

DRAWINGS COMPLETED—Architects have completed plans for the $2,500,000 Fine Arts Center which will be constructed in sections over a period of years. Construction of the music wing is expected to begin next summer.

Planners Draw Final Sketches Of New Center

Architectural planning of a modernistic Fine Arts Center on the campus of the University of Wichita is nearing completion, Pres. Harry F. Corbin announced.

The center is being designed to provide adequate facilities for the University's School of Music and art department. The structure will also include an outdoor theater seating 3,500 persons and a recital hall with a capacity of 550 persons.

Construction of the music wing will begin next summer, but construction of the total project is expected to extend over a period of several years, President Corbin said. Plans include unique galleries which will house the valuable collections now in the city-owned Wichita Art Museum which has been under University operation for two years.

Construction by Sections

The structure has been designed to allow for construction by sections. It is believed that the music wing will be ready for the fall semester of 1955. The museum galleries and art section will be constructed as soon as funds become available, President Corbin said.

The completed structure is expected to cost about $2,500,000. President Corbin pointed out, however, that the outdoor theater will be built from memorial or dedicatory gifts which might come from local individuals or organizations interested in the cultural development of the city.

The Wichita firm of Forsblom and Parks is developing final plans for the center. The plans are expected to be completed in May, and construction bids will be submitted soon after July 1.

Finest in Nation

Art and music authorities who have viewed plans for the center have predicted that it will be among the finest in the nation.

The music wing will replace 50-year-old Fiske Hall and the rehearsal hall on the campus. The music wing will include 50 acoustically-treated practice rooms, 30 studios, seven classrooms, choir and opera rehearsal room, band and orchestra rehearsal room, band and

University Symphony To Play at Convo

A convocation has been called for 9:30, Wednesday morning, Feb. 17, for 50 minutes of music to be presented by the University Symphony Orchestra.

Prof. James P. Robertson will conduct the orchestra in the Scherzo and Allegro molto of "Symphony No. 2 in D Major, Op. 36," by Barber, the Symphonic Suite, "Lieutenant Kije," by Prokofieff, the Rakoczy March from "The Damnation of Faust," and "The Worried Drummer," by Schreiner.

MacNeil Talks On Free Press

Neil MacNeil, third Student Forum Board speaker of the season, spoke in the Auditorium last night. His topic was "A Free Press—A Free People."

An editor of the New York Times, Mr. MacNeil, is considered one of the best-informed and most influential men in public life.

Born in Boston, Mass., Mr. MacNeil was educated in Nova Scotia and began his professional career on the Montreal Daily Mail where he became city editor. He joined the staff of the New York Times prior to World War I, and returned to the Times upon completion of his service in the Armed Forces. Eventually he became assistant managing editor of the paper.

Mr. MacNeil has made a life-long study of journalistic prob-

National Vote Scheduled

Members of campus sororities and fraternities will vote Monday to determine opinion regarding opening the campus to national social organizations.

Balloting will be held in the Dean of Women's Office, Room 117 Administration Building, from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m.

Results of the balloting will be used by the Board of Regents in deciding whether to allow affiliation with national groups, James K. Sours, director of Student Services, said.

When voting, students will be required to check the local fraternity or sorority to which they belong. Then they also will check whether they recommend that the campus be opened to national groups.

After the vote is taken, the issue will then be turned over to the Board of Regents for its decision. Procedure will then be set up by the University.

Contacts already have been made through the Dean of Women's Office to determine whether many of the national organizations are interested in establishing chapters on the University Campus.

A preliminary vote was taken in December among the sororities for an indication of the general trend. A majority in all organizations declared in favor and plans proceeded further.

The vote to be taken on Feb. 15 is only a recommendation to open the campus to national groups and does not indicate the students' desire to join specific national groups, Mr. Sours said.

Drill Performed

The University Air Force ROTC drill squad performed a ballroom drill at the half of the August-St. Mary's basketball game last Friday.

Cadet Vern Vannier, Liberal Arts junior, was in charge of the 18-member squad, according to Capt. William Borders, Air Force ROTC instructor.

