

Pep Candidates

CHEERLEADER FINALISTS—The competition for cheerleaders for the 1956-57 season has narrowed down to 14 finalists. The final selections will be made by a group of downtown businessmen next Friday.

Of these 14 finalists, six will be chosen regular cheerleaders, six alternates, and two for Wushock and Wushock's shadow.

Who Elects Whom?

Pep Meeting Reaches Stalemate Over Constitution 'Point of Order'

Constitution difficulties dominated the Pep Council meeting, Tuesday night. At a packed meeting, members of Pep Council were asked to vote for next year's officers, but the question arose as to whether or not they could, according to their constitution.

Some doubt was expressed, too, about who has the power to elect the pep coordinator — Pep Council or Student Council.

Corbin to Present

Final TV Program

The ninth and final television program, "Ideas in Action" will be televised at 10 p.m., Sunday, over station KARD-TV.

President Harry F. Corbin will speak on the subject of "Patterns of Revolution" in the concluding program this year.

In the constitution passed by the Student Council recently it specifically states that the Pep Council will elect the pep coordinator subject to approval by the Student Council.

At the beginning of the school year, George Parsons, present pep coordinator, was given the power to present names of pep coordinator candidates to the Student Council for the vote of approval. Several pep group members argued that since the Student Council passed the constitution giving Pep Council the power to elect the pep coordinator, it made the earlier ruling void.

According to Jim Mann, Student Council president, the pep group's charter and constitution was approved April 9. He said that certain portions of the constitution have caused confusion.

Mann said a motion stating that, "the pep coordinator shall serve as president of the Pep Council and that the Pep Council shall recommend a person or persons to the Student Council for approval as pep coordinator," will be presented at Student Council meeting, Monday.

"The confusion resulted from a misinterpretation of the Pep Council constitution as approved by the Student Council," he continued.

Mann said that the Student Council will not be held to the recommendations of the Pep Council if it feels the candidates are unfit for service.

In a statement to the Sunflower, Wednesday, Parsons said that pep members will strive for a "better and more concrete constitution." He said, "Many students have a vague understanding of the constitution pertaining to who the eligible voters are in Pep Council elections."

It is his hope that the Council members will work to strengthen the constitution so they can satisfy everyone.

Marilyn Koop, assistant pep coordinator, said, "A meeting has been slated between officers and the more active members of the Council and we are sure the difficulties can be straightened out with less confusion than was present Tuesday night."

No action was taken on an error in selecting next year's cheerleader finalists. A set of rules drawn up by Pep Council and approved by the Student Council stated that cheerleaders must "maintain a grade average of 2."

Four of the 14 finalists have 1.923 grade averages and below. Final selection of six regular cheerleaders, six alternates, and Wushock and his Shadow is to be made by a group of downtown businessmen next Friday.

Henry Hull Ends Series

Actor Henry Hull will recreate the personality of Mark Twain at 8:15 p.m., tonight, in the Commons Auditorium in the final Student Forum lecture of the year.

"An Evening with Mark Twain," will be the subject of the program by Mr. Hull. He will appear clad in the same type attire that Twain wore on his lecture tours at the turn of the century.

Mr. Hull considers his presentation more than an impersonation of the author and tries to recreate his personality and mannerisms.

Mark Twain, who is one of Hull's favorite authors, is the inspiration as the actor reads excerpts from the books and other famous works of Samuel Clemens.

The Student Forum Board will serve refreshments and coffee for students in the Commons Building. Mr. Hull will speak informally at this gathering.

Offices Move To Fiske Hall

The Offices of Student Services, Public Relations and the University News Bureau are "open for business" in their new quarters in the remodeled Fiske Hall.

The three offices of the Public Relations department occupy the north section of the building. Student Services has the south wing. A reception desk with a switchboard is planned for the area at the entrance of the building.

A conference room and a room in which tests can be administered are also featured on the main floor of the building.

Work is now under way to remodel the second floor for the departments of English and history offices.

Council Okays 3 Plans

Hippodrome

The Student Council approved a 50 cent admission charge to Hippodrome activities this year with the proceeds going to establishing a scholarship at the University.

The exact use of the scholarship will be decided after a meeting with Dr. Hugo Wall and the scholarship committee.

