AKP Sponsors Panel Sunday; Local Job Opportunities Topic

"Future Employment Opportunities in Wichita" will be the topic Sunday of a panel discussion sponsored by Alpha Kappa Psi, business fraternity.

Members of the Young Presidents Organization will participate in the panel at 3 p.m. in the Fine Arts Center.

Pass Million Mark
The Young Presidents Organization is part of a national group, membership of which is composed of presidents of corporations with sales exceeding the million-dollar mark annually. The members must be under 40 years of age.

Fran Jabara, associate professor of accounting, will moderate the discussion.

Members of the panel will be Willard Garvey, Builders, Inc.; Bruce Musgrove, Musgrove Petroleum; Robert Love, Love Box; Fred Berry, Berry Implement; Alan Ritchie, Allen's Concrete; and S. O. Beren, Mountain Iron Supply Co.

Open to All Students
The discussion is open to all students according to Michael P. Young, Alpha Kappa Psi publicity director.

Questions from the floor will be answered following the discussion.

Debate Team Takes Honors at Tourney

University debaters spent three days of their Easter vacation in Austin, Texas, as they participated in the annual Missouri Valley Forensic League tournament on the University of Texas campus.

Mary Lou Shelly, Liberal Arts sophomore, placed second in the extemporaneous section of the tournament.

On Tuesday evening, Miss Shelly and Alfred Matson, Liberal Arts freshman, represented the University in a dual meet with Cornell University. The two topped the Cornell debaters on a shift-off-debate ballot. This type of debate requires the audience to register opinions before the debate begins, and again after the contest is over. The winning team is determined by the number of persons in the audience "swayed" to the team's side of the argument.

The next tournament on the debaters' schedule, will be held April 17. It will be presented for the League of Women Voters.

period. Refreshments will then be served.

"This meeting is a must for the students of the University," Jabara said. "It is to their advantage to attend and find out about the futures in employment in this area. It isn't often they will be able to listen to this many of the city's top businessmen at one time."

Alpha Kappa Psi officers, elected recently, are Larry Gaston, president; Dick Ducic, vice-president; Alden Pettierew, secretary; Jim Calson, treasurer; and Ben Segler, master of ritual.

Poli Sci Prof Resigns Post

Dr. Stephen W. Worth, assistant professor of political science, has resigned effective at the close of the six-week summer session in July.

He plans to accept a post on the Hunter College faculty in New York City next fall.

Dr. Worth has been a member of the University faculty for seven years. He teaches political theory, constitutional law, and public law.

In 1955, Dr. Worth received the Freedom Foundation award of merit for a television series entitled "This Is Your America." He has been active in civic affairs, serving on the Community Chest budget committee, and he was one of the organizers of the Wichita Urban League.

LePell Film Shown Sunday on Campus

"Paint and Painter," a thesis project film, directed by Corban LePell, Art graduate fellow, and photographed by Wayne D. Sourbeer, Wichita professional photographer, will be shown at 3 p.m., Sunday, in the Art Building.

The film depicts the relations between paint, painting, and nature. An original musical score was written, conducted, and performed by University students and graduates. Marvin Grandstaff composed the music, Eugene Bales conducted the recording session, and Donn Salyer, Mary Cooper, and Kathy O'Reilly were the musicians.

All faculty members and students are invited to attend.

Plans Being Completed For Hippodrome in May

Plans are presently being completed for the 1959 Hippodrome, scheduled for Friday, May 1. The May Day events will follow a schedule similar to that of past May festivities.

Marilyn Mulliken, Fine Arts sophomore, is general chairman for the annual event.

Next Convo Is Slated

M. Copala Menon, consul-general of India, is scheduled to speak at a University convocation April 8, Dr. James K. Sours, head of the political science department, announced.

Menon is the second ranking official to the Indian ambassador to the United States.

He is an authority on problems of trade, commerce and industry. In addition, he possesses great knowledge of Indian politics and affairs, Dr. Sours said.

Menon earlier spoke on campus during Egghead Week.

Dr. Sours said that Menon had expressly asked for an opportunity to meet with as many students in Kansas as possible.

Invitations to attend the convocation have been extended to the presidents of Friends University, Bethel College, Southwestern College, Bethany College, and the College of Emporia.

