WU Ropes Cowpokes For Win

By LARRY DEAN
Sports Editor

After both teams were held scoreless in the first half, the Shockers eked out a 13-6 victory over Hardin-Simmons, Saturday night. It was the Cowboys' twenty fifth consecutive loss, and third loss of the season.

H-SU used a spread formation mainly in the first half to try to weaken the Shockers' defense. Out of the seven attempts they netted 9 yards and had the pigskin intercepted once. The spread in the second half produced no yardage and again had the ball intercepted.

After a sluggish start, the Shockers appeared to be up for the last half, which is in contrast to their first two starts of the season.

Left-half, Bill Stangerone, accounted for the first tally when he went around right end for a 5 yard TD, half-way through the 3rd quarter.

In the fourth quarter, quarterback Hollis Coleman swept the right end on a 15 yard scoring play to register the Cowboys' first counters.

A key pass from Alex Zyskowski to end Jim Maddox and a personal foul call against the Cowboys, set up the next Shocker touchdown. On a fourth down play from the H-SU 14, Zyskowski went to the air and hit Maddox in the end zone for the second TD.

Leaders to Meet

All student leaders are invited to attend a meeting at 5 p.m. Thursday in Rm. 209-210 of the CAC, according to Joyce Allegro, Mortar Board member.

The purpose of this meeting will be to discuss the possibility of honoring Gov. John Anderson's appearance here in connection with the University's drive for state merger. Gov. Anderson will appear here in late October.

NSF Grant Brings Change In Engineers' Core Program

A $15,350 grant by the National Science Foundation has brought about a core curriculum change for under-graduate engineering students at the University.

The change, combining three courses, is designed to tie concepts together from one field of study to another in an effort to broaden the students perspective. Dr. Robert Schrag, associate professor of electrical engineering, is in charge of the course.

The course deals with flow and field systems. This is a unified treatment of the topics of heat transfer and the electromagnetic theory of fluid dynamics and diffusion processes.

Dr. Schrag believes that this approach will give the student a broader and more universal perspective than he would receive if he were to take the separate courses in this area. It is possible to combine the subjects because they are based on like principals and are handled with similar math tools.

This is one of four National Science Foundation grants currently in effect at the University. The Foundation is interested in new concepts of teaching.

Press Association Appoints WU Prof

Gene Bratton, assistant professor of journalism, was recently appointed to the Kansas Press Association's committee for education in journalism.

Bratton was named chairman of a sub-committee which will conduct a survey among Kansas high school students concerning the entrance of people into the newspaper field.

Representatives from the University of Kansas and Kansas State University are also on the committee.

TV Courses Open

The University and television stations KARD and KTVH will offer three credit courses this fall.

Entitled Atomic Age Physics, The American Economy, and The Structure and Function of American Government, the courses are open to enrollment until Oct. 5.

Interested parties should contact the Div. of Continuing Education.

SGA to Make Appointments

Heading the SGA agenda at 6 p.m. tonight in Conference Area 9 of the CAC will be the appointment of new congressmen, court justices,

New Library Inaugurates Door Check

Students visiting the library for the first time were probably surprised when their books and briefcases were checked as they left through the west doorway.

This policy is one followed by most university libraries having an open self book policy, according to Downing O'Hara, librarian. Without such control, many books would be removed from the shelves without checking the books, as past experience has shown.

Smoking will be permitted only in designated rooms. No smoking will be permitted in the open reading or stack areas. Smoking rooms will be labelled as soon as tables can be equipped with ash trays.

Reserve books are kept on closed shelves on the first floor. The reserve desk is in the northeast area of the ground floor near the card catalogs.

Reference librarians are on duty on each floor from 8 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. One reference librarian will be on duty on either first or second floor from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 5 p.m. on Saturdays and from 2 to 5 p.m. on Sunday. At night, from 7 to 10, one reference librarian will be available.

Mimeographed sheets are available giving the location by floors and areas of the various divisions of the Dewey Classification. Sheets are being made available for information concerning the back files of periodicals and also the location of the periodical racks for current files. These are available at the west door control.

and a freshman representative. SGA President Jim Allen will make appointments for Junior class president, Education representative, Business representatives, Art representative, and two Court Justices. These appointments must be ratified by the Congress.

