Mrs. E. G. Carey, Noted Novelist, To Speak Here

Co-author of 'Cheaper By The Dozen' To Talk To Forum Audience

Co-author of "Cheaper by the Dozen," Mrs. Ernestine Gilbreth Carey will be the second Student Forum Board speaker of the season Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. in the Auditorium.

Mrs. Carey will speak on "American Family Life, Aid to Endearing World Peace," according to Tom Farrar, president of the Student Forum Board.

Mrs. Carey, author of a new novel, "Jumping Jupiter" and co-author of "Belles on Their Toes" is one of the dozen children in the fabulous Gilbreth family. Her new book shows the importance of human relations and their importance in building peace through the experiences of a young woman buyer in a large department store.

Novels Translated

"Cheaper by the Dozen" and "Belles on Their Toes" have been translated into 13 languages and beamed by the Voice of America. Both have been made into motion pictures by Twentieth Century Fox.

Mrs. Carey's mother, Dr. Lillian M. Gilbreth, world-famous engineer, sent all of her children through college after the death of her husband in 1924.

Mrs. Carey graduated from Smith College where she edited the Smith College Monthly, the college humorous magazine, and the humor division of the yearbook. She specialized in English and economics. The tall, slender, red-haired housewife recently retired from her 15-year career as a buyer for a number of New York department stores. She plans to devote herself to family life while lecturing and writing.

A sally will be the formation for the third number as the band plays "Surrey With the Fringe on Top." The band will play "I'm Looking Over a Four Leaf Clover" while they form a four leaf clover for the fourth number, and fifth will be "Stardust."

The marching band will end its part in the half-time show by forming a taxi while they play "Dark-Town Strutters Ball."

The Count, who is already married, is very jealous of all the marriages that take place in his domain in Southern Spain. He decides to prevent the marriage of Figaro and Susanna by exercising an ancient custom, "the right of the Signeur." Although the custom had been abandoned many years before, he brings it to use to prevent the marriage of the very beautiful Susanna.

By this right, the count can spend a night with any woman of his domain before she is married. The entire village sympathizes with the young couple and plots are made to prevent the Count from extending the ancient right and to force

Fraternity Selects 'Betty Coed' To Further Old School Tradition

"Betty Coed," a senior woman chosen each year by the men of Alpha Gamma Gamma, was at one time selected by the University.

Several years ago when the University discontinued the honor, the Gammas thought it should remain as a school tradition and re-created the presentation.

After the war, when fraternities were again active, the Gammas began bestowing the honor and since then each of the fraternity sweethearts has been honored by a traditional "Betty Coed" dinner.

'53 Betty Coed Chosen Friday

Betty Coed for 1953 was announced at the Alpha Gamma Gamma Betty Coed dinner Friday night at the El Charro Cafe.

Gamma sweetheart for this year is Jeannine Crowdus of Sorosis. Miss Crowdus is a senior in physical education, president of her sorority, and was named Miss Wichita for 1953 by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Wichita. She was also a candidate for the American Royal Queen in Kansas City a few weeks ago.

Miss Crowdus received a Sterling silver bracelet engraved with her name and the year at the dinner.

Special guests at the dinner were Mrs. Minnie F. Armour, Gamma house mother; Miss Jeannine Crow from Denver, Colo., 1951 Betty Coed; and Dr. and Mrs. Worthy Fletcher, fraternity sponsor.

Last year's Betty Coed was Virginia Whitaker of Alpha Tau Sigma.

Homecoming is almost here. As one of the social highlights of the year at the University, it represents many hours of work in preparation of the welcome given the alums who will "come home" Saturday. The houses of the social organizations will be decorated cleverly, each organization seeking top Homecoming decorations honors. Alums will be welcomed to their houses with coffees, teas, dinners, and desserts. And on Saturday Queen Lee Ann will reign.

Webster mothers' club will meet today at the fraternity house for a covered dish luncheon and a short business meeting. A rummage sale is planned for Friday by the Webster mothers.

The mothers' club of Pi Alpha met Tuesday evening with Mesdames Edwin Schmitt, T. H. Danford, and Ralph Marteney as hostesses.

A luncheon for active members, pledges and their mothers was held by the Phi Sigs Monday. Mrs. E. W. Oakes, president of the mothers' club, presided at the business meeting which followed, and Mrs. Henry Young had charge of the program.

Last week Sorosis and Phi Sig pledges skipped out to a big party at Sandy Beach. Later in the evening the pledges relented and invited the actives to "Come on out and enjoy the fun." Also last week was the Delta Omega pledges' slumber party at Jan Leonard's house. Actives were "kidnapped" at the dawn and taken to the house where breakfast was served. DO actives were then named "pledges-for-a-day."

More couples are being seen around the campus lately. Shirley Luginbill is pinned to Jim Moody of the Alpha Gamma Gamma. Bill Broughten, Gamma, is going steady with Carol Prichard, Pi Kappa Psi, nowadays. Pi Kap Gerry Scott has announced that she is going steady with Phi Sig Bill Dando. Donna Wolover also a Pi Kap, passed chocolates to announce her pinning to Gamma Ron Carey. Eva Jo Rucker passed chocolates to her Pi Kap sisters Monday. She is pinned to a Gamma, Fred Hale.

Not too far in the offing is the famous "Battle of The Keg" between the Websters and the Gammas. The big game is eagerly awaited by many. Websters were seen practicing Sunday.

Last weekend was a busy one on the University campus. Not only was the Homecoming Queen elected and Gamma's Betty Coed chosen, but three frat pledge dances were also on the calendar of events. The Pi Alpha paddle party in the Alibi, Webster dance at Legion Acres, and Phi Sig dance at the Broadway were social events of Saturday.

New pledge officers for the DO house were chosen Monday night. Peggy Hensley is vice-president; Terry Hensley, treasurer; Jan Leonard, publicity chairman; and Judy Bowdish, sergeant-at-arms.

