ACTION Selects Candidates

Heading the SGA executive slate for ACTION party in next week's election will be Bob Buchanan, Engineering junior, for president, and Mike Paup, Liberal Arts sophomore, candidate for vice-president.

The two men were named early this week as the Party released its full slate for the upcoming annual SGA election.

Candidates for the other two executive seats on the 28-member congress are Sharon Richardson, Liberal Arts sophomore, for secretary; and Joel Park, Engineering junior, for treasurer.

Buchanan, majoring in electrical engineering, is chairman of the CAC games committee, and has merited the Dean's Honor Roll as he carries a 3.5 grade index. Before enrolling at the University, he was awarded the Putnam Scholarship at Kansas State University.

An English major, Paup is poetry editor of Mikrokosmos, a member of the Political Activities Center, and also carries a 3.5 overall grade average.

Miss Richardson, majoring in speech, is currently organizations chairman of SGA and a member of Student Forum Board. She serves as second vice-president of Gamma Phi Beta sorority and is a member of Zeta Phi Eta honorary speech fraternity. Her grade average is 2.9.

Majoring in aeronautical engineering and a holder of the Walter Beech Scholarship, Park is a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity and Arnold Air Society. His grade index is 3.3.

Summing up the newly-appointed slate, John Price, ACTION party chairman, said, "We know that all of our candidates are well-qualified for their respective positions, and that our platform planks are solid and attainable. Our candidates are pledged, by their interest in the party and in the SGA, to the purpose of achieving our platform in its entirety.

"We of ACTION party want an SGA that is an active, working congress and we know we can be such a congress. The present congress did not achieve their platform. We will not wait—we will activate the congress to achieve our platform and then keep working for you, are students who vote for us."

WU Funds Granted By State Aid Bill

The University's state aid measure was signed by Governor John Anderson, Jr., Wednesday, bringing approximately $185,000 in state funds to the school for the next academic year.

The action formally closed the University's biggest drive for state aid. The original bill, designed to take the University into the state educational system, was killed by the House of Representatives State Affairs Committee last month. In its place, a resolution was drawn up proposing a 2-year study of the issue.

Also at this time, the new bill for state support for the University was proposed and later passed by both houses of the legislature.

Governor Anderson regarded the passage of the new bill as "part of a program which will eventually bring WU into the state school system."

Supporters of the University voiced disappointment that the original bill was not passed. "This bill accomplishes only a part of what we should do for Wichita and its fine University," said Sen.

Paul Wunsch (R-Kingman), concerning the passage of the new bill.

Peace Corps Petition Drive Begins Monday

University students will have a chance to lend their support to President John Kennedy's Peace Corps during the first three days of next week. Petitions will be available to sign Monday through Wednesday in the main corridor of the CAC.

According to Frank Vannerson, PAC president in charge of the Peace Corps organization on campus, the petitions will be sent to Kansas congressmen in an attempt to gain their support also.

Vannerson urged all students interested in the popular Peace Corps to sign the petitions.

The PAC head said that he had received a letter last week from Rep. Garner Shriver, (R-Kansas), encouraging the movement on the University campus.

CHANGE Meeting To Air WU Issues

An open meeting will be held by CHANGE party at 2 p.m., Monday, to give students an opportunity to discuss issues with party officials and candidates.

According to Bob Hunt, party chairman, the officers of the CHANGE central committee and the candidates for SGA executive offices will be present to talk with students.

The meeting will be held in the East Ballroom of the CAC.

Debate Looms For Politicos

The "Great Debate" fever, which has spread around many college campuses as a favorable device in politicking has unfolded on our own campus.

The top two CHANGE party candidates for the coming general election, Woody Thompson and Bob Hunt, have challenged the leading figures of the newly formed ACTION party to a "great debate."

To Debate Tuesday

Thompson, SGA presidential nominee, and Hunt, the vice-president choice of CHANGE, have called for the public debate Tuesday at 3 p.m. in the Commons Auditorium to evaluate the platforms of the two parties.

ACTION party officials are expected to answer the challenge in Tuesday's edition of the Sunflower as to whether its top two choices,

Bob Buchanan and Mike Paup, will "decide the issues" against CHANGE.

