May Queen Election Today

The election of the May Queen, to reign during the May Day festivities on May 6, is being held today from 8:50 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Students may vote by presenting their ID cards at booths which will be set up in the CAC, Neff Hall, and the Fine Arts Center, according to Allan Johnston, election commissioner.

Vying for the honor are Shirley

Gilley, Alpha Phi; Donna Gooden, Delta Delta Delta; Lillian Huffman, Grace Wilkie Hall; Barbara Miller, Alpha Chi Omega; Jeanne Seacat, Delta Gamma; and Karen Williams, Gamma Phi Beta.

Miss Gilley is president of Alpha Phi. She is also a member of Mortar Board, University singers, Music Educators' National Conference, WRA, and is president of Mu Phi Epsilon, music sorority.

Miss Seacat, a piano major, is in Tau Beta Sigma, band sorority, and is a member of Delta Gamma Sorority. She has been an ROTC Sweetheart, Press Queen, and Homecoming princess.

Miss Huffman is a member of Mortar Board, Home Ec Club, and Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education organization.

New Political Party Formed on Campus

A new political party, CHANGE, has recently been formed on the campus, according to Lyle Richardson, engineering junior, and acting party chairman.

Richardson states the party is composed entirely of independent students at the present, but it is hoped that social organizations will want to cooperate with the group.

"Our constitution," said Richardson, "declares that independent students shall have a ruling majority in party policy, although Greek organizations will have a vote in party matters if they decide to affiliate."

"The party chairmanship will always be filled by an independent," he added.

Purpose of CHANGE, as outlined by Richardson, are five-fold. (1) to enhance the quality and prestige of the University; (2) to promote better student-faculty re-

Trip Grants For Seminar Offered Here

Interested in a trip to Europe? Two scholarships will be available to University students for the purpose of touring Europe for 47 days this summer.

March 15, is the deadline for applications, which may be obtained from the Office of Student Services, Rm. 113, Jardine, or by contacting Mrs. Raymond Ahrens, 1851 N. Harvard.

The travelers will tour most of the European countries and will focus on the political, social, and religious problems facing these countries. The Seminar is open (Continued on Page 2)

Deadline Next Week For Co-Queen Entrants

Campus coeds who plan to enter the annual Military Ball Queen contest, being sponsored jointly by the Air Force and Army ROTC Detachments, are reminded that the entry deadline is less than a week away.

Any coed who has at least a 2.0 grade average, is carrying at least nine semester hours, and who plans on returning to the University next year, is eligible for the contest.

Contestants must submit a non-glossy, glossy, or colored 8-inch by 10-inch photograph by next Thursday if they plan to enter the Army ROTC Queen running. AFROTC contestants must submit their photos by next Friday.

Pictures can be brought to the ROTC Armory or given to any ROTC cadet officer. The requirements and other information should be written lightly on the back of the picture. The photographs will go on dis-

Enrollment At 5,364 SGA Rep Selected

Official registration at the University for this semester is 5,364, according to Dr. Worth A. Fletcher, registrar. Dr. Fletcher said this number is only four over the unofficial estimate made earlier in the semester. The present figure compares with an enrollment of 5,212 a year ago.

Male enrollment stands at 3,866 while the number of women registered totals 1,498.

Registration totals for the various schools are: Liberal Arts and Sciences, 1,389; Engineering, 961; Business Administration, 783; School of Education, 639; and Fine Arts, 390.

The breakdown in classification is: freshmen, 1,179; sophomores, 1,167; juniors, 633; and seniors, 1,006. Enrollment for students in the "special" category is 177. Adult education lists 519 and the Graduate School numbers 683.

Resident students number 4,214 compared with 1,150 non-resident. Enrollment last semester was 5,875, according to Dr. Fletcher.

Dick Wallace, Liberal Arts junior, was appointed a delegate to Student Government Association from the College of Liberal Arts, during last Monday night's meeting of the group. He succeeds Mary Lou Shelly, who has transferred from the University.

Other business included discussion of a letter received from a Korean Aviation College seeking financial aid, books and other supplies.

Judy Denton, SGA executive secretary, has written to the South Korean Embassy in Washington D.C. requesting background information on the school.

Ken Orr, president of SGA, has announced that $2,500, not $600 as reported in last Tuesday's Sunflower, was turned over to the University Library Fund as net profit from the Kingston Trio concert. An error in the early tabulations accounted for the discrepancy.