Menon will speak in the Fine Arts Center Concert Hall at 10 a.m. on Wednesday.

Women Deans Honor Habein

Dr. Margaret Habein, dean of Liberal Arts and Sciences, was inaugurated recently as president of the National Association of Women Deans and Counselors.

Ceremonies were conducted at a luncheon during the Association's national convention in Cleveland, Ohio. Dr. Habein was named president-elect last year.

The new president will head 1,800 women deans of colleges, deans of women, and counselors or administrators who hold membership in the Association.

Accompanying Dr. Habein to the convention were Mrs. Josephine Fugate, dean of women at the University; Paul Chrisman, student aid counselor; and Thornton Hooper, Counseling Center director.

Dr. Habein became dean of Fairmount College of Liberal Arts and Sciences in the fall of 1957. Before coming to the University, she served as dean of the college for women and dean of instruction and student services at the University of Rochester, New York.

In announcing the tentative plans for Hippodrome, Miss Mulliken said that all students and individual groups are being encouraged to enter the event. It is not limited to the Greek houses, she added.

Skits to Be Presented

The plans call for the Hippodrome skits to begin at 8 a.m., lasting until noon. Following an hour intermission for lunch, the rest of the skits will be presented from 1 until 3 p.m.

Miss Mulliken added that the individual and small group skits may enter either in competition with other independent acts or may only serve to fill in between the Greek skits.

Suzanne Umphrey, Liberal Arts sophomore, is in charge of the skit program, and all who desire to enter the program should contact her, Miss Mulliken added.

Field Day Events Set

After the skits, the afternoon will be climaxed with field day events, under the chairmanship of Bud Johnson, Business Administration senior.

Included in this part of the May Day program will be a track meet, sack races, a greased pig contest, and other activities in which all the students may take part. The events will last for about an hour, according to the May Day general chairman.

That evening, May Queen Marceon Solomon, Gamma Phi Beta, will be crowned by John Allen, president of the Student Government Association.

At the coronation, scheduled for 7:30 p.m., in the Commons Auditorium, the Queen and her court will be presented. The Queen will then award the trophies to the winning groups in the Hippodrome skits. Allen will not announce the winners until that evening.

To Tap Junior Women

Another highlight of the evening will be the tapping of junior women to Mortar Board, senior women's honorary.

Immediately following the Coronation, the May Dance will be held from 9 p.m. until midnight at the Bluenote Ballroom.

The Continentals will provide the dance music, and tickets will be sold for $2 a couple. Location of ticket sales booths will be announced later, Miss Mulliken said.

Quincelee Brown, Liberal Arts sophomore, is in charge of the dance, and Carole Hicks, Fine Arts junior, is chairman of the Coronation committee.

2 Seniors To Receive Wilson Aid

Two University students have been selected to hold Woodrow Wilson Fellowships for the 1959-60 academic year.

William R. Swartsfager, and Tommie Phillip Wolf, Liberal Arts seniors, were named winners of the fellowships. Swartsfager and Wolf are both political science majors.

As Wilson fellows, both Wolf and Swartsfager have elected to pursue graduate studies in political science at Harvard University.

Wolf and Swartsfager were among 1,200 students from the United States and Canada who were awarded grants for advanced study through the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation.

There were more than 7,000 students competing for the awards.

The fellowship program is designed to help meet the need for college instructors. The project is backed by a $25 million grant from the Ford Foundation.

Each fellowship carries a living allowance of $1,500 plus full tuition and fees. Married students receive additional stipends.

Voice Student Wins In State Auditions

Emily McKnight, Fine Arts sophomore, was named the winner of the Kansas Federation of Women's Clubs Auditions held recently at the University of Kansas, Lawrence.

Miss McKnight was judged best in voice. She performed two operatic arias, "Depuis Le Jour," from Louise, and "Adele's Laughing Song" from Der Fledermaus.

Seniors May Order Graduation Items

Senior class announcements and caps and gowns may now be ordered in the Campus Bookstore, according to R. L. Adkisson, of the Bookstore.

April 17 will be the last day for ordering announcements. This deadline had to be set in order to allow ample time for mailing after students receive their announcements.

