Shockers Seek Fifth Straight Win Of Season

Munies Meet Cougars In Non-Valley Contest Oct. 28 In Vet's Field

The University of Wichita Wheatshockers will meet the University of Houston Cougars in quest of their fifth straight win Saturday in Veterans Field. Kickoff time is scheduled at 2 p. m.

Newcomers to the Missouri Valley Conference, the Cougars have a record of one win and four losses in games played this season. Their only victory was over the University of Louisville by a score of 27-7. In its last outing, Houston dropped a 14-13 thriller to Hardin-Simmons College. Other losses were dealt the Cougars by St. Bonaventure, Baylor, and Trinity.

Head Coach Clyde Lee has 35 veterans on his 1950 squad in addition to several promising newcomers. Cougars who are expected to give the Shockers trouble Saturday are Bobby Rogers, quarterback and junior college transfer, Gene Shannon, half-back, and Jim Van Haverbeke, center. Shannon scored three touchdowns in Houston's 26-6 win over Wichita in 1949 which marked the beginning of the Shocker-Cougar series.

As for the Shockers, they are

The senior history blanks are due this Friday, said Olson. They are to be sent to him in Room 117, Communications building.

Guest To Sing With Symphony

Guest Artist Is Top Stage and Radio Star

Eileen Farrell, soprano, will appear as guest artist with the Wichita Symphony Orchestra under the direction of James P. Robertson, professor, and head of the University Orchestral department, in its first concert of the season at a general convocation, 10 a. m., Oct. 30, in the Auditorium.

Walter J. Duerksen, professor and director of the University School of Music, said Miss Farrell is considered the leading interpreter of Wagnerian music. She has appeared with noted orchestras under the direction of Bruno Walter, Leopold Stokowski, and Eugene Ormandy. In addition, Miss Farrell has recorded for Decca, Columbia, and RCA Victor, and has appeared on several radio programs.

This is the seventh year for the Wichita Symphony Orchestra, and Monday's concert will mark the first appearance of Professor Robertson as full-time conductor. The orchestra consists of 85 members. Students will be admitted upon presentation of their identification cards, Professor Duerksen said.

Unhoused Groups May Use Campus

Fraternal, scholastic, or honorary organizations which do not have a house on the campus but would like to enter decorating competition during Homecoming should contact any member of the Homecoming committee, according to Gerry Hunter, committee head.

Gerry Hunter, Fred Farha, and Andy Larson may be contacted by any interested group. Student Council will consider allocation of space on the campus to groups wishing it, at their regular meeting, Monday night.

Location of space desired should also be reported to committee members, who desire reports from interested parties before noon Monday.

Halftime Skit Will Spotlight Houston ROTC

The Cullen Rifles, crack Army ROTC drill team from the University of Houston, will share the spotlight with James Kerr's University of Wichita marching band in the halftime program during the Wichita-Houston football game Saturday in Veterans Field.

Organized in September, 1948, the rifle team was named in honor of Hugh Roy Cullen, chairman of the University of Houston board of regents. The group is sponsored by Lieut. Col. Gus E. The Phi Upsilon Sigma fraternity of the University of Wichita will serve as hosts to the Cullen Rifles during their stay in Wichita.

James Kerr, associate professor of bands and woodwinds, will lead his marching band in the formation of several musical symbols and instruments in its portion of the halftime show.

Shocker's Win Nets Walkout

More than 1,700 University of Wichita students brought downtown traffic to a near standstill for over an hour Monday morning as they celebrated the 17-14 University win over Drake University last Saturday.

Celebrating the only official walkout of the year, students staged a rally at the corner of Broadway and Douglas. Following the rally, students formed a snake dance which wound across downtown streets and thru department stores.

At a student convo held before the walkout, Coach Jim Trimble told students that the team "now has a good chance to go all the way in the Missouri Valley race."

Led by a convertible carrying Trimble and Les Needham, team trainer, and a truck carrying a band and cheerleaders, 300 cars took part in the procession.

Following the pep rally students were admitted to a special showing of a movie at the Miller Theatre, at reduced prices. Other students adjourned to a local club for dancing and private parties.

Commenting on the walkout, Pres. Harry F. Corbin said, "It was a great victory and a tremendous celebration, but stu-

Behind Iron Curtain In Prague

Communism Prevalent At Conference Students Gain Birds-Eye View

(Editor's Note: This summer students from countries all over the world journeyed behind the Iron Curtain to attend the Second World Student Congress. Among the Americans who attended this meeting was a three-man observer team representing the United States National Students Association. This is the first in a series of articles written by a member of that team describing the congress in Prague.)

By Bill Holbrook

In December of 1949 the National Executive Committee of the National Students Association decided to send an observer delegation to the International Union of Students sponsored convention in Prague.

