Voters Set Record In BPOC Win

Frank L. Vannerson, Liberal Arts junior, was elected SGA president Friday, after a record 1,200 votes were cast in the two-day election. He was a candidate on the BPOC ticket, the party that emerged with a decided majority.

Other than BPOC, the only party successful in electing one of the top four executive officers was CHANGE. Woody Thompson, CHANGE candidate for vice-president, was successful.

The other two top officers, both BPOC candidates, are Betty Richter, secretary; and Carole Pierce, treasurer.

Class presidents elected were Bana Kartasasmita, senior; Mary Salyer, junior; and Tim Steele, sophomore.

Congressmen-at-large are Jim Allen, Larry Blick, Jim Hadley, Sharon Richardson, and a write-in choice, Mike Martin, all of BPOC; and Joyce Allegro, Bob Bonner, Quincelee Brown, and Bob Cressler.

Representatives of the various colleges elected were Jane Robertson and Jim Collier, Liberal Arts; Norman Downing and Linda Plott, Business; Dolores Covey and Tom Reichenberger, Engineering; Teresa Covacevich and Mike Randall, Fine Arts; Joni Krehbiel and Judy Yawger, Music.

A tie occurred in the election for representatives of the College of Education. Linda Christian was elected, but the tie occurred between Howard Roe and Colleen Shannon for the other representative slot. A decision will be made between the latter two persons at a run-off next Friday.

Other class officers are Joyce Hjerpe, senior class vice-president; Kay Kenyon, secretary; Phyllis Richardson, treasurer; and

Commissioner Hurls Charges At Frat

By BETTY KIRKENDALL

A multitude of discrepancies, including ballot stuffing, illegal campaigning, and unauthorized poll workers marred the SGA election, which may well be contested.

According to Allan Johnston, election commissioner, a fraternity house, affiliated with BPOC, was responsible for stuffing the ballot boxes, unauthorized persons working in the polls, extra ballots being passed out, and ID cards not being punched.

Both parties were guilty of campaigning to close to the polls, he added.

Neither Party Responsible
"Charges have been made that there were discrepancies at polling places, and we have witnesses to the effect that these illegalities were taking place," said Johnston.

Neither party, CHANGE nor BPOC, was responsible for these illegalities, according to Johnston. "It was an organized effort, as I see it, organized by a certain frat house affiliated with BPOC. The house is Beta Theta Pi," he said.

Became Evident Thursday

As early as Thursday morning these illegalities became evident. Art Larsen, Abolition party representative working at the polls, approached Johnston with charges that poll workers were passing out extra ballots and failing to punch ID cards.

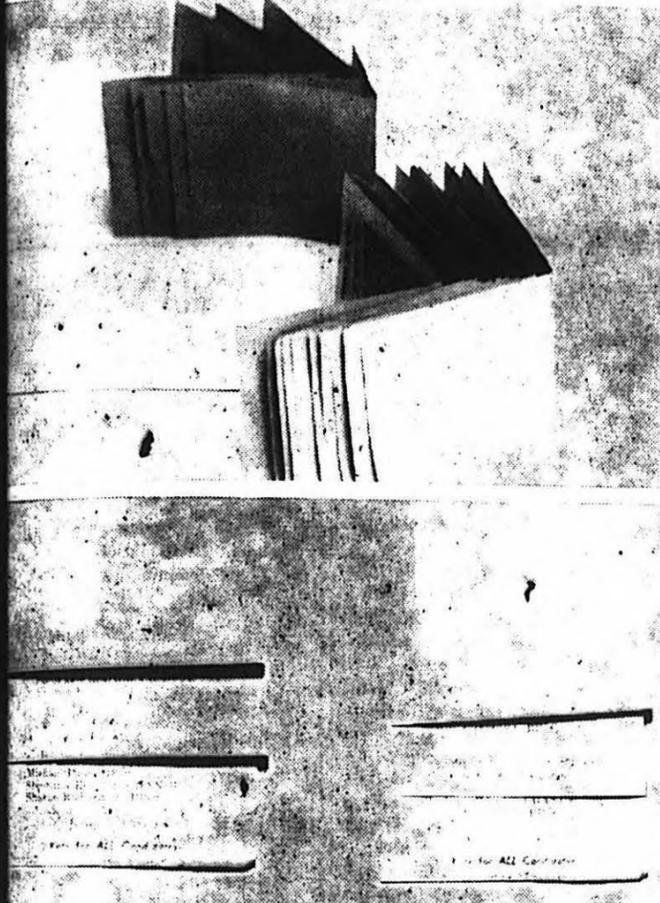

"The students we saw stuffing the ballots and the poll workers seen not punching ID cards and handing out two or three ballots at a time were members of Beta Theta Pi," Johnston stated.

