7 Queen Candidates Chosen As HC Dance, Displays Near

The names of seven candidates for Homecoming queen were announced this week by Jim Allen, SGA president.

Candidates and their sponsoring organizations are: Linda McFarland, Alpha Chi Omega; Jerrilea Costello, Delta Delta Delta; Judy Sparrow, Brennan Hall; Judy Christopherson, Gamma Phi Beta; Beverly Shorter, NAACP; Dallas Crump, Delta Gamma; and Carol Campbell, Alpha Phi.

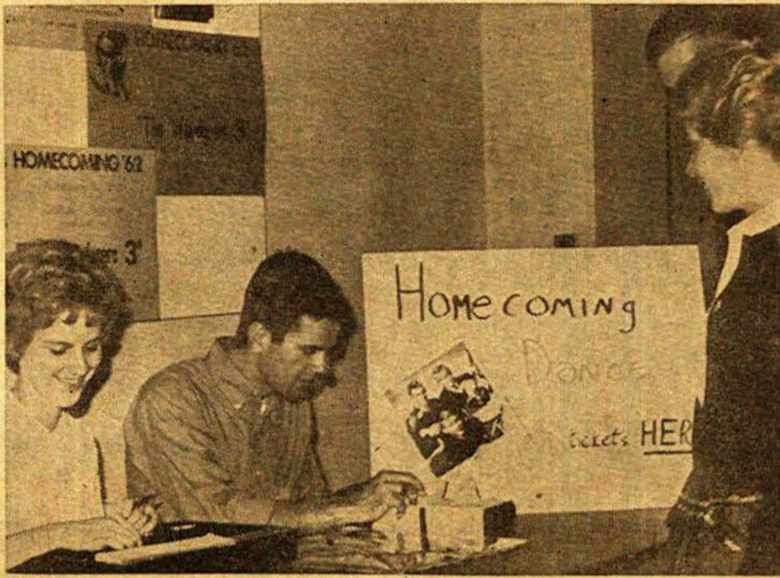

An all-school election for Homecoming queen will be held from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Nov. 2 in the main hall of the CAC.

Twelve organizations are sponsoring Homecoming displays this year.

Today is the last day that tickets for the Homecoming dance may be purchased in the CAC for $2.25 per person. Tickets will also be sold before and after the Montana State game at tables located at both entrances to the stadium for $2.25.

Next week tickets will sell for $2.50 apiece. Students are encouraged to get their tickets before the price change, according to Sam Gill, Homecoming chairman.

The dance will begin at 9 p.m., Nov. 3, at the Cotillion Ballroom. The Wanderers Three will present special entertainment at 10 p.m. and 12 midnight. Dancing will last until 1 a.m. with the Vern Nydegger Orchestra presenting the music.

People-to-People 'Interfest' Seeks 'Friendship of Nations'

"Great Britain and the Netherlands are finished. Germany is new this year. I have not heard from Korea."

Sound slightly jumbled? No—one is creating the universe but someone is creating a People-to-People International Festival of Nations. Over 30 persons from Iceland to Tanganyika gathered in the CAC last week, to meet with Fred Van Soest, director of the People-to-People festivals from Kansas City, Kan., and to plan the world premiere of the PTP festival in Wichita November 16, 17, and 18.

Almost 35 University students, both foreign and American, have asked to represent their various countries in this festival, according to Barbara Melzer, festival chairman.

People-to-People is a non-governmental, non-political organization which was formed in 1956 by Dwight D. Eisenhower "in an effort to create international understanding." Communications on an intimate basis with foreign students is the objective of PTP.

Van Soest told the students that the festival is one of the methods of attaining the long-range goal of friendship between nations.

Special Store Hours

Dick Adkisson CAC bookstore manager announced bookstore hours for Parents' Day, Oct. 27—10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Homecoming, Nov. 2—10 a.m. to 12:30.

Honor Parents Are Chosen

Two sets of parents will be honored tomorrow in all-day activities scheduled for Parents' Day, the first annual event of this kind sponsored by the University.

The parents to be honored are Mr. and Mrs. Fay Jolley, New Cambria, Kans., parents of Jay Jolley, Fine Arts junior; and Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Ketterer, 737 S. Vassar, parents of Sandra Rae Ketterer, Engineering junior.