The drill squad will present performances at El Dorado on Feb. 19, and at Hutchinson on Feb. 23.

Hurley to Play Lead

Jerry Hurley, Liberal Arts sophomore, and Lillian Perkins, Sacred Heart freshman, will play the leading roles in "I Remember Mama," by John Van Druten, to be presented at Sacred Heart College, Feb. 23 and 24, at 8:15 p. m.

Hurley will play the part of Uncle Chris in the story of a Norwegian family in America while Miss Perkins will play the leading feminine part of the play.

WU Theater to Enact Story of Aged King

"King Lear," the story of an aged king who decides to divide his kingdom among his three daughters, will be given by the

College Exhibit Shown

An exhibit of 26 art panels from Columbia University's bi-centennial celebration will be on display in Morrison Library, Feb. 12 through Feb. 26.

These panels depict the theme "Man's Right to Knowledge and the Free Use Thereof" and show freedom of inquiry and expression, according to Downing P. O'Hara, librarian.

He stated that the panels are on tour and are available to universities interested. Where they will be placed in the Library has not yet been determined.

University Theater, March 25, 26, 27, in the Auditorium.

An incomplete cast for the production, as announced by Prof. George Wilner, director of the play, includes Ronald Weidman, Liberal Arts senior, as King Lear. Dorothy Hanawalt and Jo Selleck, freshman and sophomore Liberal Arts students, will alternate to fill the role of Cordelia, the king's youngest and most beloved daughter.

The king's other daughters, Aoneril and Regan, who betray him and banish him from the kingdom, are played by Raelene Daggy, Liberal Arts sophomore, and Celia Carter, junior in Education.

Duke of Cornwall is Jerry Hurley, Liberal Arts sophomore; Kent, Greg Fowler, sophomore in Liberal Arts; Edgar, Donald Dill, Liberal Arts junior; and the Duke of Albany, Goneril's husband, is Kevin F. Eck, senior in the College of Business Administration.

Casting is still open and more men are needed, Professor Wilner said.

Mendez to Perform In WU Band Concert

One of the world's outstanding trumpet soloists, Rafael Mendez, will appear in concert with the University band Sunday, Feb. 14, at 3 p.m., according to James Kerr, associate professor of band.

Mr. Mendez will play five of his own arrangements. They will be the Mexican Hat Dance, Tico-Tico, Czardos, Chiapanecas, and Macarena.

Between concerts, television shows, and recording work, Mr. Mendez is kept busy. Each year his career becomes more studied with "firsts" and star-billings.

The musician records for Coast Records and Decca Records between his T.V. and film performances. Pops audiences, after hearing his "Flight of the Bumble Bee," have agreed that he deserves the title of "The World's Greatest Trumpet Player." His most recent recording is "The Mendez Album," by Coast Records.

Some of the movies he has participated in are "Holiday in Mexico," "Fiesta," "Hot Lips Jasper," and "Melodias Antillan." His radio appearances include those with Kay Kayser, Red Skelton, Al Pearce, and the Bing Crosby show. He has taught as instructor in trumpet at the Army and Naval Academy, in Carlsbad, Calif.

Admission price Sunday will be $1 a person.

2 Courses Added To Adult Education

Two new eight-week courses in adult education will begin next week, one in retail advertising and one in film writing.

A course in applied retail advertising will be held on Wednesdays from 7 to 9 p.m. A. E. Carr, assistant to sales and promotion of the heating and air conditioning division of the Coleman Company will be the instructor for the course.

C. H. Nathan, president of South-West Films, will conduct a course in writing for business films and radio 7 to 9 Tuesday evenings.

Enrollment for these non-credit courses will be held at 6:30 on the evenings that the courses are to begin.

College of Education Plans Beginning Teachers' Meeting

The College of Education, Saturday, will sponsor a conference for all University students planning to teach. Problems of beginning teachers will be discussed at the meeting.

Teachers who are in their first or second year of teaching have been invited to the meeting. After the general session, the participants will be divided into three groups to discuss particular subjects in which they are interested.

