

QUESTIONS ANSWERED—Dr. Martin Palmer, director of the Institute of Logopedics, looks on as the Honorable Copola Menon, consul-general of India, answers students' questions after his lecture presented during the "Select-a-Lecture" phase of "Operation Egghead." The consul general spoke on "The United States and India—Products of Various Revolutions." He also spoke to several political science classes earlier in the morning.

Honor Breakfast, Scholarship Ends First 'Egghead Week'

"Operation Egghead" was climaxed this morning with a breakfast in the Commons and the awarding of a scholarship to Marilyn Hoagland, Fine Arts sophomore.

Sponsored by Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, "Egghead Week" began Monday.

Highlight of the week was the "select-a-lecture" phase of the program, which was held Wednesday morning.

Seven Lectures Held
Seven University professors held lectures for the students at 9:30 a.m. in different rooms on the campus.

Marcene Solomon, Fine Arts senior, and chairman of "Operation Egghead," termed the program "highly successful."

"Two of the lectures had 'standing-room only,' and the others also had excellent crowds," Miss Solomon said.

Book List Popular
She noted that many students had inquired as to whether "Operation Egghead" would be an annual event, and said it would depend upon the Mortar Board members each year.

The "Browser's Book List," which was distributed in conjunction with the week, was also popular with the students, Miss Solomon added. She said it was hard to estimate how many had been given out, although the number reached several hundred by Wednesday afternoon.

Honor Breakfast Held
The breakfast, held in the Commons Dining Room, was in honor of the students who had maintained a 3.7 or better grade average. Some 35 invitations were extended for the affair.

Special guests included the professors who spoke Wednesday.

Alumnae Award Scholarship
The scholarship, which was awarded to Miss Hoagland, was presented by the Mortar Board alumnae to the sophomore woman with the highest grade average. Miss Hoagland has straight-A grades.

A member of Kappa Phi and Tau Beta Sigma, Miss Hoagland is majoring in music, with a minor in English.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gail T. Hoagland, Dodge City.

To Teach; Kirk' Says

Athletic Director Robert P. Kirkpatrick requested Wednesday to be relieved of his administrative duties and to return to teaching in the physical education department.

In a letter to President Harry Corbin, he said, "I am grateful for the opportunity to serve and have served in this position of great responsibility. However, for personal reasons and health factors, I am asking that I be relieved from the duties of Director of Athletics no later than June 1959. Until that time I will be happy to continue in this position."

Kirkpatrick succeeded Norvall on Nov. 1, 1955, and has led the University athletic directorship since that time. Prior to assuming his current position, he had been an assistant professor of physical education. He will continue to serve as athletic director until a successor is appointed and will become an associate professor at the beginning of the next fiscal year, on July 1, according to President Corbin.

Prof Contest Open to All

Want to earn some extra "brownie points" this semester? The Sunflower staff suggests you enter the name of your favorite professor in its new contest, Favorite Prof of the Week, which will begin with Tuesday's issue.

The rules for the contest are quite simple—any University student may enter this one!

Each Tuesday, a ballot will appear on the front page of the Sunflower. You need only to write in the name of the professor (or instructor, as the case may be), and the department in which he is teaching. Then, sign your name and the college in which you are enrolled. But, only ONE vote per student is permitted each week. Then, mail your vote, or bring it to The Sunflower, Rm. 116, Communications Building. Your ballot must be in by noon, Friday, of the week it appears in the paper.

Prep Seniors Scheduled To Visit WU

A series of organized visits of Wichita high school seniors to the University campus will take place this semester. According to Mrs. Laura Cross, assistant registrar, the visits will provide an opportunity for the high school seniors to become acquainted with the University and the offerings of its departments.

During the first semester of this year 41 per cent of the University's total enrollment came from the various local high schools, according to Mrs. Cross.

The visits are being conducted to establish some goals for closer cooperation between the high schools and the University, she said.

The first group of seniors will be from West High School, and will visit the campus next Tuesday. The entire group will hold a brief meeting in the Fine Arts Center Auditorium. The students will then be divided into groups, and will visit the departments of their choice.

