Work To Begin 'Cosi' Starts 4-Night Stand On Engineers' Structure Soon

Engineering Building Of 2 Stories Slated For Use Next Fall

Starting date for construction of a new engineering building has been scheduled for Nov. 17, Kenneth Razak, director of the School of Engineering, revealed last week.

The building will be located southeast of the present Business Administration Building and is scheduled to be completed in time for use in the fall of 1953. The building will have 25,000 square feet of floor space and will be two stories high. Classrooms and drafting rooms will be housed in this structure which is to be constructed by Dondlinger and Sons Construction company.

Will Use Present Facilities

The Engineering School will continue to use the two large quonset huts after the completion of the building. Laboratory sessions are presently being held in these buildings and the Walter H. Beech memorial wind tunnel, while classes are held in the Business Administration Building.

Nearly 500 students are included in the University's growing Engineering School, Professor Razak stated. Of these 300 are full-time students and around 200 are part-time. Although under one heading, the Engineering School includes the departments of aeronautical engineering, mechanical engineering, civil engineering, industrial engineering, and engineering drawing.

Construction Supported

Financially supporting construction of the new building, as they did the building of the wind tunnel several years ago, are two Wichita aircraft companies. These companies are the Beech Aircraft Corporation and the Cessna Aircraft Company.

This is the third construction project under way on the University campus this year. Construction started on the women's residence hall and a men's dormitory earlier this fall.

Religious Club Plans Meeting

Two informal discussion hours will be sponsored next Tuesday and Wednesday by the Campus Religious Council on the topic, "The Atomic Bomb for War or Peace."

The discussion will take place in the Pine Room of the Commons Building from 12:30 until 1:30 p.m. on both days. Dr. Lloyd McKinley, head of the chemistry department, will lead the Wednesday meeting, and Dr. Penrose Albright, head of the physics department, will lead the discussion on Wednesday.

The topic is a consideration of the problems presented by atomic power and its relation to each person, according to Gynith Kiffin, chairman of the Council.

All interested students are invited to attend, Miss Giffin said.

Opera To Be Aired

"Cosi fan Tutte" will be broadcast over KMWU, University radio station at 8:30 megacycles Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

The entire opera will be broadcast without interruption. Arthur Junod, KMWU staff member, will be on hand to announce the program.

Don Hofmann, KMWU station manager, said recordings of the "Cosi fan Tutte" will be cut and records of the opera will go on sale.

Seniors Requested To Contact Deans

All seniors who plan to graduate in January, June, or the first or second summer or at the close of the first or second summer session of 1953 should contact the dean of the college in which they are enrolled, Dr. L. Hekhuis, dean of the College of Liberal Arts, announced this week.

A complete check of graduation requirements and the signing of degree cards are the purposes of this check, Dean Hekhuis said.

Final Date Set For Annual Pics

Nov. 21 has been set as the deadline for all class pictures to be used in the Parnassus, according to Ann Earp, yearbook editor.

Junior pictures are currently being taken from 9 a.m. to noon in the Commons Lounge. Sophomore pictures will be taken beginning Monday. Any freshmen, juniors, or seniors who have not had their pictures taken yet may have them taken any day next week, Miss Earp stated.

Pictures will also be taken Monday from 1 to 2 p.m. for the convenience of students with heavy morning schedules, the editor said.

The pictures are taken by Rora-baugh-Millsap Studio and a deposit of $1 is required at the time pictures are taken. No appointments are made. Proofs are ready the next day and should be returned as soon as possible, Miss Earp said.

Many Scholarships Available

Information concerning scholarships and fellowships available for both students and teachers was made public this week by Dean L. Hekhuis, College of Liberal Arts.

The Fund for the Advancement of Education is making available, for the third year, approximately 250 Faculty Fellowships, Dean Hekhuis said. University will be allowed to make three nominations for these fellowships, available in the humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences.

Candidates for these fellowships may propose their plans for study in their fields and preference will be shown to those who have shown the qualities of outstanding teachers and scholars, according to a bulletin released by the committee awarding the fellowships.

Evening Alibi hours from 6 to 11, six nights a week beginning Nov. 22 were accepted at the Monday, Student Council meeting.

Comedy To Run In December

"Skylark," a sophisticated comedy by Samson Raphaelson, is scheduled to play here Dec. 11, 12, and 13, George D. Wilner, professor of speech and dramatics, announced this week.

Under the auspices of the University Theatre, of which Professor Wilner is director, "Skylark" deals with the awakening of an advertising man to the fact that he is neglecting his wife's social life. He forgets their wedding anniversaries, birthdays—the little things of life. He faces and solves the problem of winning back her confidence.

A cast of nine will present the play. Among them is Stephen W. Worth, assistant professor of political science.

Other members of the cast, all University students, include:

Bill Barcus, Liberal Arts freshman; Jim Connor, Liberal Arts freshman; Anita Dinsmore, Education senior; Ann Earp, Liberal Arts senior; Jim Fleming, Fine Arts senior; Bob Luckey, Liberal Arts sophomore; Rosalyn Newport, Liberal Arts sophomore; and Ronald Weidman, Liberal Arts junior.

