WUS to Receive Collection Dollars

Members of the sororities and fraternities on campus will begin Monday the annual collection for World University Service, which gives aid to students in Asian Universities.

Theatre Group Plans Readings To Pick Cast

Readings for the University Theatre production of "The House of Bernada Alba" will be held Oct. 29 and 30, according to Mary Jane Teall, assistant professor of speech and drama and director of the production.

The readings will be conducted in Rm. 011 of the Commons Building in "The Pit" beneath the stage. Times will be 1 to 3 p.m. on the 29th and from 12 to 3 p.m. the 30th.

At least 20 girls and women of all descriptions and ages will be needed for character, straight, and ingenue roles, and walk-on parts in Frederico Garcia Lorca's tragedy of young women repressed by a domineering mother and the conventions of a Spanish village.

Scripts of the play are in the library or may be checked out overnight from Mrs. Teall's office, 206 Commons. It will be necessary for those who participate in the readings to read the script before attending.

Any female University student may attend the try-outs. This is an opportunity for students in other departments besides drama to appear in a play. Walk-on parts can be given to those with limited rehearsal time.

Those students who are interested but unable to attend the readings should contact Miss Teall for an appointment. The production of "The House of Bernada Alba" will be given Dec. 12, 13, and 14.

Student Directories On Sale Next Week

Beginning Monday student directories will be on sale in the CAC, FAC, and Neff Hall, according to Dan Latta, publications chairman of Alpha Kappa Psi, an honorary business fraternity.

Sponsored by Alpha Kappa Psi, the sale hours will be 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. during the entire week. Price of the directories will be 75 cents.

Wichita Symphony Orchestra To Feature Violinist, Cellist

The Wichita Symphony Orchestra's second concert will be presented at East High School, Sunday and Monday, according to Dewey Anderson, manager of Wichita Symphony Orchestra.

This performance will feature violinist Joseph Fuchs and cellist Zara Nelsova as soloists. James Robertson, music director and conductor of the Symphony and member of the University music faculty, has planned a program of three concerti, each soloist performing a solo work with both joining on Brahms' "Double Concerto."

An official music ambassador under the Presidential Exchange Program, Fuchs was the first solo violinist to tour the southern hemisphere for the government. Miss

The collection will have a two-fold objective. In addition to collecting money for a charitable organization, contributions collected on campus will also elect Pistol Pat and Pete to be crowned at the annual YWCA Cowboy carnival slated for Nov. 2.

The female candidate who receives the most money will be named Pistol Pat and the male candidate will be named Pistol Pete at the annual carnival, according to Cindy Shank, chairman of the Cowboy Carnival committee.

Campus organizations will set up booths to provide entertainment at a minimal cost, "usually around 10 cents," according to Cynthia Moore, publicity chairman.

Handwriting analysis, cake walk, saloon, basketball throw, car smash, bingo and silhouette drawing are among the many varied entertainment booths awaiting the student.

The names of the candidates will be announced today.

Grants Available

Students wishing to apply for a Danforth Grant should contact J. E. Ruoff, associate professor of English, 310 Fiske Hall.

Applicants must be seniors, with a good academic record in their field.

Debaters To Compete At Emporia

This week-end the experienced debaters will venture to Emporia State for their first tournament of the year.

The same four debaters who represented WU in the Missouri Valley Conference Tournament last year will be taken to Emporia. They are Bob Hunt and Dennis Smith, seniors, and Keith Williamson, a junior, and Bob Glenn, a sophomore.

Last year Hunt and Smith were one of the two undefeated teams in the tournament during the preliminary rounds. They were eliminated by Ohio State University. WU won the second place trophy.

This tournament is attended by schools all over the nation including last year's National Champions from Dartmouth College, Hanover, New Hampshire.

Last week the novice debaters had a rather dismal start winning only 5 of 11 debates at Manhattan. Pam McMaster and Alice Hoagland had 4 losses and no wins. This was the first competition for both coeds. Lee Blazen and Pat Murphy won one and lost three. Bill Balthrop and Bob Smith won two and lost two. Jan Neagle and Ed Snyder also won two and lost two.

Bobby Patton, debate coach said, "All of our novice people are new to the debate and gain a great deal from participation in college. We have some promising newcomers and we are expecting rapid improvement."