They were chosen in a drawing from both Sedgwick county residents and residents of other counties from names submitted by students.

All parents of students are invited to attend a reception and coffee in the CAC from 10:30 a.m. to noon tomorrow. President Corbin will host the coffee. Parents will be conducted on tours of the University departments and the new library.

A special parent section has been reserved at the Montana State game for families of students. Tickets are available at reduced rates.

The "honor parents" will be guests of President Corbin at a luncheon with their family and will sit in a special box at the game. They will be introduced on the field at half-time.

The band will present a special half-time program for the parents and the students.

Sydney Harris To Be Guest In CAC Today

Sydney Harris, noted author, lecturer and columnist, will be guest of honor at an informal coffee at 10:30 a.m. today in the CAC Ballroom.

The coffee is sponsored by the CAC Music-Discussion committee, according to Joyce Allegro, cultural and educational coordinator. All interested students and faculty are invited to attend.

Harris will present a lecture at 8 p.m. at the First Methodist Church. His trip to Wichita is sponsored by the Wichita Great Books Program.

Harris is the winner of several journalism prizes, and is the well-known author of "Majority of One."

Debaters Journey to Emporia

Two University debate teams are entered in the Kansas State Teachers' Invitational Debate Tournament this weekend at Emporia.

The two teams are composed of Bob Hunt, Dennis Smith, Keith Williamson, and Tom Schneider, according to Bobby Patton, debate coach.

More than 40 schools from across the nation are attending this tournament. The field includes some of the best debaters in the land, stated Patton.

Last weekend the University's first year debaters attended the Kansas State Invitational Tournament in Manhattan. The two teams tied for first with Kansas State College of Pittsburgh. In winning they compiled a record of 7 wins and one loss. They won over the University of Nebraska, Southwest Missouri State College, University of Arkansas, MacPherson College, University of Kansas, Central College of Missouri, and Tabor College. A first place plaque was given to the debaters.

University Women Hold First Meet

The Council of University Women will hold their fall dinner meeting at 6:15 p.m. Oct. 29, in the CAC Ballroom, according to Elizabeth Gane, president.

This meeting will feature a symposium, "Rhythm in Three Arts," by Dr. Walter M. Merrill and Dr. James E. Ruoff of the English department, and Dr. Leo Kreter of the School of Fine Arts.

The Council extends an invitation to all University faculty and staff women, their husbands, and guests. Reservations may be made with Miss Joan Gleeson, secretary, 113 Jardine Hall, Ext. 383.

WU Organizations Join Book Drive

Many University organizations are presently involved in operation "Books for Asian Students," a project instituted by the University Library committee.

This is an effort to help needy foreign students in Asia through 1945 and in good condition are the national direction of the Asia Foundation. All the Greek social organizations, Grace Wilkie Hall, Brennan Hall, the SGA office, and members of the football team are combining their efforts to aid the drive, according to Dr. Martin A. Reif, chairman of the program.

Anyone wishing to donate books should call the University, at MU 3-7561, Ext. 350. A girl, from one of the organizations participating, will arrange to have someone pick up the donation, Dr. Reif said. College and secondary level textbooks and journals published after 1945 and in good condition are wanted, he noted. Dr. Reif added that the purpose of the book program is to strengthen Asian education, cultural and civic activities.

Last year, 108 university and college groups donated more than 79,000 books and 45,000 journals for Asian use.

Naval Drill Team Organized Here

Anchoresses, the first Navy women's drill team organized at any college in the country, will hold its membership tea at 1:30 p.m. Sunday in the CAC Ballroom.

There are openings for 26 coeds on the drill team authorized last week by SGA, according to Penny Patton, commanding officer.

Applicants will participate in a "drill down" next week. Interested coeds are asked to try out at 7 a.m. Oct. 29 and 30 and Nov. 1 and 2 in Henrion Gym. Final drill, when members are chosen, will be at 7 a.m. Nov. 5 and 6.

Members will be selected by officers of the Naval Reserve Training Center and the organization's executive committee.

Top Anchoress officers selected are: Penny Patton, commanding officer; Elaine Clayton, executive officer; Carolyn Howe, drill commander; and Charlene Pibbs, secretary. There are still openings for two other officers and four rank

Support Homecoming!

