Student Ballotting Will Take Place In Commons; Shocker, University Parties Backing Candidates

Two sorority presidents will compete for the honor of Homecoming Queen in an election tomorrow from 8 a. m., until 1 p. m. The queen will reign over Homecoming activities next weekend.

Ballotting for the candidates will take place in the Commons Lounge tomorrow, according to Carl Goeller, election committee chairman.

The candidates, both seniors, are Betty Cadman, representing Shocker Coalition and Norma Jean Haley of the University Coalition.

Miss Cadman is an English and education major and president of Sorosis sorority. She is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, national education fraternity, YWCA, Wheaties, AWS, has been affiliated with Tri-Rho, an education organization, and president of the Woman's Pan-Hellenic Council.

Miss Cadman was treasurer of her sophomore class, and has been on the Dean's Honor Roll for the past three years.

Norma Jean Haley is president of Pi Kappa Psi sorority and a physical education major. She is president of Wheaties, women's pep club, secretary of the Student Council.

She is a member of WRA, women's recreational association, serves on the Pan-Hellenic Council, and is a member of AWS. She has been a marching band twirler for the past three years, was a substitute cheer-leader, and is affiliated with the Modern Dance Club.

An absentee ballot system went into effect with this election enabling eligible students to vote. Those allowed to vote yesterday instead of the regular election tomorrow were: members of the music department who will be out of town at a convention; the football team which will play Miami of Ohio at Oxford, Ohio, Saturday; Sunflower and Parnassus staff officers who will attend a convention in Chicago; and others "with a bonafide excuse," for being out of town, according to Goeller.

Grad Students Get Scholarships

A $1,500 Atomic Energy Commission assistantship and Office of Naval Research scholarship for $1,000 have been awarded to two University graduate students, according to Dr. Hugo Wall, chairman of the scholarship and student aid committee.

Billy Dean Oakes received the atomic energy grant, Dr. Wall said. He is participating in atomic research programs now being carried on at the University.

Oakes received a bachelor of science degree in 1950 from Oklahoma A and M. He is a member of Phi Lambda Upsilon fraternity and the American Chemical Society, and plans to become a professional chemist.

The naval research scholarship went to Royal John Bondie, Jr. The scholarship, extended to the University as a result of its experiments for the Office of Naval Research, specifies that Bondie do research work in the field of boundary layer control in conjunction with tests now underway in the University's 7 by 10 foot wind tunnel.

Bondie was graduated with a bachelor of engineering degree from the University of Detroit in 1950. He is a member of Pi Tau Sigma, honorary mechanical engineering fraternity; Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity; and the student branch of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences.

Eileen Farrell, Guest Artist, Receives Enthusiastic Applause From Students

Eileen Farrell, soprano guest artists, was accorded enthusiastic applause by students when she appeared on the Wichita Symphony Orchestra program at a convocation Monday in the Commons Auditorium.

Monday's concert was the first of the year and the initial presentation was under the direction of James P. Robertson, professor and head of the University orchestral department.

"Dynamic conducting of the 85-piece orchestra by Prof. Robertson resulted in a performance superior to any presented in the past. This was perhaps most apparent in Mozart's Symphony in B Minor, Opus No. 35," was the appraisal of Prof. Walter J. Duerksen, director of the School of Music.

Professor Duerksen described Miss Farrell as having displayed masterly musicianship with a voice which more than adequately met the demands inherent in the Wagner compositions performed on the program. "She has a tremendous voice that carried easily above the full orchestra."

Behind Iron Curtain In Prague

Conference Is Dominated By Soviets

Students Consider U. S. Aggressor

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of articles about the Communist dominated Second World Student Congress which was held in Prague this summer. The author of this first-hand account was a member of the three-man observer team representing United States National Students Association at that meeting.)

By Bill Holbrook

From the beginning of the Second World Student Congress it became apparent that the meeting would be dominated by the thinking of the Soviet world. The first real example of this came during the reading of the executive committee report by Congress president Joseph Gorman.

The first reference to the war in Korea set off a huge demonstration. At the mention of the North Koreans the Congress delegates—most of whom considered the United States and South Korea as aggressors—broke out into clapping and rushed to the members of the Korean delegation, lifted them on their shoulders and handed them bouquets of roses. After the clapping the majority of the Congress started chanting "Korea" and the name of the President of the North Korean People Republic.

At that point the entire North Korean delegation, armed with roses, were carried on the shoulders of students thru the convention hall amidst chanting and the play of floodlights.

This part of the demonstration lasted some ten and a half minutes.

