Winner Of UNESCO Contest Will Receive Trip To France

A candidate to be an "Ambassador of Good Will" to go to Orleans, France, this summer will be selected from the University students by the University United National Educational Scientific Cultural organization. Any student may fill out an application blank by Apr. 19.

The Wichita Junior Chamber of Commerce has asked organizations and business firms to sponsor a candidate as part of the project in which Sedgwick County Council of UNESCO has adopted the city of Orleans to assist and exchange social, intellectual, and cultural information.

Today marks the end of the campus UNESCO council's four-day Student Exchange Fund Drive, according to Mary Ann Unruh, campus UNESCO president.

It costs two cents a minute to educate a foreign exchange student. This includes living expenses.

"Persons giving 50 cents, which buys one-half of a school hour, will receive a valuable ticket," Miss Unruh added.

Contributions may be made at the Rotunda. Beverly Wellborn is in charge of the drive.

Mary Helen Wall, Charlene Rittenoure, Anna McHugh, Jane Dietrick, Jane Barclay, Charles Christian, Bob Simpson, and Jim Denninghoff are assisting Miss Wellborn.

Miss Box and Miss Barbara Gist will speak at the local downtown clubs and civic groups to publicize the project.

A Sedgwick UNESCO advisory committee will first select the ten best qualified candidates on the basis of good citizenship, leadership, and personality.

From these ten the Board of Judges will select the Community Ambassador and one or more alternates.

The person chosen will have all transportation expenses paid, plus $100 for incidental expenses. He will be the guest of Orleans for 10 days and will be entertained in Paris and other communities.

The representative may take side trips at his own expense if he desires after completing his schedule at Orleans.

The winner will be announced about two months before leaving for Orleans.

A Little Learning May Cause Pains, Says Psychologist

A little learning may be somewhat more than dangerous because a Temple University neurologist says it can give one a pain in the head.

Dr. Sherman F. Gilpin says at least 75 per cent of headaches are not aches at all, but are of some psychological origin. He also has told off the public in his address to the annual meeting of the Philadelphia County Medical Society.

Dr. Gilpin says the public gets only a smattering of medical information from books and articles, but it does not have the necessary medical background. Therefore, the information often does more harm than good.

The doctor describes many headaches as the result of incomplete information. He also declares that too much emphasis is put on educating the public, and the net result is to scare people and give them all sorts of imaginary symptoms.

Coronation Ceremonies For Queen Swallow Will Be Held From 7 to 9 p.m. On May Day

Jackie Swallow, Barb, was chosen May Queen at the annual election Friday, Apr. 8. The Queen will reign over May Day activities, May 6.

The proposal calling for the use of partisan ballots in future student elections was defeated by the students. Approximately 1,200 students voted.

Opposing the winner were Iris Gardner, Shocker Coalition, and Blye Hinshaw, University Coalition.

Miss Swallow was the first Barb candidate to win the election since 1930 when Miss Tyndale, whose coalition was not listed, won the election. In the past there have been five queens from Sorosis, two from Pi Kappa Psi, two from Kappa Rho, six from Alpha Tau, two from Delta Omega, and one from Barbs.

The three student political factions—Barbs, Shocker, and University—put to use nearly every campaign device during the five-hour voting period. Loud speakers from two airplanes, recorded songs and speeches, billboards, and handbills were used.

Coronation ceremonies for Miss

Dr. Earl McGrath Made Commissioner Of Security Agency

Dr. Earl J. McGrath was inducted as Commissioner of Education of the Federal Security Agency recently.

The oath of office was administered by Wiley Rutledge, associate justice of the Supreme Court, before a group representing education, government, labor and farm, civic, business, and women's organizations.

In 1936 he received his Ph.D. degree from the University of Chicago, where he was professor of education from 1948-49.

During the last war, Dr. McGrath had the rank of Lieutenant Commander in the United States Navy and was Officer in Charge of the Educational Services Section of the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

He was a member of a 10 man mission to Germany to survey the school system in the American-occupied zone in 1946.

As a member of Pres. Harry S. Truman's Commission on Higher Education, Dr. McGrath was particularly concerned with the need for extending education at all levels to the underprivileged and minority groups.