Phi Sigs enjoyed refreshments at the apartment of Bill Hornish and Jim Krebs Saturday night. The occasion was a "pre-party" before the pledge dance.

Katie Shea Heads Young Republicans

Katie Shea was elected president of Young Republicans at a meeting of the club recently.

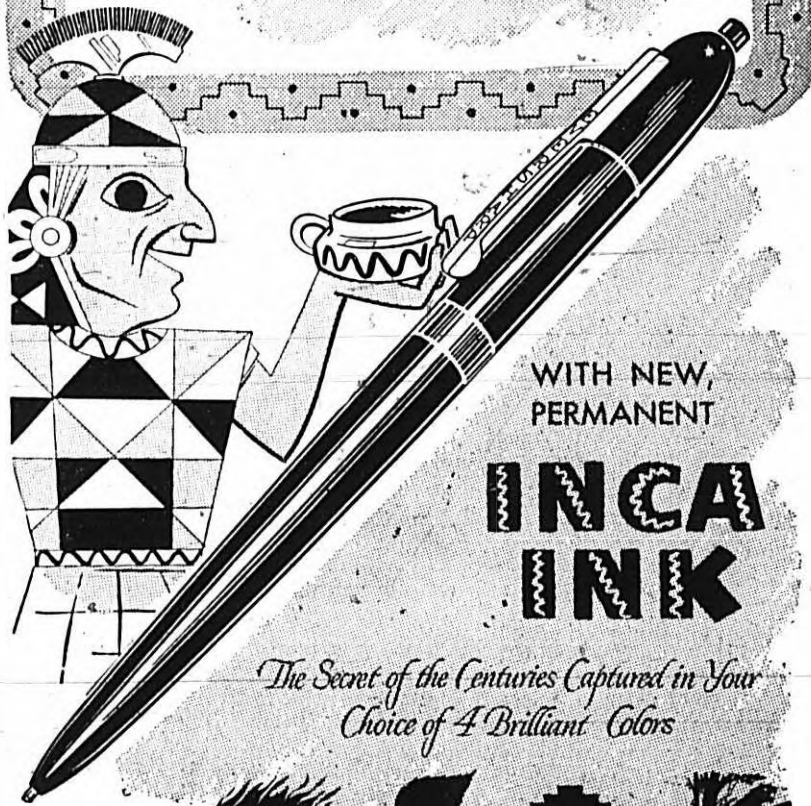

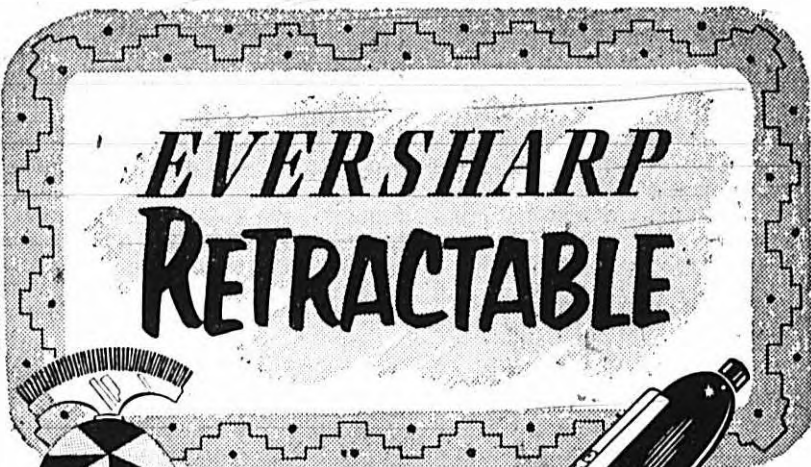

Other officers elected were Dave Doty, men's vice-president; Cathy Waters, women's vice-president; Donna Noble, secretary; Don Christensen, treasurer; Jo Lou Bogue, historian; Ted Schweiter, corresponding secretary; Dick Perkuhn, program chairman, Jan Bockleman, publicity; and Jim Hotchkiss, parliamentarian.

(Before Electricity)

Get out the coal oil... fill up the lamps... trim the wicks... clean the soot and polish the chimneys... strain your eyes trying to read by the yellow, flickering light.

It may seem quaint and charming, looking back. But who would want to trade the convenience and safety of electric light for the irksome chore of keeping coal oil lamps burning? And who would want to go to the additional expense? Yes, surprisingly enough, it would cost more to light your house with coal oil lamps than with your present electric lights.

Lighting is just one of the many advantages of living electrically. Consider the convenience of electric refrigeration... the work-saving features of the automatic clothes washer and dryer... the enjoyment of entertainment from radio and TV... the ease and economy of electric cooking. As a matter of fact, the widespread use of low-cost, dependable electric service is one of the reasons the United States enjoys the highest standard of living in the world.

Future Career Meet Planned

Blanks have been issued by the Associated Women Students for students to fill out in preparation for the career conference.

The questionnaires are available in the Dean of Women's office, Room 113 Administration Building, the Commons Lounge, or from any AWS council member.

After the blanks are filled in they should be returned to the same place. AWS asks that these blanks be filled in and returned immediately.

Each person who fills out the questionnaire will check items in which he is interested. By computing the results of these forms, members of the AWS will know what fields to cover at the conference.

Delta Omega was formed by three members of Sorosis and three members of Alpha Tau Sigma under the guidance of a faculty committee.

The Sorority held its first meetings in a room in Fairmount Hall, then later in Fiske Hall. In 1931 the sorority moved into a house at 1752 North Fairmount, and in 1949 the present home of the organization at 3618 Clough Place was completed.

Colors of the Sorority are rose and white, and the rose is the chosen flower of the group.

Baptist Students Organize Union; Promotes College Religious Life

An organization has been formed on the campus for the benefit of all students who are either members of the Baptist Church, or who are interested in that church.

The name of the new organization is the Baptist Student Union. All Baptist students at the University automatically become a member.

Meetings will be held every Friday night in the Fairmount Baptist Church at Fourteenth and Holyoke. Meeting time will be 7:30 p.m.

