Barr Resigns From Regents

Change Of Residence Is Reason For Move

Frank A. Barr, vice-president of the Kansas Gas and Electric Company, recently turned in his resignation to the Board of Regents. It has been accepted, and forwarded to the Board of Education.

The reason for Mr. Barr's resignation, according to Lester Rosen, public relations director, is

Henry Levitt

Henry Levitt, Wichita clothing store owner, was appointed by the Board of Education, Monday night, to fill the unexpired term of resigning Board of Regents member, Frank Barr. The term will end July 1.

that he has moved his residence outside the city limits, and the state law in regard to the municipal University requires that a member of the Board of Regents shall reside within the municipality.

Mr. Barr was vice-chairman of the regents. He was appointed in 1940. His term was interrupted for three years during the war, when he served as a colonel on active duty in the army. He was reappointed upon his return from service.

Air Force ROTC Men Called For Duty After Graduation

All graduating AF ROTC seniors will be called for active duty by the Air Force within ninety days after graduation, according to information received from the Tenth Air Force.

This will affect fifteen men in the senior class. The men that do not graduate from the University at the end of this semester will receive their commissions in the Air Force but will be deferred from active duty until they graduate, under present regulations from Tenth Air Force.

These men may apply for active duty as soon as they receive their commissions and will probably have their applications approved swiftly, stated Capt. Russell L. Smith, Assistant Professor of Air Science and Tactics.

Meteorology school and Flight training are offered to any of the graduating AF ROTC seniors who can qualify in these fields. Some of the seniors have already taken advantage of this opportunity and have taken tests to qualify for flight training.

Seniors may apply for a delay in reporting for active duty after they are called if they hold a key position in civilian industry, or going on active duty would cause undue hardship. However, delays will be very few and only granted in extreme cases.

Pastor Delivers Convo Address

"The Pilgrim Faith" Is Dr. Johnston's Topic

"The Pilgrim Faith" was the topic of a message delivered by Dr. Paul Johnston, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Wichita, at an all-school convocation this morning at 9:30 in the University Auditorium.

Dr. Johnston, recently chaplain of Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif., has done college preaching at Cornell, Hamilton, Wells, and Wooster.

The University A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Harold A. Decker, professor and head of the department of Choral music, sang Lotti's "Crucifixus", "O Be Joyful All Ye Lands" by Gretchanioff, and the 12th Century hymn, "Beautiful Savoir", arranged by Christiansen.

First period classes dismissed at 8:35; second period started at 8:45 and ended at 9:20; the convocation was over at 10:20 and third period classes began at 10:30 and will end at 11:05; at 11:15 the fourth periods starts and ends at 11:50. At noon the regular schedule will be resumed.

Convocation speakers scheduled for later this semester are Dr. Kurt von Schuschnigg, former Austrian Chancellor, and Roberto de la Rosa, Mexican counsel in St. Louis, Mo.

Seniors Study 6 School Gifts

The senior class gift committee has decided to investigate costs of six probable gifts for the school this week, according to Mike Miller, chairman of the committee.

Gifts being considered are: A clock for the Library dome; a metal sign over the University entrance on Fairmount with the words "University of Wichita"; pillars for the Hillside entrance to the University; outside metal bulletin boards; metal directional markers and building identification markers; books to be donated to the Library.

Final decision on the gift will be made by a vote of the senior class at the next meeting of the group.

Takes Research Job With Beech Aircraft

Assistant Professor of Economics H. A. Shumway resigned yesterday from the University faculty to accept a position as research economist with the Beech Aircraft Corporation where he will be an assistant to Warren Blazier, personnel director at the plant.

University President Harry F. Corbin said, "We are very proud to have a faculty member assume a position of this type in a defense industry in Wichita. He has been a fine teacher and will be missed by the faculty. I want to wish him the best of luck and I know that he will do a fine job at the Beech Company."

Professor Shumway joined the Economics department in 1947 after several years at El Dorado Junior College, where he was dean.

Most of the furniture will be painted a wheat blond, but a few pieces will match the walls with a light turquoise. Dark turquoise will be the color of the piano, and reupholstering of some of the furniture will be done in yellow and henna. A large, round coffee table finished in blond will be added to the room's furnishings.

The full-scale decorating plan will also include new curtains, according to Miss Earp. They will feature a modernistic print in blue-green, henna, and yellow on an off-white background. The curtains will cover the window on the north wall of the club room.

