'Charley's Aunt' Closes 4-Night Run Tomorrow

Tonight and tomorrow night wind up the University Theater's stage production run of Brandon Thomas' play, "Charley's Aunt."

Curtain time for each performance is 8:30 p.m. in the CAC Ballroom. A "before-the-play" buffet will be held on Saturday from 6:45 to 8 p.m. Reservations should be made through the speech office.

Directing "Charley's Aunt" is Paul McKee, instructor in speech, who is presenting his second University Theater play. Portraying the Aunt is Wilbur Love, Business Administration freshman. Love is in a role which has been played by numerous stage and screen stars in the past including Jack Benny, Noel Coward, Rex Harrison, Jose Ferrer, and Ray Bolger. Others in the production include Howard Soloman, Felix Peters, John Nelson, Dennis Wright, Jean Ann Stevens, Maureen Malony, Connie Miller, and Lynda White. Marilee Long is the assistant director.

Pepsters Selected For Year

Freshmen coeds dominated the cheerleading elections held Monday in the CAC.

Elected to fill the four posts were Pattie Pierce, Barbara Pumpelly and Judi Stevens, all freshmen, and Julie Lindsay, a junior.

The election, held by the Pep Council, saw only 354 students cast ballots in what is considered an all-campus election.

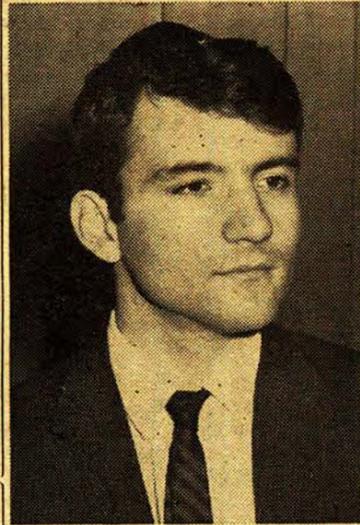

The three sophomores-to-be were all members of this year's freshman cheerleading squad. Miss Lindsay is a newcomer. Upset in the election was Carol Woodard, who has served as a cheerleader for the past two seasons.

Miss Woodard, along with June Woodman and Judy Christopherson, were named alternates for next year's squad.

The election was held from 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Also chosen by the Pep Council were the new members and representatives to the Council. Named to serve as assistant to Pep Coordinator Bill Siegle was Dee Ann Fisher. The new secretary will be Terrill Pannell and treasurer Dennis Wright.

Rounding out the cheerleading squad for next year will be Harold Trapp, Doug Crumley, Don Cowgill, and Larry Warren. Being the only men to apply for pep positions, they were automatically named to the squad.

Crandell Waid

FA Junior To Travel With Opera

From Wichita to Santa Fe to Europe will be the musical path that a University junior, Crandell Waid, will follow this summer as he joins the Santa Fe, N.M., Opera Company.

Waid, who is currently cast in the lead role of the "Gianni Schicchi" opera which will be presented Sunday, will join the company from June 5 to August 27.

Work with Composer

During his association with the Santa Fe group Waid will have an opportunity to work with Douglas Moore, composer of "Ballad of Baby Doe," who will be there to oversee the production of his work.

In addition Paul Hindemuth will be on hand to conduct the opera company in the United States premiere of his opera, "A Day in the Streets." Another composer, Igor Stravinsky will be there to oversee his work, "Oedipus Rex."

Important roles in "Carman," "La Boheme," and "Der Rosenkavalier," are also in store for Waid.

Return in August

When the Santa Fe opera season closes in August, Waid will return to Wichita and the University for a short while before rejoining the

Cash Award Presented to KMUW

A CHECK FOR $750 was given to KMUW-FM, campus radio station, Wednesday by members of the Kansas Appliance Dealers Association. Lee Basham, (right) member of the Association, is show presenting the gift to Ken Hadwiger, station supervisor. Deb Gaines and Bob Huff, members of the organization, were also present for the presentation. The grant will be used to improve studio equipment.

The realization of a even bigger and better campus radio station became a step closer this week with a donation of $750 to KMUW.

The charitable contribution, made by the Kansas Appliance Dealers Association of Wichita, was presented to campus station officials to enable them to obtain additional equipment to increase the present output from 10-watts to 250-watts.

Bob Huff, president of KADA, presented the check Wednesday to KMUW adviser Ken Hadwiger. Also present were Lee Basham, chairman of the fund raising committee; Deb Gaines, executive secretary; and Lance Hayes, station manager.

