New Traffic Code Enacted On Campus

New traffic code enforcement regulations have been enacted by the University for the present semester.

Officials of the Traffic Committee said the regulations are designed to better facilitate the flow of traffic on the University campus.

All student, faculty and staff members are required to fill out auto registration cards with information pertinent to their car they drive on campus. These cards are kept on file in the Business Office.

Fines Start Monday

Earnie Halsig of the Traffic Committee said late Wednesday that the deadline for placing decals on all autos is this weekend. He said campus police will start giving tickets to all autos Monday which do not have decals affixed in the left hand corner of the front windshield. Fines of $10 will be assessed for this violation.

Members of the Traffic Committee are: G. W. Parsons, traffic patrolman; Earnie Halsig, administrative assistant in the Business Office; Dr. George Comstock, director of counseling; and Dr. Lawrence Jones, treasurer.

A list of traffic violations and the fines that will be assessed are: 1st violation, $1; 2nd violation, $2; 3rd violation, $3; and all additional violations $3 each. Any person receiving six (6) or more violations in one semester will automatically

Model UN To Receive WU Envoys

Six University delegates have been selected to represent Burma at the Midwest Model United Nations. It will be held in St. Louis, Mo., March 29, 30.

Wichita University is one of 103 schools chosen from a 22-state region to participate in the Midwest MUN. The selection was based on the merits of an essay submitted with the application and for the unusual interest it demonstrated in this project.

The delegation consists of six student members who were chosen by the Student Government Assn. on the basis of experience, interest, and intelligence. The members of the delegation are Woody Thompson, Dave Davidson, Bob Hunt, Linda Plott, Joyce Allegro, and Sara Jane Pearman.

The delegation will be receiving

ALTHOUGH ENROLLMENT FIGURES dropped considerably this semester, the lines at registration last Thursday, Friday, and Saturday seemed just as long to these weary students. The Registrar's Office reported Wednesday that some 5,165 students had enrolled.

MB Investigating Sunflower; Suspects Campus 'Discontent'

"Fact Gathering" during registration extended its boundaries from the usual University questionnaires. The extra interrogation was provided by Mortar Board, national women's honorary.

Students enrolling Jan. 25 and 26 were handed a form which they were to "candidly" fill out. The questions were aimed toward The Sunflower. The purpose was to determine the degree of "student discontentment" with the college newspaper.

The quiz included such questions as "would you buy The Sunflower for 5 cents," "Do you think The Sunflower is biased," and "Could you estimate the percentage of advertisements?"

The Mortar Board inquiry also asked what parts of the paper were read the most, offering a multiple choice, and why the student would not be interested in working on The Sunflower staff.

According to a spokesman for Mortar Board, 288 persons answered the questionnaire. She added that there was a good proportional representation of classes.

The results of the survey will

Smith, Hanks Named to Top News Posts

Positions on the Sunflower for the second semester have recently been announced, with Fran Smith being selected as editor. Miss Smith, a journalism major, previously was managing editor, and worked for two semesters as desk editor.

Moving up from news editor, Dave Hanks is managing editor for the current semester. Dwight Lowther, speech major, is the new business manager, and Johnny Tarrant is assistant business manager.

New Editors Appointed

News editors for this year are Mary Jane Dunlap and Betty Barwick. Miss Dunlap has formerly served as feature editor and as a staff reporter. Miss Barwick served as desk editor last semester.

Desk editors for the semester are Richard Cole and Carol Chambers. Cole was a staff reporter for two semesters, and he was formerly a copyreader. Miss Chambers was a desk editor last semester, and has also served as society editor.

Continuing as cartoonist is Burnus Goodwin. Appointed as feature editor for the semester is Kaye Wilson, who was previously a staff reporter. Susan Crane, also a former staff reporter, is now society editor.

Transfer Student on Staff

Jan Parberry, Miss Crane's assistant, is a transfer student from Long Beach Junior College where she held various positions on the California school paper.

Sports editor is Roger Doyle, who held the position last semester. Tom Mallisee will be his assistant. Tom Doan is staff photographer for this semester. He also held this position last semester.

Columnist for the Sunflower is Ron Smith. This will be his third semester at this post.

Shocks Host Marquette In Non-league Play

Eddie Hickey, commonly referred to as basketball's "Little Napoleon", returns to Wichita after an absence of four years when his Marquette Warriors engage the Shockers at 8 p.m. tonight in the Fieldhouse.

The game marks the third meeting between the two schools with Marquette leading the series 2-0.

It will be Hickey's second crack at the Shocks as head man of the Warriors. Marquette defeated WU in Milwaukee last season 83-79.

Previously With Bills

Spending 10 years at the helm of St. Louis University basketball, Hickey's teams, known for their blistering fast break and aggressive rebounding, were prominent fixtures among the games' elite with three MVC titles, one MIT championship, and numerous appearances in major tournaments.