Prize to Be Given For Top Flag Design

A prize of ten dollars for the best design of an official flag for the University was announced by Carole Pierce, chairman of the flag committee.

Entries are to be submitted on standard size paper and are to be in color. The design and theme of the flag will be up to the individual contributor.

The deadline for entries has been extended to March 14. They should be submitted to the SGA Office, in the CAC, according to Miss Pierce.

YW Election to Be Monday; 2 Coeds Vie for President

The YWCA election will be held from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. Monday in the CAC, according to Elaine Davis, election chairman.

Candidates for president are Ruth Nichol, Logopedics junior, and Hope Kroenlein, Education junior.

Miss Nichol is chaplain of Delta Delta Delta sorority, a member of Orchesis, modern dance group; and of Sigma Alpha Eta, speech honorary.

Miss Kroenlein is treasurer of AWS. She is a member of Alpha Chi Omega and the United Christian Fellowship council.

Candidates for recording secretary are, Ann Deshner, Music sophomore, and Shirley Reed, Logopedics sophomore. Linda Plott and Joyce Cole, Business sophomores, are candidates for corresponding secretary.

Sidney Watrous and Milly Wolcott are candidates for treasurer. Miss Watrous is a Music junior and Miss Wolcott a Music sophomore.

YPO Dinner Reservations 'Going Fast'

Reservations for Wednesday's Young Presidents Organization noon luncheon conference in the CAC ballroom are going fast, according to Larry Gaston, president of Alpha Kappa Psi, professional business fraternity, sponsor of the program.

Y. P. O. is a national organization of men under 40 who head businesses grossing over a million dollars a year. Representatives of the Kansas chapter will be on the campus Wednesday for the conference, which has as its theme, "Wichita in 1984."

With the young presidents offering to pay for all costs of the meal, there will be no charge for the students attending, according to Gaston.

He stressed the importance of making reservations in the Business School dean's office as soon as possible, as the capacity of the crowd is limited.

Absolute deadline for reservations is next Monday.

AWS Petitions Now Available at CAC

Petitions for the Associated Women Students Council may be obtained at the AWS office in the CAC.

They will be due March 8. All women interested are urged to pick up petitions, according to Charlene Taylor, first vice-president in charge of elections.

Any unaffiliate woman who would like to apply for a position on the AWS council may pick up petitions in the AWS office, second floor, CAC.

Three offices are open to unaffiliates. They are sophomore, junior, and senior unaffiliate representatives.

Politics, Peanuts, Etc...

Elections—just ahead!

Although the SGA elections are still over a month away, there is a political flavour drifting across the campus with a limited amount of political activity brewing at the moment.

In the "old days" now would be the time when the politicians would bring out their soap boxes and begin their "hand shaking" and "baby kissing" campaigns.

We would begin to hear name calling and personality smearing, as well as charges by one party and counter-charges by others. We would encounter "band wagons", "flag waving", "soap box speeches", and other propaganda techniques which resemble a three-ring circus more than a political campaign.

Nationally, politics have entered a new era. Today, the campaigns are designed to appeal to the intellectual reasoning of the voter, rather than to his emotions. Greater emphasis is placed on the "issues" and "programs" rather than the individual.

The political leaders realized that although these "old style" devices were effective in arousing the apathetic voters and getting them to the polls, they were more harmful than beneficial because the people voted emotionally and unintelligently.

In recent years, politics on this campus have included practically every one of the propaganda devices.

Even so, only a small number of students turned out at the polls. This should be additional proof that the old style of campaigning has seen its day.

Institutions of higher learning are designed to promote intelligent thinking and sound reasoning. In such a setting, as we have here, politics should have reached the new era even before being utilized on a national scale.

Yet, from all indications, it seems as if the politicians on this campus will again this year, revert to the old "band wagon" type of campaign.

25 Coeds Enter Sunflower's Annual Press Queen Contest

Twenty-five coeds submitted applications for the Sunflower Press Queen contest by deadline time Tuesday, according to Betty Kirkendall, Sunflower editor.

World Prayer Day Sponsored by UCF

World Day of Prayer will be observed today in the East Ballroom of the CAC. The observance is being sponsored by United Christian Fellowship.