Last month a benefit spaghetti dinner was held for KMUW with the proceeds going also for the equipment cause. According to Hadwiger, this money will be presented to the station next Thursday in a ceremony in the CAC.

The Ugly Student

Exhibits portraying life in 17 nations will highlight the International Festival to be held in Wichita next weekend. Although the display depicting life in the United States may be one built artistically and colorfully, it will, sorry to say, leave little impression on the minds of several campus foreign students participating in the Interfest.

The reasons are pitiful. The simple truth is that if the Festival officials had left it up to University students to build the American exhibit, there would be none! You could count on your fingers the number of WU students who have contributed to this cause.

One Festival official said that the campus' foreign students have been amazed at the complete disinterest shown by American students in helping promote their own country. And we wonder about America's prestige?

It is situations like this that find foreign students going back to their homelands with worse impressions of our country than they had before. The cry among governmental officials today is that we must win friends abroad—to improve our prestige. Our cry is that we must win the friendship of our foreign visitors here. Is there a better place to start than at home?

Not only is the prestige of our country at stake here but the prestige of the University as well.

A Time To Be Heard

Students who have been disgruntled in the past with the operations, or lack thereof, in SGA have an opportunity now to do something about it.

This opportunity is extended once each year by the student congress and generally meets with little response. The campus citizen seems quick to criticize the actions of SGA but reluctant to participate.

Last week, Woody Thompson, SGA president, announced a number of openings on the governing body including committee work and the position of executive secretary. Committee positions on the congress afford the student an insight into University policy making decisions and an overall understanding of WU goings on.

The position of SGA executive secretary, in addition to being a central part of the congress, is a well-paid job. Either position merits the consideration of any interested student who has a few hours to spare each week.

For example, positions are open on the newly-formed state aid committee—a group formed to cooperate with the state officials who will conduct the study of the University's financial needs.

The equally-new committee for study of the John Birch Society's operations on campus will also, no doubt, provide stimulating work for students.

Seats are open on the fact finding and investigation committee—the most active of last year's congress. This body carries out studies of campus problem areas ranging from operation of the CAC to the student health program.

Other committees with positions open include the athletic, organizations, and academic committees.

We suggest that instead of complaining about the workings of SGA, students should instead volunteer to cooperate with the congress and help it carry out its task.

As An Outsider

By RON SMITH

I would like to pay tribute to a man who while not well known today, left one great thing to America. He made people laugh. From his college days at Harvard through his years in New York, as drama critic and essayist, Robert Benchley could make America laugh at the hundred and one little frailties of human existence that beset us all.

His choice of topics was uncanny, ranging from shoe-strings to typewriters—from international finance to politics. Each he touched lightly with his puncturing wit, and America laughed. Yet he never made fun of people. He described his daily struggle with life in a personal yet universal way that made his humor so well loved to all America.

Numbered among his friends were such great humorists as Wolcott Gibbs, Sherwood Anderson, Dorothy Parker, Will Rogers, James Thurber, and the irascible editor of the New Yorker, Harold Ross.

Those of his friends who were alive at his death in 1945 met at one of the city's night clubs to drink the night away in tribute to the great man.

We in America pride ourselves on living in an age of tension and anxiety in which a humorist stands little chance unless he is "sick." We have done much to stifle our natural ability to laugh at ourselves.

In each of his books and essays, with their illustrations by the inimitable Gluyas Williams, we see his conflicts with daily living. "My Ten Years in a Quandry and How They Grew," "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea or David Copperfield," "After 1903, What?," "The Early Worm," and others are little known classics of American humor that have been left to us by this man.

Perhaps the greatest thing that we can get from reading Benchley today is to realize that no human endeavor, no work of art, no struggle, is really worthwhile without incorporating the greatest mystery of all—the human soul.

When he died the world slowed down a little. Even in his death, however, he was not free from the unbearable confusion of mankind. His son and wife had returned to the mortuary to pick up the crematorium urn. They went back to the car and rode in the warmth of the spring day with what they thought to be the ashes of America's last great humorist.

After a while the mother opened the urn to find it empty. Upon returning to the mortuary, they were informed that there had been a mistake and that his ashes had been lost.

Mother and son drove in silence. Finally the mother looked up, half smiling, half crying and said, "You know, I can almost hear him laughing at us now." And we listen too. One listens for his laughter but at the same time one pauses and wonders. Can you hear an angel crying?

Recognition Dinner Set For Faculty

The faculty and staff and their wives will hold their annual Recognition Dinner, Friday, May 12, at Innes' Tea Room.

