March 15 Set for Greek Sing; All Social Organizations Enter

The second annual Greek Sing will be presented at 3:30 p.m., March 15, in the Auditorium of the Fine Arts Center.

The Sing will be open only to social organizations and is under the sponsorship of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, national honorary music fraternity, and Mu Phi Epsilon, national honorary music sorority.

"The purpose of the Sing is to promote school spirit, increase interest in music, and help establish greater unity among the Greek organizations," said Alison Comstock, co-chairman of the 1959 Greek Sing.

Two songs will be sung by each group. A fraternity or sorority song may be included. The groups will be asked to sing the Alma Mater together as a finale.

The entering groups will be allowed no outside help. The songs must be memorized, and the only accompaniment allowed will be the piano.

This year there will be five judges. Two will be from the campus, and the other three will be from off campus.

Judging will be done in five areas. Points will be given for participation, general stage appearance, and selection of songs. The groups will also be judged on their tone and intonation, and interpretation.

Two traveling trophies will be awarded, one to the winning sorority, and one to the winning fraternity.

Last year's winners were Delta Gamma, in the women's division, and Pi Alpha Pi in the men's division.

Debaters Go To Chicago 'Invitational' Tourney

Participation in what is termed the most coveted of all intercollegiate debate tournaments, a speech by the chairman of an important Senate subcommittee, and a part in a mock legislative session will be experienced by University debaters this month.

On Feb. 11, the debate team will travel to Chicago to compete with 65 colleges and universities in a tournament for which Northwestern University will be the host.

To Visit Nebraska U.

The last part of the month will find the Wichitans visiting the University of Nebraska at Lincoln.

Prof. Mel Moorhouse, WU debate coach, said the invitation to the Northwestern tourney should be highly prized.

"In the usual tournaments, almost any school may enter, but the Northwestern tournament has a limit of 65 schools ranging from the Ivy league to the Pacific Coast," Professor Moorhouse stated. "This is generally recognized as the outstanding tournament of intercollegiate debate."

U. S. Senator to Speak

The Chicago tourney will have an added feature this year. Senator Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) will be the special guest speaker. Humphrey is chairman of the Disarmament Subcommittee, and has just returned from a visit in the Soviet Union.

At Nebraska U., the Shocker debaters will participate in a mock legislative session. Professor Moorhouse claimed this would give the participants a better understanding of parliamentary procedure and the mechanics of a congress.

Before embarking upon the Nebraska trip, the University debaters will conduct an exhibition debate before students of Sacred Heart Academy. It will take place Feb. 18.

Upon their return from Lincoln, another exhibition debate is scheduled for March 1 against a touring Jewish school.

Campus Coeds Can Consider Career in Sky

A representative of Braniff Airways will visit the campus next week to brief coeds on that airline's air hostess career program.

Miss Maxine Harper, assistant to the chief hostess for Braniff, will be here Feb. 10 and 11.

The airline's list of basic qualifications include a high IQ, good character and background, attractive appearance, pleasant disposition, and a genuine interest in meeting people.

Applicants must be 19 to 26 years of age, 5 feet 2 inches to 5 feet 7 inches in height, weight in proportion to height (not in excess of 130 pounds), have good vision without glasses, and be single. A minimum of two years of college training or equivalent business experience is required. The airline conducts its own training school to give hostess trainees thorough technical training and polish.

Applications can be picked up in the Student Services Office, Rm. 113, Jardine Hall.

The Court Speaks Out - Millet

Editor's Note: The following is the text of a prepared statement by Dr. John Millet, assistant professor of political science and Chief Justice of the Student-Faculty Court. Dr. Millet defines the purpose of the court and how it functions. He also suggests to the Student Government Association how the court can be improved. The first session of the court rendered decisions on two cases involving University students, and dismissed a third.)

As a new and unprecedented body on this campus, the Supreme Court is aware of the need for caution and discretion in establishing its procedures and its position in the Student Government Association. We are hopeful that we may make a contribution to student government, aiding the students to share in the responsibilities of the University community. Our objectives include far more than the establishment of "discipline," however that might be defined. We rather feel that we may aid the greatest good of the University as well as the peace and justice for all individuals of our community.