Housing March To Be Sunday

The Fair Housing March, which has been endorsed by a number of campus organizations, will be held Sunday.

University students who wish to participate either as individuals or as members of social or religious groups will assemble in the parking lot adjacent to the Fine Arts Center at 12:30 p.m. Sunday. Transportation will be provided for those who need it, according to Dell Gene Godbold, president of the University's chapter of the NAACP.

Marchers will congregate at 1:30 p.m. in the parking lot of the Sedgwick County Court House. The march will be from the Court House to the City Hall.

There they will be greeted by the mayor and city commissioners, after which several representatives of civic, religious and political organizations will speak on the subject of fair housing and civil rights.

The Student Government Association, Mortar Board, Newman Club, Young Republicans, and Young Democrats, are among the campus organizations who have endorsed the march.

Between 100 and 150 posters promoting the march were placed around campus recently. All but ten of these posters were ripped down, according to Dave Leach, SGA president.

Leach said that this is in direct violation of Section 5 of the SGA constitution. Investigation of the matter has been turned over to the Fact Finding and Investigation committee.

If the persons responsible for this are found they will be brought before the Student-Faculty court which will administer punishment as is deemed necessary, according to Leach.

ID Photo Shooting Slated Wednesday

Students who have not had their ID picture taken are being given a last chance to have it taken, according to J. R. Berg, dean of University College.

ID pictures will be taken Wednesday, in Morrison Hall from 8 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 5 p.m., and again from 6:30 to 9 p.m.

Experts to View 2 UT Plays

A panel of theatrical experts have accepted the invitation of National Collegiate Players to review the University Theater productions of "The Sandbox" and "The American Dream."

The panel discussion of these performances, which will appear on the Commons stage tonight and Saturday night, is a part of the regular National Collegiate Players drama club.

All interested students, particularly those who are interested in joining NCP, are urged to attend the discussion.

The Players will hold a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Commons Lounge.

'Good Operational Budget' Attained Lindquist Announces at Meeting

By DORIS MORTIMER, Managing Editor

The University received "good recognition of our status" and a "good proposed operational budget" at the recent State Regents' meeting, according to President Emory Lindquist in a meeting with student journalists this week.

He emphasized that although the State Regents did not grant the University the total amount it had asked for for the 1964-65 school year, the cutback in allocations still provided the University with an ample amount to continue programs in operation and prepare for an increased enrollment.

There are no new doctoral programs in the planning at the present time, according to Dr. Lindquist. Doctoral programs in the future will be in cooperation with the University of Kansas and the degree will be given by the University of Kansas, he added.

One immediate problem being faced by the administration beginning work on the 1965-66 budget is formulating a prospective enrollment figure. In consideration of the 14 per cent increase in full time students this year over last year it is difficult to calculate just how large of an increase to expect in the fall of 1965, after our first year of operation on the state system, Dr. Lindquist reiterated.

The long-range problem to be faced by the University and other schools is that of being able to attract qualified instructors to meet the increasing demands of added enrollment.

Commenting on the expected change in tuition rate, Dr. Lindquist stated that the students could expect a considerably lower tuition, comparable to that of the other state colleges and universities. The long-range problem to be faced by the University and other schools is that of being able to attract qualified instructors to meet the increasing demands of added enrollment.

'Flower Drum Song' To Be 'Flick' Tonight

The CAC will present another two-bit-flick at 8 tonight in the FAC, according to Tom Seigle, CAC coordinator.

Tonight's feature, "Flower Drum Song," stars Nancy Kwan, James Shigeta, and Miyoshi Umeki. Miyoshi Umeki matches her role as a shy little picture-bride with the performance of James Shigeta who plays her husband.

The music of Rodgers and Hammerstein is blended with the arrangements of Academy Award winning Alfred Newman and backed by the elaborate settings retained from the Broadway production.

Issues of Today

Editor's note: The expressions in this column are those of the writer and the interpretations and opinions therein are not necessarily those of the Sunflower or of the University.

By NANCY HARRIS, Staff Reporter

To maintain or not to maintain . . . that is the question currently being applied to our military forces in Western Europe.

The first goal of the United States foreign policy is and has been to deter or defeat aggression on any level whether nuclear attack or limited warfare or subversion and guerrilla tactics. To this end the strength and readiness of the United States military is the prime factor.