For two years NSA had been rejecting ISU affiliation because of that group's close adherence to the Communist Party line.

However, as 1950 approached, NSA chiefs decided they should send some people behind the Iron Curtain to act as spokesmen for the United States "to present an accurate picture of the American educational system and to refute the distorted allegations concerning American education and student life."

Picked to head the delegation was Erskine Childers, international vice-president of NSA. Other members were: Eugene Schwartz, former NSA vice-president for educational problems; Robert West, former NSA vice-president for international affairs; and myself, a recent graduate of the University of Minnesota law school.

Schwartz Leads Group
Schwartz took over as head of the delegation when Childers could not attend the Prague congress because, as international vice-president, he had other duties to fulfill.

In order to keep from going into the congress cold, we met in New York and again in Paris to discuss our presentations. While in Paris visa trouble split up the delegation.

Due to difficulties with IUS and the Czech government, Schwartz and I didn't get our visas until the first day of the congress. West's travel papers came thru a few days earlier, and so he left for Prague before we did.

Schwartz and I got our visas from the Czech embassy on the morning of August 14. By rushing we just managed to catch morning flight from Paris to Prague by way of Zurich, Switzerland.

Flight Proves Exciting
The flight was filled with ex-

U of W Given $2,500 Grant

A scholarship loan fund of $2,500 has been granted to the University's department of speech correction by the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, it was announced last Saturday.

OVER 1,700 students and 300 cars jammed the downtown area Monday for what was one of the biggest and best pep rallies in the school's history. And so, with the walkout under our belts we look forward to bigger and better victories, and wish our team all the luck in the world in its quest for the Missouri Valley championship.

What A Walkout! . . .

Students who attended school Monday, Oct. 23, may consider themselves among "the fortunate," for theirs was the privilege of witnessing and participating in a well-organized, enthusiastic, all-school walkout that provided entertainment for every student.

Many are the groups and individuals to be congratulated for this effective and worthwhile demonstration of school spirit.

First of all, the Student Council for its planning.

Second, the citizens of downtown Wichita for the understanding way in which they accepted our antics.

Third, the patient policemen in the downtown area who probably grew several gray hairs while watching the collegians but made no attempt to put a damper on the fun.

Fourth, and most important, all the students involved who showed real school patriotism instead of the usual get-me-out-of-class attitude which has been evident so often.

Indeed, it was quite a walkout. Let's hope it serves as a model in the future and as a guide to what demonstrations of this type should be.—M.M.M.

President Closes Fraternity Case

The whitewashing of the Pi Alpha Pi fraternity house and ensuing incidents resulting from the affair, have been examined and the case is now closed, according to Pres. Harry F. Corbin.

President Corbin, on reviewing the action which happened about three weeks ago, stated that "Those who committed the act have acknowledged their participation and assumed full responsibility."

Damage to the house was estimated to be about $150, and the bill will be equally divided among the 15 who were involved.

"All of these people have signed a statement acknowledging their guilt, have apologized to the fraternity and to the University, and have promised never to participate in any such activity again," said President Corbin. "This letter will be kept on file, and as far as the University is concerned the case is closed. We will not, however, tolerate any further incidents involving the destruction of property."

University Young Republicans To Host State GOP Convention

By Dorothy Ludiker

"Current Political Problems" was the subject of a debate between two Republicans and two Democrats in the Commons Lounge Thursday night, sponsored by the University Young Republicans.

Participating in the debate were Police Judge Roy Rogers, Republican and Les Arvin, Republican, secretary of the Ed Arn for Governor Committee. Democrats in the debate were Eli Eubanks, member of the state legislature, and Bill Porter, candidate for state legislature. Dr. Henry Osgard, professor of history, acted as arbitrator.

This debate was one of the many activities sponsored by the University Young Republicans.

The University Young GOPs are now having a membership drive and a reactivation period, according to Bob Harrison, president of the club. The club has about 125 members this year.

Present officers of the club are Bob Harrison, president; Maureen Ramsey, secretary; Dave Battaglia, corresponding secretary; Rodger Harder, historian; Constance Fuller, women's vice-chairman; Howard Lydick, men's vice-chairman, and Bob Thiele, treasurer.

Bob Thiele has been elected a member of the executive committee of the Kansas Collegiate Young GOPs.

Plans for the year include speeches by Ed Arn, Republican candidate for governor, and Governor Frank Carlson. The club is also planning a mixer dance for the future.

The Kansas Collegiate Young GOPs will hold their annual state convention in Wichita this year, and the University Young Republican Club will be host.

Posting campaign posters for the downtown Republicans and answering the phone in the downtown Republican office are also some of the activities of the club.

"The purpose of our organization is to encourage the knowledge of the Republican policies," said Harrison.