Dr. Emory Lindquist, university professor, will speak at the general session. Panel topics in the session will deal with the beginning teacher and the community, the student, the parent, the administration, and the profession.

Those scheduled to lead the discussions are: Byron Rowell, president of the Board of Education, Valley Center; Miss Phyllis Burgess, counselor of Wichita High School West; Edwin L. Collins, president of Adams PTA; Kenneth N. Nickel, vice-principal of Wichita High School West; and Miss Mae Pever, director of Field Services, State Department of Public Instruction, Topeka.

Thad Greb, Education senior, will preside over the departmental meeting of elementary education. The consultant will be Mrs. Fay Schmidt, principal of Will Rogers Elementary School, Planeview.

Speaking at the art education meeting will be Dr. John Simoni, art professor at Baker University, Baldwin. Chairmen of the art and music education meetings will be Robert Carroll, Allison Intermediate, and Sue Bowers, Curtis Intermediate.

Parnassus Adds 2 to Staff; Yearbook Order Upped 200

Two new appointments to the Parnassus staff have been made by the Board of Student Publications and the greatest bulk of the work on the '54 yearbook is now getting under way, according to Assistant Professor William Hice, yearbook adviser.

New members of the business staff are Don Christenson, junior in Business Administration, and Bill Pace, Education senior. Taking the role of business manager is Christenson. Pace, who was senior class editor last semester, is advertising manager.

Appointed by the staff as the business manager's assistant is Carolyn Fletcher, freshman in Liberal Arts. Doug Jost will assist on the advertising staff. He is a sophomore in Liberal Arts.

A staff-appointed addition to the editorial staff is Louis Dunn, Liberal Arts freshman. He will assist on the organizations section.

According to Katie Shea, co-editor of the yearbook, 40 of the 184 pages of the book have been completed and are in the hands of the printer. The cover design has been approved, and the covers are being made.

Because of the increased enrollment second semester, the Board of Student Publications has authorized ordering 200 additional books.

Bashford's Band to Perform For Haul Your Man Dance

The Haul Your Man Dance will be held on Feb. 27, from 9 to 12 p. m. in the Men's Gym with Bob Bashford's Band providing the music. The dance will be sponsored by the Y. W. C. A.

The women will ask the men to the dance and make corsages for their dates. A prize will be given for the best corsage, and it will be judged on cleverness and originality.

The Belle of the Ball will be announced when she and her date will be crowned Bill and Belle of the Ball. Belle will be chosen from a group of candidates and will be the one who has sold the greatest number of tickets to the dance. Tickets are $1.50.

Candidates for Belle of the Ball are: Janice Coffman, Liberal Arts freshman of Pi Kappa Psi; Carolyn Cates, Education freshman of Alpha Tau Sigma; Judy Vail, Liberal Arts freshman of Epsilon Kappa Rho; Kathy Blocker, Fine Arts freshman of Delta Omega; Sharon Trone, Liberal Arts freshman of Sorosis; and Maribeth Shellenberger, Fine Arts freshman of the Grace Wilke Residence Hall.

Pep Queen To Be Named

This year's Wheaties' Sweetie and Jack Armstrong will be announced at half-time ceremonies of the St. Louis-University of Wichita game, here, Feb. 18.

Wheaties' Sweetie is selected by the basketball team from junior and senior members of Wheaties, women's pep organization. Members of Wheaties vote on varsity basketball players in selecting Jack Armstrong.

Winners of the honors will be crowned and presented with gifts.

Last year's Wheaties' Sweetie and Jack Armstrong were Marilyn Chamberlain, now a senior in the College of Education and Paul Scheer, also a senior in the College of Education.

Women Solve Leg Problem

Women have solved the problem of keeping their legs warm in Kansas weather by wearing knee-length stockings, while, on the other hand, men have a new fashion of their own.

According to Paris experts, the new style for men is the raising of the trouser length to three inches above their ankles. As the women cover up their legs to keep warm, the men shorten their trousers to let the cool air in.