We have decided to ask the cooperation of the Student Congress in establishing basic procedures for parties against whom motions are brought, by adopting the following rules:

- 1) Any party against whom motions are brought may have, if he desires, a representative to speak for him before the Court. A representative may be any enrolled student of the University.
- 2) Any party against whom motions have been brought, or a representative, may question the witness before the Court.
- 3) Any party against whom motions have been brought may, at an appropriate place at the beginning of the proceedings, make the following motions to the Court:
 - a) to challenge the presence of a member of the Court for due cause;
 - b) to challenge the jurisdiction of the Court;
 - c) to request postponement of the proceedings. This motion shall be granted at the discretion of the Court only under exceptional circumstances. A motion for postponement for cause may be made in writing the Chief Justice two or more days prior to the scheduled date of the proceedings.
- 4) In addition to these three rules of procedure, the Court will request the Congress to adopt one additional rule: Only members of the University community, except for members specifically invited to the Court, may attend Court sessions.
- 5) The Court, itself, has adopted the practice of giving any person against whom allegations have been brought, to have the choice of three alternatives when before the Court.
 - a) He may make a sworn statement, which is subject to cross-examination;
 - b) he may make an unsworn statement which is not subject to cross-examination;
 - c) he may remain silent, and the silence may not be held to his prejudice.

The Court genuinely hopes that it will be able to develop precedents and procedures which will become a vital part of University life. To that end, it asks the cooperation of the student body, faculty, and administration as it works out its course in these uncharted ways.

Cadet Staff Named For Army ROTC

The Army ROTC cadet staff for the second semester has been announced by Lieut. Col. John J. Beeson III, professor of military science and tactics.

Cadet rank and assignments are: Lieut. Col. James Miner, Business Administration senior, commanding officer; Lieut. Col. Kenneth Fortney, Liberal Arts senior, inspector general; Maj. Arthur Kelly, Liberal Arts senior, executive officer; Capt. William Harvey, Education senior, adjutant; Capt. Gerald Stude, Liberal Arts senior, plans and training officer; and Capt. Neil McCarron, Business Administration senior, supply officer.

Others include 1st Lieut. Norris Barker, Liberal Arts junior, public information officer; 1st Lieut. Robert Key, Liberal Arts senior, personnel officer; Capt. Basil Smith, Liberal Arts senior, and Capt. Charles Slaby, Liberal Arts senior, special training officers; and M/Sgt. Roger Evans, Liberal Arts junior, sergeant major.

Attention, Seniors!

Students expecting to graduate in May, 1959, or in August, 1959, must have signed an application for a degree card in their college by Feb. 15.

Film Society Lists Program

A feature film, short subject, and cartoon are on the agenda for the next Film Society presentation on Feb. 19.

"Golden Demon", a Japanese film about the effect of greed on a man who loses his sweetheart to a rich noble, will be the feature presentation. The film is in Eastman color.

A 20-minute dance film, "Lament," stars Spanish dancer Jose Limon, who appeared in a dance program at the Fine Arts Center in 1957.

The cartoon features Gerald McBoing-Boing.

Showtime is 8:15 p.m. in the Commons Auditorium. Students are admitted free and faculty members may buy tickets at the door or use their season tickets.

Cuban Artist To Perform

Rey de la Torre, Cuban classic guitarist, will be presented in a third annual concert, by the Wichita Society of the Classic Guitar, at 8:15 p.m., February 13, in the Fine Arts Center Concert Hall.

Mr. de la Torre, internationally recognized as an artist in the first ranks of classic guitarists, is now heard annually coast-to-coast throughout the United States and widely in Canada.

"He brings to his performances impeccable and moving musicianship, a virtuoso technique unsurpassed, and the exciting communication of a master in the repertoire for the classic guitar," according to Mrs. Irma Wassall, a spokesman for the Society.

Tickets may be obtained at local music stores, from Mrs. Wassall, 3417 E. Central, from any member of the Society, or at the box-office.

What Price Parking?

Why does the University charge the faculty reserved parking fees?

Since the campus parking lots were paved, the real-estate value of the campus streets has skyrocketed. Each reserved space is now worth $5. Before, they were worth nothing.

One could say that $5 isn't much for a salaried faculty member to pay each semester, but the price of the spaces is not the point—the point is that there is a price.

Charging a parking fee to people who must be in a given area to perform their jobs with any degree of comfort or facility seems unfair to us. Could it be that the University's budget is in such dire condition that the revenue from these parking spaces will make any difference?

These parking privileges should be extended without charge to the faculty if only as a gesture of respect for their academic positions.

Viva Afternoon Football!

The University is now toying with the idea of playing football like the "really big colleges" do—in the afternoon.

Last week, Athletic Director Bob Kirkpatrick sent letters to the season ticket holders of next year, asking their cooperation in determining when the Shocker home games should be scheduled—afternoons or evenings. The preference polls were also published in the downtown papers.