As the Koreans — some of whom were in uniform — passed the desk where Robert West of the NSA observer delegation was sitting, they shouted slogans of defiance at him. According to West's description, "The faces of the Koreans as they passed had changed from smiles to a distorted sort of frenzy." After sixteen and a-half minutes the chair requested that delegates take their seats, but this was entirely ignored as the demonstration continued unabated. It was only after twenty and a-half minutes of demonstration that the delegates returned quietly to their seats, and Gorman was able to go on with his report.

The annual "Haul Your Man Dance" and the Freshman Varsity are two of the social events under the direction of one of the oldest campus organizations, the Young Women's Christian Association.

Founded in 1900 by Flora Clough, former dean of women, the campus YW has become a permanent part of University activities, aiding in the development of women students mentally and in their religious aspects.

The HYM affair is conducted to raise funds for the organization's various programs. One of these programs provides tuition fees for the six weeks instruction of the University's YW president.

This instruction gives the executive officer an opportunity to get acquainted with the duties of a college YW president. Thelma Graber, present incumbent, was the fifth organization member to receive this allowance while attending Columbia University in New York City.

Organization makeup consists of a 20-girl cabinet, executive officers, a faculty advisory board consisting of 10 members, and a sponsor, Miss Grace Wilkie, dean of women.

This year's officers are: Jane Barclay, vice-president; Carlene Sturges, secretary; and Pat Cuplin, treasurer.

A membership drive is still in progress and any University woman is eligible to become a part of the campus YWCA.

Campus Group Criticizes Fans At Last Game

Dear Editor:

The spirit at our last Saturday's game against Houston was, on the whole, the best, for a losing game, that's been shown for a long time. But, unfortunately, there were people, both in the East and West stands, who showed a disgraceful lack of loyalty and sportsmanship. It is to these that we address this letter.

... We have the best team in the Missouri Valley—the first team. As we came up to the Houston game we had won, and won well, four tough games. There wasn't anyone in Wichita who didn't look with pride on 'our' Shockers.

After the Detroit victory one thousand downtown Wichitans and students alike cheered the team when they stepped from the plane. After they beat Drake, four thousand were there to meet them. And the Monday following we at school thought enough of our team to hold a walkout in their honor; and we made it a celebration as we've not had for a long time. We had a winning team and everybody was for them.

And then last Saturday they ran into a streak of poor luck. It was a bad day; nothing went right—and a good team beat them.

But did the fair-weather bandwagon-riders stick with them when the chips were down? While the majority yelled for the team all the harder, these "sports" had to sit in the stands and scream at everyone and everything from the coach to the waterboy. As soon as we started losing they forgot the record of the last four games.

You have to reach pretty far into the barrel to find someone who will "boo" any individual player from his own team. Perhaps it would have been better if more of them had left the game than did. The team felt badly enough in losing and these "fans" really helped a lot.

There is a sportsmanlike way to lose, just as there is a tactful way to win. Some students and Wichitans will have to learn to take defeat, and also learn a little about sportsmanship.

of the financial standing of the Council, and plans for the bonfire to be held Homecoming eve, November 9.

Suzanne Gray, head of the campus Red Feather drive, reported that the contributions by students and faculty during the Li'l Abner, Daisy Mae contest totaled $342.64, less than eight dollars short of the $350 goal which was set by the downtown Red Feather.

Mary Ann Reed, treasurer of the council reported that a first semester budget of $1,440 has been allotted the council by school authorities. Of this sum, the council has appropriated $600, leaving a balance of $840 for the remainder of the semester.

Andy Larson, pep coordinator suggested that all wood brought to the Homecoming bonfire should be in the form of crates, since this wood burns easier and does not spark as easily as other wood.

Russian Taught To Spanish Instructor In Four Week Army Language Course

Are you bothered by friends pouring out tales of woe about too many hours of classes? If you are, then take them gently by their arms and report in Room 216 Administration Building, to Eugene Savaiano, professor and head of the department of Spanish.

Why pick on him? Merely because he spent 120 hours in four weeks just learning Russian pronunciation and then taking two more weeks learning the vocabulary. He also instructed two hours of Spanish and even spent time observing teaching methods and material used by the instructors in other languages.

Professor Savaiano, a captain in the army reserves, reported for six weeks of duty at the Army Language school, Presidio of Monterey, Cal., this summer. The school turns out finished linguists in any of 21 languages taught there. It's students consist of army, air force, and marine officers and enlisted men learning languages for overseas occupation duty or assignments in military missions, foreign liaison, or intelligence work.

A schedule of his hours would be: six hours learning Russian, two hours instructing Spanish, and spending free time observing techniques used in other language classes. This schedule was for five days a week and lasted six weeks. The course in learning Russian pronunciation alone was equal to 30 weeks of language study in the University of Wichita.