Each president since World War II has re-emphasized the fact that our nations vital interests are at stake in Berlin. In an address to the parliament in the Assembly Hall of Paulskirche, Frankfurt, Germany, this year, President Kennedy reaffirmed our commitment to deter the aggression of Communism in Germany and throughout Europe. But at the same time he appealed for closer military, economic and political ties between a united Europe and the U. S. as "equal partners" sharing "both burdens and decisions."

Former President Eisenhower has recently said that many countries are not "carrying their fair share of the military load" and that it is time for the U. S. to withdraw much of our military force from Europe. Indeed, many countries are not shouldering their part of the defense burden. France has withdrawn units from NATO; Germany hasn't filled her 55,000 man quota; others are lagging, and, as many agree, our willingness to accept the burden discourages the development of necessary military strength. Western European countries should provide for themselves.

Deputy Defense Secretary Roswell L. Gilpatric said this week that the time has come for America to reduce forces overseas, who, with dependents, now number more than one million.

Secretary of Defense McNamara is expected to tell members at a NATO meeting at Paris in December that the United States' 250,000 man German contingent will be cut back unless other countries meet their troop commitments. Both retiring Chancellor Adenauer of Germany and his successor Ludwig Erhard refuted the advisibility of such a move after the appearance of Eisenhower's statements in the October 26th Saturday Evening Post.

Besides the discouragement to Europeans in accepting the initiative for their own defense; why this sudden interest in getting U. S. troops out of Europe after so many years of standing the long watch?

One reason put forth would be that it would be a show of confidence in Russia's good faith in recent negotiations. It would be a means of easing tension in the cold war. To this Adenauer has cried that there can be no relaxation as long as the Wall exists and Germany is divided.

The major reason, however, both of the Kennedy Administration and former President Eisenhower is that the maintaining of permanent troops abroad overburdens our economic structure and saps the financial resources which might better be directed to such uses as the advancing of our space program.

Overspending and a strained fiscal situation as Eisenhower put it "projects an image of weakness. . . It threatens the worlds confidence in the integrity of our money."

The U. S. must, whatever the cost, protect itself by backing Western European defense, so what then is the solution for our need to cut military expenditures.

One alternative might be to maintain troops in Western Europe on a "hardship basis," that is, shortened tours of duty without families (such as are maintained in Korea).

A second alternative depends on the feasibility of providing necessary deterrent combat forces from the U. S. by massive airlift. This possibility is being evaluated now in Operation Big Lift during which some 15,000 troops and equipment have been transported 5,700 miles from southern Texas to Frankfurt, Germany, in less than three days as contrasted with ten days required for similar movements during World War II.

As a matter of reviewing the record, between October 14 and 22, 1962, during the Cuban crisis, TAC moved into Florida 1,000 aircraft, 11,000 men, 18,000 tons of equipment. A battalion of Marines arrived at Key West. Two battle groups from the 82nd Airborne in North Carolina and the 101st in Kentucky began converging on Florida; 14,000 air reservists were recalled. All in all 500 long range missiles, 350,000 men, 183 ships, and over 2,500 aircraft were readied on our own shores. The over

Shocks to Battle "Infantry" at NTS

The University of Wichita will be faced with the task of stopping North Texas State's "Mr. Inside and Mr. Outside" when the Shockers go against the Eagles in a Missouri Valley Conference contest at Denton, Texas, tomorrow afternoon.

The Eagles' Mr. Inside is senior fullback Dwain Bean who captured the MVC rushing lead last week with a 151 yard day against Tulsa. The 6-foot, 200 pound strong boy was an all-conference selection last season and was the nation's 17th ranked rusher.

Halfback Bobby Smith is the other member of the vaunted duo and currently ranks third in MVC rushing statistics after holding the lead for the first four games. Smith has gained 332 yards on 38 carries for a sparkling 8.2 average.

This combination has accounted for 666 yards of the Texans' team rushing total of 995 yards. The Eagles' third leading ground gainer, second team fullback Bill McWatters, was dropped from the squad last week due to disciplinary reasons.

The Eagles seldom throw the ball and are last in the conference in the passing department. When they do pass, senior quarterback Billy Ryan will do the throwing. Ryan has completed 10 of 29 attempts this season for 112 yards.