Reasons Given

The CHANGE duo gave this reason for calling for the public debate: "We feel this is a vital necessity because the next step, after discussion in a democratic society, is debate before the public. This is central to the achievement of the democratic purpose and those who do not like this concept, demanding action, not talk, forget that purposeful talk necessarily precedes intelligent action."

Thompson and Hunt felt that in the last two weeks the student body and faculty have had adequate opportunity to view, discuss and dissent on the platforms of the two parties.

Grounds Laid

They said the grounds for this debate, or public forum, would be: 1.) Inquiry into the alternatives provided by the two parties; 2.) Solutions offered by the two parties; and 3.) The practical application of these solutions.

They added, "Furthermore, since our campus is a community made up of students, faculty, and administrators, we would urge a special invitation to our faculty and administration with the President, his assistant, and Deans as guests of honor.

"And in order to benefit both parties, and students that they seek to influence, we most sincerely urge that the party candidates, workers, and officers attend—along with all the student body."

SGA President Phil Saunsaucie, (CHANGE), said that the debates could be used to discuss major campus problems where all students need to hear outspoken discussion.

The outcome of this "great debate" will be analyzed by Sunflower editors in next Friday's paper.

'In the Round' Play Presented In Unique Style

The audience will have a "ring-side" seat for the four performances of "Charley's Aunt," May 3, 4, 5, and 6.

To be shown in the CAC Ballroom, the production will be staged in the round. This is a unique style which presents the play in the middle of an arena with the audience seated on all four sides around the "stage."

The amount of scenery will be at an all-time low, with merely a hint of scenery. David Flemming, assistant professor of speech and drama, and Stephen Gibson, speech senior are at work now creating the sets for this production. Every detail in the production must be perfected to further the intimacy of the presentation.

Written by Brandon Thomas, "Charley's Aunt" is especially suited to this informal style of staging. The audience will feel a part of the humor and fun as the "Aunt" cavorts through romantic misadventures and hilarious misadventures, tripping over petticoats, and trying to conceal half-smoked cigars.

Intergroup Relations Meet Starts Tomorrow in Center

By JIM COLLIER
Managing Editor

The purpose of the National Conference of Christians and Jews is stated in its by-laws: "...to promote justice, amity, understanding and cooperation among Protestants, Catholics, and Jews, and to analyze, moderate and strive to eliminate intergroup prejudices which disfigure and distort religious, business, social and political relations, with a view to the establishment of a social order in which the religious ideals of brotherhood and justice shall become the standards of human relationships."

Tomorrow and Sunday the University, along with Sacred Heart College, will aid in the realization of these aims when they host the fourth annual College Conference on Intergroup Relations.

100 Delegates Expected

Approximately 100 delegates from college groups over the state are expected for the leadership training program. Sponsored by the NCCJ, the Conference will be held in the CAC commencing at 1 p.m. tomorrow with registration.

Delegates in attendance will be representing student governing groups, college newspapers, and international student and religious relations.

Dr. Webster S. Hill, K-State professor, will speak at the first general assembly in the CAC at 1:45-2:15 p.m. on the "Ugly American." Discussion groups will be held during both days of the meeting.

"Pride and Prejudice"

Three questions posed by the all-state planning committee under the theme "Pride and Prejudice," will be studied.

Other featured speakers include: Rabbi Judea B. Miller Temple Emanu-El, Wichita; Rev. Robert Waters, Congregational Church, Towanda; and Father Dennis Dougherty, Paster, St. Vincent de Paul Parish, Wichita.

New Course Involves Travel To Important Civil War Areas

The College of Adult Education and Summer School will offer four hours credit for a Civil War travel course entitled, "The Civil War and the Confederacy."

Upper division and graduate students may obtain credit by enrolling in History 495. Registration for this course must be completed by June 12. Total cost is $205.00, plus regular tuition. Further information may be obtained from the College of Adult Education.

Travels, Lectures Involved

The course combines classroom lectures and discussions on the campus during the first and fourth weeks, with direct observation of battlefields and other points of interest during the second and third weeks.

The fourth week will be devoted to lectures, student reports, and the final examination. In addition to the formal class sessions during the first week, two trip orientation meetings will be held on Thursday and Friday afternoons.

Some Bus Lectures

Lecture topics will include a variety of subjects ranging from Charleston horticulture to campground ballads. There will be some evening meetings and a few lectures will be given on the bus.