In the poll, Kirkpatrick has listed the dates of the contests. The Shocker opposition was not listed.

The letter states, "The collective wishes of the Wichita public will certainly be a factor in determining the starting time of our 1959 home games."

Afternoon football was last seen on Veterans Field in 1950 (except for the annual Homecoming battles). Since then, night football has been the vogue. This has been the case for several reasons.

In the first place, it was felt that night games would draw more downtown people. Secondly, KU and K-State football teams always seemed to get the Wichita crowds.

We're for afternoon football—and we hope most everyone else is too.

Anymore, most Wichitans have Saturdays at home. And we believe that if a team is good, and its opponents are of high caliber—supporters pour out readily. Recently, some of the teams our football squad played had never been heard of in this part of the country.

Saturday afternoons were made for loafing—if at all possible. So too, should spectator sports be for afternoon enjoyment.

Saturday nights usually call for parties—both for the college crowd and the crowd who'd still like to be in college.

And we can't overlook that all important phase of University life—pep! We believe that afternoon football would give the student section that "get up and go" spirit that Cheerleaders cannot seem to obtain.

We remember last September, hurrying through the parking lot at Veterans Field and remarking that the brightly lighted campus reminded us of the "really big colleges." To which we were told, "If this was a big college, we wouldn't be going to a game at 8 o'clock at night."

We like to think we're at a big college.

Healthy Merger

Two weeks ago the Student-Faculty Court handed down its first decisions since its appointment last semester.

These decisions, while not a major importance, do indicate that the Court is, and can be, functional at the University. And the students affected by the decisions said the judgements were fair and they would abide by them.

The fact that the decisions resolved student-Administration matters shows that these problems can be handled fairly by a court composed of students and faculty.

In the past problems were handled by the Administration alone. Now the students have a voice in settling these problems. In the modern university society, as we see it, the students should play an important role in deciding University policy.

Our society is democratic in nature. It seems only logical that if students are to learn about democracy they must participate in it.

The Student-Faculty Court represents a step forward toward better understanding between students and the Administration.

LETTERS EDITOR

Why Chaperones?

To the Editor:

We think that in the furor aroused by the dance held by Cheerleaders the true implications of the case have been obscured.

There is no doubt that the Cheerleaders were guilty of a violation of University regulations. This letter is therefore written, not in protest against the decision of our august high tribunal, but against the rule that made that decision necessary.

We refer to that insult to every student who considers himself above the switchblade set in maturity, the antiquated and hoarily puritan manifesto that requires chaperones at University dances. Are we such potential Jack-the-Rippers, such ardent advocates of free love, such flesh-pot steeped and lewdly licentious sons of Belial that this regulation is necessary to prevent our engaging in mass orgies in the women's gymnasium? If this is the true feeling of the office of the Dean of Women, we respectfully suggest that the regulations concerning boy-girl conduct at dances are not strict enough. As a starter in securing better regulation, allow me to suggest that a chaperone be put in every car going to and from a University dance. Later we can advance to machine-guns and searchlights at potential parking places as well as barbed wire around Grace Wilkie Hall.

Respectfully submitted,

Artists Form Art Group

By RICHARD MILLER
Sunflower Staff Writer

Five local artists have banded together to form an art group in Wichita—IndeX. These men, Dave Bern Paul Edwards, Rex Hall, Robert Kiskadden, and Enrique Riveron, feel a need for direction in modern art, and a notion of contemporary expression. The symbol, IndeX, represents this goal.

The founders of IndeX maintain a studio and gallery at 116½ S. Broadway. Here they teach classes, exhibit their work, and present a comprehensive view of the work of other Midwestern contemporary artists. Supplementary programs, such as the recent reading of the poems of Irma Wassell, by the author herself, are also sponsored by the group.

Painting and Drawing Taught

Areas of instruction include painting and drawing. Enrique Riveron, a professional artist, is coordinator of this phase of the group's activities. His classes are open to all age groups, and at present he is offering both private lessons and larger, mixed, classes.

The IndeX staffers devote themselves to modern expression. They are encouraging Wichitans to take advantage of their centrally located studio and gallery to study, view, and exhibit contemporary art. Their facilities provide varied stimuli to art enthusiasts, and the opportunity to display their work and gain local recognition.

Each a Teacher

The artists of IndeX are a versatile group of men. Each is a teacher in his own right, and all have been, or presently are, on the Wichita University Art Staff.

