Two Smith Brothers, Miller, and Hunter Appointed As Editors

Sunflower and Parnassus staff appointments for the coming semester were announced at the Journalism Banquet, Wednesday at 6:30 p.m., in the Alibi Room, by Max W. Milbourn, head of the journalism department.

Smith's appointment is his first staff position, while Ames moved from desk editor this semester. Mike Miller was appointed as desk editor, and will be assisted by Estel Smith, sophomore and brother to Marvin Smith, who will edit sports; and Geraldine Hunter, sophomore, next semester's society editor.

Bob Olson, sophomore and former sports editor, was appointed Parnassus editor for the coming year, succeeding Lester Rosen, a graduating senior. James Young, junior, will be next year's Parnassus business manager.

One reappointment was announced by Milbourn, that of Elmo Reiff, senior, as business manager of the Sunflower.

Awards were also made to Mike Miller and Joan Kallail, the year's outstanding freshmen reporters. Miller's award was presented by Colophon, men's honorary journalism fraternity and Matrix, the women's honorary journalism sorority presented Kallail's award.

Milbourn commented briefly on the number of applicants for the various positions on the staff this year. Appointments were determined by the Board of Student Publications.

Parnassus Yearbook Available Tomorrow

Distribution of the Parnassus yearbooks will begin Friday, May 20, at 10 a.m. The place of distribution is the Rotunda, in the Administration Building, according to Lester Rosen, Parnassus editor.

The distribution will be conducted on a first come first served basis and students must pick up their yearbooks individually because of the limited supply.

Monday, May 23, the distribution of Parnassus yearbooks will continue all week. Yearbooks may be picked up only during the morning hours. Students may pick up yearbooks for others during this week as the supply will be more plentiful.

TEMPERS FLARED FRIDAY, as students awaited the results of the Student Council elections. Students shown above are discussing the pamphlet, "Truth," published and circulated by the Barbs. Final election results showed the Shocker Coalition won six of the eight positions; University party, one; and Barbs, one.

Rosen Given News Award

The Gouldner Award, presented annually to the University's most outstanding journalism senior, has been given to Lester L. Rosen this year. Dean L. Hekhuis, dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, made the presentation for Mrs. R. M. Gouldner at the Journalism Banquet held in the Alibi Room, Wednesday evening, May 18.

Rosen has held numerous positions while attending the University. He started as a reporter advancing to sports editor, managing editor, and finally editor of the Sunflower which he held for two semesters.

Rosen has also been president of the Student Forum, president of the Student Council, member of the Men's Honor Group, and has worked as part time assistant in the Public Relations Office for two years. He is editor of the Parnassus yearbook.

The Gouldner Award is the highest award given a journalism student in the University. The student receiving the award is also presented with $100 in cash and has his name inscribed on the Gouldner Plaque.

Rosen plans to continue his job in the Public Relations Office as director of the news bureau on a full time basis upon graduation.

Journalism Students To Work On Weeklies For University Credit

Three University journalism students will work on weekly newspapers this summer as part of their journalism instruction, according to Max Milbourn, head of the journalism department.

Tony Holloway, senior, will work on the Sedan Times-Star; Bob Ames, junior, the Anthony Republican; and Marvin Smith, junior, the Marion Record-Review.

The three newspapers, said Mr. Milbourn, are county-seat weeklies and are among the outstanding weekly newspapers of Kansas.

The three men will receive five hours of credit for their work on the papers. They will be graded by the publishers.

This is the second year the plan of on-the-job training has been used by the University, Mr. Milbourn said, and is unique in the Mid-West area.

Dick Mullen Named Head Of Council

Bitterly Contested Election Swept By New Shocker Coalition

Dick Mullen was elected president and five other Shocker candidates were elected to officer and representative positions in one of the most bitterly contested Student Council elections in University history, according to Bill Geist, retiring vice-president and election chairman of the Council.

Ronny Gott, Shocker, was elected vice-president; Pat Taylor, Shocker, treasurer; Charlotte Weidman, Shocker, secretary; Bob Minser, Barb, and Donna Baillie, Shocker, senior representatives; Eddie Kriewel, Shocker, junior representative; and Norma Jean Haley, University, sophomore representative.

The retiring Student Council decided Monday evening that another election would be necessary for the two senior representative positions since graduating seniors were allowed to vote in the election Friday. The election for the two positions will be held next year along with the regular proportional representative elections.