Students who will participate in the visits will include those who have indicated an interest in attending the University, have three point grade indexes, and have taken the National Merit Examinations, as well as others selected by high school counselors.

Eligible WU Students Can Get Federal Loans

The University has been allotted $9,091 to establish a national defense student loan program for the current semester.

The allotment represents nearly 10 per cent of the initial federal allotment of $97,508 made to Kansas colleges and universities. It is part of the $6 million national loan program established by the 1958 National Defense Education Act.

According to the law, the program was set up "to identify and educate more of the talent of our nation and insure trained manpower of sufficient quality and quantity to meet the national defense needs of the United States."

Applications Being Taken
Loans will be available during the current semester. The student aid and scholarship committee, headed by Prof. Jack D. Heysinger, dean of the College of Business Administration and Industry, will direct the University loan fund.

Asst. Prof. Paul Chrisman, student aid counselor, will administer the loan program. Prof. Chrisman said that borrowers may apply now at the student aid office, Rm 105, Fiske Hall. Processing of loan requests already on file will begin immediately, he added.

Special considerations in the selection of loan recipients will be given to outstanding students who plan to teach or to specialize in

SGA Gives Approval To Code

The Student Government Association met Monday night, approved an organization code among other things, and then adjourned for coffee and an informal discussion with deans of the colleges.

The code states that a student organization is "organized by and for students for the pursuit of academic, cultural, social, and/or religious purposes."

The criteria for recognition of an organization is that it (1) must have the sponsorship and assistance of a faculty advisor; (2) its activities must reflect favorably towards the purposes and goals of the University; (3) that it must file a semesterly status report; and (4) that its membership must be consistent with its stated purpose and with the purposes of the University.

The code goes on to state the privileges of a recognized student organization.

In other business, upon the recommendation of John Allen, SGA president, Sonja Pumpelly, Business Administration senior, was hired as reporter for the Student-Faculty Court.

Miss Pumpelly will be paid two dollars an hour for each she is in court, and will receive one dollar an hour for the typing which she

WU Adopts M.S. Degree In Education

University education majors can now obtain a master of science education degree.

At its monthly meeting Monday night, the Board of Regents approved a recommendation by President Harry F. Corbin for a course of study leading to the degree.

Students desiring the degree must be eligible for a teacher's certificate and have a grade index of 2.5 before beginning graduate studies.

Attainment of the degree requires 30 hours graduate work with six hours of lower division credit.

The board also approved the resignation of Andrew J. Craig, aeronautical engineering instructor. Mr. Craig has accepted a position as test pilot for an aircraft firm.

President Corbin announced that the University has received $9,091 from the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare for use as long-term loans to students for completing their education.

STUDY APPLICATIONS—Paul Chrisman, student aid director, and a student study an application blank for the new loan program made possible by a federal allotment to the University.

Moss Gets CAC Post; Serves in Hicks' Position

Paul Moss, Liberal Arts junior, has been named to the post of Cultural and Educational Director of the Campus Activities Center, effective immediately.

Moss replaces Carole Hicks, Fine Arts junior, who resigned the post.

The new director attended El Dorado Junior College and attended the University of Kansas. He served with the U. S. Army in England.

Moss is president of Canterbury Club and of the United Christian Fellowship. He also is a member of the International Students Club.

According to Diane Copeland, CAC board member, duties of the appointee include directing the activities of the Film Society, the art and music committees, and the new Student-Faculty Discussion group.

Moss will work in conjunction with the chairmen of the Social and Recreational Committee and the Administrative and Executive committee. These chairmen are Jim Hadley and Leon Drouhard.

Attention, Seniors!

All senior students who expect to graduate in May, 1959, are required to call at their respective deans' offices, according to Mrs. Litz Trout, secretary to the dean of education.

It is necessary for each senior to sign a degree card and to check his current enrollment with Mrs. Trout before Feb. 15.