The election commissioner had assigned two persons from each party to work at the polls. These poll workers were replaced by unauthorized workers from the social organization.

Checkers Added

In an attempt to stop these illegalities, an additional checker was assigned to each polling place.

ARE EVIDENCE—These photos of SGA election ballots reveal alleged discrepancies in the ballot box. "Bunched" ballots (upper photo) were removed from the box, and ballots in lower photo indicate that they were filled out by one person.

Student's Wreck Kiddieland As BPOC Party Goes Wild

Sports Center's Kiddieland was the scene, Thursday night, of a BPOC political rally—a rally that turned into a brawl resulting in $500 damages to the popular amusement park.

The most extensive damage was caused when one of the service trucks owned by the park was driven into the side of a feed building and another smaller building, according to George Mansolver, manager of the park. The complete side of the feed building was smashed in and the front of the grainery demolished.

Ted Taylor, BPOC party chairman had the following comments concerning the destruction at Kiddieland.

"Most of the destruction was done by non-political minded students," Taylor stated. He further commented that he felt assured neither political party was actively involved in the destruction.

"I discovered the truck about 5 a.m., Friday, when I reported for work," said A. M. Fleischaer, one of the groundskeepers. It had been parked about 100 feet away from the buildings the night before.

Fifty feet of expensive redwood slat fence was pushed down, bathroom fixtures were broken, numerous lightbulbs were stolen, light fixtures destroyed, and large quantities of beer was thrown on the walls and into a jukebox, Con-

Unworthy of SGA ?

Another Student Government Association election has been held, complete with a destructive political party, ballot-box stuffing, and accusations from each party pointing to the other as guilty.

A record number of students turned out at the polls this year, placing their support behind student government, or at least behind one of two parties.

It seems from the activities which occurred that some individuals or groups are not interested in an honest election. Some had to stoop to ballot stuffing to try to insure that a favored candidate or party was elected.

The incidents surrounding the election are detrimental to the University having any kind of respectable or efficient student government.

In fact, these incidents seem to demonstrate that the students at this University do not even deserve a student government.

Many of the candidates worked hard and are sincere in trying to make the SGA a respected organization and one with actual power.

Their work was undone by the juvenile actions of a minority, and not at all a worthy minority. One group has been accused of illegalities, Beta Theta Pi Fraternity.

We hope that if these charges are proven true definite action will be taken against the group. There should be no place on a university campus for such an immature and dishonest organization.

Not only does such an organization mar an SGA election, but also the other social groups and the University as a whole.

If such organizations continue to operate and take part in student government, then the SGA should be abolished at the University.

We feel that a student government that can not be respected can not do the students or the University any good, so why should it exist?

Paintings, Pots, and People

April's Oleracea awaits the hand and flame. Red predominates in the art department's current Little Gallery showing of the works of three of its painter-instructors. Robert Kiskadden, Tom Crossnoe and Rex Hall each present four of their latest oil abstractions in this lively spring exhibit.

The harlequin hues of Rex Hall's encaustic "Holiday" create an intense movement and "symbolize every facet of life," says the artist. This staple studded, high relief, wax and pigment composition offers the viewer a stimulating visual sensation, and an exciting tactile experience as well.

Word has been received by four Wichita students and two art department faculty members that they are successful competitors and entrants in the Nelson Gallery-Atkins Museum's current Mid-

America Exhibition, in Kansas City, Missouri.

Ken Grizzell, graduate sculptor, received an honorable mention for his welded steel "Structure", and was chosen to be photographically represented in the catalog of the show.

Other student exhibitors are Richard Best, graduate fellow, and James G. Davis and Richard Moses, advanced painting majors. Rex Hall and David Bernard represented the faculty in the respective areas of painting and prints.

We Get Letters

Letter to the Editor:

The final deadline for submission of art work and manuscripts for the spring issue of Mikrokosmos was April 1, and the staff is now in the process of selecting what will be published from the huge quantity of material received. At such a time it seems appropriate to make public certain views which we have developed in the course of our work with the magazine.

