UNIVERSITY OF WICHITA, WICHITA, KANSAS

March 26, 1957

Gil Tatman Elected To Head Group

Five seniors of the fields of accounting, engineering, journalism, music, and religious education were named Thursday as members of the 1957 Senior Men's Honor Group.

Selected by last year's honor group as the "outstanding senior students on the campus" were: Gilbert Tatman, Richard Hilton, Larry Winkler, Sypros (Ed) Andreopoulos, and Stan McGehee.

Ben Kubes, president of the 1956 Senior Honor Men, conducted installation ceremonies.

Tatman Named

The group elected Tatman as president and Andreopoulos as vice-president.

Hilton, who was absent from ceremonies Thursday because of illness, is an accounting major in Liberal Arts. He plans to enter law school after graduation.

President of Student Forum Board, Hilton is a proportional representative of the Student Council. He is vice-president of Alpha Gamma Gamma Fraternity and has been affiliated with Debate Club and Collegiate Young Democrats.

A graduate of North High School, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hilton, 1418 Pleasant-view Drive.

In Greek Air Force

Andreopoulos, a Greek exchange student, is a journalism major and has held several staff positions on The Sunflower. At present he is a member of the editorial page staff of the Wichita Beacon.

He served in the Greek Air Force during the Korean War and was later employed by the U.S. Information Agency.

He is a member of the Press Club and a former president of the Men's Residence Hall. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Andreopoulos of Athens.

Andreopoulos plans to enter Graduate School here next year to do work in political science.

Football Letterman Named

A three-year varsity football letterman who plans to enter theological seminary next year, McGehee is majoring in religious education.

He is vice-president of Student Council, a former member of Men's Residence Hall executive council, and chaplain of Pi Alpha Pi Fraternity.

During the past year, McGehee has held a temporary pastorate at Perth, Kans.

Son of the Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth McGehee of Belle Plaine, he was graduated in 1953 from Belle Plaine High School.

One of three North High School graduates named to the Honor Group this year, Winkler will receive an Air Force commission following graduation and enter flight school.

Active in Forum

Vice-president of Student Forum Board, Winkler is a member of Alpha Gamma Gamma Fraternity, Arnold Air Society, Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps, Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education fraternity, Kappa Kappa Psi, honorary band fraternity, and Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, honorary music fraternity.

Majoring in music education, he plans to enter teaching after his service tour. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Winkler, 3023 Maple.

Majoring in engineering, Tatman is a former vice-president of Student Council and a varsity football letterman.

He is the third member of the group graduated from North High (Continued on Page 3)

'At War With the Army' To Have New Dimension

The barrier between audience and players common in most stage productions may pretty well be broken down in the forthcoming play, "At War With the Army."

"The audience will be no further than 20 feet, and at times only three feet from the actors," explained George Goodrich, assistant professor of speech and director of the University Players' production.

Audience on Four Sides

The play, to be presented April 25, 26, and 27 in Henrion Gym, will be a "theater in the round." The audience will sit on all four sides of the stage thus creating an intimacy between actors and audience.

Problems are many for such a production, Professor Goodrich said. The lighting must be such as to light the stage and yet be out of the audience's eyes. Makeup must be done carefully because of the closeness of the audience.

Staging is Problem

Staging is also a problem since the audience will sit on all four sides. The changing of scenes between acts will be done by a "GI cleaning detail" in uniform.

Research on the details of the setting was done recently when Professor Goodrich and Dave Fleming, technical director and scene designer, toured McConnell Air Force Base.

Grad School Enrollments Hit New High

A 50 per cent increase in enrollment in the Graduate School has "surprised" the University.

Dr. John Rydjord, dean of the Graduate School, said enrollment this year neared the 450-mark. This is an increase, he said, of some 200 students over enrollment last year.

In explaining the unexpected rise, Dr. Rydjord said the University anticipates an increase when students born during the war will begin their graduate work. That, however, is still some time off, he said.