The two proportional representative posts, vacated by the election of Mullen and Miss Taylor to officer positions, will be filled next year at the regular elections.

The Council meeting was held at the Stock Yards Hotel Dining Room, where the group had a banquet in honor of the newly-elected Council members.

Vincent Gott, retiring president, presented Mullen with the Student Council gavel and welcomed the new members.

The foremost topic of discussion during the election was a pamphlet called "Truth," put out and circulated by the Barbs. During the hours of voting, large crowds of students gathered on the Commons lawn discussing and frequently arguing over the candidates, party platforms, and the publication of the paper, "Truth."

Several times during the morning, certain individuals were threatened with a "dunking" in the fish pond.

Several "Letters to the Editor" concerning the election may be found on the Editorial page 4.

After his third escape he went to Munich, and entered the University of Munich in April of 1946.

Thanner is completing his first year on the University campus. It is indefinite whether he will be able to attend next year.

Activity tickets will admit students. Tickets will be sold to the public at the door.

A discussion period will follow the lecture in which Thanner will answer questions from the floor.

Enthusiastic Baseball Fans Play Campus World Series

By Jack Campbell

"But it isn't gambling." These are the words of five student baseball enthusiasts who are currently managing their teams toward a pennant by rolling dice.

"Scientific baseball, just like the real thing," is the claim of Rankin Griesinger, Pat Quinn, Hugh Livingston, Bill Fein, and Jack Campbell as they "rattle the bones" in league competition.

Each student chose a team, which included his favorite major league players, for a 12 game season or a three-game series with every other team. The game not only has the excitement of real baseball, but is instructive in its scoring techniques.

The rules of the game are quite simple and are arranged according to their frequency in a real game.

So, if you see five highly excited students gathered for an apparent "crap game," don't be alarmed. It may be the World Series.

And Now It's "30"

At the end of each school year it is customary to write a "30 editorial." In newspaper terminology, "30" means finis, the end, a note of completion.

For example, back East, a well known editor died several years ago. In tribute, the newspaper ran a large "30" on the front page. A hundred thousand readers opened their paper and were surprised to see in place of a conventional headline, a lone "30".

And now, it is time to write "30" to this year's SUNFLOWER. A newspaper really does die. Oh sure, there will be another one next year, but there'll be new faces around, new reporters, new editors, and even more important, new stories.

We of this year's staff wish to thank all those who made our paper possible. We want to thank particularly all the reporters who wrote the news, Charlie Jones, Inc., The Eagle Engraving Co., and Mid-Continent Engraving Co.

We have enjoyed editing your paper this year and next year we are looking forward to another All-American award and an even better paper.

And now it's "30".

Haughton Answers 'Truth' Story On Varsity Committee

Dear Editor:

This letter is in regard to the information that appeared in the "Truth" (Political publication of last Friday) relating to Varsities. I would like to take this opportunity to clarify my position as the Varsity Chairman for the past school year.

I was appointed varsity chairman by Les Rosen, first semester president of the student council. I was instructed to work with the class officers and to have one varsity for each class.

I did not once select the band for a school dance. The class officers chose their own bands. There were special council committees to plan the other dances. As a band leader, I submitted my bid to them.

I said 'okay' to the repeated use of my band because all but two of my thirteen members are W U students. (The records of past years show that W U has always used the campus band the most at school dances.)

I charged my flat price for varsities, a figure which is based on minimum union scale wages.

Langenwalter is not my dance band manager. He and I are partners in the Progressive Jazz Concert Series.

The above facts are true and I have not slanted them for political reasons. I have tried in the past year to present the students with an interesting and entertaining Varsity schedule. I feel I have done a satisfactory job.

Dick Haughton.

Student Protests 'Truth' Publication

Dear Editor:

I am pointing this letter not at the entire group of unaffiliated students on this campus, but at the few people who label themselves "Barbs", claiming to represent the entire body of unaffiliates.

It is a shame when Bob Langenwalter and Dick Haughton, two fellows who have worked hard and faithfully to put on successful school functions, have to be subjected to the slandering lies published by a few politically-ambitious, jealous "Barbs".

The school varsities are successes or failures because of student attendance: If the blame is to fall, it should fall on all of us—unaffiliates and Greeks both. We are the ones responsible for the $200 loss.

Barbara Parks

Student Protests Story Of Haughton

Dear Editor,

Last Friday, our campus witnessed one of the hottest elections in the school's history.

