Geology Prof to Speak At Honors Convocation

The 6th annual Honors Convocation will be staged May 11 in the FAC Recital Hall, according to Prof. William F. Crum, chairman of the event.

Dr. Paul Tasch, professor of geology, has been named as the main speaker. The title of Dr. Tasch's address is "A Grain of Sand," and will be delivered at the 9:30 a.m. session that will honor graduating seniors with high grade averages.

President Harry F. Corbin will preside over the awards program. Presentation of the honors will be made by Dr. Worth Fletcher, registrar.

There will be three kinds of honors awarded. University honors going to graduating seniors who have a 3.750 index, honors going to graduating seniors with an index between 3.000 and 3.750, and class honors going to seniors, juniors, sophomores and freshmen, with an index of 3.750.

There are four graduating seniors who will receive University Honors. Receiving this honor are, Suzanne Cooper Evans, Education; Barbara Ann Garlow, Liberal Arts; Donald Lee Thornton, Business; and Elsie Arlene Loewen Will, Music.

Thirty-three men and 43 women will receive graduate honors. Thirteen men and 31 women will receive class honors.

Students, Faculty Publish May Journal

The May edition of the Kansas Speech Journal was published by the University with Dr. Eugene Q. Hoak, chairman of the speech department, serving as editor.

The 42-page publication features articles written by University faculty members, students, and alumni, including George K. Wilner, professor of speech; Mel Moorehouse, associate professor of speech; and Joyce Ward, Liberal Arts sophomore.

Norvin H. Allen, assistant professor of speech; Paul R. McKee, instructor in speech; Dr. Hoak; Eugene C. Spangler, associate professor of speech; Leslie M. Blake, associate professor of speech; and Suzanne Umphrey, Education junior, also contributed articles.

CAC to Celebrate First Anniversary

Door prizes, cash awards for talent, and modeling by members of the campus sororities and fraternities will highlight the first annual CAC birthday party to be held in the FAC auditorium on the afternoon of May 13.

The fashion and talent show is sponsored by Henry's Princeton Shop, Dean's Designs and two ladies shops in Lincoln Heights Village.

Two $50 wardrobes, one man's and one woman's, will be awarded as door prizes by Henry's. Dean's Designs will award a corsage and a boutonniere as door prizes.

Prizes for talent will be $30 for first prize, $15 for second place,

Hippo In, Classes Out Friday

The annual Hippodrome festivities, established in 1930, will begin in the Commons Auditorium at 8:30 a.m. Friday. Classes will not be held during the day.

It will be a two-day affair this year with the top two skits in each division, fraternity, sorority, and independent, being presented on Saturday night in competition for the first and second place trophies, according to Mary Salyer, May Day general chairman.

Program Order Given
The organizations in the order of their appearance on Friday are Delta Upsilon, The Collegians, Gamma Phi Beta, KMWU, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Orchesis, and Alpha Chi Omega. After lunch, Beta Theta Pi, Gary Herlocker's Jazz Quartet, Delta Delta Delta, Phi Delta Theta, and Delta Gamma will present their skits.

"The skits are scheduled from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. with an hour and a half break for lunch," Miss Salyer added.

The ceremonies Friday evening will be opened at 7 p.m. with the winding of the Maypole in front of the Commons Auditorium. Following this will be the crowning of May Queen Jeanne Seacat, Mortar Board Tapping, and presentation of awards.

Awards to be Given
Awards to be given include the Pep Trophy which will be presented to the winning sorority and fraternity, the Sigma Phi Epsilon Outstanding Sorority Award, and the Dean's Scholarship Plaques to the sorority and fraternity pledge class with the highest grade average.

Ten junior women will be tapped by present Mortar Board members for membership in the national honorary society.

"The program Friday night will conclude with the announcement of the top two skits in each division," she said.

Presentation will begin on Saturday night at 7:30. "The Saturday Night Revue will be open to the public," Miss Salyer said. "Admission will be $1 for adults

Saunsaucie New Prexy

Phil Saunsaucie, CHANGE's presidential candidate, led his party to victory in the SGA elections held Thursday and Friday.

CHANGE captured all four of the executive offices, won seven college seats, six proportionals, two class presidents, and 11 class officers. A little over 1,000 students turned out to cast their ballots during the two days of voting, according to Allan Johnston, election commissioner.

First Loss in Six Tries
CHANGE won 19 congressional seats while BPOC managed eight. It was the first time in six elections that BPOC lost the majority in this body.