The fashion of knee-length hose dates back to grade school days when girls fought against wearing knee-length hose. As soon as they could, they quickly rolled them down, so they wouldn't look so childish. But now they rush to the stores to be one of the first to arrive with them on the campus.

No Room for Students?

Acting like shoppers in downtown stores on dollar day, some 4,300 spectators shoved, pushed, and squirmed into the Forum last week to watch the Shockers play the Oklahoma Aggies.

After being delayed for unknown reasons, 1,067 students surged through the Forum doors. In 15 minutes all seats in the student section were filled. Several hundred students, arriving shortly after the "B" squad game had started, were forced to sit two-to-a-seat, on the stairways, and other strategic spots in order to view the game.

From those who were forced to stand up to watch the game there came criticism in the way, "the University was selling seats that had already been sold." These students said that, once they paid for their "ticket" to the game when they paid their incidental fees, they should be entitled to seats. They were right.

Unfortunately, at other Shocker home games there has been a shameful emptiness in the student section. Saturday when the University's cage squad defeated Bradley University for the first time there was the pitiful number of 479 University students watching their team win.

The student seating plan in the Forum is pathetic. Only by a unique arrangement of mirrors could a spectator watch a game seated behind the forest of posts in the downtown auditorium.

But if the University would like to see an increase in student support of the basketball team, the school should set up some sort of a plan (such as pre-game student ticket reservations) that would gauge student attendance and insure seating for students who don't have much to stay as to whether they want to buy a ticket or not when they pay their incidental fee.

Culture Exchange Promoted

The United States' attempts to establish better relations with other nations are not limited to political and financial ones. They also include those of a cultural and educational nature. One of the best means of learning about foreign ways of life is that of exchanging as many students as possible among nations.

It is interesting to note that the University of Wichita, which accepted the enrollment of Japanese students for the first time in the 1920's, now has 14 foreign students studying here this semester, representing 10 foreign countries.

Furthermore, the University has established four special foreign student scholarships which started at the beginning of the 1953-1954 school year and which include tuition, fees, books, and room and board. Four students, one each from France, Greece, Ecuador, and Korea, have been awarded these scholarships. In addition, the University has awarded three tuition and fee scholarships to two Korean students and one Turkish student.

The University's policy of receiving many foreign students, according to Pres. Harry F. Corbin, is not only for the education of foreign students, but also to educate domestic students through their close relationship with those from abroad.

According to Dr. Eugene Savaiano, foreign student adviser, the University is expecting a student from North Africa this semester on a tuition scholarship. Four students left the campus last January, two of them completing undergraduate courses.

All the foreign students, as well as American students, have the responsibility of teaching and introducing their customs, cultures, and ways of thinking, mutually through personal and direct contacts.

The student exchange program is a fine step forward in this direction.

Plane Firms Seek Grads

Representatives from two airplane companies will interview engineering students next week receiving bachelor or master of science degrees in May.

Jack Duckworth, representing Boeing Airplane Company, will meet students Tuesday.

Representing North American Aviation, Inc., is Leslie Stephenson, who will be on the campus Wednesday for interviews.

Business Teachers Attend WU Coffee

The business teachers of Wichita high schools were guests of the College of Business Administration and Industry at a coffee get-together last Monday.

Dr. William Nielander, dean of the college, and his department heads, Prof. Faye Ricketts, Dr. Arthur A. Wichmann, and Dr. William Crum, led a discussion at the coffee dealing with the instructors' problems.

6 Will Speak On Alcoholism

Preliminary orations in the seventh annual Alcohol Oratorical Contest, sponsored by the Women's Christian Temperance Union, will be held in Room 109, Neff Hall, at 8 p. m., tomorrow.

Six students will represent the University. They are: Patrick Corbett, Liberal Arts senior; Richard Hilton, Liberal Arts freshman; Carl Miebeck, Education senior; Janet Noel, Education senior; Kent Peterson, Engineering freshman; and Jan Skinner, Liberal Arts freshman.

