Band Elects Officers, Governing Council

Marching, playing, voting, and governing—that's the new role of the University band.

University band members now have, for the first time, elected officers and a Band Council to govern them during the year, according to a band spokesman.

Election of officers and selection of the new Council took place last week.

Elected were Melvin Shelton, president, Cleo Rucker, vice president; Yale Davis, secretary treasurer, and John Friesen, publicity and business manager.

Members of the Band Council were selected from the four classes. Presidents of the two honorary music organizations are also included in the Council.

Lois Russell, president of Tau Beta, honorary women's band sorority, and Delmas Howe, president of the men's honorary band fraternity, represent the honorary band organizations.

Council members will meet with officers to discuss problems of the band and its members, where and when the band will play, and other matters that arise.

Members of the Council and band officers will serve out the remainder of the year. An election of new members will be held at the close of the year, except for a freshman representative who will be elected at the beginning of the next school year.

Vacation Ahead

Thanksgiving vacation at the University will begin on Wednesday following the conclusion of classes.

According to an announcement from the office of President Corbin, vacation will continue until Monday morning.

Foundation Liquidates Assets

The liquidation of the Research Foundation has necessitated the disposal of equipment connected with that organization.

Typewriters, filing cabinets, chairs, and similar materials have been divided among several departments, said Dr. Luther Lyon, former director of the Foundation.

The fourth floor rooms of Science Hall, which housed part of the Foundation, were turned over to the chemistry department, with the exception

Frosh's Play On KAKE TV

A University freshman; charter member of Sigma Phi Mu, a writers literary group; and a playwright are some of the accomplishments of a student with many interests named Ted Giltner.

Since Giltner has been at the University, he has written a play entitled "Fenton's Feast." It will be televised over KAKE-TV at 4 p. m. Thanksgiving day.

The play is written in two acts, and is the story of a selfish and troublesome tramp.

Playing the lead part of the tramp is Tom Brodrick, a member of the Little Theater. Other members of the cast include John Froome, announcer at KAKE-TV, and Scot McCullough, an announcer of KAKE radio.

Forum Board Series Begins on Dec. 1

Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review of Literature, will be the first Student Forum Board speaker of the year.

The program will be at 8:15 p. m., Dec. 1, in the Commons Auditorium.

Season tickets for Student Forum programs may be purchased from any Student Forum Board member; however, students will be admitted by their ID cards.

Share of MVC Crown At Stake on Nov. 24

By AL HIGDON and JOE RODRIGUEZ Assistant Sports Editors

A victory over Tulsa University will reward the University of Wichita Shockers a share of the Missouri Valley Conference crown with Detroit University when the Shockers tangle with the Hurricane, Thanksgiving Day afternoon at Veterans Field.

Closing out their careers in the Tulsa game will be seven seniors who have been instrumental in the rise of the Shockers as a football power in the midwest. Sorely missed, come kickoff time next year, will be Co-captains Ben Kubes and Jack O'Toole along with Vere Wellman, Willis Towne, Ed Boghosian, Jim Sippy, and Chuck Hollmer.

Ben Kubes

Jack O'Toole

Jack O'Toole has been called by many as the finest center in Shocker grid history. He has earned three letters for his grid iron ability and has an excellent opportunity to repeat as an all-Missouri Valley selection this fall. The Associated Press has nominated the scrappy center for all-American honors.

"I'm going to put everything I have against Tulsa and I know the other senior players feel the same way," illustrates how guard Ben Kubes feels before his final performance. Winner of 12 letters at New Prague, Minn., he has been fighting the injury jinx throughout his career but spirit and desire capped off his final season when he was elected as a co-captain, and last year earned honorable mention on the all-Missouri Valley Conference all-star team.

Tackle Vere Wellman was recently named by the Missouri Valley nominating board as one of their 1955 all-American choices. Wellman returned to (Continued on Page 2)

WU Student Injured in Crash

Roy L. Gilbert, a University student, was injured Friday when his automobile crashed into a culvert on 21st Street, east of Oliver.

According to sheriff's patrolman, H. H. Bruner, the car apparently flipped end over end before landing on the road 39 feet beyond the culvert.

Gilbert told the patrolman that he had fallen asleep while driving.

The paper will not be published during this period because of Thanksgiving vacation.