Officers of the new organization are Bob Petit, president; David Blaylock, first vice-president; Shirley Schafer, second vice-president; and Conrad Kootz, third vice-president.

The organization is to serve as a link between students and the church, Bob Kootz said. The purpose of the club is to enlist the students in an active religious life while they are in college.

The state Baptist Student Union convention will meet here on Nov. 21. All Baptist students will be invited to attend the banquet at the convention.

Sisterhood Stressed In Life Of Members Of Delta Omega

By Jenive McGrew

Sisterhood is the primary concern of the 35 women of Delta Omega Sorority. Since the organization was founded in 1916, social and scholastic activities have emphasized this part of sorority life.

Pledge activities play an important part in the projects of the sorority. A silver bracelet presented to the best pledge each week, is finally bestowed upon the best pledge at the end of the semester.

Hold Date Nights In addition to semi-annual dances in their honor, Delta Omega pledges sponsor date nights as money-making projects and a sunrise breakfast to honor their activities.

Once a semester pledges are allowed a Turnabout Day, when actives are treated as pledges, and pledges are actives for a day.

Other social functions include a traditional "Black and White" Christmas dance. This year a DO Dream Date will be chosen at the dance for the third time. First two Dream Dates were Ted Poulson and Mickey Thrasher. Men chosen for this honor are presented with silver identification bracelets.

Sponsor Halloween Party At Halloween each year the sorority sponsors a party for the Wichita Children's Home.

Mrs. Helen Detrick is sponsor for the group. President Pat Terrill is a Senior Honor Woman this year.

Finally, after a year, the University has recorded an election that actually had competition involved in it. The Homecoming Queen election, held Friday, was a good one. Although only two candidates were entered, competition was present. This time it was not an assured victory for the Shocker Coalition even before the ballots were printed. The coalition won again, but it was a close race right down to the final ballot. These close elections are good for the school, good for the student body, and add distinction to the offices won.

Perhaps too much blame has been directed toward the one coalition on the campus. After all, it does supply candidates to fill offices—the purpose of school elections. Without the coalition, none of the offices could be filled.

Blame that has been directed toward the coalition should be assumed instead by the students themselves. If students aren't satisfied with elections why don't they do something about them.

In the Friday balloting, it was apparent there was an increase in student interest toward elections. This effort in the right direction is indeed praiseworthy. Possibly this was the spark that will ignite interest in student elections and government in the future.

Hunters Prefer TV

American hunters are getting soft. A United Press story filed from Montgomery, Ala., indicates that possum hunters are falling under the spell of television and movies. Many former hunters no longer take the hounds out for fresh air and exercise during crisp fall evenings.

Southern conservation officials blame the passing of this "time-honored southern sport" on the trend of the times. If this trend continues and spreads to other types of hunting, conservation officials may have something to worry about. Wildlife could increase to the point where conservation is unnecessary or desirable. Conservationists would no longer be required.

Leading a dog's life won't be so bad, after all, if these possum hunters continue to prefer TV.

Class Gets Art

Stephen W. Worth, assistant professor of political science, startled his 12 o'clock class recently when he produced his notes concerning application of Hegel's theories to a society.

Both pages of notes displayed brightly colored examples of childish art on the back.

Professor Worth expressed appreciation of the art work by his two children, but thought it treated Hegel rather lightly.

Upon being asked what the pictures were, Professor Worth said he had been informed by the young artists that one was a princess with golden hair, and the other was an abstract creation—an example of Miro, a modern artist.

"You know, Miro, Miro on the wall," came the tart remark from a student.

Students Give Spanish Lessons In Grade School

Four University Spanish students are teaching Spanish to fifth and sixth graders at Fairmount school. Dr. Eugene Savaiano, head of the Spanish department, is supervising the classes.

These college students, Mary Ellen Love, Armida Romero, Beverly Smith, and Janet Whitson, have volunteered their time to teach the youngsters for 40 minutes two afternoons each week.

This is the third year that such classes have been offered and there is an enrollment of 60 children. These youngsters are divided into classes of about 15 each.

"There is a national trend these days to teach languages in grade schools. It has been our experience, in the past, that these youngsters can learn Spanish easier than high school and college students," said Dr. Savaiano.

Students Have Stronger Voice In Government Of US Colleges

By Cathy Waters
Sunflower Desk Editor

"You American students have a stronger voice in your school government than we have in ours," said Rosario Lao, senior in elementary education from the Philippine Islands.

The Filipino scholarship student explained that in her country students always address their professors with "yes sir" and they have no athletic holidays such as our walkouts.

Mrs. Lao came to Wichita in May of 1952 to join her husband, Ramon Lao, who had preceded her to this country when he was a resident doctor at St. Francis Hospital in Wichita. She enrolled in the University the following September as a junior and she was granted a special foreign student scholarship.

"I was so surprised, for I had not expected to receive a scholarship," said the dark-haired student admiringly.

Lived In Modern City
Both Mrs. Lao and her husband are from Angeles, which is on the island of Luzon, and according to Mrs. Lao it is quite similar to any of our large cities. She explained that one of the main differences is the "calesa" or horse and buggy which are used to take people to different parts of the city as a taxi.

The sports enthusiast said that she and her husband had often made an hour-and-a-half drive from Angeles to Manila just to see a basketball game. Other sports she enjoys are swimming and soccer. She explained that football wasn't played in her country because of the warm climate.

Mrs. Lao attended Holy Angel Academy in Angeles and received her sixty-hour teaching certificate there. Her father is a counselor in the local Filipino government and she has one sister who is married to a captain in the air force of that country.

Ran Clinic, Drugstore

She and her husband ran a clinic and drugstore in their hometown before coming to the United States. She explained that it was very difficult to get a visa to this country and it took her over six months.

Comedy, Melodrama Combined Effectively In Joint Production

By Jill Wood.

Comedy and melodrama were combined effectively in "Stalag 17," presented in the Auditorium last week before appreciative audiences of students and community members.