Three engagements and one wedding of University couples have been announced recently.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Moore announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Shirley, to Dean Whitmore, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Whitmore. The date of the wedding will be announced later.

Miss Moore, a graduate of Wichita High School East, is now attending the University where she is a member of Pi Kappa Psi sorority.

Whitmore, a graduate of Wichita High School East, is employed at the Coleman Company, Inc.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Donna Armstead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Armstead, to Dwane E. Yokley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Yokley. No date has been set for the wedding.

Miss Armstead, a graduate of Wichita High School North, is attending the University where she is majoring in business administration. Yokley attended Atlanta, Kans., High School and is now serving with the army at Aberdeen, Md.

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Patricia Etter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Etter was announced recently to Jack H. Douglass, son of Mrs. C. H. Douglass and the late Mr. Douglass. The wedding will take place April 21 at 8:30 p.m. in the Blessed Sacrament Church, with Father Michael Murphy officiating.

The bride-elect, who has been employed at the Braniff International Airways, attended the University where she was a member of Alpha Tau Sigma.

Douglass attended Kansas State College and is a graduate of the University of Wichita.

Miss Toddy Bonjour was married to Arthur E. Bates, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Bates of Denver, Colo., March 4 at 2 p.m. Dr. L. Hekhuis, dean of the college of liberal arts read the double ring ceremony which was performed in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Persis M. Bonjour.

Miss Bonjour attended the University of Wichita where she was honorary colonel of the ROTC in 1947. Bates, who is affiliated with the Gates Rubber Company in Denver, attended the University of Denver where he received a masters degree in chemical engineering.

Struebing On Duty With 10th Infantry

Lt. Henry W. Struebing of Wichita reported recently for duty with 10th Infantry Division, Ft. Riley.

A graduate of North High School, he attended the University of Wichita from 1946 to 1951.

"Wichita has no organized gambling as far as I know. It's as clean and as straight as any city in the country," said Lt. Bernard Clark, member of the Wichita Police Department and instructor in police science at the University, commenting on the activities of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee.

There is virtually no gambling or dope peddling evident in Wichita, according to Lieutenant Clark. The number of murders and robberies is less than half of the averages for cities of the same size. This fact is based on figures compiled by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

"It is difficult to control gambling since it is what the public wants. If they didn't want it, they would cease to patronize gambling places," he stated.

To end organized gambling you must have the complete cooperation of the general public. There should be more rigid fines for operators of gambling places, so that it is not advantageous for them to continue in operation. In those areas in which police officers receive insufficient compensation, measures must be taken to raise the wages and forestall attempts at bribery of police officials.

"If the public wants honest officials in public offices, they should investigate more thoroughly candidates running for offices. The public is responsible for the type of government and law enforcement which they have."

In Retrospect...

Some 2,000 years ago, the man whose resurrection will be observed Easter Sunday died at the command of a vacillating and fearsome Roman official. It is interesting, and perhaps useful, to look back in history to see what has happened in two areas of human behavior since that moment when, with a shrug, Pontius Pilate condemned that amazing and compelling personality whose imprint, felt first on the shores of Galilee, has now encompassed the world.

In the brief span of time since that day, we have learned well two diametric arts: that of healing and that of slaying. Just as were the Roman and Aramaic practitioners novices in the field of medicine in comparison with today's great advances, so were the legionnaires mere prancers and dancers when viewed in the light of today's techniques of civilized mayhem brought into play by tyrants and their whelp.

No sooner do we learn to sew up a man's belly than we discover new methods to rip it asunder. No sooner do some, as nations, come upon the concept of internationalism than do others, as nations rediscover the hateful arts of aggressive nationalism.

The error lies with and the blame falls upon the individual, whether he be prince or peasant, whether he thinks in error or whether he errs through lack of thought.

The lesson this Easter week-end for those of us in this country who are participating in a liberal, humanitarian educational program, no matter what our faith or creed, is an obvious one: Learn, and learn quickly, how to think rationally in order to produce a reasonable implementation of a clear, humanitarian, international program of peace and good will.

There is hope today, thanks to the United Nations and the concept behind that organization—just as there was hope during the time of that amazing personality who walked on this earth 2,000 years ago. But hope alone will never suffice to challenge the positive and dynamic action of governments on the rampage. Hope must be implemented by equally positive and equally dynamic effort on the part of the myriad of individuals who are interested in peace, and at this moment we can think of no other person whose behavior and philosophy should more logically motivate and clothe such action than those of He who has been so aptly named the Prince of Peace. M M M—P. Gerhard.