Now in his fourth season at Marquette, Hickey's pattern has changed little as the Warriors have entered NCAA play as an at-large entry twice.

With a current reading of 9-5, Marquette has been up and down with three losses in their first five games and then a series of upsets. The Warriors hold victories over Wisconsin, Minnesota, DePaul, Louisville and Loyola to display as evidence of a mid-season surge.

Glaser Leads Warriors

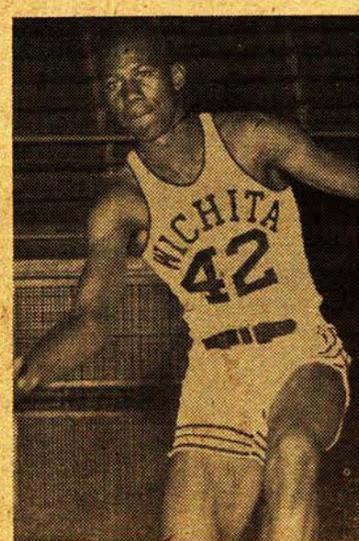

Led by Ron Glaser, 6-3, junior guard with a 15 point per game average, the "Hilltoppers" have ample double-figure support from forwards Bob Hornak, 6-4 junior with a 12.9 average and Dave Erickson, 6-7 junior with a 11.6 mean. Another back-liner Dick Nixon has been averaging 10 points per game along with alert defensive play.

Coach Ralph Miller's crew will have a new look with 6-7 Dave Stallworth in line for a shot at replacing Lanny Van Eman, who completed his college basketball career at Louisville. Stallworth should undergo considerable baptism with Marquette, as Coach Miller endeavors to find an answer to the loss of his finest playmaker.

Frosh Play Parsons

In the preliminary contest, the WU freshmen basketballers will make their first appearance without their leading scorer Stallworth. The frosh will take on the Parsons Junior College quintet at 6 p.m. in the Fieldhouse.

The Marquette-Shocker contest can be heard on KFJ radio with Jack Lynch at the mike and KM-UW-FM with Bill Mingo calling the plays.

Tip-off time for the contest will be 8:05 p.m.

Leading Roles Cast for Next UT Production

Principal players of Eugene O'Neal's Desire Under the Elms, the third University theatre production, have been chosen, according to Mary Jane Teall, director.

Jean Ann Stevens, liberal arts senior, will play Abbie. Cabot will be portrayed by Piet Knetsch, liberal arts senior. Lloyd Thompson, liberal arts freshman, will play Eben. Simeon and Peter will be characterized by Wilbur Love, liberal arts sophomore, and Brad Hammond, liberal arts junior.

All of the principal cast members have had acting experience. Miss Stevens portrayed Mrs. Antrolus in Skin of Our Teeth, and had lead roles in Charley's Aunt and Night Must Fall, along with other stage performances.

Hammond did some professional night club work in Los Angeles and has had lead roles in Community Theatre productions. Piet Knetsch portrayed Menelaus in Trojan Women.

Love had leads in Charley's Aunt, Skin of our Teeth, and Juno and the Paycock, along with major roles at East High. Thompson had lead parts and won national recognition for scene reading while in high school.

Rehearsals have begun, and supporting roles will be announced later, according to Mrs. Teall.

'Unofficial' List Shows 583 Drop

Enrollment figures for the second semester, although not official yet, again showed a drop in the total enrollment of the campus population.

Some 5,165 students had enrolled by late Wednesday afternoon but the over-all total this semester was not expected to exceed that number to any great extent.

Last spring's "official" enrollment figure was 5,186.

With enrollment just below 5,000 Saturday, Dr. Worth A. Fletcher, registrar, said total registration probably will be 5,100 to 5,200 when final figures are available.

According to Dr. Fletcher the official figures will not be compiled until about March 1.

He explained that although formal registration closed last Saturday noon, late registrants and students dropping and adding courses are still being processed through the registrar's office. Students may drop and add courses until February 9 and complete withdrawals can be obtained until March 2. After that date no complete withdrawals will be issued.

Fall semester enrollment reached 5,748, and the spring semester indicates an expected drop of about 500 students.

After comparing this year's high with the university's highest registration, Dr. Fletcher found that there were a few hundred fewer students now attending the university.

Estimated highs at WU were 6,000 for a fall term and 5,400 for second semester registration.

CAC Posts Open for 13

Thirteen CAC committees have openings for new members and three committees have the position of chairman open for second semester, according to Gordon Temple, CAC Student Coordinator.

Committees with openings which meet on Monday afternoons are Dance, Art, Music, House, Personnel, and Research and Development. Membership is also available on the following committees meeting each Thursday: Recreation, Finance, Public Relations, and Discussion. The General Entertainment committee and the Film Society also have openings.

The position of chairman is open on the Art, Personnel and House committees. Temple indicated that the committees are responsible for the activity program of the CAC. These committees sponsor such things as special dances, foreign films, and arrange current discussion groups.