Fieldhouse Dedication Game Plots 'Student vs. Master'

The dedication basketball game in the new Fieldhouse Dec. 7, will not only be significant, but will be a game that poses the question: Can the former student beat the master?

The student is Shocker Cage Coach Ralph Miller, whose squad will meet his former coach Forrest (Phog) Allen's Kansas Jay Hawks.

In a phone interview with Allen, the Kansas mentor praised Coach Miller and expressed amazement at the nationally ranked teams listed on the 1955-56 Shocker schedule. Admitting that he had not seen Wichita's team play, the popular Jayhawk coach nevertheless showed respect for Miller's cagemen.

"I know Ralph's (Miller's) boys will make a good showing this season. He has some fine material and his boys have lots of hustle and fight. But they'll need plenty of hustle and fight with their rugged schedule ahead."

Since the end of World War II, France's North African empire has been spluttering toward explosion.

The immediate causes of unrest and the ingredients of violence may be summed up to one dominant fact about North Africa.

A large percentage of the twenty million poverty-stricken Arabs have been fired by the flames of nationalism that have burned throughout Asia and Africa in the post-war era.

French governments have attempted to deal with the North African up-surge alternately with concession and repression, but all have failed. Accounting for this failure is France's political instability and eagerness to reassert her prestige before the world.

During the post-war era, the French have consistently demonstrated their inability to achieve strong, durable government. Political instability is reflected in the composition of a 627-man French parliament. No party has been able to achieve an absolute parliamentary majority.

Sixty-one seconds robbed the Shockers of a chance to grab the Missouri Valley Conference crown, undisputed.

This, of course, is history. A tie until the late moments, Tulsa fumbled and Detroit recovered. The Titans scored with only a minute remaining in the game to win 19-13.

A tie between the two teams was all that was necessary for the Shockers to seal off the title following a win over Tulsa, Thanksgiving Day.

Now, the best that can be managed is a tie for the crown with a win over the Hurricane, Thursday.

A disappointment without a doubt, but the Shockers can still wind up with the best win-loss record in the Conference. Added to this are the facts that Wichita has laced Houston and Cincinnati. Houston beat Detroit, and Cincinnati tied the Titans.

All of which goes to make the tie with the Detroit lucksters not only unrealistic, but a farce.

Tillman's Job 'Well Done'

BY JOE RODRIGUEZ
Sunflower Sports Writer

What happens to a new coach when he takes over the reins of a championship team?

Naturally, the team's fans and supporters expect their team to keep winning. They expect the new coach to do as well if not better than his predecessor.

In his first year at the helm of the football team, Coach Pete Tillman has guided the team to a national ranking. The Shockers rank sixth in the nation in rushing defense. Coach Tillman has also built a smooth running attack that has netted 2,028 yards to lead the MVC in that department.

More important, Coach Tillman has gained the respect of his fellow coaches, the team, and Athletic Director Robert Kirkpatrick.

"Pete has done a tremendous job and is a credit to the school," commented Mr. Kirkpatrick. "I have utmost confidence in him; both as a coach and as a man, and I sincerely believe that his boys have benefited by being associated with him."

Frats in Keg Battle

Fraternity rivalries rage tomorrow evening in Old Shocker Stadium where Men of Webster and Alpha Gamma Gamma continue their Football, "Battle of the Keg."

7 Close WU Grid Career In 'Turkey Day' Tussle

Shocker varsity football last season after a two year Army hitch and made honorable mention on Jack Mitchell's MVC championship squad. He has turned in an iron man performance this season, averaging 50 minutes per contest. His performance against Utah State resulted in 'Lineman of the Week' honors presented by a local newspaper.

Ed Boghosian, one of the hardest workers on the squad, has lettered all three years of his varsity career. Considered one of the finest pass receivers on the squad, the Chicago end has caught two touchdown passes and his work against Cincinnati last season was instrumental in the upset victory for the Shockers.

Willis Towne completes his third year as a Shocker letterman. The Shocker end was cited for honorable mention on the all-Missouri Valley team last year and is currently leading the league in touchdown passes caught with three.