Faculty, staff, and students may pause for meditation between 10 a.m. and noon, according to Anita Buck, president of the student board of UCF. A worship service, at noon, will climax the observance.

From the photos and applications submitted the Sunflower Editorial Board will select eight finalists. A tea will be held at 7 p.m., March 15, in the CAC for an interview session with the finalists.

Final judging results for the Queen will be announced March 22 in the Sunflower, with the Queen's picture also included in that edition.

The Queen will be selected on the basis of beauty, activities, personality, and academic achievement.

The winner will be entered as the University's candidate in the Drake Relays Queen Contest.

We Get Letters.....

To The Editor:
Apparently Mr. Arthur Larson and Mr. Terry Paup are unaware of the fact that independents on this campus have any interest in student government or politics whatsoever. I can personally say that this is not the case.

Mr. Larson seems to be of the opinion that all independents are good for, is vote getting. They also seem to think that this is all the interest the Greeks of our campus have in the independents. I know this to be untrue.

Both Mr. Larson and Mr. Paup have personally attacked Mr. Don Rude. They accused Mr. Rude of totally overlooking the independent in last year's BPOC campaign. I personally know that the only independent Mr. Rude opposed was Mr. Paup.

Furthermore, in the spring elections Mr. Paup and his "Greek" friends, from whom of course he is completely independent, attacked Mr. Rude on the grounds that he was pro-independent and would not support the vested interests of the BPOC Greeks.

Now Mr. Paup has aligned himself with the very same independents that he condemned Mr. Rude for associating with. Mr. Paup just can't seem to keep his tales straight, or his friends, for that matter.

The unification of Mr. Larson and Mr. Paup proves that they both do not stand for the princi-

THE THUNDERING MARCH OF PROGRESS

Today, as everyone knows, is the forty-sixth anniversary of the founding of Gransmire College for Women, which, as everyone knows, was the first Progressive Education college in the United States.

Well do I recollect the tizzy in the academic world when Gransmire opened its portals! What a buzz there was, what a loughaba in faculty common rooms, what a rattling of teacups, when Dr. Agnes Thudd Sigafos, first president of Gransmire, lifted her learned old head and announced defiantly, "We will teach the student, not the course. There will be no marks, no exams, no requirements. This, by George, is Progressive Education!"

Well sir, forward-looking maidens all over the country cast off their fetters and came rushing to New Hampshire to enroll at Gransmire. Here they found freedom. They broadened their vistas. They lengthened their horizons. They unstopped their bottled personalities. They roamed the campus in togas, leading ocelots on leashes.

And, of course, they smoked Marlboro cigarettes. (I say, "Of course." Why do I say, "Of course"? I say, "Of course" because it is a matter of course that anyone in search of freedom should naturally turn to Marlboro, for Marlboro is the smoke that sets the spirit soaring, that unyokes the captive soul, that fills the air with the murmur of wings. If you think flavor went out when filters came in—try Marlboro. They are sold in soft pack or flip-top box wherever freedom rings.)

But all was not Marlboro and ocelots for the girls of Gransmire. There was work and study too—not in the ordinary sense, to be sure, for there were no formal classes. Instead there was a broad approach to enlarging each girl's potentials, both mental and physical.

Take, for example, the course called B.M.S. (Basic Motor Skills). B.M.S. was divided into L.D. (Lying Down), S.U. (Standing Up) and W. (Walking). Once the student had mastered L.D. and S.U., she was taught to W.—but not just to W. any old way! No, sir! She was taught to W. with poise, dignity, bearing! To inculcate a sense of balance in the girl, she began her exercises by walking with a suitcase in each hand. (One girl, Mary Ellen Dorgenicht, got so good at it that today she is bell captain at the Deshler-Hilton Hotel in Columbus, Ohio.)

It was quite an impressive sight—

When the girls had walking under their belts, they were allowed to dance. Again no formality was imposed. They were simply told to fling themselves about in any way their impulses dictated, and, believe you me, it was quite an impressive sight to see them go bounding into the woods with their togas flying. (Several later joined the U.S. Forestry Service.)

There was also a lot of finger painting and sculpture with coat hangers and like that, and soon the fresh wind of Progressivism came whistling out of Gransmire to blow the ancient dust of pedantry off curricula everywhere, and today thanks to the pioneers at Gransmire, we are all free.

If you are ever in New Hampshire, be sure to visit the Gransmire campus. It is now a tannery.