Absentee Ballots Made Available

An absentee ballot system was established by the Student Council Monday night at its regular meeting, allowing students with bona fide excuses to cast absentee votes Wednesday, instead of the regularly scheduled balloting day, Friday, November 3.

Students who wish to use absentee ballots will register with Mrs. Ruth Price, Commons hostess, Monday and Tuesday in the Commons Lounge. Absentee students will vote in the lounge Wednesday, from 8 until 1 p. m.

Initial Play Presentation Introduces Many New Faces To University Stage

By Jack Campbell

George Wilner's "rookie" cast did a very commendable job of making J. B. Priestly's slow-moving play, "An Inspector Calls," a good evening's entertainment during the show's three-night run at the Auditorium last week end.

The play brought many new faces to the University stage. With the exception of Ethel Mae Scott and Joan McKinley, who have had only bit parts in the past, every actor was participating in his first play here.

It is the story of how one family contributes to the suicide of an innocent girl, and how a pseudo-inspector persuades everyone to confess before the suicide actually takes place.

Ronald Weidman, a freshman who is remembered for his high school portrayal of "The Man Who Came to Dinner," displayed great poise and naturalness in his characterization of Father Berling. With the exception of repeated hand gestures, his work was excellent.

Dill Portrays Son

Berling's weak son was played very convincingly by another freshman, Donald Dill. Dill's heavy emotional scenes were highlights of the show.

The inspector was played by Gene Herriott, who had never appeared in a play before. Despite that, he appeared at ease and natural.

Initial Plays

Ethel Mae Scott played the mother and stayed well in character until she flubbed a line and then gave herself away by laughing. However, she recovered well enough to turn in her best performance to date.

Joan McKinley, the daughter, was much better in the more difficult scenes than in the straight ones. She had a little difficulty sustaining interest in her early lines, but her part and characterization were her best yet.

Miss McKinley's show lover was portrayed by George Stewart who turned in an adequate performance. The part of Edna the maid was played by Joan McClure.

Gene Spangler, one of the best lighting experts in this area, has returned to the University faculty and he acted as technical director for the production. James Stearns was assistant technical director.

Play Moves Slowly

As a whole, the play contained very little action. The entire play's setting was the living room of the Berling home. The acting as a whole was spotty and a bit inconsistent. When a scene required fast timing and careful handling, the cast came thru with flying colors. But when the plot was building with just straight dialogue, Weidman was virtually the only one who could sustain interest and keep things moving.

"Abner" Contest To Close Today

The "Sadie Hawkins Red Feather Contest," sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega and the Student Council will close at 1 p. m., today. The titles of "Lil Abner" and "Daisy Mae" will be given to the winning man and woman. The voting booth has been set up in the lobby of the Commons. The booth has the pictures of the candidates posted. The winners will be announced either in the Alibi Room at 12:30 Friday or at halftime of the Houston-Wichita football game.

Shockers Seek

(Continued from Page 1) expected to be at almost full strength. Eddie Kriwiell and Jimmy Nutter are still ailing from injuries sustained in the Bradley tilt, but are expected to see action Saturday. Another doubtful Shocker is Vere Wellman, sophomore tackle, who suffered internal injuries in a pre-season practice session. Altho Houston is a member of the MVC, Saturday's game will have no bearing on the conference football standings. The Cougars are now in their fifth year of intercollegiate football. The University itself is only 15 years old.

Probable starting lineups:

Walkout

(Continued from Page 1) dents have now had their walk-out for the year. "There has been criticism in the past of the policies of some colleges in regard to walkouts after football victories," President Corbin continued. "This is why there cannot be a walkout without the loss of some prestige, and we cannot leave ourselves open for criticism during the remainder of the year, even if we win the Missouri Valley Conference title," he concluded.

Machine Developed By Dr. Whan Records Audience Reactions

A machine which has been developed by Prof. F. L. Whan, head of the University speech department and Dr. H. B. Summers, professor of radio at Ohio State University, analyzes audience reaction to radio scripts, plays, television, movies or conversation.

The set-up consists of small boxes the size of packs of king-size cigarettes, on the top of which are located toggle switches. The spectator may indicate approval, disapproval, or uncertainty by the position in which he sets the switch.

Tapes in a central machine will record the reactions to the movies or play, and by regulating the speed of the machine, reaction to specific words may be ascertained.

The central machine automatically tabulates the proportion of the audience reacting in any of the three ways, with either raw or per cent scores.

The tape will provide a continuous second by second analysis of what the audience thinks of the presentation.

Radio producers may test their scripts before going on the air to see what the audience will like and dislike, Professor Whan said. "Programs were formerly produced by a sort of Ouija board guesswork. Now producers can find out what the audience wants to hear before broadcasting," Dr. Whan stated.