A freshman representative will be selected by the Congress. In past years the selection of a Freshman representative became a time consuming project, but, Allen indicated that this year's election would be a much simpler process. (The application deadline for all these appointments was at 5 p.m. yesterday.)

Following committee reports, old business will be taken up. There will be a report on the plans for the 1963 People-to-People International Festival of Nations, according to Allen. There will also be reports on the American Royal Queen contest and the results of the Varsity Sue and Sam dance.

New business will include the announcement of library hours and an appeal by SNEA to be included in this year's budget, said Allen.

Cadets Announced For Army Staff

Names of new Army ROTC cadet officers have been announced by Col. Preston W. Wyand, professor of military science.

Cadet Col. Maynard D. Eaves will command the Battle Group this year. Battle Group Executive Officer is Cadet Lt. Col. Bernard L. Verdier.

Year Reviewed, HC Date Set At 1st CAC Board Meeting

Reports by committee chairmen, committee changes and revisions, and the acceptance of homecoming rules headed the agenda in the first CAC Board meeting of the year.

A financial report of last year's operations was given by Charles Schimp, finance committee chairman. The report showed a deficit of $600 at the close of the school term last spring. By the end of the fiscal year, June 30, a recovery was reported and the new year began with a cash balance of $2.30.

Longer Hours Recommended
A recommendation for the lengthening of the CAC Snack Bar hours to coincide with the library hours was made by Phil Saunsaucie, graduate student representative. Also discussed was the price raise of several items on the menu. Mr. William Glenn, Director of the CAC, pointed out that the net profit of food service last year was between six and seven thousand dollars, while it had been estimated that the service would profit from $14,000 to $15,000.

Plans for homecoming were discussed, and the homecoming rules were read and accepted. The rules will regulate display entries.

Entertainment for the homecoming dance, set for Nov. 3 at the Cotillion Ballroom, has been contracted. However, the name of the entertainment was withheld by Sam Gill, homecoming chairman, until full facts were available.

Records Stolen
A FM radio receiver will be purchased for the Music Browsing Room. The Seeburg recording unit will be removed. Due to the theft of records and general damage incurred to the Seeburg unit, it was considered unfeasible to keep the unit in operation.

The International committee of the educational and cultural area is planning a bus tour of Wichita on Oct. 6 for all foreign students, according to Joyce Allegro, committee coordinator. The tour will take them to places of interest in the city.

Film Society is expecting a record breaking season. Total receipts from four showings held Wednesday and Thursday were $957.29.

Auditor's Report Given
William Glenn gave the auditor's report for the 1961-1962 fiscal year. Glenn noted that the total operations of the CAC left a surplus of 33 thousandths of one percent. This is not much to show for a $700,000 yearly operation, he said. The dance Committee was made a part of the general entertainment committee and the music committee was combined with the discussion and art committee.

Coronation Held for Sue, Sam

Varsity Sue and Sam were crowned Saturday night by Pep Coordinator Denny Wright at the annual Varsity dance sponsored by the Pep Council.

Catha Cowgill, Delta Gamma, won the race for Varsity Sue over six other freshman women entrants, by obtaining the highest number of votes in the all-school election held last Friday morning. Ron Tyler, Beta Theta Pi, won the race for Varsity Sam over four other freshman entrants.

Candidates of Delta Gamma and Beta Theta Pi both won for the second consecutive year. Miss Cowgill was presented with a charm bracelet, and Tyler with a billfold.

The Varsity Dance was held in the CAC Ballroom following the football victory over Hardin-Simmons. A crowd of 540, the largest in several years, was in attendance.

Music was by the Johnny Moore Combo.

Big on the "Outside"

During last week's CAC Board meeting it was announced that due to damage to the Seeburg Hi-Fi unit in the Music Browsing room and to the theft of records, the unit was being removed and would be replaced by an FM radio unit.

From the reports of the House committee, it would appear that the CAC should have been furnished with things that could have been nailed down or cemented into the walls.

Lamps, leather cushions and ashtrays are among some of the things reported missing each year. These are often replaced only to be reported missing again in a short time. Re-furnishing is a costly operation not only for the CAC, but also for the students.

The CAC was built by student funds for students. Sometimes referred to as the "campus living room", the CAC is designed to "aid the educational process" through cultural activities, and to serve for relaxation and enjoyment. The opportunity to enlarge and expand these services and activities, is always limited, by the students themselves, when part of the budget must be set aside to replace damaged or stolen furnishings.