Halfback Jim Sippy's name be found twice in the all-Shocker record book. Last season he set two school records, averaging 27 yards in punt returns and 17 yards on kickoff returns. He scored seven touchdowns last year, carrying the ball at 3.9 yards per carry. Sippy is exceptionally strong on defense. Sippy made second team honors on the MVC squad last season.

Forced to the sidelines with polio after two games last season, Halfback Chuck Hollmer reported back to football practice the day after he was dismissed from the hospital. This season he has shown fine running form, rating high among Shocker runners with an average of four yards per carry. In 1953, Hollmer led the team in rushing yardage, grinding out 494 yards for a 6.13 average.

Gil Tatman (not pictured) may be back for another season of competition. He is a two-time letterman and was slated to see considerable action this year until a leg injury in the season's opener forced him out of action. Wichita's representative to the MVC commission will ask that Tatman be granted another year of eligibility.

Kent Thomas (not pictured) took Shocker's hard luck tackle, was sent to the sidelines with an illness after only one game. Kent did not leave the football scene. This year he is away from the headlines but close to the game. He is serving as manager and equipment handler for the team. Thomas won his letter as tackle of last year's championship team.

Lord God, we give Thee thanks this day.
Humbly, in our simple way.
For all the gracious gifts which Thou
Hast deigned so richly to endow—
For life—for every passing minute—
For this, Thy world, and all things in it!

We give Thee thanks, dear Lord, for these—
The green beneficence of trees.
The kindness of rain, the birth
Of springtime from a barren earth—
The earth that bears the bread we break
In gratitude for Thy sweet sake.

We thank Thee, Lord, for healing song.
For courage, wise and tall and strong:
For all the laughter and the tears
That mould the pattern of our years:
For truth and trust and constancy.
For faith that lets us lean on Thee!

We give Thee thanks for ears to hear
For feet to tread Thy pathways here.
For hands to touch, and lips to sing
Thy name in every lovely thing—
For friendship with our fellow men—
But mostly for Thy love.

The National Assembly is split into more than a dozen groups which are sharply divided on economic, religious, regional, and foreign policy issues.

To get a numerical majority required to put a government in office, these groups have to combine. But the majority is constantly shifting depending upon where the interests of various parties lie and, consequently, the life of each French government is short.

Under these circumstances most governments try to avoid moves resentful to their backers. Accordingly, inaction has been a major characteristic of French policy in North Africa.

With Indochina lost, North Africa has become the center and symbol of empire to the French. Feeling the insecurity of a nation once mighty and feared, now reduced to the status of a second ranking power, the French are willing to restore their country's prestige before the world.

There is a conviction that the destiny of the French colonies is not freedom to go their own way but assimilation with France. This has produced the traditional policy of rule from Paris rather than decentralization and autonomy.

From the economic point of view, French investment in North Africa is heavy. For all these reasons, it's unlikely that a French government would consider relinquishing North Africa. In case it did, it would be voted out of office.

The first meeting of the American Association of University Professors will be at 2:30 p. m. today in the Faculty Dining Room, according to Vergil Shipley, associate professor of political science.

The Psychology Club of the University will meet tonight in Rm. 328, Administration Building.

The guest speaker will be Dr. Harold Bessell.

Orchesis will meet in the Women's Gym at 7 p. m. tonight, Mrs. Frances Porter, sponsor of the club, announced. Because of the high school programs, all members are urged to attend.

The University Pep Council will meet in the Gamma Fraternity house at 7 p. m. tonight. All members are asked to attend.

The foreign language examination for graduate students for this semester will be held Dec. 3, Dr. John Rydjord, dean of the graduate School, said. Students who are planning to take this examination should consult with the language department concerned and make the necessary arrangements.

Business Frat Hears Regent

Mr. Howard N. Fullington, chairman of the Board of Regents at the University during 1949-50 spoke at the monthly meeting of Gamma Upsilon chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi, business and commerce fraternity, last week.

His talk covered the opportunities for college graduates in the field of general insurance. Mr. Fullington emphasized that general insurance has come of age professionally and now exists on the same plane of service as accounting and banking.

A question and answer period as well as discussion followed the talk, Charles L. Churchman, publicity chairman of the fraternity said.

He also stated that the department has one classified project. At various times the department has worked for the majority of aircraft manufacturers.