The graduation fee must be paid before students can order caps and gowns. The deadline for ordering these items is April 24.

Editorials . . . Where Will We Go?

The only response on campus to the mock tornado alert Wednesday was students covering their ears against the blast of the siren atop the Commons. Other than that, the campus routine went on, indifferently, and apparently oblivious to the stated purpose of the alert.

The test may have done some good elsewhere, but it accomplished nothing here.

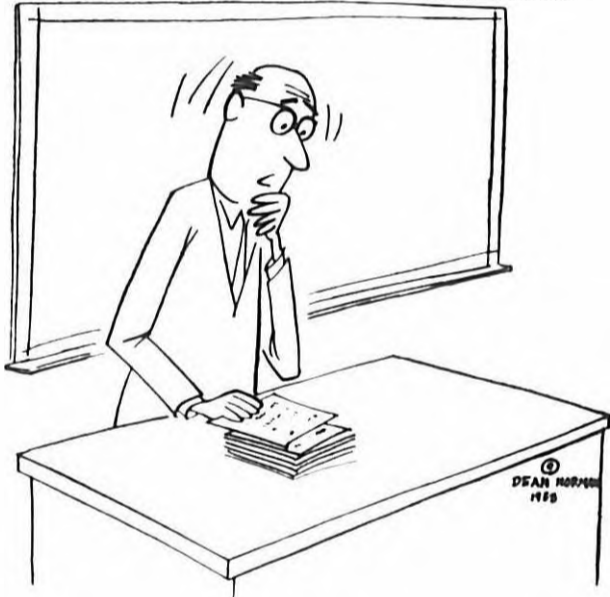

What would we on campus do in the event of a tornado or a nuclear attack? Some city and county schools have attempted to meet this threat. When an alert sounds, classes are interrupted and students can go to pre-determined shelter areas. But where do we go? From all indications, our best bet is to scamper under the nearest desk, or just sit there with our fingers crossed. The attitude seems to be that we'll cross that bridge when we come to it.

Why not take advantage of these practice alerts, and establish a plan of action for such emergencies? There should be some designation of shelters, or at least the closest thing to shelters, on campus. This could save confusion, and perhaps a few lives if the real thing occurs. In all probability, there won't be time to evacuate the area during an emergency, be it tornado or nuclear attack. We're going to have to make the best of what we have.

The saddest part of the entire situation is that we respond indifferently, if at all, to these alerts. We are not the only ones who take these alerts lightly. Except for a few schools, the police and fire departments, and Civil Defense personnel, the entire city reacts in a like manner. This does not excuse our complacency, however. In fact, we should be especially ashamed, with that siren blaring in our midst so loudly that one can concentrate on little else.

School is in session during the heart of the tornado season. And, a nuclear attack could come at any time. We realize that an elaborate shelter system would be too expensive to install. We're not asking for that. We're merely asking why some plan could not be inaugurated whereby shelter areas could be designated, and the student body educated in emergency procedures.

Illustrated Term Papers Displayed in Fine Arts Center

Today is the last day of an exhibition of a collection of illustrated term papers now on display in the Fine Arts Center foyer gallery.

The papers were prepared in Dr. John P. Simoni's and Prof. David E. Bernard's art history classes.

The papers shown are illustrated in a variety of methods. Pertinent photographs and original drawings, sketches, and renderings enrich the work.

Maps and diagrams also are included. One student has supported the text of his study by the inclusion of slides, proofs of pictures he took during a visit to a particular museum.

The art term paper is a unique piece of original work, according to Dr. Simoni. It provides the student a comprehensive view and formulation of the subject matter and course material, and offers him the opportunity to do extensive specialized research and familiarize himself with noted authorities, critics, and artists.

It develops the appreciation and significance of decoration and illustration in a written report, he added.

If you've missed our cynical little comments (and two or three of you have) it isn't because we were suppressed by the BARB party—but, alas, spring fever has struck.

Congratulations to the 1959 Parnassus staff—they haven't met a deadline yet. Unless they get lucky, they won't even have time to clear out their office for the 1960 staff.

A columnist in the Michigan Tech Lode, after discovering the word "druthers" in Canada refers to "electives," came up with, "If I had my druthers, I'd druther econ was a druther."