"Skylark" will be presented in the University Auditorium. University students will be admitted by I.D. card; general admission prices will be announced later, Professor Wilner said.

For this opener the Council has planned to show a recent-run movie in the Commons Lounge at an admission price of 35 cents. The movie will be shown twice during the evening, once at 7 and a late showing at 9. During the evening the Alibi Room and the fountain will be open for students until 11.

This project is sponsored by the Council with campus organizations taking charge on weekly schedules. In this way groups that have volunteered to back the program will be responsible for various duties involved in organizing and operating the Alibi and Lounge at night.

The Council will gain funds for this program largely through the admission collected at the movies that will be shown. Another source of revenue will be obtained through sales of subscriptions to both Time and Life magazines. Publishers of the magazines have set up special rates for students and faculty. Convenient spots will be located on the campus where students and faculty may place subscriptions for the magazines.

Approximately 15 groups are cooperating with a Council committee headed by Council member Anita Dinsmore. An incomplete list of the groups is as follows: Independent Student's Association, Alpha Gamma Gamma, Men of Webster, Phi Upsilon Sigma, Pi Alpha Pi, Sorosis, Pi Kappa Psi, Delta Omega, Epsilon Kappa Rho, and Alpha Tau Sigma, social organizations, and the following service groups: Alpha Phi Omega and Young Women's Christian Association.

Foreign Students Will Visit Beech

Four foreign students attending the University will tour the Beech Aircraft Corporation tomorrow, reported Dr. Eugene Savaiano, head of the Spanish department and foreign student advisor.

Those participating in the tour are: Aly Mohit from Iran, Ralph Peterson of Norway, Rosario Lao and Demostenes Lupaz, both of the Philippine Islands.

Dr. Savaiano added that this tour is part of a program to acquaint foreign students with the factories and industries of Wichita. The students will be guided by Dwight Hornberger, head of the export division at Beech.

Mozart Opera Begins Tonight In Auditorium

Dixon, Broadhurst Play Lead Roles In Comedy; Scenes Set In Naples

A new English translation of Mozart's comic opera "Cosi fan Tutte" opens a four-night run tonight at 8:30 in Commons Auditorium.

Produced from the new score recently adapted for the Metropolitan Opera by Ruth and Thomas Martin, "Women Are Like That" stars Charlyn Dixon, Fine Arts senior, in the soprano role and Charles Broadhurst, Fine Arts junior, in the tenor role.

Miss Dixon plays Fiordiligi, a giddy young Neapolitan lady, and Broadhurst portrays Ferrando, a young Neapolitan army officer.

Other leading roles and the Fine Arts students who play them will be: Don Alfonso, James Billings, junior; Dorabella, Roberta Tade Exline, junior; Despina, Janice Seward, sophomore; and Guglielmo, Edward Rude, freshman.

Two Young Officers
The story of this lively farce centers around two young army officers, Ferrando and Guglielmo, who are challenged to put the fidelity of their fiancées, Fiordiligi and her sister Dorabella, to a test. The officers pretend to sail away on military duty overseas, a scheme devised by a cynical old bachelor, Don Alfonso.

Unknown to the ladies, the officers return the same day disguised as Albanian Lords and each makes love to the other's fiancée. Both are shocked to see how soon their pleas take effect.

A happy ending is in store, but the officers are forced to agree with Don Alfonso that "Women Are Like That."

Other Cast Members
Other members of the cast, all Fine Arts students, include: Reta Bowen, Evelyn Brown, Erma Christianson, Harry Circle, Lloyd Clark, Jr., Eugene Bales, Phyllis Danielson, Duane Edwards, Robert Fleming, James Fleming, Vivian Graber, James Hershberger, Betty Lou Kellum, Ray Linder, Max McAuley, Martha Reaugh, Kay Richmond, Alene Tibbitts, Lucille Van Beber, and Gary Wolf.

The vocal score will be conducted by Harold A. Decker, head of the department of choral music. Costumes and settings have been especially designed by James

Opera To Make Road Appearances

Two road engagements for the University Opera Theater's current production, "Women Are Like That" (Cosi fan Tutte) were revealed this week by director of the production, Robert Minser.

The opera, which opens tonight in the University Auditorium for a four night run, will make its first road appearance Tuesday in the high school auditorium at Liberal, Kans.

The second engagement is scheduled for performance on March 8, Springfield, Mo. At Springfield the opera will be presented by invitation at the Southwest Music Educator's National Conference in the Springfield Shrine Mosque.

Cooperating in the current Metropolitan Opera English translation is the University Symphony. The Symphony is directed by James P. Robertson, head of the University orchestra department and former supervisor of music at Springfield, Mo., Senior High School.

One other member of the cast will return to his hometown to show his talents. He is James Billings, also of Springfield. Billings will sing the role of Don Alfonso.

That Way

A pledge of Kappa Rho was in a great dilemma Tuesday. She came tearing into the Communications Building as if pursued by wolves.

And it was wolves that the young miss was fleeing from but they happened to be of the two-legged variety. The story she told goes like this.

