INDIA'S INTERFEST DISPLAY will resemble a temple-like structure, Damodhar Borde, mechanical engineering sophomore, points out to Raphael Amanna, business administration graduate.

Interfest Premieres As Traveling Festival

Next weekend People-to-People will premiere its first traveling Festival of Nations, Interfest, at De Mattias Hall with 20 countries participating.

Foreign students and American students from the University, Friends University, Sacred Heart College, Emporia State, and Kansas University will begin to decorate their displays which are designed and constructed by People-to-People, next Tuesday evening.

Displays and Foods

The festival will feature newly designed displays, an art exhibit, an international variety show, a Miss International contest, and an international banquet, according to Fred Van Soest, director of the traveling festival.

The banquet, which includes dishes from nine countries, will be served on Nov. 17 and all reservations must be in by this Tuesday, said Byron Palls, chairman of the food planning committee. Reservations are $3 per person and may be sent to Palls at the University.

Customs, Songs and Culture

Dave Davidson, director of the international variety show, said that a show would be given every two hours and would be approximately 30 minutes in length.

Everything from American folk-songs to an Arabian play entitled "The Desert Sheik" which is written and directed by Saad Zara, University student from Bagdad, Iraq, is on the program, according to Davidson. Zara's play, a comedy, will be performed by 11 students from Cuba, U. S., Iraq, Greece, Tanganikya, and India.

Representatives from each country, in native costume, will act as host and hostess for each display.

"The culture and customs characteristic of the country will be accentuated by art pieces and via the design of the exhibit itself such as a sidewalk cafe for France, a windmill for Holland, or a patio and garden for Mexico," commented Marty Limbird, display chairman.

Indian Students Send Money To Aid Country

Seven University students from India have collected funds to send to Morarji Desai, finance minister of India, to meet the state of emergency facing India in its undeclared war with China.

Dr. R. C. Barchha, intern at St. Francis Hospital, organized the students after learning that Indian students at Kansas State University had made such an effort.

Some of the students described their effort as "a token of our faith in the cause of defense of India against Communism." These were Raphael Amanna, Bombay; Damodhar Borde, Hyderabad; Kantilal Vira, Bombay; and Gyaneshwar Singh, New Delhi.

The students felt that perhaps this same scene would be re-enacted by Indian students in American universities across the country. If this should occur, the effort will reach substantial amounts.

All the students agreed that if

Scholarship, Defense Loan Deadline Set

Students who want a scholarship or National Defense loan for second semester must apply by December 1, according to Prof. Paul Chrisman, student aid counselor.

The National Defense loans usually are awarded to students who are in teaching, math, science or the language fields. A 2.5 grade average is required for a defense loan. For regular university loans a good credit rating and an eligible co-signer are required. The co-signer must agree to pay if the applicant does not. The University loans must be approved by registration time.

The University participates in a program sponsored by the United Student Aid Funds. This organization is an intermediary between the bank and the university. The bank makes the loan at cost, and when the student leaves school or graduates he repays the loan. A student may borrow up to a $1000 a year or a total of $3000 to be repaid in 36 monthly installments.

This is a low-interest loan and no collateral is needed. The note will be endorsed by the United Student Aid Funds and will be protected by the college's deposit in the Funds' reserve.

The requirements for this loan are sophomore standing and approval by the University. For further information contact Professor Chrisman in Fisk Hall.

The endowed scholarships given by the university range from $50 to $1,300 a year. The largest of the endowed scholarships are the Gore, Milburn, Beech and Boeing scholarships.

SGA Reviews Seating Plan

Discussion of the feasibility of an unreserved student seating section at football and basketball games next year was the main topic last Tuesday evening at the SGA meeting.

Bob Donaldson, coordinator of athletics, appeared before the Congress to discuss and answer questions concerning an unreserved seating section next year for students at football and basketball games.

Student Football Seating Discussed

Mr. Donaldson said, "one of the major problems is developing student interest." Not once this year have the 3,000 seats which are allotted to the students of this University been filled.

"The problem is getting students to come to the game and an unreserved section is not the answer," was the opinion expressed by Dennis Wright, pep coordinator.

When Mr. Donaldson was asked whether he thought it would be advisable to try an unreserved section next year he said, "it might be worth a try."