El Dorado Schedules Noted Greek Classic

A film version of Sophocles' 2,000-year-old tragedy, "Oedipus Rex," will be presented at the Roxy Theater in El Dorado, Kans., next Wednesday.

The 88-minute movie begins at 8:30 p.m. and features Douglas Cambell as Oedipus. The Stratford Ontario Shakespearian Festival Players make up the rest of the cast. Admission is $1.

'Egghead' Success

"Operation Egghead" has ended, and it was a definite success.

A first on this campus and by far the most intelligent first to have happened this year, it was a positive step toward intellectualism on the college level.

The "Select-a-Lecture" phase of "Operation Egghead" was much more successful than anticipated. At least two of the lecture rooms were filled to standing room only. These rooms are among the largest lecture rooms on the campus. Another, smaller, room had an overflow crowd that stood in the hall while listening to the lecturer. All the other lectures were filled with near-capacity crowds.

Many students that would normally cut a convocation for the confines of the off-campus coffee shops deserted those places for the academic atmosphere of the lecture halls.

As for the rest of the week, the "Firesides" went well, too. Considering, though, that these were held in the dorms and the houses of the social organizations, they were expected to be successful.

Questions have been asked about whether "Operation Egghead" will be held every year. This will be entirely up to the Mortar Board groups of the coming years.

The Sunflower feels, though, that "Egghead" should be a yearly affair, and urges Mortar Board to consider this.

We also congratulate Mortar Board for helping to maintain an air of positive thinking on the campus.

The Vanguard

Things are poppin' in the CAC committee meetings.

With the Campus Activities Center opening postponed until after the first of April, ten campus leaders and their committees have failed to have their spirits dampened. Neither the weather, nor the fact that the heating system in the new building was installed incorrectly the first time, has disheartened these conscientious groups.

The 10 chairmen, and their committees, totaling just over 60 students, have been hard at work for some time now. Meeting each week with the coordinator, formerly Carole Hicks, but now Paul Moss, the groups have booked a jazz concert, have scheduled a trip to Kansas City to see the "Music Man" (this afternoon), tried to plan a ski trip, and are working on the Film Society schedule.

Under the direction of Marshall Williams, program director of the CAC, the committees represent every student on the campus. Not only are the social organizations represented, but also the married students, the graduate fellows, the night-school students—and the "plain 'ole students."

But even better things are to come. There are visions of booking the Kingston Trio for the spring, and plans are presently being completed for student tours through the building while still under construction.

These are groups that will "never say die." They are constantly facing obstacles be it weather or otherwise—but are pushing ahead.

They are determined to work for every student on the campus. And, indications are that we have only had a short preview of what is to come after April. More power to them.

Hodge-Podge

Due to the persistent requests of cheerleaders, the football team, and Mother, this column will again appear this semester with some degree of regularity.

We hear there's a new club being formed—and are hoping it will meet with the approval of the Organizations Code of the Student Government Association. This one will be called "The Hidden Requirements Club," and its membership will be composed of seniors who found out last week they won't graduate May 31.

Attention Greeks: Don't say who told you, but there are only 84 more days until Hippodrome!

The Daily Northwestern reports that the school's 7-foot freshman basketball star, Mike McCoy, decided to transfer to the University of Miami. "Scholastic reasons," the paper reports. It seems McCoy received a C and two D's first quarter. His roommate reported, "He was very disappointed with his grades. He figured he'd worked pretty hard."

One unusually bright coed was heard to remark the other day, "It seems strange to me that it's always the freshmen and sophomore girls that come back with the pins and diamonds after the Christmas holidays. The senior girls merely come back." That did take some real clear-cut thinking, didn't it???

We were hoping that after 3½ years of University life, we would be able to understand Mikrokosmos this year. But alas, we were forced to put it on the bookshelf. Well, maybe next year . . .

Just think of the highlights around the corner for the second semester.

The Honor Men will soon announce the junior men they have selected for membership. They will be those juniors who the group thinks will embarrass them least during the next year.