She had ridden to school that morning with one young man and he was waiting in front of Communications for her. But another swain was also waiting in front of the same building for the unhappy lass.

We all must make grave decisions and she went forth from the Communication Building to meet the storm for she did not want to walk home.

Are you lonesome these evenings? Just wait until November 22 and then you can join in the fun at the Alibi Room. Starting that date the Alibi will be open school nights to the Wednesday before Thanksgiving.

Plans are in the making for it to stay open till 11 p.m., for the rest of the school year on week-day nights.

Hadn't the men from Carswell heard about our drought? Seems as not, for yellow slickers were worn by the "bench warmers" across the way at the football game Saturday night.

One of our rosters spotted a flying saucer at the game. But his sight must have been bleary for it was merely a white balloon with red spots floating high above the stands.

Attending a Kappa Delta Pi regional conference meeting in Oklahoma Saturday were Vivian Graber, Carol Lax, Donna Cravens, and Roumel Morford. The students were accompanied by Dr. H. H. Baker, professor in education.

Passing chocolates—or cigars—to their sorority sisters—or frat brothers—have kept quite a few women chewing and men smoking these last few Monday nights.

Some of the engagements announced in this social way are Jewel McNulty, Pi Kap, to Wayne Littleton; Marilyn Curry, Delta Omega, to Leo Bigelow; Ila Hatie, Sorosis, to Edie Schmitt, Pi Alph; Margie Bookwalter, Delta Omega, to Bill Eldred, Pi Alph; and Nancy Busher, Alpha Tau, to Bob Chisholm, Gamma.

Marilyn Arp passed gum drops at the Kappa Rho meeting Monday to tell that she was "going steady" with Fred Moats.

Council Head To New York

Mrs. John Hewitt, director of the Wichita Council for Pre-school Blind Children, left Monday for New York where she will attend a workshop for further study of pre-school blind children.

The blind nursery school in Wichita is located at 2237 Jardine Drive with sessions held daily under the auspices of the Wichita Council for the Pre-school Blind.

A benefit card party will be held Nov. 17 at the Blessed Sacrament gymnasium at 2 and 8 p.m. All the proceeds from the party will go to this school.

During the summer months, Les Needham, Shocker trainer, works in the same capacity for the Wichita Indians baseball team.

Press Club Sets Meeting On Friday

The second meeting of the newly-organized Press Club, comprised of student journalists on the campus, will be held tomorrow at 12:30 p.m., in Room 114, Communications Building, according to Tom McGraw, Sunflower business manager and president-elect of the organization.

The club, created last week by a group of active student newsmen and newswomen, is designed to promote and strengthen the interest of student editors and writers in their work and to provide a professional organization for these people, McGraw said.

Student feelings in the department of journalism indicated a need for a co-educational professional and service organization of this type, McGraw indicated, and the Press Club was formed to fill this need.

Charter members decided at the organizational meeting to open the club to all students with six or more hours of journalism. The first meeting of the club was held last Friday at which time officers were elected.

McGraw, senior journalism major, was chosen president; Bob

Will Ike Travel To Korea?

Election has come and gone but controversy over President-elect Eisenhower's trip to the Far East goes on. Recognizing that most of the pre-Nov. 4 criticisms of the proposal were born of the heat and bitterness of the campaign, it may be well to re-examine the situation.

In the last days of the campaign, Governor Stevenson lashed out at his opponent for promising the Korean trip, calling it a "cynical search for votes." President Truman accused the general of holding out false hopes to mothers of sons fighting in the Far East.

Just what did Eisenhower promise? Very little, really. He said only that he wanted to go to Korea to see the fighting, talk to men in the field, to see if some "honorable" way to end the fighting might not be found. He said he wanted to study "on the spot . . . how much the Republic of Korea can contribute to its own battle requirements." This last occasioned a tremendous uproar. It was charged that the new administration might take action tantamount to the abandonment of Korea to the Reds.

Military men understand it is not now possible to turn over command, air, sea and logistical functions to the Korean Republic forces. They also know it is quite possible to utilize the South Korean manpower reserve in the line—where bulk of casualties occur. Naturally, the training of South Koreans to replace American infantrymen is of great importance to Eisenhower, both from a military point of view and from his position as future leader of the U.S.

Historically the trip certainly is not without precedent. The lanky figure of Abraham Lincoln, astride a tall horse, was seen by the soldiers of the Grand Army of the Republic on a half-dozen battlefronts. Lincoln, himself a soldier and veteran of the Indian wars, felt visits to commanders in the field were of great value.

It seems to us that most of the criticisms of the general's proposal to go to Korea are unfounded.

Why is it not wise for him to see Korea? Surely the more knowledge of the war he has, the better he will be prepared to deal with it. To a man who commanded history's most complicated military operation, accustomed to evaluation of military situations and used to making command decisions, it will be of even greater value.

It Could Happen Sooner

Last week, almost half-way through the semester, Student Directories were released. By this time need for such a book has practically passed.

Student Directories are of great value during early weeks of the first semester, making it possible for students to get together on assignments, dates, or plain gab-fests. As the semester progresses, the practical value of the directory decreases.

