Sunflower Presentation Goes to Big Fullback Of Frosh Grid Squad

The first annual Sunflower Award for the Most Promising Freshman Football Player was presented to Milan Mraovich, Tuesday, at the Downtown Quarterback's luncheon in the Lassen Hotel.

Mraovich, a 215 pound fullback from Ambridge, Pa., was elected by the Freshman Squad for the Sunflower presentation.

The award was originated by the editorial staff in November to give the hard-working scrub team some recognition for the important part it plays in developing good men for the Varsity.

After Mraovich received his trophy, radio station KANS presented its 1949 Most Valuable Player award to Anton "Hap" Houlik, star Shocker halfback. Houlik has played three years of Varsity ball.

Houlik's award was a pen and pencil set, and a plaque.

Varsity Coach Jim Trimble said, "In addition to affording recognition to a group of boys who take plenty of punishment in scrimmage with the varsity team, and who play three or four little publicized games during the season, the award will tend to stimulate competition and sportsmanship on the team."

During the 1948 season, the University freshman squad played Fort Riley, the Oklahoma A. and M. freshmen, and the Tulsa freshmen.

A Missouri Valley Conference ruling states that a freshman squad may play a maximum of four games a year.

Christy will play Katharine, a leading female role.

Students from many towns, as well as Wichita high school students, are planning to attend. Teachers of many of the schools have reported that their students are reading the play in class so that the plot will be familiar to them when they see the play.

"The Taming of the Shrew" is the fifteenth in the University Theatre's series of Shakespearean productions. It brings to the stage one of the most popular of all Shakespearean plays. The current Broadway hit, "Kiss Me Kate", by Cole Porter, is based on this play.

The play will be presented for the general public Mar. 10, 11, and 12 in the auditorium. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

Red Cross Drive to Feature University Flag Pole Sitter

A flagpole sitting demonstration will be held on the flagpole in front of the University Library at noon tomorrow. A collection to be taken at the event will be contributed to the Red Cross drive," said Carl M. Jones, district Red Cross committeeman.

The demonstration will feature Charlie "Chimp" Corkin, sophomore, one of the few flagpole sitters in the mid-west.

Corkin, champion flagpole sitter of the city and for three consecutive years holder of the National Boys' Amateur Flag-Pole Sitting title, has inherited his talent.

In 1932 his father sat on top of the flagpole on Cockspur Island, Georgia for 40 days and nights to obtain money for Corkin's mother to have an operation.

Since that time Chimp has used the business to put himself through school and to support his younger sister.

"It gets uncomfortable on top of those poles, especially at night," Corkin said, "But, I only stay up a week or so at a time now."

"In the old days it was necessary to stay on top of a pole for several weeks in order to obtain any publicity, but at the present time there is a shortage of sitters and a person can obtain as much recognition with a two day engagement as he formerly obtained with a sitting of several weeks," he added.

High Honor Given Rymph

Merton Rymph, freshman debator, rated superior in extemporaneous speaking against more than 40 contestants in an upper-division debate tournament at Lincoln, Nebraska, Friday and Saturday. He received a superior rating in discussion in which 300 students, most of whom were upper-classmen, participated.

Rymph and his colleague, Carl Milbech, ranked excellent in debate as a result of their individual ratings on speech ability.

Olen Frazier and Wayne Sullivan, freshmen, won four out of five debates.

The 300 students participating in the tournament represented 49 schools and nine states, Leslie M. Blake, debate coach, said today.

May Day Committees Chosen By Council

Committees for May Day activities were announced Monday evening at the meeting of the Student Council.

Vincent Gott, president, said that rules and restrictions for the various contests and events would be announced later.

Committee members are Dick Mullen and Bill Stoebuck, morning athletic contests; Bill Geist and Marjory Van Camp, May Queen election; Harold Kemper and Kathleen House, Hippodrome.

Betty Knocke, maypole winding; Pat Taylor, Dorothy Neises, and James Denninghoff, evening program; and Dick Haughton and Jean Courtney, dance.