"At one time, the department tested automobiles," Mr. Porter said. In April, 1949, the department was contacted by Nash Motors Division concerning wind tunnel tests on their Ambassador. A later comparative survey was made on 15 offerings of the major automotive companies.

Children's Books Now on Display In Morrison Library

Two hundred children's books recently exhibited at St. James Episcopal Church Book Fair are currently on display in Morrison Library.

The exhibit is located in the magazine room on main floor and will remain there until the Thanksgiving recess, Prof. Downing O'Hara, librarian, said.

The books are property of the city school system.

KMUW Will Cover Games, Dedication During Loop Series

Basketball fans will now have a chance to hear University basketball games broadcast over KMUW, the University radio station.

Starting with the first game, December 3, with Utah, and continuing through the season there will be full coverage of the games.

A professional sportscaster from station KWHK in Hutchinson, Jack Lynch, will give the play-by-play description of the games, said George Goodrich, director of KMUW.

On December 7, KMUW will broadcast the Fieldhouse dedication ceremonies during the half-time of the Wichita-Kansas game.

In the classes there are 1,025 men and 346 women.

The majority of the evening students are taking one or two courses, although some are enrolled for three, four, or even five courses.

Most of the students are working toward degrees offered by the University through the degree-granting colleges, Dean Marsh said.

There are 4,392 students enrolled at the University, including day and evening students, some of whom are taking credit courses, but are not now working toward a degree. Such students are enrolled in the College of Adult Education rather than in one of the degree-granting colleges.

In addition to the credit courses, the University now offers non-credit classes in children's art, ceramics, typography, dog training, creative writing, Certified Public Accountant law review, real estate appraising, and management.

Sunflower to Publish Literary Review Dec. 9

A literary supplement for student creative writers, The Sunflower Literary Review, will begin its first issue this year Dec. 9.

Dean Roush, English senior, will be editor. The literary section has been published since March, 1954, for the purpose of providing students with a means to express their literary talents.

Roush said that the publication aims to stimulate interest in creative writing not only among English majors, but among students in other fields. Manuscripts may include short stories, poetry, non-fiction articles, book reviews, essays, longer fiction stories, and well-written themes, Roush said.

A requirement is that manuscripts be typewritten and double-spaced to allow for necessary copyreading and editing. The manuscripts can be handed in to any English instructor or be placed on a specially marked shelf in Rm. 209 Jardine Hall.

Joan O'Bryant, instructor in English, will serve as editorial director. Ben Harlowe, English graduate student, and Ted Giltner, English sophomore, will be editorial assistants.

Sorosis Takes Volleyball Lead In Fem 'Murals

Sorosis defeated the Unaffiliates 41-22 for the girl's Volleyball Championship, Nov. 14, to close the season's second activity in the Women's Recreation Association program.

The goal of each women's organization is to possess the sweepstakes trophy awarded at the end of the school year. Women's teams compete in 10 to 12 activities throughout the year. The team compiling the highest number of points at the end of the year is presented with the trophy.

The winning team of each activity receives 30 points; second place, 20 points, and third place, 10 points. Tennis matches opened this year's program. Sorosis and Alpha Tau tied in the net competition.

Last Wednesday was a day of excitement for children at the Institute of Logopedics.

The Shriners treated 110 children from the Institute to an afternoon at the annual Shrine circus and to orange pop for each of them, according to Sally Archer, secretary public relations at the Institute.

Ring side seats for the children and for the 30 instructors and guests that attended, were also arranged for by the Shriners.

Class Project Film Shown

Slides and films prepared by the urban sociology class for a summer project were shown at the last meet of the Sociology Club.

The film, portraying various types of transportation in Wichita and transportation problems, was prepared by Ned Phyle an alumnus and Terry Scanlon, senior in Liberal Arts. Phyle made a tape recording to accompany the film.

Richard Lawless, a senior in Liberal Arts, exhibited several still pictures and slides of housing conditions in Wichita.

"These films and slides are very excellent studies done in lieu of a term paper," said Dr. Donald O. Cowgill, head of the sociology department.

Law, International Relations Scholarships Now Available

Outstanding college senior men are eligible to apply for the Elihu Root-Samuel J. Tilden Scholarship offered by the University of New York Law School, according to a recent announcement.

Twenty scholarships are available on a regional basis for a year's study at the school. They are valued at $2,300 and are renewable for the succeeding two years of law school.

