Influence" Bottomley. The buffet dinner held for Phi Sigs by the mother's club on Monday was proclaimed excellent. According to campus chatter, D. O. Shirley Galatas and Joe Anderson know all about "Love on a Greyhound Bus."

RUSS MOSS looked as tho' he spent Monday nite sleeping in a cement mixer . . . and what is the strange fascination Oklahoma holds for Helen Ream and June Cale? Kappa Rho jeans smell but violently like Grover's Mange Oil (for human use) after Friday nite festivities. B. J. Cox and Dick Friend are merger-bound if diamonds mean the same today as yesteryear.

SUPERB vantage point in yon bookstore should provide a voluptuous membership increase for ISA. With regrets, the many friends of Sorosis Madeline Rogers bade her goodbye as she departed for a Civil Service job in Washington, D. C. Nice having Sally Neff and Dick Parkis back with us after recent illnesses.

PICKLE shortage at village groceries is threatened after Gamma pledge, Dick Edsall, downed thirty of said roughage . . . and Jim Tack finally got a car to fit those keys he's been waving in our faces.

A new exhibition of prints is on display in the Art Gallery in Morrison Hall. This piece of art is from Texas and will be on display until Oct. 16. Indian jewelry, a project of the craft class, is also on display in the gallery.

Following a dinner meeting Tuesday, at the Commons cafeteria, the Council of University Women were given a recital by Shirley Ainsworth Hellrich, member of the University Fine Arts department.

New English Class Proving A Success

English 101, a practical non-credit course of fundamental English problems, is proving a noteworthy success according to Dr. Eva C. Hagen, professor of English. Although the class has not been taught for several years, Dr. Hagen stated that there are about as many adults enrolled as there are regular students. "The class seems to have a lot of fun as well as brushing-up on their English particulars," Dr. Hagen stated.

Meetings Held Nine Consecutive Weeks

The Institute on Human Relations, sponsored by the National Confederation of Christians and Jews, has arranged to meet at the Y. W. C. A., 140 North Topeka every Thursday at 8 p. m. for nine consecutive weeks. Two meetings have been held so far. Dr. Donald C. Cowgill, professor of sociology, at the University of Wichita, was speaker at the first meeting, and Dr. J. Winfield Tretz of Newton spoke at the second meeting. Other prominent and authoritative speakers scheduled to speak at future meetings are as follows: Dr. Claude E. Arnett, Emporia; Dr. E. L. Holton, Manhattan; Dr. Joseph Gittler, Iowa; Ardelle Llewellyn, Okla.; Lami S. Gittler, Iowa; Dr. O. D. Duncan, Okla.; and Dr. Robert Walker, Manhattan.

W. U. SEEKS FIRST LEAGUE WIN TOMORROW

Cagers Seek To Defeat St Louis U.

Warren Shifts Team Line-up in Attempt to Upset Tall Billikens

Their first league win and revenge for last week's 65-32 beating will be uppermost in the mind of the University of Wichita cage team as it takes to the floor tomorrow night in the Wichita Forum against the tough, tall, and league-leading St. Louis University Billikens.

In the Shockers seventh conference game, which is scheduled to get underway at 8:30 p. m., they will be rated decided underdogs and an upset would not only surprise many of the nation's top dopsters, but would lift the morale of the many Wichita fans, who have watched the Wichita team drop six conference starts.

BIG BILLIKENS

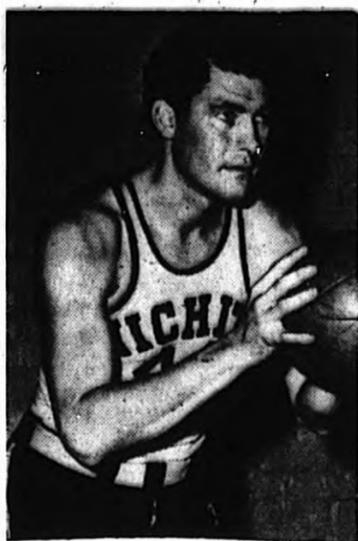

All eyes will be peeled on big Ed Macauley, six-foot, eight-inch Billiken center, who is the stand-out performer for the St. Louis five. Macauley tallied 20 points in last week's game with the Shockers. Another tall and stand-out Billiken is Marv Schwartzman, six-foot, six-inch forward.

The St. Louis team has been a threat to every big-league team it has gone against. Earlier this season it surprised the nation with a 38-20 victory over the Oklahoma Aggies.

SHIFT LINEUP

Coach Ted Warren, Shocker mentor, has been working the squad members hard at the free throw line. Several changes in the Wichita lineup may be made before game time tomorrow night. Harold Beal, five-foot, ten inch forward, who led the Wichita scoring attack in games last week-end, has been switched to the guard position and may start there against the Billikens.

Bob Monty, six-foot two-inches and former A.A.U. star, played in last week's game with the Billikens and scored five points. Monty may see much action in either the forward or center berths tomorrow night.

The Shocker reserve quintet will start the evening's play in a game with the Buhler Mills team starting at 6:45 o'clock.

A capacity crowd is expected to once again jam the Forum and students are urged to get their special admission tickets at the University Business Office before 3 p. m. tomorrow. Activity tickets will not be accepted at the door.

Beal Bounces Back to Lead Shocker Basketball Scoring

Scrappy Harold Beal returned to the University of Wichita lineup last week after a short stay in the hospital to score 23 points against Washington and St. Louis in Missouri Valley competition to bounce back into the scoring lead among Shocker pointmakers.

The senior forward led Shocker scorers early in the season until illness and ankle trouble kept him on the bench part of the time and finally forced him into the hospital for treatment.

Beal's return to form with 10 points against the Washington Bears and 13 markers against the league-leading St. Louis Billikens gave him the Shocker lead in both conference and season scoring over Bud Weaver, sophomore ace, who rode the bench through half the A. & M. encounter and all but a few minutes of the Tulsa game.

Conference scoring at the end of six games shows Beal leading with 8.20 points per game, with Jim Nebergall and Cy Sickles the only other Shockers with averages above five points per game.

Bob Monty, former Cathedral High School, A.A.U. and Naismith League player, broke into the Shocker lineup for the first time against the league-leading Billikens and caged five points.

Ed Macauley, giant Billiken center, dumped in 20 points in the same game to stretch his lead over all Missouri Valley scorers.

While winning six and losing ten this season Wichita has scored 707 points to its opponents 663, but in conference competition the Shockers have averaged only 36.67 points per contest while giving up 50 points a game to their opponents.

water, water, everywhere
But not one drop that's hot

"The ancient mariner had nothing on this guy," says Reddy Kilowatt. "With an ocean full of water, the mariner could not find a drop to drink. And as this guy will tell you, cold water is about as useless for shaving as sea water is for drinking. He needs me around the house to heat the water."

And Reddy's right. With storage-type electric water heating you never need to worry about a supply. You buy a big tank instead of a small one and you let Reddy Kilowatt heat it up in his spare time, keeping it full of hot water so there's always plenty of it for bathing, shaving, automatic laundries and dishwashers. And the price—well, Reddy works at 1¢ per hour when he's heating water in his spare time. It's cheap, convenient, ultra-safe . . . and you can pick the temperature you want by setting the dial on your heater.

See your dealer now. Place your order for an electric water heater in the 50, 80 or 120 gallon size and guarantee yourself hot water comfort from now on!