To begin, we are extremely impressed with the response we have had in answer to our request for material. Over 100 drawings, 60 poems, and 30 prose works were submitted for the first issue, and a comparable number of each has been received for the second. What is more important, a large part of that material has been in our opinion quite good.

We believe that this is an encouraging and irrefutable indication of the extensiveness and high level of student creative activity on this campus.

We believe that it is an equally encouraging and irrefutable indication of sufficient student interest in the magazine to justify the expansion which we have carried out to the limit of our financial resources.

Moreover, we believe that it reflects the success of our attempts to free the magazine from the stigma of "beatnikism" which many seem to have attached to it.

Our staff for this year was enlarged in order to create a diversity of critical points of view and prevent the domination of one person, clique, or set of ideas.

We have attempted to disassociate ourselves from any narrow stylistic preference or favoritism of persons. These things are indicated by the diversity of styles and forms found in our first issue, and as such we will be in the unfortunate position of having to reject for publication the great bulk of the material which we ourselves solicited. There are many things we would not feel justified in printing even if we had the space, but there is much which will not be used only because we do not. For this we are sorry.

The last issue of the magazine will appear in May. The attention which has been given our efforts by the Sunflower and by others has been sincerely appreciated.

Easter Party Given for Tots

The coeds in Angel Flight and the cadets in the Air Force ROTC on campus sponsored an Easter party for the children of the Institute of Logopedics last Thursday.

About 300 boys and girls were transported by Air Force busses to the FAC Auditorium where they were shown cartoons. Afterwards a cadet dressed as the Easter Bunny gave each child a basket with cookies and crackers. Pop and ice cream were also served to the tots.

While the film was being shown the coeds hid colored eggs on the lawn of the FAC and later the children hunted them.

This annual party is given as the main service project of the Air Force groups.

The eggs were dyed by the coeds. Some local parents accompanied the children and other assistance in the Phi Delt house.

Beta Theta Pi held its third annual Playboy Party last week and Sharon Monasmith was chosen as the Beta Playmate. This coed, chosen for her beauty, was honored at the dance and given a present.

At the same event Sharon Monasmith and Duane Hendricks, president of Beta Theta Pi, announced their pinning. Kathleen Watson, Alpha Phi, and Jerry Brazil, Beta Theta Pi, also announced their pinning.

Another pinning took place recently and was announced at the hour dance of Delta Delta Delta and Sigma Phi Epsilon. Sally Shank and Don Luallen are now pinned.

Margie Presnall, Gamma Phi Beta, has announced her engagement to Bruce Walton, Sigma Phi Epsilon. They are to be married at the end of this month.

Sixty representatives from the seven Sigma Phi Epsilon chapters in Kansas met here at the CAC last Saturday for their annual District Leadership Conference.

The Wichita Alumni Chapter under Dillon Neal, president, sponsored the meeting which included a talk by Dr. George Comstock, Coordinator of Men's Activities, and Larkin Bailey, former Sig Ep National Grand President.

The Alpha Phi pledges paid for a walkout this last week by wearing boots on campus and carrying plastic bags as purses. Much confusion was caused as the seniors walked out from the same meeting.

The Council of University Women sponsored a coffee held in the CAC Friday morning. This was to raise money for a scholarship for a coed who lives in Grace Wilkie Hall.

Other sophomore officers were Barbara McDowell, vice-president; Ronald Morris, secretary; Quentin Fleming, treasurer; and Margaret Hoffman, sergeant-at-arms.

SGA officers were scheduled to be installed at ceremonies Monday night.

Although this move curtailed most of the illegal activities, the damage had already been done.

During the counting of the votes, ballots were removed from the boxes folded in bunches. In some cases, there were 10 to 15 ballots neatly folded together. Approximately one hundred ballots were obviously stuffed, according to Johnston.

Ballots Being Held

These ballots are being held in the Business Office as evidence for any action that may follow.

An election committee, composed of one member from each party, the SGA president, and the election commissioner will meet Monday to gather the evidence, to examine the "obviously stuffed" ballots, to talk to the poll workers, and to hear charges from all sides.

The committee will then take the evidence to President Corbin for his consideration. It will then be decided whether to take charges before the Student-Faculty Court.

