Three Teams Go To Texas Debate Meet

Shockers Will Face Tough Foes In Annual Tourney at Austin, Tex.

Three University debate teams will enter the annual University of Texas invitational speech and debate tournament on Friday and Saturday in Austin, Tex., according to Leslie M. Blake, assistant professor of speech.

Representing the university will be June Cale and Walt Mulliken, affirmative; Don Moore and Kenny Smith, affirmative; and Bill Reynolds and Herbert James, negative. They will be accompanied to the tournament by Dr. F. L. Whan, head of the speech department.

The Shocker debaters will compete against teams from several Texas schools, Louisiana State University, University of Kansas, and the University of Oklahoma. These teams usually provide some of the stiffest competition in this section of the country, debate officials said.

The question for debate will be, Resolved: "That the federal government should require arbitration of labor disputes in all basic industries."

Earlier this season, Moore and Smith tied for third place in the Southwestern College invitational, tourney after being beaten by the University of Kansas team, which later won the title.

Approximately 15 students have been at work for several weeks in preparation for several meets tentatively scheduled for this season, Blake said. Plans call for University debaters entering tournaments at the Universities of Oklahoma, Nebraska, and Denevr in addition to the Missouri Valley tourney.

One To Get Fresno Trip

One University student will be picked to make an all-expense paid trip to the Wichita-College of Pacific Raising bowl game at Fresno, Calif., on New Year's Day at a basketball pep convocation in the Palace theater at 7:45 p. m. tomorrow, Tom Curry, Student Council president, revealed Wednesday.

The student will represent the student body at the game, Curry said, and his expenses will be paid from the Council treasury. Student Council cards filled out by students at registration will be used to select the one name, however, Curry warned that the student must be in the theater Friday night to be eligible for the trip.

If the student is not present, or is unable to make the trip, another name will be picked immediately, Curry said.

"Ted Sheehan, manager of the Palace, will let us use his theater free of charge for the rally," said Tom Curry, Student Council president. There will be a special midnight show with a basketball feature, a basketball short and three or four musical shorts," Curry stated.

The pep rally will end at about 9 p. m., and the theater will be cleared before the feature begins.

Need Activity Ticket With Fox Show Card

Students must present activity tickets and student cards to acquire special admission prices to Fox theaters, Earl Buster, Fox Midwest auditor, announced today.

Without an activity ticket the student card is void, and will necessitate buying an adult ticket.

Students, Faculty Aim To Fill 100 Food Baskets for Needy

Christmas baskets for needy Wichita families will be filled by University students and faculty members this year for the first time since before the war, Tom Curry, Student Council president, reported Tuesday.

Bushel baskets have been placed in the halls of the Administration Building and will remain there until Friday, Dec. 19. Students and faculty members are asked to contribute non-perishable foods to the University collection. A goal of 100 Christmas dinners for needy families has been set by the Student Council committee.

Persons wishing to give money for the purchase of perishable food will find a box located in the rotunda of the Administration Building in which to place donations.

University students will deliver the baskets to families whose names will be secured from churches and other local charitable institutions.

First Nighters Praise Opera; Second Performance Tonight

An enthusiastic audience heard such famous songs as "Suzy, Little Suzy", "The Children's Prayer", "There Stands A Little Man", and "The Witch's Ride", as E. Humperdinck's beautiful fairy opera, "Hansel And Gretel," was presented in the University Auditorium last night. It will be given again at 8:30 tonight and tomorrow night.

"Hansel And Gretel" is being produced through the combined efforts of the dramatics department, music department, and the University's modern dance group.

According to George D. Wilner, one of the directors, it is one of the most lavish shows ever given in this school.

Technical adviser, Gene Spangler, and his stage crew have spent hundreds of hours constructing the stage sets. The cast has rehearsed over two months, and the dance group and orchestra have spent weeks in preparation.

"We are expecting a large crowd of youngsters tomorrow, so it will be appreciated if all students planning to attend can come tonight," Professor Wilner stated.

Cale Meets K.U. Law Student In Debate

June Cale of Wichita University debated Jean Moore of Kansas University before the Kiwanis club at its weekly dinner meeting in the Lassen Hotel, Friday Nov. 27, on the proposition, "Resolved: that Compulsory Arbitration of Labor Disputes Should be Adopted."

Miss Cale is Student Council treasurer, debate manager, and a member of Delta Sigma Rho, national forensic society.

Jean Moore is a graduate of the University of Kansas, and is now a second year law student at that school.

Police Warn W.U. Drivers

University students were warned this week by the Wichita police department to exercise more care in driving or face the possibility of a traffic court being established to take away drivers licenses.

The warning came in a report to The Sunflower from Sgt. F. B. Hannon, director of safety education, who revealed that 104 moving traffic violations had been recorded against University students during October and November.

Although the accident rate has not been high for University drivers, Sgt. Hannon pointed out that "with the continuation of this large amount of traffic violations, it is just a matter of time until a bad accident occurs."

In a comparison with Wichita high school East which has an enrollment slightly higher than the University, it was found that violations are 50 per cent greater here than at the high school, Sgt. Hannon said.

Violations reported against university students include speeding, 34; running stop sign, 25; defective tail light, 11; running red light nine; improper turn, nine; no driver's license, five; no license tag, five; defective muffler, four; defective head lights, three; double parking, one; riding triple, one; and passing on viaduct, one.

Davis Will Carry Council Resolution to Valley Meet

Dr. Earle R. Davis, University Missouri Valley conference faculty representative, will present a Student Council resolution protesting racial discrimination on the athletic field during a session of conference faculty representatives and coaches in Kansas City, Mo., next Saturday, Dorothy Neises, Student Council publicity chairman, reported Monday.

The resolution passed by the Council Thursday night, after the Sunflower had editorially attacked racial discrimination by certain Valley schools and the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Kansas City, Mo., reads: "Be it resolved: That the students of the University of Wichita propose that the Missouri Valley conference take immediate action to eliminate all racial discrimination on athletic fields in the Missouri Valley conference."