It was produced jointly by the University Theater and Community Theater as their first production of the year, and was directed by Mrs. Mary Jane Woodard, assistant professor of speech and drama.

"Stalag 17" is a story of a few days in the lives of prisoners in a German prisoner of war camp near the end of World War II, and how these men made life easier for themselves and carried on a private war of their own.

Bath Starts Comedy Scene
Comedy was handled predominantly by Al Alvarez and Frank Garofalo as Harry and Stosh. Both men are employed at the Wichita Beacon. One comedy scene between Garofalo, Alvarez, and Melvin Gradert, centered around a bath tub, contained the elements of comedy which circus clowns claim must always be present to impress the American audience. The pathos of a young, rather shy man, attempting to bathe privately in the midst of a group of men searching for any diversion resulted in a moment of pity felt by the audience which had to break into laughter at the dialogue which accompanied the bath.

Maj. George Tarr's portrayal of Sefton, the misfit with a grudge against the world who ultimately became the hero and the portrayal of the villain, Price, by Ronald Weidman not only were believable but lent a note of seriousness and melodrama to the play.

Perhaps the most notable thing about the play was the lighting and other stage effects. Dave Flemming was Technical director for the play. In several scenes use was made of a totally blackened stage from which the dialogue came.

One scene was lighted only by the flicker of a match. Other scenes were acted on a dimmed stage with a light behind the set.

The bunks, furniture and utensils lent a note of realism, as did the costuming. Cups made out of tin cans, bed slats used for fire wood, and ragged underwear used for clothing allowed the audience to become, for a while, part of the story.

All in all, Mrs. Woodard has lived up to her standard for fine productions and Mr. Flemming has given us a taste of what effects can be achieved in the technical side of a production.

Wichita First

Prof Starts Golf

Golf and knee-length golf pants were first brought to Wichita by a Latin professor at Fairmount College in the 1890's.

Prof. Clifford P. Clark brought his golf clubs and golf balls here from New England. His distinctive golfing regalia caused quite a stir in Wichita of the gay nineties.

Fairmount Park still shows signs of the nine-hole golf course of the Braeburn Golf Club, Wichita's first, which Professor Clark helped organize 56 years ago.

have many co-educational schools patterned after yours," added Mrs. Lao. Her native language is called Tagalog.

When asked the main differences between her country and the United States she explained that her islands are very "Americanized." Television sets and nightclubs offer entertainment as in this country and the same songs are generally on the hit parade in the Philippines that are popular in the United States.

Misses Rice Most

The Filipino coed explained that rice is used in her islands as we use bread and potatoes and she said that she misses that food more than any other. The Filipinos eat approximately the same meats and vegetables as we eat here.

Mrs. Lao expects to graduate from the University in January and join her husband in Cleveland, Ohio, where he is a resident physician at Euclid-Glanville Hospital. She hopes to go to Cleveland during the Christmas holidays.

The dark-eyed student says she and her husband want to see as many parts of this country as they can. When they return to their native land Dr. Lao will have his private practice as a pediatrician.

She says, "there is nothing to dislike in your country," and she especially commented on the friendliness of the coeds she lives with in Grace Wilkie Hall.

8-Week Art Course To Open Wednesday

A temporary art course for beginning painters will begin next Wednesday.

The non-credit eight-week course for amateurs who wish to learn painting as a hobby will meet Wednesday night from 7 to 10.

Registration will be accepted at its first meeting next Wednesday night at 6:30 in room 154 of the Administration Building. Tuition will be $12, according to Dean T. Reese Marsh of the College of Adult Education.

Growth Of Physical Plant Marks Progress Of School Since 1899

Age and progress! That, in retrospect, has been the record of the University as evidenced by the growth of its physical plant and witnessed by thousands of alumni who, during various years, have participated in the school's homecoming celebrations.

A single structure on the campus of Fairmount College in 1889 was the fore-runner of the nine educational buildings that grace the campus at the University today. The first building, Fairmount Hall, was burned to the ground in 1929 after the college became the University of Wichita through a municipalization plan.

This year another educational building, and two dormitories were completed to meet the ever expanding population of the school. Doors of the Engineering Building, Grace Wilkie Residence Hall, and the Men's Residence Hall were opened for the first time last September.

2 Buildings Scheduled

At the present plans are being formed and work is being scheduled for two more educational buildings on the campus—the Sports Arena and the Fine Arts Center. Another addition to the University in the forthcoming years will be an engineering laboratory to be located on the east side of the campus.

The building program of the University has proceeded irregularly with spurts of steady building between the doldrums of construction on the campus. In 1928-29 the Administration and Science buildings were erected. Then after an lapse of ten years, building began again with the construction of the Common's Building, the President's Home, and the Library Building, which was renamed Morrison Library this fall.

In 1950 the Business Administration Building was opened to classes. It was the first educational structure to be added to the University after World War II. A sister building, the Engineering Building, grew alongside the BA Building last year and has now become the nucleus of the School of Engineering.

5,000 Expected in 1960

Looking into the future in anticipation of a 5,000 enrollment in 1960, the Board of Regents has authorized construction of buildings to house the School of Music, the art department, and drama productions and indoor athletic events.

With a proposed location west of Morrison Library, the Fine Arts Center will have approximately 70,000 square feet of floor space. Preliminary development steps

Annual Reunions Held Since 1925

Annual Homecomings have been held at the University of Wichita since 1925.

Between 1914 and 1922 the school regularly held Homecoming on Thanksgiving day. There is no record of Homecoming between 1922 and 1925. The opposition for early Homecoming football games was furnished by Friends University. Big parades highlighted these early Homecoming events.

The games were held at Island Park, located in the Big Arkansas River near the Douglas Avenue Bridge.

Miss Mildred Cavitt headed the Homecoming committee in 1925, when Ottawa University was the Wichita football opponent. The game ended in a scoreless tie.

In 1930 the first bonfire was held. All students went out hunting wood for the fire. In 1931 the parade was extended downtown. In the early years the parade was restricted to the University and the immediate vicinity.