Dean Rydjord pointed out the greater stress being placed on education both by industry and society as the probable immediate reason behind the increase this year.

Aeronautical engineering and business students represented the two largest increases.

Alumni to Honor Dr. Branch For Her 'Distinctive Service'

A retired faculty member who has served on the University staff for 34 years will be honored by the Alumni Association, Tuesday, when she will be presented with a Recognition Award for her distinctive service in science.

Dr. Hazel E. Branch, professor emerita of zoology, will be presented a Recognition Award given by the Alumni Association for outstanding service to the University.

Dr. Branch will be honored at an open house given by faculty, former students, and friends. She will be presented with the framed certificate by Oliver Elliott, president of the Alumni Association, and Byron Chapell, chairman of the Alumni Association.

New Ticket Plan Set for 'At War'

A new ticket program, designed to assure students of tickets for "At War With the Army," will begin Wednesday.

Students desiring to see the play may pick up tickets at the speech and drama department offices beginning Wednesday, Dr. Eugene Hoak, department head, announced.

The play will be staged in Henrion Gymnasium with only 375 seats available for each performance.

When picking up tickets, students must have them stamped for the night they wish to attend. Tickets will be available from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The offices are located in the Communications Building.

State Aid Defeated By Senate

A bill to give financial aid to Wichita and Washburn universities came up for consideration last Tuesday in the Kansas Senate and was defeated.

The roles and needs of the two municipal universities were introduced by Senators Garner Shriver and James Porter.

It marked the first time that these matters had received the attention of the full Senate.

Earlier, the Senate Education Committee had recommended passage of the bill, as amended to include municipal universities.

A number of factors, including indecision on the state's revenue program and an amendment which would provide state aid to any city establishing a junior college in the future resulted in a 24-15 vote against the bill.

Bookstore Has Them Seniors Should Order Rings Now to Assure Prompt Delivery

Although all University students may purchase University rings, seniors should know that, if they delay ordering until the last of the semester, at least eight weeks will pass before the Bookstore is able to fill the order.

This information was received recently from Frank M. Roberts, manager of the University Bookstore. Many rings are available now at the University Bookstore.

The rings come from the Herff Jones Company in Indianapolis. Several years ago a representative from that company made several drawings to try to meet the wishes of the Student Council, officers of the senior class, and the executive board of the Alumni Association.

Ring Designs Displayed

Drawings of the ring design were displayed in the Bookstore and in the trophy case in the Alibi Room so students could view them and express their desires concerning the selection of the University ring.

After the drawings had been appraised by University students, the selection was made by a group consisting of a representative of the Student Council, president of the senior class, a representative of the executive board of the Alumni Association, James K. Sours, director of student services, and Lester Rosen, director of public relations.

Choir Head To Conduct Workshop

Julius Herford, German-born choral music instructor, will conduct a two-day workshop for choral directors and voice teachers in the Fine Arts Center, Thursday and Friday.