No doubt the factor that added the most heat to the election was a paper put out by the Barbs that was supposedly spreading the "Truth" to the poor intimidated unaffiliated student.

Harold Kemper admitted to me that only 90 per cent of the document was the truth and 10 per cent was false. Personally I believe it would be more accurate to reverse these figures, but whatever the percentage of truth there was, there was one subject which was outright slanderous.

We are privileged to have on our campus, one of the outstanding young bandleaders of the nation, and in a few lines of this so-called "Truth," his professional reputation could have been harmed.

We were very fortunate to have this band leader, Dick Haughton, on this year's Student Council. Dick was appointed by the first semester president, Les Rosen, to head the varsity committee because of his invaluable experience in this field.

Haughton was not responsible for selecting the bands for the school dances, but submitted his bid along with other band leaders to the committee in charge of the various dances. In the case of class varsities, it was the class officers who selected the band and in other school dances, it was the Council's selection.

This certainly proves that it's Haughton whom the students want and it's the main purpose of the Council to give the students what they want. As varsity chairman, Haughton did an excellent job in trying to improve the school dances. Everyone realizes how low the spirit has been on our campus this

Public Relations Meet Has Detroit Educator For Keynote Speaker

Otis A. Crosby, public relations officer of the Detroit public schools, will speak at the first meeting of the Public Relations Institute, beginning June 13 and 14 at the University, according to George H. Phillips, chairman of the event.

The College of Education, directed by Dean Leslie B. Sipple, and the journalism department, directed by Max W. Milbourn, will pool their efforts to conduct the Institute.

Crosby is one of America's best known public relations men in the field of education. He was one of the founders and a former president of the School Public Relations Association. He is a member of the American Public Association, author of many articles in leading educational magazines, and also public relations counsel for the National School Service Institute of Chicago.

George H. Phillips, chairman, announced that many Kansas educators and prominent persons in the public relations field have been invited to participate in the roundtable discussions. Professional press and radio men will also lend their services, Phillips said.

Anyone may attend the Public Relations Institute meeting. No fees will be charged.

Scout Executive To Be Here May 20

they doubted the plausibility of the bulk of the statements.

The Barbs intend to work with the new Council. We offer our service and criticism to the new officers and representatives. But we will not stop our drive for the best possible student government.

The students have a right to know how they are being treated. They should certainly know when they are mistreated.

At no time was personal slander intended or perpetrated. Mistakes made were mistakes of the entire Council, not solely of individuals. Serious mistakes were still being made by the Council on the day of election and will continue to be made until adequate people are made a part of Student Council.

Yes, GOTT, the Barbs misjudged the students' response, but no, the bulk of our statements were not false. Our campaign, for whatever it was worth, was open to anybody's view and criticism. That is not true of either of the two Greek coalitions.

We thank the student body for the support they gave the Barb candidates, we hope to serve and represent you more adequately in the future.

Harold Kemper.

Record Number Of Graduates Will Find Fewer Opportunities

Job prospects for college graduates are fewer this year than last, but salesmen are in demand as the nation's economy swings toward a buyer's market. Although colleges are expected to turn out a record number of graduates in 1949, a United Press survey of 43 schools showed that fewer job opportunities await them.

The schools reported that in most sections of the country, there is an increase in the demand for salesmen from businesses which now find it necessary to push their products.

As a group, new lawyers probably face the gloomiest prospects for immediate employment. The situation is also a tough one for co-ed scientists. But there is still a good demand for primary grade teachers, electrical, civil, and mechanical engineers, physicists, chemists, librarians, nurses, and secretarial students, in that order.

The schools reported that, generally, starting salaries in all fields are higher now than before the war. Engineering graduates may get from $225 to $300 a month depending upon the locality and type of industry.

Starting salaries for teachers range widely, starting from a low of $1,800 a year to as high as $3,500 or even $5,000 in some cases where the graduate has the Doctor of Philosophy degree.

The survey showed that starting salaries for accountants average $200 to $255 a month.

Some universities, especially Milwaukee State Teachers College, reported that job openings are plentiful for primary grade teachers. Low salaries and the reluctance of college graduates to teach in the elementary grades have created the big demand.

The schools said there appeared to be no great rush among graduates to enter such new fields as atomic research, although interest in atomic development among engineering students is mounting.