In 1936 the festivities lasted two days, beginning on Friday evening with an all school box supper.

Another feature of the early Homecoming event was the election of a marshal of the day as well as the queen. The first actual Homecoming queen was elected in 1929. The nominations were made by presenting a list of 25 signed names for any campus woman. Different prizes were given for such things as the boy with the largest foot, the girl with smallest foot, and the boy with the best whiskers.

In 1928 a circus theme was featured with prizes awarded for the best circus costumes. The various organizations decorated floats and entered them in a parade. "Circus Sally" was elected by student vote

Corbin, University President, Is One Of Nation's Youngest

By Cathy Waters
Sunflower Desk Editor

Pres. Harry F. Corbin was one of the youngest University presidents in the United States at the time of his inauguration in March, 1950.

President Corbin

The 36-year-old president has guided the University through the most prosperous days of its history. Four new buildings have been completed and enrollment is near its peak.

The University's Board of Regents appointed the native Kansan president of his alma mater effective July 1, 1949, upon the resignation of Dr. W. M. Jardine.

President Corbin was born Feb. 7, 1917, on a farm nine miles southwest of Latham, Kans. In 1921 his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Corbin, Sr., moved to Latham where their son attended two years of grade school.

Graduated From East

He finished grade school at Park Grammar School after the family moved to Wichita in 1924. He attended Central Intermediate, North and East High Schools, and was graduated from Wichita High School East in 1934.

President Corbin entered Wichita University as a freshman after graduating from East. He was granted a Rhodes Scholarship to study at Oxford University in 1937. Because of the death of his father in Mattoon, Ill., he was unable to accept the honor.

Young Corbin had to drop his scholarship and take over his father's prospering oil business. After reaching near financial independence, he decided to return to the Wichita campus to specialize in political science and philosophy. He graduated with a bachelor of arts degree in 1940.

President Corbin married Sally Hyde, a Wichita girl who was studying Spanish at Stanford University, in June of 1940. He studied law at Stanford during 1940-41 while Mrs. Corbin completed work for her bachelor of arts degree from that university in the spring of 1941.

Served In Alaska

Harry Corbin next attended the University of Chicago where he received a bachelor of divinity degree, accomplishing 27 months of study in 21 months. He was ordained in the Disciples of Christ brotherhood at Chicago and was inducted into the Navy as a chaplain. He spent most of his career in the armed forces with a Seabee arctic oil expedition on the northern coast of Alaska, frequently at 55-below-zero temperatures.

He joined the teaching staff of Wichita University in 1946 after his discharge from the Navy. He was named assistant professor of philosophy and political science. That summer he began studying at Kansas University for the bachelor of laws degree which he received in July, 1949.

President and Mrs. Corbin have three sons, Harry Corbin, III, 11; Alexander, 9; and Jeffery, 4.

Has Many Civic Duties

Today, President Corbin is noted as a civic leader. He belongs to the Kiwanis Club, Wichita Chamber of Commerce, and The University Club.

He is an active alumni member of Phi Upsilon Sigma Fraternity on the University campus.

The University president is the chairman of the Wesley Hospital building fund drive, a member of the Board of Trustees of the Institute of Logopedics, vice-chairman of the Board of Governors of the Foundation for Industrial Research, trustee of Mid-West Research of Kansas City, and a member of the School Masters Club of Kansas.

Past presidents of Fairmount College and the University of Wichita include: Dr. N. J. Morrison, first president of Fairmount College, 1896-1907; Dr. Henry Thayer, second president of Fairmount College, 1907-1914; Dr. Wal-

Floats, Parades Once WU Custom

Decorating for Homecoming has long been a custom on the campus. In 1928, the various social organizations and clubs decorated floats for a parade which lasted several hours in downtown Wichita.

During the late twenties and early thirties floats for parades were about the only decorations in evidence for this event. However, in 1931, The Sunflower made two comments as to how, in its opinion, the Homecoming for that year should be managed. The staff volunteered to supervise the bonfire if some one else would do the work. They also campaigned for campus decorations.

Black, Gold Streamers Used

These decorations consisted of black and gold paper streamers attached to trees and other objects

Alumni Office Keeps Tabs On 8,000 Grads Beginning With Students Of Class Of 1899

By Al Williams
Sunflower Managing Editor

Starting with records of the nine graduates of the class of 1899, the Alumni Association Office now lists information on nearly 8,000 graduates and former students.

Files in the office contain records of more than 750 graduates of Fairmount College, 5,639 graduates of the University since it was municipalized, and more than 1,500 former students. Three types of records are kept by the Association—a master alphabetical file, a class file, and a geographical file.

During World War II, military service files were established for 893 University men and women who served in the armed forces. Listed in these files is information about the 118 alumni killed while serving in the armed forces and 144 who received citations and awards. Current military files give information on alumni serving in the armed services today.

Office personnel who maintain these records are: Miss Beulah Mullen, executive secretary; Mrs. Frankie Worman, secretary; and Dolores McKay, Education junior, student assistant. The office is located in Room 230, Administration Building.

Committee Administers Projects In addition to the office staff, a 20-member executive committee administers the various projects of the Association. Executive committee members serve for a two-year period, with the exception of the president of each senior class, who serves for one year following graduation. E. K. Edmiston is now president of the Association.

Purposes of the Association include furthering the interests of the University, perpetuating friendships of college days, and encouraging higher education among the youth of Wichita and Kansas.

Started Drive In '50

In 1950 the Alumni Association inaugurated an annual Alumni Fund campaign, proceeds of which go to the University for various projects. Since then 72 students have received Alumni scholarships, 26 of whom are enrolled this semester.

Funds have been allotted for assistance to the Student-Alumni Job Placement Bureau. Students, alumni, and wives or husbands of alumni are eligible for the service of this bureau. Contributors to the 1953-54 Alumni Fund may earmark their gifts for use of special departments or projects. Robert E. Baird, assistant professor of Economics, is chairman of this year's campaign.