Barbs Unite Non-Greeks

The initial shot of the campus political war was fired Friday by the Barbs at a reorganization meeting. Under the temporary chairmanship of Harold Kemper, the sole Barbs representative on the Student Council, plans were formulated to make the Barbs' coalition a representative one, so as to include all non-Greeks on the campus as an integral and actively working body, while still maintaining a high level of efficiency.

Under the new plan of organization there will be four major divisions or committees; political, program, public relations and policy. From these four major groups will radiate subordinate groups whose purpose it will be to investigate conditions on the campus pertinent to non-Greek students, and report these findings to the Barbs representative on the Student Council who in turn will bring these matters before the school's governing body.

Three subcommittees were formed. Under the chairmanship of Bill Tinscher, who will also head the political division, a committee was organized to investigate the possibilities of amending the school constitution in regard to the procedure of replacing vacating members of the Student Council.

Bill Fein, chairman of the public relations division, will head a polling committee which will blanket the campus with questionnaires in the hope of obtaining the students opinions on important issues. With this type of information, direct from the students.

Juniors Plan Class Dance

A Night In The Alibi Theme Of Varsity

"A Night in the Alibi" will be the theme of the Junior class varsity tomorrow night from 9 p.m. until 12 p.m., Hap Houlick, president of the class said. Dick Haughton and his orchestra will play for the dance.

Houlick said that students may dance in the Commons Lounge where the band will be playing. Music will be piped down to the Alibi. The students will have the fountain and tables at their disposal.

Tickets are on sale at the entrance to the Alibi for 75 cents, and will be sold the night of the dance.

A floor show, as yet unannounced, will be presented at 10:30 p.m.

Houlick said, "The dance should be a particularly good one since the new fountain room provides students a place for smoking and playing bridge."

He pointed out the increasing popularity of class varsities. The "Jinx Jump", sponsored by the Sophomore class and the "Fun-house", sponsored by the Freshmen, were well-attended and even more are expected to "A Night in the Alibi".

Forum Date Is Changed

An emergency appendectomy performed Sunday has forced a postponement of Clifton Fadiman's Student Forum appearance on the campus until Tuesday, March 29, Lester Rosen, forum president, reported Wednesday.

Fadiman is said to be recovering "satisfactorily" at the Doctors Hospital in New York. After two weeks of recuperation, he will resume his lecture tours. The noted moderator of the quiz show, "Information Please" was originally scheduled to speak March 17 in the University Auditorium.

"Our Writers, Our Country and Our Planet" will be Fadiman's topic when he appears as the final speaker of the Forum's 1948-49 season. The address will start at 8:15 p.m.

Confusion Reigns At Opening Night Of New Alibi Room

By Peggy Arnett

Went to the opening of the new fountain room last week. So crowded I couldn't see a thing.

Alums from the year one were there with the wife and kids. Invaders from every high school in town came to look over their future study hall.

Men in white aprons polished at the already gleaming chrome and emptied over-flowing ash trays. Some woman kept rearranging the flowers.

People saw and were seen and went home.

Free coffee and doughnuts were given away but I couldn't find the end of the line to take advantage of the generosity.

People "oh'ed" and "ahh'ed" and pushed and jostled their way through the crowd. Some professor's little boys ran around and made faces at themselves in the peach-tinted mirrors.

Music blared from someplace and if anyone was dancing, don't know where they found enough floor space. Whole fraternities and sororities tried to bunch around one table or in one booth.

Someone tried to quiet the crowd for the radio broadcast of the opening and at times, could almost hear Houghton's band.

The master of ceremonies announced the new name and everybody clapped for the benefit of the radio audience when the broadcast went off the air. Almost everybody liked the "Alibi" and the rest said they could get used to it.

Friday, after third hour class, went down to take another look around. There was a notice posted that we were to be allowed to dance and play bridge from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. every Friday afternoon. After the noon crowd thinned out, someone borrowed a deck of cards that had been confiscated up in the old fountain room before bridge was made legal, and we looked around for a fourth.