Then there's the sorority girl who was hoping that she'd grab a down or two this semester, so she wouldn't have to be in Hippodrome.

A new problem for the Administration to investigate: Is the Sophomore Honors Group really honorable?

We're anxious to find out if the theme of Greek Week will be "Share" or simply "Togetherness."

From the Colorado Daily we lift the following classified ad: "Thank God Religion In Life Week is over for another year."

Hey Coeds! In McAllen, Texas (wherever that is) free wedding blossoms are being given to the sweet young things who go there to marry while the orange trees are in bloom.

A special nuptial bargain is offered too—a honeymoon to Monterey, Mexico (150 miles away) for a mere $25 (this includes a bottle of Spanish champagne.) We ask: Are the next 50 years actually worth the trouble

And then there's the fraternity man who got a down in, of all things, wrestling!

Heard during an oral exam: "I refuse to answer that question on the grounds that my answer may tend to incriminate me."

"When do they expect to finish that playpen?" asked the prof as he slammed down the classroom window in order to be heard over the machinery sounds in the CAC.

With all the other wonderful tunes which always make the "83 Top Tunes" list, we add, "Panty Raiders," a little ditty which we received in the mail from some Harry Johnson, of Ocean Grove, N. J.

One of the delightful lines goes, "We're here to shout and tell about our band of college men; we're not afraid to Panty Raid, we know just how to win..." Need we go on? The music is equally bad.

It gave us a laugh on a blue day, so there's one point in its favor. But, on second thought, what current "hit" don't we laugh at these days (Sinatra excluded.)

If any of you didn't come back to school until Wednesday—April Fool!

Who Said This to Whom department: "I'll give you the quarter if you'll tell me where you found the violin..."

Oh, swell, the final schedule is out already.

You haven't lived until you've read some of the rules and regulations of the Men's Dorm.

We know an instructor who is encouraging his students to talk in class. This way he knows how stupid they are without having to guess.

Sig Eps Here For Installing

April 3, 4, and 5 officially marks the beginning of Sigma Phi Epsilon at the University. The chapter will be the first fraternity on campus to be nationally installed.

Today, four installation teams from other Kansas chapters, and out-of-town guests, will arrive to make final preparations.

A formal dance-dinner at Crestview Country Club will climax the day of individual initiations. The procedure will begin Saturday.

On Sunday, the chapter installation will take place.

ROTC Faculty Team Wins Bowling Tourney

The ROTC Faculty bowling team won the intramural league bowling championship Tuesday afternoon by beating out the Webster I team.

Bowling four men on a team, the Faculty squad rolled a total of 1,907 pins compared to the Webster's 1,700. Lt. Col. Peter DeGroot, one of the top keglers throughout the season, lead his ROTC team with a total of 496 pins. Captain Charles Martin followed close by with a 489 total. The Dormites knocked off the APROTC team to cop the losers' bracket trophy.

Intramural bowling director Paul Sorensen was well pleased with the bowling turnout and said,

"Our bowling leagues and tournament competition was the best ever and because of the mounting interest in bowling I hope to form another singles and doubles tournament yet this semester." Students and faculty teams alike are invited to enter.

WU Drops Golf Opener

The Shocker golf team, with only two returning lettermen, dropped its first match of the season to Nebraska University, 11-7. Saturday on the Wichita Country Club course.

The Shocks' two veterans are Tommy Vickers and Tom Schmitt. The linksters are coached by Bob Kirkpatrick.

Vickers and Nebraska's Mike McCusker tied for medalist honors with 77 apiece, and deadlocked for match play with 1 1/2 each.

Coach Kirkpatrick's 1958 golf squad placed third—behind Houston and North Texas State—in the Missouri Valley Conference meet held here last year.

The Shocker golfers will enter the Kansas State Wildcat linksters here tomorrow.

Missing from the 1959 squad are lettermen Duke Evans and Tony Amend, the number one and number three golfers on last year's team.

Shocks Win Dormites Win Cage Laurels; Call Goes Out for Softballers

5 On Road

The Shocker baseball team returned Tuesday from a nine-day road trip through Arkansas and Texas with a 5-4 record.