Homecoming, the biggest campus event of the year, is just around the corner.

This is a time when alumni, prompted by loyalty or nostalgia, return to the University. They walk through once-familiar halls and tour the many new buildings erected on the campus in the past few years.

Returning graduates may take time out to see the mammoth Homecoming displays that adorn sorority row and the fraternity houses.

A warm glow of pleasant memories presumably is engendered, and old acquaintances are renewed. All is as it should be on Homecoming day.

But is it? What about the students who have had a part in preparing for the Homecoming festivities?

Their happy memories will have to be counted in dozens of hours spent in constructing those gargantuan edifices of chicken wire and crepe paper better known as Homecoming displays.

Each Greek house expends monumental effort and a large amount of money to create a gigantic greeting to alumni. The sacrifice of study time alone puts a double burden on the students who build these displays.

The Homecoming displays do an effective "public relations" job for the University by focusing the attention of the people in the community and the surrounding area on our University and its student body.

The students who have worked to put up these displays have done a job for the University that no one else can or will do. The rest of the student body can make them feel their efforts were worthwhile by showing an active interest in Homecoming.

Show these students that all their time and effort was not wasted! See the displays and participate in the Homecoming festivities yourself!

Concert Attendance Is Light

By GRACE McILVAIN
Guest Editor

The University Singers and the University Symphony Orchestra presented their annual fall concert in the Fine Arts Center Concert Hall last Sunday afternoon and again on Tuesday evening. Both performances were received by disappointingly small crowds.

As the Sunflower reported, the sections displayed an impressive degree of technical brilliance, and warm applause from an enthusiastic audience. The stirring finale brought the oboe and clarinet solos were tie audience.

Choral Performance Outstanding

Robert Hines, conductor of the University Singers, is to be heartily congratulated for the performance of Kodaly's "Te Deum" by his choir. Under his direction, the Singers organization has shown a healthy tendency toward quality instead of quantity and has been providing Wichitans the opportunity to hear some of the very finest works of the choral literature.

Student soloists—Janice Stinson, Soprano; Suzette McKinney, Alto; Donald Junod, Tenor; and Wrandell Waid, Baritone—all exhibited maturity, warmth and artistry.

The accompanist, Norman Linscheid, deserves special mention. He skillfully integrated the accompaniment with the voices and made the orchestral reduction sound as if it had been written with no instrument but the piano in mind.

The "Te Deum" was written for the 250th anniversary of the delivery of Budapest from the Turks and was premiered in 1936. It is a thrilling example of excellency in 20th century choral writing. The choir transcended its technical complexities and difficulties, and their interpretation was intensely musical.

Orchestra "Settles Down"

The University Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of James Robertson, began its portion of the program with Haydn's 96th Symphony. The first two movements sounded insecure; but the players "settled down," ensemble and intonation improved, and the third and fourth movements went very well.

The performance of the Haydn was overshadowed, however, by a brilliant rendition of "Francesca da Rimini, Symphonic Fantasia after Dante" by Tchaikowsky. All of

THE READERS SPEAK

To the Editor:

I want to challenge the assumption in the statement by Dale Saffels, Democratic candidate for Governor, when he stated that "most senators and representatives would answer that they would much prefer to work with me than with my opponent."

I want to express publicly that the Democratic candidate for Governor has never asked me for my preference of candidates, but without the least hesitation I want it known that Governor Anderson is my choice. After having served two sessions in the Topeka legislature, I am very proud of the close cooperation between both Houses of the Legislature and Governor Anderson.

The fine leadership of the Governor and the legislature these last two years was proven when, during the 1961 session, 37 of the 41 administrative bills were passed. That is quite a contrast to the record of the previous four years under a Democratic Governor, or even the previous two years under another Republican Governor.

I hope that all my colleagues in the legislature will express their views. From what I saw in two years in the House, the work that Saffels performed was very weak and ineffective! Even some of the Democratic delegation from Sedgewick County expressed to me quite a concern over the poor leadership that Dale Saffels was performing as minority floor leader in the House.