There was an expensive looking juke box on the band stand that never seemed to run out of nickels. Somebody pushed a few tables back and two or three couples started dancing.

The woman behind the counter sold another gallon or two of coffee, we played a few more hands of bridge, the couples danced until 4 p.m. and school was dismissed for the day.

Life Magazine Art Exhibit Now On Display In Morrison

A photographic exhibition prepared by the editors of "Life Magazine" arrived here Tuesday to be shown until March 15. The exhibition, "The Protestant Revolution," is displayed in the exhibit room in Morrison Hall.

"The Protestant Revolution" is based on one of the recent Life articles in the series devoted to the History of Western Culture. It deals with that turbulent century and a half of European history from 1500 to 1650. This period, full of religious and political conflicts, witnessed the rise of nationalism throughout Europe.

The exhibition uses many pictures and color reproductions, the majority of which was not published. The whole subject has been re-edited especially for the exhibition.

Included in "The Protestant Revolution" are reproductions of the first illustrated edition of Milton's "Paradise Lost," Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress," the first complete Bible in English, Martin Luther's German translation of the Old Testament, as well as works by Rembrandt, Rubens, Vermeer, De Hooch, and other Seventeenth Century painters. Weapons of persecution as they were used by both the Catholics and the Protestants, leaders such as Martin Luther and John Calvin, and the reasons for the Protestant Revolt against the Church, are a few of the subjects the exhibit describes by picture and text.

The newly elected officers will serve one semester.

Attempted Walkout Does Not Succeed; Everybody's Mad

All was quiet on the University campus last Monday morning, the regular activities for the first day of the school week were resumed when suddenly, around 8:30 a.m., the sounds of yells, horns, and fireworks were heard signifying that a walkout was underway.

Tests, lectures, and other school functions were all interrupted—the fuse had been set-off, the walkout movement was gaining momentum in recognition of our basketball victory over Drake University.

Students began to leave their class rooms and one disgruntled professor was heard saying "I can use the two dollars for a make-up test," a student remarked "It's about time we had one," another student said "Let's go get some coffee", and with these sentiments expressed the facilities for higher learning were abandoned.

News of a convocation caused more than 2,000 students to gather in the auditorium at 9 a.m. to cheer the basketball players as they were introduced by Ken Gunning and Lyle Sturdy, basketball coaches. After an hour's convocation, however, students were informed by Vincent Gott, Student Council president, that the walkout was unofficial and classes would resume at 10 a.m.

Orchids To Gunning!

Building a winning basketball team in a league as strong as the Missouri Valley Conference cannot be done overnight. It takes time, at least three, maybe four years of planning and work before any noticeable success can be achieved.

Ken Gunning, Shocker head basketball and baseball coach has gone a long way toward building that sort of team this season. He has developed a squad that seems to get better with each game.

When Gunning arrived at the University, basketball enthusiasm was at its lowest ebb in a number of years. Much has been done to remedy that. Strong student support of the kind displayed in the last two home games is a great help to the coach and players.

If Gunning's own record in basketball is to be used as a criterion, some fine things can be expected of the Shockers in the next few seasons. After three years of varsity competition at Indiana University, Gunning coached at New Mexico State Teachers College for five years and with a male enrollment of about 70, his team played and beat such powers as West Texas State and U.C.L.A.

The basketball record this year, against some of the stiffest competition in the country, is one of which Gunning, the team, and the student body can be justly proud.

Sunflower Reporter Pleased At Student Council Meeting

By Mike Miller

Two weeks ago, the editor of the SUNFLOWER assigned a reporter the job of covering the Student Council meetings and functions. This is the job I've been waiting for, thought the reporter. No doubt I will have a chance to watch first hand a campus political war in all its brutal aspects.

The reporter had visions of Council members fighting and arguing over points of political interest.

Undoubtedly the University Coalition members would be seated on one side of the meeting room, the Shocker Coalition members on the other. The Barb Coalition member would probably be sitting in some corner yelling, "Stop, you're sheating us! We are betrayed!"