If you like mildness but you don't like filters—try Marlboro's sister cigarette, Philip Morris. If you like television but you don't like cowboys—try Max Shulman's "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis" every Tuesday night on CBS.

Won't Compete, But...

WU Quartet Will Attend 2nd Collegiate Jazz Festival

Gary Herlocker's Jazz Quartet will go to the second annual Collegiate Jazz Festival at Notre Dame University in Notre Dame, Indiana on March 18, 19.

This festival is sponsored by Downbeat Magazine. The purpose will be to compete with the 60 groups which will attend and be judged by such notables at Stan Kenton, Duke Ellington, Dave Garroway, Steve Allen, and Benny Goodman.

Will Not Compete

Although Herlocker's Quartet will not compete, as all members are not in school now, the purpose of attendance will be to get criticism and perhaps find job opportunities with a big-name band. Recording is a possibility for this group also.

The groups are divided according to size for competition. Prizes include individual awards as well as bookings in Chicago for the best group. The expected audience of about 3,000 will hear two distinct classifications of music, dixieland and modern jazz.

The Jazz Quartet has played many dances for Greek organizations and campus functions. The most recent one was the Haul-Your-Man Dance. Many clubs in town have also heard their music. If any group wishes to have the band play, Jim Hadley or Gary Herlocker may be contacted.

7 Years' Experience

Gary Herlocker has worked in bands since he was a sophomore in high school. The first group he worked with was a "rock and roll" group. Since then he has met many musicians and is now considered one of the best jazz drummers in town. He is now a senior at the University and has led this group for about a year.

Jerry Hahn who plays guitar in the quartet is also an up-and-coming musician and has played with the Continentals, a local band.

Bob White plays bass. He is a

Profs Write Articles For Exchange Series

BY VAUGHN SINK
Sunflower Staff Reporter

What does the professor do after his daily classes are over?

In addition to grading papers, recording grades and preparing lectures, many of them find time to write articles for the University Study Series.

The Study Series, originated in 1936, is part of a technical know-how exchange program carried on between colleges and universities all over the world. Articles written by faculty members and dealing with any area of the arts and sciences are considered for publication in the quarterly booklet.

The booklet, which carries one article an issue, varies in length from 12 to 28 pages. Measuring 6 inches by 9 inches, the publication carries the unimposing title, "University of Wichita Bulletin, University Studies."

The Study Series has a circulation of about 800 copies. Of this total, 750 are sent to colleges, universities, and public libraries in the United States. The remaining 50 are sent to university libraries abroad.

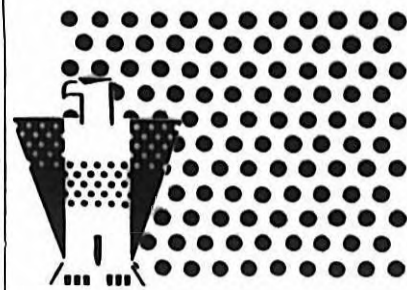

"Voluntary contributions are taken for the Study Series from the faculty," said Dr. Robert W. Frazer, professor of the history department and head of the publication.

A committee is then appointed to select the one to publish. The author of the chosen manuscript receives 25 copies of it when it is printed, for his labors.

The subject of the next issue, scheduled to be published this month, is the United States Foreign Economic Policy: Potential Obstacles to Latin American Economic Growth, by Prof. George K. Lewis of the department of economics. It will be the forty-fourth issue.

Are these gold bars worth two more years of study?*

As a college sophomore, you're nearing the mid-point. Halfway through college—halfway through Army ROTC. Now you face a major decision: Are the gold bars of a Second Lieutenant worth two additional years of study in advanced ROTC?

That question is yours to answer now—before you register for your junior year. As you explore the facts, carefully weigh the traditional responsibilities and rewards of serving as an Army officer . . .

1. Traditional responsibilities. To meet the command responsibilities of an Army officer, you apply the leadership principles absorbed during advanced ROTC training. And your executive potential grows as you gather leadership experience. That's why employers often prefer men who served as commissioned officers. These men already have proven their capacity to shoulder executive responsibility.

2. Traditional rewards. In every organization, greater responsibilities mean greater rewards. Thus the traditional responsibilities and prestige of an Army officer are matched by material advantages. For example, if you plan to marry soon after graduation—an officer's salary can be a distinct advantage. A married 2nd Lieutenant earns a minimum of $355.68 per month—plus substantial fringe benefits.