A total of 21 Greeks and 18 independents were elected by the students. A tie occurred in the Liberal Arts college balloting between Jim Collier and Dick Wallace, according to Johnston. A run-off election between the two candidates will be held at a later date.

Officers elected to head the SGA besides Saunsaucie were Woody Thompson, vice-president; Myrna Schenck, secretary; and Alice Peterson, treasurer, all of CHANGE.

Proportional representatives elected include Joyce Allegro, Bob Cressler, Bob Bonner, Quincalle Brown, Judy Larson, and Stephanie Reardon, all of CHANGE, and Jim Hadley, Jim Allen, and Sharon Richardson, of BPOC.

Publications Applications May Be Filed

The deadline for filing applications for Sunflower and Parnassus staff positions has been extended until 5 p.m. today.

Sixteen paying positions and many other non-paying positions are open on the Sunflower for next semester, according to Prof. Paul Gerhard, head of the journalism department, and faculty adviser for the student newspaper.

Nineteen positions, 11 of which are paying, will make up the year-book staff, according to Gene Bratton, assistant professor of journalism and Parnassus faculty adviser.

Sunflower staff applications are available at the news room, Rm. 004, or in the journalism department office, Rm. 114, Commons, and at the CAC information desk.

Parnassus applications are available in the journalism office and at the CAC information desk.

Applications should be returned to Prof. Joan O'Bryant, chairman of the Student Publications Board, Rm. 209, Fiske Hall, or to the journalism office.

A recently conducted symposium among present staff members regarding the values and advantages of a publications staff position indicated the feeling that few other campus extra-curricular activities offered as much experience, satisfaction, and enjoyment combined as did work on either the Sunflower or the Parnassus, according to Betty Kirkendall, present Sunflower editor.

The Board will meet soon to decide who will fill the various positions.

SFB Applications

Applications for membership on the Student Forum Board are available now in the Office of Student Services.

Student Forum Board is the campus organization which arranges the annual lecture series by nationally famous people. The deadline for turning in applications is May 13.

will contain 25 pages of information concerning this year's skits, the history of Hippodrome, and other features."

Judges for this year's program will include Bob Snyder, Program Director for KTVH; Bob Payne, Program Director for KAKE-TV; Ralph Hinman, Jr., Wichita Beacon theater critic; C. Henry Nathan, Wichita Eagle drama critic; and Mary Jane Teall of the Community Theater drama department.

Mrs. Josephine Fugate, dean of women, and Dr. James K. Sours, chairman of the political science department, will act as hosts and escorts for the judges all day Friday, according to Miss Salyer.

"We are very pleased with the judges this year and they seemed happy to help us, too," she said.

Point System Not to Be Used
The point-grading system for judging will not be used this year. Instead, a criticism of each presentation will be written by each judge and later evaluated in order to determine the winners, she added.

"We have $1,500 to spend on Hippodrome this year; however, all of it will not be spent," she said.

Others working on the Hippodrome committee include Richard Roberts, publicity; Don Wiles, Saturday Revue; Revae Hughes, coronation; Carole Pierce, Maypole; and Jo Ann Carter, skits.

Notice Seniors

Senior announcements may be picked up today in the CAC Bookstore, according to Richard Adkisson, Bookstore manager.

Countdown

Five . . . four . . . three . .

And, now, scarcely more than three weeks remain before the school year ends—before the exodus from the campus begins. Indeed, this is a busy time, and a time for eleventh-hour work where it is necessary.

The pages of the calendar have been ripped off eight times since last September, and for some, this period has been all too short. No one will admit that this is true, however.

Those who will be graduated and students who will return next fall are wondering where the time has flown. Many are realizing that, in order to avoid being in arrears when grades are distributed, they will have to do some "library time" between now and May 20.

Some who once made vows against lackadaisical attitudes have seen their vows fall by the wayside—or maybe by the lakeside or countryside because of some good weather.

This is common just about everywhere, we think, and not peculiar to anyplace.

But, the protective shrouds of March and April no longer afford students a false sense of security. The stunning realization that it is May does, frankly, hit us in the head like a stack of textbooks.

Because of the short time left, we hope that time is used to the fullest and best extent by students. It would be a good idea to start now because waiting until the last minute will cause endless headaches.

Waiting to the last week to complete tardy work has a big disadvantage in that finals follow close on the heels of the last day of classes, leaving little time for "cramming."

We will venture to say that, in these next days and weeks, the library will be the scene of much activity, some books that were needed all semester may be purchased, and research papers will be composed at a furious pitch. Mark our word!