Interviews Slated

Interviews for out-of-state teaching positions will be conducted within the next two weeks. Tomorrow from 9 a.m. to noon, Darrel Beckman, assistant superintendent of schools in Cheyenne, Wyo., will interview persons interested in the fields of English, social science, and math. A representative from Wasco, Calif., will interview elementary candidates on Feb. 16. Those interested should contact Buelah Mullen in Rm. 223, CAC.

SG Achievements Cited

The past semester has passed and the school year officially reaches the midpoint. This, however, is misleading because an evaluation of accomplishments in organization, social groups, and Student Government reveals many projects still to be investigated, evaluated, or started.

Sure, many parties, athletic events, and three vacations were enjoyed by students and faculty. In the field of Student Government we have completed a Library House Investigation and passed on to the Administrative Council a recommendation to extend library hours on Sunday, which was very well received. Also the academic committee has arranged a meeting each semester between the administrative council and Student Government in matters of high importance concerning the Student Body.

However, we of Student Government have many programs that have lagged or have not been started. Thus, the second uninterrupted semester is to be a time of new projects, not just a time to "tie up loose ends." For instance, we are continuing the NSA investigation, the academic committee is planning a course evaluation, and a new investigation of Student Activities Fee distribution to organizations, which entails a Senior questionnaire.

My hope is that the students, faculty, and organizations will seek to do likewise and use the Spring semester to start, continue, and successfully complete their responsibilities as adults, students, and teachers in their education, teaching, and social organizations and just not use their time to "tie up loose ends."

New Cast, Same Show

This is the first edition of the second semester Sunflower. A new staff has assumed command, but the changes in editorial policy will not be drastic.

Publishing a newspaper, campus or commercial, is a costly, time consuming job. There are some events on campus we will fail to report. An explanation of this may be either lack of reporters, or lack of space.

The lack of space can be attributed to advertising. At least 65 per cent of the paper must contain advertising in order to remain self-sufficient. This obviously limits the news that is printed.

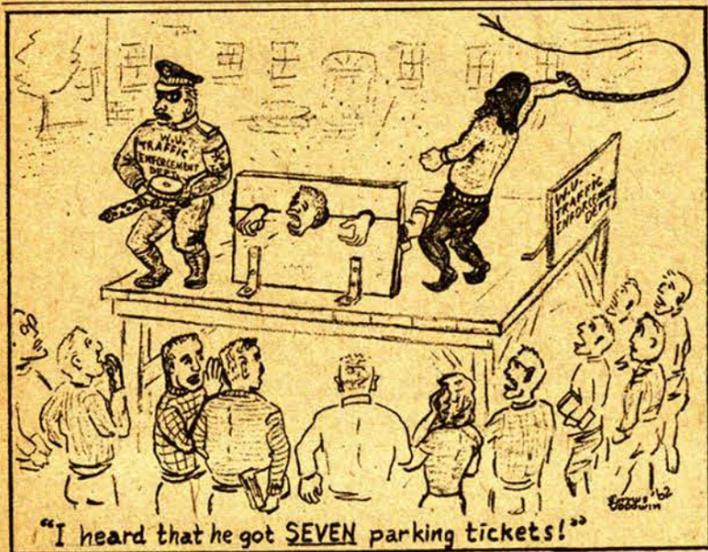

A lack of reporters indicates student-body apathy. This is a case where everyone talks about us, but no one offers to help.

A recent questionnaire distributed by Mortar Board sought to measure campus opinion concerning The Sunflower. The results of this survey have not been made public to either the press or the student body. The "facts" will be revealed in a blurb sheet.

We have no quarrel with the women of Mortar Board. If an institution is so weak and faulty that a sampling of public opinion can destroy it, then it needs to be corrected.

But, we ask that the truth be made known. If there are areas of the newspaper you don't understand, feel free to question us . . . or join our staff and learn from first hand experience.

But, don't try to destroy us . . . in turn you will destroy yourself.

As An Outsider

The following dialogue takes place in a television studio. Seated around a table, similar to the one seen on "Open End" are Barry Goldwater, John F. Kennedy, Richard Nixon, and the host, David Susskind.

Susskind: "Mr. Goldwater. It has been rumored that you have made an agreement in which you will sell your soul to the Devil in return for winning the election in 1964. Is that true?"

Goldwater: I deny arbitrarily the heinous accusation. It is simply another one of the attempts by the Liberal Lunatics to smear my name. Let me say that I do not have, have never had, and will never have a soul. And even if I did, I would not sell it to the devil.

Susskind: Mr. Kennedy, I see that in your budget proposal, you say that there will be little increase in foreign spending. But what about the tunnel you are going to build from the White House to the Vatican. Won't that cost a pretty penny?"

Kennedy: Mr. Susskind. Let me say, as I said during the campaign, my religion is a purely personal and private matter. Any tunnel that I build from the White House to the Vatican will be financed on personal and not public funds.