The Readers Speak

Reader Hits SGA Action on Birchers

To the Editor:

Beware of mighty warriors! — Once again our student leaders have jumped on the bandwagon. They don't know where they're going, but the theme song sounds good, so climb aboard.

The recent resolution passed before the SGA stating that it will not stand idly by if its academic freedom is challenged, indeed warms my heart but leaves my senses cold. The resolution is aimed at the John Birch Society and any other organization which has views other than that of the present administration.

SGA is contemplating forming a committee to see if our academic freedom has been challenged.

What is academic freedom? Is it the suppression of an educator's right to speak his mind, or the introduction of political views now foreign to this campus? I fear SGA says the first and means the second.

What will this so-called investigating committee really do? Will it report both sides of the issues truthfully, fairly and without bias? Or, will they seek information from only one side and draw false conclusions, so that SGA can condemn and persecute those who are in opposition to it.

I hope that the newly elected

With Hippodrome and the Saturday Night Revue over, students can now get back on the academic track and brace for finals.

The schedule for the semester curtain closer was released last week by the registrar's office with finals scheduled for May 22 through May 29. For all daytime students, Monday, May 22 will serve as "stop day" with only evening class exams being administered.

Students have a little over two weeks to study, store up on midnight petroleum, and finish term projects as finals get into full swing on Tuesday, May 23.

According to Dr. Worth Fletcher, registrar, no final or portion thereof may be given at any time other than that scheduled unless the change is approved by the Council of Deans.

Any student having three examinations scheduled for the same day may make arrangements to take one of the tests with another section of the same course. This may be done only if it is arranged with the instructor in advance and must be approved in writing by the instructor and the dean, the registrar said.

All grades will be due in the registrar's office by 8 a.m., May 31.

A ROBE BY ANY OTHER NAME

As Commencement Day draws near, the question on everyone's lips is: "How did the different disciplines come to be marked by academic robes with hoods of different colors?" Everybody—but everybody—is asking it. I mean I haven't been able to walk ten feet on any campus in America without somebody grabs my elbow and says, "How did the different disciplines come to be marked by academic robes with hoods of different colors, hey?"

This, I must say, is not the usual question asked by collegians who grab my elbow. Usually they say, "Hey, Shorty, got a Marlboro?" And this is right and proper. After all, are they not collegians, and, therefore, the nation's leaders in intelligence and discernment? And do not intelligence and discernment demand the tastiest in tobacco flavor and smoking pleasure? And does not Marlboro deliver a flavor that is uniquely mellow, a selectrate filter that is easy drawing, a pack that is soft, a box that is hard? You know it!

"What has Mr. Sigafos got that I haven't got?"

But I digress. Back to the colored hoods of academic robes. A doctor of philosophy wears blue, a doctor of medicine wears green, a master of arts wears white, a doctor of humanities wears crimson, a master of library science wears lemon yellow. Why? Why, for example, should a master of library science wear lemon yellow?

Well sir, to answer this vexing question, we must go back to March 29, 1844. On that date the first public library in the United States was established by Ulrich Sigafos. All of Mr. Sigafos's neighbors were of course wildly grateful—all, that is, except Wrex Todhunter.

Mr. Todhunter had hated Mr. Sigafos since 1822 when both men had wooed the beautiful Melanie Zitt and Melanie had chosen Mr. Sigafos because she was mad for dancing and Mr. Sigafos knew all the latest steps, like the Missouri Compromise Mambo, the Shay's Rebellion Schottische, and the James K. Polk Polka, while Mr. Todhunter, alas, could not dance at all owing to a wound he had received at the Battle of New Orleans. (He was struck by a falling praline.)

Consumed with jealousy at the success of Mr. Sigafos's library, Mr. Todhunter resolved to open a competing library. This he did, but he lured not a single patron away from Mr. Sigafos. "What has Mr. Sigafos got that I haven't got?" Mr. Todhunter kept asking himself, and finally the answer came to him: books.

So Mr. Todhunter stocked his library with lots of dandy books and soon he was doing more business than his hated rival. But Mr. Sigafos struck back. To regain his clientele, he began serving tea free of charge at his library every afternoon. Thereupon, Mr. Todhunter, not to be outdone, began serving tea with sugar. Thereupon, Mr. Sigafos began serving tea with sugar and cream. Thereupon, Mr. Todhunter began serving tea with sugar and cream and lemon.

This, of course, clinched the victory for Mr. Todhunter because he had the only lemon tree in town—in fact, in the entire state of North Dakota—and since that day lemon yellow has of course been the color on the academic robes of library science.