If these and myriads of other things loom for the student, in the midst of other activities, we hope the remaining time is used to advantage.

ODE TO CHANGE

We've chosen Phil and Woody, too,
 To mark the path of W.U.;
 They can not tell what lies ahead,
 But it sure won't be a rosy bed.

They'll work beside administrators,
 Battle corrupt agitators,
 Try to settle trite disputes,
 And wrestle with their own repute.

Phil will prod the SGA.
 While Woody cracks the whip his way;
 Alice must keep track of loot,
 And Myrna records who gets the boot.

For others, too, 'twill prove a grind
 To see that no one gets behind
 In duties here and nonsense there
 And see that all is going 'square'.

To those we've chosen to the top
 We offer wishes of no flop,
 But ask that goals will stay the same
 As stated on the slate of reign.

Mortar Board Women Plan for Future

By CAROL CHAMBERS
Sunflower Society Editor

The ten senior women who are honorary members of Mortar Board will relinquish their titles this Friday at Hippodrome to the new members to be chosen.

Mortar Board is a service group. The main project of the group was Operation Egghead which provided the entire campus with an opportunity to pursue a subject in which they were interested. The group started making plans for this event early last fall.

Conference Held Here

There was also a regional conference of Mortar Board chapters at the University this year. The schools represented discussed the objects and goals of Mortar Board.

Mortar Board is a national organization and has over 29,000 members in its 101 chapters across the country.

This women's group is different from the senior honor men's group in that it is a service project and the women are appointed at the end of their junior year while the men are appointed at the end of their senior year. The men's group is not national.

Nyla Stegman Carney, outgoing president, is in art education and will complete her courses for requirements to graduate next fall.

Davis Will Teach

As vice-president, Elaine Davis has taken over at most meetings this year. She will teach following her planned marriage this summer.

Her main field of interest is biological laboratory research. Miss Davis has been active in AWS and YWCA cabinet work as well as Gamma Phi Beta.

Suzanne Evans, secretary of the group, is a logopedics major. She is active in AWS, the logopedics-speech organization on campus, and Delta Delta Delta. After her graduation, she plans to go into graduate work in logopedics here.

Barbara Garlow, education major, plans to marry in June. She is the outgoing president of YWCA on campus and is active in Delta Delta Delta. Elementary education is her major field and she may do graduate work.

Gilley to Teach

Shirley Gilley is going to teach next year and she is interested in music education. She plans to marry before school is out this spring. Miss Gilley is an Alpha Phi and president of Mu Phi, the women's honorary national music sorority on campus.

Carole Hicks is also in music education and has a graduate assistantship to continue here at Wichita University. Her graduate work will include some teaching. Miss Hicks is a Delta Delta Delta and has been active in the SGA on campus.

Kay Peer will receive a secretarial degree and also is a business student. Her plans are indefinite for the future. She has been the president of Delta Gamma sorority during the past year.

Sally Shank plans to teach music in the Wichita school system. Miss Shank has been the president of AWS on campus this year and also vice president and pledge trainer of Delta Delta Delta.

Charlene Taylor is an English major and has been admitted to Radcliffe College in Cambridge, Mass., for graduate work. She is active in YWCA and is the vice-president of AWS and Alpha Chi Omega.

Wilcox Receives Assistantship

Laura Lee Wilcox will continue her education with a research assistantship of $2,400 which has been granted to her at Northwestern University. Miss Wilcox is the president of Wheaties, women's pep organization, and has been active in Alpha Phi sorority.

Scholarship, leadership, and service on campus are requirements for Mortar Board. A minimum of a 3.0 overall grade average is required and service is considered very highly.

The new members are tapped by being presented a rose by an older member.

The University chapter originated in 1954.

These are the silver wings of a U. S. Air Force Navigator. As a flying officer on the Aerospace team, he has chosen a career of leadership, a career that has meaning, rewards and executive opportunity.

The Aviation Cadet Program is the gateway to this career. To qualify for this rigorous and professional training, a high school diploma is required; however, two or more years of college are highly desirable. Upon completion of the program the Air Force encourages the new officer to earn his degree so he can better handle the responsibilities of his position. This includes full pay and allowances while taking off-duty courses under the Bootstrap education program. The Air Force will pay a substantial part of all tuition costs. After having attained enough credits so that he can complete course work and residence requirements for a college degree in 6 months or less, he is eligible to apply for temporary duty at the school of his choice.

If you think you have what it takes to earn the silver wings of an Air Force Navigator, see your local Air Force Recruiter. Ask him about Aviation Cadet Navigator training and the benefits which are available to a flying officer in the Air Force. Or fill in and mail this coupon.