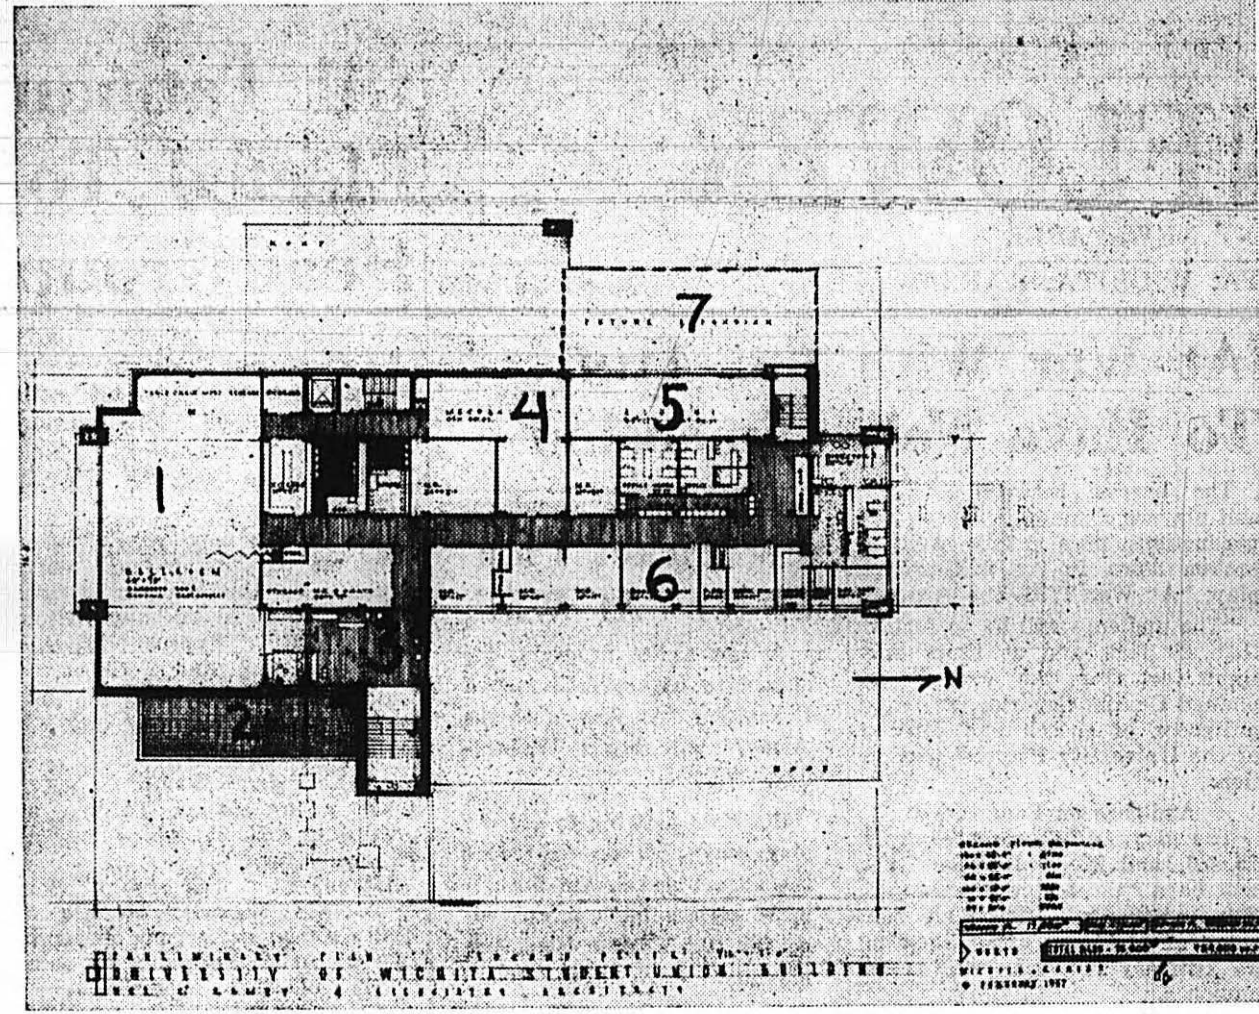

Mr. Herford, instructor at Westminster Choir College, Princeton, N.J., will coach soloists on Beethoven's "Ninth Symphony" and direct a seminar on German music. The workshop, open to the public, will be attended by music teachers from the Wichita school system.

Combined chorus and orchestra rehearsals of Beethoven's "Ninth Symphony" will be held both afternoons of the workshop.

Recognized by music educators as one of the great teachers of choral music today, Mr. Herford has co-directed a choral workshop at San Diego, Calif., with Robert Shaw, once a student of Mr. Herford. Others who have studied under him include Roger Wagner.

Outdoor Balcony Planned in Union

INCLUDED IN THE DRAWINGS for the second floor of the Campus Activities Center are the following facilities: 1, ballroom; 2, terrace; 3, lobby; 4, mechanical facilities; 5, alumni offices; 6, board room; and 7, area for future expansion. Arrows indicate entrances.