(Incidentally, the defeated Mr. Sigafos packed up his library and moved to California where, alas, he failed once more. There were, to be sure, plenty of lemons to serve with his tea, but, alas, there was no cream because the cow was not introduced to California until 1931 by John Wayne.)

Golfers Prep For MV Meet

The Shocker golf squad closed out their regular season play Tuesday and continued in earnest practice this week in preparation for the Missouri Valley meet to be held next Thursday and Friday at Tulsa.

Last Friday the linksmen won a quadrangular meet over Emporia State, St. Benedict's and the WU freshmen.

Grabbing medalist honors was Monte Kaser who shot a three-under-par 71. John Stevens, a promising freshman prospect, led the baby Shocks with a two-under 72 for the 18-hole competition.

The varsity's four-man team consisting of Kaser, Dick Honeyman, Mike Clancy, and Jerry Probst wound up five strokes over par with a 301 total after winning in point competition 8-4 over the freshmen team, 9-3 over Emporia State, and 11-1 over St. Benedict's.

The runnerup Frosh, 14 strokes over par with a total of 310, won 7½-3½ over Emporia State and 10-2 over St. Benedict's.

In a triangular meet held last Saturday on the Wichita Country Club course, the Shocks came out on the bottom end, losing to Tulsa 10-2 and 11-1 to the KU squad. For the upcoming Missouri Valley Meet, North Texas will likely be the No. 1 seeded team. The Texas squad is currently the holder of a 9-3-2 season mark. Also to their credit is a win in the Border Olympics, a second in the Houston All-American Invitational, and a second in the star-studded Southwestern recreation tournament.

The North Texas squad was weakened somewhat by the loss of their top golfer Dick Smith who was killed in a tragic automobile crash April 23.

Annual Football Tilt Closes Spring Workouts Tomorrow

By BOB YOUNG
Sports Editor

Shocker spring football will come to a conclusion tomorrow at 1 p.m. in Veterans Field when Coach Hank Foldberg will send the "Blacks" against the "Whites" in the annual spring game.

In last Saturday's scrimmage the footballers introduced a new three-unit system in an extended three-hour session in Veterans Field. The new system consisted of a White unit consisting of the best offensive players, a Black unit consisting of top defensive players not on the White unit, and a Red-over-black unit consisting of the best remaining versatile players.

Defense Keys Performance

A total of 40 points were tallied in the long session and 26 of them were creditable to key defensive efforts. The Blacks set up a TD on a pass interception by Rex Molder, a sophomore, on the offensive 19-yard line.

With quarterback Bill Stangarone leading the way, the White team drove 85-yards on 12 plays with sophomore Al LeBlanc breaking through the middle for the last 12-yards and the counter.

Senior fullback Loren Schomacker of the Blacks went over for another touchdown against the second offensive team on a 27-yard drive.

For tomorrow's scrimmage, the two squads are expected to be evenly balanced for the regulation game that will showcase the progress made by 15 returning lettermen and over 40 upcoming sophomores.

Gridders "Alone" Tomorrow

Foldberg emphasized the fact that the two squads will be on their own in the spring game.

Previous scrimmages, that revealed flashes of fine offensive and defensive work, were controlled on the field as the coaching staff experimented with frequent personnel changes.

Tomorrow however, coaches will restrict themselves to the sidelines as both squads go all-out in the spring finale.

"We're turning them loose this time," Foldberg said. "The time has come to find out what we can do on our own."

Tomorrow's session will also be the final examination for Foldberg's varsity candidates and should find them primed for their best performance of the spring.

Admission is $1.00 for adults with children free when accompanied by parents. University students and faculty members will be admitted on their I.D. cards.

All proceeds from the game will be given to the University School of Music to help in the purchase of an organ designed exclusively for the Fine Arts Center.

LUCKY STRIKE PRESENTS: DEAR DR. FROOD:

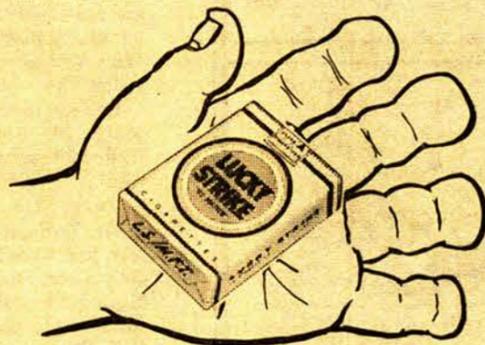

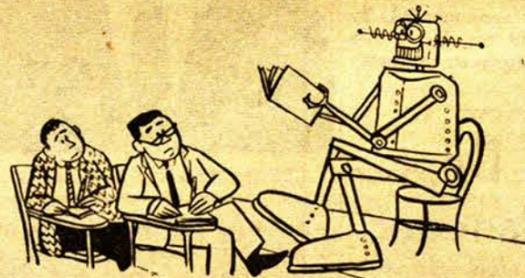

DR. FROOD'S THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: BEWARE OF SUBLIMINAL ADVERTISING!