David E. Bernard, and Robert Kiskadden, associate professors of art, are the respective heads of the graphics and painting in the department of art. Rex Hall, director of art at Southeast High School, and Paul Edwards, an art teacher at Horace Mann Intermediate School and a graduate student at the University, are teaching evening classes in painting on campus. Enrique Riveron, Manager of the IndeX Gallery, has taught evening painting classes at the University.

Edwards Currently Showing Paul Edwards, who signed his name "Pablo," is currently playing his painting and sculpture in a one-man show at the IndeX Gallery. He has exhibited locally and nationally at the Des Moines Art Center; Mulvane Art Museum, Topeka; and Whitney Museum, New York City.

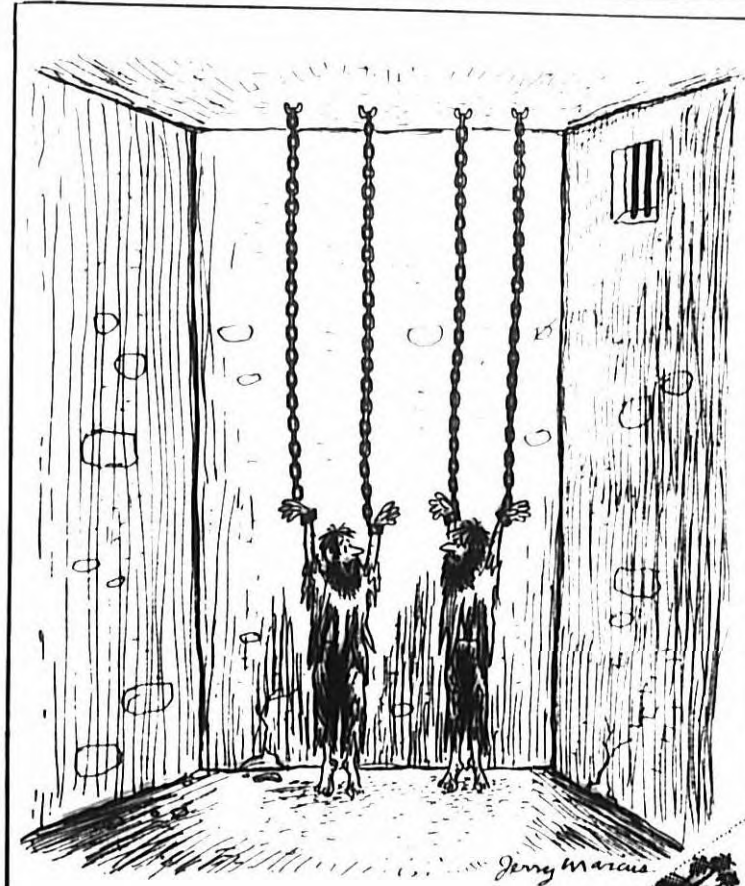

He received an honorable mention at Kansas Designer- Craftsman Show in Lawrence, Kansas, and represented in the Kansas Pottery by Pablo" will be displayed thru Feb. 27. IndeX Gallery is open daily from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m., except Mondays.

Sororities Open Informal Rush

Four of the University's social sororities will participate in an informal rush, which began today and will end March 10, according to Nancy Mallory, corresponding secretary of Panhellenic Council.

Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Phi, Delta Gamma and Gamma Phi Beta sororities are eligible to accept members. Delta Delta Delta has filled their quota.

Any coed interested in joining a sorority, and carrying at least 12 hours at the University, must register in Dean Josephine Fugate's office, Rm. 113 Jardine Hall. Registration continues until March 10. There will be no registration fee.

During informal rush no organization can give an organized party. The women will be entertained by such things as coke dates, movies and small gatherings. A coed may be pledged at any time after she is registered.

Sig Ep Frat Names New '59 Officers

Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, Kansas Eta Colony, has elected officers for the next year.

Officers are Bob Cressler, Liberal Arts junior, president; Don Crowl, Liberal Arts junior, vice-president; Randy DuVall, Fine Arts sophomore, secretary; Leon Drowhard, Liberal Arts junior, treasurer; Dick Master, Fine Arts junior, and Tom Snyder, Engineering sophomore, marshalls; and Henry Hall, Liberal Arts sophomore, guard.

One-year terms for officers are a result of the fraternities nationalization.

"WHAT'LL I DO?"—A favorite pastime, after the studies are done, of course, finds these four University students at a bridge game.

BIRD CAGE

Coeds interested in bowling in the Women's Recreation Association tournament which begins Feb. 20, must sign up by Feb. 16.