Future Of Aggies In Missouri Valley To Be Determined

Whether or not Oklahoma A and M will remain in the Missouri Valley Conference will be decided next month.

The Oklahoma Aggie athletic publicist, Otis Wiley, said in Oklahoma City that Dean C. H. McElroy, A and M's athletic faculty representative, has been invited to attend the Big Seven Conference's annual spring meeting in Kansas City in May.

Wiley said, "Since we made formal application for membership in the league, the question of granting us membership has never come before a faculty group in an official meeting, so far as we know. The invitation of our faculty representative is the first official move in our direction."

Incredible Mishaps Befall Participants Of Soccer Team

Disaster followed disaster for a British Army soccer team in a Yorkshire district league.

Program 'Surprise Symphony' On Campus Radio Station

Attempting to progress away from the all-to-common "Our next number will be . . ." type of record program, station KMUW and Jack Campbell have promoted a new style in presenting 'canned' music.

The program is called "Surprise Symphony" and Campbell, serving as moderator, introduces the artists in a symphonic manner. Although the introductions are strictly from Beethoven, the music is still sweet and swing.

On the program, Campbell plays seven records, each with a different classification. The program begins with a semi-classic, a memory classic, a vocal classic, each recording being by a well known dance band. The featured work of the program is a classical number played in modern style.

In the portion of the program devoted to new symphonic trends, Campbell spotlights the latest developments in style such as bebop. The future classic is a song that is on its way to the top of the popularity ladder.

Closing the program, Campbell presents the instrumental classic in which one artist is featured, who may be Eugene (Gene) Krupa, Gordon (Tex) Benene, or even Thomas (Tommy) Dorsey.

Campbell, who is a speech major, has been with the campus station for two years. He is also on the announcing staff at station KFH and has been associated with that station for two years.

"Surprise Symphony" may be heard over station KMUW each Wednesday at 11 a. m.

'My Job Is Easy,' Says College Umpire

If you're interested in sports but aren't the athletic type, don't worry. And if you're having trouble keeping up your grades, there is still hope for good jobs.

A veteran California umpire, Hap O'Connor, put in some good words for his profession recently when he commented, "Umpiring is a swell job. You don't need a college education. All you have to do is be able to count up to four. Besides that, you work two hours and are off 22 every day."

O'Connor started umpiring semi-pro and college baseball games 35 years ago and he's still at it. He says it took him 30 years to find out he had eye trouble. Now he's wearing bi-focal glasses and he says, "I can see them better than ever."

Department Is Honored

The University journalism department is one of six schools and departments of journalism in the nation to be cited for cooperation in publicizing the 1949 National Newspaper Week.

Recognition came from Howard W. Palmer, manager of the New York Press Association and National Newspaper Week chairman, to Larry Miller, secretary-manager of the Kansas Press Association.

Other journalism schools praised were Boston University, University of Illinois, Iowa State College, Marquette University and University of Missouri.

National circulation will be given a newspaper week feature article and editorial prepared here by George H. Phillips, assistant professor of journalism.

"I am happy to see the University of Wichita singled out for praise through cooperation with such other leading universities," Mr. Miller commented in a letter to Max W. Milbourn, department head.

Interesting Work Plus Good Wages Offered To Grads

Requirements for teachers interested in this work specify that applicants must have completed at least one year of teaching or have 15 semester hours of study within the previous 10 years. The age limit is 50 years. No written examination is required.

Salaries for teaching positions range from $2,498 to $3,351 a year. Teacher-advisors receive $2,724 to $2,927 yearly. Wages are based on the standard federal 40-hour week, with provisions for additional pay for authorized overtime work.

Most of the Indian schools are located in isolated rural areas with meager resources, making it necessary that appointees be able to adjust themselves to the conditions present.

Furnished living quarters for appointees are provided by the government. Apartments or cottages are available at an average monthly rental of $30, including utilities. Unmarried teachers can obtain a furnished room for $10 to $18 a month.

The primary objectives of the Indian schools are to give students an understanding and appreciation of their own tribal lore, art, music, and community organization.

Prospective applicants may obtain information and applications forms at most post offices. Applicants, in order to receive early consideration, should have their application on file not later than Apr. 28.