I am much concerned over the wild statements that the Democratic candidate has been spreading around Wichita and over the state criticizing Governor Anderson for "sacking" the Wichita University bill in the House committee. This is far from the truth, and neither Saffels nor I were members of the State Affairs Committee that con-

CAC Recreation Committee Offers Bridge, Chess, Bowling

The CAC Recreation Committee is looking forward to another busy and successful season this year.

Activities planned for the current year have been chosen from last year's experiences and many requests from students. The following are a few of the many activities offered this year for the enjoyment of the students and faculty:

For the duplicate bridge enthusiasts, a challenging evening will be offered every Friday at 8 p.m. The cost is $1 for non-university fans and 50 cents for students and faculty. For those who would like to learn to play the game, lessons will be offered on Tuesdays starting at 7:30 p.m. in the CAC dining room. The cost for an entire series of ten lessons is $10.

Once again there are plans for a chess club. As an added feature, a chess tournament has been set up for Nov. 24-25. The club meets at 8 p.m. every Friday in Conference Area 3 of the CAC. Larry Evans, National Chess Champion, will put on a simultaneous exhibition on Jan. 18. The dues for one semester are $1.

Something new for the chess player will be provided this year. The introduction of ham radio in the CAC will give chess players an opportunity to play other students all over the country. This will be done in conjunction with the new Ham Radio Club.

An operator and several thousand dollars worth of equipment will be available in the CAC for general use.

By using this equipment, students may converse with friends practically anywhere in the world. The operation will be very simple. A ham operator will be contacted in the desired city. He will then dial the telephone number of whoever the caller wishes to contact and attach the telephone receiver to the radio. However, there is one drawback. Some days, it may take hours to get a connection because of atmospheric conditions. But on other occasions, contact may be made almost immediately.

The CAC will also sponsor a bowling team. Last year the team won 61 games and lost 38. The team average was 180 and in some individual cases it was even better. This year there is promise of an equally good team.

Consequently, the recreation committee of the CAC is expecting a busy season this year. There is hope that students with available free time will take advantage of the many opportunities offered them.

SHOWN PRACTICING for the upcoming chess tournament Nov. 24-25 are Chess Club members Charlie Wagner, Gayle Hershey, and Phillip White. The Club meets at 8 p.m. every Friday in the CAC.

ROTC Gives Goblin Party

The children of the Institute of Logopedics will be entertained with the annual Halloween party given them by the Army ROTC, Pershing Rifles, and the Army Blues.

The party, to be held today, will feature such traditional Halloween games as bean bag throwing, bobbing for apples, and pinning the tail on the donkey, according to Allan B. Cluster, Army ROTC public relations director.

Henrion Gymnasium will be decorated for the occasion by the Army Blues under the supervision of Nancy Anderson, co-chairman.

Employment Offered In Many Fields

The Employment Bureau offers diverse opportunities for students, according to Gil Jones, placement officer.

Its function is to aid any student who needs a job. The graduating student can apply for a job interview with representatives of approximately 50 different companies. The interviews are 30 minutes long, and inform the applicant about the job, the company, and opportunities within the company.

Undergraduate students or their wives who wish employment may contact the Employment Bureau, Rm. 114 Fiske Hall.

The average pay for available jobs ranges from 85 cents an hour to $1.50 an hour.

Information about summer jobs abroad under the sponsorship of the American Student Information Service has been received and is now available in the Employment Bureau.

Cesar to Give Violin Concert

James Cesar, associate professor of violin, is scheduled to appear in a Faculty Artist Series performance at 8:15 p.m., Oct. 30, in the FAC concert hall.

Professor Cesar will perform "Sonata in E Major" by Handel, "Sonata in D Major, Opus 94" by Prokofieff, "Sonata in G Minor" by Bach, "Precipitations" by Anthony Donato, "Lotus Land" by Scott-Kreisler, and "24th Caprice" by Paganini-Fuchus.

Cesar, who played for six years with the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra and a year with the Glenn Miller Orchestra, spent most of last summer at a music camp and festival in Brezard, N.C.

During his stay there he served as concertmaster of the Brevard

Symphonette and appeared on several occasions as a soloist with the Brevard Festival Orchestra. He recently declined an offer of a position in the first violin section of Leonard Bernstein's New York Philharmonic Orchestra.