Nixon: Let me say that I agree with Mr. Kennedy about his religion being a personal matter. Let me say, however, that if I were President, which I am not, but if I should be, and I probably won't be, I would do everything in my power to avoid such extra spending.

Goldwater: I think that what Mr. Nixon is trying to say is that he would do all in his power to avoid excess spending.

Susskind: Mr. President, it has been called to my attention that there are rumors going around that your wife is snobby because she wears her hair in a fancy hair-do and buys her clothes in Paris. What do you say to that?

Kennedy: I do not feel that my wife is snobby. I think she is nice. I do not feel that where she buys her clothing is of any importance in this evening's debate.

Nixon: Let me say that I am in agreement with Mr. Kennedy. However, my wife buys her clothing off the racks of low priced American Stores.

Goldwater: When you get right down to it, there are more important things to discuss than clothes. How do you gentlemen feel about the future of our nation. And when I say future, I mean the future of our nation.

Kennedy: As we face the perils of living in an atomic age, it becomes more and more apparent that this country is behind. Our position in the world stinks. I want to put it ahead.

Nixon: I was shocked to hear the President use a six letter word beginning in "st" and ending in "ks" to describe our situation in world affairs. I do not think our country stinks. I think it is nice.

Kennedy: I did not say our country stinks. I said that we do not have a good place in the world of today. I simply do not want to see us have another depression. As Franklin Delano Roosevelt (to whom I bear a striking resemblance) said, this generation of Americans has a rendezvous with destiny.

Susskind: Mr. Nixon, do you feel we are headed for a depression?"

Nixon: No, I do not. Let me say that I do not feel that we will have a depression. But if we should, and we won't, but if we do, and we will not, I would do all in my power to counteract it, including appointing Mr. Hoover Secretary of the Treasury.

Goldwater: I agree with Mr. Nixon. Just as I was saying last week at a dinner honoring my good friend, Eleanor Roosevelt, to William Buckley. I said, "Bill, I think that the United States is still just as sound as a dollar."

Kennedy: That should be enough to convince anyone. If our red white, and blue is no more sound than our dollar, we're in trouble.

Goldwater: I am sorry when the President of the United States uses a three letter word beginning with "r" and ending with "d," in the same sentence as the word "dollar." That is the thing that weakens our nation.

As his voice trails off into the night, we can breathe easier because our nation is in the hands of these men. Don't you agree?

Student Governing Board Abolished

NEW YORK, N.Y. (UPS)—The 70-year-old history of student government at Columbia College came to an end in January 1962. A proposed charter for a Student Assembly to replace the Board of Student Representatives was defeated in a three-day referendum, 690-378.

The New Year's Day limit was fixed last May when students voted 935-167 against continuing the Board's constitution.

The plan defeated in the referendum would have replaced the 11-member Student Board with a 23-member Student Assembly. The freshman, sophomore and junior classes would each have elected six delegates, with five all-College delegates elected at large. Seniors would have voted only in the all-College election.

The Assembly would have had the power to take stands on campus, local, national, and international issues. A four-man executive committee would have headed the Assembly. It was to have been elected by the Assembly from its own membership.

Informed of the results of the balloting, Dean John G. Palfrey said that now "there is room for students to discover the role of student government by doing without it."

The agitation to abolish student government began last April when two seniors and a sophomore drafted an "abolish Board" petition. Over seven hundred students eventually signed it—more than enough to put the question to a referendum in May.

With the January 1 deadline approaching, the Board tried to create a new vigorous image. It tried a number of things, from awarding the first Mark Van Doren Award to buying a cannon to punctuate Columbia football touchdowns.

About 35 students leaders met for two days in December to draft a new constitution. Their original document was revised to meet demands for greater autonomy for two groups on campus.

After the three-day referendum ended December 20, the campus newspaper editorialized:

"Representative student government has been voted out of existence at Columbia College, but its defeat was not just at the hands of the hundreds of students who flocked to the polls in the last three days."

"The University administration is largely responsible for the death of Student Board, although some functionaries now express concern.

MB Kicks Off Annual Egghead Week Here

An attempt to stimulate campus intellectualism will be promoted Feb. 12 to 16. Egghead Week will be sponsored for the fourth year by Mortar Board, national senior women's honorary.

Setting the pace for the week will be a prize winning film, "The Seventh Seal." Written and directed by Ingmar Bergman, the film will be shown without charge to students and faculty members.

Dr. Richard Kennedy, assoc. professor of English, will introduce the film. He will point out some of its symbolism and help the viewers to interpret and understand it.

Black Plaque Shown

The film deals with Sweden during the 14th century. This is the time of the Black Plague in Europe. Highlights include an encounter with death and a life or death chess game. A discussion will follow the showing.

Select-a-lecture will be conducted Feb. 14. A shortened class schedule will enable everyone to attend a lecture of their choice.

