Males To Vie For Honor

Voters To Pick Ugliest Man

Alpha Phi Omega plans to sponsor another Ugly Man Contest this year which will be held during the week of Oct. 17 to 22, according to Edward S. King, president of Alpha Phi Omega.

The deadline for petitions to enter applicants is Oct. 11. The winner will be announced at the all-school mixer following the University-South Dakota football game on Oct. 22.

During Ugly Man Week, Alpha Phi Omega will have booths erected in the Rotunda of the Administration Building and in the Commons. At the booths there will be a separate ballot box for each candidate and also receipts for those desiring to fill out income tax exemption forms.

Votes are to be cast at a cost of one cent each and all proceeds are to go to the Red Feather Drive. Students may cast as many votes as desired.

Any male student may enter the Ugly Man Contest providing he has a petition of 40 signatures and an organization backing him. All petitions must be in the Alpha Phi Omega mail box, located in the old aeronautical building, by Oct. 11. Positively no petitions will be accepted after this date, said Ed King.

The project committee consists of three men, John R. Walker, chairman; Edward S. King, and Jack Brooks.

The application below may be used as a petition to enter the applicant of your choice.

Newly-elected Student Council members attended the meeting Monday.

The members who officially took their positions yesterday are Grace Berberich, George Welch, Wilbur Elzea, Donna Baillie, Bill Beck, Dick Haughton, and Phyllis McMichael.

New committees were announced by President Dick Mullen. George Welch will head the varsity committee with Dick Haughton and Phyllis McMichael as committee members.

Beanie Rules Set By Read

"The Student Council did not foresee all the complications that would arise at the first football game of the season concerning the cheering sections, but all difficulties seem to be ironed out now," said Dr. C. B. Read, chairman of the Special Stadium Committee.

The student section, located between the fences, has been designated as the cheering stand. The Student Council has been given authority to specify who should be admitted to this section," Read said.

At remaining games, rules to sit in the cheering stand include having either a student activity ticket, faculty ticket, or a ticket admitting a person to the student section which costs $2 and is restricted to one per student, and "the ticket holder must be wearing a beanie," asserted Read.

Seniors Requested To Check Credits

Seniors are requested to carefully check their academic programs according to Dean L. Hekhuis, dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

An error that is not caught, resulting in a deficiency of credits or hours, may compel a student to take an additional semester's work in order to graduate, Hekhuis said.

Journalists Attend Press Convention

Four journalism students from the University will attend the American Collegiate Press Association convention, Oct. 13-15, at the Statler Hotel in Detroit.

The students are Bob Ames, Elmo Reiff, Bob Olson, and Jim Young.

The students will leave by train Wednesday morning.

Cast Is Picked For Dec. Opera

'The Bartered Bride' Will Honor Composer

Leading roles in the opera, "The Bartered Bride," were given to Darlene Reece, Mary Myrth Weatherwax, Jim Fleming, James Wainner, Forrest Davidson, and Bob Minser, by Harold A. Decker, of the School of Music.

The cast will present three evening programs Dec. 15, 16, 17, matinee for public school children on Dec. 14.

"So that no individual voice is over-taxed, and in order that the parts may be distributed among the most people, it is necessary to have dual casts," Decker said.

This year is the One hundred twenty-fifth anniversary of Bedrick Smetana, composer, the opera is being presented throughout Czechoslovakia and Europe.

The story of "Bartered Bride" is that of a village romance in the Bohemia of a former day. It involves the ancient custom of the marriage contract arranged by the village matchmaker through the parents.

The supporting cast includes; Krusina, Eldon Moen, John Davidson; Ludmilla, Joy Breese, Bonnie Molz; Micha, Lloyd Bell, Gene Price; Hata, Erma Holland, Charlyn Dixon; Vasek, Bill Sandlin, Walter Jost; Emerald, Margaret Linn, Judy Luedke, and the manager, Robert Groom.

Rules For Conduct At Dances Take On 'New Look' Since 1939

by Dan Nyberg and Rankin Griesinger

"While in general the conduct at University dances is good, I think improvement could be made by attention to the points in this article," Miss Grace Wilkie, dean of University women said just ten years ago in the Jan. 5 issue of the Sunflower. The rules Dean Wilkie referred to were from the College of Emporia's "New College Life" Dec. 8, 1938. They were the rules given by Mrs. Rice Brown, dean of women in the College of Emporia.

Whether the conduct improved or not is a matter of conjecture, but after glancing at the rules, it seems the times have changed. Let's take a look at just a few of the personal conduct rules laid down in 1938.

Here is rule No. 2. "She should try to restrain him if he is feeling 'coltish'. Anything which draws attention should be avoided. This includes all warbling sopranos and baritones who croon off key."

Romance was definitely on the down grade, rule 3 says. "No matter how romantic you feel don't dance cheek-to-cheek or with eyes closed. You may feel rapturous, but it looks stupid and silly to others."

"Good posture is a part of good dancing. Stand erect, not on the bias," the article said. "Keep your distance. How can any boy expect a girl to do her best if he clutches her in a vise-like grip and uses her as sort of a bumper!"

"No girl should twine her arms all the way around her escort's neck or lean too heavily on his manly chest. Don't go in for acrobatics, strange holds, or sink-or-swim tatics. Try not to bounce or prance. Be SMOOTH."

"When collisions occur with another couple or with your partner, the boy always apologizes."

"Even if the girl falls over his feet with monotonous regularity, he continues to play the hero." He falls over her feet a few times so she won't feel self-conscious or slighted.

"After the dance the boy should applaud the orchestra but the girl should refrain."

"When the dance is over he may say 'thank you for the dance'. She says, 'I enjoyed it too.'" Do you have a cure for fallen arches?

"Unless it is a program dance, the girl should never be left deserted. If nothing else the boy can tell her the story of his life. If she wishes to escape there is always the dressing room and the necessity for powdering her nose."

If students were forced to abide by these out moded rules today, the crowded situation at many dances would be solved. But, like many other trends, the rules of dancing have been revolutionized and are a far cry from those of ten years ago.

Round about the Campus

By Gerry Hunter

All movie-lovers will flock to the University auditorium tomorrow night to see "The Man And The Iron Mask." Katy House, who is in charge of the affair, says the show isn't about a masquerade ball but is a complicated plot of twin French king heirs. Sounds like a tasty morsel for any "peasant."

"Faces that stop a clock are bad enough but faces that break a camera are something to note," Rankin Griesinger, Sunflower photographer, said when his camera refused to work after he had taken a picture of the Student Council members.