The private air conditioned motorcoach tour will visit such places as Shiloh, Fort Sumter, Atlanta, Chickamauga, Richmond, Fredericksburg, and Lexington. Social activities will include a beach party at Myrtle Beach and the Scarlet O'Hara Banquet.

Complete details for enrolling in the course and the itinerary for the trip will be furnished by the College of Adult Education.

Editorial Views . . .

We Repeat . . .

In this same space in the last edition of the Sunflower, (Tuesday, March 28,) we said that "For the first time in many years, the Sunflower is officially going to endorse certain candidates in a campus political election."

In the editorial entitled "Political Policy," we also dispelled, we thought, the rumor that we will back only one party's candidates. We also said that we would base our opinions concerning the election objectively rather than opinions formed as a result of prior political affiliation or personal appeal.

On this page you'll find at least one student, a leader in the ACTION party, who did not believe us. We know that there are more who feel the same way . . . whether they be in that party or not.

However, it is the reader's right to disagree with us and we respect this way of giving everyone his due. But there was one charge—that "we would be unjustified and unfair"—that was unjustified, unsporting and unfair itself!

The Sunflower is proud to admit that it is not a neutral newspaper. We trust we never will be neutral on any question which affects the student welfare.

True, we have ties, but neither political party does, nor will, do our thinking for us—either as to issues or as to candidates.

Our endorsements will result from the investigation by us, the editors, and our opinions as to what is good for the student body and University.

In each case we will have judged the candidate endorsed to be the best for the job, regardless of party. This will be our attitude. We shall judge the candidates in the coming election and we shall announce our "objective" opinions on our editorial page, believing we should stand up before our readers and be counted.

For one thing, our readers can judge for themselves whether we are showing bias in our news columns—which should be used impartially to permit all candidates to present their views.

We repeat, the influence of the Sunflower, or any newspaper, extends only so far as its reasoning appeals to the reader public. Our editorials explain our reasons, they interpret for the reader what he has the right to know. If our readers do not agree, that is, of course, their privilege.

As we summed up last time: "Our decision to take an active part in this year's election hinges on one principle only—that a well-informed voting public will make the correct decisions, on its own, during the balloting."

As An Outsider

By RON SMITH

I got to thinking the other night, while peering out from behind a hangover, just what it would be like to interview a martyr. Since our present generation of Americans is rather short on people who are willing to die for a cause, the most convenient martyr I could think of was John Elm.

Now as you may know (and there is no real reason why you should as it is not very interesting) there is a society of "zealous citizens" who have very good intentions in mind but sometimes stumble over their own sincerity.

This society is dedicated to saving America for the Americans and has taken the name of this martyr for their namesake. Well, I just wondered how old John would feel about this and so I decided to interview him.

It may sound impossible to get an interview with a dead person but newspaper people have some pretty wierd connections and so John Elm agreed to meet me at the "Seventh Heaven."

"Well Mr. Elm," I said, trying to break the ice, "how did you get that beard?"

"That is not a beard!" he replied coldly, "that is my forehead!"

I went white for a fraction of a second, and then turned to him and said, "There is some controversy about the society that has taken your name Mr. Elm. How do you feel about that?"

"Well," he said, his eyes filling with tears, "I really don't mind. After all, they aren't causing any real harm and they are enjoying themselves and that's all that matters."

"Yes," I said, "but what about all the people that they are accusing of being Communists?"

"I'll have scotch with plain water please, and just a little lemon," he said to the waiter, and then turned and looked out the window.

"But sir," I persisted undaunted, sensing his irritation, "you didn't answer my question."

He turned, combing his hair and with a stony glare asked me what I thought about them.

I was forced to say that they didn't bother me as long as they just accuse congressmen. But then that's none of my business.

I could feel that the interview was not getting me anywhere until he turned to me and said with a twinkle in his eye, "Wasn't it Rousseau who said, 'Que suis-je, qu suis-je, ou vais-je?'"

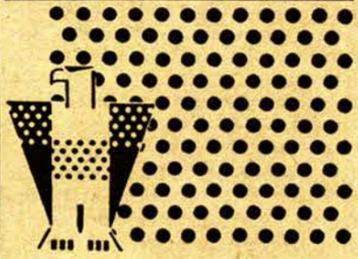

"That is all very silly," I said, "and besides, you forgot your accent marks."