College is a means of better qualifying us for an adult role. While most of us have reached adult proportions on the "outside", it is obvious from such reports as this from the CAC, and the appearance of the campus in general, that many still have a lot of growing to do on the "inside".

The CAC is a building that we as students can be especially proud of. But, if it is to retain its beauty and service, more students will have to acquaint themselves with, and acquire the adult characteristic of responsibility.

Issues of Today

Court Order Contested

By RICHARD MILLER
 Staff Writer

Once again, segregation promises to test the very foundation our Constitution is built upon in a renewal of the fight between federal and state power over integration problems.

This time, the battleground is the campus of the University of Mississippi and the federal forces on one side represent the interests of Negro, James Meredith, who is attempting to register, and on the other side is Gov. Ross Barnett and half of the state police force who are determined to keep him from it.

Not since the Little Rock crisis has the federal government's determination to integrate the South's previously all-white universities offered such an open challenge to federal supremacy. But today, the state of Mississippi seems just as determined to meet head on a federal court order demanding that the University of Mississippi accept the Negro student.

So far the scoreboard reveals the following facts. The Fifth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals has ordered the University to admit Meredith for enrollment. Almost immediately the school rejected the order at the command of Gov. Barnett. Furthermore, the governor himself, has added more injury to the federal insult by personally blocking the path of Meredith, whose admission he has forbidden the courts to interfere with.

Moreover, Barnett has ordered state police to resist federal marshals, and if need be, to place them under arrest.

The federal government, on the other hand, has issued a contempt citation against the governor and has hinted that federal troops will be sent if the situation is not peacefully worked out in the near future.

In private however, the Justice Department is hoping that a peace-solution may be found in order to avoid a scandal in the nature of the Little Rock incident five years ago. Nevertheless, Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy has stated that it is his duty to see that federal court orders are carried out "no matter what course is ultimately necessary."

In the last analysis, it would appear that the choice is up to Barnett. If the governor refuses to accept the summons and continues to deny Meredith permission to enroll, the federal government will be forced to act directly and possibly face consequences of incalculable proportions.

On the other hand, if the federal government allows Barnett to get away with his scheme of asserting states' rights, then the temptation for other states to follow suit would mean a complete breakdown of federal supremacy.

Whether or not Meredith will attend the University remains to be seen. But one thing is for sure, that the crisis in Mississippi has just about reached the boiling point for both sides and it appears that there is no easy solution in sight.

(Editor's Note: When the paper went to press, James Meredith had enrolled at the University of Mississippi and had attended classes accompanied by federal marshalls.)

Poor pass defense by the Cowboys was a big factor in the match. The Shockers' second half hustle was the feature which stood out for us.

No. 7 in a series of statements by prominent Southeastern Kansas business people about Kansas, focal point of good living in America.

I LIKE IT HERE!

Says Wesley H. Sowers, President of Frontier Chemical Company, Division of Vulcan Materials Company, Wichita, Kansas. "Kansans have a sense of purpose; a strong, progressive and enterprising spirit. This spirit, I believe, explains why Kansans have moved ahead in the important areas of education, health, transportation and civic development; and have thus created an attractive environment for business and living. Kansans understand the importance of community life and community responsibility and have taken the initiative in establishing high quality civic, cultural and spiritual programs which provide further depth and meaning to living in South Central Kansas. This is an important reason why South Central Kansas is an area that attracts people."

"This spirit is the reason why South Central Kansas is an ideal location for new and expanding enterprises that can bring increased prosperity and job security to us all."

"Yes, I like it here."

A native "Hoosier," Wesley H. Sowers came to Wichita as Vice President of Frontier Chemical Company in 1950. When Frontier became a division of Vulcan Materials Company of Birmingham, Alabama in December, 1957, Wes Sowers was named President of the Frontier Chemical Division and Director of Vulcan Materials Co. In early 1961, he was also made Executive Vice President of Vulcan Materials Company in charge of chemicals and metallurgy.

Mr. Sowers has demonstrated a deep concern for the progress of his community and state by actively serving in many capacities. Among a long list of public services are: former Chairman of the Metropolitan Area Planning Commission for Wichita and Sedgwick County; former President of Wichita Rotary Club and Wichita Chamber of Commerce; director of Wichita C of C, JA, Metropolitan Wichita Council and Wichita YMCA. He has also served or is serving the state C of C, KIDC, legislative council, University of Wichita and Kansas State University.