Stan Haring, council member, said, "Hippodrome is a campus project and we felt this was the best way to reach the entire student body."

"The attendance at Hippodrome has been dropping off each year," Haring continued, "and the council feels that by charging an admission fee, and having the proceeds go to a worthwhile project, students will realize that it is not a project for the Greek organizations alone."

Hippodrome, set for May 4, is a program of 15-minute skits presented by campus organizations as part of the May Day festivities.

Winners will be chosen on the basis of originality, timing, scenery, production, and the opinions of the judges. As in the past, the judges, selected by the council, are not revealed until after the scoring is completed.

Eight social organizations have entered Hippodrome this year. In the order of their appearance on the program, they are Men of Webster, Delta Omega, Alpha Tau Sigma, Pi Alpha Pi, Phi Upsilon Sigma, Pi Kappa Psi, Sorosis, and Alpha Gamma Gamma.

Charles Williams, chairman of the skit committee, said any problems of skit staging could be discussed with Eugene Spangler, acting head of the speech and drama department.

Grandstand Shockers

Reorganization of the Grandstand Shockers, which includes an assessment of 25 cents for members and double registration, was approved by the Student Council Monday night.

Jerry Carney, president of the group, told the council members that the Grandstand Shockers will be basically the same during basketball and football season.

The reason for reorganization, Carney said, was so students interested in improving the pep on the campus, could prove their true enthusiasm by registering twice.

Carney further explained that the 25 cent charge would be used by the Pep Council to provide identification buttons and cowbells for members.

He pointed out that all students are eligible to join. The only limits, he said, are the 300 seats made available and these are issued only on a first come, first serve basis.

"Grandstand" seats will be roped off to anyone but those wearing the buttons, he said. One half hour after game time, he warned, these seats will be available to the rest of the student body.

Carney said spouse tickets will be honored in the Grandstand Shockers, if previously arranged for by the student. Housemothers and sponsors of the social organizations will also be admitted to the section if this is pre-arranged by the organization.

The objective of the new plan, Carney said, is to get only interested students in belonging to the Grandstand Shockers and thereby making a success of the pep program.

Elections

Elections of Student Council officers, and one sophomore, one junior, and two senior representatives will take place on May 11, according to Gil Tatman, election commissioner.

Coalitions and other persons who wish to enter candidates in the elections are urged by Tatman to pick up copies of the new election code well in advance of their campaigning. Copies may be obtained in the Office of Student Services, Rm. 113, Jardine Hall.

Any person running for an elected office must have an overall grade average of 2.0, and must be enrolled in at least 12 semester hours, Tatman said.

Students will vote by the use of their Student Council cards. The polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Library Displays 'Faith Chapel' Model

CHAPEL MODEL—A model of an all-faith chapel which may someday be built on the campus, is on display in the Documents Room of Morrison Library.

Tangible evidence of the proposed "All Faith Chapel" may be seen in the model now on display in Rm. 201, Morrison Library.

"The model has developed out of students' ideas running through the years," Dr. L. Hekhuis, head of the philosophy and religious education department, said.

Further ideas are expected to result from term papers which members of the Psychology of Religion class are writing.

Other students are encouraged to stop by and see the model and express their opinion of what they feel the chapel should be like.

The building is to be located across the street from the Art Building and Science Building. No funds have appropriated, Dr. Hekhuis said, it is a contributinal project.

The chapel when constructed will be the fulfillment of a long time dream for Dr. Hekhuis.

Instructor Shows Graphics, Drawings

The first of three art exhibitions will be held April 16 through April 30 in the gallery of the Art Building.

The first exhibition will display the work of William Dodgen, graduate teaching fellow.

Included in the exhibition will be graphic art drawings and paintings. The prints, done over a period of two years, will be done in both intaglio and relief.

Dodgen is completing his master's degree in Fine Arts and has been a full time instructor in the art department this semester.

WHAT'S THIS?—The cheerleader's car awaits passengers in back of the Alpha Gamma Gamma house. The car was purchased by the Student Council for the cheerleaders. The University's colors, black and yellow, adorn the body of the 1930 Ford. (Photo by Ed Thompson.)