HAPPINESS CAN'T BUY MONEY

Can education bring happiness?

This is a question that in recent years has caused much lively debate and several hundred stabbings among American college professors. Some contend that if a student's intellect is sufficiently aroused, happiness will automatically follow. Others say that to concentrate on the intellect and ignore the rest of the personality can only lead to misery.

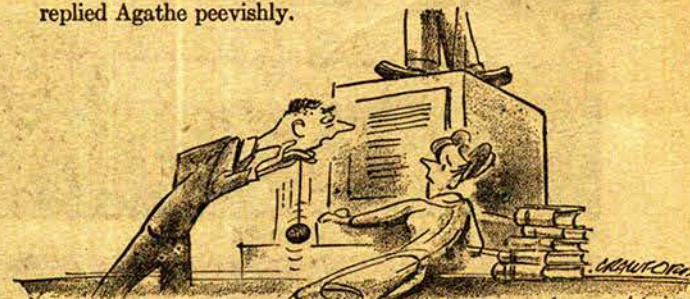

I myself favor the second view, and I offer in evidence the well-known case of Agathe Fusco.

Agathe, a forestry major, never got anything less than a straight "A", was awarded her B.T. (Bachelor of Trees) in only two years, her M.S.B. (Master of Sap and Bark) in only three, and her D.B.C. (Doctor of Blight and Cutworms) in only four.

Academic glory was hers. Her intellect was the envy of every intellect fan on campus. But was she happy? The answer, alas, was no. Agathe—she knew not why—was miserable, so miserable, in fact, that one day while walking across campus, she was suddenly so overcome with melancholy that she flung herself, weeping, upon the statue of the Founder.

By and by a liberal arts major named R. Twinkle Plenty came by with his yoyo. He noted Agathe's condition. "How come you're so unhappy, hey?" said R. Twinkle.

"Suppose you tell me, you dumb old liberal arts major," replied Agathe peevishly.

"Have you ever smoked a Marlboro cigarette?"

"All right, I will," said R. Twinkle. "You are unhappy for two reasons. First, because you have been so busy stuffing your intellect that you have gone and starved your psyche. I've got nothing against learning, mind you, but a person oughtn't to neglect the pleasant, gentle amenities of life—the fun things. Have you, for instance, ever been to a dance?"

Agathe shook her head. "Have you ever watched a sunset? Written a poem? Smoked a Marlboro Cigarette?"

Agathe shook her head. "Well, we'll fix that right now!" said R. Twinkle and gave her a Marlboro and struck a match.

She puffed, and then for the first time in twelve or fifteen years, she smiled. "Wow!" she cried. "Marlboros are a fun thing! What flavor! What filter! What pack or box! What a lot to like! From now on I will smoke Marlboros, and never have another unhappy day!"

"Hold!" said R. Twinkle. "Marlboros alone will not solve your problem—only half of it. Remember I said there were two things making you unhappy?"

"Oh, yeah," said Agathe. "What's the other one?"

"How long have you had that bear trap on your foot?" said R. Twinkle.

"I stepped on it during a field trip in my freshman year," said Agathe. "I keep meaning to have it taken off."

"Allow me," said R. Twinkle and removed it.

"Land sakes, what a relief!" said Agathe, now totally happy, and took R. Twinkle's hand and led him to a Marlboro vendor's and then to a justice of the peace.

Today Agathe is a perfectly fulfilled woman, both intellectually and personalitywise. She lives in a darling split-level house with R. Twinkle and their 17 children, and she still keeps busy in the forestry game. Only last month, in fact, she became Consultant on Sawdust to the American Butchers Guild, she was named an Honorary Sequoia by the park commissioner of Las Vegas, and she published a best-selling book called I was a Slippery Elm for the FBI.

© 1962 Max Shulman

The makers of Marlboro are pleased that Agathe is finally out of the woods—and so will you be if your goal is smoking pleasure. Just try a Marlboro.

Montana State Faces Shocks at Veterans Field

Bobcat Aerials Pose Threat To Shock Defense Tomorrow

Charging on Veterans Field tomorrow afternoon will be the Montana State Bobcats. The Shocks will be trying to come back after blowing their last game to Drake, 10-0.

