Governor's Meeting Hears WSU Budget

The budget of Wichita State University was included for the first time in the governor's budget hearing, held Monday in Topeka.

There were no precedents for the state to follow as this was the first time it appeared in the budget, Clyde Reed of Parsons, told the committee on presentation of the proposed budget asking for about $5½ million.

The budget was established

SGA Sanctions Fair Housing For University

The Student Government Association formally endorsed fair housing as it pertains to the University at their meeting Tuesday evening.

The resolution for the endorsement was made by Dave Crockett, chairman of the recently formed commission on fair housing. It stated "We, the Student Government Association of the University of Wichita, endorse fair housing on the University campus for all students."

Crockett also made a report on the progress of his commission. He felt that not much could be done this year, but efforts should be concentrated towards next year.

In other business it was reported that plans for the blood drive Monday and Tuesday were coming along well and were almost complete.

Consideration of the Deseret Club, a religious organization, to become a new organization on campus had been scheduled for the meeting. However, the club failed to get their constitution in to the SGA and they were unable to act upon it.

The meeting was poorly attended with only 15 congress members present.

on an expected enrollment of 4,654 full-time students in the fall of 1964. However, the University now has an enrollment of 4,766 full-time students, or 112 more than estimated for next fall's enrollment.

There is no way to estimate the number of students the University will have after becoming a state school July 1, 1964, the committee was told.

Dr. Lindquist explained that while the University's budget requests were for about $5½ million, nearly $1 million was for auxiliary activities, so that the total from general funds would be about $4½ million. All of that sum would be taken from the state's general funds.

The actual educational dollar funds would be $4,229,901, Dr. Lindquist said. Dr. Lindquist made a plea at the hearing for the restoration of two fulltime equivalent positions cut by the State Board of Regents and for the restoration of $6,000 cut from research projects.

The University was cut $19,000 while the other universities and colleges were fighting for the restoration of the full 7½ percent increase in faculty salaries.

According to Clyde Reed, the University's representative on the State Board of Regents, the University may find it necessary to go to the Finance Council for help if the enrollment jumps when it becomes a state university.

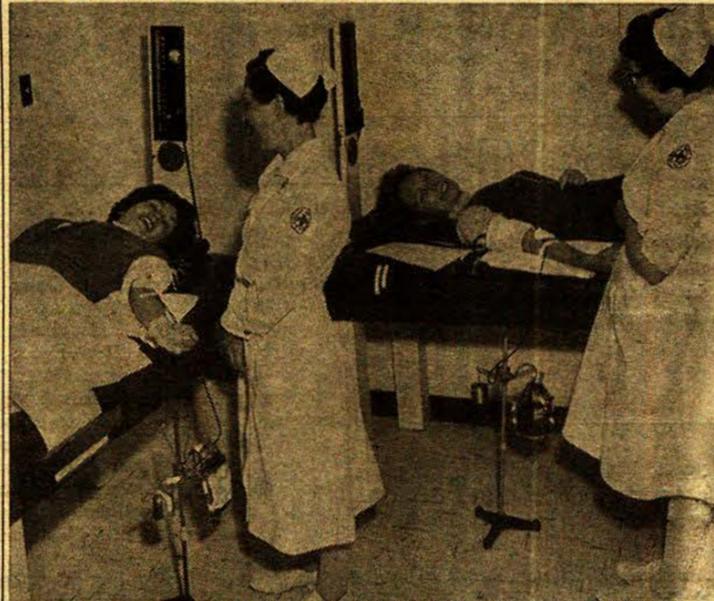

In reference to the proposed salary raise for faculty members, it was reported that the Universities salaries were about the level that the State Board is seeking to establish statewide by way of the 7½ percent increase.

Bloodmobile to Visit On Monday, Tuesday

Seeking a record 400 donors, the University blood drive will be held on campus Monday and Tuesday using mobile facilities set up in the CAC ballroom, according to Jane Gates, student chairman for the drive.

398 PINTS TO GO after Jane Gates, student chairman of the blood drive, and RayAnn Metlan donate their pint of lifesaving blood.

The bloodmobile will be in the CAC both days from 9 a.m. to 2:15 p.m. The Red Cross blood center here in Wichita serves 55 Kansas counties and four in Oklahoma where 103 hospitals rely on this service as their total blood supply.

This drive is not limited to faculty, their families and students, but everyone, especially, area residents are urged to give.

The age limit for donors is 18-59 with a minimum weight of 110 pounds required.

No fatty foods should be eaten previous to giving blood, and people between the ages of 18 and 21 must have parental permission to donate.