Seniors Plan Recitals

Thelma Graber and Bonnie Molz, University of Wichita School of Music seniors, will present their recitals Tuesday, March 27, at 8 p. m., in the Au-

Miss Graber will play the violin, and Miss Molz will sing at the event, which is free to the public.

Nasal Nitwits Star Of Humor Numbers Lid's Off Show Pleases, Displeases Capacity Crowd Saturday

By Bob Barber
Sunflower Drama Critic

The 1951 Lid's Off show received a mixed reception from a near capacity crowd Saturday night. Offerings ranged from classic music to bulesque comedy, with varying success.

High spots of the evening were the appearances of Norma Manning, Mary Jane Woodard, speech and drama instructor, Schooler and McCord, and Joe Giewartowski.

Piano predominated in the musical portion of the presentation, to good effect. Mrs. Manning combined a smooth style with a wise choice of selections and the Schooler and McCord team were at their best with their jumpy renditions of tricky boogie. Best of their work was the performance of "Lid's Off Boogie," written expressly for the show.

Joe Giewartowski displayed a nice stage presence combined with facile fingers. Particularly pleasing was his playing of "Jazz Pizzicato."

Mary Jane Woodard brought prolonged applause with her characterization of "Mrs. Zero," an excerpt from the play "The Adding Machine." Her nagging nasal voice made the audience pity the poor husband.

"The Old Oaken Bucket," twice sung by the "Nasty Nasal Nitwits," got a warm reception from a generally cool audience. Particularly good was the fooling around of Rankin Griesinger and Jack Campbell.

Parsons and O'Neale won the uncontested title of low point of the show. Parsons has a good stage personality but his material gave him little chance to display it. Risque material is quite permissible but these boys should learn that dirt is no substitute for humor.

Dr. Clair H. Hannum, associate professor of zoology, and Miss Phillida Whitby, French instructor, pleased with their pantomime, "He Stabbed Her in the Art Gallery."

Charley Stark, comedian, did a good job for the first ten minutes, after that he got worse and worse. There was definitely too much Stark in the show, and too much borrowed unoriginal material in his sketches.

A tap line from the Genevieve Amberg Starkey Dance School and the University Square Dance Club entertained the audience who turned out to help the World Service Student Fund, show sponsor.

The draggy, three-hour show can be partially if not wholly, blamed on the performances turned in by Parsons and O'Neale. More humorous and less suggestive material would have helped.

Women from Zeta Phi Eta, dramatics sorority, ushered for the show attired in "exotic" costumes.

Sound Off...

Ryan's Letter Draws Additional Student Action

Dear Editor:

Three cheers for John Ryan and his letter of last week. An "election" in which only such a small portion (416 out of 2,700) of the voters took the trouble to come to the polls could hardly be called an election at all. Why bother with the formality or expense of an election? Why not just make the rounds of the "houses" and draw straws?

My personal opinion is that these Student Council elections vitally concern each and every student. I won't dwell on a corny sense of duty or responsibility, but let's be more realistic and look at those issues which are of material concern: finances (for which we or our parents are responsible directly or indirectly), programs and other activities, which are the business of the Student Council and therefore concern all student voters. Don't be lulled into indifference. Examine the issues, go to the polls, and vote!

Independently,
Bill Holland

Go, Vassar, Go

It seems that Yale graduates have an average of 1.3 children while Vassar grads average 1.7 children, according to the Akron University newspaper. What does all this prove? Merely that women have more children than men.

Gaddis Warns Campus Drivers

There will be a general crack-down on students who violate the parking laws of the school by parking their cars in front of entrances to sidewalks, according to John Gaddis, superintendent of buildings and grounds. He said there have been numerous complaints from students, that they had to walk in the mud to go around a car. These entrances have been painted yellow to warn the motorists.

A visiting parking area has been established north of the Administration Building, for those people from downtown who come to the University to transact business.

'Behind Scenes' Broadcasts Interpret News Developments

By D. R. Stewart

Take one part research, plus one part background material, put together, and what do you have? In this case, "Behind the Scenes," heard Monday thru Friday at 3 p. m. over University radio station KMWU.

"Behind the Scenes" is a five-minute program written, edited, and produced by members of George Gow's radio-news-writing class covering "any items proving of interest to people on the campus or in Wichita."

According to Mr. Gow and station officials, a student takes a subject having a background in some recent news story or development, looks up statistics and other background material, and then writes and broadcasts the show.