The Honors Convo is coming up too. That's the day the students who have attended class the most are honored.

The BWOC Banquet will be the mad social event of May. Any campus woman who thinks she's half-way important will go—if she can find an organization to sponsor her. Many, many go—so an adequate profit can be made on the dinner.

And we can't forget the

QUEENS.

Then the Friday Afternoon Club will meet and select 659 campus coeds who they think should grab one of next year's many queen titles. Oh, we could go on and on . . . but space limits us . . .

Let's forget about all the "guys and gals" and start talking about the "joes and janes." . . .

IS STUDYING NECESSARY?

Once there were three roommates and their names were Walter Pellucid, Casimir Fing, and LeRoy Holocaust and they were all taking English lit. They were all happy, friendly, outgoing types and they all smoked Philip Morris Cigarettes as you would expect from such a gregarious trio, for Philip Morris is the very essence of sociability, the very spirit of amity, the very soul of concord, with its tobacco so mild and true, its packs so soft and flip-top, its length so regular or long size. You will find when you smoke Philip Morris that the birds sing for you and no man's hand is raised against you.

Each night after dinner Walter and Casimir and LeRoy went to their room and studied English lit. For three hours they sat in sombre silence and pored over their books and then, squinty and spent, they toppled onto their pallets and sobbed themselves to sleep.

This joyless situation obtained all through September and October. Then one November night they were all simultaneously struck by a marvelous idea. "We are all studying the same thing," they cried. "Why, then, should each of us study for three hours? Why not each study for one hour? It is true we will only learn one-third as much that way, but it does not matter because there are three of us and next January before the exams, we can get together and pool our knowledge!"

Oh, what rapture then fell on Walter and Casimir and LeRoy! They flung their beanies into the air and danced a schottische and lit thirty or forty Philip Morris and ran out to pursue the pleasure which had so long, so bitterly, been missing from their lives.

Alas, they found instead a series of grisly misfortunes. Walter, alas, went searching for love and was soon going steady with a coed named Invicta Breadstuff, a handsome lass, but, alas, hopelessly addicted to bowling. Each night she bowled five hundred lines, some nights a thousand. Poor Walter's thumb was a shambles and his purse was empty, but Invicta just kept on bowling and in the end, alas, she left Walter for a pin-setter, which was a terrible thing to do to Walter, especially in this case, because the pin-setter was automatic.

Walter, of course, was far too distraught to study his English lit, but he took some comfort from the fact that his roommates were studying and they would help him before the exams. But Walter, alas, was wrong. His roommates, Casimir and LeRoy, were nature lovers and they used their free time to go for long tramps in the woods. One November night, alas, they were treed by two bears, Casimir by a brown bear and LeRoy by a Kodiak, and they were kept in the trees until mid-January when winter set in and the brown bear and the Kodiak went away to hibernate.

...The effects were, on the whole, beneficial...

So when the three roommates met before exams to pool their knowledge, they found they had none to pool! Well sir, they had a good long laugh about that and then rushed to the kitchen and stuck their heads in the oven. It was, however, an electric oven and the effects were, on the whole, beneficial. The wax in their ears got melted and they acquired a healthy tan and today they are married to a lovely young heiress named Gaglia Bran and live in the Canal Zone, where there are many nice boats to wave at.

WU To Host Track Clinic

The University tomorrow will host a track and field clinic for midwest track coaches and officials. The clinic will be held in the Fieldhouse.

The program is under the supervision of Fritz Snodgrass, Shocker track mentor. It will start at 9:30 a.m., and continue until after a showing of films at 2:30 p.m., of track champions in action and in training.

E. A. Thomas will start the clinic with a discussion on track meet management and promotion. This will be followed by a lecture on conditioning of runners, and a talk on conditioning and technique of field events by Alex Francis, track coach at Ft. Hays State College.

Archie San Romani, Sr., of Wichita, a former Olympic champion, will talk on "Running in the Olympics."

Shocks Drop 2 Valley Tilts

The steadily improving Wheatshockers saw two valiant efforts go for naught over the weekend as they dropped two Missouri Valley Conference tilts within a span of three days.