Here's a tip for all treasurers who are in need of something to guard their spoils—Phi Sig, George Stables, has obtained a monstrous Boston Terrier (it stands a foot high) to keep off all money-lovers. The pooch feels quite proud wearing gold and black pledge ribbons on his collar.

Websters' Stretch Cather and Ray Dumbaugh have popularized a new song by singing it frequently around their fraternity house. The song, which is dedicated to Bea Bowman and Gene Klein starts—"Matinee and tea for two, Bea was there and Gene was too."

Actives of Alpha Tau Sigma had to barricade the doors of their house to keep hasty pledges from skipping out last Monday at meeting when the Websters serenaded.

Sorosis pledges led by Beverly Geren, Sharne Winters, and Pat McMinn succeeded in crawling out the window of their sorority house to sing to the actives, after the same Webster serenade, but their sorority sister, Ann Dunham, was caught half way out the window and did exercises under the guard of actives — Tough luck!

Boys are always ready for more excitement—it seems like there ought to be a better way than to pledge. New additions to the Pi Alpha pledge class are Ronald Cook, Norval Madden, and Bob Goodwin. Alpha Gamma Gamma has pledged Ed Roembach, Dick Roembach, Melvin Reser, John Hartley and Robbie Walker.

"The paper must go on" is the motto of Marvin and Estel Smith, editors of the Sunflower. Even after their car was demolished in

Phi Mu Alpha Holds Smoker For Pledges

A business meeting was held and the activities for the coming semester outlined.

Parnassus Deadline Set For Group

All fraternities, sororities, and clubs that wish space in the 1950 Parnassus should make reservations in room 103 in Fisk Hall by October 11, according to Jim Young, Parnassus business manager.

Young said that space reservations must be made in order to make an early dummy for the year book.

a wreck the two hard-hitters made it on foot to the printers to make up the next edition of the paper. That shows real spirit.

Charlene Jackson, Jo Ann Smeltzer, and Helen Lyman, pledges of Epsilon Kappa Rho, are busy stenciling T-shirts to raise money for their class. They will also be doing their bit in getting ready for their open house for the fraternities this Sunday—A pledge's work is never done!

Disheartened singles mustn't give up. Cupid is still on the go. At least Delta Omega Kay Branson thinks so for she is wearing the pin of Pi Alpha Pi Carl Goeller. That should be some consolation.

A professional singer entertained Ann Asher last Saturday evening when pledges of Sig Ep from Oklahoma University were guests of several Sorosis girls. Others

Betty Coed Dinner Will Reveal 'Sweetheart' Of Alpha Gamma

Cobrin Speaks To Fraternity Alumni

President Harry F. Cobrin met with 30 Men of Webster alumni in the Walnut Room of the Lassen Hotel at noon Monday to discuss University problems.

According to President Cobrin the meeting was held to solicit alumni support in University problems. The alumni were quite receptive to the idea, President Cobrin said.

who were awed by his croon-tunes were Susie Lovelace, Edna Neal, Connie Weckel, Rosemary Henderson, Joanne Friend, Mary Villipigue, Barbara Tucker, and Mary Ruth Herring.

A special section will be reserved for Betty Coed at the University of Wichita-Bradley football game Saturday.

Mrs. Forrest Weirick, formerly Iris Gardner, won the honor last year.

The Phi Pi Chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, national music sorority, presented a combination radio-phonograph to the Wichita Children's Home, 810 North Holyoke, Friday, Sept. 30.

The presentation was made by Sue Bowers, president of the sorority, to Miss Harriet Wells, superintendent of the home. Others present were Mrs. James Kerr, sponsor of the sorority and Ester Lee Titus, chairman of the project.

Members of the sorority will present a music appreciation hour for the children twice a month. The sorority also plans to supplement the record library with new albums throughout the year, said Miss Titus. Others of the project committee are Kathleen House and Cinda Silott.

The organization raised money to buy the radio-phonograph and records last spring. They sponsored a benefit concert, featuring Robert Miller, a former student of music at the University of Wichita.

The first music appreciation hour was given for the children Wednesday evening, Oct. 5. Bonnie Molz and Darlene Reece were in charge of the program.

Officers of the Mu Phi Epsilon for the following year are Sue Bowers, president; Joan McClean, vice-president; Kathleen House, recording secretary; Terry Hartman, corresponding secretary; Bonnie Molz, treasurer; Cinda Silott, choir; Ester Lee Titus, warden; Barbara Shirley, chaplain; and Gea Stark, pianist.

Prof. W. A. Ver Wiebe Hailed As Genius In Oil; His Books Regarded As Educational Monument

By David Walk

Once upon a time, as the legend goes, when a prominent visitor from the East was being shown about the University campus and had met all of the faculty geniuses, he was supposed to have remarked, "But where is Mr. Ver Wiebe? I haven't met him yet."

This was supposed to have been Known For Knowledge...

Walter A. Ver Wiebe

an indication of the esteem in which Ver Wiebe is held by his contemporaries in education all over the United States.

A fellow faculty member was recently heard to remark that he wished that he had just one-tenth of the knowledge up there, pointing to his forehead, as Ver Wiebe had.

The subject referred to by the foregoing statements is the 62 year old Prof. Walter August Ver Wiebe, Phi Beta Kappa scholar and head of the University geology department since 1927.

Ver Wiebe, an authority on oil formations in the U. S. and Mexico, has, in addition to his position at Wichita, held teaching posts at Cornell University where he received the degree of bachelor of arts and Ph. D. in geology, and at the University of Michigan.

Ver Wiebe was field geologist for the Sinclair Oil Company from 1918 to 1920 and served as Chief Geologist for the Mexican Sinclair Oil Company from 1920 to 1923.

Numerous valuable books have been written by Wichita's "genius in oil"—books that have been acclaimed by geologists as "monuments in oil education."

Ver Wiebe's latest book, Oil Fields In North America, published by the author, is a revised edition of his standard Oil Fields In The United States, and, according to one critic, it has long been overdue.

Oil Fields In North America includes description of oil fields in Mexico, Canada, Alaska and in the United States. It is a "must" for geologists and others interested in oil formations.

For students who hope to 'strike it rich' someday, either as producers of oil wells or as potential geniuses in the field of human relations as teachers, Ver Wiebe would be a good person to know.

Make sure that before you leave the University you, too, meet the "kindly," "shy appearing" man of whom faculty members say, "He's ten times as smart as I am."

Music Head Speaks To Chanute Schools

Walter Duerksen, head of the University School of Music, spoke at the Chanute High School and Junior College Career Day, Wednesday, Oct. 5.

The career day program consists of lectures by outstanding speakers in various fields.

"Existing Opportunities in the Field of Professional Music and Music Education," was the title of Mr. Duerksen's speech.