Trouble, Good Times Follow Purchase of 1930 Roadster

Members of the Pep Council did a good deed for the cheerleaders when they purchased a 1930 Ford for them last semester—or at least a good deed for some of them.

The black and yellow roadster seen flitting around the campus before pep convos cost the Council $75 and, said Roy Rogers, head cheerleader, a few headaches.

One blue Monday, Rogers was arrested by a Wichita police officer for driving a vehicle without a light and, worse yet, not carrying a driver's license. The judge who heard the case must have been a loyal Shocker booster, for he dismissed it.

At present, the pledges of Alpha Gamma Gamma Fraternity, who are responsible for the "splash" of paint on the car, are keeping it in running condition.

George Parsons, pep coordinator, says the car is being kept at the Gamma house, but he is looking for someone who has spare garage space and would be willing to "house" the car during the summer months—free of charge, of course.

"Singing in The Rain"

Dorm Women To Hold Dance

"Singing in the Rain" will be the theme of a dance this evening from 9 p.m. to midnight in the dormitory cafeteria by women of Grace Wilkie Hall. Norma Manning's combo will provide music for the evening.

Special guests for the dance include Mr. and Mrs. Justus Fugate, Mrs. Jean Lanham, and Miss Lois Kramer, dormitory house mother.

Judy Babb, social chairman of Grace Wilkie Hall, is in charge of arrangements. The decorations were prepared by Marilyn Faulkner, Bonnie Naegle, and Sandy Bibler.

3 Coeds Attend ISA Convention

Bessie Goodin, Muriel Newell, and Joyce Ayers represented the University Independent Students Association at the recent National ISA Convention at the University of Texas.

Twenty-eight schools from 18 states were represented at the Austin meeting. The affair consisted of luncheons, teas, and banquets. A Western theme was carried throughout the social events.

Two of the guest speakers at the banquets were Arno Nowothy, dean of student life, and Representative Carr of the Texas legislature.

The convention concluded with a banquet. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the National ISA Sweetheart who was Jeanne Campbell from Purdue University.

Mortar Board Honors Coed

Jill Gist, Education sophomore, will be special guest of honor at the annual Mortar Board Scholarship Tea, Pat Gamlen, president of Mortar Board, said.

A grade point average of 3.9 during her freshman year enabled Miss Gist to be awarded a scholarship of $60 by the local Mortar Board Alumni this fall.

Approximately 60 sophomore women, who have achieved cumulative grade point averages of 2.75 or above, have been invited to the tea, which will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday, in the Pine Room of the Commons Building, Miss Gamlen said.

Betty Binter, Education senior, will sing three numbers, and Assoc. Prof. Howard E. Ellis, head of music education, will speak on scholarships.

The Mortar Board members are the outstanding senior women at the University.

Wright, Hodgson Engagement Told

The engagement of Marilyn Wright and Bob Hodgson was announced recently at Grace Wilkie Hall.

Miss Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Lawrence Wright, is an elementary education senior. Hodgson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hodgson, is a senior in the College of Education and affiliated with Phi Upsilon Sigma Fraternity.

They will be married late this summer.

Document Bulletin Completed

A bulletin explaining the printed index system of the government documents in the library is being prepared by the library staff members, according to Prof. Downing P. O'Hara, head librarian.

The bulletin will make it easier for students to locate documents. When completed the bulletin will be placed in the Documents Room, Rm. 201, Morrison Library.

Sorority Presidents' Opinions Odd Colors Prove Popular

Women are always intrigued by the color in clothes. Fashion experts agree that some off-beat color combinations are smart and artistic. But, they warn that these must be chosen with care, for there is nothing flattering about garish contrasts and gaudy effects.

Red with pink has been noted by the five University presidents as the leading color combination on the campus. Each said they had noticed a few girls mixing blue and purple.

Janet Leichhardt, Epsilon Kappa Rho president, voiced the opinion of most when she said, "I like some of the color combinations suggested by the experts. But on the whole they would be distasteful to my views."

The majority of University women are aware of a need for strong color or black. It is shown in their belts, jewelry, and collars, Rebecca McMullen, Delta Omega president, said.

Fashion experts suggest the addition of some leather accessories this spring. Shoes, handbags, and jackets can be bought in a wide range of wonderful colors.