Dance Area Included In SU Center

A balcony for outdoor dancing and administrative offices for the staff of the Campus Activities Center will be major points of interest on the second floor of the proposed building.

Officers for William M. Glenn, recently appointed center counselor, will be located on the second level of the student union structure. It also provides office space for the Student Council and other student organizations.

Balcony Dancing Featured

One of the main features of the air conditioned building will be ballroom facilities on second floor, including a balcony for outdoor dancing.

The ballroom will seat approximately 300 people for banquets or 200 couples for dancing.

Banquet dinners will be prepared in the kitchen on the main floor and transferred by an elevator to the banquet hall.

The ballroom will be constructed so it can be divided into two rooms for separate activities.

Student Offices On 2nd Floor

The remainder of the second floor will house offices for student groups needing office space full or part time.

The University Alumni Association will also have an office on the second floor.

Backward Glance

America was returning to relative prosperity after the Great Depression in 1937. Thoughts of dust storms and bread lines were forgotten as Americans by the thousands flocked to their bookstores and libraries to read Margaret Mitchell's Pulitzer Prize winning novel of the South—"Gone With the Wind."

Early in the year, however, America's heart was extended across the Atlantic Ocean to Mrs. Wallis Simpson and the abdicated King of England who gave up his throne and family to marry "the woman I love." The couple were married on June 3.

And another woman figured in the news when Amelia Earhart, aviatrix, was lost on a world flight somewhere in the Pacific.

Recorded High Enrollment

The University's all-time high enrollment 20 years ago reached the staggering figure of 1,345 which dropped to 1,100 during the second semester.

This was the year for the organization of the Student Forum Board, which according to a story in the Sunflower, was organized as a non-political organization.

An item near the bottom of page one of the yellowed Sunflowers of 1936-37 noted that Phi Upsilon Sigma Fraternity had recently held an election to replace Vice-president Harry Corbin who was working in Illinois. He was expected to return to the campus the second semester, the article said.

Victory Over St. Louis

February, 1937, also marked the opening of the Commons Fountain and Pine Room. Among the items featured in the fountain room were "well-balanced dinners—25 cents, ham salad sandwiches—10 cents, and malts and shakes—10 cents."

On the sports page it was reported that the Shockers had staged a "brilliant come-back victory" over the St. Louis Billikens, defeating them 32-31.

Cress, Savaiano to Spend Easter Vacation Together

Two University professors plan to share Easter vacations in Europe.

Dr. Alan Cress, head of the German department, and Dr. Eugene Savaiano, head of the Spanish department, will meet in Austria. Both are on leaves of absence from the University.

Dr. Cress, the first University professor to receive a Fulbright exchange grant, is teaching English in Kassel, Germany. In September, 1956, he started teaching at the Jaco Grimm Hochschule, an institution which corresponds to an American high school and junior college. He plans to return to the University September, 1957.

The professor's wife and two children, Nancy, 6, and Gary, 7 months, accompanied him to Germany. At first Mrs. Cress had difficulty in shopping due to the language and customs. She now has become acquainted with both the language and the customs, according to Dr. Brigitta J. Kuhn, acting head of the German department.

The Cress family have completely changed their way of living through language, food, and everyday living habits. They have bought an Opel, a large German car.

Nancy is attending kindergarten and will enter elementary school before they leave Germany.

Dr. Savaiano has been in Spain doing historical research on Amadeo de Saboya, king of Spain from 1870 to 1873. He, his wife and three children left for the island of Majorca in the Mediterranean recently. They plan to visit Valencia, Barcelona, Southern France and Italy before returning to the United States this summer.

Turner Wins GOP Position

Jack Turner, chairman of Collegiate Young Republicans here, was elected first vice-chairman of the state board of Collegiate Young Republicans at its convention, March 15 to 17 at Emporia.