Newest project of the Association is the establishment of a joint student-alumni committee to coordinate the Alumni Association with University activities. Student representatives for the current academic year, appointed by the Student Council, are Marilyn Chamberlain, senior; Norton Warner, junior; Bill Fuchs, sophomore; and Dick Coover, freshman. Alumni representatives are James "Jimmy" Nutter, chairman; Katherine Israel Jackson; Mary Brincefield Ellis; and John LaFever.

Has Own Publication

Until November, 1950, when the first issue of the "University of Wichita Alumni News" was published, members of the Association received copies of The Sunflower. The alumni newspaper, which contained four pages, was published bi-monthly. Beginning this month, it will be replaced with a 16-page quarterly magazine. During the early 1920's the Association sponsored a monthly publication, "The Wheatshocker." One of its editors was Paul Wellman, '18, who has written several best-selling novels. From 1940 until 1951 the Association sponsored the football season ticket sale, and for several years sponsored the football banquet and the Kansas Coaching School.

Shockers' Homecoming History First Queen Spoiled By 4 Straight Losses Chosen In '29

By Truman Shinn

In years past Homecoming at the University has been marked by some important victories and by some gloomy losses. Some of the games have been close while others have been lop-sided.

In recent homecoming history, the Shockers have not fared so well. The Shockers have not won a football victory on Homecoming since they beat the St. Louis Billikens.

After that victory the Wichita teams have lost four straight games. Two of these games have been to Oklahoma A & M in which the score was close. In 1950 the final count was 32-20. Last year the Shockers lost, 35-21.

In 1951 the Shockers suffered one of the worst Homecoming defeats when they lost to Tulsa 33-0.

The widest margin of victory in a Homecoming game came in 1931 when the Muries downed Nebraska Wesleyan by the score of 70-0.

One of the most exciting victories came in 1942 when Wichita upset Kansas State by a close margin of 9-0. Another important victory was the 26-6 win over Emporia State in 1938 to give the Shockers the Central Intercollegiate Conference championship.

The Muries broke a 14-14 tie late in the last quarter of the St. Louis game in 1948 to win by a 21-14 margin. This was the last time the Shockers have been victorious in a Homecoming game.

and was the honored guest at the football game.

The 1931 activities were predominated by a gypsy theme. The game was played on Halloween so ghosts and goblins made up decorations for the varsity after the game.

A tug-of-war at the bonfire ceremony was added in 1932. If the freshmen won they were allowed to throw their green beanies on the fire.

A western theme was started in 1940. Students wore cowboy boots, hickory shirts, and sombreros for a snake dance through downtown Wichita, following the bonfire.

These activities were climaxed at a downtown theatre, where the Homecoming queen presented an autographed football to the fraternity with the most wood in the fire. A western varsity was held in the gym the night of the football game.

on the campus. The custom was continued in 1932.

It was in 1931, also, that houses of the social organizations were first decorated. That year a Gypsy theme was used.

In 1932 the following houses were entered in the house decoration event: Holyoke Hall, Eagles Nest, Delta Omega, Sorosis, Alpha Tau Sigma, Men of Webster, Pi Alpha Pi, Alpha Gamma Gamma, and Phi Upsilon Sigma.

Prizes Awarded in '33-'34

In '33 and '34 prizes were given to the social organizations with the best floats and house decorations. In 1936, The Sunflower carries no mention of either a parade or decoration of houses.

To make up for this, in 1938, the University talked downtown merchants into decorating their windows, a pep committee organized a parade, and a faculty committee made arrangements for decorating houses.

In 1941 there was House decorating and at the end of the War, the custom of parades was again established.

During the past several years, parades have been discontinued as has general campus decoration but social organizations still decorate their houses.

were taken on the building last fall. Recommendations for the architecture and number of buildings for the center have been received, but as yet no definite starting and completion dates have been set. The Fine Arts Center will house the School of Music, the art department, and an art museum which will supplement the City Museum on Stackman Drive which is now supervised by the University.

Monday, definite plans for the construction of the engineering laboratories were set. Hahner and Forman Construction Company received the bid. A starting date of Nov. 15 is planned with the building being completed next April.

On Oct. 19, 1929, the University celebrated homecoming in a thundering rain storm and for the first time a Homecoming Queen was elected to reign over the festivities.

Georgette Tyndale of Alpha Tau Sigma Sorority was the first University coed to have this honor. The senior woman was president of her sorority, editor of the Parnassus, Honor Woman, and May Queen.

Started With Bonfire

Homecoming activities were started that year on Friday, Oct. 18 with the traditional bonfire. Saturday morning a parade was formed and marched through downtown Wichita. Dr. H. W. Foght, president of the University, rode in the leading car and was followed by members of the faculty. More than 25 floats of various campus organizations followed the faculty.

The prize for the best fraternity float went to Zeta Delta Epsilon and Delta Omega won the sorority division. The University Players won the prize in the club division and the best class float was awarded to the juniors. The Engineers Club had the most original float and the sophomore class had the most ridiculous, according to the judges.

Prizes were also given for the best costumes and to the girl with Next in the day's events was registration for the University alumni and a "pow-wow" or luncheon was held at noon.

At 2:30 the University of Wichita football team met Emporia State Teachers College and was defeated 13-0. Following the game, social organizations held open house for their alumni. The annual Homecoming Dance was at 9:30 and at intermission Miss Tyndale announced winners of the house decorations.

In 1930 Miss Osythe Dearsmitth of Alpha Tau Sigma was honored as the University's second Homecoming Queen.

Denver Pioneers To Unwrap 'V' Formation; WU Coach Calls Colorado Team, 'Big, Tough'

The Wichita University football team has been working out behind "closed doors" in preparation for their Homecoming tilt with the Denver University Pioneers Saturday night in Veterans Field.

Coach Jack Mitchell indicated that he plans new offensive patterns to use against the Pioneers. Also the Shockers may field a new starting lineup, mainly in the backfield. The offensive work has been designed to offset the team's inability to score within the opposing team's 10-yard line.