Speakers for the day will be Dr. Arthur A. Wichmann, "Keynesian Economics in Our Schools-Boon or Bane?"; Dr. James E. Ruoff, "Mo-ality Without God: The Ethos of Modern Man;" Dr. Paul Tasch, "Survival or Extinction-Testimony of the Fossil Record;" Prof. Bruce Cutler, "Modern Poetry-Raw and Cooked;" and Dr. Al Parker, "Our Slips Are Showing-Red and White."

'Open End' Planned

At 7:30 p.m., Feb. 14, in the FAC Auditorium, an Open End discussion will be held. The Select-a-Lecture speakers will participate as members of a panel. They will lead an informal discussion with the students concerning the morning lectures and other topics that may arise.

Activities will wind up on Feb. 16 with a special scholarship breakfast. All students with a 3.75 grade average and above will be guests of the Mortar Board.

Chairman of Egghead Week is Anne Deschner. Other chairmen include Shirley Reed, Select-a-Lecture; Milly Walcott, Breakfast; Joyce Cole, Linda Christian, Publicity; and Linda Plott, Jan Foltz, Film.

Government Funds Allotted to WU For Summer Institute in Spanish

Dr. Eugene Savaiano will be the director of the Summer Institute for Secondary School Teachers of Spanish which WU will host again this year, President Harry F. Corbin has announced.

Financed by a $53,055 government contract, the Institute is sponsored by the U. S. Office of Education under the auspices of the National Defense Education Act of 1958.

One of the 80 summer institutes across the nation which will be supported by funds, provided to improve the teaching of modern foreign languages in U. S. public schools, the seven-week program starts June 11. It will accommodate 36 participants, 33 from public schools and 3 from private schools.

Applicants must be teachers of Spanish in secondary schools during 1962-63. Receiving a weekly salary of $75 plus $15 for each dependent, the enrollees will stay at Grace Wilkie Hall. They will be expected to converse in Spanish at all times, according to the announcement.

Dr. Savaiano indicated that applicants would fall in two categories, those who qualified to teach Spanish several years ago but who have not done so recently, and those who have studied from 12 to 18 hours of college Spanish in the past five years. Applications should be submitted to Dr. Savaiano by March 1.

Mrs. Henry Malone will act as administrative assistant for the Institute. Others working on the staff include Dr. Lynn W. Winget, assoc. professor of Spanish; Mrs. Eugene Savaiano, lecturer in the Spanish Department; Elizabeth Jones, North High School, and Erial E. Garenger, Campus High School.

'Ages of Man' TV Course Aired Here

"The Seven Ages of Man: An Inquiry Into Human Behavior" will be presented as an 18 week non-credit course in psychology. To be aired over KARD-TV, Dr. Paul Swartz, assoc. dean of the University College, will teach the course from 8 to 8:30 a.m. each Saturday.

"This is a course which promises to be a brilliant success before its beginning," according to Richard Meyer, director of educational television.

Meyer stated that "Even though the program has not yet been on the air, it has the largest pre-enrollment of any television course offered by the University."

The program will feature a question and answer period which will be conducted by mail from week to week. The course is designed for a large audience, because it will incorporate material useful to adults and college students alike, Meyer said.

Dr. Swartz has planned this course with the theme of "self-understanding" in mind. In the face of the twentieth-century's atomic age, man must find himself in order to act wisely and rationally. Some of the specific topics which will be discussed by Dr. Swartz are the world of the infant, the childhood years, adolescence and maturity, and theories of personality development.

The cost of this non-credit course is $4. This includes textbook, study guide, handling, mailing charges, and tax. Further information concerning registration may be obtained by calling the Division of Continuing Education, MU 3-7561, Extension 215.

RING IN THE NEW

Are you still writing "1961" on your papers and letters? I'll bet you are, you scamps! But I am not one to be harsh with those who forget we are in a new year, for I myself have long been guilty of the same lapse. In fact, in my senior year at college, I wrote 1873 on my papers until nearly November of 1874! (It turned out, incidentally, not to be such a serious error because, as we all know, 1874 was later repealed by President Chester A. Arthur in a fit of pique over the Black Tom Explosion. And, as we all know, Mr. Arthur later came to regret his hasty action. Who does not recall that famous meeting between Mr. Arthur and Louis Napoleon when Mr. Arthur said, "Lou, I wish I hadn't of repealed 1874." Whereupon the French emperor made his immortal rejoinder, "T'ipi que nous et tyler tu." Well sir, they had many a good laugh about that, as you can imagine.)

But I digress. How can we remember to write 1962 on our papers and letters? Well sir, the best way is to find something memorable about 1962, something unique to fix it firmly in your mind. Happily, this is very simple because, as we all know, 1962 is the first year in history that is divisible by 2, by 4, and by 7. Take a pencil and try it: 1962 divided by 2 is 981; 1962 divided by 4 is 490-1/2; 1962 divided by 7 is 280-2/7. This mathematical curiosity will not occur again until the year 2079, but we will all be so busy then celebrating the Chester A. Arthur bi-centenary that we will scarcely have time to be writing papers and letters and like that.