Mr. Gow stated that the class is being taught with the idea that any class member could go to any radio station ready to go to work, having already learned the relation of the news department to the radio station itself.

One of the primary purposes of the course is the interpretation of news for the public in order that the public will understand what is happening in the world today. It also gives the student a practical application of the work he is being trained to do.

Mr. Gow stated that he thought the course was "a valuable experiment." He was seconded by Assistant Professor of Speech Bob Williams, who said that it "has been very successful so far," and added there have been a number of inquiries about the program from people in Wichita.

Station officials said that if anyone wants a news development discussed, they should write in to the station and the discussion will be given on the program.

Council Studies Faculty Rating

A system for rating faculty members was discussed in the Student Council meeting Monday, according to Harry Hobson, Council President. The Council was of the opinion that such a rating system would help faculty members in outlining their courses, attacking problems of vital interest to the students, as well as improving teaching methods which over a period of time would help the students.

Statistics on such a rating system would of necessity be kept secret, the Council decided. No definite action was taken in the meeting, but the matter was referred to a four-man committee which is scheduled to report to the Council, April 2.

The committee will study a student-faculty rating system presented by Charles King, University student, who was present at the Council meeting.

Mrs. Brrailoff, In Bulgaria 17 Years, Returns To America To Find Freedom

By Virginia Stafford

An American citizen, who spent 17 years in Bulgaria, escaped from the terror of Communism to find happiness in the freedom and security of her work at the University.

Mrs. Nascia Brrailoff, the daughter of naturalized American citizens, was born in Chicago. When she was 7 years old, her parents took her on a vacation to Bulgaria, her parents' native land. Her father died during the vacation so she and her mother did not return to America.

"Altho I forgot my native language, I never forgot that I was born in the United States," declared Mrs. Brrailoff. "I was fortunate that my unhappy marriage had been dissolved before I was 21 so that I could apply for my American citizenship papers when I became that age."

Interred In Bulgaria
When the relationship between Bulgaria and America was severed in 1950, the 35 American citizens left in Bulgaria were retained and their Bulgarian visas taken away, Mrs. Brrailoff explained.

"I was told that I had to obtain Bulgarian citizenship but to do so I would have had to spend 6 months in a concentration camp," Mrs. Brrailoff said. She was then studying in a Conservatory of Music in Sofia.

Following her refusal, she was arrested three times for questioning, ignored by her former friends, and besieged by communistic men who wanted an American signature on peace bulletins. For two months the surveillance that she felt surrounding her made her live in a state of fear.

Today's Paper Breaks Tradition

This issue of The Sunflower, the twenty-second this year, marks the first time in school history that the student publication has been issued any day but Thursday. The reason for today's paper is the dismissal of school for Easter recess.

Music Festival Is Planned Here

Approximately 4,500 high school students representing about 60 schools in the Wichita trade area will attend the annual Music Festival on the campus of the University of Wichita Friday and Saturday, March 30 and 31, announced Walter M. Duerksen, head of the School of Music and director of the event.

Eighty University music students have charge of the organizational management. Ten judges chosen from faculties of universities and colleges in Kansas and surrounding states will classify each performance of the high school students into one of four divisions according to their ability.

Bands, orchestras, glee clubs and mixed choruses will perform on Friday. On Saturday vocal and instrumental solos and small vocal and instrumental ensembles will be heard.

Nine other similar festivals are sponsored each year in Kansas by the Kansas State High School Activities Association. E. A. Thomas of Topeka is commissioner of the organization. Other cities holding the music events are Concordia, Dodge City, Emporia, Hays, Lawrence, Oberlin, Pittsburg, Pratt, and Salina.

Education Fraternity Initiates Pledges

Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary education fraternity, installed spring semester pledges recently.

The pledges were Della Bates, Martha Barns, Josephine Brown, Solon Hunt, Charlene Rittenoure, Harriet Cornwell, Eunice Stofor, John Friesen, Edna Kamm, Corine Miller, Lucia Wedel, Bob Harrison, Colette Porter, Florabelle Johns, and Edna Harrison.

friend, Mrs. Mary Easton of Ponca City, Okla., who had lived in Bulgaria from 1933 to 1936. Because of her offer to help me, I decided to return to my native land if possible. So when the American government forced the Bulgarian legation that was still in Washington to release the American citizens in Bulgaria, I was ready to come to America."