Need more information? Check with the Professor of Military Science and Tactics at your college or university. He'll be glad to discuss your decision with you.

*Last year, 14,436 sophomores answered "yes" to this question—and entered advanced Army ROTC.

Shocks Meet Tulsa in Finale

The Shockers take on the Tulsa Hurricanes in their last game of the season tomorrow night in the Fieldhouse. Tip-off time is 8 p.m.

In the two teams' earlier game, the Tulsa quintet came out on top over the cold shooting Shocks in a game played in Tulsa.

Fourth place in the Missouri Valley Conference race will be at stake for the winner. The two teams have identical league records of 5 wins and 8 losses, and are currently tied for fifth place. On the season, Tulsa is 9 and 16 while the Shockers have won 18 and lost 12, so it will also be Wichita's chance for an identical record of 14 and 12 of last year's squad.

Voss Leading Scorer

Guard David Voss has been the Hurricanes leading scorer this season, averaging 14.4 points for all games and 15.5 points in Valley competition. He is also the third best free thrower in the league, hitting a nice 82 per cent of his attempts.

Forward Gene Estes is the other Hurricane cageman in the double figures on the year. He has averaged 10.3 points per outing for all games and 11.9 points per Valley contest. He is also Tulsa's leading rebounder, with 9 caroms a game.

Coaching the Tulsa team is Clarence Iba, one of the three Iba brothers coaching in Oklahoma. His brothers are Hank, at Oklahoma State, and Earl, at Panhandle A&M.

Seniors Suit Up

Five seniors will suit up for the Shockers, for the last time tomorrow night. They are Al Tate, Elbert Urban, Tom Mallot, Phil Hayden, and Bob Glascock.

Tate is the leading scorer for the Shockers for all games this season and also led team scoring and rebounding last season. He is currently hitting 15.9 points per game for the season, and 18 points a game in Missouri Valley competition. Tate, a forward, has also pulled down 10 rebounds per game.

Mallot has seen action in almost all of the Shocker games this season and has started several times at center position. Mallot is averaging close to 5 points a game and is one of the best hustlers on the team. Urban, also a postman.

Shock Talk

By
TOMMY VANDERHOOFVEN
Sunflower Sports Editor

There comes a time in every sports editor's life when he must go out on a limb and pick an All-League basketball team. I guess it is that time now.

I'll say this about the Missouri Valley this year. Take any other conference in the nation, pick an all-star team, and they couldn't touch the Valley's all-star selections. I'm not saying that the Valley has the best players in the nation, except for one of course, merely saying that there aren't as many good ones in the league.

Besides the Big "O", we picked from forwards Pete McCaffrey of St. Louis, Dan Smith of Bradley, Jim Mudd of North Texas State, and Ron Heller of Wichita. Guards getting the once-over were Ralph Davis of Cincinnati, David Voss of Tulsa, Lanny Van Eman of Wichita, Bobby Joe Mason of Bradley, Gary Phillips of Houston, Guy Guydon of Drake, and Jim Dailey of St. Louis. Centers getting a good look were Bob Nordmann of St. Louis, Chet Walker of Bradley, Paul Hogue of Cincinnati, and Gene Wiley of Wichita.

The first team was tough to pick, except for Robertson, Davis, and Nordmann. Some people say that Robertson is the greatest player in the history of the sport. He is averaging 35.5 points per contest and also leads the Valley rebounding. Davis, who stands 6 feet, 4 inches tall, is one of the best guards in the country. He would be high on the list for All-American honors, but of course,

Net Team Top Post Wide Open

According to tennis coach Val Woodward, the number one position on this year's tennis team is wide open.

"The number one spot is wide open and is being sought by Norris Barker, Bill Potter, and Neil Roush," said the coach. Barker and Potter are seniors while Roush is a highly touted sophomore.

Barker was on the number one doubles team in the Missouri Valley tournament last spring and Potter teamed up with junior letterman Pete Piper to capture the number two seeded doubles event. Roush won the city tennis championship last summer.

Still fighting for the fifth position are senior letterman Bob Blackwell and seniors Gary Scott and Richard Roberts. Basketballer Virgil Brady may come out after the cage season is over and battle for a spot on the net team.