Another clever little trick to fix the year 1962 in your mind is to remember that 1962 spelled backwards is 2691. "Year" spelled backwards is "raey." "Marlboro" spelled backwards is "orobram." Marlboro smoked backwards is no fun at all. Kindly do not light the filter. What you do is put the filter end in your lips, then light the tobacco end, then draw, and then find out what pleasure, what joy, what rapture serene it is to smoke the filter cigarette with the unfiltered taste. In 1962, as in once and future years, you'll get a lot to like in a Marlboro—available in soft pack and flip-top box in all 50 states and Duluth.

But I digress. We were speaking of the memorable aspects of 1962 and high among them, of course, is the fact that in 1962 the entire House of Representatives stands for election. There will, no doubt, be many lively and interesting contests, but none, I'll wager, quite so lively and interesting as the one in my own district where the leading candidate is none other than Chester A. Arthur!

Mr. Arthur, incidentally, is not the first ex-president to come out of retirement and run for the House of Representatives. John Quincy Adams was the first. Mr. Adams also holds another distinction: he was the first son of a president ever to serve as president. It is true that Martin Van Buren's son, Walter "Blinky" Van Buren, was at one time offered the nomination for the presidency, but he, alas, had already accepted a bid to become Mad Ludwig of Bavaria. James K. Polk's son, on the other hand, became Salmon P. Chase. Millard Fillmore's son went into air conditioning. This later was known as the Missouri Compromise.

In Missouri, or anywhere else, there is no compromise with quality in Marlboro or the new unfiltered king-size Philip Morris Commander. The Commander does something new in cigarette making—gently vacuum cleans the tobacco for flavor and mildness. Get aboard! You'll be welcome.

Stallworth, Kelley to Debut In Marquette-WU Clash

Tonight's game will see the debut of two Shock basketballers in varsity uniforms. Dave Stallworth and Leonard Kelley will be joining the team for the second semester to replace the graduated Lanny Van Eman.

Stallworth joined the Shocker freshmen at the start of the spring semester last year and participated in five games, averaging 28.8 points and 14 rebounds per contest.

Stallworth has all the moves and instinctive ability a player could want and could develop into one of the finest players ever to perform for W. U. There is a possibility the Dallas product may start tonight against Marquette.

Top Performance Cited

In nine games with the freshmen team during first semester play this season, Dave turned in some outstanding performances. He hit 100 of 161 field attempts for a 62.1 percentage mark. He added 44 free throws to run his point total to 244 or a 27.1 points per game average. He also pulled down 103 rebounds for an average of 11.4 caroms per game.

"Dave has all the speed, tools and ability to help us very much," Coach Ralph Miller commented. "However, he'll have to prove himself defensively and offensively on the varsity level in order to step in and help us down the stretch." With All-American candidate Lanny Van Eman graduated at mid-term, Stallworth could be just the right medicine to step into Lanny's shoes the rest of the way.

Kelley Transferred

Kelley, a 6' 0", 160-pound guard from Parsons, is a transfer from Parsons Junior College where he was a starting guard for two seasons while leading his team to the National Junior College championship in 1960 and fourth in the tournament last year.

While at Parsons, he made the junior college All-American team and was the recipient of the sportsmanship award in the JuCo All-Star game played in Lawton, Oklahoma. He averaged 20 points per game during his two-year JuCo career.

During his high school career at Parsons, Leonard made All-State honors in 1959, and led all state class AA players with a 20 point per game average.

Shows Potential

"Kelley has the offensive and defensive ability with his quickness and shooting to develop into an outstanding college guard," commented Miller. "If Leonard adjusts to our style of play quickly, he may be able to help us a lot in these last seven games."

Kelley may be playing against an old teammate from Parsons when Eddie Hickey's cagers take the floor tonight. His former teammate, Bill Johnson, a 6' 5" forward, is playing as a reserve with the Marquette squad this season.

After the Marquette game, Kelley and Stallworth will also see action against Oklahoma City, North Texas State, and Tulsa at home, and North Texas State, St. Louis, and Cincinnati on the road.

The Shock basketballers have apparently come down to the wire in the torrid MVC race. The Miller coached Shockers are now faced with the problem of having to win their remaining conference games to cop the title.

This is not a physical impossibility but it means that the Shocks cannot afford any more nights like those experienced in Tulsa and Louisville. They are going to have to be "up" for every game remaining. The big question in everyone's mind is how completely will Dave Stallworth fill the role vacated by Lanny Van Eman.

Certainly the scoring slack is not the only area to be considered. Van Eman's floor leadership will be sorely missed also. Stallworth's scoring punch should be more than adequate but his floor leadership has yet to be tested. Floor leadership may be the most desirable quality in the crucial weeks ahead.