Dr. Harry Rubey, dean of the University of Missouri's engineering college, said atomic plants offered great opportunity for employment but that few of his graduates were entering the field.

Firms requesting graduates with Bachelor degrees, the surveyed schools said, are becoming more selective and asking for those with the highest scholastic grades.

Most college placement experts agree the general falling off in hiring this spring is more a return to normalcy than a cause for alarm. The placement chief at New York University, Lawrence Zimmer, said that compared to pre-war times, employment opportunities are good.

He concluded in these words, "Why, this generation doesn't know what unemployment is. Today's students were reared in times of manpower shortages. They're inclined to get pessimistic if jobs don't come easy. What they have to learn first is how to sell themselves to employers. Just ask some of the graduates of the depression years. They had to do a real selling job to get any kind of work."

Job Opportunities Listed For Students By Deans

Students seeking summer jobs should consult the cards posted on the bulletin boards in the offices of Dean Grace Wilkie and Dean L. Hekhuis. "There are many good opportunities for both men and women," Dean Hekhuis said.

Men students desiring jobs at the University must apply at the Buildings and Grounds office in the Service building before they can be employed.

Those now employed by the department must also make application for jobs. Students securing positions will receive 75 cents an hour.

Miss Olson of the Kansas State Employment Office will be on the campus Thursday, May 19 at 12 noon to talk with students enrolled in the department of secretarial training.

She will discuss employment possibilities at the present time and the training necessary for securing different office jobs. The meeting will be in Room 434N, Administration Building.

Cards posted in Dean Hekhuis' office show opportunities for waiters, chauffeurs, service station employment, various types of salesmen, and training for management and administrative work.

Job opportunities are not as numerous or varied for women as for men, according to Dean Wilkie.

However, women may secure positions as typists in private homes, stenographers, or doing general housework. There are also opportunities for part-time typists in the aeronautical engineering department.

Men who will be commissioned in the infantry are John O. Farmer, Carl D. Graham, Jack R. Robertson, Herman H. Struve, William J. Thompson, and Edward H. Young, Jr.

Record 360 Cases Treated At Institute Of Logopedics

"One case a day" is the record set by the Institute of Logopedics during the past year. 360 cases have been dismissed, either corrected or improved, leaving 916 cases in training.

The program which includes treatment of stuttering, articulation defects, cerebral palsy victims, aphasia, and of the deaf, lacks space and personnel to accommodate the long waiting list.

When the new center is opened in this summer or early fall there will be room to train at least 300 men and women at one time, Robert McCain, public relations director for the Institute said.

The new Institute located on Twenty-first and Grove will have 40 cottages to be used for dormitories and a three-story administration building. The Institute will house a research center in speech defects doing extensive photographic and sound recording work. Handicapped children living in the cottages will receive their regular public school education at the Institute.

Cases requiring training will be accepted without regard to race, religion or place of residence. Work will be done for pupils regardless of their financial status.

During its 15 years of service, the Institute has cared for children from all of the 48 states and from a number of English-speaking countries.

"Most of the speech handicapped can be corrected or so substantially improved that they will be able to follow normal patterns of living," Dr. Martin F. Palmer, head of the department of logopedics, said.

Many speech-crippled through lack of training become a burden upon society. It is estimated that if every citizen of the United States contributed two cents a year, all speech handicapped could receive training.

Wheaties Pep Club Becomes Chapter In National Organization

Wheaties Pep Club became the sixth chapter of Phi Sigma Chi, national pep organization April 31. The national organization has chapters at Kansas University, Kansas State College, Washburn University, Iowa University, and Nebraska University.

At a recent national convention, Gea Stark, campus pep club president, was elected recording secretary. Other newly-elected Wheaties officers include: Kitty Ann Curry, vice-president; Rita Dreiling, secretary; Norma Jean Haley, treasurer.

Wheaties is composed of ten women from each sorority, Barbs, and the Independent Students Association. New members are selected in the fall to fill vacancies. Each new member must pledge a semester and maintain a "C" average throughout membership period.

Any woman is dropped from the organization if she has three unexcused absences from any Wheaties function.

The Independent and Barb members are asked to contact Miss Stark in order that the club's records may be checked.

K G & E Reports for 1948

Total sales of electricity in 1948 set a new high record of $12,717,894, about 8% more than in 1947. More than 5,000 new customers including 1,456 rural customers were added, increasing the total number served to 98,300. More than 644 million kilowatt-hours of electricity were sold. Increased expenses due to rising costs nearly equalled the added revenues so that net income was up less than $42,000.