'Big and Tough'

Denver University has been tabbed as a big, strong, well moving team with a very good passing offense, by the youthful mentor, Jack Mitchell, who said, "The only edge that we will have over the Pioneers will be the advantage of the home field. The Denver boys are big and tough."

After the Kansas State game the Shockers have been working out regularly with main accents on the offensive weaknesses and additional drills on pass defense.

Quarterback Jim Bowen of the Denver Pioneers will be the main threat for the Shockers Saturday night. Bowen is 5-10 and weighs a light 155 pounds. He has been quarterbacking the Denver team this year for the first time as a varsity player. Last year, on the freshman squad, was his only experience in college play. He completed well over half of his passes that season.

Another threat to bust through the number one defensive line in the nation, Wichita University, is halfback Fred Tesone. Fred Mahaffey also will run out of the halfback slot and will bear watching.

The Denver team's backfield is backed by a trio of big fullbacks—Ray Lincoln, Ted Johnson, and Walt Anderson, who weigh 210, 190, and 188 respectively.

To Show V Formation

The "V" formation that the Denver team will employ in the Homecoming game was invented by their head football coach Bob Blackman while he was coaching the San Diego Naval team. Blackman condones the formation because of its combination of speed and neatness of the T with the power of the single wing. Most Wichita fans will be seeing the formation for the first time.

After two weeks of practice for the Shockers, Coach Mitchell is expected to alter his starting lineups. Regular signal caller Connie Hoffmann is expected to sit out the opening kick-off, giving way to senior Bill Pace.

Regular tackle Bob Muoio has been given the nod to start the game but will definitely not be at top strength. Sophomore Allen Harp will greet the opening kick in the halfback slot, instead of injured Ray Coleman.

Have Scouted DU Twice

Wichita football coaches have scouted the Pioneers twice in previous games, whereas, Earl Hamilton, former Shocker gridsman and

Lanky Athlete Named For Magazine Honor

Come Dec. 1, and the opening of the basketball season, Cleo Littleton, two time member of the Missouri Valley Conference all-star team, will be out to break records—his own.

year as a sophomore he was a repeater on the all-star selections.

Littleton played under coach Ralph Miller when they both were at East High School. When Miller was chosen as head mentor at W.U. Littleton followed him to the Shocker campus although many coaches were bidding for his talents.

Since then Littleton has scored 1,050 points in 57 games for an 18.4 average per game.

With two years of varsity competition remaining the dead shooting forward may be the first Shocker cager to be chosen first string all-American.

Sets Deadline For Volleyball Squads

Deadline for intramural volleyball teams has been set for Monday, Nov. 9.

All teams that intend to compete in league play must have their entries in by that time.

coach, has scouted the Wichita team on four occasions.

Mitchell's "closed door policy" is the result of the close scrutiny by Shocker foes in the past. The additional offensive surprises that will be unleashed Saturday night should be new to Denver.

Advance ticket sales indicate a record crowd upward to 13,000 fans is expected to jam Veterans Field.

Frosh Crush Blue Dragons

Vanquish Hutch 45-13 To Close Grid Season

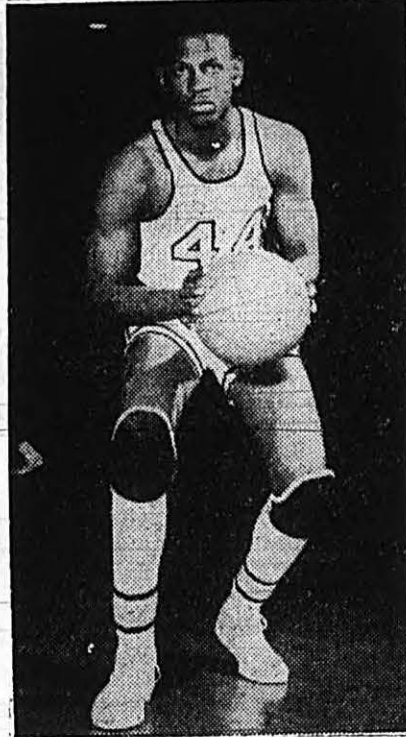

Wichita University freshman gridders closed their season Friday by romping to a overwhelming 45-13 victory over the Hutchinson Junior College Blue Dragons.

The yearlings tallied twice in the first three periods and scored once in the fourth. Speedy Jim Klisanin from McKeesport, Pa., led the scoring with three touchdowns.

The frosh grabbed the lead midway in the first quarter on a Jack Conway to Klisanin pass that covered 36 yards. Fullback Leroy Hinman plunged over from the one yard stripe in the same period to climax a 56 yard drive to count for the second score in the period.

Reserve fullback, Ray Fulton scored twice in the second quarter with the first coming on a one

What's The Score?

By Mike Anderson
Sunflower Sports Editor

With the 1953 football campaign two-thirds over, the Shockers hold a three won, three lost record which is not so bad considering the forecasts at the beginning of the season.

The amazing part of the whole thing is the Shockers have held the statistic edge in every department over their opponents.

Coach Jack Mitchell has been very pleased with the defense the team has shown throughout the season and he has reason to be. In the latest national statistics compiled, the Shockers are the top total defensive club in the United States. In six games they have allowed their opponents only 298 plays for 965 yards. This 160.8 total dumped Yale University out of the top spot which they held up until last weekend.

Mitchell indicated at the opening of the season that a few key injuries would cost the Shockers dearly. In the six games played against strong competition, which has outweighed the light Shockers every game, the boys have escaped with comparatively few serious injuries.

This is a good indication of the physical condition of the thin squad that opened up against Utah State. And the fact that the statistics have been in our favor is a good sign of the hustle and spirit of the Shockers.

Although a bit sluggish on offense when they get within the opponents 10-yard line the Shockers have shown good ground gaining ability on other occasions.

Speedy halfback Bob Burton holds the top spot in the rushing yardage. The diminutive back has scampered 225 yards in 57 carries for a 3.95 average. Burton is also the leading scorer with three TDs for a total of 18 points.

