Humorist Nash 'Macbeth' To Begin Three-Night Run

Humorist Here . . .

George College, Newport, R. I., and Harvard.

Mr. Nash is famous for a poem said to be the shortest ever written. It is entitled, "Fleas," Adam had 'em. Another entitled "Courtship," says "Candy is dandy," but liquor is quicker." Tickets may be purchased at the door for $1.

Witches Will Prowl Tonight . . .

"DOUBLE, DOUBLE, TOIL, AND TROUBLE, fire burn and cauldron bubble," saith the famous three witches of William Shakespeare's Macbeth. The tragedy will be presented by the University Players at the Auditorium, tonight through Saturday. Jim Bain, Marilyn Harris, and Laura Valdois portray the above gruesome threesome. Students will be admitted to the play by their identification cards.

Carney Stresses Retail Selling As Key Job In Merchandising

"A salesman should be sold on his job, his town, and his merchandise," said Ralph W. Carney, retired vice-president in charge of marketing at the Coleman Company, Inc. Mr. Carney is conducting a week-long Institute in Selling at the University.

There will be no general convocation tomorrow, but Mr. Carney will conduct the last session of the sales institute in the Auditorium at 10 a.m., for all students who can attend.

Mr. Carney spoke at an all-student convocation Monday at 10 a.m. and at meetings Tuesday, 10 a.m.; and Wednesday and Thursday at 9 a.m.

He spoke of the importance of retail salesmen to the wholesaler, the manufacturer, and the small business owner.

"A chain is just as strong as its weakest link," he said, and compared this with a weak retail salesman selling the finished product to the consumer.

"The three qualities of a good retail seller are, to be sold on his job, to sell what he has with pride, and to know his goods.

"It a salesman is a poor one, this might determine the future of the business because, it is not the wholesaler or manufacturer who really sells the product to the consumer, it is the responsibility of the retail salesman to do the final job," he declared.

University Players To Present Shakespeare Tragedy Tonight

'Macbeth' To Feature Forty-Student Cast; Will Open This Evening For Three-Night Run

Shakespeare's "Macbeth," the story of the rise and fall of a man who would be king at any cost, will be presented by a cast of more than forty University Players tonight, Friday, and Saturday at 8:30 in the Auditorium.

The play concerns Macbeth, who is driven by his own and his wife's ambition until he kills his king, an attempt to make himself ruler. The tragedy takes place in Tenth Century Scotland, and chronicles the steps leading to and following the murder.

The title role, Macbeth, will be enacted by James Stearns, also in charge of settings and the designing of costumes. Helen Christy, playing Lady Macbeth, will be seen in her final campus role.

Supporting Cast

In the supporting cast are Forrest Davidson, Bob Beaty, Roderick Smith, George Stewart, and Russell Mienke, who is also in charge of sound effects.

Others appearing include: John Pearson, Ray Arvin, Eldon Moen, Zenos Booker, Bob Barber, Dave Haselwood, Morris Reichley, Mary Ann Carpenter, and Bob Minser.

Completing the cast are Marilyn Harris, Laura Valdois, and Jim Bain as the three witches.

The work of cutting out, sewing, and fitting the 82 Macbeth costumes was done by Mary Jabara, Martha Reaugh, and Joan Stamback.

"Every effort has been made to make this tragedy not only meaningful, but exciting," commented Director George Wilner.

NO ONE CAN SAY that Gracie Hopper doesn't work hard at election time! Gracie argued and argued and finally convinced five fellows they should vote and she even escorted them to the voting tables. But no cards could be found for them. Then much to Gracie's embarrassment, it was discovered that they were all from Oklahoma A and M.

The engagement of Patricia Frey, Sorosis member, to Clifton Gillenwater, Phi Upsilon Sigma, was announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Frey, 336 S. Hillside. A general contract, amounting to $294,480, for construction of the new Business Administration Building, was approved by the Board of Regents at their regular monthly meeting Friday night.

The bid, which was the lowest of seven submitted, was made by the Martin K. Eby Construction Company. The firm made a base bid of $296,280 and the regents took advantage of an offer to reduce the cost $1,800 by accepting wooden doors instead of metal.

Allen Book Collection Donated To Library

A collection of 315 books, 200 pamphlets, and 200 documents was recently presented to the University Library by former Governor Henry J. Allen, according to Mr. John Spellman, assistant librarian. The books deal largely with politics and world affairs, some of which have been autographed by the author.

Also recently received at the library was a shipment of exchange books, Mr. Spellman stated. Universities throughout the country share in the exchange system, with schools exchanging books needed.

Something New On Every Vacant Lot . . .