Board Fails In Vote Control

Describing as "unthinkable" any efforts of a school board to exercise political thought-control over members of its professional staff, a commission of the National Education Association asserted recently that teachers have an obligation to participate in public affairs through discussion, voting and aiding in the formation of public opinion.

The issue developed in a controversy at Grand Prairie, Tex.

On Apr. 27, five teachers of the school system there, received notice their contracts had not been extended by the school board.

Although their length of service at Grand Prairie ranged from 6 to 26 years, the board refused to give any reason for its action.

At no prior time had these teachers been advised by the board or their supervisors, of any complaints reflecting on their professional competence or character.

One superintendent had recommended their contracts be renewed.

Early in May NEA defense commission conducted an inquiry interviewing local officials, civic leaders, representatives of business and professions, teachers, superintendent of schools and board of trustees of the school system.

Investigation revealed the five teachers had, with the board's knowledge, indicated to certain people in the community their choice of candidates in a school board election.

A large part of the community believed the teachers' election activity formed the basis for the dismissals.

Significance of the findings in the Grand Prairie investigation was pointed out by Richard B. Kennan and Cyrus C. Perry, commission secretary and legal counsel, respectively.

They declared, "action of the Grand Prairie school board in failing to renew these contracts without giving reasons, prior notice, or opportunity to remedy alleged defects was in direct violation of sound professional practices."

Senior Prexy-Elect Regrets Light Vote

"We're mighty glad to have been elected but we wish that more students would have turned out to vote," said Pat Larimer, newly-elected senior class president Tuesday.

Speaking for the group of class officers who were elected Nov. 28, Larimer said, "In the past, the class officers haven't had too much to do in the way of official duties."

"Maybe this year the officers can find some way to stimulate interest in elections on the campus. By working with the Student Council, I hope we can do this."

"I'm sure I speak for all the officers and representatives when I thank the students who did take the time to vote. When the next election rolls around, let's all turn out — 3,000 strong!"

University Known Once As Finishing School For Women

By Rankin Griesinger

You may believe it or not, but the University of Wichita was originally intended to be the Vassar of the West. Yes, a girl's school.

Here's how it all began. In 1886, the school founders named it Fairmount because of its high geographical position in relation to the city.

Money was raised by the Congregational Church and, if plans had succeeded, the University today would be an elaborate finishing school, bidding against Stephens or Wellesley for the wealthier girls of the Midwest.

The project was never completed as scheduled because of financial difficulties, and when, in 1892, an eastern educational group affiliated with the church offered to complete the building as a co-ed school, the local group consented.

In 1896 the school was re-chartered as a four year college, giving A. B. and music degrees. In 1926 Fairmount was taken over by the City of Wichita and has since remained a Municipal University.

Crum To Talk Before C.P.A.

Prof. William F. Crum, head of the University department of accounting, will speak tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. on the subject "The C.P.A. Examination" to the Kansas Society of Certified Public Accountants, now holding its annual convention in the Lassen Hotel.

This address will be delivered before the junior accountants and staff members who are not yet certified by the State Society. A business meeting has been scheduled for the same time for all the accountants who have passed the C.P.A. examination.

Professor Crum said that in his speech he will explain and define the different problems met in preparing for the test.

"It will necessarily be very general, but emphasis will be placed on the proper psychological attitudes needed to approach the examination," he said.

A C.P.A. review course is currently being conducted by Professor Crum in the University night school. There are 43 students enrolled in the course. Only three are otherwise registered in the University.

The other 40 members are men from local public accounting firms and other accountants wishing to prepare for the Kansas C.P.A. test which will be given Nov. 16 to 18 in Lawrence.

Frats Entertain At House Parties

Three campus fraternities entertained at house parties last weekend. Alpha Gamma Gamma held open house Sunday from 3 to 9 p. m. for the five University sororities. Phi Upsilon Sigma honored Alpha Tau Sigma sorority at an open house Sunday at 4 p. m. at the fraternity house. Men of Webster were hosts at a house party for pledges, actives, and their dates Friday evening at the Webster house.

Sororities attended the Alpha Gam open house in alphabetical order, and stayed for one hour. A circus theme was carried out in decorations. Dan Tevis and Jack Denman provided entertainment with clown acts. Dan Nyberg was in charge of arrangements.

Highlight of the Phi Sig open house was a barbershop quartet, composed of Bill Powers, Jerry Lehr, Bob Groom, and Bob Walker. Bridge and canasta games were the diversion of the afternoon. Bob Langenwalter was in charge of arrangements.

Guests at the Webster house party were entertained with a skit, under the direction of pledge Bob Ramoshka, which portrayed the lives of actives in future years. Fifty couples attended the party, which was planned by Ted Young, head of the social committee.

William 'Bill' Bolden On Trial For 16 Years To Secure Job

By Sam Davis

"Hi ya, Bill."

"Got a match, Bill?"

William (Bill) Bolden, a janitor of the University of Wichita, is celebrating his 16th year here. Every day, all day, throughout each year Bill has been around with a warm smile and a friendly greeting to all who meet him on the campus.

Bill is always ready to listen to someone's troubles, debate on football futures, or just say "Hi" to any and all comers.

Sixteen years ago Bill was doing an odd job for one of the school officials. He inquired about a job at the university. The official, Bill has forgotten his name, told him to come on out and he would be given a two-week trial.

Bill went out, two weeks passed and nothing was said to him about his work.

So, for the past 16 years, Bill has been working "on trial" and still is.

During his career here, Bill has seen two University Presidents take office and has watched the University grow from 1,000 students to its present enrollment of over 3,000.

Bill was born near Atlanta, Ga., in June of 1894. He moved to Wichita in 1929 and got his first job at Cudahy's Packing Co.

From there he worked for "Jack's Shack" on East Central as a cook. Following that and a few odd jobs, Bill started working for Wichita University.

When students leave this school they may forget many things they have learned, but it is doubtful if they will ever forget the "Hi" of the friendly man who is helping to make the world a better place in which to live.

Army Reserve Has Openings

A number of University students answered the call to fill some of the 400 vacancies open in the 89th Reserve Division and other reserve army units in Wichita during the last week according to army officials.

Students, age 17 and up, are eligible to apply for service in the army reserve forces at Wichita reserve headquarters, 626 East Douglas. Those with previous military service may enlist in the same grade held at the time of discharge from active service.

Men who have no previous military experience are also eligible to qualify for the army reserve posts according to Lt. Col. R. P. Ronne, commanding officer for reserve activities here.

About 150 commissioned vacancies are included in the 400 open posts in reserve activities. Commissioned members can accumulate a minimum of 50 officer reserve corps points per year which will qualify them for retirement pay at 60 years of age.