There are many problems involved in putting out a directory, both from the technical end and that of manpower to handle the work of compilation, but the job is accomplished in many other colleges.

With better Student Council planning in the future, we can have an early Student Directory.

Alpha Phi Omega

Frat Does WU 'Good Turns'

By Dave Wilkinson

One of the largest fraternities on the campus is one to which both Greeks and unaffiliates belong. This group is Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity.

With approximately 240 chapters located over the entire United States, this fraternity is composed of college men with Boy Scout affiliations. Theme of this group is to serve the student body, school, and the nation through the principles of Scouting.

First organized in 1925 at Lafayette College, Easton, Penn., the organization expanded from a small group of former scouts to the present national membership of nearly 30,000.

This fraternity differs in several ways from social organization. Alpha Phi Omega does not, on any campus, maintain a fraternity house; reason being the feeling that with a house the group would stray from its main object, service to student and school.

Pledges of the fraternity do not go through any sort of informal initiations or types of hazing. Pledging period for the fraternity is shorter than the period required for other such organizations. There is only six week of pledging, during which the pledge must by himself or with other pledges perform some service approved by the local chapter.

An initiation fee of $10 is required of the pledge; $2 of which is membership dues. Active dues are $2 per semester.

Chapter Organized in 1937
The local chapter was organized in 1937 and was disbanded during the war for lack of male students on the campus. In 1946 the chapter was reorganized, predominately with new members.

Results of the church listings were turned over to church officers after the statistics had been compiled. Gynith Giffin, science senior, is chairman of the University Religious Council.

Methodists Lead In Campus Church Preference Poll

To what religious denomination do you belong?

If you can answer the above question with "Methodist" then you can claim membership to the University's largest denomination. This was found in the student religious interest cards filled in during registration, when 656 students listed the Methodist church as their preference.

Baptists, second largest campus denomination, trail far behind with only 301 University student members. Roman Catholics number only 295, and are third in the running.

Other Denominations

Other denominations chosen are: Seventh Day Adventist, 16; Assembly of God, 7; Christian, 271; Church of the Brethren, 8; Church of Christ, 43; Church of Christ Scientists, 10; Church of God, 8; Community, 3; Congregational, 53; Episcopal, 72; Evangelical Free, 3.

Evangelical Reformed, 6; Evangelical United Brethren, 27; Friends, 11; Hebrew, 15; Jehovah's Witness, 2; Lutheran, 69; Mennonite, 14.

Nazarene, 13; Orthodox Greek Catholic, 11; Pilgrims Holiness, 2; Presbyterian, 161; School of Christian Unity, 2; St. Mary's Orthodox, 6; Unitarian, 12; United Brethren, 15; Wichita Gospel Center, 2.

153 Have No Preference

Eighty-nine students neglected to state their preference, while 153 wrote "no preference," and other denominations totaled 7.

Wall, Shipley, Worth Give Opinions On Changes In National Situation Under Republican Control

By Jeanette Jackson

With the recent elections, the public has been faced with several pressing questions about the new administration's foreign policy and economic program. In an attempt to answer these questions, The Sunflower has asked three members of the political science department to give their opinions on these problems.

Professor Hugo Wall, head of the political science department, explained, "I see no prospects of much change in the war in Korea. I don't think that the Russians want peace and to bomb the bases in Manchuria, as some people advocate, would merely spread the war and might mean world war, which is something no one wants.

"In the business field, the business men will find Washington a friendlier place. Their advice will be listened to with more respect. Economic controls such as price and rent controls will be dropped. Public power projects such as TVA will not be started. Public housing will not be continued along any large scale. I expect very little to be done along this line.

"The surplus profit tax will be dropped or greatly changed. Personal income taxes, however, will not be lowered to any extent for at least several years because to do so would make it impossible to balance the budget, as Eisenhower promised to do," he continued.

Fewer Public Servants

"Concerning public servants," he said, "there will be a sharp decrease in the number of Civil Service employees during the first year of the new administration. Thereafter I expect a gradual increase in their number.

"The question of prices and wages is in the economic field and I don't profess to know much about this, but I am inclined to think that prices and wages will drift downward. I even look for a mild recession about 1953," Professor Wall concluded.

Assistant Professor Stephen W. Worth accents the foreign policy as being probably the most important issue at the present.

"Eisenhower's foreign policy was very confused during the election, ranging from conservatism in the Midwest to administrative internationalism in the East," Professor Worth pointed out.

Eisenhower Has Majority

"Eisenhower has a Republican majority in the Senate. Of the Senators who were returned to the Senate, three-fourths of them are isolationists and six of the new senators are also isolationists. If they continue in this trend, Eisenhower will have a senate majority, but it will be strangely anti-Eisenhower," he concluded.

"If that is the case, then Eisenhower will be depending upon the Democratic minority for support. This minority in the Senate would be for Eisenhower's foreign policy.

"The people were split 50-50 on the Korea problem before the election. Now according to a recent Gallop poll, the people stand 2 to 1 for a change of foreign policy in Korea," Professor Worth added.