Unaffiliated coeds may sign in the Women's Gym and Greeks may sign up through their WRA representative. Tournament games will be played each Friday at 3:30 p.m. until the contest is completed. Women interested in joining WRA must do so before Feb. 23. The fee is 25 cents. Points toward the WRA trophy are awarded only to members of WRA.

ISA to Crown Sweetheart at Dance

The Independent Student Association will hold its annual "Sweetheart Dance" this Saturday evening in the Pine Room, according to Harold Siemson, dance chairman.

Highlighting this year's semi-formal affair will be the coronation of the ISA "Sweetheart of 1959," whose identity will be revealed at the dance.

This coed, elected by the men of the organization, will receive an all expense paid trip to the ISA national convention in Denver. At this convention, to be held in April, she will vie for the title of "National ISA Sweetheart."

Army ROTC to Pick 30 Coeds for Team

Fifty freshman, sophomore, and junior coeds are attending drills twice a week in hopes of being one of 30 selected for the women's drill team being organized by the Army ROTC.

Final selection for the team will be made on Feb. 19, by Sgt. Raymond Stephenson, assistant in the University's Army ROTC program and director of the drill team; Kenneth Fortney, cadet project officer; and four Army sweethearts.

Marching Ability Needed

Coeds will be selected for their ability to drill on a competitive basis. The only requirements are a 2.0 grade average and between the heights of 5 feet 1 inch and 5 feet 8 inches.

Members of the team will wear dark blue uniforms with gold braid, patterned after the Sweethearts' costumes.

The platoon leader for the team will be chosen by the members because of her ability to drill.

Must Choose Name

One of the team's first tasks will be choosing a name. The girls will also participate in drills on the field, make public appearances, and take trips. This year they will go to Fort Riley, Kan. with the cadet corps.

Three ROTC company sweethearts and the honorary colonel will take part in drill team activities although they will not be actual members of the team.

Contest Still All-University

Coeds now holding honorary commissions are Jeanne Seacat, Elaine Woodman, Barbara Prete, and Nancy Bales, honorary colonel. The sweethearts and honorary colonel will still be selected from all University coeds by the cadet corps.

The idea of creating the drill team was suggested by several candidates in last year's ROTC "Sweethearts" competition, who expressed interest in joining a group under the sponsorship of the Army ROTC.

The Army found accounts of a women's drill team, drum corps, and rifle team in their files, groups which were organized in 1929 and flourished through the 30's. The 1930 drill team had 27 members.

To Be Only Women's Unit

According to Sergeant Stephenson, the drill team will be the only Army unit for women in Kansas.

Eventually, the Army hopes to draw a crack rifle team from the drill team ranks.

Sergeant Stephenson concluded that the real difficulty in organizing the team will be the selection of only 30 girls.

Meeting Set For Teachers

A teacher's conference sponsored by the Student National Education Association and Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education society, will be held here Feb. 14.

The purpose of the program is to give first and second-year teachers who were graduated from the University a chance to discuss problems that they have encountered during their teaching experience.

The program will begin with a general session at 9 a.m. in the choral room of the Fine Arts Center. Dr. Margaret Habein, Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, will give the keynote address, after which teachers will attend sections devoted to individual areas of teaching.

Following a luncheon in the foyer of the Fine Arts Center, Dr. David Foltz, head of the choral and voice department, will address the closing session. His talk is entitled "New Sounds in Music." The master of ceremonies of the closing session will be Dr. Howard Ellis, head of the music education department. Selections will be

31 Cadets Admitted To Pershing Rifles

Thirty-one initiates Thursday took the oath of admission to Pershing Rifles, honorary military fraternity.

The initiates are cadets enrolled in the Army ROTC program. They have met at 7 a.m. every Tuesday and Thursday, during their semester of pledging for drill instruction and training.

The new members are David Entriaken, Robert Barnhart, Michael Egan, Stanley Crouch, Marvin Cheynet, Gary Carson, John Hickman, Don Wheat, Richard Wells, Bernard Verdier, Willard Thompson, Milton Sullivan, Garnis Sutton, Jimmie Maltbie, Millard Terry, Winston Hill, Herbert Mann, Fred Mayer Jr., Richard Oliver, Danny Pierce, Galen Olmstead, Jerry Potts, and Stephen Burr.

During the morning, Colonel Sperry will have visits with Dr. Emory Länquist, dean of faculties; Dr. Jackson O. Powell, dean of the school of education; and Dr. Leslie M. Blake, associate professor of speech and drama. A luncheon will be given in Colonel Sperry's honor.