Saturday evening the Millermen invaded the Cincinnati Bearcats fair and came out on the short end of a 95-87 count with Oscar Robertson leading the way for the Bearcats with 44 points.

On Monday night, the Shockers went down to a 60-52 setback at the hands of Chuck Osborn's potent Bradley Braves at Peoria.

In both tests, the Shocks were horrible in the first few minutes of play but came on strong with more than commendable efforts. At Cincinnati, Wichita dropped behind 22 points in the first seven minutes and at Peoria, the local quintet spotted the Braves a 20-5 lead in the first six minutes.

'New' Shockers Make Debut

BY JIM COLLIER
Sunflower Sports Editor

The Shocker basketball squad returns to the Fieldhouse tomorrow night to face a strong Memphis State quintet. Game time is 8 p.m.

Tomorrow's game will enable Shocker fans to see for the first time two new Shocker basketball personalities. Lanny Van Eman, high point Shocker at Cincinnati, and Stu Heller, a 6-5, 200 pound huskie. Both will be eligible to play in the Roundhouse for the first time.

The two transfer students first became eligible at Cincinnati where Van Eman made, perhaps, one of the most promising debuts in Shocker cage history. He took command of Shocker floor play and poured in 21 points in the Shocker's 95-87 losing effort against the nationally-ranked Bearcats.

In the preliminary, the undefeated Shocker frosh host Iola Junior College. The freshman game starts at 6 p.m.

Wiley Back

Gene Wiley, 6 foot 10 inch center for the yearlings, returns to the line-up after a layoff due to a broken foot bone.

Coach Ralph Miller's probable starting line-up will have Al Tate and Ron Heller at the forwards, El Urban at center, and Lanny

Van Eman and Virg Brady at the guard spots.

Bowlers To Meet Tuesday Afternoon

A meeting at the Skybowl on Tuesday, Feb. 10, will mark the beginning of intramural bowling for the second semester. The meeting is scheduled for 3 p.m.

Bowling Director Paul Sorenson urges all those who are planning to enter a team or teams, or those interested in bowling, to attend.

"It will be our first and only meeting to get the competition rolling," Sorenson emphasized.

in the Fieldhouse. Students are urged to get their tickets as soon as possible, and to avoid getting them at the ticket gate the night of the game. Tickets are expected to go fast for the game featuring All-American Oscar Robertson and the highly-ranked Bearcats.

Each student may pick up one ticket by presenting his ID cards, and will be permitted to receive five additional ducats with five other ID's. Spouse cards will be honored.

Students can also get two guest tickets with ID's by paying the regular general admission price. There are only 200 guest tickets available.

If other information is desired students can call the ticket office at MU 3-5581.

Need Considered

Applicants for the loans must be full-time graduate or undergraduate students. To be eligible for a loan, the student must also be in need of the amount of his loan to pursue his studies and must be in good standing at the University.

Students may borrow up to $1,000 each year and up to $5,000 during the course of their studies. One year after the borrower ceases to be a full-time student, repayment of the loan begins. Repayment must be concluded within 10 years.

If the borrower becomes a full-time teacher in a public elementary or secondary school for a period of five years, up to 50 per cent of the loan may be cancelled.

No interest will be charged on the loan prior to the beginning of the repayment schedule. Interest thereafter will be paid at the rate of 3 per cent a year.

He also told members that high school students who are interested in possibly enrolling in the University have been invited to tour the campus in February and March. Members of SGA will cooperate with University officials in conducting the tours.

Senior Class President Dick Gregg was appointed chairman of the May Day activities. The SGA will hear a report from him at their first meeting in March.

Miss Watson also announced to the Association that there was no charge for the voting machines which were used in the Homecoming Queen election in October. She added that the Board of County Commissioners had decided the machines served an educational purpose while on the campus.

Bill Little, graduate fellow who is serving on SGA, moved that a financial statement of the group be published annually in The Sunflower. His motion was passed.