Child Behavior

Films, Discussions Used To Analyze Child Delinquency

Movies, discussions, and a basic textbook are the chief devices currently being used in the juvenile delinquency class of the University night school extension program as the means of understanding the behavior of delinquent children.

Stewart E. Perkins, associated with the Family Consultation Service here in Wichita, leads the class each Tuesday, from 7 to 9 p.m., in its analysis and study of delinquent behavior among young people.

Purpose of the program, Mr. Perkins declared, is to gain an understanding of the behavior of the delinquent child, how that behavior is exhibited, and what problems accompany delinquency.

Cases of delinquency are discussed in the class and conclusions reached regarding each individual case. In addition, cases are presented on the screen for study and analysis by the class of 30 students.

Mr. Perkins indicated that he would welcome all persons interested in the problem of the delinquent child to attend the Tuesday discussion periods.

This year represents the first time such a class has been offered, dealing as it does, primarily with juvenile delinquency.

For instance, an outfit which sells all kinds of chemicals is currently engaged in telling the world about the farmer who "raises an unusual crop and gets 30 cents an egg."

The farmer, who is simply rolling in wealth by selling these eggs, is an ex-wholesale banana dealer. This brings up all kinds of ideas, none of them very "fruit"ful.

The eggs, the chemical company hastens to add, come from one of farming's most unusual crops—quail. They say that most of his business comes from people who want to give something "different" at Christmas time.

Now there's a thought. Imagine, if you will, the happy family on Christmas eve. They happily open their presents. Mother, who is distributing the gifts, gaily tosses a cunningly wrapped package to Father with the words, "I'm egg-ing you on."

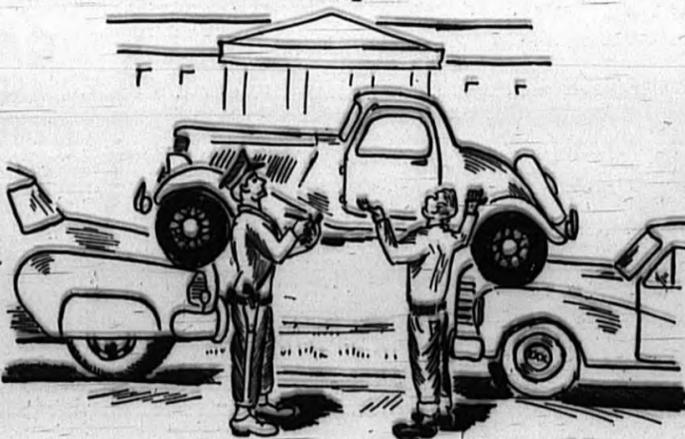

Good old father, who is thinking about how much this pile of tinsel and stuff is going to cost him, smiles happily and unwraps the package.

"Oh Boy! Just what I've always wanted. A broken quail egg." As he dips his fingers into the sodden package, the scene fades out, and just in time.

The chemical company is happy because the farmer sells more eggs and thus gets money to buy chemicals to increase his production of more quail eggs to be sold for Christmas presents.

Please, give me a necktie.

"Well . . . ?"

STROUT

"Even with Eisenhower as President there will be no substantial change unless it comes from the Kremlin," he stated.

"If and when the people reach the stage of philosophy that 'nothing could be worse, so let's change,' that will be the real danger. If they extend war into China it would mean commitment of 60 to 70 per cent of our military potentiality and we would be bogged down by war effort on the mainland. It would mean our pulling out of Europe, which is really the most important thing," he emphasized.

Assistant Professor Vergil A. Shipley of the political science department, agreed with the others on the major issues.

No Overnight Change

"I can see no great overnight change in the present conditions existing in the United States. It will tend to become a greater conflict between the President and the Senate. I look for them to cut down on aid to foreign countries, which is certainly a mistake," he insisted.

"There won't be too much advancing in the U.S. There is more likely a period of public consolidation to come," he said.

Professor Shipley continued, "The budget will be cut very little and I doubt if substantial tax cuts are enacted.

"A depression is possible if the military budget is cut. And, of course, labor will not be in as favorable position as in the past," he added.

"Actually, we may have a recession in a couple of years if Eisenhower carries out his proposed program," he concluded.

Grade Pupils Taught Spanish

Three University Spanish majors, Jean Wimbush, Mary Ellen Love, and Eric Ecklor, are teaching Spanish to 29 fifth and sixth grade pupils of Fairmount School.

Sponsored by the University Spanish department, the foreign language study in elementary schools is being offered for the third year. Classes meet for two 40-minute periods each week after regular school hours.

The Spanish courses are intended to stimulate interest by grade school children in people of different cultural patterns by giving them a common bond in language, Dr. Eugene Savaiano, head of the Spanish department, stated.

The course is also being offered in an effort to gather further material on effective teaching methods, Dr. Savaiano disclosed.

The trip will occupy those who go from 10 a.m. until late afternoon, Professor Herman said.

Each semester the psychology department sponsors a tour of this kind for interested students.