The Shocks defeated an Arkansas University squad in their first game and then moved into Texas for the remaining eight contests. There they won four and lost four.

A tough Sam Houston University squad dealt the Shocks two straight losses, but Coach Ray Morrison's team came back with a double win over Texas Lutheran University. The Wichitans broke even with St. Mary's College, San Antonio, at one game apiece and then wound up the road trip with a loss at the hands of the Brooke Medical Center and a win over Trinity University, both San Antonio schools.

Coach Morrison was pleased with the final results of the trip since his team hadn't played a pre-season exhibition game.

Pitcher Jim Hadley of the Shocks got credit for three of the five Shocker wins. He had one loss.

The Shocker's first home game is with Emporia State on April 7 at the West Side Athletic Field. On April 10, Alva State comes to Wichita for another home game.

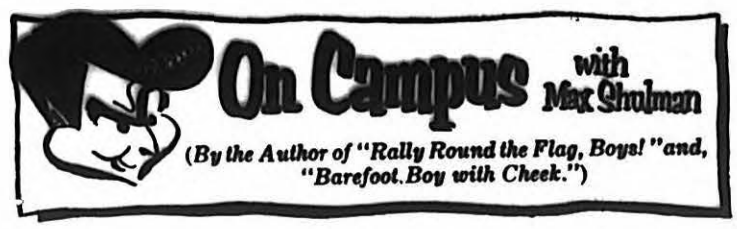

The Shocker track team opened its 1959 season with a close 69-62 win over the Drake Bulldogs, Tuesday afternoon on the Wichita East High School track. No meet records were set.

The Dormites won the intramural basketball championship playoff by downing the Webster I's, 53-51.

The Dormites, a team made up primarily of varsity football players, ended the season's play with a perfect 11-0 won-loss record. The runner-up Webster squad ended the year with a 9-2 mark.

With the completion of the house, or call Ext. 397. The softball games will be played in the afternoon on one of the campus ball diamonds.

Sorensen sends out a call to all those interested in entering a team in a spring softball league. "We have to get this softball competition under way before we can start with the other spring sports we have planned," Sorensen said.

HOW TO BE A THUMPING BIG SUCCESS ON CAMPUS

While up in the attic last week hiding from the tax man, I came across a letter, yellow with age, that dear old Dad had sent me when I was a freshman. I reproduce it below in the hope that it may light your way as it did mine.

"Dear Son, (Dad always called me Son. This was short for Sonnenberg, which used to be my first name. I traded it last year with a man named Max. He threw in two outfielders and a left-handed pitcher... But I digress.)

"Dear Son, (Dad wrote) "I suppose you are finding college very big and bewildering, and maybe a little frightening too. Well, it need not be that way if you will follow a few simple rules.

"First of all, if you have any problems, take them to your teachers. They want to help you. That's what they are there for. Perhaps they seem a little aloof, but that is only because they are so busy. You will find your teachers warm as toast and friendly as pups if you will call on them at an hour when they are not overly busy. Four a.m., for instance.

"Second, learn to budget your time. What with classes, activities, studying, and social life all competing for your time, it is easy to fall into sloppy habits. Set up a rigid schedule and stick to it. Remember, there are only 24 hours a day. Three of these hours must be spent in class. For every hour in class you must, of course, spend two hours studying. So there go six more hours. Then, as we all know, for every hour studying, you must spend two hours sleeping. This accounts for twelve more hours. Then there are meals—three hours each for breakfast and lunch, four hours for dinner. Never forget, Sonnenberg, you must chew each mouthful twelve hundred times. You show me a backward student, and I'll show you a man who bolts his food.

"But college is more than just sleeping, eating, and studying. There are also many interesting activities which you must not miss. You'll want to give at least three hours a day to the campus newspaper, and, of course, another three hours each to the dramatic and music clubs. And let's say a total of eight hours daily to the stamp club, the debating club, and the foreign affairs club. Then, of course, nine or ten hours for fencing and bird-walking, and another ten or twelve for ceramics and three-card monte.