Organizations Must Register

Jim Allen, SGA president, emphasized that if any organization is not registered by 3 p.m. today, they will no longer be recognized as an organization on this campus. Organizations which fail to register can be reinstated. Each group must take the necessary steps that all new organizations take, in order that they be recognized as a campus organization.

On the agenda also was a report on the upcoming International Festival by the American booth co-chairman, Barbara Penix.

She said that the theme of the American booth will be an old country store furnished with antiques. The People to People organization has invested $15,000 in this festival.

Pep Council Broke

Allen appointed two new members to fill the vacant posts in Congress. Karen Hellar, sophomore, was appointed proportional representative, and Dave Pipkin, junior, was appointed Business representative. They were ratified without discussion, and sworn into Congress.

Leonard Clark, court justice. Wright explained in his report on the walkout, that there is some question as to what happened to a sum of money made on the sale of refreshments. He also explained that this year an "extremely high damage bill was run up—and that the pep council is broke."

Election Commissioner, Larry Axline, said that 1,230 students voted in the Homecoming queen election. This voting record established a new high for queen elections.

Deadline Today For SGA List

Forty campus organizations had failed to register with SGA by 3 p.m. last Wednesday. They must do so by 3 p.m. today, or they will lose recognition as an official campus group, according to Jim Allen, SGA president.

The resolution, passed by the SGA last week, states: "Any organization which is not properly registered with SGA by 3 p.m. Nov. 9, 1962, will not be recognized as an official student organization, and will lose all privileges attached thereto."

The groups that have yet to comply with last week's ruling are the following:

AWS, Accounting Club, Alpha Delta Sigma, Alpha Kappa Delta, Alpha Phi Omega, Anchorettes, Art Education Club, Chemistry Club, Delta Delta Delta, Delta Pi Epsilon, Delta Sigma Rho, Flying Club, Gamma Phi Beta, IFC, Intersarsity Christian Fellowship, ISA, Kappa Alpha Psi, Kappa Kappa Psi, Kappa Phi, Kappa Pi, Le Cercle Francais, Lutheran Club, MARS, MENC, Mortar Board, NAA-CP, Natl. Collegiate Players, Phi Alpha Theta, Phi Mu Alpha, Pi Mu Epsilon, Scabbard & Blade, Sigma Delta Pi, Sigma Mu Epsilon, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Spanish Club, University Players, Women's Panhellenic, Young Democrats, Young Republicans, YWCA.

Music Professor Discusses Opinions on European Scene

Adrian Pouliot, professor of music theory and piano, has recently returned from a ten-month tour of Europe. The trip gave him the opportunity to meet many people and see many places.

Professor Pouliot, who took a year's leave of absence, has taught music theory and piano here for 21 years.

He says that there have been many changes in Europe since the war, in fact they are ahead of us in some respects. In the transportation system, for example, there is no crowding and showing for trains or subways. Their system, although more leisurely, is faster than ours because it is more efficient.

Professor Pouliot said that the Common Market appears to be effectively stimulating the economy. Many new skyscrapers have appeared and the pace of living has speeded up.

The attitudes of the European people vary from the Italians, who appear to be carefree and seem to enjoy life, to the Swiss, who are serious and humble, with a sense of great personal integrity.

Professor Pouliot said the vote of confidence given French President Charles De Gaulle has been misinterpreted. He reasoned, "The people voted confidence in De Gaulle not because of De Gaulle, but because they were disgusted with the Algerian mess and wanted a quick end to it."

Marine Band Plays Here Tonight

The United States Marine Band will present concerts at 3 and 8 p.m. today in the Field House. The 164-year-old band, known as the "President's Own" is on a presidentially-approved tour covering the Pacific Coast and 15 states.

The band, founded by an act of Congress in 1798, has played for every inauguration since Thomas Jefferson's and at all official events since Washington became the capital.

While on tour, the band performs twice daily, seven days a week. Lt. Col. Albert Schoeper, director since 1955, left 35 bandmen and 15 string players in Washington to appear at diplomatic and state affairs.

It has toured a section of the country each year since the custom was initiated in 1891 by John Phillip Sousa, then the leader of the group.