Baird Has Non-Profit Hobby Of Greenhouse Flower-Raising

At least one economy expert is found on the faculty who has an unprofitable hobby: Robert Baird, assistant professor in economics, admits that he raises plants in his greenhouse for sheer pleasure.

Petroleum Group Sponsors Contest

Prizes totaling $500 will be awarded undergraduate students winning the writing contest sponsored by the Association of Petroleum Re-Refiners, Washington, D. C. The papers are to be on the subject, "The Advantages of Re-Refined Oil," according to Verne T. Worthington, president of the Association.

The purposes of the contest are to further research on re-cycling of oil and to stimulate original research on the subject of the re-cycling of once-used lubricating oil.

The manuscript must be between 1000 and 2000 words in length and must be submitted to the Association's Contest Committee postmarked no later than Dec. 31, 1952. First prizes will be $250, second prize $100 with three other prizes of $50 each.

A list of companies that re-refine oil and a summary of available data may be obtained by writing to: The Association of Petroleum Re-Refiners, 1917 Eye St., N.W., Washington, D. C.

In order to grow roses, spring bulbs, and tuberous begonias, Professor Baird has invested $995 in a fully equipped 13 foot square greenhouse.

"After this initial cost," said Professor Baird, "Many people wonder how much more it costs to maintain and stock it. I spend $150 to $200 a year," he added.

"It's a Hobby" "I don't care if my greenhouse is a financial success or loss because it is a hobby," the professor of economics declared.

He thinks that his reason for his entering this hobby was different from that of anyone else. It stemmed from a displeasure of the way the Easter lilies were arranged in his church. It seems that the method of having flowers arranged was to have various church members loan flowers. Professor Baird volunteered to take complete charge and furnish the floral arrangements for the church if he could arrange them as he wanted, so he's been doing that ever since.

Starts With Lilies After his start in lilies, Professor Baird began adding to lilies other flowers such as glaxinas, caladiums, and orchids, in addition to more common marigolds, asters, and geraniums. He prefers a general collection for the sake of variety.

"All of my experiences with greenhouse plants have been interesting and educational; interesting when they live and educational when they die," he remarked.

Carswell Bombers Break Game Wide Open, Win Sixth Straight

Carswell Air Force Base Bombers exploded for 35 points in the second half to turn what started out to be a low-scoring affair into a scoring parade as they downed Wichita's Shockers 48-16 at Veterans Field last Friday night.

Carswell led only 13-7 at half-time, but scored twice more in the third quarter to put the game on ice as they rolled to their sixth straight win to remain undefeated for the season.

Graves Leads AFB

Dub Graves, formerly a Tulsa University star, and James Jeffrey, Baylor University, led the scoring for the Bombers with 18 points each. Fullback Jeffrey scored three touchdowns and halfback Graves crossed the goal-line twice and converted six times in seven attempts.

The Shockers' two touchdowns were made by fullback Allen Taylor and halfback Kenny Lawson. Two conversions by Wayne Ubben and a safety gave the Munies their 16 points, three more than the Bombers first five opponents could muster combined.

Jeffrey Opens Scoring

Jeffrey opened the scoring in the first period on a 13-yard end run. Graves kicked the point to give the Bombers a 7-0 lead.

The Munies tied the score in the second when Lawson took a pitch-out from Connie Hoffmans 15 yards for a T.D. Graves put the Bombers back in the lead, going the last 11 yards to cap an 87-yard drive after the Shockers kick-off.

The Shockers other T.D. came in the last quarter when Taylor rounded end for three yards to end a 61-yard drive.

Statistics for the game were:

The 1952 Shocker football schedule has but two games remaining, and the Munies' "Tough Twenty" should win from both Drake and New Mexico A. and M.

Neither Drake nor the New Mexico Aggies have played opposition of a quality comparable to that on the Shocker schedule. Nevertheless, neither has posted any kind of bright record. Drake has a 2-6 mark, almost the reverse of last season's seven wins and two losses.

The Aggies have racked up one win, five losses and a tie game so far. They have one game to play before meeting Wichita, with Midwestern of Wichita Falls, Texas.

Saturday's encounter with Drake will be the latest in a nine-game series, with the Shockers victors in six of the past eight tilts. However, in no game has the margin exceeded eight points, while three were decided by one. Oddly enough, both Canine wins have been in Veterans Field. They never have won over the Shockers at Des Moines.

Drake does have one bright spot: the pass-receiving of Joe McClaren. Currently he is the leading pass receiver in the nation. Last week, against Iowa State, 42 passes were thrown by Bulldog passers, with McClaren latching onto six of them. Drake lost, however, 55-7.

Two common opponents, Detroit and Bradley, shellacked Drake 57-0 and 38-0 respectively. Against the Shockers, Detroit won 22-7, while Bradley fell 13-0.

Carswell AFB Bombers, winners over the Munies last week, had a 44-man squad made up almost entirely of players from Southern colleges. A breakdown on college teams represented: Texas Christian and Tulsa five; Rice three; Tennessee two; Baylor two; Texas two, and Louisiana State, Arkansas, North Texas State, West Texas State, Mississippi, and North Eastern Oklahoma, each one player.