Dr. Davis agreed to present the resolution, however he commented, "I can bring the resolution to the attention of faculty representatives, and they would probably eliminate racial discrimination, but they alone do not possess the power to do so."

Meanwhile, the University of Oklahoma student senate acted recently upon the University of Nebraska proposal that Negro football players be allowed to play in all Big Six conference games.

Unaffiliates Win Three Class Posts

Arbitration Committee Holds Former Decision After Second Hearing

Unaffiliates scored a significant victory at the polls last Friday taking three out of four campus posts in a special election called by the faculty arbitration committee as part of a decision on six disputed student government offices.

The unaffiliates took the three vacant junior class offices. Winners included Don Synolds, treasurer, Louise Hartman, secretary, and George Denninghoff, sergeant-at-arms.

Elvin Vaughn was the lone coalition victor winning the senior class vice presidency. Vaughn ran on the Shocker coalition ticket. The Campus party, which kept the two contested Student Council posts, did not enter any candidates.

Less than half of the upper classmen cast ballots in the election with 108 seniors and 116 juniors voting. Unaffiliated winners received two-thirds of the junior votes cast and the senior post was decided by a six-vote margin.

Meanwhile, the arbitration committee which granted a special hearing to the unaffiliated students last Thursday issued a statement this week reaffirming its former decision.

The board's communication written by Dr. Henry Sears, chairman, stated, "The Committee, after further deliberation, reaffirmed its former decisions. Bill Geist is a vacating officer, and Dave Enoch stands legally elected to the Student Council."

According to constitutional provision, Bob Meilert, junior, has been named by Phi Upsilon Sigma fraternity to succeed Geist as vice president of the Student Council. Meilert's first official duty came last Friday when he served as chairman of the special election.

The books will carry no advertising and will sell for 25 cents.

SECOND PERFORMANCE of the opera, "Hansel and Gretel" will be presented this evening with another scheduled tomorrow in the University Auditorium at 8:30 o'clock. Bob Minser, left, and Sally Sweeney hold supporting singing roles in the presentation which was applauded enthusiastically Wednesday night.

The new record library is available to all students and members of the faculty from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. Records are provided by the music department and desired records may be checked out from the assistant in charge of the room.

Equipment for the new room includes a lounge and chairs, and a new combination radio and phonograph which was purchased by the music department.

Drop Notice! Vets Quit School For Lack Of Funds According To Survey

PORTLAND, Ore.—(I.P.)—Oregon veterans stay in college just as well as non-veterans — and when they do drop out it's more often for financial reasons than for lack of interest in their studies.

This is the impression gained from an informal survey by the Veterans Administration among the state's four biggest colleges, Richard Mengler, the VA's training officer for this area, reported recently.

The question, "How many ex-GI's leave college—and why?" was asked of four schools, Oregon State College, University of Oregon, University of Portland, and Vanport Center College, Mengler related. Nearly three-fourths of the state's 15,000 ex-service collegiates of the past year went to these schools.

Withdrawals among veterans averaged about 15 per cent, only one per cent over the non-veteran rate, the study showed. Two out of every five who left college did so for financial reasons. Twenty-five per cent explained they couldn't make ends meet and another 15 per cent just liked the looks of jobs offered them better than the long college pull.

One university official remarked that single veterans often left because they "can't keep up with the Joneses," but that most married veterans, despite financial worries, finished their education. In all,

Ajukumarishnapal Lakasingh Prefers To Be Called Horace

Huckamcher Ajukumarishnapal Lakasingh left Jamaica, British West Indies, early this year for the University of Bombay in India to begin a career in medicine. Lakasingh, pronounced "Lakasing", went by way of New York, to receive medical treatment.

Because of trouble in India, Lakasingh's father lettered a suggestion to begin pre-med in America and wait for better conditions in their homeland. Lakasingh applied to the International Institute of Education and was referred to the University of Wichita.

To his many friends on the Wichita campus, Lakasingh is known as Horace. The 21-year-old graduate of Kingston College, Jamaica, participates in extra curricular activities at the University of Wichita. Lakasingh attends ISA meetings but leaves when the music begins because he can't dance. He said American soldiers, stationed in Jamaica during the war, brought "jitter bugging" with them but he did not care to learn.

At the Wichita-Miami football game, Lakasingh asked the reason for the many benched players when only 11 were allowed to play. Because of the number of injuries suffered, Lakasingh said he understood the need for reserves.

Lakasingh plans to see an American basketball game, for in Jamaica it is considered women's sport. Jamaica men play cricket, soccer and softball.

Lakasingh's father is Coleman Company of Wichita representative and a wholesale merchant in Jamaica. One brother is in business with their father and the other is a 10 year old school boy. They have four sisters.

A strict vegetarian, Lakasingh said he was often asked what he would do if starving and only meat was available for food. He replies, "In that case I would eat it." Lakasingh changes restaurants frequently to vary his diet since American meals are planned around meat.

The desk clerk, at his downtown hotel, gives all mail addressed to Room 32F to Lakasingh. He uses the European crossed seven that resembles an F.

Lakasingh plans to leave Wichita in March for Bombay to complete his studies. He will go by boat to England and across Europe and Asia Minor to India by rail.

Let's Move Ahead

The political controversy that has kept the Student Council disorganized and The Sunflower loaded with news since September has at last been settled and now its time to settle down to worthwhile achievement.

Action on the parking problem, the student directory, and student union building was delayed because of the election mess. With all but three weeks of the semester past, we now get the news that at long last the student directory will come off the press; double parked cars will finally be towed away; and student union committee has been appointed.

With the Council moving forward, it's time for the student body also to do something worthwhile. Evidently some students were hesitant about aiding foreign students and the W.S.S.F. drive fell short nearly 800 dollars.

Now, this week students are asked to help, not foreign persons, but Americans right here in Wichita. We can record another worthwhile achievement by filling the Student Council Christmas baskets in the Administration Building halls.

Watch The Birdie

Parnassus photographer, Math Borniger, has completed 800 of the 1948 yearbook pictures, and has received another 300 appointments. With luck, Parnassus will be in the student's hands by July if student cooperation is any indication of progress on the book.