The preliminaries are open to all regularly enrolled Kansas college students who have a firm conviction on the subject of alcoholism in our present society. Each contestant is required to write a 1,500-word oration and deliver it without notes. Twenty-five dollars in prizes will be given to the winners, and the first-place winner will be eligible to compete in the state finals at Sterling, March 3.

3 Music Programs Staged This Week

Activities of the School of Music this week have included a student recital, a symphony orchestra concert, and a faculty recital in the Auditorium.

The student recital was presented Monday afternoon. Students who performed were Gretchen Archer, Diana Herbert, Gary Wilf, Janice Rolow, Phyllis Blankinship, Don Story, Arthur Madsen, Carol Crichton, and Jerry Garfield. All are Fine Arts Students.

The Symphony Orchestra, under the leadership of Prof. James P. Robertson, gave a concert Monday evening. The major performance of the group was Beethoven's "Symphony No. 2 in D Major, Op. 36."

The faculty recital was held Tuesday evening. Those who performed were Beatrice S. Pease, instructor in violin; Joshua Missal, assistant professor in viola and music theory; and David Levenson, instructor in cello and music theory.

Phyllis Danielson, Fine Arts senior, will be presented in a student recital next Monday, at 2 p. m., in the Auditorium.

Prof Gives Speech

Dr. Donald O. Cowgill, head of the department of sociology and anthropology, spoke to the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church Wednesday on race relations and problems of minority groups as a part of the observance of Brotherhood Week.

3 Foreign Students Enroll

Wichita University has three new foreign students enrolled the second semester, Edward Andreopoulos from Greece, Kyun Sub Lee from Korea, and Chun-Hyung Cho, also from Korea.

All three have been in the U. S. for about three weeks.

Andreopoulos is attending the University on a full scholarship. His classification is special student and he is enrolled in the college of Liberal Arts, specializing in journalism. His scholarship lasts for one year with possibilities of renewal.

Lee came to the United States after attending college in Seoul, Korea. He is an engineering major, resides in the Men's Residence Hall, and is attending Wichita University on a tuition-fee scholarship. Lee is a freshman.

Cho also attends the University on a tuition-fee scholarship. Like Lee, he attended college in Seoul. He is a freshman in Business Administration and holds a part-time job. During the Korean war, Cho served as a police lieutenant for the South Korean Police Force.

Planners Draw

The recital hall will be used for the more than 100 programs the Music School presents annually and will seat 550 persons. It will be designed to permit televising major musical events.

There also will be a ballet rehearsal room, student lounge, and student locker room under the central stage of the recital hall.

The present Art Building will eventually be replaced by the new art facility of the Center. This section will have art class-rooms and studios as well as facilities for the Wichita Art Museum. There will be an outdoor sculpture court in the sheltered area just north of the art classroom building.

President Corbin stated that there has been no exact date set for completion of the entire structure.

KMUW Adds Six To Station Staff

Six new members were added to the radio staff recently, in place of the graduating seniors and transfer students, Tom Brinton, assistant station manager announced.

New staff members are Ivan McCully and Greg Tamer, staff announcers. Continuity writers are: Jo Selleck, Orvie Gregg, and Pat Corbett. Jack Parker is chief engineer.

There are still openings in radio work for persons interested. Experience is not a requirement, Brinton said.

MacNeil Talks

Despite his exacting duties, he writes a book nearly every year and contributes to magazines and periodicals.

The next speaker of the Student Forum Board will be famous actress Agnes Moorhead, whose speech is scheduled to be given at the end of this month.

Shockers to Host Chiefs

National basketball rankings will be at stake Saturday night in the Wichita Forum when the Oklahoma City Chiefs tangle with the Shockers at 8:30 p. m.

Oklahoma City, with a 12-4 record, is rated number 13 in the latest Associated Press ratings while the Shockers are listed as the eighteenth best team in the nation. The Shockers now boast a creditable 20-3 record.

Two all-American nominees will square off in an expected scoring duel as the Chiefs' leading scorer, Arnold Short, who is averaging nearly 30 points a game, meets Wichita's Cleo Littleton, who has averaged close to 20 points in each contest but has played less time than the Chiefs' top point-maker.