TOTAL OFFENSE leader for the Munies is sophomore quarterback Connie Hoffmans, who has averaged 5.53 yards per play. Runners are Ken Lawson, with 4.51 per play, and Eli Romero, with an even four yards per play.

NOTRE DAME did it again last Saturday, beating Oklahoma. The question in the minds of many football fans is, can they do it again? Meaning, of course, the Michigan State game this week. Our pick: Notre Dame over the Spartans.

FROM ST. LOUIS comes word that DePaul University of Chicago will replace Kentucky on the Bills' basketball schedule Jan. 3, Kentucky having its cage schedule cancelled by order of the NCAA.

TULSA WAS the only Missouri Valley team able to win last week. The Big Wind blew Villanova's Mainliners out of the unbeaten bracket, 42-7. Meanwhile, Mississippi upset Houston, Boston College edged Detroit, and Carswell AFB downed Wichita. The Oklahoma Aggies were idle, fortunately for the Valley.

Send-Off Scheduled For Team Tonight

Tonight at 9 p.m. a pep rally will be held at Lawrence Stadium prior to the team's leaving for Drake University to play.

After this pep rally the students will proceed to Union Station for another rally just before the team leaves at 9:30 p.m., George Parsons, pep coordinator, said.

Frosh, Varsity Squads Clash

Local fans will get their first chance to view Shocker prospects for the coming cage season when the varsity and freshman squads clash in Henrion Gym at 8 p.m. Friday, Nov. 21, according to Ralph Miller, head basketball coach at the University. No admission will be charged.

The varsity, with nine returning lettermen will face a freshmen squad, termed by Dick Miller, freshman mentor, as a more balanced team than last year's Munie frosh squad.

The Shockers open their season at home Dec. 2, with the varsity meeting Southwestern College of Winfield, and the frosh playing the Beech Aircraft team in the preliminary.

Cleo Littleton, sophomore cage sensation for Wichita, holds the record for total points scored in one basketball game for the Shockers with 37.

Wichita U. won the C.I.C. football title seven times before abandoning the conference to enter the Missouri Valley conference.

Shocker Rushing Spot To Lawson, Statistics Show

Ken Lawson, 200-pound junior halfback, moved into the lead spot in Shocker rushing statistics, figures released this week show.

Lawson, with a 4:19 average took the lead over Eli Romero, who had a 4.06 yards-per-carry average. Third was Al Taylor, with a 5.60 average.

Top passer for the Shockers is Connie Hoffmans, who has hit receivers 41 times in 98 attempts for 757 yards and three touchdowns. He has had 13 aeriels intercepted. Elias Thomas ranks as the leading pass receiver with 16 catches for 290 yards and two scores. Sophomore end John Holm has caught ten passes for 208 yards. Bob Burton ranks second in receiving with nine snags for 221 yards and one touchdown.

Ray Coleman, halfback, leads in punting for the Munies with 510 yards on 13 boots, an average of 39.6 yards per kick. Eli Romero ranks second with 1,016 yards on 28 kicks for a 36.3 average per kick.

Plan Intramural Play For Winter

Plans are now being formed for the intramural winter season sports program, according to Robert P. Kirkpatrick, intramural director.

The three major sports being planned for are basketball, volleyball, and bowling.

The volleyball league, with 16 teams competing, has already begun round robin play, he indicated. Basketball, with the number of teams participating yet unknown, will commence sometime after the Dec. 1, team entry deadline.

Bowling is tentatively planned to begin shortly after the end of the current semester, Kirkpatrick said.

ing brought back 10 of the former for 229 yards, a 22.9 average per On punts returns, he has carried five for 43 yards, an average of 5.6 for every return.

In defensive statistics, Wayne Ubben is the leading Munie tackler, with 92 to his credit. Bill Klobuchar leads in grounding passes with nine.

Charley Baldon leads in the number of recovered fumbles with four. John Walor has tackled opposing passers nine times; and also leads in tackles behind the line of scrimmage with 16.

Tackle Ron Summers has the only blocked conversion of the season to his credit.

The most people for a complete season's attendance at Wichita U. football is 56,780 set in 1948. More than 38,000 fans watched the first three games this season.

Pacing the nation's collegiate pass catchers is Joe McClaren, a junior, who ranks first in the nation in pass receiving including 14 touchdown aeriels.

Coach Warren Gaer has built his single wing offense around the passing-receiving combination of Fred Smith and McClaren, plus the running of a trio of veteran backs, Jim Pilkington, Jim Norman, and Fred Wylie. Wylie will miss the Wichita game because of an injury, Gaer disclosed.

The Bulldogs were weakened by the recent dropping from the squad of star backs Gene Macomber and Joe Bevere for disciplinary reasons. Macomber was one of the leading rushers on the Canine squad, while Bevere paced punters in the Missouri Valley last year with a 41.3 average, good enough to rate fifth nationally.

So far this year the Bulldogs have had plenty of trouble with their opponents, defeating only Iowa Teachers and Emporia State. Dayton, Boston College, Detroit, Bradley, Denver, and Iowa State have all mauled Drake, in most cases, by wide margins.