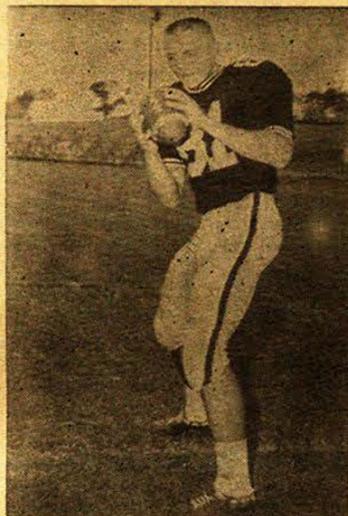

To counter the NTS "infantry attack," Wichita will sport the MVC's top rushing defense. The Shockers have limited opposing teams to an average of 101 yards per game on the ground. Last weekend, WU held Louisville to 46 yards rushing in blasting the Cardinals 47-14.

Standouts in that contest included senior guard Larry Hobson and co-captain Larry Beckish. Hobson was among those nominated for MVC lineman of the week as the Hawthorne, Calif., native was outstanding on both pass pro-

Sporting Noise

By TED RINEBARGER, Sports Editor

With the season opener still more than a month away, basketball fever is beginning to grip the campus of the University of Wichita.

Despite the great season that coach Chelo Huerta's football squad is having, the topic of discussion at coffee seems to drift to basketball. There has been a noticeable increase of attendance at WU practice sessions as interest mounts.

The citizenry of Wichita and the student body of WU are beginning to realize that they have an opportunity to watch the best college basketball in the nation right here. And its about time!

The parade of top college cagers that will appear in the roundhouse this season is endless. It would seem that the Shockers will face more individual stars this year than in seasons past.

Heading the list will be Cincinnati's All-Americans Ron Bonham and George Wilson. Bonham was deadly from the corners in averaging 21 points per game last season. Wilson was a terror on defense in blocking 38 shots while grabbing over 11 rebounds per game.

Defending NCAA champion Loyola returns four starters from last year's squad and will appear at the roundhouse on Feb. 4. Rambler returnees include their two big boys, Les Hunter and Vic Rouse, whose last second goal defeated Cincinnati in the playoffs last year.

When the Shockers open against Wyoming on Nov. 30, they will have to stop America's sixth ranked scorer of last season. The boy is guard Flynn Robinson who has a jumper you just can't believe.

There are many, many more such as Jim "Bad News" Barnes of Texas Western, Willie Somerset of Duquesne, Big John Savage of North Texas State, Jim Davis of Colorado, Joe Strawder of Bradley, plus the usual array of fine MVC talent.

It should be a very interesting and highly entertaining year so get your tickets early, friends.

HOW SMALL CAN YOU GET?

Today let us address ourselves to a question that has long rocked and roiled the academic world: Is a student better off at a small college than at a large college?

To answer this question it is necessary first to define terms. What, exactly, do we mean by a small college? Well sir, some say that in order to be called truly small, a college should have an enrollment of not more than four students.

I surely have no quarrel with this statement; a four-student college must unequivocally be called small. Indeed, I would even call it intime if I knew what intime meant. But I submit there is such a thing as being too small. Take, for instance, a recent unfortunate event at Crimscott A and M.

Crimscott A and M, situated in a pleasant valley nestled between Philadelphia and Salt Lake City, was founded by What, exactly, do we mean by a small college?

A. and M. Crimscott, two brothers who left Ireland in 1625 to escape the potato famine of 1841. As a result of their foresight, the Crimscott brothers never went without potatoes for one single day of their lives—and mighty grateful they were! One night, full of gratitude after a wholesome meal of French fries, cottage fries, hash browns, and au gratin, they decided to show their appreciation to this bountiful land of potatoes by endowing a college. But their generosity contained one stipulation: the enrollment of the college must never exceed four students. They felt that only by keeping the school this small could each student be assured of the personalized attention, the camaraderie, the esprit, that is all too often lacking in larger institutions of higher learning.

Well sir, things went along swimmingly until one Saturday a few years ago. On this day Crimscott had a football game scheduled against Minnesota, its traditional rival. Football, as you can well imagine, was something of a problem at Crimscott, what with only four undergraduates in the entire college. It was easy enough to muster a backfield, but to find a good line—or even a bad line—baffled some of the most resourceful coaching minds in the nation.