"Sand-colored leather goods, colored jewelry, and large handbags seem to be the favorite of University women so far this spring," Marilyn Pollock, Alpha Tau Sigma president, said.

"Since the movie, 'Love is a Many Splendored Thing' was shown in Wichita, the oriental style sheath dresses and duster has slowly become more popular," according to Betty Binter, Pi Kappa Psi president.

"Although the sheath dress is popular, it is probable that the full skirt will still be a favorite for informal wear," Kathy Mayes, Sorosis president, said.

Show Your Appreciation

Friday evening students will have an opportunity to show that they appreciate the advantages of college by attending the last of the Student Forum series.

Henry Hull, noted actor, will present his "An Evening With Mark Twain." This should be an interesting evening of entertainment. Students who usually take in a Friday evening movie could replace it with a free evening of "live" entertainment.

The Student Forum Board has made definite plans for improving Student Forum next year. Meanwhile, there is still one good program on this year's agenda.

Students can prove, by attending, that they are interested in maintaining this cultural opportunity.

Political Revival?

Recent stirrings indicate a revival of interest in campus politics. Political groups claim to be actually striving for improved politics on the campus.

However, this interest is concentrated in small groups. The interest and enthusiasm needs to be spread to the unaffiliated and un-interested students.

Student government is a serious matter. At the very top is the Council president, an important position that requires a person capable of speaking to people.

Students should have an opportunity to hear from candidates for Council president. The importance of filling the office with a good, capable student warrants an all-school convocation. Each candidate for a Student Council position could be introduced and give a short talk. Then candidates for the presidency could present their campaign speech, including a platform. A period for debate could be allowed. Certainly there are enough issues for the candidates to take stands on.

This might provide what is needed to interest many of our non-voting students.

Bureau Offers Test Service

By DIANE COPELAND
Sunflower Reporter

Searching for a major? A University service may help you. Students who are undecided about their major field may take a battery of tests through the Office of Student Services which will give them more information about their aptitudes, personalities, and mental abilities.

These tests, given by the Student Services' counselling bureau, are open to all students enrolled in the University. Asst. Prof. William Glenn, counsellor, said, "We are eager and willing to help all students decide on their major field."

The time taken for the testing and counselling procedures depends on the individual student, according to Professor Glenn, however, it usually takes four to five hours for the tests, followed by several counselling interviews 30 to 50 minutes in length.

Students who are interested in taking the tests, either to decide upon a major field or merely to decide whether or not the field they have already chosen is the best for them, may make arrangements in Rm. 107, Fiske Hall.

Delta Sigma Rho Congress Accepts WU Student's Bill

A bill advocating necessary censorship and limitations of freedom of speech, was passed by the Delta Sigma Rho Student Congress last week at their annual convention in Chicago.

The bill was drawn up by Forrest Tucker, Education senior at the University.

Students from various universities attending the conference were given the opportunity to work out a bill suitable to be presented for consideration by the United States Congress.

Sen. Hubert Humphreys, (D., Minn.) delivered the opening speech to delegates at the banquet.

Other University representatives at the convention were Dick Gregg, Liberal Arts freshman and Janet Noel, Education junior.

Psychology

How Far Does The Ball Roll?

"Over the loudspeaker you will hear a recording of a ball rolling. Can you judge how far it is rolling?"

This question was asked to 144 subjects in a psychological experiment conducted jointly by Dr. David T. Herman, associate professor of psychology, and Miss Barbara Staner, former University student, now doing graduate work at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

The experiment was conducted in order to check the basis by which a person judges things, when he does not have sufficient evidence to accurately judge. To achieve this Dr. Herman simulated simple conditions to see how and whether this condition operates.

Conditions were set up so that three persons were sent into a room alternately, and together, to judge the distance a ball rolled in the recording. The subjects were given no other facts as to the size of the ball, the speed at which it traveled, or the height of incline.

The results of the experiment, as printed in a recent issue of "The Psychological Record," showed that when persons judge by themselves their answers were different than when recorded with a group.

When subjects revealed their answers in groups their answers were similar. "In other words," Dr. Herman said, "they tended to lean on other people who actually had no more information than themselves. There were some, however, that would not change

TV Writing Now Open To Students

University creative writers now have a chance to have their stories produced by branching into television writing.