For mutual protection, all members would be forced to check guns, knives, black-jacks and other weapons of violence at the door.

This is more or less what the reporter expected to see. His first surprise came when he noticed Barb Harold Kemper and Shocker Pat Taylor chatting in a friendly way at the door of the meeting room. "Can it be," asked the reporter, "that rival-party members are actually friends?"

When the meeting started Pres. Vincent Gott announced that the University was to submit a candidate for queen of the Drake Re-lays. It was suggested that the Council nominate Bea Bowman.

This, thought the reporter, will start things humming. Miss Bowman belongs to the University Coalition. Shockers and Barbs will never let the nomination pass without a fight.

The Council then proceeded to discuss the issue. At no time during the discussion did the Council even start to adhere to party lines. When a vote was called, no coalition preference whatever was seen.

Miss Bowman received the nomination not because she had a special "in" with any campus party, but because the Council was

Biographical Forms Ready For Seniors

Senior biography forms for the 1949 Parnassus are available at the desk in the rotunda of the Administration Building and must be completed as soon as possible, according to Lester Rosen.

"If the desk is closed, biography forms may be obtained at Room 153, Administration Building. The forms should be returned within 24 hours if possible, because the last drafts of the Parnassus are being completed," Rosen added.

The following information will be needed: name; hometown; parents' name; college; campus affiliations; honors, awards, offices; and honorary or departmental organizations.

Tasty! Nutritious! Cheap and Chewy! It's The Commons

Did you know that a tasty and nutritious meal still exists for 65 cents? Though prices have shot sky-high, the non-profit policy of the university cafeteria gives the student a good and inexpensive meal.

"We try to cut prices to a minimum, for the 1000 students we feed each school day," Hattie Gesner, director of commons food service, said. "By doing this, there is no decrease in the nutritional value for the student if he chooses his food correctly," Miss Gesner explained.

"The average student eats a well balanced meal," Miss Gesner continued, "because it is so importantly stressed in many magazines and newspapers. Though they don't attempt to force the individual into eating what he may not like, they do have the duty of limiting certain foods to those at the athletic table."

The type of meals served are planned differently each week and similar meals aren't served on successive days. "We try to base our meals so the G.I. can meet his expenses," Miss Gesner said. Though ground meat isn't as tasty as steak, it has a good calorie content, and is cheaper. Of course this doesn't delete the choice meats, but it is served between such meals when it can be afforded.

"Commons dieticians try to lean away from the policies carried on in service 'chow halls', but certain regulations must be followed when such masses are to be served," Miss Gesner said.

Student Council Studies Suggestion For Ballroom

A ballroom located on the campus was discussed Monday evening at the meeting of the Student Council. It was pointed out that in place of a Student Union building, it might be more advisable to continue using the Commons and to construct a ballroom and office building next to the Commons.

This building would have a ballroom, several office rooms, and a rumpus room.

A committee, headed by Pat Taylor, revealed that each year social and academic groups on the campus pay thousands of dollars for ballrooms and banquet rooms. It was further reported that many school-authorized groups are badly in need of office space.

On the other hand, the committee reported, the Commons building is quite adequate for convocations, meals, and smaller banquets.

For this reason, it was suggested that instead of "junking" the Commons in preference to a new Student Union building, an addition be constructed adjacent to, or near, the Commons.

Miss Taylor said that students should tell their Student Council representatives their opinions on the project in order that the Council could see if the student body favors it.

Male Scores High In Home Economics

Everybody thought it was a joke when Bill Fein enrolled in two home economics courses. It was even funnier when he invaded this "no man's land" in his long white apron.

No one paid very much attention to Fein when he modestly served his hashed-brown potatoes and studied his textile chemistry notes. They humored and pitied the poor fugitive from a zoology lab.

Then, Fein made the highest six-weeks grade in home economics.

Sunflower Editorial Brings Quick Reply From Two Readers

Dear Editor:

In reply to the SUNFLOWER'S suggestion of a study-efficiency course that might be offered in the future at the University of Wichita, I feel it would be very unsatisfactory. If the hardest subjects for students seem to be math and languages, maybe it is because the student does not try—not because he doesn't know how to study.