Fifteen points is given for O.R.C. membership each year. The additional 35 points may be earned through meetings and other reserve activities during the year.

Student Directory Sales Begin Oct. 14

The Student Directory will go on sale by Oct. 14, Dick Haughton, directory editor, announced Tuesday.

The publication will contain an alphabetized list of names, addresses, and telephone numbers.

A special section will list the names and telephone numbers of the members of Greek organizations and the Independent Students Association, Haughton said.

Students Teach!

Surveys Show More Interest In Class In Syracuse Trial

Surveys at Syracuse University show that students read more, study more, and discuss more in the experimental classes in which the traditional role of the professor in the classroom has been discarded. Dr. Arthur Combs, university psychologist, declared that such students also do better in examinations.

Under the plan, students direct the class and grade themselves. Dr. Combs stated student-centered teaching has been "successful far beyond our expectations" when compared to traditional classes. More than a dozen classes are now using the method here. Interestingly, the marks fall in line with those in conventional classes, Dr. Combs added.

The principal duty of the instructor is to clarify and encourage discussion, creating a permissive atmosphere of freedom from threat and authority. The psychologist said those participating in student-centered teaching develop much more friendly feelings toward each other than persons in the same course under the lecture method.

Dividends!

Numbering System For G. I. Insurance Payments Explained

Veterans Administration today explained the numbering system being used to identify applications for dividend payments in connection with the $2.8 billion National Service Life Insurance dividend.

The application number, which is stamped by V-A on both the application form and the acknowledgment card returned to the applicant, is in two parts.

The number appearing to the right consists of two digits preceded by the letter "A". This number remains the same for each group of 1,000,000 cards. The designation "A05", therefore, indicates that the application is among the fifth million cards processed.

The number to the left, composed of four digits, is a batch number, identifying each batch of 100 cards within the one million group. Thus, the number "0247-A05" indicates that the application is in the 247th batch of the fifth million cards processed.

All the applications in each batch of 100 cards bear identical numbers.

UNESCO Receives Requests For Pen-Pals From Foreign Schools

by Joe Ludiker

Thousands of foreign students wish to correspond with American college students to exchange ideas and points of view. Many of these students have written to the campus United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization asking for "pen-pals" from the University of Wichita.

Most of the letters received are from students of the University of Munich. Many of these students express the desire to understand the English language better. Some of the letters are not written in the very best style, but all express the desire to cement relations between our countries.

"Through these pen-pals, UNESCO hopes to help men and women all over the world get together to compare ideas, daily lives, and hopes on a person-to-person basis. Genuine personal letters with accurate and sympathetic information lead to understanding between peoples of different lands," said Jane Barclay, UNESCO president.

University students wishing to correspond with students of Germany or Japan should see Mike Miller in the Sunflower newsroom in Fiske Hall.

Students who wish to correspond with students of other countries should write: Letters Abroad, World Affairs Council of Philadelphia, 1411 Walnut Street, Philadelphia 2, Pa., USA.

Include your name, address, age, occupation, and interests. Letters abroad will match the students according to age, interests and occupation. The overseas letter will be sent to the American student and thereafter, the new friends will write directly to each other.

From Japan comes a letter from 20-year old Makota Onta. Makota says he is interested in writing to American students because he is interested in the beauty and grandeur of American literature.

Makota Onta writes:

Dear Sir,
Seeing your letter in the newspaper I desire to exchange letter with you, and I have the opportunity to send this letter to you.

I was born on May 11, 1929, and live in Sandai, the city to the north of Japan, going to church as a Christian, feeling the interest in the grandeur and beauty of American literature and studying it oneself.

But having known little of them so I desire to on intimate with you to find the way for truth, freedom, and love.

We, Japanese, are deeply moved by hearing that you Americans make every effort to establish the peace among the countries in the world, besides we are glad to declare that we do our best to make our lovely country more democratic and peaceful day by day. I believe you will send the return to me with favour on my earnest desire.

Yours respectfully
Makota Onta

From the American zone in Germany Ernst Glock writes about his main interest, physics.

With a loss of several years due to the war and its consequences, I am now at the age of twenty-four, still in my first year of studies. I have chosen physics for two reasons:
I think that modern industrial development wants a better all-round knowledge in science than any specialized education can provide.

Physics is the only faculty where one is enabled to acquire an outlook on the world and on life which is really up-to-date.

As to my interests beyond those in science, there may be said that they are much as may be presupposed with any cultivated individual: literature, music, fine arts. In music I prefer Bach and the Vienna classics, in fine arts the Dutch of the 17 century, the French of the 19 century, and Chinese water colors and prints.

Bookstore!

W. U. Bookstore Gets New Equipment For Better Service

"The University Bookstore, a store which compares favorably with other bookstores all over the nation, is equipped to give the highest type service to students of the University of Wichita," Frank Robertson, manager, said today.

Mr. Robertson pointed out that in addition to a complete line of school supplies, the Bookstore handles neckwear, luggage, bill-folds, electric toasters, fans, radios, combination sets, rebuilt typewriters, electric heat-pads, and other household articles.

"One of the most popular features of the store is the electric shoe shiner," Mr. Robertson said. "The shiner gives a good shine in one and a half minutes."

In the concession line, the store sells soft-drink beverages, cigarettes, and sandwiches. The sandwiches are prepared in the University cafeteria.

Mr. Robertson said that the wide variety of merchandise was possible because of a 50 per cent store enlargement during the summer.

"We are a member of the National Association of College stores, Inc.," Mr. Robertson said. "The NACSI is a non-profit organization of more than 600 college bookstore managers in the United States."

"The primary purpose of the organization is to keep bookstore managers informed on current trends in sales and to present the best merchandise to students.

"You might compare the NACSI to an information bureau of any large company. They give us lots of tips on what students want and need. This, of course, gives better service to everyone at the University."

Mr. Robertson said he attended a recent NACSI conference where panel discussions covered bookstore administration and procedure.

"This conference gave me several ideas on how to give even more service to University students and that's what we want to do—keep expanding and giving better service.

ful for college mental-hygiene and health authorities in working with psychological or medical problems in which drinking is a noncomitant factor."

The directors emphasize that in no instance will findings be identified with individuals or with specific schools.