A new production firm, TV to Broadway, is looking for new quality scripts to fill an increasing demand for dramatic programming.

Oscar S. Lerman, publisher of the New York firm, said that there are thousands of talented writers throughout the country who never have their manuscripts read.

This firm answers that situation, Mr. Lerman indicated, because it is starting an intensive campaign to discover scripts written by promising new playwrights.

This opportunity is similar to actors who tryout for summer stock theaters.

Television is not the only medium of entertainment in which the scripts may fall, Lerman stated. If the script is accepted, the play may also be tried out on the Broadway stage, or in films.

Applications for submitting scripts may be secured by writing to TV to Broadway Productions, Suite 609, 147 West 42 Street, New York City. A self addressed, stamped envelope should be enclosed.

Colo. U. Math Head Here for Conclave

Dr. Burton Jones, head of the University of Colorado mathematics department at Boulder, Colo., will be the main speaker, Saturday, at the forty-first annual Kansas Section Mathematical Association of America meeting and the fifty-first annual meeting of the Kansas Association of Teachers of Mathematics.

Dr. Jones spent last winter as an exchange professor in England. He will speak on "Observations on English Schools and Colleges" and "New Emphasis in Mathematics" at the meetings to be held on the campus.

their decisions, despite what anyone said."

The significance of the experiment, according to Dr. Herman, was a chance to discover to what extent people would rely on each other in every day situations, when they had few or no facts on which to base their judgment. "This sort of thing happens every day when we voice opinions on national and local affairs. Often our opinions coincide with others who know no more than we," he said.

The department hopes to do some more research on what makes certain people change their opinions under such conditions, while others remain steadfast in their decisions.

The work was done on a grant presented to Miss Staner from the Social Science Research Council, Dr. Herman said.

Problem Is Solved

Way up high in the framework of the Fieldhouse ceiling a light blinks — and blinks — and finally goes out. Nearby a noisy transformer hums an irritating sound. Both must be replaced, but how can one get up there?

This problem was faced by John M. Gaddis, superintendent of buildings and grounds. He whipped it.

How? By the purchase of a ladder. But not any ladder would do. A special design had to be made and a special ladder had to be built.

And the ladder the University got was enough to rate a second look. It contains three sections and stands 96 feet tall. It is the tallest extension ladder in commercial use except for ladders used on fire trucks.

The cost of the ladder was approximately $1000. Delivery time was four months.

Geology Prof. Contributes To World-Wide Project

Dr. Paul Tasch, geology department, is now participating in a research project which includes contributors from Paris, London, Melbourne, and other parts of the world.

The project is a "Treatise on Invertebrate Paleontology," a book which is being published by the University of Kansas Press in cooperation with the Geological Society of America.

According to Dr. Tasch, about 75 scholars and scientists are participating or contributing sections for this treatise.

"The purpose of this project is to sum up, in a usable reference work, all facts available pertaining to the fossil invertebrates found in rock records all over the world," Dr. Tasch explained.

Dr. Tasch's portion of the treatise will be a chapter on the Branchiopoda. These are small fossil crustaceans which lived in fresh water ponds in the geologic past.

The professor pointed out that Kansas rock columns contain an abundance of these forms in the Wellington and Ninescah shale formations.

The work on this project is supported by a Sigma-Xi grant-in-aid of Research and by a University Research Fund award.

"As a result of this project," Dr. Tasch said, "I am planning an intensive study of the above mentioned formations with a view toward improving stratigraphic zonation based on these previously neglected fossils."

Association Will Discuss Current Speech Questions

The improvement of speech in the state of Kansas will be emphasized at the annual spring meeting of the Kansas Speech Association to be held April 20 and 21 on the campus, Leslie M. Blake, president of the association, said.

Members participating in the conference will attempt to answer several questions including how can more adequately trained speech teachers be persuaded to enter the speech teaching field in Kansas, should speech be required of all students for graduation from high school, and how can administrators be encouraged to grant additional pay of compensatory time off for the extra work of speech activities.

Several University faculty members will participate as discussion leaders in the conference. Dean Emory Lindquist will give the address of welcome at the general session.

The public relations and promotion discussions will be under the direction of George Goodrich, assistant professor of speech and drama.