Last year in the Forum, Wichita's Jim Mc Nerney held Short scoreless from the field for more than two quarters, but the 6-foot, 3-inch sharpshooter tallied 20 points before the game ended. Mc Nerney, who has been sidelined with flu for a week, is expected to have the same task Saturday night.

The Chiefs, under Coach Doyle Parrack, employ the "ball control" style of attack as compared to the fast break utilized by Shocker Coach Ralph Miller. The Oklahomans are among the top defensive teams in the nation while the Shockers are rated among the

Shockers Down Braves Despite Ailing Players

Coach Ralph Miller, minus three ailing regulars, Gary Thompson, Paul Scheer, and Jim Mc Nerney, called on his "bench" power Saturday to win victory number 20 over the more experienced Bradley Braves, 91-83.

The game was close all the way with the score knotted 11 times in the contest. The Shockers took the lead early in the fourth period on Verlyn Anderson's field goal and held the lead the rest of the way. The victory was not assured, however, until the final few seconds.

Wichita led the first quarter, 21-15, and held a three-point margin at the half, 39-36. The Braves made a surge in the third period, to knot the score, 61-61. From that point until Anderson's fielder, the lead changed several times.

In the fourth-period drive Cleo Littleton bucketed a goal from the side to give the Shockers a three-point edge but Eddie King connected to pull the Braves within nation's top scoring machines with near 80-point average.

The Chiefs have won 12 of the 19 games played between WU and OCU and a Shocker win would give the Millermen strong consideration for a National Invitational Tournament bid in New York's Madison Square Garden, next month.

"YOU FOULED!" A referee calls a foul on Cleo Littleton in the heated game Thursday night. The Oklahoma Aggies went on to win 59-51 to maintain first place in the Missouri Conference. Identified Aggie players are Clayton Carter, left; and Bob Mattick, right.

Shockers Fall to A & M

With all-American Center Bob Mattick pouring in 21 points and fine scoring support from Clayton Carter and Tom Maloney, the Oklahoma A and M Cowboys dropped the Wichita University Wheatshockers in a battle for the Missouri Valley basketball lead. Final score in the close game was 59 to 51.

Cleo Littleton was the high scorer for both sides with 24 points, but Littleton didn't have the scoring support that Mattick had. The game was doped as a stars, but the difference was found in team balance. Carter and Maloney had 11 points apiece, but the Shockers' next high man was Bob Hodgson with 8 points.

Game Was Close
The game was close all the way; 15 to 15 at the end of the first period, 29 to 25 at the half, A. and M.'s favor. They also led at the end of the third, 40 to 35. Scoring percentages also indicate an Aggie win, the victors hitting 44 per cent and the Shockers hitting a very mild 28 per cent.

Wichita went ahead for the last period with two and a half minutes left on a free throw and a basket by Verlyn Anderson, 51 to 50.

Paul Scheer then fouled, and Tom Maloney hit two free throws followed seconds later by Carter's setup and the Aggies were ahead to stay.

With only 50 seconds remaining, the Wichita defense fell completely apart, the Aggies adding five more insurance points.

Illness Lowers Percentage
Ralph Miller, Shocker head coach, blamed the physical condition of his squad for its poor shooting percentages. Gary Thompson saw no action at all due to his injured leg. Jim Mc Nerney and Paul Scheer both played creditable games even though suffering from influenza. All three were sidelined for Wichita's following game with Bradley.

"A ball player loses his touch when suffering from the flu," said Coach Miller. Mc Nerney and Scheer were playing with all they had, but they didn't have that touch."

seriously challenge the supremacy of the Oklahoma Aggies, but if the Aggies should drop a decision to St. Louis on their Northern swing and the Shockers take the measure of St. Louis and Houston, the show-down would take place down at Stillwater, Okla., Feb. 24 when the Shockers meet the charges of coach Henry P. (Hank) Iba in a return match.

What's The Score?