... of each dollar we took in, or a total of $3,546,300, was spent for fuel, materials and purchased power, an increase of 15% over 1947.

... of each dollar received went to employees for wages and benefits, totalling almost $3 million, an increase of 14% over last year.

... of each dollar received was required to meet our tax bill of $2 1/2 million for the support of local, state and Federal governments. This was an increase of 19% over 1947.

... of each dollar received was set aside for the replacement of the Company's power plants, transmission lines, and other facilities as they are worn out in service.

... of each dollar received was required for interest on money borrowed from bondholders and other income deductions. This was 33% less than in 1947.

... of each dollar received was paid out in dividends to Preferred and Common stockholders at the same rates as for last year.

... of each dollar received, or a total of $512,700, was left in the business to help pay for new construction and other purposes. In 1948 more than $6 million was spent for a new 30,000 kilowatt generator installed at our Ripley Plant and other construction work. The installation of another 30,000 kw generator, now under way, and other construction will require capital expenditures of more than $6 million in 1949.

Our plans for 1949 are based upon continuing demands for expanded electric service which will require the best efforts of the 1,000 men and women in the operating organization. We are proud that the average residential customer gets 39% more electric service for his money now than he did in 1938, in spite of the fact that our cost of doing business continues to go up.

Shockers Outscore Southwestern Nine

The Shockers grabbed their third diamond victory of the season in Lawrence Stadium, Tuesday, when they nipped the Southwestern Moundbuilders, 7 to 6. Deb Saunders went the distance for Wichita limiting the visitors to nine scattered hits.

Wichita almost kicked the game away by committing nine errors while the Builders made only six. Each team collected nine hits but the Shockers put together a single, a walk, and an error, followed with Bill Scofield's single to provide the winning margin.

Southwestern scored three times in the ninth and had the tying run on third base when Saunders forced Marty Sidener, Builder outfielder, to pop out.

Shocker Sports Review Shows Good Season But The Cry, 'Wait'll Next Year' Still Echoes

By Joe Morrissey

With the old Brooklyn war cry, "Well, wait'll next year!" still echoing in some corners of the campus, it's time to review this year's Shocker sports activities to see how much better "next year" will have to be to improve upon them.

A football bowl team for the second consecutive season, a basketball club which had Hank Iba hanging on the ropes, and a track squad second only to the Oklahoma Aggies in the Missouri Valley Conference would seem to indicate that improvement will not be easy.

Ending the grid season with a 5-3-1 record, excluding the Camelia Bowl, the Shockers gained a total of 2,713 yards, 1,655 by rushing and 1,058 by passing. They scored 184 points on 27 touchdowns, 19 points after touchdowns, and one field goal.

In the first game of the year, the Shockers succumbed to superior reserve strength and to 93 degree heat, losing to Oklahoma A and M 14 to 27. Against Bradley, the Shockers utilized a powerful ground attack to win 27 to 7.

Coming from behind with two fourth-quarter touchdowns, the Shockers edged Drake University 21 to 20. Continuing their winning ways, they swept past Utah State 20 to 7.

After seven losses in a row to Tulsa, the Shockers came from behind to tie the defending conference champions 14 to 14. Winding up a five-game streak without a defeat, they took St. Louis University into camp 21 to 14.

In their last three games of the regular season, the Shockers mixed a win over Southwestern with losses to Miami University of Ohio and to the University of Nevada Wolfpack.

In the post-season speculating, the Shockers placed Art Hodges, Mike Knopick, John Agee, Ray Morrison, and Jimmy Nutter on one or more of the various all-star teams.

With a new coach and a new system, the Shocker basketball squad began and ended the season with spurts of power, but let down somewhat in between.

After beating Wyoming University and Regis College of Denver on a swing West, the Shockers ran out of gas to lose 10 of their next 14 games. Returning to form, the Shockers dropped close ones to St. Louis and Oklahoma A and M and whipped Tulsa and Drake.

On the track the Shockers gave their best performances in the Oklahoma Aggie previews to the Texas Relays, and in the Valley Conference meet, also at Stillwater.

Baseball and tennis were not as successful as were the other sports as the Shockers competed against some of the most highly regarded squads in the country.