The 1962 concert tour will feature music selected especially to please Americans. "Marches still stimulate the greatest audience reaction," the director said, "therefore we always open the program with a stirring march."

Other selections will include military and concert music, music from Broadway, and will feature works of Richard Rodgers, Jerome Kern, and George Gershwin.

At the evening concert, the bandmen will wear their full dress uniforms of blue trousers and scarlet coats decorated with black braid, white breast cord, and white epaulettes.

The more familiar "dress blue" Marine Corps uniform will be worn at the 3 p.m. concert.

Proceeds from the concerts, sponsored by local Kiwanis clubs, will help finance youth work.

Tickets, selling for $1 for adults and 50 cents for students, may be purchased at the door.

WU Is Waiting ...

John Anderson, Jr., has just been re-elected as Governor of Kansas. Along with him, the voters have swept the entire Republican state ticket into office.

Governor Anderson has won widespread support of the voters in southern Kansas who fervently wish that the University of Wichita will be taken into the state system in 1963. He now has the influence to persuade the Legislature to take in the University, and we feel that he will keep his promise to us to accomplish this objective.

Governor Anderson undoubtedly realizes what the voters of southern Kansas expect from him, and knows that now is the time to keep his campaign promise regarding the University.

We will remember the Governor's words when he spoke on this campus three weeks ago: "I will recommend it in a message to the legislature, and I will work with the legislative bodies and with the committees and individuals to see that it is passed."

We appear to have an ideal situation for getting the University into the state system. All of us will be watching for developments in the approaching session of the Legislature.

Prof's Book Published

Enuenwemba Obi, instructor in mathematics here, has written a book entitled "Peace Corpism." The book expresses his concern for the ideological goal for which the Peace Corps strives.

Obi, a native of Nigeria, has been teaching in the United States for the last ten years. He received his bachelor of science degree from the University of Kansas City in 1955, and he received his master of science degree there in 1958. He was assistant professor of physics and mathematics at Wiley College in Marshall Texas before coming to the University.

The book was published this year by Pageant Press, Inc., of New York City.

Ed-TV Features Film, Opera

"The World of Wayne Sourbeer" will be presented on Ideas in Action at noon Sunday on KARD-TV, Channel 3.

Dr. Walter Merrill, chairman of the English department, will narrate this program about Sourbeer, a local photographer. The show is described by Richard Meyer, director of Educational television, as a "look into photography—an inclusive art."

Music Time will begin its 8th year of production at 12:30 p.m. Sunday. This week's presentation will be act one of Puccini's "La Boheme," performed by the University's Opera Theatre.

We would have liked to have been the first to wish you a Merry Christmas, but the supermarkets and superdrugstores have done it again—so may we be the first to wish you a Happy St. Patrick's Day!

A despondent coed remarked on her way to the library the other day, "Are there any really bad words anymore?" We've been wondering how to do the Shag and Slop.

Our campus is a failure at fads. Just when has anyone gone phone booth stuffing; or started a talkathon on the phones from dorm to dorm; or stuffed a Volkswagen or a Dauphine; or raced four-posters; or filled pens with CAC coffee and written with it? I guess we like traditional things like effigy hanging.

After a lengthy explanation and making a few chalk marks on the blackboard, one professor, it is reported, turned to the class and asked, "Are there any questions?" Following a minute of silence and exchanging of blank looks, one student said, "I'd like to ask a question, but I don't know what to say."

Favorite comment overheard during the Cuban crisis: "I'm going to carry a martini with me at all times!"

Shocker Sideline Slants

By LARRY DEAN

Nobody can expect to overwhelm his competitors without essential "breaks" of the game. The Shocks simply didn't come up with the breaks which they needed against North Texas State.

The team, with the help of some foul calls, was entirely at fault by taking the loss. The "Brass" on the sideline cannot eliminate fumbles, and the like. It is left entirely in the hands of the team, representing our school, who are on the playing field.

Eagle Defense Impressive

Wichita gained only 19 yards rushing and 126 passing. This was the Eagle's main threat throughout the game—stiff and rugged defense. The Shocks had one man who managed defensive honors too, Frank Butz, who made 8 unassisted tackles, and had six assists.