Wichita, going after its seventh victory in the series, which now stands 6-2 for the Shockers, will entrain for Des Moines minus two top defensive men. Tackle Darrell Hill, re-injured against Carswell last week, and Bob Mihalsky, injured against Tulsa, will probably be out for the rest of the season.

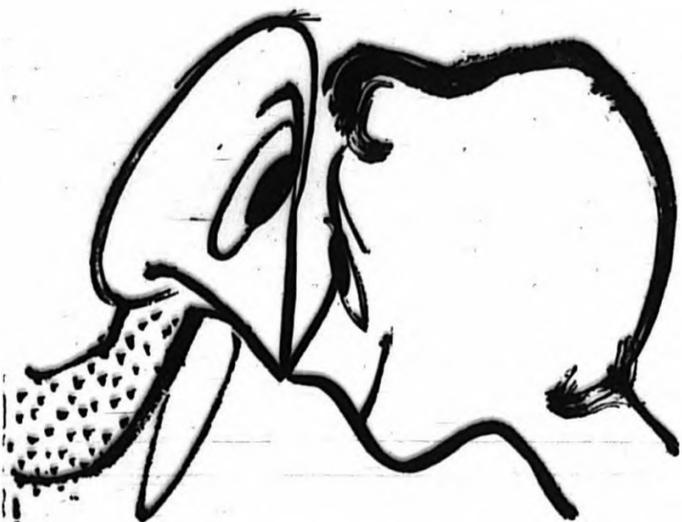

However, four other injured squad members will probably be ready to go, Coach Bob Carlson indicated early in the week. Fullback Eli Romero, and defensive ace Ben Lee, both out since Tulsa, will be back, plus center Larry Slajchert and halfback Ray Day, who were banged up in the Carswell game.

The Munies will hurl the running combination of Romero, Bob Burton, Ken Lawson, and Al Taylor against the Bulldogs, and back this up with the passing of Connie Hoffmans, who will have as his chief targets ends Elias Thomas and John Holm, plus Burton.

Kickoff time will be 1:30, with a local broadcast carried over station KWBB.

The Battle of the Bird

Time was when preparing Thanksgiving dinner was a real struggle. And preparing it was nothing compared to the clean-up job that came after!

But today, grandmother can actually take time to enjoy herself—because so much of the work (including the after-dinner work) will be done for her by electricity. And for mere chicken feed, too!

It refrigerates the turkey a whole day—for about 2c.

It roasts the turkey—for less than 10c.

It runs the dishwasher for 1 solid hour—for just 1c.

It washes and irons the tablecloth and napkins—for about 2c.

A bargain, isn't it? As a matter of fact, electricity is the biggest bargain in your budget today... a bargain made possible by your friends and neighbors in this company, working together under sound business management.

Church Ushers Attend Class

A school for church ushers, the only one of its kind, was held here recently, according to Mrs. Helen Crockett, head of the Extension Service, which sponsored the school.

The course presented suggestions for the direction of church congregations to lead to a more satisfactory worship experience. Problems were presented that ushers may have to cope with. Cooperation with the minister was stressed.

Enrollment included names of individuals, or groups representing a church. The individual fee was $5 and group rates ranged from $10 to $40, depending upon the number in the group.

The school was founded by Everett M. Hosman, dean of the School of Adult Education at the University of Omaha. Mr. Hosman has traveled to many parts of the country to improve ushering services, and his program has been featured in national magazines, including the October issue of Holiday.

A period of refreshment and fellowship followed each session during the three evenings of the school.

Ohio College Sets Honors Program

An honors program in English will be offered at Bowling Green State University, Ohio, starting this fall. With the approval of the English department, a superior student may read in a broad area of literature, write a critical essay and take a comprehensive examination.

The individualized program is open only to seniors majoring in English who, at the end of the junior year, have a point-average of at least 3.5 in English courses and at least 3.0 in all courses. A is equivalent to 4.0 and B to 3.0.

Six semester hours of credit are available for the academic year in the honors program. That is less than one-fifth of the usual student program.

McFarland Visits N.Y. Art Galleries

Dr. Eugene McFarland, head of the University art department, returned Sunday from a trip to New York, where he visited the 57th Street Art Galleries in preparing to select the 1953 acquisitions for the Murdock Art Collection.

"Every place I went, artists and art critics proclaimed the Murdock Collection at the Art Museum, the finest collection of American art of its size in the country," Dr. McFarland stated.

While in New York, he studied plans of the new Whitney Museum of American Art, which is currently under construction, to get new ideas and suggestions for projected building plans for the Wichita museum.

"News of the project of a new fine arts center here has reached all parts of the country, and it is evident they are looking to the University of Wichita and its fine art program with a great deal of interest," Dr. McFarland said.

of many kinds, are to be brought together in one identical sum for all students attending the university. This has been done to fix charges for the convenience of students and their parents.

It was pointed out here that this action means the cost of going to school will be the same for all students in all departments. It eliminates the possibility of a student being influenced in his choice of courses, by one course being more or less costly than another. All extra fees will be included in one general university maintenance fee.