Shocker golf men wound up a satisfactory season by finishing in a tie for second place in the Conference meet. Al Littleton continued his fine performances by taking third in individual medal play.

UNESCO Officers Will Be Announced

The University UNESCO will meet under new officers Wednesday, June 1, in Room 230, Administration Building, from 7 to 9 p. m., Jane Barclay, president, announced.

A vice-president will be elected and committee chairmen announced at the meeting. Plans for the coming year will be formulated. Any student interested may attend.

Shockers Cop Second Place At Valley Sports Carnival

Paced by the tireless Jimmy Nutter, the Shocker cinder-men grabbed second place track honors in the annual Missouri Valley spring sports carnival at Stillwater, Okla., last weekend.

Although the Oklahoma Aggies took a triple crown in the two-day affair, Jimmy Nutter stole the show by taking high point honors in track. He scored 12½ of the Shockers 45½ points, taking second in the broad jump, second in the javelin, a tie for second in pole vault, fifth in the 100-yard dash, and a share in the Shockers' fourth place 440-yard relay.

Wichita firsts were taken by Ira Barkman in the discus and Jack Childers in pole vault.

In taking first, the Aggies scored 98½ points lead by John Voight who racked 10½. Following the Shockers were Drake, 41½, Bradley, 35½, Detroit, 15, Tulsa, 7, and St. Louis 2½.

Wet weather slowed the track considerably and consequently, no records were broken.

In golf, it was Oklahoma A and M all the way again. The Cowboys had a team total of 833 with Bo Winniger medalist for the third straight year. He clubbed a nine-under-par 201. Wichita's Al Littleton had a 208, to lead the Shockers to a tie for second place with Drake. Each had a team total of 913.

It was an all-Aggie final in tennis singles, and by the time doubles were run off, the Cowboys had clinched the victory.

To make it a clean sweep, the versatile Aggies won the first Valley baseball title by beating Bradley 14 to 4 and 9 to 8 in the East-West playoffs.

League Conference May Add Member

Faculty representatives of the Missouri Valley Athletic Conference met Friday at Stillwater, Okla., to discuss improvement and possible enlargement of the seven-member league.

Artie Eilers, Missouri Valley commissioner, said there would be an announcement of the meeting's action this week. Although there was no word following Friday's meeting, it was believed the members discussed the request of Oklahoma City University to enter the conference.

Orchids! Shocker Coaches, Trainers End Year With Fine Record

By Pat Quinn
Although the Shocker athletes didn't set the league on fire this year, our newly organized coaching staff looks very promising.

Head football coach and athletic director, Jim Trimble, gave Shocker grid fans something to cheer about last year when he lead the Wichita team to one of its best seasons. Norvall Neve, backfield coach, put the razzle-dazzle into the Shocker squad that has been lacking in past years.

Unheralded Frank Petrick and Lyle Sturdy should be credited with their excellent work with the line and the frosh team.

A new member to the hill this year was Indiana's Ken Gunning who took up mentor duties in basketball and baseball.

The Shockers met in the toughest cage conference in the country and for the first time ended the season out of the cellar. The highlight of the season was Wichita's near upset of the daunted Oklahoma Aggies in the forum.

Next year's team looks promising with Lyle Sturdy's frosh squad and the return of these coaches.

Although the season started slow, Ab Bidwell directed Shocker thinclads to the runner-up spot in the Missouri Valley meet at Stillwater. To top his track duties, Bidwell directed intra-mural sports and is the head of the Physical Education department.

Tom Angley and Ken Gunning shared the spotlight in the first big year of baseball for Wichita. Though the locals finished in the winless column for conference play, great hope is given to the many returning lettermen for next year.

Olympic Committee Re-admits Germany And Japan To IOC

The return of Japan and Germany to Olympic competition was made possible recently by the International Olympic Committee.

Following a lengthy discussion, the IOC recommended that "the International Sports Federation readmit the National Federations of Japan" because it believed that Japan can now be considered a nation.

The group also decided that Germany should be accorded the same privileged when a German state was formed.

The various International Federations will make the final decision as to whether Japan and Germany satisfy Olympic requirements. Both countries last participated in the Olympics in 1936.

The two nations may become eligible to compete in the next Olympic games, which will be held in Melbourne, Australia, and in Cortina D'Ampezzo, Italy, in 1956, or in the 1960 Olympic for which the cities of Los Angeles, Cal., and Detroit, Mich., recently made bids.