By Mike Anderson
Sunflower Sports Editor

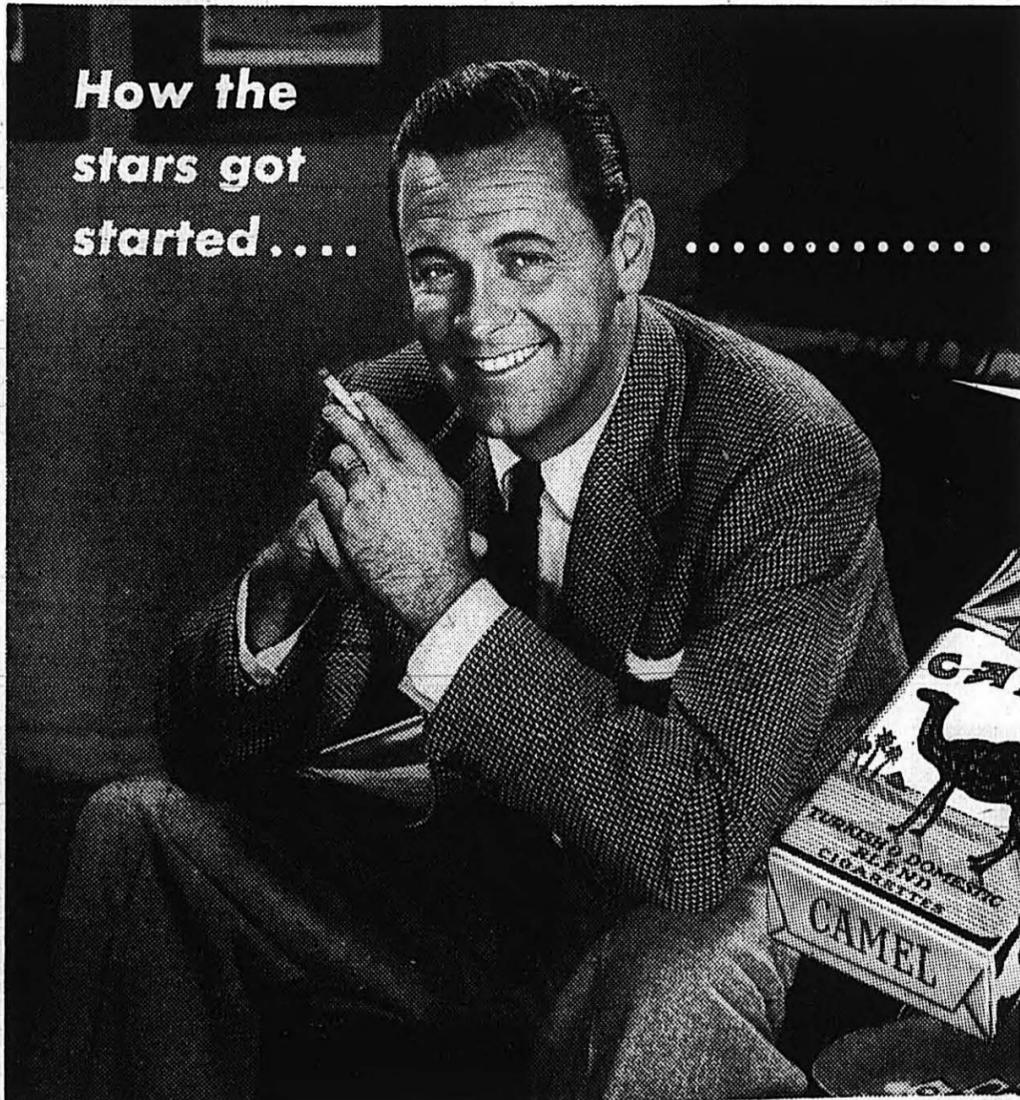

Wichita University's bid for a Missouri Valley title received a jolt last week when Coach Ralph Miller's cagers had to meet the nation's fourth ranked team, Oklahoma A. and M., without the services of ace guard Gary Thompson and only limited duty from Paul Scheer and Jim Mc Nerney, who were sidelined with the flu. The Aggies won 59-51.