Possible uses of newspapers, radio, and TV will be handled by Lester Rosen, public relations director, Paul Gerhard, acting head of the journalism department, and George Gow, of radio station KANS.

The Kansas teachers will be guests of the University Student Forum Friday evening for the last lecture of the year, presented by Henry Hull. Saturday night they will attend the Trig Ballroom, climaxing the convention.

Art Student Wins Grad Assistantship

A full-time graduate assistantship to Ohio University, Athens, Ohio for next year has been awarded to Carolyn Cole, graduating senior in Fine Arts.

Miss Cole's award is for $1400, waiving tuition. She plans to teach 18 hours a week in the art department.

A Mortar Board member this year, she was also AWS president, first semester president of Delta Omega sorority, and past president of Kappa Pi. Her major is drawing and painting.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil B. Cole, 207 N. Parkwood Lane.

Tickets

Campus Cars Create Chaos

Finding a place to park on the campus is quite a problem for most students and some instructors. During the past week two new methods of overcoming the situation have been uncovered.

One is to take the traffic ticket from your car and place it on that of some unobserving student, who is a friend or otherwise. A female student recently paid two parking tickets in one week before she learned that her friends were really the recipients of the tickets.

The second method is to keep an old traffic ticket and place it under your windshield wiper each time you park in a yellow zone. This is the method a female instructor on the campus uses to solve her parking problem.

There are without a doubt many more ways being used by bright University students to keep from walking; so beware of all traffic tickets.

Some enterprising student could probably get rich if he would run a trolley car around the campus between classes and charge students a small fee.

Mel Patton, Shockers head track coach, has five individual National Collegiate Athletic Association track titles. He has three for the 100 yard dash and two for the 220 yard dash.

Harold Manning of Wichita ran the two-mile run in 9:18.1 at the National Collegiate Athletic Association championships in 1930 to become the only Shocker to hold an NCCA championship.

New Officers, Discussions

Plans for Religious Week Ready

Selection of new Religious Council members and the final arrangements for the series of informal discussions have completed the planning for Religious Emphasis Week, April 23 to 29, according to Maribeth Shellenberger, secretary of the Council.

The new officers are to be announced at Friday's session. They are selected by retiring members.

Another part of this meeting will be the summarization of the week's activities by Dr. L. Hekhuis, head of the department of philosophy and religious education, and Dr. Henry H. Malone, assistant professor of English.

Miss Shellenberger said the Council is again hoping for a large number of students in attendance at the different phases of the week's program.

All students are invited, she emphasized, and added that she felt participation in the discussions was a fine opportunity.

One of the additions to the week's events is the "Keynote Kickoff" in which a preview of the week's activities will be presented by Bob Hazen, Council president. The kickoff will be held at 7:15 a.m. Monday in Grace Wilkie Hall Lounge.

Another addition is the fireside chat sponsored by the YWCA scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Pine Room. Three faculty members will preside at this discussion entitled "Courtship and Marriage."

Leaders for the Thursday discussion on the topic "Is Christianity Crushing Culture?" have now been selected. Dr. Albert Parker, assistant professor of history, and Dr. Robert Hamilton, assistant professor psychology, have been chosen to lead this discussion.

Other informal discussions planned include "The Cost of Clear Conscience" Monday, and "Is Religion A Cement Or A Preventer?" All of the informal discussions with exception of the fireside chat, will held from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in Grace Wilkie Hall Lounge.

what's DIFFERENT about this house?*

*it has no CHIMNEYS

*electricity DOES IT ALL

When you plan your home for better living, you can omit the clumsy chimneys that add many dollars to the cost. In the truly modern home, electricity does it all—supplying every service you need, including a wholly new standard of heating.

You'll be delighted with the cleanliness of electric heat. Less dust and dirt saves many hours of tedious house cleaning every year. From ceiling, wall or baseboard panels electricity warms you like sunshine—with even, constant, perfectly controlled radiant heat. Or, if you prefer all-in-one heating and cooling, the amazing heat pump is the perfect all-electric answer.

You can also modernize your present home to meet today's higher standards of comfort and convenience the all-electric way. Electric heating can easily be installed, room by room or throughout. You'll surely spend most of your time in your electrically comfort-conditioned rooms—you'll be spoiled for anything less pleasant! And for every other service and convenience of better living, you'll find it equally true that electricity does it better—electricity does it all!