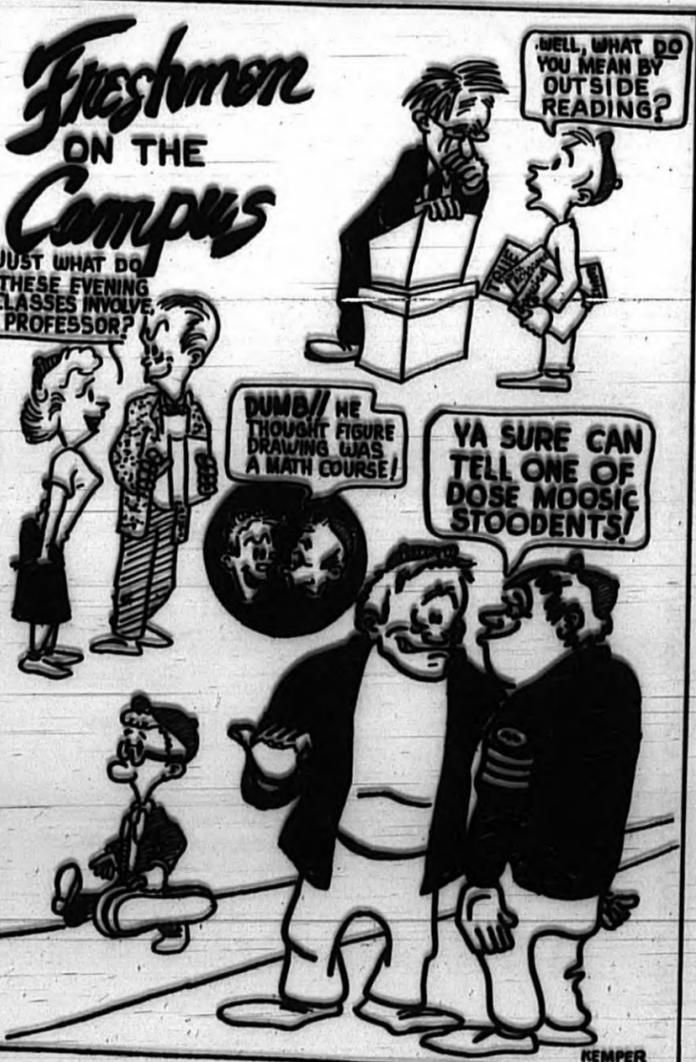

The questionnaire is divided into seven groups. The first deals with general background information and the second pertains to college life. The third group of questions deals with "drinking background"—approval or disapproval and extent of use by parents, and other related information.

Items dealing with drinking by self include questions on when the student began drinking, how much he drinks and the reason he drinks.

Faculty Can Dine In Commons Room

Faculty members may now use table service in the faculty dining room of the old fountain room of the Commons, according to Hattie Gesner, food service director.

Faculty members may be served luncheon in the room and alleviate the problem of waiting in the rush-hour lines. This will facilitate their arriving for afternoon classes on time, Miss Gesner said.

Yale Survey Will Poll Colleges To Determine Drinking Habits

A survey of the drinking habits and attitudes of college students around the nation is being conducted at Yale University. Class groups in approximately 80 colleges will be given questionnaires during the next 10 months.

This self-administered, 100-question survey is concerned solely with determining the nature, incidence and development of drinking behavior and its relationship to other aspects of behavior.

The investigation is part of an over-all study of normal drinking behavior being made by the Section on Alcohol Studies of the Yale University Laboratory of Applied Physiology.

Seldon D. Bacon, Associate Professor of Sociology, and Robert Straus, Research Assistant in Applied Physiology and Assistant Professor of Sociology, are co-directors of the survey.

"There are no facts available on the drinking habits and attitudes of our college population," according to Mr. Bacon. "Instead, there is a large mass of subjective opinion and misinformation on the subject. As a result, many sincere persons have acquired a distorted impression of the nature of the drinking behavior and problems in the American college."

The survey directors say that their work should assist educational administrators and persons charged with discipline.

It should provide a broader base for understanding of student behavior among those affected by student activities, graduates, parents and college town residents.

In addition, Mr. Straus asserts that the study "should prove use-

Parnassus, 'Yearbook' Has Tale To Support Title Given In 1902

"What the heck does Parnassus mean?" This question is generally heard about the time each year's yearbook is issued at the University of Wichita.

The name Parnassus was given to the yearbook by the staff of 1902. It was borrowed from Greek mythology's Mt. Parnassus, a legendary hill in the center of ancient Greece. Many tales have been told about this famous mountain.

Mt. Parnassus is believed to have been one of three habitats of the nine Muses, patron goddesses of the fine arts.

In later references the summit of the mount was known as the seat of all culture and learning. It is also recognized as the cradle of the great Hellenic races of Greece.

According to mythology, a great flood swept away the whole human race with the exception of one couple, Deuchalion and his wife Pyrrha. As the flood receded, the two landed on Mount Parnassus, and upon descending the mountain, they picked up stones and cast them about as they had been commanded by Zeus, the father of the gods.

From those stones, supposedly came a new race, men from the stones thrown by Deuchalion and women from those by Pyrrha.

Having studied these legends, the editors of the first yearbook applied them to Fairmount College. They visualized the school as the seat of culture and learning at the top of a hill, in the center of the great plains.

Also, they visualized Fairmount as the cradle of a great race of trained graduates, now far flung and famous throughout the world.

Downing And Wilkie Attend A. A. U. W.

Miss Jacquetta Downing, head of the French department, Miss Grace Wilkie, Dean of Women, and Miss Eloise McCord, instructor in mathematics, attended the American Association of University Women's workshop held at Kansas State College, Oct. 1.

Miss Wilkie and Miss Downing are former presidents of the Wichita branch of the AAUW. Miss Wilkie also has served as the state president and the regional vice-president. Miss Downing served as state fellowship chairman before becoming president of the Wichita organization.

Thus, the yearbook became known as the Parnassus.

Fein To Leave For Air Force

Bill Fein, Barb political leader will leave the University campus at the end of the week for active duty in the U. S. Air Force.

While at the University, Fein served for one semester as managing editor and one semester as editor-in-chief of The Sunflower. During both of his terms on the editorial staff the paper was awarded an All-American rating.

Fein was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Air Force in May of 1948, under the Reserve Officers Training Corps Program. He applied for active duty upon graduation from the University last May. He has been assigned to the 3515 Technical Training Wing at Lowery Field, Colo.

Fein was an officer of Colophon, honorary journalism fraternity, in 1948-49, and one of the reorganizers of the Barb Party last spring.

Wichita Host To Educators

University of Wichita will be host to the Kansas Music Educators Association convention to be held Thursday and Friday, Nov. 3 and 4, according to Walter Duerksen, head of the School of Music.

Approximately 400 Kansas music supervisors will attend the event, which will begin Nov. 3, at 12 noon.

A clinic of chamber music under the direction of James P. Robertson, head of the orchestral department, will be held at 2 p. m. of the first day.