"Maybe so," he said, hopping up and getting into his nightshirt. And without a word he was gone.

As you can tell, the interview was unsuccessful. But then I guess that John Elm is about as well informed as anyone as to what the Society is up to. The only consolation is that he doesn't write letters to the editor about it. Anyway, I'll bet that if the truth were known, a lot of them wouldn't know what the society is about.

Still I think that it is good that so many people have found a good, decent way to spend time and energy on a simple project like saving our country. Someone has to.

The Readers Speak Sunflower Policy Meets Objections

To the editor:

It is a well-known fact that the Sunflower is the only newspaper on our campus sanctioned and supported by the University of Wichita.

By virtue of this monopoly of the press, the student editors of the Sunflower have been entrusted with an enormous responsibility as a fair and impartial voice for the whole student body. It is my belief that this trust has been (Continued on Page 4)

OLYMPIC QUEEN INTERVIEWED—The world's fastest woman on foot, Wilma Rudolph, is shown here being quizzed by Sunflower News Editor Shirley Sears during her visit to the campus Wednesday.

Fastest Female on Foot Wilma Rudolph Visits Campus As Track Clinic Attraction

The "greatest woman athlete in the country," Miss Wilma Rudolph, was on campus Wednesday afternoon as the featured guest at a track clinic in the Fieldhouse. Her appearance was in conjunction with the Central District Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation convention.

The charming Miss Rudolph, triple gold medal winner in the Olympic Games last summer in Rome, was introduced by Fran Welch, coach of the United States women's olympic team, as a great athlete "devoted to the purpose of winning."

A large crowd listened to the speed star tell how she achieved international acclaim. Smiling modestly and shrugging her shoulders she said: "It takes skill, an effort to produce and furthermore a heavy heart and a goal set within you." A junior at Tennessee A & I, the Olympic queen emphasized the importance of conditioning.

She also had plenty of advice for the youngsters on hand. Miss Rudolph encouraged young people interested in track to start training at an early age and work constantly at it.

Miss Rudolph plans to teach physical education in the elementary school level when she graduates to "build up interest in girls when they're young."

SUNFLOWER POLICY

broken by the present editors of the Sunflower with their new policy of editorial endorsement of candidates in the SGA elections.

In the first place, freedom of the press, being a two-way street, is meaningless unless there are equal facilities available for all political parties involved.

My second objection to the Sunflower's intervention in student government elections is due to the personal involvement of the editors.

Both the editor-in-chief, Vaughn Sink, and the managing editor, Jim Collier, are members of Sigma Phi Epsilon, a Greek fraternity affiliated with the incumbent political party. Collier, in addition, is the present Liberal Arts congressman elected by the incumbent party in last year's election. Under conditions like these, where the editors have a political stake in the election, expecting them to objectively select the "best" candidates is expecting a lot from human frailty.

Thirdly, I disagree with the policy of Sunflower endorsement on the grounds that it tends to destroy the growth of responsible campus political parties.

In an obvious attempt to appear bipartisan the Sunflower has decided on a criterion of individual endorsement—judging candidates on the basis of participation in campus activities and interest shown in student affairs.

Since SGA activities count, it gives an advantage to the incumbent candidates (which I suspect is the idea), but even more detrimental is the fact that by stressing individual activities rather than party purpose, the Sunflower overlooks the key to successful student government.

For example, we of the ACTION party are presenting a program to the student body. The success of our program depends upon the election of an ACTION majority to Congress.

So, while some of our candidates individually may not have a record of activities which totals as high as their respective opponents, they are still vital to the implementation of our program. The adding machine approach to be used by the Sunflower would overlook these candidates.

I can only conclude from this that the editors of the Sunflower are exploiting a strategic position which they hold as a matter of trust. I think that this is a bad precedent and a serious mistake.

Frank Vannerson
Liberal Arts senior

A.E. Howse Will Speak Here Today

The political science department will sponsor a lecture by A. E. Howse today and Monday at 11 a.m.

Students and faculty members are invited to hear his lectures on Howses' reflections on politics, with particular attention to the legislative process, according to a department spokesman.