As it was reported in the story, Dean L. Hekhuis said that a reading-efficiency program that was offered here at one time on a volunteer basis was attended only by those who already knew how to study. My thoughts are that those students that don't know how to study after twelve years or more will never learn and don't intend to.

More than likely the program would not affect the student that needed the lesson. Therefore, what would it accomplish? Students pay for their college education. Why not let them study or not study as they see fit? I maintain that no one can teach someone else how to study. This is something that is accomplished only through the person's own work.

The study-efficiency program would not accomplish its purpose and thus would be to no avail.

—Gerry Hunter.

Dear Editor:

Taking the suggestion you gave in The Sunflower of Feb. 24, I would like to write and say that I believe a course in "efficiency-reading" or "study-efficiency" is what a lot of students have been looking for.

Not only would it prepare students to do their studies better in less time resulting in better grades, but in addition, the extra time gained could be put to better use, say by further reading and moreover, it would enable the student to get more out of college.

The next Summer Session would be the ideal time to start a course of this type, whether for credit or not, because among other reasons, it has the advantage of giving the University a chance to determine the course's appeal and its probable success.

Yours sincerely,
Ralph Favia.

University Station Gets Call Letters KMUW From FCC

Station WUCR, the campus radio station, received official word from the Federal Communications Commission giving them the new FM call letters KMUW.

The station had previously applied for the letters WUFM but the FCC explained that no station west of the Mississippi River is given call letters starting with the letter W. The new letters will stand for Kansas Municipality University of Wichita.

The frequency on which the station will broadcast was also changed from 88.1 to 89.1 megacycles, which should bring better reception. The change in frequency necessitates the re-tuning of the station equipment and will cause a delay in getting on the air with the FM.

The station has until Sept. 9, 1949 to start broadcasting. Station members hope to be on the air within the next two weeks.

Basketball Ratings Awarded At Playday To University Women

Beverly A. Secord, instructor in physical education for women, and Jeanne Bolan, Independent Students Association, won national basketball ratings last week at the basketball playday held in the women and men's gyms from 9:45 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Janice Rainey, Helen Coltrane, and Millie Voth, ISA members, won intramural ratings.

A national rating entitles the holder to act as an accredited official for two consecutive years from the date the rating is issued.

Players representing Friends University, Sacred Heart College, East High, North High, Planeview, Cathedral, Mount Carmel, and Sacred Heart Junior College participated in the basketball games played on mixed teams. The officials were rated during the games by the examining committee of the Wichita Official Rating Board.

At the close of the event, box lunches, furnished by the women's physical education department, were served to all persons attending.

The playday, made possible by the Wichita Official Rating Board and the University, was directed by Miss Secord.

Campus Red Cross Completes Campaign

More than $125 were donated by University students and leaders in the annual Red Cross campus drive, Tom Passall, drive chairman announced Tuesday.

"This is approximately the amount that was given last year," Passall said. "Many students who work downtown donated at other places and so we cannot give the exact amount donated, though it would be higher than $125."

The drive, held Monday and Tuesday, was the first project of the newly organized Campus Red Cross unit. "We hope that next year the interest in Red Cross will increase. And we hope, in college Red Cross, to tell the students more about the organization of this great group," Passall concluded.

Students helping with the drive were Elvin Bergen, Paul Hoblit, Arlene Braitsch, Pat Philipps, Joan Smith, George Welsh, Frank Kutilek, Charles Whiteside, Jim Piper, Flossie Bates, Kathleen House.

Fifteen Prospective Golfers Turn Out For First Meeting

A turnout of fifteen prospective golfers, including three returning lettermen and several good prospects greeted Coach Gunning at a golf meeting held last Friday.

Coach Gunning told of plans for matches with the University of Tulsa, Oklahoma A. and M., Bradley University, and Drake in the Missouri Valley Conference as well as participation in the Conference Championships to be held at Okla. A. and M. late in May. He also revealed plans for making the course of the Wichita Country Club available to the Shockers for practice and home matches. Crestview is in consideration as an alternate.