'Alibi' Attendance And Campus Roads Are Student Gripes

Dear Editor,

For months, many students complained about having to stand in line for coffee in the old fountain room. The school spent approximately $60,000 to build the Alibi to give us a place on the campus to drink coffee and eat lunch.

Arrangements were made for the Alibi to stay open from 1 until 4 p. m. every Friday so that we could play cards and dance.

Last Friday, Mrs. Price had to close the Alibi at 3 p. m. because there were only 10 people downstairs enjoying the benefits of the $60,000 room. What is the matter?

Dear Editor,

I have noticed University workmen pouring cement walks around the campus and I am glad to see this being done. For a long time it has been evident that the cinder and gravel paths on the campus should be replaced with cement.

There is, however, some work along that same line which I think is even more important than paths and walks. That is the condition of campus roads.

Roads on this campus have been in a poor condition for some time and after this winter's severe weather, they are in worse shape than ever.

There are holes in campus roads that are six and seven inches deep and several feet in diameter. These roads are in constant use and should be kept in good condition at all times.

Holes such as these are not only a blot on the beauty of our campus but a definite threat to safety since they cannot be seen by night drivers.

Good walks are needed, yes, but good roads are a necessity.

Mother Of Four Turns Coed; Says College Life Interesting

"I think that everyone should have a hobby and that is my reason for coming to school," said Mrs. Dundine Burns, University sophomore who is the mother of four children.

"My ambition is to write magazine articles and I think I need a basic background of knowledge which only a college education can provide," Mrs. Burns said.

Singing was Mrs. Burns' former hobby, but she feels that a person should not sing publicly after they are 40 years old, unless they have exceptional talent.

Although only slightly past 40, she thinks she should have another hobby so she has chosen writing.

"I want to be able to write about common things in such a way that they will be interesting to the average reader," Mrs. Burns said.

In Arkansas City, her home town, she was a church soloist. She sang over radio station WBBZ at Ponca City and later studied music in New York City where her ambition was to sing in opera.

While studying in New York, she got a part in a musical, "Honey-moon Lane," but was married before the show opened and did not appear in it.

"I always got paid for singing," said Mrs. Burns, "and if I ever do any writing for publication I intend to get paid for that too, because money is the yardstick by which the value of most things are measured."

"My family likes the idea of my going to school; they say it helps me to be more broad-minded and have more interest in the things they do," said Mrs. Burns.

Mrs. Burns' youngest child, 3, goes to nursery school and the others, aged 7, 9, and 13, go to grade school.

"My schedule at the University is arranged so that I am never away from home when my children are there," Mrs. Burns said.

State Board Meets Here

Fifty Kansas towns are expected to be represented here Apr. 18, 19, and 20 for the first annual Inspectors' School sponsored by the University and the State Board for Vocational Education, Leslie M. Blake, adult education director, announced this week.

Sessions on electricity, building, and plumbing are included in the three-day program. School headquarters will be in the Commons. George H. Phillips, assistant professor of journalism, will address the opening session Monday morning on the importance of public relations for city employees. His topic will be "Your Friend, The Public."

In addition to Chairman Blake, other Wichitans on the planning committee include Max W. Milbourn of the University; E. N. Smith, director of service; E. L. Meader, assistant director of industrial and adult education; J. W. Handy, electrical inspector; S. E. Maple, chief building inspector; and C. L. McCaig, assistant chief building inspector.

Dean Wilkie Requests Housing Information

Out-of-town women should return their housing questionnaires to the Dean of Women's Office before the Easter vacation, Dean Grace Wilkie announced, today. The information is urgently needed in a housing study being made by the University.

The questionnaires may be mailed to the Dean of Women or left at the Dean's Office.

'Pinball Aevised Anonymous' For Habitual Sportsmen

By Jack Chegwidde

First you insert the nickel and the lights go on, next you push the lever and the steel-ball is thrown into place, finally you place your hand on the plunger or miniature battering-ram and you are ready to play a game on the ever-popular pinball machine.

The pinball machine is quite an eye-catcher when in operation — buzzers sound, bells ring, and lights flash indicating the player's score. The noise and lights that accompany the playing of the pinball machine soon arouses the attention of the bystanders and before you know it a crowd has gathered around the player, commenting on how to beat the machine.