Valley Rundown

All hopes are down the drain. Currently standing with a 0-2 record in MVC play, the Shocks can only hope for a third place tie with Cincy, by bumping off Tulsa in our final game of the season. The win would leave a two-way tie for first between Tulsa and North Texas.

The big question now is—can Wichita maintain the esteem and dignity which was bestowed upon them in previous years? I am speaking of the Missouri Valley football world. It was once a difficult task to overwhelm the Shocker crew. Now the Valley teams are "tickled to death" to face us because they have a chance to improve their conference record. I hope the squad will prove my statement incorrect by blasting the wonder boys from Tulsa.

MVC Stats Impressive for WU

Taking a look at individual statistics in the Valley, WU fares very well considering their losing record. Miller Farr, stand-out sophomore, has the top average in pass recep-

'Mountain' Chosen As 'Flick' Tonight

"The Mountain", starring Spencer Tracy, Claire Trevor, and Robert Wagner will be the 2-Bit Flick feature at 8 tonight in the FAC auditorium.

The story centers around two brothers of contrasting natures who climb an Alpine peak to reach the wreckage of a crashed airliner. One is motivated by humane reasons, the other by thoughts of plundering the dead.

'West Wind' Cast Picked

The cast for the next University Theatre production, "A West Wind Rises," has been announced by Richard Welsbacher, director.

The cast includes Barbee Nelson, Anna Sutula, Wilber Love, Piet Knetsch, Merle Schoper, Alfred Mattson, and Roberta Rude.

"A West Wind Rises," which has appeared in book form, was written by Bruce Cutler, professor of English at the University.

The original music to be used in the production is by Joshua Missal, professor of music theory and viola. The scenery will be designed by David Flemming, assistant professor of speech. Clay Hawes, a Liberal Arts senior, is in charge of lighting, according to Al Mattson, manager.

'Zsa Zsa' Prefers Diapers

Unless you have visited the psychology laboratory recently, you probably haven't noticed the new resident, Zsa Zsa, the female monkey.

'ZSA, ZSA,' psychology department's latest addition.

Zsa Zsa, a three year old Rhesus monkey, was given to the psychology department three weeks ago. To date, she is spending her time adjusting to her new surroundings. Zsa Zsa frolics in a special playroom equipped with ropes and swings. She also spends much of her time looking out a window over the University campus.

According to Eugene Pond, a graduate student in psychology, Zsa Zsa is presently undergoing various discrimination learning tests. One such test is designed to teach the monkey color discrimination.

In this particular test, three cans colored red, white, and green are placed before the monkey. Food is then placed under one of the cans, perhaps the white one. The monkey is then taught to find food under the white can regardless of the cans' arrangement.

According to Pond, the monkey may be a little jealous of the female sex. "We have found that when a girl approaches Zsa Zsa, she will grab at her," he said. Usually a stranger makes an immediate impression on her, Pond concluded. Zsa Zsa apparently is a little more intelligent than most monkeys. The door to her playroom must be kept locked from the outside, because the monkey has proven that she is able to open the door. And Zsa Zsa, apparently not wanting to be outdone by humans, has taken a liking to clothing. Most of all, she likes to wear diapers.

According to Pond, any students wishing to donate toys or candy for Zsa Zsa should take them to the psychology department.

6 University Debaters Enter Oklahoma Invitational Meet

Six University debaters are entered this weekend in the Bronco Invitational Debate Tournament at Edmond, Okla.

More than 100 teams are entered in this tournament sponsored by Central State College, according to Bobby Patton, debate coach. It features both a senior and a junior division.

Entered in the junior division for the University are two teams composed of Bob Glen, Vicky Hesser, Keith Williamson, and Conner Sorenson. Tom Schneider and Larry Bradshaw are entered as a team in the senior division.

In addition to participating in team debate, the students are entered in oratory and extemporaneous speaking events.

Last weekend Bob Glen and Keith Williamson entered in the junior division of the Texas Christian University tournament, and were defeated in the "octafinals" by Baylor University, according to Mr. Patton. Bob Hunt and Dennis Smith were entered in the senior division and made it into the quarter finals before they were defeated.

Hunt and Smith have yet to lose a match debating the affirmative side of the national debate question.

Their losses this year have come when they debated the negative side.