Mr. Sowers obviously knows, from practical experience, of the "Kansas Spirit" about which he speaks.

State Editors Gather Here Next Week

Editors from across the state will converge on campus Oct. 13 for Editors' Day, an event jointly sponsored by the University office of public relations and the department of journalism.

An estimated 150 editors of daily, weekly, and bi-monthly newspapers published in Kansas will gather for the annual activity.

The editors will be treated to tours of the new library, a coffee hour, and an evening banquet. Then they will be the guests of the University at the New Mexico State football game following the banquet.

Speaking at the banquet will be Lester Rosen, present administrative assistant to Kansas Congressman Garner E. Shriver. Rosen was formerly Director of Public Relations at the University.

The Sunflower newsroom and laboratory and the journalism department photography laboratory will be opened during the morning for the inspection of the professional journalists.

Scrooges and Scrabblings

By GWEN VORDERSTRASSE
Society Editor

Dashing in and out of the various social whirls, students have started to have the annual trouble of knowing for sure just who was with whom when.

Brennan Hall has elected its dorm council. The following girls will serve as officers for this semester: Marilyn Ochs, president; Linda George, vice president; Dwala Kim, secretary; Cheryl Miller, social chairman; Kay Dickens, publicity chairman; and Mary Jo Mullen, Carolyn Combs, and Susan Warner, are floor representatives.

Announcing their engagements are DG's Joyce Allegro, to DU Tom Dougherty; Tri Delt Sherry Hughes to Bob Daniels; Alpha Chi Linda Sue Henesey to Keith Stump; Gamma Phi Joni Krehbiel to Greg Pease.

Girls who announced their pinnings this week are Tri Delt Karen Hellar to DU Denny Wright and Gamma Phi Karen Moody to Phi Delt Jack Austin.

Sunday, Sept. 23, the Tri Delt's held their Mother-Daughter Tea. Mrs. Justus Fugate Dean of Women was the speaker.

The Phi Delt's and the DG's held their first hour dance Monday, Sept. 24.

Friday night doings before the Arizona State game included shows and pizza. Seen out with the "girls" were Debbie Snyder, Barbara Pumphelly, Lee Bacon, and Mary Ridgway.

The following Alpha Phis were seeing a show and having pizza; Karen Ceasar, Chris Ferguson, Ruth Greene, Connie Hart, Reba Wedel, Pam Pond, Susan Crane, Jeanie Kauffman, and Pat Corcoran.

Losing a game to Arizona State did not noticeably dampen the spirits of students as they partied after the game. The Betas and their dates served coffee and doughnuts at the house as they celebrated winning the Nightshirt Parade.

Having dinner after the game were Gamma Phis Marilyn Fletcher and her date Steve Loomis; along with Marion and Cliff Hall.

Some of the members of the football team and their dates gathered after the game at Bill Stangerone's. Present were Judy Snapp, Hall Schwartz; Joan Wendorff, Frank Butz; Dallas Crump, Bezie Stephens; Mary Laswell, Alex Zyskowski; and Bill's date, Catha Cowgill.

The alums of Alpha Chi Omega gave the new pledge class a dessert and coffee September 25.

Friday Sept. 29, the Betas and the Gamma Phis had a dance at the Beta House.

Varsity Rifle Team To Hold Tryouts

University varsity rifle team tryouts and practices have been set up for weekday afternoons, according to Lt. Ken Fortney, group spokesman.

Interested students may try out Monday from 1 to 3 p.m., Tuesday from 2 to 4 p.m., Wednesday from 1 to 3 p.m., and Friday from 1 to 4:30 p.m. Fortney may be contacted at Ext. 312 to answer any questions concerning the rifle team.

Four rifle meets have been set up for the coming year.

Debaters to Meet

Students who want to take part in inter-collegiate debate are invited to the meeting of the Debate Society in Rm. 202 of the Commons at 7 p.m. tomorrow.

WU Band Day Set for Oct. 20

Fifty high school marching bands will appear in the 17th annual WU Band Day at Veterans Field on Saturday, October 20th. The program will feature bands playing in mass formation.

Howard Akers, a well-known composer of band music, will appear as guest conductor. Mr. Akers, of Los Angeles, California, will be conducting his own marches. Under his direction, the bands will compete for ratings.