Leonard Kelley will also be making his debut in the Shock uniform against Marquette tonight. The Parson JuCo Transfer started at guard and led the JuCo team to the National Junior College championship in 1960. With the loss of Van Eman and the addition of Stallworth and Kelley it will be interesting to see whether the addition of the latter two will offset the loss of the former.

Louisville U. Small Time?

From all reports heard here, the Shockers trip to Louisville last Saturday night will also be their last unless they are entered in the NCAA finals there. It will certainly be the last competition between the University of Louisville and W. U. in Louisville's Freedom Hall.

The hall was apparently misnamed because there was very little evidence of freedom extended to the Shocker's Negro players last Saturday night. A major college team has to expect to run into "home town officiating" occasionally but no team or player should be subjected to the insults that were heaped on our Negro players.

This writer heartily approves of the athletic department's decision to not renew a contract with Louisville University. In our opinion this is an example of a small-time operation run by small minds.

Those Fickle Ratings

There has been much discussion on the campus this year about the objectivity of the UPI and AP rating polls. To be sure, there are many reasons why these polls cannot be taken too seriously. First, a team is voted on primarily by its present record. This fails to take into consideration the relative strength of the opponents.

A case in point is the number one ranked Ohio State Buckeyes. Lucas and company have played only two teams which can be considered to be strong. Purdue and Wake Forest are these two strong opponents, and yet neither have appeared in the top twenty listings for sometime.

This does not mean that Ohio State is not the best team in the country. In fact, we believe they are but they really haven't proved it with their schedule.

Another reason a team will receive strong support in the polls is because of its strong basketball

Stagarone, Zyskowski Listed As Shocker Offense Leaders

Quarterback Bill Stagarone and Alex Zyskowski led most offensive departments for the 1961 Shocker Football team.

Final statistics for last season were released this week and show Stagarone leading in rushing and scoring while Zyskowski led in passing for yardage and passing for touchdowns.

Stagarone carried the ball 71 times for 408 yards and an average for 5.7 yards per carry. Stagarone was followed by Wilson, Stephens, LeBlanc, and Dumler in total rushing.

Turner Gets 26 Points

The Pennsylvania star also copped the scoring title by lugging the ball over 6 times and adding three 2-point conversions for a total of 42 points for the ten games. LeBlanc followed Stagarone with 34 points. Ron Turner with 26 points, Stephens with 24 points, and Zyskowski and Dumler with 18 points were next in the scoring parade. Zyskowski led in forward passing with 57 completions out of 108 attempts for a total of 1038 yards. The Kapuan product also passed for 4 touchdowns to lead in that department. Bill Stagarone was second in both departments.

Most of the scoring punch for the Shocks this last season was through the air. The team statistics show the Shockers were far more dependent on their passing game than on the rushing game.

Ron Turner, senior end and draftee of the Philadelphia Eagles, led in pass receptions with 24 for a total of 341 yards and 4 touchdowns. Turner was followed by All-Conference end Jim Maddox with 16 receptions for 235 yards.

Shockers Outscore Opponents

Frank Butz led the Shocker punters with a 35.2 yard per kick average. Zyskowski carried back 2 punts for 44 yards and a 14.7 yard average while Adolph Wilson gathered in 5 kickoffs and returned them for a 22.6 yard average.

The Shockers outscored their opponents 221 to 172, but suffered 74 penalties to their opponents 45. The Shocks were out rushed by their opposition but made up for it with their passing game.

The Shocks were unbeaten in Veteran's Field last season and lost to Dayton and Arizona State on the road for the final record of 8-2.

'Cello' Huerta, Bob Donaldson Fill Vacant Athletic Posts

Bob Donaldson, former public relations director for the University, was promoted to a new post during the semester recess. The 39-year-old Donaldson was named to the newly-created post of Coordinator of Athletic Affairs. The duties of the post are similar to those performed by the former Athletic Director, Tippy Dye.

Track Team To Compete At Missouri

The 1962 track season swings into action tomorrow with the WU track team traveling to Columbia, Mo., for a triangle track meet with the Air Force and Missouri.

Twelve athletes are tentatively scheduled to see action in the 11-event meet which is the first competition of the season for all three schools.

Temporary entries for the field events for WU include Gary Pbye, pole vault; Larry Dalton, high jump; and Stan Buckley, broad jump.

The running events show the following temporary entries for the Shockers: Jim Swayze and Ron Groves, 60-yd. dash; David Jack, Charles Taylor, and Groves, 440-yd. dash; Tom Mallisee, 600-yd. run; Jerry Tuckwin and Mallisee, 880-yd. run; Abbas Goudarzi, 1000-yd. run; and Ray Wilson and Cal Elmore, mile and two mile.

The mile relay will consist of Mike Stucky, Mallisee, Groves, and Jack or Goudarzi.