Deadline of all finished pictures was set for January 5, 1948. This cannot be met when less than one-third of the student body complete their obligations to the annual.

Two weeks remain in which to make your appointment. Pictures will be taken during the holiday at the studio and proofs may be returned there.

Are you a bottleneck? Are the efforts of printers, engravers and student editors being thwarted because of you? If the answer is "yes", make your appointment, and keep it.

"After capping his millionth bottle, he began screaming: 'Can You Top This? Can You Top This?'"

This College Week

AUBURN, Ala.—(ACP).—Since bridge is a favorite pastime around the old campus, let's discuss some typical players.

There is the You Fool type. These are the self-appointed authorities who have calculating machines in their pointed heads. Most of their time is spent in leering at their partner from their fan of cards and slapping their foreheads and stamping their feet at everything you say. Answer their bid and you should have passed, don't answer their bid and you missed a slam. They can quote a Culbertson at length and give percentages like an insurance salesman.

The Bid and I'll Scream type are the ones that will usually let the bidding get to about the three level and then they begin to put the evil eye on you. They hesitate before each bid, begin to look out the window, shake their heads, light cigarettes, ask for change, ask what time it is, kick over coke bottles and do anything else that will divert your attention from the cards. When they do these things you had better pass—unless you have missed your cue and they turn out to be the following type.

The Don't Bid and I'll Scream type are the ones that bid and then begin to clear their throats. With this type you usually wind up at the four or five level with absolutely nothing at all, and then they see to it that you are the one who has to play it. After they have gotten you much too high and have laid down their hand, they get up and go out the door, turn right and then turn right again.

Then there is the Who Dealt This Mess type who picks up every card like a poker player sweating out an inside straight, muttering all the while and then says, "I bid two spades."

Vox Discipuli

From the Reader

Dear Editor:

It was noticed in the October 30th edition of The Sunflower that about a year ago The Sunflower requested a traffic signal at the intersection of Thirteenth and Hillside but that no signal has been erected as yet.

Perhaps it would be well to tell you why a signal has not been erected at this intersection and what chances there are of having one erected in the near future.

There are certain warrants that must be met before the signal type of traffic control is justified. These warrants are also necessary as a means of establishing priorities for installation and as a guard against the erection of this expensive type of control at intersections where other methods will work just as satisfactorily.

The intersection of Thirteenth and Hillside meets none of the warrants which pertain to volume of vehicular or pedestrian traffic, access, coordinated control with other signals or other factors.

In the twelve hours from 7:00 a. m. to 7:00 p. m. on an average week day, 8,044 cars enter the intersection. The average for the highest consecutive eight hours is 676 vehicles, and the volume warrant 1,000.

There are only two hours a day when any other type of control other than that of Stop signs would expedite traffic. Those hours are from 7:00 a. m. to 8:00 a. m. and from 5:00 p. m. to 8:00 p. m. At other hours of the day the traffic is adequately controlled by the Stop signs. The Chief of Police has been contacted relative to the placing of a traffic officer at this intersection during these peak hours.

In comparison with other unsignaled intersections in the City, this intersection would be quite far down the line for consideration.

It is hoped that the above will explain why no signal has been erected, and I believe it is evident that it will be some time before the intersection will command top priority. If any further explanation is desired, I will be glad to comply at your convenience.

Very truly yours,
GEO. J. FISHER,
Traffic Engineer.

CURTAIN CALL OR CRY

An enthusiastic audience that consisted of about 1,100 University students saw the second concert presented by the Wichita Symphony Orchestra and guest artists last Thursday.

The duo-piano team, Whittemore and Lowe, now regarded as one of the nation's finest, was called back for four encores.

The orchestra, under the direction of Orien Dalley, received a hearty response from the audience. For the final encore, the orchestra played a number entitled "An Old Italian Love Song," with a special arrangement for the orchestra, featuring the cello section, by Dalley.

This reviewer thinks that the concert series, an experiment on the part of the University, has turned out to be one of the most successful and popular projects of the school calendar.

Typed On A Wednesday

By William Fein

So many people have asked me just where I came from, what rock I crawled from under, and who were my infamous ancestors, that I've been forced, through the necessity of upholding the family dishonor, to answer these questions by writing a short but complete history of my life.

Contrary to public opinion, I was born. Soon afterwards my father, Pincus Q. Fein, committed suicide, unable to stand up under public scorn and ridicule. Why, upon seeing my picture, my father's boss fired him, and since my old man had been working over 40 years in the fertilizer plant, his sudden discharge left him brooding and sullen. Shortly thereafter, the old man's body was found in a fertilizer vat. He smothered to death.

Since he still owed his boss some back work, he was ground up and sold with the rest of the fertilizer.

However, I was fortunate in that my old lady was made of stronger stuff. She was one of New York's most prominent shoplifters. It was from her, rather than the old man, that I inherited my talents. I realized that under her careful tutoring, I would go a long way. Sing Sing, Alcatraz, Leavenworth, all these wonderful places that I had heard of only in stories, would be within my grasp, if I labored diligently. I was determined to reach the top, the place my friends considered the pinnacle of success, the "Gas Room" at the Alcatraz.

At the age of seven, I had already made a name for myself in the better department stores, working exclusively in ladies lingerie. Throughout the next few years, I continued to advance until at the tender age of 12, I was shoplifting grand pianos.

Of course, I did not neglect my education, realizing that only through book learning would I become a success. I attended various reform schools during my early life, and in my senior year at Shapiro's School for Psychopathic Scholars, I pledged Alpine Gadzook Gadzook, honorary shoplifting fraternity. Ah, the years that followed were the happiest of my life.

It was that same year, during a junior-senior hop in Macy's basement (after hours) that I met Benzadrine Schnook, fellow worker. I can still picture her, a delicate, frail, slip of a girl (?) slowly strangling the night watchman while singing, in a rich baritone, "I'll be glad when you're dead you rascal you".

Benzadrine and I fell madly in love. Our heartburns beat as one to the fizz of an Alkisetzer. I was an Alpine Gadzook Gadzook, and she was a Scoersis. What more can any man ask? We planned to be married, and maybe in a few years, I would be awakened to the pitter of flat little heads.