In addition to his career in business, Mr. Howse has served the public in wartime as a commissioned officer in the U.S. Army Air Corps. In peacetime he has served in such positions as administrator of the Surplus Property Board in the Executive Office of the President, as mayor of Wichita, and recently as Wichita's representative in Washington in connection with federal assistance in the construction of the Cheney Dam and Reservoir.

ISA Plans Drive For Used Clothing

Beginning Monday, April 10, members of the Independent Students Association will sponsor a World Clothing Week to collect used clothing and shoes for needy children and adults in the United States and overseas.

The collection is part of a nation-wide campaign being carried on through April 18 in cooperation with World Clothing Fund, Inc., a non-profit charitable organization.

Clothing may be left at the ISA House, 3624 Clough, otherwise, donors are asked to call MU 3-7567 and ask for Annette Malatia. Arrangements will be made to pick up the used clothing.

Cheerleading Clinic Slated

The final cheerleading clinic will be held Tuesday, April 11, at 5:30 p.m., in the Ballet Room of the FAC.

According to Milly Wolcott, pep coordinator, the tryouts will be held Wednesday, April 12, at 6 p.m. in the CAC Ballroom. From those who try out, six men and six women will be chosen by members of Pep Council to vie in the cheerleading finals. To be eligible for cheerleading, a student must have been to at least one clinic.

Cheerleading finalists will be introduced during Hippodrome, Friday, April 28. The varsity cheerleaders for next year will be chosen in an all-student election the following week.

Track Team To Texas Meet

A nine-man Wichita University varsity track squad will be entered by Shocker coach Fritz Snodgrass in the annual Texas Relays tomorrow at Austin, Texas.

John McCarrier recently established a new school record in the shot put with a heave of 54-feet 11½ inches at the Arkansas Relays last Saturday. He will be the lone Shocker entry in the event.

WU's potent duet in the javelin, Walt Cockreham and Phil Johnson, hope to place as high in Austin as they did at Fayetteville last week. Cockreham was first at Arkansas with his best throw of the year of 225-feet and Johnson placed second with a 203 foot toss.

Jerry Kraus, top miler for the Shockers, will enter either the mile or 1500-meter race.

Ray Wilson, who ran the two-mile in 9:40 last week, is scheduled for another two-mile endeavor or a 5000-meter run.

5 Faculty Members Promoted by Regents

Five faculty members were promoted at the April 3 meeting of the Board of Regents.

Dr. Alvin Sarachek, associate professor of biology, was promoted to the rank of professor and head of the biology department. Lawrence M. Jones, formerly assistant professor and head of the administration department, was advanced to associate professor and head of the department.

Serving as an instructor in English, Richard Welsbacher was promoted by the Board to assistant professor and assigned to the department of speech. Dr. Marvin Harder was elevated from his associate professor position in political science to professor. Formerly an associate professor in sociology, Dr. Amy Gerling will now serve as a professor in that department.

Instead of retiring as the head of the physics department in 1961 and fully retiring from the faculty in 1966, Dr. Penrose Albright was granted complete retirement.

Two appointments were made to fill vacancies left in the School of Music and the biology department. Charles F. Bath, replacing Adrian Pouliot, will join the University as an assistant professor in the School of Music, September, 1961.

Mr. Bath is presently living in Los Gatos, Calif. He has a bachelor of music degree from the University of Michigan and a master's degree in music from the Eastman School of Music and is now working towards his doctorate which he expects to receive in 1962.

Now teaching at the University of Wisconsin, Dr. Earnest Julian Bubeniec will begin teaching in the biology department as an associate professor. He received his bachelor of arts degree from Harvard and his master's and doctorate from the University of Wisconsin.

Alumni Start Fund Raiser

An intensive telephone and letter campaign, conducted by area University alumni during April, will raise a projected $15,000 for scholarships and books for the library.

Directed by Col. George Harvey, (USA Ret.), in conjunction with Philip F. Farha, alumni fund chairman, the campaign began April 3, and will run until April 23. The Wichita area campaign, headed by Duane R. Smith, 1953 University graduate, will utilize 19 telephone captains to call alumni in Wichita, Valley Center, Derby, and Haysville. Calls will be made from 14 available phones, and alumni will be contacted five nights a week during the campaign.