The event will be viewed by well-informed judges. James M. King, one of the judges, is director of bands at Hastings College, Hastings, Neb. Another judge is Walter Olsen, director of instrumental music at Fremont, Neb.

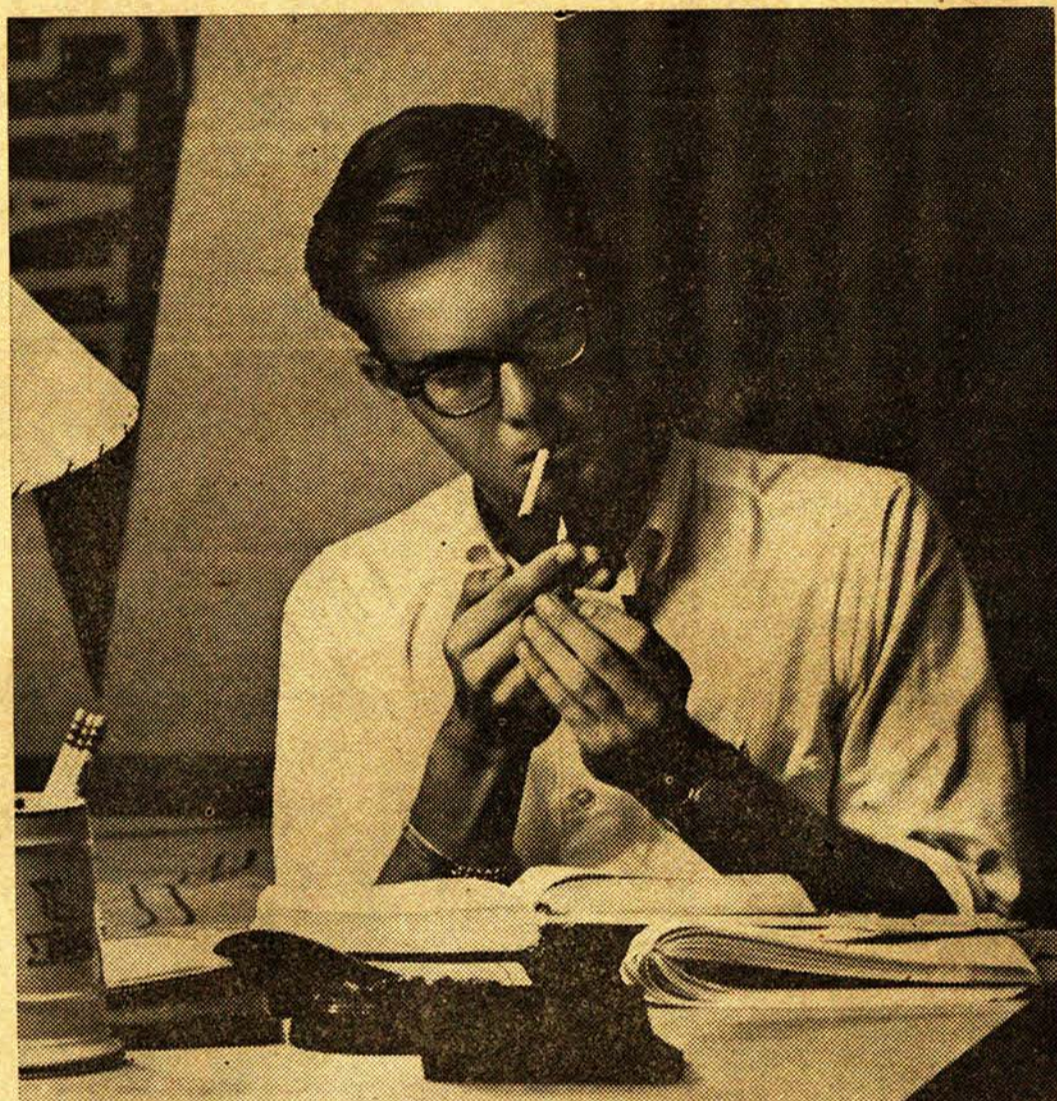

Byron A. Havlicek, who received his master's degree from Wichita University, will also be judging. Mr. Havlicek is now band director in the public schools of Columbus, Neb. Included in the group of judges will be H. Arthur Schrepel, director of the Pawnee High School band, Pawnee City, Neb. He is editor of the Nebraska Music Educator.