Girls Walked A Mile From J. Paul Sheedy* Till Wildroot Cream-Oil Gave Him Confidence

"Done anything tonight honey?" Sheedy asked his little desert flower. "Get lost!" she sneered, "Your hair's too shaggy, Sheedy. Confidentially it's a sphinx!" Well, this was really insultant. So J. Paul got some Wildroot Cream-Oil. Now he's the picture of confidence because he knows his hair looks handsome and healthy the way Nature intended . . . neat but not greasy. Take Sheedy's advice. If you want to be popular, get a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. Nomad-der if your hair is straight or curly, thick or thin, a few drops of Wildroot Cream-Oil every morning will keep you looking your best. You'll agree Wildroot really keeps Sahara-n place all day long.

Burns, Hayes Share Awards

Mahala Hayes, Education senior, and David Burns, Liberal Arts junior, were chosen to share a $100 scholarship awarded by the Wichita Pan American Club each year, according to Dr. Eugene Savaiano, head of the Spanish department.

The winners are selected from a group of University and Friends University students, who are majoring in Spanish. Outstanding Spanish students are recommended to the Pan American Scholarship Committee by heads of the two Spanish departments, Dr. Savaiano said.

Members of the Pan American Club, who are native speakers of Spanish, converse with the students in Spanish. They question the students about Spanish speaking countries, language and literature. Also, the students are asked what they plan to do with Spanish in the future.

New Political Group Accepts Applications for May Election

The Better Politics on Campus Association announced Tuesday evening the organization of a nominating committee to select candidates for their slate of officers for the Student Council elections in May.

"This measure is in keeping with our policy to pick the best candidates on campus for office," said Al La Voie, spokesman for the group.

The committee will consist of an equal number of affiliated and unaffiliated students, La Voie said, and each college will be represented.

Anyone who is interested in being a candidate on the B P O C slate may pick up applications in the Student Services office, Rm. 113, Jardine Hall, today or Monday, La Voie said.

La Voie added that the council will seek out other students whom they feel to be

New Mayor Now Serves as Regent

Wichita's new mayor, H. D. Lester, will succeed ex-mayor Claude De Vorss as a member of the University Board of Regents.

The mayor of the city of Wichita, by virtue of office, becomes an ex-officio member of the Board of Regents.

Mayor Lester is retired from active business, and is presently a member of the board of directors of the Fourth National Bank. He resides with his wife at 901 Gilman.

A satire on big business, the play is spun around the adventures of Mrs. Partridge as she turns the world of wall street business brokers upside down.

McKeever, played by Jack Wallwork, downtown businessman, is the executive type businessman who becomes politically inclined. He is shocked by her behavior.

Four stereotyped business men serving on the Wall Street board of directors are Darl Kennell, a University night student; H. D. Anderson, oilman; Norman Boehner, Beacon employee; and David Cook, employed in the city.

Students will be admitted upon presentation of their I.D. cards.

Registrars Attend Detroit Convention

Dr. Worth A. Fletcher, registrar, and Mrs. Laura M. Cross, assistant registrar, are attending the National Convention of Registrars and Admissions Officers for Universities in Detroit, Mich.

Mrs. Cross is a member of the hospitality committee and will serve on the orientation course for new registrars and admissions officers.

A special agent from the United States Secret Service will visit the campus from 3 to 5 p.m. May 2 to interview seniors interested in federal law enforcement careers.

In order to qualify for positions, applicants must be 24 to 30 years old, 5 feet 8 inches to 6 feet 2 inches tall, and have a college degree.

Appointments should be made before Tuesday in the Office of Student Services, Rm. 107, Fiske Hall.

A.A.U.P. Banquet Scheduled April 26

Dr. Earl J. McGrath, president of Kansas City University, will be the principal speaker at the annual spring banquet of the University chapter of the American Association of University Professors, Thursday.

Dr. Vergil Shipley, president of the group, said the banquet will be held in the Pine Room of the Commons Building. He said faculty members are invited.

Dean of Liberal Arts, Emery Lindquist will be a special guest for the evening.