Currently riding on a 5-1 record, the Bobcats will undoubtedly prove to be another tough contender on the Shocks' schedule. Their only loss this year has been a 41-13 slaughter by Utah State.

Dual Quarterbacks Lead Squad

Bill Mulcahy and Ken Christison are establishing themselves as the passingest quarterbacks ever to play for the Montana State Bobcats.

Because of the aerial efforts of the duo, the Bobcats have gained more yards passing than rushing in compiling their present record. Together they have completed 53 of 94 passes for a sensational 56 percent completion average.

The starting line averages 210 pounds per man, and their backfield averages 180. An outstanding lineman is guard John Munk.

Shocks Tough Contenders

Coach Herb Agoos should be met by the strongest team that he has faced this season in the Shockers. But with their outstanding record behind them, they will prove as tough as any of the top-notch squads that have faced the Shockers to date.

With the Bobcats' fairly weak defense, the Shocks should break to open ground and sew the game up without much trouble.

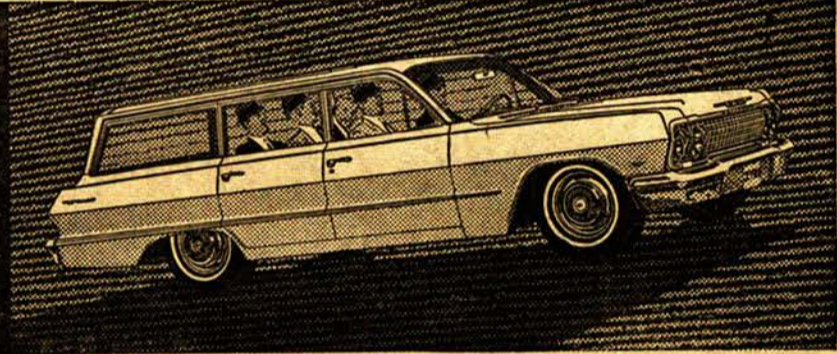

With Saturday being Parents' Day, an overflowing crowd is expected to be on hand to cheer the Shockers to victory.

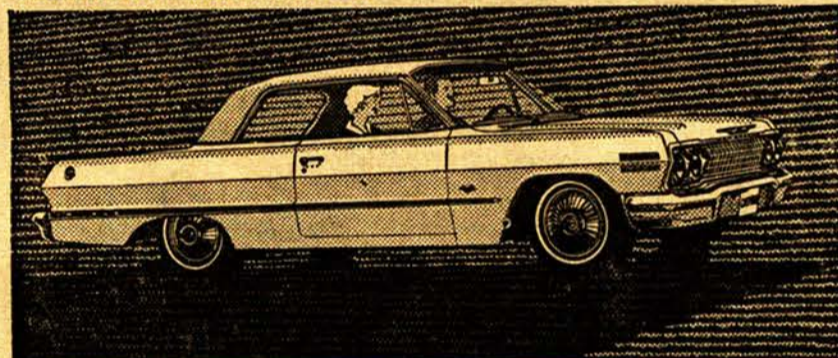

BACKFIELD POWER-PUNCH—Montana State's quarterbacks Bill Mulcahy and Ken Christison are well on their way to establishing themselves as the "passingest" quarterbacks in the Bobcats' history.

By LARRY DEAN
Sports Editor

Have you ever known a team that is living on its past record? A better question would be—have you ever watched Wichita play football?

The Drake capers were a disappointment to everyone. How can a team that has improved their defense 1000% grow so lax on their offensive threat? Wichita was only in offensive territory once in the entire game, (the third quarter, on the 44 yard line).

Doubtful Quarterback Position

Our co-captain, Alex Zyskowski, may be found sitting on the bench in favor of Schichtle, who is a Junior. Alex was at one time 12th in the nation in total offense. You may compare this to Schichtle who is 35 yards in the hole for rushing.

Why has Schichtle, who has yet to crack 100 total yards gained, been given the nod over Zyskowski, who is near the 500 yard mark?

Of 66 pass attempts Zyskowski has had 10 interceptions. Perhaps this is why he was benched. I wonder!

Montana State Outlook

The Shockers with a losing record of 2-4 are picked as a two TD victor over the Bobcats.