Be perspicacious!

Not this: a student who studies drowsily no matter how much sleep he gets.

This! Perspicacious... sharp! NoDoz keeps you awake and alert—safely!

If you find studying sometimes soporific (and who doesn't?) the word to remember is NoDoz. NoDoz alerts you with a safe and accurate amount of caffeine—the same refreshing stimulant in coffee and tea. Yet non-habit-forming NoDoz is faster, handier, more reliable. So to keep perspicacious during study and exams—and while driving, too—always keep NoDoz in proximity.

"NO PARKING"

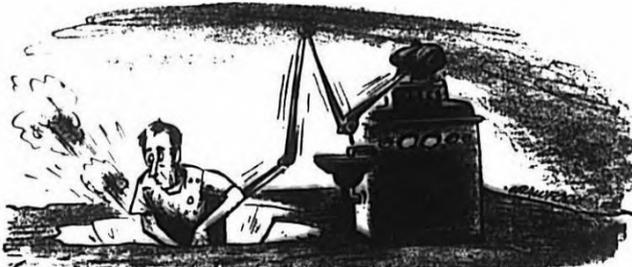

As everyone knows, the most serious problem facing American colleges today is the shortage of parking space for students' cars.

Many remedies have been offered to solve this vexing dilemma. For instance, it has been suggested that all students be required to drive small foreign sports cars which can be carried in the purse or pocket. This would, of course, solve the parking problem but it would make double dating impossible—unless, that is, the boys make the girls run along behind the car. But that is no solution either because by the time they get to the prom the girls will be panting so hard that they will wilt their corsages.

Another suggested cure for our parking woes is that all students smoke Marlboro cigarettes. At first glance this seems an excellent solution because we all know Marlboro is the cigarette which proved that flavor did not go out when filters came in—and when we sit around and smoke good Marlboros we are so possessed by sweet contentment that none of us wishes ever to leave, which means no gadding about which means no driving, which means no parking problem.

But the argument in favor of Marlboros overlooks one important fact: when you run out of Marlboros you must go get some more, which means driving, which means parking, which means you're right back where you started.

Probably the most practical suggestion to alleviate the campus parking situation is to tear down every school of dentistry in the country and turn it into a parking lot. This is not to say that dentistry is unimportant. Gracious, no! Dentistry is important and vital and a shining part of our American heritage. But the fact is there is no real need for separate schools of dentistry. Dentistry could easily be moved to the school of mining engineering. Surely anyone who can drill a thousand feet for oil can fill a simple little cavity.

Take the case of dental student Fred C. Sigafos...

This experiment—combining dentistry with mining engineering—has already been tried at several colleges—and with some very interesting results. Take, for instance, the case of a dental student named Fred C. Sigafos. One day recently Fred was out practicing with his drilling rig in a vacant lot just off campus. He sank a shaft two hundred feet deep and, to his surprise and delight, he struck a detergent mine. For a while Fred thought his fortune was made but he soon learned that he had drilled into the storage tank of the Eagle Laundry. Walter P. Eagle, president of the laundry, was mad as all get-out and things looked mighty black for Fred. But it all ended well. When Mr. Eagle called Fred into his office to chew him out, it so happened that Mr. Eagle's beautiful daughter, Patient Griselda, was present. For years Patient Griselda had been patiently waiting for the right man. "That's him!" she cried upon spying Fred—and today Fred is a full partner in the Eagle Laundry in charge of pleats and ruffles.

According to William Bush, instructor in voice and director of the group, the program will consist of 16th and 17th century madrigals by Purcell, Morley, and Praetorius, and contemporary music by Johnson, Garrish, and Hindemith.

The University String Quartet will play Schumann's "Quartet in E Minor."

Highlighting the evening's music will be Vaughn Williams' "Serenade to Music," written for small choir and soloists, and string orchestra. Joan Sipes, pianist, and Gini Eldred, violinist, will play a special arrangement of the orchestration.

"Madrigals are a more refined type of music, in that each member of the group is in his own right a soloist," Mr. Bush commented. "This will be exemplified in "Serenade to Music." The group will sit in quartet arrangement, allowing for a cross-voice blend, rather than the traditional cross-sectional sound."

Invitations to the Second Annual Madrigal Concert may be obtained in the Music Office in the FAC or at the information booth of the CAC. There will be no admission charge.