It has frequently been said that figures may be made to prove anything the politician or college instructor wants you to believe. But one figure, 1,020, upset the political thinking on this campus to a degree last week. That number represents the student vote in the May Queen election—and it should be noted that some 200 more students than expected expressed their selection and upset the coalition majority held by the Shocker party.

This fact may indicate a trend but, regardless of this, a poll conducted in political science classes on this campus Monday reveals several "unusual" facts.

Two hundred and six students in seven classes were asked the following questions—"Did you vote in the May Queen election Friday?" and "Why?" Of the 206, 112 said they voted and 94 did not.

More than one-third of those students who did vote, voted to elect a certain candidate, regardless of party affiliations—and another one-fourth voted because they felt "they should participate in political activity on the campus." These two totals represent more than one-half of the voters, compared to the 23 voters who listed as their reason, "the coalition was running a candidate and I felt I had to support her."

No pledge or active has to vote party lines. The fact that they may be organized and instructed leads to the simple conclusion that all non-Greeks should do the same thing.

The 40 per cent of the students who did not vote because of "lack of interest" and another 30 per cent of the same non-voters who "didn't know the candidates" or "felt they did not represent the student body," represents a negative group of concern.

1. This poll shows that it is becoming necessary for coalitions or any other political supporting party to present qualified candidates. Voters are selective to the degree that "majorities" are endangered.

2. There is a need, and this should be the responsibility of the Student Council, to build up interest in elections. This can be done by publicity concerning voting procedure and candidates and increasing the number of voting places at strategic spots on the campus.

3. Limit elections so that voting will express selection of candidates to positions of actual and working responsibility. This would include the defining of specific duties before the election and a guarantee that the elected will complete this responsibility during the term of office. Too many elected "representatives" on this campus are merely one more line in the Parnassus.

It is not so much a matter of what has been done in the past, but the future. The group, Greek or non-Greek, social or political, that can guarantee the above—will perform a task that will mean as much to the growth of this University as new buildings on every vacant lot. For they will be building an interest in the way of life most of us want to keep.

College Councils Form New Group

A tentative organization composed of the Student Councils from colleges and universities in Kansas was formed at a meeting last weekend at the University of Washburn, according to Bill Beck, president of the University of Wichita's Student Council. The new organization is called "Student Council of Kansas Conference," and was formed to provide for the pooling of ideas, Beck said.

The meeting consisted of informal discussions with representatives from each college presiding over discussion on each new subject. The new organization will hold its next meeting at Emporia State Teachers College in September, and another meeting is scheduled for May, 1951.

Deadly !!

Teenicide Becoming Nationally Infamous For Highway Deaths

There's a new word in our language—a word that has been appearing in newspapers and magazines—that applies to the traffic deaths piling up each year among young drivers. The word is teenicide, coined by Lumbermen's Mutual Casualty Company in connection with the highly disproportionate number of fatalities involving young drivers.

Because of the growing use of the word, Funk and Wagnalls will include the following definition in the next supplement of their dictionary:

"Teenicide (noun) 1. Death caused by automobile driver under 20 years of age, usually the result of recklessness or immature judgment; 2. A term used to denote fact that persons under 20 years of age are involved in a disproportionately high number of fatalities in the United States."

It is recognized that the driving habits formed in the teens are carried over into later years. Therefore, the word teenicide, by usage includes the actions of drivers in the 15 to 24 age group.

Editor's Note: The preceding story was taken from a booklet, "Teen-Age Drivers," published by the Lumbermen's Mutual Casualty Company to help combat the increasing teenicide rate.

Three Assistants Added To Department

Three new office assistants have been added to the department of psychology this year, it was announced by department officials recently.

Joan Ausherman, a sophomore at the University, formerly of Kansas University, is one of the assistants. She is a Delta Omega pledge.

Two freshmen, Martha Herrmann, formerly of Wichita High School North and Lila McWhorter of Wichita High School East are also with the department. Miss McWhorter is a full tuition scholarship student.

"Why I Voted For May Queen"

Voters Give Various Reasons

"Lack of interest" and "No time" were the principle reasons for not voting in the May Queen election, according to a poll conducted by the political science department in the Introduction to Citizenship classes, Monday. Of the 206 students polled, 112 voted in the election Friday.

Vox Discipuli . . .

Student Denies Lack Of Interest; Claims Many Are Employed

Dear Editor,

After reading last week's editorial in the student newspaper, I have come to the conclusion that the editor has been laboring under several misapprehensions. This editorial was concerning the election of the May Queen.

First of all, the composer of the editorial believes or certainly assumes that all of the non-voting students are only partially interested in the school election and activities. The fact that these students do not raise their voices by voting may or may not indicate their lack of interest. If research could be carried just a little further to explore this lack of interest it would be found that many students are attending the University of Wichita to acquire an education.