He will be assisted by James Caesar, associate professor of violin, and David Levenson, professor of cello, and University music students.

From 3:30 to 5 p. m. the concert band, directed by James Kerr, will play newly published music for the visiting directors.

A 15-minute program for the general assembly will be presented by the A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Harold A. Decker.

William Beck, supervisor of music at Colby, Kans., is president of the association.

Art Students Design Cover

Students in the senior art design class, instructed by Robert W. Cooke, associate professor of art, will compete in a contest to design the 1950 Parnassus cover, as a class assignment, according to Bob Olson, Parnassus editor.

Four prizes totaling forty dollars will be awarded in addition to honorable mentions and recognition in the Parnassus.

First prize award will be $20, second prize $10, and third and fourth prize winners will receive $5 each.

The winning design will be chosen on the basis of originality, quality of art, and adaptability, by a committee composed of the Parnassus staff and members of the art department.

Work on the covers, which will be in three colors and based on animated Wushocks, began this week.

The winning cover design will be announced Dec. 1, by Olson.

Music Clinic Held For High Schools

A clarinet and flute clinic was held at the University Music Hall Sept. 24 from 9 a. m. to 12:30 p. m., according to Walter Duerksen, head of the School of Music.

Fifty-four music supervisors and high school students from Wichita and surrounding towns attended.

The flute demonstration and clinic was under the direction of Dorothy Terwilliger, instructor of flute, and the clarinet clinic was conducted by Edward H. Turner, instructor of clarinet.

Teaching techniques for the two instruments were demonstrated by the faculty members. In addition, a listing of new teaching materials and publications were given to all who were present.

Experienced Speech And Radio Instructor Finds Cartooning And Writing Very Exacting Work

By Bob Barber

A studious looking gentleman was sitting in his office in Chicago when the phone rang. The voice on the phone said, "I own the Buck Rogers comic strip. Would you like to write for me? I guarantee good cash money."

The studious man thought a moment, then said casually, "It's a deal." That is how Bob Williams, radio and speech teacher, and director of station KMWU, WUCR, became a cartoon creator two years ago.

"The job of cartoon writing is a very exacting one," Williams said this week. Between four and five thousand letters are received by the syndicate that handles the strip. The greatest percentage of these letters are written by children. They are quick to catch any error in the story, and do not hesitate to let the publishers know of their mistakes.

"The children know all about things like how much wind velocity the human body can stand or the fact that humans can not live on the moon without special breathing apparatus. They send in facts and figures to back their contentions."

In working out a plot the first thing Williams does is to find a "gimmick," or an unusual angle he can work on. Once he gets his angle he works backward from that point till he reaches the beginning.

Williams writes out a description of the background as well as writing the dialogue for the strip. When he introduces a new character he will work out a general description of the way that person should look. He generally keeps about two months ahead on the strip.

His biggest difficulty is "cliff-hanging," or leaving the story at a climactic point each day.

In addition to his comic strip activities, Williams has had extensive radio experience. He received the award for the Best Dramatic Show of 1945. For a brief time he wrote the radio serial "Sky King."

Frat Sponsors Campus Boxes

Alpha Phi Omega, national scout fraternity, will maintain lost and found boxes on the campus again this year, Edward King, APO president, said.

Printed envelopes will be placed by each box within the next few weeks. Persons finding lost articles are asked to fill out these blanks, giving data on when and where the article was found. These envelopes will aid students that are claiming lost material.

Contents of the boxes will be taken to the APO booth in the Commons, and can be claimed upon the student's identification.

The APO booth will be open from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. daily, Monday thru Friday. Anyone calling at any other time should ask for Mrs. Price, Commons hostess.

Library Plans News Exhibit

The Library has filled its cases, tables, and bulletin boards with various displays to observe "National Newspaper Week," which began Oct. 2 and will continue through Oct. 8, according to John Spellman, University librarian.

A map containing various current news items, publications of some of the very early American newspapers, and a display of books have been included in the exhibit.

In cooperation with the various departments of the University, the Library will arrange to feature the books or materials of any department during a week which the department may designate. "This may call attention to books which otherwise would escape notice," Spellman said.

Wushock Identity Remains Secret

Wushock, the University mascot who wandered through the cheering section at the Miami game, will continue to appear at all future Shocker games.

The name of the individual who is under the huge yellow head is a closely guarded secret.

When questioned, Harold Kemper, builder of the Wushock costume, said the head-piece required more work than the rest of the outfit. Over 400 feet of wire and 50 pounds of paper mache were used in it.

"Altogether, he said, "I imagine the job required at least 60 man hours of labor and the costume isn't complete yet."

Kemper emphasized that he was not the originator of Wushock, but rather that he merely adopted the figure presented by Kappa Pi, art fraternity.

Wushock as presented by Kappa Pi last year, was accepted as the official school figure and has to date been portrayed in several different situations.

First Pass Was Thrown In 1905 By Fairmount Against Washburn

The first forward pass in the history of college football was thrown by Fairmount players here at what is now the University of Wichita. The pass was thrown by Bill Davis, center, to Art Solter, end, at a game between Fairmount College and Washburn College on Christmas Day 1905.

The game was encouraged by President Theodore Roosevelt to determine whether college football could survive severe public criticism.

It wasn't the long spiral type of pass that you see at Veteran's field, it was a short shovel type of pass scooped with both hands from the center to the end who was a short distance away. It resulted in a gain of ten yards for the Fairmount players.

Other new rules for that season were: Ten yards to be gained in three downs; a field goal to count 4 points from the 25-yard line; five points if between the 25 to 35 yard line, and six points if kicked behind the 35-yard line; disqualification for slugging and loss of the ball for the offense team; penalty for the defensive team was fifteen yards. For piling on a man when down the penalty was 15-yards.

During the game the ball changed hands once every minute. Washburn kicked off to Fairmount. Fairmount made four yards in two downs and kicked. Then Washburn made six yards on two downs and kicked.

"To tell the game in a few words it was two yards and a punt," said the Sunflower student publication of Fairmount, "The punting was

Standout In Shocker Line . . .

BOB GRESOCK, SHOCKER GUARD, was praised by Jim Trimble, head football coach, for his defensive play against the University of Houston, Saturday. He recovered three of Houston's fumbles.

Shockers Meet Bradley Eleven

The University of Wichita Wheatshockers are making preparations for the Missouri Valley conference opener with Bradley University of Peoria, Ill., at Veterans Field Saturday afternoon.

Mike Knopick, Wichita's all-Missouri Valley end, is definitely out for the remainder of the season, Jim Trimble, Head Shocker mentor added.