There's a place for tomorrow's leaders on the Aerospace Team.

Two-Piece Styles Highlight Seasons Swimsuit Fashions

Carefree fun and healthy activity once again become important with the approach of the leisurely warmth of summer. The swimsuit fashions of this spring have a definite change which will be welcomed by the sun-worshipping coeds who will soon be buying new suits.

Two-piece suits are more important than ever. Even adjustable bikinis have been produced. All two piece suits are not bikini style though, and the colors and prints used are most unusual.

A near Eastern look is given to some suits, even two piece ones, by adding a broad strap around the neck and having the neckline with a square cut. Many of these are made in the perennial paisley prints and are fashioned plainly from knit material.

Knit suits in one piece are more popular this year. They seem to dry faster than cotton or wool and fit better, also.

The influence of dress styling is frequently apparent in pleated skirts, kimono sleeves on beach jackets and in color and fabric patterns. Egyptian prints, tapestries, bold stripes and checks, and baby checks made more interesting by ruffled trim are most significant.

Large floral prints which are made by hand can be both bold and sophisticated in the new suits this year.

Wilcox, Pyles Receive Grants For Teaching Assistantships

Laura Lee Wilcox, Education senior, and Karen Pyles, Liberal Arts senior, have been awarded assistantships at Northwestern University and Kansas University, respectively.

Miss Wilcox, Education senior majoring in logopedics, has received a $2,400 research assistantship at Northwestern University.

The grant provides for a year's study toward the master's degree at the university in Evanston, Ill. Miss Wilcox will assist in a psychoacoustics project which is being conducted by Northwestern in cooperation with the Chicago University Medical Center.

CHANGE

Linda Plott and Marty Limbird of CHANGE were elected. CHANGE also swept the music school, electing Judy Yawger and Joni Krehbiel.

Engineering representatives elected were Dolores Covey, BPOC, and Tom Reichenberger, CHANGE. Linda Christian, BPOC, and Colleen Shannon, CHANGE, were elected from the College of Education. From the art school, Teresa Covacevich, BPOC, and Carol Chapel, CHANGE, were winners.

In Liberal Arts, Jane Robertson, BPOC, was elected while a tie resulted for the other seat.

Kartasasmita Senior Prexy

Senior class officers are, president, Bana Kartasasmita, BPOC; vice-president, Joyce Hjerpe, CHANGE; secretary, Kay Kenyon, CHANGE; treasurer, Phyllis Richardson, BPOC; and sergeant-at-arms, Ronald Konkel, BPOC.

Elected as junior class officers were, president, John Ritchey, CHANGE; vice-president, Larry Richardson, CHANGE; secretary, Milly Wolcott, CHANGE; treasurer, John Schull, CHANGE; and sergeant-at-arms, Wanda Jewell, BPOC.

Sophomore class officers are, president, John Messenger; vice-president, Dave McMinimy; secretary, Lyla Thoman; treasurer, Quentin Flemming; and sergeant-at-arms, Ed Webb, all of CHANGE.

Miss Wilcox will be graduated from the University in June. She currently holds an Institute of Logopedics scholarship, is a past recipient of an academic award from the American Association of University Women, and is a member of Mortar Board honor society.

Miss Pyles, speech and drama major, has recently been awarded a $2,000 grant from Kansas University.

The grant is in the form of a teaching assistantship and begins in September.

Miss Pyles is a member of University Players, National Collegiate Players, Orchesis, and Zeta Phi Eta, speech honorary. She will be graduated in June.

One of a series of student-faculty discussions will be presented at 8 p.m. tonight in the Music-Browsing Room of the CAC.

The discussion will feature a tape recording of a speech given by Major Meyers of the Brooke Medical Center in San Antonio, Texas. The tape entitled "Brainwashing" concerns a study done on American soldiers captured by the Red Chinese.

Dr. James K. Sours, professor and chairman of the political science department, will lead the discussion.

NAACP Dance Set

A dance, sponsored by the NAACP youth group, will be held Friday in the CAC Ballroom. The dance will be held from 8 p.m. to midnight, according to Margo Looney, chairman.

Couples under 21 will be admitted for $1, and adult couples for $2, according to the chairman.

Vocal and instrumental entertainment will be provided.

The last in this series of discussions will feature a book called "The Cave," written by Robert Penn Warren also author of, "All the Kings Men." Leading the discussion will be Or. Richard Kennedy, professor of English.