With another showing like Cincy or Drake the prediction will undoubtedly be turned around. We need to build our record up before going against the remaining MVC teams. The Montana game could, and should be one chance to do so.

Heartaches at K-State

There seems to be another team in this state that is having its troubles too. K-State finally managed to score their first TD in last week's game against Nebraska. At this rate, the Wildcats may lower their status a bit, and schedule a WU game sometime in the future.

The popular opinion at this time is that K-State has nothing to gain and everything to lose by playing Wichita. If we played them this year, they would definitely lose!!

VanEman Gets New Coaching Position Here

The new freshman basketball coach for this season is Lanny VanEman, according to the head coach, Ralph Miller. VanEman will also be used for scouting and recruiting purposes.

His new position moved Gary Thompson to the assistant basketball coach honors.

Lanny transferred from North Carolina State University and began his MVC play in the spring of 1958-59. In his basketball experiences here, he set a MVC record as a senior in free throw percentage (.860), and finished 5th in the top 25 scorers in WU history.

Last spring, Lanny signed a bonus contract with the New York Yankees, and played in their summer program.

Shocks Smash Pratt Juco

The Shocker Freshmen rolled to an impressive 20-12 victory over Pratt Juco, Saturday night, at Veterans Field.

The Jr-Shocks first scored in the early minutes of the game and maintained their lead throughout the remaining 3½ quarters. A spectacular performance was displayed by Jim Waskiewicz, who was a high school All-American selection last year, and has been an exceptional standout in every game thus far.

He racked up seventeen unassisted tackles and seven assists, leading his teammates in both divisions. Not only did Waskiewicz play exceptionally fine ball on the line, but he once again displayed an acute sense of awareness when he picked off a short Beaver pass in the final seconds of the game, to stop their final drive.

Other outstanding efforts on the parts of Harold Meyers and Lou Confessori may have gone by, slightly less recognized, but very much appreciated. Meyers, with a fine display of running ability, boosted his average to 6.4 yards per carry and maintained his lead teamwise. Lou Confessori called the game in fine fashion, mixing his plays very well.

U.S. Air Force

Among the young people being graduated from college in these times, there are some who think and feel—perhaps a little more deeply than the others—about the world we live in, the future we face. They ask, "How can I make my career really meaningful? More than just personally rewarding?"

And many of today's most successful young people are finding a fulfilling answer to these questions as officers on the Aerospace Team... the United States Air Force. They can tell you that no career could better combine the opportunity for achievement—and the deep inner

FOR GENTLEMEN WHO DO AND DO NOT

It is of no consequence whether the gentleman does or does not ski. If he goes to the country, or to the park in the cold, he will enjoy the wearing of such selections as these.

Above: "Ski Patrol" of 100% nylon with draw string hood and waist, flap front pocket. Entirely unlined for weightlessness. Black or blue by H-I-S, $10

Left: "Downhill" zip-front quilted nylon parka equipped with hood that converts into a collar. Reversible. Colorful, comfortable and warm, 18.95

Blondie Performs

Professor's 'Educated' Pigeon Delights Students With Antics

By BILL RAPPS
Staff Reporter

The FAC auditorium rocked with thunderous applause as Blondie chose the correct answer to the addition problem of three-plus-three.

Such an accomplishment doesn't seem so impressive until it is known that Blondie is a white pigeon. Solving arithmetic problems is just one small part of Blondie's performances in Dr. N. H. Pronko's general psychology classes.

Blondie Has Psychology Value

Dr. Pronko states that he has owned Blondie for five years and knows nothing about her background or family history. All of Blondie's abilities are relevant to the study of psychology, as well as entertaining.

If she is rewarded with food, Blondie can bowl with a ping-pong ball, start and stop a mechanical monkey, pull a toy cow, ring bells, peck buttons, do arithmetic and geometry, and pick out a good bridge hand.

Of course, Blondie has tricks of her own invention. If the button is placed a distance from the feed box, she will often press it several times to save her from several trips back and forth.

Often Fools Professor

The pigeon bowls by rolling a ping-pong ball down a ramp, thus triggering a button that drops food in her dish automatically. Dr. Pronko is often fooled in this game when Blondie dispenses with the ball and simply pecks the button.