In addition to Knopick, Ray "Scooterbug" Morrison, leading Shocker ground gainer last season, may not see action because of injuries received in the season's initial game with Miami.

Trimble indicated that Bradley is 35 per-cent improved over the team Wichita defeated last season 27 to 7.

Two years ago when rivalry with the Braves began, the Shockers won by a 28 to 7 score.

Bradley's Head Coach, Art Bergstrom, has 25 lettermen returning from last year's squad which won five games and lost four. Advanced reports say the Braves will field a solid first eleven and a fair second team, but beyond that, the prospects are dim.

The Braves attack will be centered around Gib Carl and Bill Bushell. Carl, Bradley's passing ace of the last three seasons, completed 43 per cent of his attempts and passed for nine touchdowns in 1948.

A prep school teammate of Carl's, Bushell, was described by Floyd Olds of the Illustrated Football Annual as "a frame-flattening 200 pound fullback."

The Shockers are expected to meet the Braves offensive by switching new men to the posts vacated by injuries, Trimble said.

Kickoff time will be 2 p.m. Saturday, in Veterans Field.

School To Be Host To Kansas Jaycees

Local Presidents and State Directors of the Kansas Jaycees will see the Shocker-Bradley game Saturday, as guests of the University. The men, all office holders in local Junior Chambers of Commerce, and their wives will be in Newton for the quarterly meeting of the state board of directors.

The Newton Junior Chamber has made arrangements with the athletic department for a block of 200 in section 7 on the east side of the stadium.

This is the first time the Jaycees have seen a Shocker game as a group. In the past, they have seen several K. U. games and one K-State contest.

spectacular. Both Percy Bates of Fairmount, and Millice of Washburn were artists at kicking. Every punt was good for 50-yards, and some for 60-yards. Once Millice kicked 75-yards just to show he could."

For the first half of the game the ball was in Fairmount territory because Washburn kicked off.

Former High School Athletes Are Freshman Cage Prospects

Shocker chances for the coming basketball season were enhanced Monday night as head cage mentor Ken Gunning expressed his approval of the initial freshman workout.

Wichita high schools, as well as other Ark Valley high schools, were well represented in the yearling turnout. Ralph Brumback and Larry Jones, both members of East High's Class AA runners-up in the state tournament last season, were among the candidates.

Don Binford, All Ark Valley forward from Wellington, and Bill Moran, transfer from Texas Christian University, who lives in Newton, round out the outstanding local talent, Gunning added.

"We are glad to have Don here," Gunning said, "as he is the son of ex-Shocker cage coach Mel Binford."

Gunning indicated that two boys from Indiana, Bill Tibbets and Dale Shipp, will aid the Shocker freshman squad. Tibbets, All-star Indiana prep-school ace in 1948, hails from Lawrenceburg, Ind., and the latter, Shipp, comes from Gunning's home town of Shelbyville.

Other out-of-staters were Hal Eckstein and Merle Adams, Shelbyville, Ind.; Shelby Metcalf, Tulsa; Bob Anderson, Chicago; and Dick Mott and Harry Runacres, East Rockway, N. Y.

Candidates from local and surrounding school includes Arthur Seeley, Plains; Lyle Timinrons, Andover; Wayne Green, Zenda; Arthur Bailey, Kansas City; Charles Anderson, Sumner; and Bill Gault and George Talbot of Wichita East.

Praise!

Trimble Lauds Three For Defense Shown At Houston

By Estel Smith

Eddie Zegler, Bob Harclerode, and J. D. Edmiston, were praised by Jim Trimble, head football coach, this week, for their expert defensive play against the University of Houston.

Trimble stated that Zegler's defensive play was as good as any he had ever seen in any backfield, and one coach commented on Gresock's fumble-covering by saying, "He only covered three of them, but he caused a lot more." Houston fumbled 11 times during the game.

The play of Harclerode, Gresock, and Edmiston, in the line was especially good, according to Trimble. "They were breaking up Houston plays before they started," he stated.

Coach "Buddy" Brothers, of Tulsa University, indicates that the Tulsa squad has made "a decided improvement over last year's team," according to latest reports.

One good reason for the Tulsa improvement is 190-pound guard Arnold Burrough, who has been doing a fine job this season.

Next week's edition of the Sunflower will contain a Sports Editorial from Ken Crocker, Sports Editor of the University of Nevada Sagebrush. It should be something to look forward to on inside information of the powerful Nevada team.

All the Shocker football players, had a story to tell about the Shamrock Hotel, which they stayed in while in Houston.

Several members of the team talked with Horace Heidt and members of his band, and the entire team was shown through the Hotel.

Intramural Play Tuesday

Nine intramural football teams began play Tuesday for the coveted intramural grid trophy, Bob Kirkpatrick, director of intramural activities and physical education instructor, said.

The Men of Webster captured last seasons title when they downed the Phi Sig's in an overtime period 7 to 6.

The teams entered in the league this year include the Pi Alphas, Cowpokes, and the Independent Student Association. Organizations represented by two teams, "A" and "B" squads, will be Phi Upsilon Sigma, Alpha Gamma Gamma, and Men of Webster.

Kirkpatrick indicated that ties would not be played off this year and attempts will be made to complete points-after-touchdowns. The lengthening of the field from 80 yards to 100 yards and new restrictions on offensive blocking were made known by Kirkpatrick.

Games scheduled for 4 p. m. today will include:

Psi Sig "A" vs. Pi Alpha.
Alpha Gamma "A" vs. Cowpokes.
Phi Sig "B" vs. I. S. A.

Student Manager Duties Are Many And Varied But As Jack Of All Trades Gets Little Return

If you were to ask someone what a coach, trainer or business manager of a football team do, you would get a reasonable answer. However, if you were to ask someone the duties of the student manager, the reply would probably be "I don't know."

But, just what, are his duties? First of all the manager must see to it that each player has clean laundry for each practice session. These daily sessions also leave their mark on shoes, pants, and jerseys which sometimes have to be replaced. Minor injuries are also of primary concern to the manager and must be treated on the spot and often under adverse conditions. Once the team is on the practice field, a manager's job, barring injuries, become more routine as he keeps time on each drill and assists the coaches when needed.

When game time rolls around at Veterans Field, other problems arise. Towels, drinking water, extra footballs and kick-off tees are a few of the items required for a game. Although a physician and the trainer are on hand for injuries, there is the additional task of satisfying the wants of the visiting team and officials. For away-from-home games, packing of equipment is the main concern of the manager.

Touchdown! Football Broadcasts To Be New Feature Of Station KMUW

KMUW and WUCR, campus radio stations, will broadcast both football games played in the University stadiums Saturday, according to Bob Williams, radio director.