LUCKY STRIKE LUCKY STRIKE

Dear Dr. Frood: I've been reading a great deal about automated teaching devices. How long will it be before they come up with machines to replace professors?

Professor

DEAR PROFESSOR: Just as soon as they get one that can rap the knuckles of a sleeping student, give humiliating answers to foolish questions and spring surprise tests whenever it happens to be in a bad mood.

Dear Dr. Frood: My problem is fat, stubby fingers. As a result, I am exceedingly awkward with my hands. My manual dexterity is so poor, in fact, that I can't even get a Lucky pack open. What can I do?

Fingers

DEAR FINGERS: Simply strap ordinary sewing needles along both of your index fingers. Now cup the Lucky pack in your hands, grasp the little red tab in your teeth, and yank. Next, place the pack on a flat surface and secure it between two unabridged dictionaries. Then, with the right-hand needle, carefully, carefully carve a one-inch-square opening at the top right-hand corner. Finally, place the points of the needles firmly against the sides of a Lucky and lift. That's all there is to it. A word of warning though: Try to be careful when shaking hands.

Dear Dr. Frood: In the four years I've been at this college I've done some pretty horrible things. I am guilty, for instance, of [redacted] into and around the home of Professor [redacted]. I'm also ashamed of [redacted] the Board of Regents, and completely [redacted] the campus policeman's [redacted]. But the worst thing I did was [redacted] after hiding all night in the [redacted]. Can I, in good conscience, even accept a diploma from dear old [redacted]?

DEAR [redacted]: You can if you send $500 in unmarked bills to Dr. Frood, Box 2990, Grand Central Station, New York 17, N. Y. If you don't, I'll print your letter without the little black lines.

Dear Dr. Frood: Don't you think it's wrong for a boy and girl to marry while they're still in school?

Soc. Major

DEAR SOC.: Yes, they should at least wait until recess.

THE HANDWRITING IS ON THE WALL, says Dr. Frood. Or, more exactly, on the blackboard. It's appearing on college blackboards everywhere: "College students smoke more Luckies than any other regular." Why is this statement showing up on college blackboards? Because I am paying agents to put it there. For you must remember that Luckies are the cigarette with taste—the emphatic toasted taste. Try a pack of Luckies today.

WU Nine Plays Last Home Game Today

The 1961 Shocker baseball team closes out its season's home schedule this afternoon in an encounter with Phillips University of Enid. Game time is set for 2 p.m. in Lawrence Stadium.

Any hopes the baseballers had for the Missouri Valley Conference championship were squelched as a result of last week's losses to Tulsa University.

Split With Chiefs

This week's action saw the Shocks splitting a doubleheader with the Oklahoma City Chiefs. The Shocks dropped the opener, 3-2, but came back to win the nightcap, 2-1.

In the opener, pitcher Lenny Kobelt hurled a tight game but was the victim of numerous errors on his mates' part. The Altoona, Ks., sophomore limited the Chiefs to only seven hits while striking out eight and walking two.

The Chiefs' ace hurler, Pat Hawkins, pitched equally as well, permitting seven hits and striking out nine.

7 Errors Committed

Hawkins won his own game with a single in the top of the second inning. Earlier, the Shocks committed two of the seven errors they were charged with in the game—allowing two runs.

Lefty J. D. DeVore limited the visitors to three hits while fanning 11 to grab a well-deserved victory in the nightcap. Tom Ferris and Rich Casidy drove in the Shocker runs while the visiting Chief's lone counter came via the unearned route.

Although the ballpark has had only a smattering of fans in previous games, the fans have nevertheless been treated to some fine play. This afternoon's encounter will be the last opportunity to see the lotmen in action and students are reminded that admission is free upon presentation of ID cards.

Netters Upend OSU

Three veteran tennis players, Neil Roush, Norris Barker, and Pete Piper, led the Shocker net team to an upset victory over Oklahoma State here Wednesday afternoon.