Then without warning it struck!

Next week I shall continue this story. Read this thrilling story about young love, and how it got older with age.

New Excuse Setup Asked

An unanimous vote to ask the University to abolish the excuse system was a major action taken in the Student Council meeting Dec. 5. "Students of college level should be ready to shoulder their own responsibility for attending classes," council leaders pointed out.

Other arguments offered by the council for abolishing the system included: (1) Obtaining written excuses wastes time which most students would rather use in furthering studies, (2) Since leading colleges and universities of the country have no such system in force, University of Wichita is lagging by keeping the outdated excuse program in use.

The council plans to prepare other alternatives before sending the recommendation to school officials. The recommendation will then be sent to the following: W. M. Jardine, president; L. Hekhuis, dean of the college of Liberal Arts and Sciences; Miss Grace Wilkie, dean of women; Walter Duerksen, chairman of the music department; Frank Neff, dean of the College of Business Administration; Leslie B. Sipple, dean of the College of Education; and Worth A. Fletcher, registrar.

Cabs Cooperate! Logopedics Student Furnished Free Taxi To and from School

Helen Gillis, 19 year old Institute of Logopedics student, has been without a ride to and from school for the last 12 weeks. Because of cerebral palsy, she is unable to ride a bus, and a car is her only means of transportation.

The Women's Council presented Paul Martin, owner of the Wichita Cab Company, with the case, and he is sending Miss Gillis to and from school by cab free of charge. "Helen is a girl of determination and is progressing rapidly at the institute. She is now studying the third grade reader and first grade mathematics," said her logopedics instructor.

Freshmen Complete Library Examination

After two hours of instruction, English III classes have completed the Library information tests with a score range from 93 to 27 and a median of 64, according to R. Paul Bartolini, assistant librarian.

The English department and Library coordinate instructions and tests to aid freshmen students in finding material for themes and term papers. Freshmen learn to use Library files and Reader's Guide.

Training Facilities Inadequate For Today's Medical Students

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—(I.P.)—More than 73,000 applicants but training facilities for only 6,233. That is today's "problem in a nutshell" for America's 77 accredited medical colleges in trying to find accommodations for the young men and women who are seeking careers as physicians, dentists, and other medical professional men, according to Dean Fred S. Smith, of the University of Tenn.

The Southern University Conference, composed of administrators of southern institutions, has begun a cooperative effort to investigate the problem and make recommendations at the conference's meeting next spring.

The committee will make a thorough study of the problem. Because of the expensive equipment, the specially-designed building facilities, and the highly skilled personnel need to teach medical courses, it has been impossible to expand training accommodations in this field as rapidly as necessary to take care of the post-war demand of students.

Shakedown?

University President Repudiates Charges Of Misappropriation

COLLEGE PARK, MD.—(I.P.)—Charging ignorance of the facts, Dr. H. C. Byrd, University of Maryland president, denied charges appearing in Baltimore and Washington papers recently that this year's $20 hike in veterans' fees is being used to finance the proposed $1,450,000 chapel, swimming pool, and stadium.

Funds for the construction have largely been accrued, according to Dr. Byrd, through profits realized last year on the dormitories, dining hall, dairy and other minor agencies. This sum plus unused portion of last year's budget comes to a total of $923,000, which has been earmarked for construction purposes.

"Most of that money was paid by students," Dr. Byrd stated. "I can't see a better way of distributing the surplus than to spend it for the students' benefit."

Dr. Byrd called the $328 per veteran which the Veterans' Administration pays to the University, "one of the lowest subsidies granted any institution." The Johns Hopkins University receives $500, and the University of Wisconsin, it is understood, is granted $375 per man from the VA.

Concerning the forthcoming Veterans' Administration inquiry into the rising costs of education as affects the veteran, Dr. Byrd expressed confidence that many colleges and universities, including Maryland, will be granted increased Federal aid when the facts are received.

For Rent! Small Town College Turns Real Estate Deal For Teachers

BETHANY, W. Va. — (I. P.) — The national housing shortage affects college towns as well as industrial and commercial centers, the only difference being that in small college towns there is even less than usual space for doubling up or improvising.

Feeling the critical need for more dwellings to accommodate increased faculty and administrative staff, Bethany College has undertaken the development of a complete real estate subdivision next door to its campus.

Present college enrollment has necessitated a personnel increase for faculty and administrative staff of approximately one-third over pre-war levels. Long range college development plans anticipate a permanent increase in faculty and staff of at least twenty-five percent.

To meet this situation, an area of approximately thirty acres immediately adjacent to the college has been surveyed into building lots for immediate development purposes. Streets and sidewalks have been laid; gas, water and sewer lines put in, and electric power lines extended to bring all the permanent facilities of a modern suburban development to the new residential area.

The total development has been named the Point Breeze Estates subdivision and at an early date

European Conditions Subject of Speaker At International Club

Speaking on European conditions, Harry Kurdian, of the Kurdian Gallery, will be the guest at the International Relations Club meeting tonight at 7:30 in Room 250 of the Library.

Kurdian has made frequent trips abroad to purchase rare floor coverings and objects of art, and he has made an extensive study of the history and science of the people with whom he has dealt.

The speaker has just returned from an European buying trip.

will be offered by the college authorities for incorporation in the town of Bethany.

As initial construction in the subdivision, the college has erected eight new dwelling units to date. These are occupied by members of the faculty or staff who are veterans of the armed forces. The college plans to build additional homes for faculty and staff members on a rotating plan of finance.

These buildings are of modern design, utilizing brick, tile and concrete construction throughout, with each unit containing two bed rooms, living room and dinette, kitchen, bath, garage and porch.

The area being utilized for this development was formerly included in one of the most beautiful private estates in northern West Virginia and contains an ornamental lake and extensive plantings of trees and shrubs.

Membership Now Open For Mathematics Club

The Mathematics Club, re-organized this semester for the first time since the war, announced that membership is open to all students planning to major or minor in mathematics. Faculty members in the mathematics department are also eligible.