According to Dr. Pronko, the method used to teach Blondie is based on the idea of reinforcement. That is, when she does what is desired, she is rewarded, and when she does not cooperate, she receives nothing.

The behavior of animals, and even children, can be controlled in this way. "Actions can be molded like clay is sculptured," says Dr. Pronko.

sidered that legislation.

Public hearings were heard openly, and both the proponents and the opponents of Wichita University's entry into the state system were heard fully as all hearings are heard in Topeka. Governor Anderson and his legislative team worked hard to get the majority of the committee to vote favorably for its passage. The committee vote failed by two or three votes; and, therefore, it was not voted upon in the House.

The students and supporters of the Wichita University program are disappointed enough now without having to have Dale Saffels come to the campus and tell them a bunch of half truths; and indicating to them, "Elect me Governor and you will have Wichita University into the State system."

I want to get the record straight. Wichita University and Washburn have been trying to get state-aid ever since the 1955 session of the legislature. It failed in 1955, again in 1957, in 1959, and then in the 1961 session, with Governor Anderson's help, state aid was given to the two municipal universities, and to the junior colleges. This was a much past-due piece of legislation which was finally accomplished under Governor Anderson.

Now that the Wichita University facilities have been offered to the State of Kansas, it is very easy to decide that Governor Anderson will be the Governor to favor in order to see this piece of legislation accomplished.

"working for the maintenance of peace and independence, and for greater personal liberty and social progress."

To date the Asia Foundation has shipped more than 2,500,000 books and journals to Asia. Nevertheless, the foundation cannot hope to solve the entire problem of Asian book needs. The program attempts to remain arbitrary by sending only useful books to Asia under procedures that insure the donor that his books will be placed where they are needed and will be used.

leaders, according to Miss Patton. Anchorette uniforms will be in midnight blue, and members will wear the wave officer hat, said Miss Patton.

An appearance in the spring at Pancake Day in Liberal and a trip to Champaigne, Ill., are planned for the coming year, according to the commanding officer.

Students who are unable to attend the tea next Sunday may participate in the drill.

Society Shows Bergman Film

On the Wichita Film Society's calendar for Oct. 31 is a horror picture "The Magician". This Swedish picture is directed by Ingmar Bergman.

Richard Welsbacher, assistant professor of speech, dramatics and director of the University Theater, will introduce the film, a contrast of illusion versus reality.

Max Van Sydow plays the title role as the "Magician", Dr. Vogler, a hypnotist of horrifying skill and the possible possessor of supernatural powers.

Around the Campus

HORROR FLICK TONIGHT

"The Curse of Frankenstein" and "Mark of the Vampire" will be presented for the Two-Bit Flick showing tonight.

This "ghoulish evening of terror and chills" will begin at 8 p.m. in the CAC Ballroom, instead of the FAC auditorium, according to Sam Gill, chairman of the CAC Activities Committee.

"HARVEST MOON" DANCE

The Newman Club, a Catholic Student organization, will sponsor a "Harvest Moon" dance tomorrow night. Dancing will begin at 8 p.m. at Blessed Sacrament Hall.

Newman Club members will be admitted free of charge. The admission for non-members is 50 cents, according to Jim Graf, president.

PLAY TRYOUTS SOON

University Theatre tryouts for Bruce Cutler's "A West Wind Rises" will be held at 7:30 p.m. next Thursday and Friday in the Pit Theatre, Commons Building, according to Richard Welsbacher, director. The tryouts are open to all students.

YGOP ATTEND RALLY

Collegiate Young Republicans will attend a YGOP state rally in Salina tomorrow and Sunday, according to Merle Gates, CYGOP president.

The transportation is by bus and is free. It will leave at 11 a.m. from the north entrance of the CAC. The only cost involved is $2.50 for a room tomorrow night and Sunday's breakfast.

TICKETS TO 'PLAYBOY'

Tickets for the remaining two performances of "Playboy of the Western World," playing today and tomorrow at 8:30 p.m., in Commons Auditorium, are on sale today in the CAC from 10 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 3 p.m. University students are admitted with their ID card, according to Richard Welsbacher, director. Faculty season tickets are available for $2.