Well sir, on the morning of the big game against Minnesota, its traditional rival, a capricious fate dealt Crimscott a cruel blow—in fact, four cruel blows. Sigafoos, the quarterback, woke up that morning with an impacted incisor. Wrichards, the slotback, flunked his taxidermy exam and was declared ineligible. Beerbohm-Tree, the wingback-tailback, got his necktie caught in his espresso machine. Yuld, the fullback, was stolen by gypsies.

Consequently, none of the Crimscott team showed up at the football game, and Minnesota, its traditional rival, was able to score almost at will. Crimscott was so cross after this humiliating defeat that they immediately broke off football relations with Minnesota, its traditional rival. This later became known as the Sacco-Vanzetti Case.

So you can see how only four students might be too meagre an enrollment. The number that I personally favor is twenty. Why? you ask. Because, I reply, when you have twenty students and one of them opens a pack of Marlboro Cigarettes, there are enough to go around for everybody, and no one has to be deprived of Marlboro's flavor, of Marlboro's filter, of Marlboro's staunch and steadfast companionship, and as a result you have a student body that is brimming with sweet content and amity and harmony and concord and togetherness and soft pack and Flip-Top box.

That's why.

Civil Defense Stocks Areas On Campus

Whether a person is a newcomer or an oldtimer on the campus, all ears seem alert every Monday noon when the Civil Defense siren is tested. This, however, is only one of the methods in mobilizing for survival in case of fallout, storms, floods or other emergencies.

Members of the Wichita-Sedgwick County Civil Defense staff are storing survival supplies in the basements of CAC, Commons, Field House, FAC, Library, Math-Physics and Brennan Hall. Some 6,500 individuals could be cared for over a two-week period, according to William G. Freisen, Civil Defense director.

Supplies for the fallout shelters include medical and sanitation kits, distilled water and survival crackers. The crackers provide 700 calories for each person per day. Shelters are selected by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers. More than 60,000 shelters in Wichita are designated for use.

The local Civil Defense also provides instruction classes for clubs, schools and other interested groups. Calls may be made to FO 3-0222. Temporary offices in the Forum building will be moved to the County Court House by Jan. 1.

Coed Bowling Team Tryouts Announced

Women students who are interested in joining the women's bowling team are invited to try out for the team, according to Mrs. Natasha Fife, team coach.

Each girl must bowl 20 lines over a two week period, with a minimum of five lines each bowling period. The tryout sessions will be held from 10 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 3 p.m. daily for the next two weeks. Girls are asked to sign up for tryouts at the recreation desk located in the basement of the CAC.

The 20 tryout lines of bowling will cost $4.

Beckish, one of a fine crop of flankers on the Shocker squad, played a top defensive game as usual and helped spring halfbacks Miller Farr and Sullivan Mills loose for long gains with several key blocks.

Wichita is currently ranked second nationally in both total offense and passing and also leads the MVC in these departments. The Shockers are the top scoring team in the league and the most penalized.

Now five kinds of Chevrolets for all kinds of people!

JET-SMOOTH LUXURY CHEVROLET—For luxury-loving people. Rich new styling, finer appointments in all four series and 15 models. Engines up to 425 hp*, manual or Powerglide* transmissions.

NEW CHEVELLE—For pacesetter people. A totally new kind of car with small-car handling, big-car comfort! Styling that makes expensive cars jealous. Three series and 11 models, and a full choice of engine and transmission teams!

CHEVY II—For practical people. Chevy II with new V8 power* for fun-on-a-shoestring. Stretches the shoestring further with 4- and 6-cylinder engines. Chevy II's six models in two series all act like they're bigger, more expensive cars!

CORVAIR—For fun-loving people. More fun than ever from Corvair's new bigger engine! Same Corvair handling and riding ease in 9 models—including the 150-hp Turbocharged Spydery!

CORVETTE—For sports-minded people. Corvette now rides softer, smoother—but loses none of its gusto because its big V8 offers versions from 250 to 375 hp*!

Want to get together with other car-loving people? Go see your Chevrolet dealer... he likes all kinds!