The professor's prime mission, though, was to aid the language staff in brushing up on their teaching methods. He did this by reporting to other classes as a student and then writing critiques to the commandant from his observations of technique and material used by the instructors.

Army time is short and students find that learning languages is no breeze, Professor Savaiano said. They must devote 30 hours a week to classrooms and 15 hours more to outside study. But once each man graduates, he is considered ready to speak fluently the native language whether in Greece, Russia, or China, he said.

To show the thorough methods used and their results, the professor stated, "I think my summer spent in the foreign language school taught me more academically than I ever learned in any university summer session.

"Many of the finest language techniques, such as ear aids, being used in the world today, are applied in these courses. However," he continued, "I also observed some poor methods used. These, I reported in my critiques to the commandant."

A few of the languages taught were Arabic, Bulgarian, Czech, Danish, French, Greek, Hungarian, Korean, Persian and Japanese.

"With such a multitude of languages, there is bound to be weaknesses in instructing," commented Professor Savaiano, "Yet I left the school with the assurance that these weaknesses in the system would soon be done away with."

Trimble Named To Committee

Head Football Coach Jim Trimble was appointed to the committee on selections to the National Football Hall of Fame by the organization at New Brunswick, N.Y., site of the shrine.

Trimble, who received word of his appointment Friday, joins Lynn Waldorf of California, Lou Little of Columbia, Frank Leahy of Notre Dame, Dana X. Bible of Texas, Col. Earl Blaik of Army, and Tom Hamilton of Pittsburgh on the selection committee.

The University has been named to a prominent place in the Hall of Fame since the municipal school was the site of the first night football game in history.

Tulsa Advances To Second Spot

The University of Tulsa moved into the Missouri Valley title picture Saturday with a resounding 74 to 7 triumph over Bradley. It was the Hurricane's most lopsided victory since the war. The win moved Tulsa into second place in the standings behind Wichita.

Drake University lost to Detroit Friday night in much the same manner as its loss to the Shockers a week ago. The Bulldogs held a 13 to 0 lead moving into the fourth period. The Titans came back strong to edge Drake in the final moment, 14 to 13.

Oklahoma A. and M. lost its third non-conference game in a row at its homecoming Saturday. The Missouri Tigers spilled the Aggies 27 to 0. Injuries have now cut the Cowpoke roster to 25 players.

Shockers To Meet Miami's Redskins In Non-Conference Tilt This Saturday

With a two-fold purpose in mind, the University of Wichita Wheatshockers will leave for Oxford, Ohio tomorrow where they will meet the Miami University Redskins in a non-conference clash Saturday. The game will mark homecoming for the Ohio school.

Houston Mascot Bored As Team Downs Shockers

The tawny-brown cougar mascot of the University of Houston, Shasta, was probably the most uninterested spectator at the Houston U.-Wichita U. football game last Saturday. She felt that the football game was so boring that she slept through most of it.

She is the prize possession and project of the Delta Omega chapter of Alpha Phi Omega at Houston University, and is kept in the Houston Zoo when not on the University campus or traveling to the different games. Shasta is taken to as many games as possible and has traveled more than 10,000 miles on various trips.

Shasta is cared for by the cougar guard. The guard is eight members of the chapter chosen by the members and approved by the Student Council.

Shasta made the trip from Houston to Wichita in a specially-built cage.

Websters Win 25-3 In Speedball Starter

Men of Webster scored a 25-3 victory over the Phi Sigs in the first game of the current speedball season Thursday, Oct. 26.

Three games are scheduled for this and next week: Webster-Gamma, Nov. 2; Webster-Phi Sig, Nov. 7; Gamma-Phi Sig, Nov. 9. All games will begin at 4 p. m. in Shocker Stadium.

First of the Shockers' aims will be to get back on a winning stride after dropping the Houston contest by a 46-6 count. Secondly, the Shockers will be seeking their first win over the Miami eleven. Starting in 1947, the Redskins have won three straight over Wichita.

The two teams will go into the game with identical 1950 records—four wins and one loss. Miami suffered its only setback at the hands of Xavier University by a 7-0 score. In the meantime, Coach Woody Hayes' eleven has scored victories over Bowling Green, Western Michigan, Butler and Ohio University.

Coach Hayes has 23 lettermen returning to his 1950 squad. Heading this list are elusive halfback Johnny Pont, and Dick Ulrich, a good pass-catching end. Both Pont and Ulrich were named to the 1949 all-Mid-America Conference eleven.