The Shocker linksmen will practice on their own until a course is definitely lined up, at which time regular practice will begin. Practice rounds will be played the first two weeks, after which an intrasquad tournament will be held to determine the four first team members. Three others will be kept on the squad in the event of injuries.

The golf team will meet with Coach Gunning again on Friday at twelve o'clock in his office. Answers to the remaining correspondence will be discussed and a more definite schedule made up. "All men who signed up are urged to remember the meeting Friday. It is important that they attend," said Gunning.

Harold A. Decker, professor of choral singing and head of the department of voice, lead the University A Cappella Choir and the Wichita Choral Society in a concert presented at the East High auditorium, Friday, Feb. 25, according to Walter Duerksen, music department chairman.

The concert was the fifth annual event of the Wichita Choral Society, and is one of the major music events each year in Wichita.

The program included as soloists: Mrs. Maryan Heilmann, contralto; Mrs. Alma Sapp, soprano; and Bruce Foote, baritone.

Wire recordings were made of the program for the benefit of participants, and for study by the music department.

ROTC Cadets Start National Fraternity To Honor Gen. Arnold

Named in honor of Gen. H. H. Arnold, former chief of the air forces, the society is open to basic and advanced students in Air R.O.T.C.

Maj. Eddie Robertson, assistant professor of military science and tactics for air, will be faculty advisor of the new organization. The local unit will be a squadron, commanded by a major elected by the members.

Piano For 'Alibi' Given By Regents

The Board of Regents of the University presented a new piano for the Alibi at the grand opening of the room Thursday evening, Vincent Gott, president of the Student Council said.

The piano, valued at more than $800, will be located on the band stand of the Alibi.

The gift was a complete surprise even to the members of the Council. Bill Geist, vice-president of the Council, said, "All the students should appreciate this generous gift of the Board of Regents."

Two University Seniors Announce Engagement

The announcement was made Sunday of the engagement of Miss Paula Sue Jernigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jernigan, 157 North Parkwood Lane, to George Thomas Truffelli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Truffelli, 3428 Orchard. The wedding will take place in the late spring.

ROTC Rifle Teams To Compete Friday

Two Reserve Officer Training Corps rifle teams left this morning to compete in the Midwest Indoor Camp Perry matches at Booneville, Mo., tomorrow.

In last year's competition against 41 teams, Wichita led scoring in every class and won top honors.

Teams are divided into junior and senior groups, with basic, and advanced classes in the senior division.

The University of Wichita will enter a basic and an advanced team, according to Coach Charles Ryburn.

Kemper Military Academy will sponsor tomorrow's match.

Foundation Project Ahead Of Schedule According To Palmer

The $1,500,000 project for the University Foundation for Industrial Research, which is in the process of building, now is ahead of schedule, according to Dr. Martin F. Palmer. The project is to be finished this year.

There are 160 dwelling units with brick veneer fourplexes 30 in a "U" court immediately in front of the administration building with 10 fourplexes at the back in a square.

Three children will live in each section of the fourplexes with a housemother. In this way the children will have 24 hour daily care.

The new institute will have room for 400 students in corrective work and 300 pupils in professional work.

Nuckolls Announces New Coffee Hours

Coffee and doughnuts will be served by the Home Economics Club Mar. 10 from 9 to 12 a. m., Corine Nuckolls, president, said. Ten cents is charged for the coffee and doughnuts, which the club serves in the dining room on third floor of the Administration Building.

"The money raised helps pay the expenses of the club," Miss Nuckolls said, "such as paying for our picture in the Parnasus."

Crowds See Alibi Opening

Fifteen hundred students and guests attended the grand opening of "The Alibi", the University's new $60,000 fountain room, Feb. 24.

Dick Haughton and his orchestra played for the event and free refreshments were donated by merchants patronized by the Commons' cafeteria. Stations KAKE and KANS broadcast the opening.