The team has been practicing in Henrion Gym on the Shocker campus until weather allows them to play outside.

SHOCKS

was the third ranked scorer on last year's squad. He has played in about half of the games and is averaging 4 points an appearance. See Limited Action

Glascok has had a bad knee to hamper his career as a Shocker and has only seen action in 4 games thus far. Hayden, a guard, has also seen action in 4 games.

By virtue of throwing in a combined total of 50 points against Cincinnati and Bradley, Ron Heller now leads the Shockers in Valley scoring with a 14.8 average and a 14 point over all average.

Starting for the Shocks tomorrow night will be Tate and Heller at forward, Lanny Van Eman and Virgil Brady at guard, and Gene Wiley at center.

WU Bowlers Enter Tourney at O-State

The Campus Activities Center bowling team, six strong, leaves tomorrow morning for Stillwater, Okla., where it will compete in a two-day invitational tournament sponsored by Oklahoma State University.

The keglers representing the University at the tournament are juniors Dave Traugott, Carl Nath, Emmett Baker, Herb Niel, and Gary Gordon, and senior Don Price, team captain. Ralph LaFever, director of the CAC recreational facilities and team coach, will accompany the team.

In all, seven teams will be represented at the meet. The teams besides Wichita, include Oklahoma State, Southern Methodist, Kansas, Colorado, California and Oklahoma Universities.

Each team will compete in the five-man team event, doubles, and individual competition. Shocker keglers paired off in the doubles competition are Traugott and Nath, Baker and Niel, and Price and Gordon.

Commenting on the team's chances in the meet, Coach LaFever said, "If the boys are right, we will do real well. We will have good competition."

According to the coach, OSU and SMU are the teams to beat for the tournament title.

The squad will be dressed in bowling shirts of the traditional Shocker colors, black and gold, with each man's name on his uniform.

Wichita Phi Delts have accepted a bid to the Oklahoma University All Phi-Delt Basketball Tournament, which will be held Friday and Saturday. Men participating in this event are Biff Pennypacker, Gary Scott, Richard Roberts, Tom Ferris, Dick Honeyman, Bill Harmon, and Kent Hall.

Tough competition is expected by the team, since no varsity players are eligible to play in the invitational tournament.

Shocker Swimmers Ready For St. Louis MVC Meet

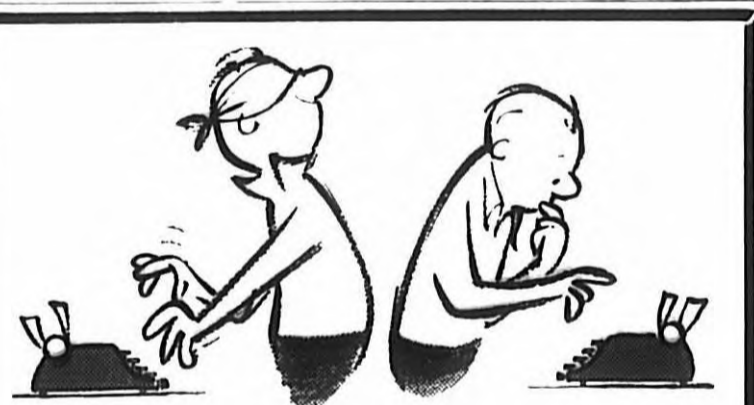

The University should be well represented at the Missouri Valley swimming meet to be held at St. Louis, March 11 and 12.

Tim Steele, a varsity football prospect for next fall, was a three-year letterman while attending Wichita Southeast High School. He placed in two events of the state meet each year in high school.

John Barrier, a graduate of East High of Wichita, lettered two years while in high school. Don Porterfield, also a graduate of East, was a three-year letterman and placed high in the state meet each year.

A former Olympic swimmer for Iraq, Saad Zara, also should help the team. He has been in the United States only two months.

Bob Buchanan, graduate of Wichita West, and Ronnie Morris, another East High grad, should also be of value to the team. North High grad Paul Human, a senior, is the coach of the team.

The other day our vice president in charge of good news announced that someone, somewhere, enjoys Cokr 18 million times a day. You can look at this 2 ways:

Either we've got an incredibly thirsty individual on our hands. Or Coca-Cola is the best-loved sparkling drink in the world.

We lean to the latter interpretation.

BE REALLY REFRESHED!