As a sophomore, Pont returned the opening kickoff for a touch-down to help his team to a 22-0 win over Wichita in 1949. A 165-pounder, he was second on Drake's Johnny Bright in rushing offense last year.

Although Mel Olix, highly-rated quarterback, was lost by graduation, the Redskins seem to have an adequate replacement in Neil by Wirkowski. Alternating with Olix in 1949, Wirkowski completed 16 out of 37 passes for 307 yards and four touchdowns.

Miami is strong in the line too. Guards Dale Doland and Bill Gunlock, and tackle Ed Schenckler are slated to see lots of action Saturday.

Shocker Frosh End Season With Victory Over Pittsburg

By Harold Enns

The University of Wichita freshman grid squad scored twice in the first quarter against the Pittsburg State Teachers "B" squad and then went on to defeat the Gorillas 34-9 in Shocker Stadium, Friday night. The contest was the final for the Frosh 1950 season and set its record at two victories and one defeat.

Two fumbles by Gary Freeman, Pittsburg halfback, set up the Shocker's first two touchdowns. After Freeman's first fumble, ground gains by Shockers Ray Coleman and fullback LeRoy Barritt moved the ball to the Gorilla 11-yard line. Beverly Winston ran around right end to score for the Munies. Coleman's kick for extra point was good. Freeman's second fumble was recovered deep in Pittsburg's own territory by the Shockers. Bud Glazier, fast-breaking Munie quarterback tossed a pitch-out to halfback Al Pritchett, who followed the left sideline 24 yards to score for the Shockers. Coleman again made the extra point.

In the fading moments of the initial quarter, penalties set the Shockers on their own 10-yard line. Quarterback Glazier faded into his own endzone to pass, but was smothered by Gorilla tacklers to hand the visitors a safety.

The final Pittsburg tally came in the third quarter when, after a muffed Shocker pitch-out, Freeman gained seven yards in two consecutive plays and then broke through right tackle for a 33-yard touchdown sprint. The Gorilla's try for extra point failed. The half-time score was 14-9.

Shockers Lead at Half

Opening the second half of the contest, Pittsburg kicked off to the Shockers. Shocker Beverly Winston took the ball and handed it to Coleman, who ripped off his 65-yard sprint for another Shocker touchdown. Before the third period ended, the Munies drove down to the Gorilla 30-yard line. On the next play Winston took the ball to the 18-yard line. Then Barritt took a pitch-out from Glazier and scored around right end, standing up. Coleman kicked his fourth straight extra point of the night.

The fourth Shocker touchdown was a thriller. The Gorilla line had pushed the Munies back on three successive plays. Then, on the fourth down, Coleman stepped back into punt position. Instead of punting, the fleet halfback tossed a short pass to quarterbac Glazier, who drove 22 yards to a first down on the 25-yard line.

Then Glazier got off a jump pass to end Elbert Jarvis, who grabbed the ball with his fingernails. Jarvis was cornered on the seven-yard line when he later-aled to guard Bill Herrin for the score. Coleman for the first time in the game, missed his extra-point kick. The final score stood 34-9.

Win Two Out of Three

The Shocker freshmen, who lost the season opener to Tulsa's Yearlings, 40-14, but went to Oklahoma A and M and defeated the Greenies 14-13, have bettered last year's freshman team's statistics in many departments.

The Frosh have completed 23 of 39 attempted passes for a total of 265 yards and 59 percent average. In the rushing department, they have gained 422 yards on 157 carries for 2.69 yards per carry. The Munies have punted 567 yards in 15 punts for a 37.8-yard average.

They have returned nine kick-offs for 229 yards, averaging 25.5 yards per runback. The Shockers have returned nine punts for 256 yards, averaging 28.4 yards in that department. The total offensive record is 196 plays for a gain of 687 yards, averaging 3.5 yards per play.

Frats To Clash For Traditional Keg, Nov. 22

A familiar cry among the Men of Webster is "Hold That Keg" as the annual intra-fraternity football classic draws near.

For 21 years "The Keg," a shellacked, wooden-staved, beer barrel with the results of each year's contest painted around the center, has passed back and forth between the Men of Webster and Alpha Gamma Gamma. The rivalry began in 1929 and has continued in intensity except for three years during the war.

The contest will begin at 8 p.m., Nov. 22, in Shocker Stadium. Halftime entertainment will include the appearance of Webster's mascot, a black sheep, pulling the symbolic Keg.

Varsity members are not eligible for this contest. However, Eddie Kriwiel will coach the Webster team and Pat Larimer will coach the Gammas. The starting lineups have not been announced, but programs will be available at the game, according to George Davis, president of Men of Webster.