Bi-monthly meetings will be held and will feature lectures and problems presented by members, according to Edward Robbins, vice-president and program chairman.

French Cloth Shown In University Library

French textiles are now on display in the University according to Downing P. O'Harra, librarian.

The display includes gold metal woven with silk threads in a French fabric and a French tapestry with a false break or tear woven at different places for antique effect.

Also on display is the "American Fabrics" magazine with samples of clothing, and an on the spot "Eye-Q" test.

The materials for this display were loaned by Katherine Van Keuren of home economics department.

They call us KINGS-XPERTS

Sure it's a pun—"a play on words," Webster says. There's a lot behind it though. We take it seriously because we know the training that's behind that "pun." We had to take rigid training in everything from how to say "Hello" when you come in, to how to set your "X-party" cooked food before you. That's the reason for our pardonable pride in being called "Kings-X-perts."

Four Speech Awards Made

Second annual Cosmopolitan Club speech contests were held Friday night in the Walnut Room of the Lassen Hotel with first prize of 20 dollars going to Herbert James, junior in the College of Liberal Arts, according to C. C. Harbison, professor of speech. Second, third and fourth prizes of $15, $10, and $5 went to Bill Reynolds, Douglas Conrod, and Bill Gawthrop.

Participation in the contest is designed to give students a chance to speak before a downtown audience and to give the citizens of Wichita a chance to hear what University students think, Prof. Harbison said.

Each of the 10 speakers were allowed five minutes for their talk and each received two dollars, Dr. Harbison said.

Members of the audience were given an opportunity to judge the speakers unofficially by means of ballot and while they agreed on the winners of the first four places, they disagreed in their order, placing Gawthrop, first; James, second; Reynolds, third; and Conrod, fourth.

Speakers and their subjects were: Mark Laudmere, "You Bet Your Life"; Frank Stanley, "Better Roads"; Bill Reynolds, "Paralysis Through Labor Movement"; John Young, "Arkansas Mule Barn"; James Fitzpatrick, "Floating Bill"; Douglas Conrod, "Experiments in Research"; Barbara Dunlap, "Traffic Problems"; Bill Gawthrop, "Hypocrit's Heaven"; David Martini, "Let's be Friends"; and Herbert James, "Political Pygmies".

Approximately 7,000 applications for benefits were prepared in September for World War II veterans by Contact Representatives of the St. Louis Regional Office.

Campus Life Was Boisterous Years Ago, Year-Book Shows

Zanee! Zanee! Bif! Bam! Boo! Heo! Hio! Rah! Rah! Roo! Linga, Linga, Linga Loo! Fairmount Seniors 1902!

Such was the rip-roaring yell of the six Fairmount seniors graduating in 1902 and featured prominently in the 1902 Parnassus.

Life on the Hill, as seen through the eyes of Parnassus, was pleasantly exciting. Seniors accused instructors of trying to flunk them; juniors decided to do something really worthwhile, and edited the first Parnassus for Fairmount. Debate teams pondered over whether or not the Hawaiian Islands should be annexed to the U.S., while Sorosis and Webster societies were striving for plastered rooms in Fairmount Hall.

College advertisements boasted a staff of 20 instructors and a library of 22,000 volumes. Tuition rates were 25 and 30 dollars per school year, while Greenfield Brothers, 112 East Douglas, advertised highest grade suits at $10 to $25 and shirts from $1 to $5.

Alumni notes from the first graduating class of Fairmount reveal that the "Class of '99 was unique among Fairmount classes in that it did not run to girls." To assert that it did "in the face of four marriages among the men of the class in less than two years is absurd."

Snatches of songs heard on the campus and on the street car were "You are my Honeysuckle, I am the Bee," "Oh Tommy, You are the Only One," and "She is a Regular Sousa Girl."

Witticisms of the day included "A burro! A burro! My kingdom for a Burro!" "I took her for a rose, but she proved a thorn," and "The Fairmount girls are all right, but oh those H.S. girls!"

W.U. students have changed little, but prices are up.

Baylor Bears To Invade Wichita Forum To Play Unbeaten Shocker Five

Game Time Changed to 8 p.m. For This Game Only; Capacity House Expected to Watch 1946 Southwest Conference Champions In Action

Baylor Bears of Waco, Texas, will invade the Wichita Forum for a game with the University of Wichita Shockers at 8 p.m., Saturday, in the third test of the season for the Binford-men.

Baylor, Southwest Conference champions in 1946, are led by their twice all conference guard Jackie Robinson.

Robinson, a six-foot junior, led conference scoring last season with 168 points. He is one of the leading candidates for All-American honors this year.

At the other guard position is Bill Johnson, six-foot two inch junior, who is the top defensive ace of the Bears.

At the pivot post for the Bears will be Odie Preston, six-foot two inch sophomore, who ran second to Robinson for scoring honors last year.

Jim Owens and Bill DeWitt, at the forwards, make the Baylor ball club one of the finest in the Southwest.

Bill Henderson is in his third year as head basketball coach at Baylor. Henderson was formerly a football coach and had the all time All-American Davy O'Brien under him at one time. Henderson in his second year at Baylor won the Southwest Conference Championship.

In 1946 Henderson was given the "Coach of The Year" award for his fine work.

For the Shockers it will be Bud Weaver and Elvin Vaughan at forwards with the ever improving Dick Mullen at the center post. At guards Jim Nebergall and Don Toeva rate starting nods.

Dick Mullen, a six-foot five inch sophomore, is playing one of his finest seasons this year at center.

Rex McMurry and Ray McCaslin, six-foot four inch centers, have been showing exceptional form at center position this year and are expected to see plenty of action Saturday night.

First Wheatshocker Post-Season Game Broadcast by KFBI

A play by play account of the University of Wichita-College of the Pacific Raisin Bowl football game, New Years day, will be broadcast by direct wire from Fresno, Calif., on station KFBI, according to Kay Pyle, chief engineer.

Special arrangements are underway to interview team members before their departure for Fresno, Dec. 27. Vic Rugh, who will broadcast the game, said well known athletic and social figures will be interviewed during halftime.