Altho Mrs. Brrailoff's and her daughter's tickets to Rome cost only 500 francs, the Bulgarian government retained 200 of the 700 francs which an uncle sent from Switzerland for the journey. Leaving Sofia April 25, Mrs. Brrailoff and her 6-year-old daughter, Anna, were allowed to take only their clothes and enough food for the 2-day trip.

Given Three Dollars
"A friend slipped me three dollars just before my train pulled out," Mrs. Brrailoff reminisced laughingly. "I had just hidden it in the curtain of the berth when a woman came to search me and Anna. Our baggage was looked thru and even the cakes and bread for our meals were torn apart."

The couple, under the protection of the American government and financed by Mrs. Easton of Oklahoma, spent 2 months in Rome and Naples awaiting a visa for the small girl.

"It was thru Mrs. Easton that I obtained my position to teach music at this University."

Cadets Prepare For Field Day

The spirit of competition is rising this week at the armory as contestants for the events on field day continue practicing.

Men practicing field-stripping light arms are Hamilton Beardsley, Robert Van Vrankin, Joe Catudal, Harold Smock, and Leo Williams. Men practicing in other events are Don Mayberry, Ed Lomax, John McHugh, John Meilhart, John Swanson, and Andy Larson.

According to Lt. Col. Robin Montgomery, professor of military science and tactics, the biggest problem is keeping track of the weapons. He stated that a man was caught trying to take one of the weapons home last week for practice.

Students are showing interest in the competition by practicing in all their free time and coming to the armory early in the morning to use the weapons and become more proficient.

Gridders Open Spring Practice

1951 Varsity Grids For Alumni Contest

After a week's delay because of bad weather, University of Wichita football squad began spring football drills Monday afternoon under the direction of head coach Jim Trimble and his staff.

Offensive maneuvers were stressed during the first three days of drills which will end today. Practice sessions will be resumed March 27, following Easter vacation. The first intrasquad game for Trimble's gridgers is scheduled for March 31 and will be followed by a Alumni-Varsity encounter tentatively set for April 7.

Due to the graduation of such students as Eddie Kriwiel, quarterback; Jimmy Nutter, halfback; Aggie Oleksak, guard; and Bob Marclerode, tackle; developing leadership among the younger Shockers will be another important phase of spring practices, according to Trimble.

Assistant coach Earl Hamilton has contacted some 50 former Shocker gridgers at the beginning of this week who announced their intention of participating in the Alumni-Varsity contest.

This list includes ex-Shocker greats, Linwood Sexton, Ray "Scooterbug" Morrison, Harrie Clawson, Marvin Campbell, Don Sharpsteen, and Herbie Harrison.

Bill Hornish Tops Sports Roundup Bowling Scorers

By Clifford Kraus
Sunflower Sports Editor

Last week this column was devoted to the University of Wichita's possibilities of reaching the top in minor sports in the Missouri Valley Conference. However, with Boston University on the 1951 football schedule and Indiana on next year's basketball slate, it is evident that the University is also aiming for the top in major sports.

By scheduling Indiana for next December 17, athletic director Jim Trimble and cage mentor Ken Gunning have taken a definite step towards placing this school among the elite in intercollegiate athletics.

Indiana U., for the benefit of those not in the know, is a member of the Big 10 which is generally acknowledged as one of the toughest all-around athletic conferences in the nation. Other schools in the conference are Minnesota, Michigan U., Michigan State, Iowa, Illinois, Northwestern, Ohio State, Wisconsin, and Purdue.

The Hoosier school itself has always been a powerhouse in basketball. During the past season, Indiana was rated for several weeks among the upper half of the top 10 teams in the nation and was leading the Big 10 before losing out to Illinois for the championship. So there remains little doubt that the Shockers will be travelling with pretty fast company when the 1951-52 basketball season rolls around.

On the football side of the picture, Boston University is not exactly a national powerhouse but a look at some of the Terriers' opponents reveals that they do belong in the major football group. The New England school regularly schedules such noted grid teams as William and Mary College and Duquesne University. Anyway you look at it, coaches Trimble and Gunning are projecting the name of the Shockers among the better athletic circles and in due time this should pay dividends to the University.

What To Do With St. Louis

Somewhat on the line of the above is this matter of St. Louis University dropping track from its varsity activities. This leaves the Mound City school with only one major sport to concentrate on—basketball. And who can deny that the Billikens are doing all right at the cage sport. If it takes money to be successful in college sports, St. Louis should improve on its basketball record for with both football and track out of the way, the Bills should now be able to acquire the very best in basketball talent.