The 5-2 win ended a 44-straight dual win string for the Cowpokes. The match, played on the indoor courts in the Fieldhouse because of the rain, lasted eight and a half hours as only one match could be played at a time.

OSU, the defending Big Eight tennis kings, suffered its first setback since 1958 when the Shocks also turned the trick.

The Shocker threesome of Roush, Barker, and Piper all won their singles competition while Gary Scott and Larry Barreta lost. The Shock netters won both doubles.

The Shocks record now stands at 12-1-1.

Don Bragg to Vault At Conference Meet

The Shocker tracksters closed out their regular season schedule yesterday with a triangular meet at Ft. Hays and will busy themselves next week preparing for the upcoming Missouri Valley Conference meet to be held next Saturday in Veterans Field.

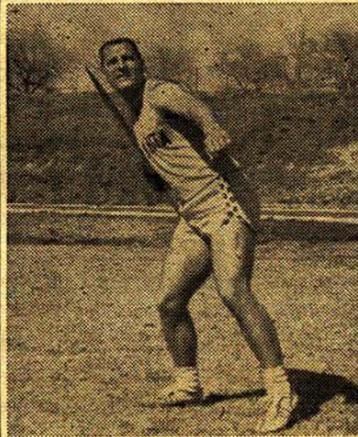

A special added attraction to the upcoming meet was made known recently as Shocker athletic director Tippy Dye announced that Olympic pole vault champion and world record-holder Don Bragg will make exhibition jumps in the meet.

Bragg's world-record jump is 15-feet 9¼-inches. He is currently touring abroad and tuning up for a bid at 16-feet upon his return to this country.

Other nationally-known vaulters are being sought to appear against Bragg, according to Dye.

Valley record-holder John McCarrier will be one of Shocker favorites to win his event, the shot put. McCarrier has been consistently getting off heaves of 54-56 feet this spring which should be good enough to win his specialty.

Another top contender for a first place medal is Walt Cockreham in the javelin. Cockreham, with a throw of 230-feet to his credit will likely be pushed by teammate Phil Johnson who placed second in the conference last year behind Cockreham.

Walt Cockreham After New Record

The Shocker thinclads may come up with a darkhorse in the broad jump event with Stan Buckley. Buckley, just a sophomore, has jumps of nearly 24-feet to his credit this year and cannot be counted out.

Twin -- Publication -- Opportunities

No more stimulating area of community service coupled with creative literary potential exists on the campus than working on the staff of either the university newspaper or the university yearbook. I recommend both of these publications to the attention of all students as fine, productive, and worthwhile extracurricular activities.—A Liberal Arts Faculty Member.

The Parnassus

Working on the university yearbook, the Parnassus, is more than a pleasant pastime. It is creative and historical in nature, the recording in a new and interesting form of the total history of the university during its academic year.—A Senior Parnassus Editor.

HONORS CONVOCATION

Those being honored by the sophomore class are Celia Cox, Mareta Faris, Therese Gates, Barbara Hatch, Karen Kennedy, Rhea Krehbiel, Sigurd Nelson, Judith O'Brien, Sally Oldenburg, Dennis Smith, Carolyn Towner, Winola Van Artsdalen, and Gordon Wood.

Freshman class honors will go to Karen Baker, Mona Dickens, Harriett Frazey, Karen Hanks, Karen Irick, Phyllis Lewis, Norman Linscheid, Kathleen Nelson, Marilyn Ochs, Jo Peterson, Lorna Roberts, Virginia Robertson, Roberta Rude, Ronald Sheppard, W. Sorensen, Barbara Stark, Patricia Stomp, Janice Stucky, Dennis Vanderheiden, Fred Watson, and Norma Zerr.

2 Plays Scheduled for May 10-12

The experimental and studio theatre, having played to enthusiastic audiences last month, will present another doublebill of one-act plays, May 10, 11, and 12.

The two plays chosen for presentation are John Synge's "Riders to the Sea," and Anton Chechov's "The Boor." Acclaimed by many critics as the greatest short play in the English language, "Riders to the Sea" is a moving, poetic drama of the tragic struggle between the Irish fisherfolk and the sea. "The Boor" is an outstanding example of the hilarious possibilities of the battle of the sexes, when treated by a master dramatist.

"The University's newest production group is designed to offer, in the intimacy of the Pit Theatre, opportunities for student directors and actors to gain experience in the theatre techniques. At the same time, students will be able to see plays which are not likely to be staged on the University Theatre's program," said Tom Plemones, director.