The wire, which is being laid over 2,000 miles from Wichita to Fresno, will bring the game to Wichita listeners, following the Sugar Bowl game, at 4 p.m. CST.

What's wrong with this pitcher?

The pitcher is the umpire, too. He'll call his own pitches — and what kind of a ball game will that be?

We have the same situation in our business. Government — which regulates the electric companies — is in competition with them!

The electric companies recognize their public obligation to supply continuous and dependable service. They have provided America with the most and the best electric service in the world. Electric rates have been lowered steadily until today the average family gets twice as much electricity for its money as it did 20 years ago.

Yet today government sets up politically managed electric agencies, and runs them by a different set of rules. They receive subsidies, pay little or no interest on money they borrow, pay no Federal taxes.

If it can sell electricity on this basis, government can sell anything else the same way!

We believe that the people who work in our companies, as well as the people who have invested their savings in them, deserve the same protection from political attack that most other people still enjoy. When the umpire plays, too, should he call his own pitches?

It is to your benefit to know the facts about your electric service, and to ours to have you know them. That's why this advertisement is published by America's BUSINESS-managed, tax-paying ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER COMPANIES.

Cage Squad Battles Army

Seeking its fifth straight win, the Shocker B team battles the Smoky Hill Army Air Base cagers in Saturday's preliminary game, starting at 6 p. m. in the Forum. The Shocker reserves have racked up 198 points in four games and allowed opponents to score only 100 counters. The reserves bowled over Friends twice, 50-23 and 50-17; Maize Anti-Horse Thief Association 55-22; and Emporia State "B" 43-38.

"Tuffy" Robinson, student assistant in charge of the reserves, announced that the following team will probably start Saturday: Irwin Knocke and Charles Binford, guards; Gerald Burns at center; Lloyd Creed and Bill Schofield at the forward positions.

CURRENTLY LEADING THE SHOCKER SCORING parade and expected to give Baylor University plenty of trouble Saturday night in the Forum are Jim Nebergall and Bud Weaver. Nebergall has racked up 25 points in the first two games and Weaver has dunked 20 points through the hoop.

Intramural Grid Upset Is Highlight

Tennis And Wrestling Are Underway; Cage Game Follows Holiday

Upsets highlighted intramural football during two of the past three weeks of play, with bad weather holding up activities the past week.

Perhaps the best played and most hotly contested game was the Gamma "A" defeat at the hands of Phi Sig "A", 22 to 0. The score does not tell the true course of the game.

Results of the past two weeks are: Gamma "B" 6-Webster "B" 18, Cowpokes 0-Gamma "A" 6, Phi Sig "A" 6-Webster "A" 12, I.S.A. "A" 32-Pi Alpha 32, I.S.A. "B" 6-Gamma "A" 12, Phi Sig "B" 30-Webster "B" 0, Phi Sig "A" 22-Gamma "A" 0, I.S.A. "A" 24-Webster "B" 0, Webster "A" 36-Pi Alpha 0, Gamma "B" 18-Cowpokes 12.

Phi Sig "B" 48-Cowpokes 6; Webster "B" 24-Phi Alpha 12; Phi Sig "A" 24-Gamma "B" 0; Cowpokes 18-I.S.A. "B" 2; Phi Sig "B" 30-I.S.A. "A" 0; and Gamma "B" forfeited to I.S.A. "A".

The intramural wrestling tournament will not begin until after the Christmas vacation. Bidwell, director of intramural athletics, has noted that all men planning to participate have not registered workouts. Participation will not be permitted if the required eight workouts are not registered.

Intramural basketball will not begin until after Christmas vacation. Arrangements are being made for practice sessions and organization. Mr. Bidwell or John Kocur for this tournament representatives must contact practice.

John Kocur revealed that all tennis players must have their matches played off as soon as possible, or the Intramural Committee will have to forfeit for them and advance their opponents to finish the tournament.

Veterans Administration hospital libraries provide the latest in suitable books, magazines, motion pictures and entertainment for the veteran patient.

Pilot Course Rule Altered

A new ruling has come out from Veterans Administration on the pilot training course offered at the University, according to Dr. Penrose S. Albright, professor and head of the physics department.

This ruling requires a veteran, who wishes to take flight training as an elective course in his college work, to sign away educational entitlement over and beyond that which he would use in a regular semester, Dr. Albright said.

"To clarify this," Dr. Albright continued, "a G.I. here who elects the first course in flying will have $175 deducted from his total entitlement which will amount to a little less than one semester of his training time."

"Many colleges and universities are trying to get the ruling changed as they feel that it is unfair," Dr. Albright concluded.

Previous to this ruling, the course was included in the regular semester's tuition allowed veterans in the G.I. Bill of Rights.

Dr. Albright firmly advised against any veteran taking the pilot training course unless the veteran has a surplus of entitlement which he would not use otherwise.

Station WU Becoming More Professional, Says Don Williams

"Radio Station WU is becoming more and more like a professional station," Don Williams, head of the radio department, told Mike Rogues members at a meeting last Thursday.

Thirty persons are now members of the studio staff, keeping the station on the air for three hours each day.

Mike Rogues, campus radio club, met last week at the Alpha Tau house, and voted in favor of staying on the air during final examination week. Voicing the opinion of the students, Williams said, "Since we are making every effort to run Station WU on a professional basis, we all feel that staying on the job would be one step closer to achieving this goal."

House Problem Ends As Program Begins At Lehigh University

BETHLEHEM, Pa. — (I.P.) — Post-war housing problems for Lehigh University freshmen will vanish in 1949.

A long-range program for adequate housing of freshmen will soon be realized on the local college campus. A new dormitory, now under construction, will offer the added facilities needed to provide complete housing for all new students, not living at home, to live in campus dormitories, Wray H. Congdon, dean of undergraduates, announced.

All out of town freshmen entering Lehigh in the fall of 1949 and thereafter will be required to live in campus dormitories during their first year. Completion of the third unit of Lehigh's dormitory system in 1948 will make it possible for the University to house 1,050 students in five dormitories.

Dean Congdon said that the delay of a year, after the new building is ready for occupancy, in enforcing the requirement of all freshmen living in the dormitories is allowed so that all fraternities can adjust their student populations without serious difficulties.