This in due time is going to place a burden on other MVC schools as they continue to dig up funds for football, basketball, track, and several other minor sports. As things now stand, St. Louis is still a member of the conference but why we don't know. It seems that for a school to be a member in good standing in any conference it should meet certain qualifications and from where we sit, it looks as if St. Louis is lacking some of those qualifications. At least, it's a matter worth investigating by the "conference dads" come their spring meeting.

Pi Kap Pair Wins Doubles

The team of Donna Gravens and Phyllis McMichael of Pi Kappa Psi defeated Jean Drake and Peg Gregory in the finals of the women's badminton doubles intramural Thursday.

The scores in the three matches were 4-15, 17-14, and 15-7.

One game is still to be played in the singles tournament between Mary Jabara and Jean Drake. The deadline for the final round is March 21.

Besides these, Jack Swager, Gene Wells, Kriwiel, and other members of the 1950 varsity plan to participate in the game.

Trackmen Plan Winfield Trip

Nutter Is Expected To Be Highest Scorer

Track coach Ab Bidwell will unveil the 1951 edition of the Shocker thin-clads next Wednesday afternoon in a dual meet against the Southwestern College Moundbuilders at Winfield. The meet is first of four dual events scheduled this year.

Forming the nucleus of this year's squad will be lettermen Jimmy Nutter, Sam Evans, Walt Byfield, Dan Blankenship, Wesley Hodge, Edwin Moreland, Erwin Work, and sophomores Carl Sundgren, Walt Corbin, Clarence Jernigan, and Bill Klobuchar. In addition, coach Bidwell is counting on 16 other thin-clads to help carry the Shockers through a 10-meet schedule.

Nutter, who last year ran second only to graduate Ira Barkman in total points scored, is expected to carry the burden again this year. He has participated in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, 220-yard low hurdles, broad jump, pole vault, and the javelin throw.

Backing up Nutter will be Hodge, dashes; Byfield, javelin throw; and Evans, hurdles, who finished in that order in points scored last season. All three men are either holder or co-holder of University records in their particular events. Byfield heaved the javelin 195 feet and seven inches at the 1950 Kansas Relays for a new record while Evans and Hodge tied the school standards for the 120-yard high hurdles and the 100-yard dash with times of 14.9 and 9.8 seconds respectively. Evans posted his record in the 1950 Oklahoma A and M dual meet while Hodge set his mark at the Kansas Relays last year.

Carl Sundgren is expected to fill in for the departed Barkman in the weights division. The 250 pound sophomore from Denver has already heaved the shot put 45 feet, just short of the school record set by Barkman last year.

Baseball Squad To Begin Drills For First Game

The first official call for infielders and outfielders is set for April 2, it was revealed by Ken Gunning, head baseball coach, Monday. "All men on last year's team can check out Monday morning if they will come by the Men's Gym," stated Gunning.

Practice will be from 2 to 4

p. m., every day, however, the first week of practice will be extended to get the players in shape for the first game against Oklahoma Baptist University here April 6. There will be a lot of emphasis on hitting and fielding, Gunning said.

The following pitchers and catchers have been throwing for the past two weeks in order to have their arms in shape for the first game: pitchers—John Freidersdorf, Randy Barron, Debbie Saunders, Joe Rochford and catchers Bud Fanning and Nat Barton.

School To Dismiss Six Days; Vacation To Begin Thursday

The University will be dismissed for six days of recess within the next two weeks, according to Dr. Worth A. Fletcher, registrar.

The Easter recess begins today after classes and lasts until Tuesday, when regular classes will be resumed.

Because of the Music Festival and the annual ROTC Field Day to be held on the campus Friday, March 30, classes will not meet on that day. Since a dismissal of Friday classes will mean the third recess of Monday, Wednesday and Friday classes in two weeks, classes regularly meeting on Friday, March 30, will meet on Thursday, March 29. The classes usually held on Thursday will not meet, said Dr. Fletcher.

Miss Florence M. Hildebrand, assistant librarian, announced that the University Library will be open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Thursday during the Easter holidays. On the days of the music festival the Library will also be open.

It was originally planned to have the Baccalaureate services June 3, and the Commencement June 4. The reason for the change is that the Forum was not available June 4 to accommodate a large crowd in case of bad weather.

Approximately 460 seniors will be graduated. Last year 592 seniors were graduated. No speaker has been named yet.