Ronald McEnulty, sophomore, won the $10 prize offered by the Student Council for the name selected as best. McEnulty said he felt that the name was appropriate because the new room was a good "alibi" for skipping classes.

Prior to the opening, a dinner was held in the room. Guests attending were members of the Board of Regents, Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Jardine, Dean Grace Wilke, Hattie Gesner, Ruth Price, Bob Gould, and members of the Student Council.

Cage Title In Balance

Oklahoma Aggies must win tonight from the University of Wichita Shockers to hold the undisputed Missouri Valley Championship.

The Cowboys had a rough time with the Shockers two weeks ago in the Forum, but managed to eke out a 39 to 37 win. Coach Henry Iba has already expressed his fear of the Wichitans and especially Rex McMurray, who starred against the Ags in the previous meeting.

Bradley forced the Aggies into tonight's "must" game when they upset the Oklahomans 35 to 31 Monday night, at Peoria, Ill. It was the Aggies first conference loss.

St. Louis defeated Tulsa 77 to 58 the same night and gained a full game on the Cowboys, giving the Bills a second place record of 7-2.

A Shocker win tonight, coupled with a St. Louis win over Bradley Saturday night, would put the Aggies and the Bills into a tie for the conference championship. This possibility was quite remote when A&M edged the Billikins 40 to 37 Saturday night.

Although De Paul has been the only team able to beat the Cowboys in Stillwater this year, this may be Wichita's night.

The highest price ever paid for beefsteak was $48 a pound at Circle City, Alaska.

Apology! Team Spirit Soars As Students Add Support To Games

By Bob Olson

Last week in this column we slammed the student body for its lack of school spirit. Saturday night at the Wichita-Drake game we took it all back. The student body showed more spirit than at any time this year.

The Shocker win over Drake Saturday cannot be completely attributed to the team. Ken Gunning said after the game that the student support is more important to a team than most people realize.

Some students believe that the spirit displayed by the student body in recent games is unappreciated. They believe that two official walk-outs a year are not too much to ask for since May-Day is an official holiday anyway.

It is apparent that the team has improved considerably in the last three games. Saturday against Drake the team played a fast and clean game sparked by center Walt Knocke. He handled Drake's six-foot-nine-inch John Pritchard with comparative ease considering their sizes.

McMurray, Nebergall, Friesen and Toeves all turned in a superior game and plan to do it again tonight against the Aggies at Stillwater. The game should be fast and even if the Shockers lose they'll give the Aggies a good fight if they're even near their Saturday night form.

Webster B's Enter AAU

The Webster B team, champions of the 1948-1949 intramural league, have been invited to compete in the Kansas State A.A.U. basketball tourney, Mar. 6 to 12 inclusive at the Forum, it was announced yesterday.

Coached by Bill Scofield, Shocker varsity cager, the B's wound up in intramural play with a 12-won, 0-lost record. They scored a total of 737 points to their opponents 291.

Stretch Cather, 6-foot 6-inch center, led the Kebsters throughout the season, scoring 239 points to lead the league. Gene Klein hit 150 to rank second in both team and league scoring.

Six members of the Webster squad have played on former Shocker freshman or varsity teams. They are Cather, Dale

Women's Tournament Is Underway Here

Badminton rackets and "birds" were put to good use in the women's gym last week as the girl's annual badminton tourney began.

In the first round matches, Bobbie Booth, ISA defeated Janice Rainey, ISA, 11 to 3 and 11 to 6 while Rose Lamb, ISA, lost to Sylvia Wooley, Epsilon Kappa Rho, 11 to 6 and 11 to 1. Lois Murra, Delta Omega, downed Lee Stanley, Alpha Tau Sigma, 15 to 3 and 15 to 5.

Jean Drake, last year's champion, Martha Wyatt, ISA, and Millie Voth, ISA, enter the second round of play by means of bye.

In the ping pong tourney which began Feb. 24, Jean Drake defeated Jeanne Bolan, ISA, 21 to 12 and 21 to 19.