Council Plans Party For Tuesday Night

The Council of University Women will hold its annual Christmas party at 6 p.m., Tuesday, in the Commons Lounge.

A skit, "Be Sure You Don't Forget," will highlight the program. Participating in the skit are Mickey McCoy, Edna Stone, Tennie Dyer, Clara Wuertz, and Eva Hangen.

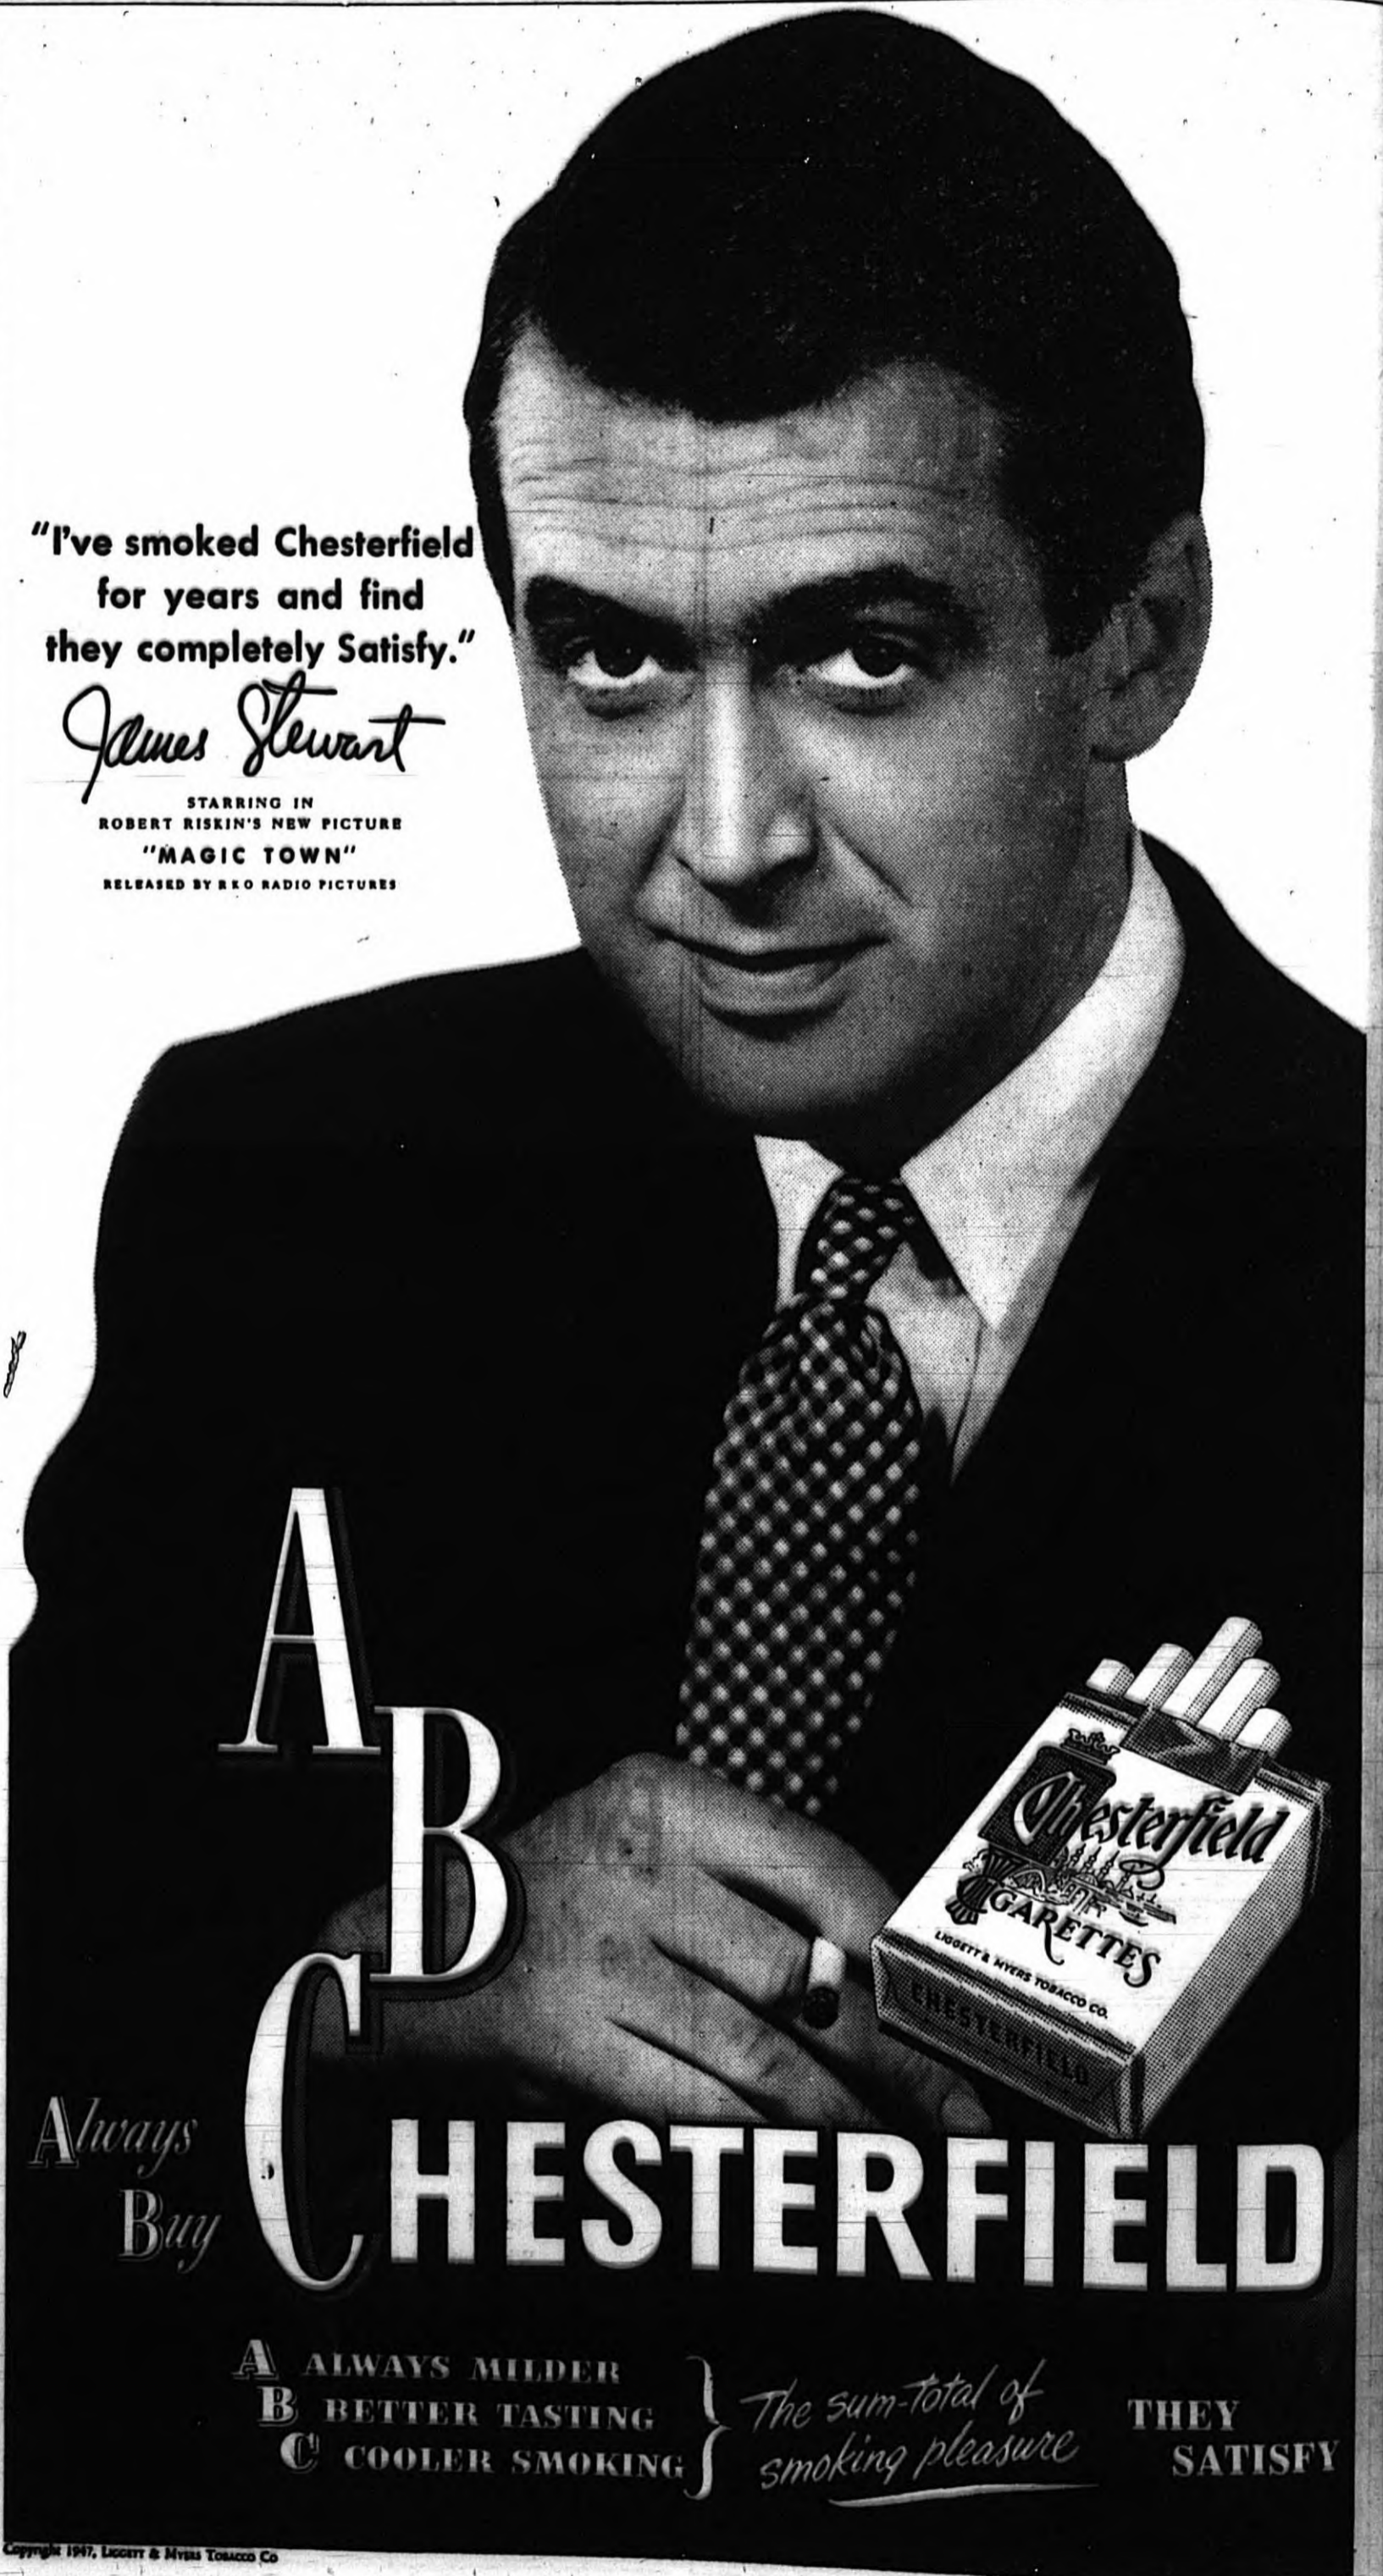

As Christmas projects, the Council members have contributed to the women's Loans and Scholarship Fund, and will give toys to needy children.

Sponsors of the program are Marjorie Brown, Beatrice Lewis, Beulah Mullen, Betty Witherspoon and Eva Hangen, chairman.