The Varsity game with Bradley University will be carried at 11:45, and the game between Cathedral High School and Ward High of Kansas City, Kans., will be broadcast from Shocker Stadium at 7:45.

Case Of The Missing Bicuspid Cracked By Part-time Sleuth

"The Case of the Missing Bicuspid," or "All I Want for Christmas is My Two Front Teeth" was solved Friday by Bob Wolff, football band drum major, and recently-turned-sleuth.

The "mystery" began on Sept. 17, when football player Francis Oleksak lost his two front teeth during a varsity-frosh scrimmage. The game was stopped and 22 football players and two referees got down on hands and knees to look for the evasive dental ware.

The search was fruitless, however, and the teeth were given up for lost.

Friday, following the daily band practice, Wolff and James Kerr, band director, were leaving the field when Wolff saw an object that looked like a band lyre. He picked up the object and the "mystery" was solved.

Unfortunately for Oleksak, the teeth were found after he had left for Houston. While the rest of the football players chewed steaks, he "gummed" them.

Frosh Travel To Hutchinson

Head freshman football coach, Bob Carlson, will send his yearling team against the Hutchinson Junior College Blue Dragons at Hutchinson, Friday night.

All men injured in the Tulsa game are improved and both teams should be in good condition for the game, according to Carlson.

"The Hutchinson team is good," Earl Hamilton, freshman coach said. "Several of its players were nominated for the Little All-American team last year and the team is one of the few that was considered to play in the Little Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Cal."

The Dragons, Western Kansas JUCO champions, played Coffeyville Junior College, Eastern champs to a 6 and 6 tie in last year's Wheat Bowl, played in Veterans Field.

The Dragons have played three games this year, they dropped their opener 33 to 13 to Compton Junior College, winners of last year's Little Rose Bowl.

Last week-end Hutchinson defeated Pratt Junior College in a high scoring game, 32 to 24.

The University of Wichita freshmen, fresh from their 14 to 13 upset of the Tulsa University Frosh Sept. 23, will be after their second win of the season.

The starting line for Friday's game has not been released by Coach Carlson, however halfbacks Eddington and Corbin are expected to spark the Shocker attack.

By virtue of the frosh record they will enter the game as a slight favorite.

A capacity crowd is expected for the game. A 300-seat section has been reserved for Wichita fans.

The seats will be held until 7:30 p. m. and then sold to the general public, according to reports received by the University public relations office.

Shockers coaching staff, Morrison also received a knee injury in the Miami contest. "Whether or not he will be able to play against Bradley will not be known until Saturday", Trimble said.

Injuries Darken Shocker Future

With one regular already lost for the season and another a doubtful starter for at least one more game, Shocker hopes for a successful year were further dimmed by injuries to three men suffered during Saturday's clash with the University of Houston.

Center Jack Swager, end George Miller, and tackle Bob Harclerode were the injured Shockers, following the game Saturday.

Swager, who suffered a recurrence of an old knee injury plus a mild case of heat exhaustion, is expected to be the most likely loss for the Bradley game this Saturday, Head Coach Jim Trimble reported.

Harclerode also was overcome by the 80 degree temperature in Houston. However, he returned to classes Monday and has been attending practices, Trimble said. Miller received a mild head concussion and has been under observation this week.

Although all three injured Shockers were helped from the chartered airliner Saturday night, Trimble indicated that the loss of manpower will not be as serious as that felt after the opener with Miami.

In that contest, all Missouri Valley end Mike Knopick and halfback Ray Morrison were injured. Knopick, definitely out for the rest of the year because of his injured knee will be operated on this week, Trimble said.

Halfback Morrison, who did not make the trip to Houston, is the big question in the minds of the

Cougars Down Wichita Easily

The Wichita Shockers' were defeated by the University of Houston Cougars 26-6, Saturday, before an estimated crowd of 11,500 football fans at Public School Stadium, in Houston, Texas.

The temperature in Houston was 85 degrees, and the players' jerseys were wet with perspiration after the first period, according to reports released at Houston.

Houston's line outplayed Wichita, according to statistics released, and in the first half the Shockers had a deficit in ground-gaining of one yard. The total number of yards gained by rushing during the game was 10.

Eddie Krjwiel, Shocker halfback, scored on a 26 yard run, from a double reverse play, in the second quarter. This chance to score came when Bob Harclerode recovered one of Houston's 11 fumbles, with Houston being penalized 15 yards on the play from the 47 yard line.

Houston scored in the second quarter of the game after having one of their touchdowns called back. A short punt by Milan Mraovich gave Houston the ball on the Shocker 36 yard line.

Max Clark, Houston halfback, made a 15 yard gain, and then Tingle and Hartsel, Houston backs, followed with 13 yards in two tries, driving the ball to the Shocker 7 yard line. Tingle scored on the next play, but the extra point was missed, and the half-time score was 6 to 0.

Houston made a touchdown early in the third quarter. Getting a punt in mid-field, Clark, Houston back, carried it to the Wichita 39 yard line. Three plays later, Shannon of the Cougars scored with a wide end run. The conversion was made and the score was 13-0.

Jack Swager, Shocker, was carried off the field in the fourth quarter, but was not seriously hurt and will probably play in the Shocker's next game against Bradley University, according to Trimble.

Films of the University of Wichita-Houston game were shown Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the University Auditorium. The pictures were shown in slow motion and explained.

The film was presented by the Independent Students Association and no admission was charged. Pictures of all the Shocker games were shown to students last year as well as to the Downtown Quarter-back Club.

Students will be notified about the time and place of all the films to be shown on the campus this season.

Stevens First College To Have Insurance For Injured Players

Five athletes at Stevens Institute of Technology have collected claims through a unique accident insurance plan since it went into effect last year, Dean Waldo Shumway revealed here recently. Stevens is believed to be the first college to have established such a plan by which the entire student body contributes to a fund for the benefit of athletes engaged in intercollegiate competition.

Known as the Stevens Athletic Indemnity Fund, the plan was initiated by the Student Council with a board of three trustees, all alumni, to make disbursements.

Adding to the $1,000 given by the college as a nucleus of the fund, the Student Council assesses each student 50 cents per semester, and will continue to do so, until the fund reaches a total of $10,000.

Under the plan any student on a team recognized by the Athletic Council may be reimbursed up to $400 for medical expenses incurred as the result of an accident sustained while engaging in a scheduled game or practice session.

This insurance plan for athletes is additional to group accident insurance made available to all students through the college administration.

The largest claim, $102, was made for medical expenses by a student who fractured his leg in soccer practice.

A total of $151 has been paid to date for treatment of various injuries incurred in playing basketball or soccer.