Fullback Chuck Hollmer is runner up to Burton in rushing with 189 yards in 42 carries for a 4.50 average. Ray Coleman, although injured and had to sit out the Kansas State game, still ranks third with 138 yards in 27 rushes followed closely by Bennie Lee with 124 yards in 27 carries.

Quarterbacks Connie Hoffmans and Bill Pace are having a close race for pass completion honors with Hoffmans completing 19 out of 47 attempts for 243 yards to hold a slender lead. Pace has tossed 37 aeriels completing 21 for 202 yards.

Bob Kauffman continues to be the top target for the Wichita tossers with 9 grabs for 141 yards and one touchdown. Ed Baghosian has hauled in six heaves for 89 yards to rate second.

Connie Hoffmans is the top total offensive threat with 262 yards in 74 plays. Burton rates second on total offense with 234 yards in 49 plays.

Thirteen Shockers have shared in the 115 points Wichita has compiled this season as compared with the opponents 59.

Coach Jack Mitchell has been working his gridders under closed doors at Veterans Field this week. He indicated that he was working out new maneuvers off the intricate split-T formation and might unleash the famed spread formation which the varsity used so effectively against the freshman in the Varsity-Fresh game this fall.

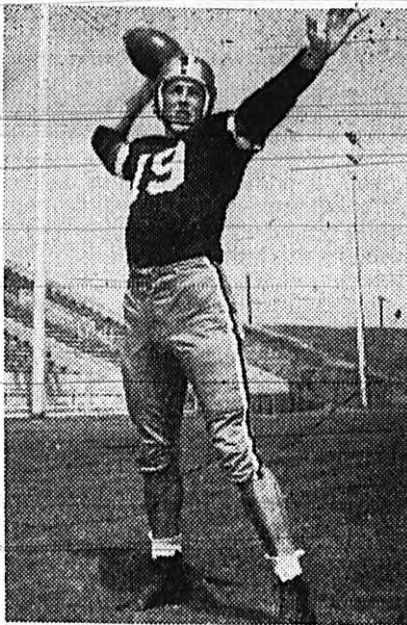

Denver should have a good knowledge of the Shocker plays with all the scouting they have done on Wichita's games. Coach Jack Mitchell said that Denver scouts have been at Wheatshocker games on five occasions this season. Wichita has scouted the Pioneers twice. Coach Pete Tillman covered their game with New Mexico University last weekend and had praise for several players on the DU squad.

Former Shocker quarterback Earl Hamilton will be at the game in the capacity of a rival coach. He is presently engaged as frosh coach at Denver and has served as scout for the Pioneers.

Cronan Rated Best Passer

Rated as the best passer on the Wichita University football squad by Shocker coaches, John Cronan, senior quarterback, may get the starting nod from coach Jack Mitchell in Saturday's Homecoming clash with Denver University.

Cronan is a 6-3, 195-pound back from San Francisco, Calif. He was one of several gridsters who transferred to the University last year, after playing for the University of San Francisco.

Coach Mitchell said once about Cronan's passing, "All the boys duck when he winds up to throw. He can knock you over with the ball."

"Big John" lettered in his first year at the University last season and is playing his last year of college football.

Day Plays Halfback

Another former California football player is Ray Day, 5-11, 170-pound halfback. Day is from Los Angeles where he played high school ball. He played two years of Junior College ball at El Camino, Calif. After playing there he came to the University to don the Black and Gold.

The flashy halfback played primarily defense last year but the new rule changes this season forced him to go both ways and learn the offensive play. Day took over the chores of double play and earned a second team berth on the Shocker squad.

Day is a senior playing his last season of varsity ball. He is also a member of the Shocker baseball squad where he lettered playing third base last spring.

The University of Wichita defeated Christian U., of Enid, Okla., 111 to 0 in 1907.

yard plunge. With less than two minutes left in the first half, he rushed 56 yards for his second score. Both conversions were missed. The freshman left for the dressing rooms with a 25-0 lead at halftime.

Hutch Returns In 3rd

Coming back strong in the third period, Hutchinson scored twice, coming from a recovered fumble in the end zone and a 51 yard drive.

Klisanin halted a Hutchinson drive with a pass interception in which he raced 74 yards to score. Conway again passed to Klisanin who scored on the play that covered 50 yards. Ron Baker took a Conway pass to score just as the third quarter ended. The Shockers had a 38-13 lead.

Harvey Gaugh lead the freshman in their last score, by rushing over from the one foot mark.

3 Cheers

Hurrah For Men Who Guide Band From Background

Credit is due once in a while to the men who do "behind the scenes" work for the University football band.

Most fans cheer loudly when the band musicians march proudly down the football field in their new uniforms, but don't consider those who arranged the music and created the colorful formations.

James "Red" McLeod, of Minneapolis, Minn., arranges the tunes for the football band and has been doing this for the last six years.

As for the formations, James L. Kerr, band director, and Jack Robertson, a former student, design those presentations seen every year.

Mr. Kerr has been thinking up these new formations for the band since 1946, when he came here, and Mr. Robertson has been assisting him for the last two years.

Service To Give Law School Exams

Graduate Record Examinations and Law School Admission Tests, required by many law and graduate schools, will be given four times during this academic year.

Educational Testing Service will administer the examinations at more than 100 centers throughout the country Nov. 14.

Because many law schools select their freshman classes in the spring, the testing service advises candidates to take the tests either in November or in February. They also advise candidates to make separate applications to law schools of their choice, and to inquire when the schools prefer to have the tests taken.

Students may obtain bulletins and applications for the tests by writing to the Educational Testing Service, P. O. Box 592, Princeton, N. J., four to six weeks before the desired testing date.

Faculty Meets Goal

University faculty and staff members contributed a total of $2,261.55 in pledges for the Community Chest drive, according to James K. Sours, director of Student Services.

The goal for 1953-54 was $2,000. The Office of Student Services, which conducted the drive, announced that 203 University employees joined in the month-long drive held during October.