One university used the machine, which is portable, to determine the effectiveness of their teaching program. Teachers, taking a course on techniques of effective educational movies were tested with an actual movie.

A group of high school students were tested on the same movie, and the results were compared. Peaks of students' likes and teacher's conception of students' likes were found to be exactly opposite, according to Dr. Whan.

"The machine will enable educators to determine the effectiveness of techniques of communication," he said.

The machine, which is valued at $10,000, was built by radio stations WIBW-KCKN of Topeka and Kansas City, and is permanently loaned to Professor Whan by the stations. Kenneth Marquardt, formerly of station WIBW, designed the machine which "top technical men said couldn't be built."

"We hope that schools in New England, Florida, California, and Washington will construct these machines in the near future so that nation-wide audience reaction may be obtained," Professor Whan said.

Phillip Mohr and Don Williams, both of the University speech department, have obtained permission to work out their Ph.D. theses with research on the Summers-Whan reaction machine.

Field Goal In Final Seconds Downs Drake Bulldogs 17-14

In a finish that happens only in story books, the University of Wichita scored 10 points in the last three minutes of play to whip Drake University 17 to 14 at Des Moines Saturday. The victory kept the Shockers unbeaten for the season and assured them of first place in the Missouri Valley Conference for the next two weeks at least.

It was sophomore fullback Wayne Ubben's faultless right toe that saved the day for Wichita. He kicked both extra points and booted a field goal with 15 seconds remaining in the game for the Munes' victory margin.

Wichita scored first in the first period following an exchange of punts. A series of plays took the ball to the Bulldog 17 where Herb Eddington cracked thru the left side to go over standing up.

Drake tied it up early in the second period. The Bulldogs blocked Eli Romero's punt and recovered on the Shocker 40. On the next play, Johnny Bright, the nation's leading ground gainer, passed to end Tom Biemann, the nation's leading pass receiver, who went all the way. All-Valley tackle Dick Steere kicked the tying point.

Bright Puts Drake Ahead
That was all the scoring until the last five minutes of the game. Following a penalty, Romero sliced a punt that went out of bounds on Wichita's own 27-yard line. Seven plays later Bright went over from the three and Steere converted to give Drake a 14 to 7 edge with three minutes left to go.

On a short kick-off, Wichita got the ball on its own 43. Eddie Kriwiell dropped back quickly and shot a leading pass to Harold "Nebs" Nevius who took it on to the Bulldog 10, shook off tacklers, and raced over.

Following the next kickoff, Drake could do nothing. On the fourth down Shocker tackle Bob Harclerode broke thru to block Drake's punt which rolled out of bounds on the Bulldog 3-yard line.

Forty seconds were left as two Wichita running plays failed to penetrate. The Shockers were then penalized for delay of the game, which put the ball on Drake's 6-yard line with time for just one more play.

Ubben Decides Issue

Ubben then came in to kick the Shockers into their third conference win and cause a Monday holiday for the University.

Wichita didn't exactly bottle up Drake's star, Bright, but it did hold him to slightly over three yards per carry which is far below his average for the season.

The win assured Wichita first place in the Valley for two weeks while the Munes take on non-conference foes Houston, Texas, and Miami, Ohio, during the next two Saturdays.

Frosh Season Closes Friday

The University of Wichita Freshman football squad will make its final appearance of the 1950 season at the Pittsburg State Teachers College "B" team, Friday at Old Shocker Stadium. Game time is set at 8 p. m.

The Freshman Shocks gained attention as a result of their 14-13 upset over Oklahoma A. and M.'s "best team in history" at Stillwater last Friday. The Frosh lost their season opener to Tulsa's freshmen squad, 14-40.

Coach Bob Carlson's freshmen have racked up 175 yards on the ground on 108 plays this season, but most of their strength is in a passing attack which has been carried out with nearly 60 per cent accuracy. The yearlings have made 198 yards in the air on 19 completions for 32 tries.

In kickoff returns, the Frosh have averaged 23.4 yards. They

Shockers Lead MVC Standings

The University of Wichita was the only school in the Missouri Valley able to win a football game over the week-end. The Shockers upset Drake 17 to 14 at Des Moines Saturday.

Other conference teams didn't fare so well. Tulsa and Detroit battled to a 13-13 tie at Tulsa. Jack Crocker scored twice in the fourth quarter to pull even with the Titans who had scored in the second and third periods.

Oklahoma A and M was the victim of a lopsided score for the second week in a row. Kansas built up a 40 to 0 halftime lead and then let the reserves coast to a 40 to 7 triumph. A week ago, Southern Methodist had routed the Aggies 56 to 0.

Bradley University's homecoming was spoiled by Toledo 32 to 20 at Peoria. It was the Braves third straight defeat.