A reproduction of the parental permission slip is on the second page of The Sunflower. It may be cut out and used.

This is the first time the Red Cross has attempted to organize campus organizations for the drive. Various campus groups participating in the drive for donors are AFROTC, AROTC, Newman Club, AWS, all the Greek organizations, SGA, and the Collegiate Young Republicans.

To promote interest in the project, trophies will be awarded to the Greek and Independent organizations. (Continued on Page 4)

'Wee Georgie' Tells of Plans For Future Work in Wichita

By WILLIS C. JACKSON, Staff Reporter

Sipping tea and puffing an occasional cigarette, "Wee Georgie" Wood, noted British actor, explained some of his future plans concerning Wichita at an informal gathering in the CAC Provincial Room, Tuesday.

He stated that the film he plans to make about a typical American city will be in letter form.

He plans to show Wichita in the days of "Wyatt Earp," and then show a film clipping of today with photographs of Beech, Boeing, Cessna, and Lear Jet, the University campus, and other typical places about Wichita.

"Wee Georgie's" other dream, the establishment of a school of drama, was also expounded upon. "I think you can have one of the best schools of drama in the country," he said.

He also stated that he would be quite pleased to ask a prominent British playwright to write a play especially for a Wichita drama festival.

In speaking about Dr. Martin Palmer and the Institute of Logopedics, Wood stated, "I have seen what can happen to one man's dream and one man's determination. Maybe if he could do one thing like this, I am quite confident I can do it."

Debaters from 14 States Vying In 8th Annual 'Shocker' Tourney

The University is holding its Eighth Annual "Shocker" Forensic Tournament on campus today and tomorrow.

This will be the largest tournament in the history of the University and the largest in Kansas this year, according to Bobby Patton, University director of debate. More than 40 colleges and universities representing 14 states have entered the tournament.

The teams from each school will debate the national question: "Resolved, the federal government should guarantee an opportunity for higher education to all qualified high school graduates."

Three divisions of team debate will be recognized at the tournament; championship cross-exam, open four-men division, and junior division. Defending their championships in each division will be the University of Arizona, Kansas State College, and Washburn University respectively.

The individual events will include oratory, extemporaneous speaking, and after-dinner speaking. The after-dinner finals will be held after a banquet tonight.

There will be six preliminary rounds of debate before the finalists are chosen. Due to the large number of schools entered in the contest, 65 debates will be going on simultaneously in each of the six rounds. Every available room on the University campus plus the University Methodist Church will be utilized.

Student coordinators for the tournament are: Keith Williamson, student director and president of the University Debate Society; Dennis Smith, tabulation; Bob Glenn, judge; Bill Balthrop and Pam Mc-

Ed-TV Programs to Feature KU-WU Debate, Opera Scenes

Programs for the University's Sunday educational television schedule over KARD-TV include a debate, an opera preview and a discussion on nuclear power.

At noon teams from the University of Kansas and WU will Hoffman," will be shown on the debate on the topic: "Resolved, that "Music Time" program at 12:30 p.m. The entire opera will be guaranteed an opportunity for higher education to all qualified high school graduates." The cross-examination debate is a feature of the "Ideas in Action" educational television series sponsored by WU each week.

This will mark the second time in the history of the two universities that such a debate has been televised. Mel Moorhouse, WU associate professor of speech, will serve as moderator.

Debaters from KU are; Webster Golden, and Melvin O'Connor; and from WU: Bob Hunt, and Dennis Smith. Debate coaches are: Will Linkguel, KU, and Bobby Patton, WU.

Today Is Deadline For Organizations

Today is the deadline for the registration of campus organizations, according to Patty Bonner, SGA organizations committee chairman.

If organizations are not registered with the SGA by today they will no longer be recognized as an officially functioning campus organization. In order to become reinstated as a recognized campus organization, it will be necessary to present the organization's constitution before the Student Government Association for their approval, according to Miss Bonner.

TROPHIES for the 'Shocker' tourney are being displayed by WU debaters Keith Williamson, Pam McMaster, and Bob Glenn.

Help Save Lives!

Monday and Tuesday the American Red Cross will be depending upon you for blood donations, so that they might use the donations to save the lives of others.

The Student Government Association, Greeks, and a number of independent groups are supporting this drive and will participate in it.

Donating blood is a simple and painless procedure and few students would not be able to give because of personal health reasons. All it requires is a few minutes and surely you can take the time when you know it could save the life of another.

One hundred and three hospitals are dependent upon the Wichita Red Cross for their complete blood supply, and it takes many thousands of donations each year to adequately provide for them.