Did you know that approximately 1200 nickels per week wind-up in the pinball machines at the Varsity Grill? Most of the players are University students but many faculty members are lured by the sport also. The manager of Manning Lunch said that about 250 nickels are put into the pinball machines at Mannings each week.

Playing pinball machines is a fine sport when indulged in moderately but, occasionally, the habit can and does become chronic among many persons. Most everyone has heard of "Alcoholics Anonymous" well—possibly those persons who are habitual players of pinball machines need a "Pinball Anonymous."

Lake Forest College Poll Determines Test Popularity

A poll was recently taken at Lake Forest College, Lake Forest, Ill., to determine whether the essay or objective type of examination is the best.

The result of the poll showed that students at Lake Forest College were almost equally divided as to their choice.

51 per cent of the students favored an objective examination, 48.5 per cent favored the essay type, and the remainder made no comment.

About three-fifths of the students at Lake Forest College believe that the objective type of examination requires more preparation. The other two-fifths of the students feel that the essay examination requires the most study.

A majority of the students listed literature, history, philosophy, and economics as courses adaptable to the essay type examination.

Saturday Scrimmage Ends Spring Practice For Football Squad

The Shocker football team closed their spring practice with a final inter-squad game Saturday morning in old Shocker Stadium.

The squad, weakened by the loss of men to spring sports, was divided into two equal teams. The Black team defeated the Gold team 32 to 0.

Passes accounted for two touchdowns for the Black team and two resulted from running plays. The fifth came as Henry Jamery intercepted a Gold team pass and returned 50 yards for the score. Jamery also scored from the 10-yard line.

Saturday's game ended spring football practice but many players are planning work-outs on their own time. Fall practices will begin about Sept. 1.

A long double into right-center field by Jimmy Nutter, Shockers outfielder, brought home Vince Norman with the winning run as the Shockers downed Emporia State, 5 to 4.

After being out-hit and trailing the whole game, the locals took advantage of three walks by Dennis Shogren, Hornet hurler, Erwin Knocke's infield hit, and Nutter's timely blow to score twice in the last inning.

Randy Barron relieved Quincy Utter on the mound in the seventh frame to gain credit for the win. The hectic ninth inning brought a scuffle between Hap Houlik, Shocker outfielder, and Francis Markham, Emporia short stop. Houlik was replaced by a pinch-runner, Norman, who later scored the winning tally.

Two hits each by Jimmy Nutter and Hap Houlik paced the Wichita attack, which saw 16 Shockers in action.

The Curve Ball Really Curves If You Are Trying To Hit It

Science is now trying to catch up with the knuckle ball thrown by baseball pitchers.

It took several years for scientists to concede that there is such a thing as a curve ball. Even today, someone occasionally offers the argument that the curve ball is only an optical illusion. In general, however, scientists do acknowledge what every baseball player knows—that a curve ball does curve. But the knuckle ball still has scientists guessing.

The Cleveland Indians' famed knuckler, Gene Bearden, says his knuckler doesn't spin and that when it speeds toward the batter, it suddenly dips, waves, or jumps. More than one catcher has spent a trying afternoon working behind the plate with a knuckle-ball pitcher on the mound. Thurman Tucker insists that one of Dutch Leonard's knucklers jumped suddenly and hit him on the chin.

Scientists are skeptical about any wavings, dippings, or jumpings to a knuckle ball. One physics professor said recently, "I'm sure a knuckle ball can't wave. I doubt if it can dip. And I'm virtually positive that it never jumped and hit anyone on the chin."

The educator went on to say, "I believe there is a lot of truth to this optical illusion business."

That seems to be the situation at present. Ball players say a knuckler may wave, dip, or jump, while scientists say such things can't be. You guess a while, now.

Loyola Cage Star Makes New Record

Jim Lacy of Loyola College of Baltimore scored 21 points against St. Benedict's College of Atchison, Kansas, to become the highest scorer in basketball's history with a total 2,199 points in his college career.

The sharp-eyed forward played his last game in the National Catholic tobrney in Denver Saturday night. He made a free toss in the last twenty seconds for an evening total of 21 points. His total was just 38 points higher than the former record of 2,161 held by Brooms Abramovic, of Salem, West Virginia, college.

Officials of the school stated that the athlete's best year was in the 1946-'47 season as a sophomore when he scored 667 points.