But the week was not all bad for the Shockers. With Scheer, Thompson and Mc Nerney not in uniform, Miller called on his "minute-men" against the tough Bradley Braves and they produced under pressure with a victory. With Alex Chuk, the only graduating member in the lineup, the Shockers led almost all the way over the more experienced Braves.

"It was a remarkable performance," the young Shocker mentor said. "Bradley had a good, experienced ball club and although we made several defensive errors, as a young ball club will do, we stayed in there all the way and toward the end of the game Bradley was making more errors than we were."

At this stage of the Valley race, it seem unlikely that anyone will

Rebounders Display Prowess

By Daryle Klassen

"Most natural rebounder I've ever seen," is what Shock-er Coach Ralph Miller has to say about Jim McNerney, 6-foot, 2-inch forward from McKeesport, Pa. Jim is playing his third year of varsity basketball for the Shockers and has 182 points scored to his credit this year. Probably the best defensive man on the squad, he is often found guarding the opposing team's high scorer.

Always a good rebounder, Jim has over 136 rebounds to his credit. A consistent performer, Jim has scored over 10 points in nine of

Jim McNerney

Wichita's 23 games this season, has maintained an 8.04 scoring average throughout the season. Jim should have a banner year next year, his senior year.

As evidence of his playing ability, Jim, in his sophomore year, was elected by his teammates as the "Most Valuable Player" on the 1952-1953 University basketball team. Jim is one of the married men on the squad.

Another player from last year's freshman team who is surpassing expectations this year is Center Bob Hodgson. Bob, here in the late season stretch, has moved into the starting pivot position because of his offensive abilities. This year he has scored over ten points in 11 of 23 contests. Bob hit his stride in the Drake game when he dropped in 22 points. He has a season to-

Bob is one of the better rebounders, with 135 grabs to his credit. He has received a nickname of "Hooks" Hodgson, as a result of

Philosophy Professor Talks on Brotherhood

The complicated emotion involved in real brotherhood was the topic to be discussed by Dr. William N. Lyons, associate professor of philosophy and religious education, at the brotherhood dinner at Temple Emanu-El Wednesday.

Dr. Lyons, who joined the University staff last fall, has served as a naval chaplain in London, and a regimental chaplain for the First Marine Division in Korea. From 1946 to 1949 he was chairman of humanities at Shimer College, Mount Carroll, Ill.

His favorite shot, a smooth right or left-handed hook shot. In Bob Hodgson, the Shockers have something that they have always lacked in previous years, a high scoring center. Bob has been on the receiving end of some rousing cheers in the Forum, exhibiting his beautiful hook shot.

He comes from Weir, Kansas, where he played high school ball. With two seasons left to play, Bob Hodgson could well become the greatest center ever to don the Black and Gold.

IT'S ALL A MATTER OF TASTE

I've tried so many cigarettes, All brands from A to Z— But nothing beats that better taste: It's Lucky Strike for me!

Charlene Bernstein
State University of Iowa

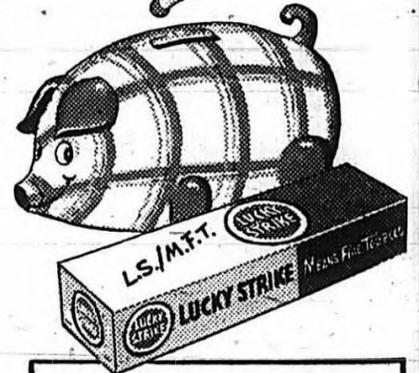

When you come right down to it, you smoke for one simple reason . . . enjoyment. And smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste. Yes, taste is what counts in a cigarette. And Luckies taste better.

Two facts explain why Luckies taste better. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . light, mild, good-tasting tobacco. Second, Luckies are actually made better to taste better . . . always round, firm, fully packed to draw freely and smoke evenly.

So, for the enjoyment you get from better taste, and only from better taste, Be Happy—Go Lucky. Get a pack or a carton of better-tasting Luckies today.

If you're the kind of guy that hates To see his money partin', Here's a tip to save you dough: Buy Luckies by the carton!