Webster now holds the Keg by virtue of a 15-6 victory over Gamma last year. Over the years, however, Gamma has a slight edge in victories; they have won 9, lost 7, and tied 2 of the 18 contests.

The losing fraternity traditionally hosts the winners at an inter-fraternity party.

Clubs To Sign For Volleyball

A women's intramural volleyball tournament will begin about Nov. 15, according to Miss Dorothy Martin, instructor of physical education.

Intramural representatives should turn in the names of the players from their organizations at the Women's Gymnasium Office. Unaffiliated women who wish to play should leave their names and addresses on the bulletin board of the gym.

Practices for the tournament will begin Nov. 6.

Volleyball Circuit Signs First Men

Faculty members of the College of Business Administration and Industry were the first to form a team in the men's volleyball league this season.

Robert P. Kirkpatrick, director of intramural sports, said that he expects 15 to 20 teams to sign up before the deadline for registration, Nov. 27. There were 11 teams in the league last year.

The first and second volleyball sessions will be played Nov. 28 in the Men's Gymnasium. The first session will be at 7 p. m., the second at 8:15 p. m.

Two courts will be used during a session with eight teams playing each night.

Freshman Basketball Candidates To Meet

All men interested in trying out for freshman basketball should report to the Men's Gym Monday, Nov. 6, at 3 p. m., Ken Gunning, head basketball coach, announced today. He said that all new candidates should bring their own equipment.

Students, Faculty, Members Perform In Community Play

By Jack Campbell

Students and faculty members joined many of the city's finest actors and actresses in making William Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing" one of the most brilliant theater presentations ever seen in Wichita during its run at the Unitarian Church last week.

Mary Jane Woodard, speech instructor, captured all the uniqueness of the Shakespeare era and added a modern, comprehensible touch in her direction of the play to make the production utterly delightful in every respect.

The new Wichita Community Theater, an outgrowth of the experimental theater group, presented the play Oct. 25-28 and due to popular demand, held over for a Monday night performance, Oct. 30. It certainly proved that Wichita has a wealth of dramatic talent, much coming from the University itself.

Second only to Mrs. Woodard's direction in brilliance was James Stearns' setting and costume designs. Stearns, a senior, displayed a taste and artistry in his designing that is seldom found in the mid-west.

In addition to all of his designing problems, Stearns took the part of the heavy, Don John, and was again successful.

Leonato, governor of Messina, was played by Robert Minser, voice instructor. Minser's voice and poise were of professional calibre.

Speech professor, Don Williams, portrayed the Prince of Arragon Don Padro quite well.

Claudio was handled very convincingly by Jack Love, junior.

One of the highlights of the show was the mirthful interpretation of Berge, a headborough, by Dr. Clair Hannum, professor of zoology.

Freshman Ronald Weidman, who starred in the University's recent production, "An Inspector Calls," played Friar Francis in an excellent manner.

Other University students who took part included Bob Beatty and Donald Dill as followers of Don John, Gerald Funk as a servant, and George Stewart as the second watch.

Despite the hand'ap of having to work with the Unitarian Church's inadequate facilities, the Wichita Community Theater has certainly gotten a start on the right foot. Drama fans will be looking forward to the group's next presentation, Garson Kanin's "Born Yesterday," Dec. 6-9.

Commons Is Provided More Food Storage

More storage space has been added to the Commons food service department through the addition of a newly-built enclosed storage room, according to Miss Dryden Quist, head of the Commons food service.

In addition to the newly-enclosed space, more shelves have been built to accommodate food supplies.

Three Students Win Fellowships

The Foundation for Industrial Research fellowships for $1,000 were awarded to three graduate students at the University of Wichita, according to Dr. Waldo B. Burnett, Foundation director.

William C. Broding, recent graduate of the University, received the fellowship in aeronautical engineering. Miss Nina Mae Sandberg of Cornell University and Miss Shirley Hammond, Southwestern College graduate, received the chemistry and bacteriology fellowships respectively.

Recipients of these fellowships were selected on the basis of merit and will receive stipends of $1,000 plus tuition and fees. The fellowships were started in 1947 to stimulate research in industrial developments in this area.

Colleges Discuss Teacher Training

Miss Faye Ricketts, head of the Commercial Training department, represented the University at a meeting held here last Saturday to discuss the improvements of Kansas' Business-Teacher training program. Representatives from 10 colleges were present.

The meeting place of this group alternates among the various institutions participating. The next meeting will be held in October, 1951, at Pittsburg State Teachers' College.

Other colleges represented were as follows: Marymount College, Emporia State Teachers' College, Ottawa University, Bethany College, Bethel College, Kansas University.