As a state officer, Turner will serve on the group's executive council. The council meets yearly to map plans for Kansas college groups in coordination with the Republican party.

A resolution to hold a workshop at Wichita for officers of the Collegiate Republican clubs throughout the state was passed at the convention. The University club will serve as hosts for the workshop.

"What's it like to work for a big, expanding company like IBM? What would I be asked to do? Would I get ahead fast?" These were some of the questions that filled Bob Everett's mind as he faced up to the big problem, "How can I put my M.B.A. training to the best possible use?"

Bob came directly to IBM from Cornell in July, 1955, with an M.B.A. in finance. He was immediately assigned, with twenty-nine other M.B.A.'s, to a Business Administration training program. This six months' program comprised general orientation in the entire IBM organization, a six weeks' field trip to the

Developing a new system

Syracuse branch office and several months at the Poughkeepsie manufacturing facilities. There he gained a functional knowledge of IBM machines, particularly the 700 series of giant electronic computers.

His training completed by January, 1956, Bob was assigned to the Methods Department as a Methods Analyst at IBM World Headquarters in New York City. Here, with the cooperation of operating department personnel, he worked on the development of systems and procedures for the various Division areas. In addition to normal methods techniques used in developing systems and procedures, he studied these projects in terms of possible machine application for either IBM high-speed giant computers or conventional accounting equipment. One project was the study of the Machine Ordering procedure with the objective of simplifying and mechanizing it and at the same time improving the source information to provide for a more complete analysis of sales and production backlog.

"What's it like to be in BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION AT IBM?"

Two years ago, Robert Everett asked himself this question. Today, as Administrative Assistant to the Divisional Controller, Bob reviews his experience at IBM and gives some pointers that may be helpful to you in taking the first, most important step in your business career.

Filtering out the "hot" projects

Promoted the same year

By December of the same year, Bob was promoted to his present job—Administrative Assistant to the Controller of the Data Processing Division. "The first function of an Administrative Assistant," says Bob, "is to filter out the 'hot' projects from those that can be handled later. You follow through on projects assigned by the controller and keep him posted on their progress." Bob's new position affords a pleasant diversification of work: charting divisional responsibilities of the controller's function . . . plans for decentralization . . . costs of regionalization . . . summarizing key financial and statistical information for presentation to top management.

Bob points out that there are many areas in Business Administration at IBM for men with an M.B.A. or a B.S. in accounting: corporate, general, and factory accounting; internal audit; methods; payroll and taxes. Administrative and management positions constantly open up at World Headquarters, IBM's 188 branch offices, many plants and laboratories.

Why Bob picked IBM

Bob made a careful study of existing opportunities before selecting IBM for his career. He had a dozen campus interviews; took nine company tours. IBM's M.B.A. program interested him—because, as he says, "It gave me a chance to review the entire company before starting an actual line assignment." He was intrigued by the increasing use of data processing equipment in finance and he knew that IBM was a leader in this field. Salary-wise, he found IBM better than many, but it was company growth potential that motivated his choice. "Opportunity certainly exists at IBM," he says. "Growth factors alone will account for many new executive positions. A second factor is the trend toward decentralization, which also creates new jobs. These factors, plus IBM's 'promote-from-within' policy, add up to real opportunity."

"Opportunity certainly exists at IBM"

IBM hopes that this message will help to give you some idea of what it's like to be in Business Administration at IBM. There are equal opportunities for E.E.'s, M.E.'s, physicists, mathematicians and Liberal Arts majors in IBM's many divisions—Research, Product Development, Manufacturing Engineering, Sales and Sales Assistance. Why not drop in and discuss IBM with your Placement Director? He can supply our latest brochure and tell you when IBM will next interview on your campus. Meanwhile, our Manager of College Relations, Mr. P. H. Bradley, will be happy to answer your questions. Write him at IBM, Room 10001, 590 Madison Ave., New York 22, N.Y.