"Our team will be much better balanced than last year, but we will miss John McCarrier, Walter Cokreham, and Jerry Kraus," was a comment made by Shocker coach Fritz Snodgrass. Middle distance strength should be the strong point in the up coming track season due to the victory of the cross country team in the MVC meet last fall, he said.

history. The best example of this is the case of Kansas State University. The Wildcats have long been a power-house in basketball and are thus given the benefit of the doubt in close or lost games.

We feel that the KSU Wildcats are undoubtedly the most over-rated team in the nation. They aren't even leading the basketball weak Big Eight.

The Shockers have hurt themselves in the poll rankings by losing to Tulsa and Louisville but the polls are not the pay windows. The MVC title with the subsequent entrance into the NCAA tournament is the ultimate goal.

lined his duties thusly: "I'll have many, but not all, of the duties of an athletic director." "The coaches, Marcelino Huerta in football and Ralph Miller in basketball, will do all scheduling."

"Bob Kirkpatrick, the athletic department's business manager since last September and a former director of athletics, will be responsible for all business matters."

"I will be responsible, personally, for promotion and coordination of the athletic program, for publicity and for public relations."

Is Athletic Representative

"In matters of contact with other schools, in or out of the conference, where a director of athletics normally would go, I will be the University's representative."

"I will carry out the athletic policies established by the President and the school's Athletic Policy Committee."

This is a new plan adopted by the University. It differs from the traditional athletic director plan, primary, because under the latter, the director was responsible for the scheduling of all athletic contests.

As Donaldson took up his new duties, his newest staff member, Marcelino Huerta, recently named head football coach, was still getting settled in the Wichita area.

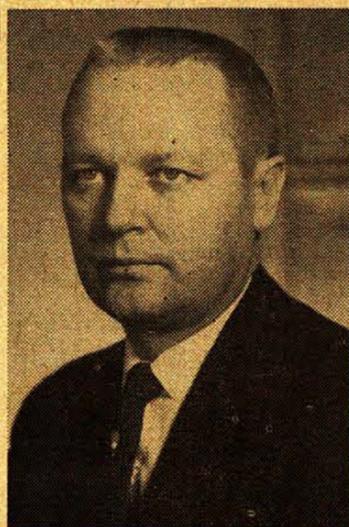

Huerta Filling Vacancies

Huerta, former head coach at Tampa University, is busy trying to complete his staff of four full-time assistants. Huerta will bring one of his assistants from Florida. Named as backfield coach was Dean Pryor, former Coffeyville JuCo grid mentor. The other two posts are currently being filled.

"Cello", as Huerta is "affectionately" nick-named, compiled a record of 8-1 last year at Tampa. He served there as head football coach and athletic director.

Reggie Colvard, who served as a line coach for Huerta at the University of Tampa, migrated with "Cello" to the Shocker campus and will serve here as a line coach for the Shock footballers.

Bradley Braves Holding Lead In Tough MVC Title Battle

The Bradley Braves moved further in front in the Missouri Valley conference race during the semester break, despite an 89-88 loss to the Shockers, with wins over the second division teams in the conference standings.

Wichita and Cincinnati, both with two conference losses, kept close to Bradley and still will figure in the final outcome in the Valley race.

The key to the conference will lie with St. Louis, because all of the three top valley teams still have St. Louis to play in Keil Auditorium.

Bradley's Chet Walker has moved ahead of Tulsa's Jim King in conference scoring. Walker has hit for 137 points in 5 games for a 27.4 average compared with King's 95 points in 4 league games for a 23.8 league mean.

Paul Hogue of Cincinnati retained his rebounding lead but is being pressed by Shocker Gene Wiley. Wiley pulled down 23 against Tulsa and 26 in the Bradley game to up his season average to 12.1 per game. Hogue is rebounding at a 12.7 clip.

Lanny Van Eman continued to lead in the free throw department connecting on 54 out of 62 chances.

Important upcoming conference games include Cincinnati at North Texas, St. Louis at Bradley, and Wichita at North Texas.

Autos Towed Away

For parking on the lawn the fine will be $3. Persons parking in front of fire plugs will be fined $5, and the auto will be towed away at the owner's expense.

The fine will be $25 for counterfeiting, altering, defacing, or transferring an auto decal to another motor vehicle for which an auto decal was not issued or giving any false information in any applications or hearing or misuse of auto decals.

The Business Office also stated that all fines will be doubled for failure to report within seven days or for any other unexcused failure to pay fines after the time for appeal has expired.

Seven Days to Appeal

Appeals from assessments made by the Traffic Office may be taken within seven days after the notice of violation is issued.

No appeals will be considered after seven days from the time the notice of violations was issued.

According to Dr. Comstock, the main reason for placing names on the decals is to cut clerical efforts that it took previously to trace the violator.

Commenting on the traffic regulations Dr. Comstock said, "We've (the University) grown up and must have some codes and regulations for the protection of the students." He said, "the University is most fortunate to have the parking facilities that we do."