This majority group, commonly known as "unaffiliates," contains a large number of students who must work and are either partially or wholly self-supporting. Many of these students work from 10 to 48 hours per week, this in addition to their studies at the University.

If the student studies conscientiously, he finds little time for personal affairs or extra curricular activities of the University.

Commenting on a specific statement in the editorial which reads "You're just what this country doesn't need—a decadent, the result of an unbalanced education," I take vigorous exception to such an assertion on the grounds that it is grossly unfair to hundreds, perhaps thousands of students of the University of Wichita.

Yale Dean Proposes Medical School Plan

Dr. C. N. Hugh Long, dean of the Yale School of Medicine, proposes a revised plan to enable medical students to become self-supporting earlier.

The present training period can be shortened without lowering the standards of medical education, chiefly by permitting students to start studying medicine at an earlier age, according to Dr. Long.

He proposes that students from liberal arts colleges be admitted to a medical school at the end of their sophomore year. The students would then complete their pre-medical training and start on their medical courses under a new revised program.

The student would be taking courses both at the medical school and at the college. The new program would have a curriculum occupying a minimum of three years, and the student's courses would include general culture courses as may be indicated in individual cases, regular pre-medical training courses in chemistry, physics, and biology; and a revised program in medical sciences.

At the completion of this new program, the student would then enter the final two years of the medical school program as it now exists.

Odd Signs Serve As Reminders For All To Keep Kampus Klean

Have you noticed the signs labeled "KKKK," around the campus this last week? If so, have you wondered about their meaning?

KKKK stands for the Keep Kampus Klean Klub, an organization sponsored by the Associated Women Students. The purpose of KKKK is to persuade students to help keep the University grounds in better condition, in regards to refuse, according to Grace Berberich and Barbara Gist, of AWS.

"We have a beautiful campus here at the University, and we would like to see it free from the litter that detracts from its natural beauty," Miss Berberich said.

"We would like to see all students co-operate in this campaign by putting refuse in the barrels, which are placed conveniently around the campus," she continued. "I believe that the extra effort needed will be worth while."

Students Hold Art Exhibition

An open house held by Pres. and Mrs. H. F. Corbin started the annual University art students exhibition on Sunday, April 23. The art department faculty assisted in serving refreshments.

The exhibition displays the work produced in 40 art classes during the present school year. The displays are on exhibit in the main gallery and classrooms in Morrison Hall.

Former Student, Joe Thanner, Featured In Munich Newspaper

Joseph Thanner, former exchange student at the University is the subject of a two-page story in the Feb. 4, issue of the "New Munich Illustrated," a weekly news-magazine printed in Munich, Germany.

The story, illustrated with pictures, explains how Thanner came to the University, and of his experiences while he was here.

"It was in May, 1945, when the German enlisted flyer, exhausted and down at the heels, arrived home. He was skeptical of the American liberators and of the lanky, black haired G. I. who came to talk to him. But, Corporal Bill Williams, a University student convinced him that he should come to Wichita to further his education," the article stated.

It was Williams who set the machinery of the Education Division of the United Nations in motion to bring Thanner to this country.

"Thanner delivered many well-attended lectures, and was assistant in the German department," the article continues, "He promoted good will for young Germans, by openly expressing his opinion about everything that pleased or displeased him."

Pictures with the story show the University, a Halloween party, Jimmy Nutter, of the football team, and Dr. John Snell lecturing to a history class.

Mention is made of the classroom chairs, which the article calls "practical chairs, which combine elbow-rest and writing space, and so make possible most pleasantly a great saving of space."

The Shocker Frosh cindermen celebrated the recent appointment of Jim Valek as their coach by winning the University of Wichita Invitational track meet at old Shocker Stadium, Tuesday afternoon.

The yearlings scored 59 points to edge Bethany, which had 57, and Bethel, which had 51, in an exciting fight to the finish. Friends University and McPherson College tied for fourth with 29 points each. Tabor College, another invited team, withdrew from the meet early Tuesday.

Oddly enough, the Freshmen won only three firsts with Ted Theodosoff winning the 100-yard dash, Jack Barnhisel the high jump, and Clarence Jernigan the 220-yard dash.

Theodosoff's winning time for the 100 was 10.4 seconds. Barnhisel high jumped 5 feet, 11 1/4 inches, and Jernigan's 220 time was 23 seconds.

Valek graduated from the University of Illinois in 1949. He lettered in football there and was selected All-Big Ten end in 1948. During his high school career at Joliet, Ill., Valek lettered in football and participated in track all three years.