All games are played at the players' convenience. The winner of two of the three games play advances to the next round of play, and the loser is eliminated from the tourney.

Mary Jabara, ISA, directs the badminton tourney and Phyllis McMichael, Pi Kappa Psi, supervises the ping pong tournament.

Henry, Eddie Kriwiel, Virgil Parker, Bob Simpson, and Ira Barkman.

Other members of the team, which averages well over six feet in height, are: Randy Barron, Geo. Davis, Klein, Ed Sczepanik.

Hedrick, Kriwiel, Parker, Sczepanik, and Barkman all have lettered in football while attending school here.

The first elevator was a hoisting machine invented by Archimedes in 286 B. C.

Basketball Practice Extended For Girls

Girl's intramural basketball practices have been extended through next week, Jeanne Bolan, general sports manager, said Tuesday. The practices will be held Monday, Wednesday and Thursday from 7 to 8 p.m. in the women's gym.

A player must have three practices to be eligible to participate in the tournament. A team must have eight eligible players.

Basketball Records Tumble During Busy Sports Weekend

A busy basketball week end found several of the nation's leading teams and players emerge with conference championships, new scoring records, and plans for new field houses.

In our neighboring state, the last remaining undefeated cage team was eliminated from the nation's perfect record class Friday night.

Southwest Missouri of Springfield suffered its first loss in 20 games to Southeast Missouri of Cape Girardeau, 42 to 38. However, the Springfielders came back Saturday to close out a highly successful season with a 70 to 66 win over Missouri Mines.

The win gave the Bears an MIAA Conference record of 9-1, and their first championship since 1937.

Below the Mason-Dixon line, a new Southeastern Conference scoring record for one season was set Saturday night by All-American Alex Groza of Kentucky.

Groza scored 23 points as Kentucky mangled Vanderbilt 70 to 37. Those 23 points boosted his season's harvest to a record total of 508. The old season record in the SEC was 504 set in 1938 by Lonnie Graham of Mississippi State.

In the East Tony Lavelli of Yale, the nation's number one major college basketball scorer, has run his season total to 545 points and is within easy reach of an all-time record.

Lavelli hit the hoop in amazing fashion Saturday night as he scored 52 points to lead Yale to a 100 to 64 win over Williams.

The Yale wonder man needs only 32 points in the Eli's four remaining games to tie George Mikan's all-time collegiate scoring record of 1870 points. Lavelli now has a total of 1838 points for his Yale career.

Finally, plans for a Springfield, Mass., College Memorial building, which will serve as a basketball "Hall of Fame" were announced last week. The memorial will be in honor of Dr. James Naismith, who founded the game in Springfield in 1891.

The Hall of Fame will be modeled after the baseball shrine in Cooperstown, New York.

ISA To Drop Out Of Campus Politics

At its general meeting Monday, Feb. 28, the Independent Students Association voted unanimously to stay out of campus politics this semester.

The decision was reached after careful consideration by an appointed committee, according to Winnie Swallow, publicity chairman. The committee will continue to investigate the possibility of politics and, after consideration, will take active political action in the fall.

This decision by ISA leaves the members free to make their personal choice in all campus political activities.

The third committee will investigate the election procedure on the campus, and will work in close cooperation with the Honor Women who have taken the initiative in solving this problem.

On the long range basis, a program division was organized under the chairmanship of Charles King. The fourth division of the organization, the policy committee, will be the largest and most elastic.

An arbitrary number of 20 members was selected, but a stipulation was added that this figure would vary, depending on the interest shown by the non-Greeks on the campus.

It was decided that through this type of committee, which would be open to any non-Greek interested enough to join, the student would be able to take an active part in student government as an individual rather than as a member of an organization.

Grimsley, Albin Mortensen, Bob Gould, Bob Ames and Tony Holoway.

In commenting on this surprise man policy committee include, Bill move by the non-Greek students in organizing, Kemper said, "I believe this type of organization will appeal to the majority of the ized enough to attain a great measure of efficiency, yet loose enough to guarantee the individual integrity of the students."