"Finally we come to the most important part of each day—what I call 'The Quiet Time.' This is a period in which you renew yourself—just relax and think great thoughts and smoke Marlboro Cigarettes. Why Marlboro? Because they are the natural complement to the active life. They have better 'makin's'; the filter filters; the flavor is rich and mellow and a treat to the tired, a boon to the spent, a safe harbor to the storm-tossed. That's why.

"Well, Sonnenberg, I guess that's about all. Your kindly old mother sends her love. She has just finished putting up rather a large batch of pickles—in fact, 350,000 jars. I told her that with you away at school, we would not need so many, but kindly old Mother is such a creature of habit that, though I hit her quite hard several times, I could not dissuade her.

Keep 'em flying,
Dad."

© 1959 Max Schulman

Here's more advice to freshmen—and upperclassmen too. If non-filter cigarettes are your pleasure, double your pleasure with Philip Morris, made by the makers of Marlboro.

Social Organizations Completing Greek Week Plans

The first Greek Week to be held on campus is scheduled for the week of April 13. Sorority and fraternity members are currently completing plans for what they hope will become an annual event.

Greek Weeks are held on college campuses throughout the country for the purpose of achieving Greek unity and exchanging of ideas among campus social organizations.

Backed by Pan-Hellenic and Inter-Fraternity Council, the week-long event will be promoted chiefly through the efforts of sorority and fraternity members. Phi Upsilon Sigma President Geno Paluzzi is serving as coordinator of the event.

Workshops Planned
On April 16, workshops will be conducted in the Greek houses for the purpose of exchanging ideas and airing general problems. A Greek dance will be held April 18, at Legion Acres. Everett Olson, Men of Webster, is in charge of this phase of the program.

The workshops will have a moderator in charge, and will be open to both the new and the old officers of the social groups. Other sorority and fraternity members will also choose which workshop they will attend.

Workshop Sites Set
The workshops, and where they will be held, are as follows: presidents, Phi Upsilon Sigma house; scholarship, Delta Delta Delta; rush, Delta Gamma; publicity and public relations, Men of Webster; activities, Alpha Phi.

The pledge training workshop will be held in the Alpha Chi Omega house; social activities, Gamma Phi Beta house; and the Alpha Gamma Gamma house will host the workshop for "Role of Greeks on the Campus."

The plans for Greek Week were originally discussed several weeks ago when a group of Greek representatives met to examine the possibility of forming an all-Greek political party.

the Greek representatives who attended the meeting unanimously decided that the immediate problem was that of uniting the Greeks so that they could work together more effectively.

Present Greek Week plans call for President Harry F. Corbin to speak at a Greek convocation at 7:30 p.m., April 14, in the Commons Auditorium. Following the talk, a coffee is scheduled.

Each Greek officer involved in the workshops has been requested to submit a list of problems which they have encountered to the moderators of their respective discussion groups.

Moderators Chosen

Moderators selected so far include: rush, Suzanne Umphrey; Alpha Phi; presidents, Annick Wiehl, Delta Gamma; scholarship, Jack Malone, Phi Sig; and publicity, Leslie Wilson, Tri-Delta.

Other moderators will be announced next week, according to Don Rude, Sigma Phi Epsilon, who is in charge of the workshops.

Final arrangements for Greek Week will be completed when organizing groups meet Thursday night. All of the workshop moderators are invited to attend the meeting.

Y Meeting To Convene

The Kansas District Student YMCA and YWCA Conference is scheduled to begin tonight on campus. Registration will be at 6:30 p.m. at Grace Wilkie Hall.

Approximately 80 students from colleges and universities throughout the state are expected to attend, according to Sharon Witt, University conference chairman.

The first meeting of the three-day conference will be held at 8 p.m. in the Alpha Chi Omega house, and a movie will follow. "Decision Making" is the theme of the conference.

Dr. Franklin Edwards, pastor of Woodland Methodist Church, will be the speaker and will lead the discussion, based on the conference theme.

Miss Witt also announced the new YWCA officers. Barbara Garlow and Elaine Davis, Liberal Arts juniors, were elected president and vice-president, respectively.

Laura Wilcox, Liberal Arts junior, was elected recording secretary; Sidney Watrous, Fine Arts sophomore, corresponding secretary; and Kay Peer, Business Administration junior, treasurer.