The scholarships are open to unmarried men between the ages of 20 and 28 who will obtain their college degrees before Sept. 1.

Applications for the scholarships may be submitted to Prof. Stephen Worth, pre-law adviser and member of the political science faculty.

A new scholarship program has been established by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to further the study of the common traditions, historical experience and present needs of the North Atlantic community.

Competition in the United States opened Nov. 1 and will close Dec. 1, for a limited number of scholarships and fellowships for study in the NATO countries.

Applicants must be United States citizens in good health. Preference in awarding scholarships will be given to candidates who have done graduate work.

Candidates for the scholarships should apply to the Institute of International Education at 1 Sixty-seventh Street, New York, N. Y.

Eco Group Discusses Policy

The Order of Artus, University chapter of the national honorary society in economics, met Saturday afternoon at the home of Arthur F. Nicholson, president.

"Fiscal Policy Appropriate Prosperity and Depression." was discussed at the meeting.

The University chapter is the only of its kind in Kansas, according to Dr. Arthur A. Widmann, head of the economics department.

The chapter was organized May, 1955, with fourteen members. Membership requirements include 18 hours in economics and a 3.0 grade point average.

The group meets regularly to discuss economic questions and concentrates on problems presented by graduate students in developing thesis topics.

This is the one event of the year in which all three language departments participate, Miss Downing said. She established the annual affair six years ago.

Shock Talk

To the Editor:
I read with considerable dismay that the call for blood for Dr. Simoni and Prof. Strange was answered with 49 pints. I hold the faculty as culpable as the student body for this feeble response to a dire need.

It requires only a rudimentary sense of empathy to visualize the needs of these two men, and of their families, who received a blow which could have happened to any of us. The blood they need costs $20 a pint and upwards. The blood we can give doesn't cost us a penny. My own experience at the Red Cross was quite pleasant; the process is painless, the people are pleasant, and the talk over the coffee and hamburger they serve congenial. It took about one hour, altogether.

Even if you think it is unpleasant, even if you must summon up courage for the act, you ought to do it anyhow.

The Red Cross phone number is AM 7-4321. The people there are wondering if we have hearts, up here on the hill.

of one room which was turned over to the geology department.

Engineering equipment in the Research building was given to the School of Engineering. The equipment included two physical testing machines worth approximately $100,000, Dr. Lyon said.

Electronic equipment was divided among physics, Engineering, and the Institute of Logopedics. Acoustic equipment, worth approximately $10,000, was also given to the Institute of Logopedics.

Machine shop material was turned over to the industrial arts department of the College of Education.

All research being conducted at the time the Board of Regents voted to liquidate the Foundation, has been completed. All records of this research and other research projects are kept in a central file in Science Hall, Dr. Lyon said.

The Research Building and Research Bungalow are now used by building and grounds and the mechanical engineering department.

The Foundation had approximately $75,000 in assets and bonds when it closed. This capital will be put in a special fund until the Board of Regents reaches a decision as to how it will be spent, Glen Gardner, director of finance and comptroller, said.

Turkey for Cagers

A turkey dinner at Brown's Grill was given the Shocker basketball players Sunday. The cagers were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Brown, owners of the grill. Attending the dinner were Coach Ralph Miller and Bob Kirkpatrick, Wichita athletic director.

There were also representatives from radio, television and newspapers at the dinner.

The University was founded in 1895 as Fairmount College. Support the Shockers.

6 Inventory Art Museum

The University art department has begun inventory on the Wichita Art Museum in preparation for the time when the museum will be returned to the city.

Participating in the inventory are Mrs. Dollod Blood, of the museum staff; Mrs. Abigail Blaiser, University art secretary; and two graduate students, Virginia Martin and Richard Sliman, working under the supervision of assistant art professors, Robert Kiskadden and David Bernard.

Collections in the inventory include the Murdock collection, the Naftzer print collection, and several loaned collections.

New Arena to House Athletic Offices

Staff members of the athletic department are preparing to move into new offices located in the Fieldhouse.

We are planning to move to the new offices sometime during the Christmas vacation, stated Bob Kirkpatrick. There will be six main offices in the new building. The intramural department is to remain in Henrion Gymnasium.