Outstanding Folk Singer Scheduled to Perform Here

Pete Seeger, banjo player and folk singer, will sing and play at 8 p.m., Sunday in the Fine Arts Center Auditorium.

Seeger has been described by Down Beat Magazine as an American tuning fork. "Seeger is a sort of reincarnated troubadour who has the genius to make us laugh or cry or think nostalgically. If this nation has seen a restoration of the glories of the American folk song, a good deal of it has been accomplished through the itinerant, indefatigable, banjo and infectious happy voice of Pete Seeger."

Seeger Known Here

Dr. Chester S. Williams, education professor, knows him personally and commented on his previous performances. "Pete Seeger has the peculiar quality of identifying himself with a particular time and theme in history. His performances are electrifying." He added that when Seeger sang of the Civil War, you felt you were there.

Nationally, Seeger is better known for his work in Hollywood with The Weavers at Ciro's night club. He helped form the group in 1949 and was with them until 1953. A year later the song, "Goodnight Irene", which they used at rehearsals, made "The Hit Parade" and brought the group national fame.

Dr. Williams said that Seeger is one of the most thorough and scholarly researchers of folk songs in the field. He is devoted to accuracy and origin. "He's as good a bibliographer as he is a craftsman," he concluded.

Ability to Lead Noted

Dr. Williams noted one particular aspect of his performance as particularly outstanding. "His ability to lead audiences in singing, is a stirring experience. And it's also a treat to see and hear him perform on steel bands, wooden whistles, and with an axe, on sturdy logs."

Seeger is sponsored by the Great Plains Folksong Association. Dr. Williams, program chairman, said the organization has three purposes, to attract folksingers to Wichita, to collect material for folksongs locally and nationally, and to produce educational materials and methods for utilizing folksongs in schools.

Also a Photographer

Seeger, besides being a collector, arranger, composer, and folksinger is a photographer. He is head of "Folklore Research Films". He hopes to record on sound film some of America's priceless heritage of folk music and folklore before it is lost beyond recall. Films are available to universities through rental.

Dr. Williams added that tickets for the 8 p.m., Sunday, performance were $1.50 for adults, 75 cents for children and may be purchased at the door or 227 North Broadway.

Send your troubles to Dr. Frood, P.O. Box 2990, Grand Central Station, New York 17, N.Y.

Dear Dr. Frood: Presumably college is a time of intellectual ferment... a period of curiosity and discontent preceding a man's plunge into commercialism and the material life. Why must this inquiry after lofty truths suddenly give way to crass financial motives? Ibid

Dear Ibid: It's the children. All they seem to care about is food, food, food.

Dear Dr. Frood: I am a skin diver. Is it possible to enjoy a Lucky under water? Jules

Dear Jules: Certainly. You may have a little trouble lighting the match, however.

Dear Dr. Frood: Every now and then you sneak a plug for Luckies into your answers. Is this subliminal advertising? Psych Major

Dear Psych: No, sir. Subliminal advertising is much less obvious. For example. Notice what the first letters of all the words in the next answer spell.

LUCKY STRIKE presents

Dear Dr. Frood:

SUBLIMINAL? FROOD PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Dear Dr. Frood: Is there any old maxim that proves it pays for a young man to go to college? A. Youngman

Dear Youngman: "Let us collect knowledge young. Soon thou reapest intelligence kings envy." (See previous question).

Dear Dr. Frood: I've been kicked out of college, rejected by the Army, divorced by my wife, disinherited by my father, and fired from my job. What is there left for me? Sturgis

Dear Sturgis: You could still be black-balled by the Book-of-the-Month Club.

Frood, Old Man—Seriously, friend, your brand of wit doesn't sit with a sophisticated student body. Try to sharpen it a bit, old sock. Make it chic, what? Skoal. Dink

Dear Dink: Makes good sense, Friend Dink. Will give it a go. Now, old bean, as for that part of your letter you asked me not to print. Don't be afraid of girls. Sure you stammer and choke and blush. But just walk right up and announce, "Hi, I'm Dink, and I think you're swell." Skoal.

COLLEGE STUDENTS SMOKE MORE LUCKIES THAN ANY OTHER REGULAR!

When it comes to choosing their regular smoke, college students head right for fine tobacco. Result: Lucky Strike tops every other regular sold. Lucky's taste beats all the rest because L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco.