The Sunflower staff is going to donate blood and we urge that everyone of you do also. When you stop and think of the good that one pint of blood can do it is hard to see why anyone wouldn't be willing to donate.

Consent and Release for Persons Under Twenty-One Years of Age

(This form is required for each blood donation by a person 18 years of age or over who has not yet reached the age of legal majority as defined by the laws of the state in which he makes the blood donation, EXCEPT, when such a person is a member of the Armed Forces of the United States.)

Debate Team Places Third In Tourney

The University Debate Team participated in the Central State College Debate Tournament at Edmund, Okla., last Friday and Saturday, according to Bobby Patton, debate coach.

The University placed third in the senior debate against 46 other schools. Bob Hunt and Dennis Smith won seven consecutive debates before losing to Emporia in the semi-finals.

Bill Balthrop and Bob Smith won five out of six preliminary debates before being defeated by Oklahoma University in the quarter final rounds.

Pam McMaster and Alice Hoaglin won two out of six debates.

Miss Quincalee Brown, assistant debate coach, stated, "This is one of the more large and difficult tournaments in the midwest, and we are certainly proud of our record."

Shocks to Battle Idaho State Tomorrow

The University of Wichita football Shockers will be looking for their fourth straight victory when they face the Bengals of Idaho State tomorrow night in Veterans Field.

Fresh from a 23-20 win over Cincinnati last week, the Shockers will have to stop a sound Idaho State ground attack that features the pass-run-option of quarterback Billy Shaw. The Bengal signal-caller leads his team in rushing, passing and total offense. The 6-foot-1, 180 pound junior is a former all-state high school star from Nampa, Idaho.

Shaw's favorite receivers are halfback Bill Harvey and end Carl Humphry. Harvey, a junior college transfer playing his first season for the Bengals, has caught four touchdown passes and is also one of the team rushing leaders. Humphrey, a 6-foot-3, 216 pound junior, has yet to catch a touchdown pass but ranks second only to Harvey in Bengal pass receiving.

Coach Babe Caccia's team runs from a varied "I" formation made famous by Maryland's Tom Nugent and Southern California's John McKay. The Bengals also employ a winged-T attack similar to the Shocker offense.

Idaho State fans feel that they have a bona fide All-America candidate in guard Gary Aizawa. This 5-foot-8, 220 pound senior led the squad in tackles last season.

To counter the Bengal attack, WU sports the best rushing defense in the Missouri Valley Conference and the best overall defensive figures also belong to the Shockers. Wichita has limited opponents to slightly over 100 yards per game on the ground in eight contests.

The Shocker offensive record speaks for itself. WU currently ranks second in the nation in total offense and seventh in passing offense. Last week against the Bearcats, quarterback Henry Schichtle passed for 111 yards and the Shocker ball carriers rushed for a total of 221 yards.

Sophomore fullback Pete DiDonato leads the WU rushing attack with 356 yards on 72 carries. "The Bull" is followed by halfbacks Miller Farr, Sullivan Mills and Harold Myers. Myers enjoyed his best game as a college back against Cincinnati in gaining 85 yards on 16 carries.

This will be the first meeting between WU and Idaho State. The Bengals have won five of eight contests thus far, losing to Omaha, Drake, and the University of Idaho. Wichita will carry a 6-2 record into the game with the season finale coming against Tulsa next week.

Tennis Team To Compete In Texas Meet

The University of Wichita tennis team will leave by plane Wednesday afternoon to compete in the Corpus Christi Thanksgiving Open tournament at Corpus Christi, Texas. Some 128 entries are expected to compete in the H. E. Butt Tennis Center.

Members of the tentative Shocker team making the trip are: sophomores Benjamin Anzola and Lin Harris, junior Van Thompson, and senior Phil Adrian.

Anzola is the most promising sophomore in the WU history. A native of Bogota, Columbia, Anzola has won every tournament in the area in which he has competed since he entered WU last January.

Adrian returns from last year's team. He was outstanding in the Missouri Valley conference tourney last spring. He and Chester Anderson were finalists in the number one division doubles.

Lin Harris and Van Thompson are newcomers to the Shocker team. While playing at Hutchinson Junior College last year, Thompson was a finalist in the National Juco Singles tournament. Harris was a tennis letterman at Wichita South High School and will be competing in his first year for the team.

Sporting Noise

By TED RINEBARGER, Sports Editor

One facet of college football that is often overlooked and underrated is the fundamental combination of blocking and tackling. Any coach will tell you that a team that has mastered these two arts is a sound football team.

Last week the Shockers showed Cincinnati and over 11,000 fans that they are a sound football team. Of course, this is something that coach Chelo Huerta has been saying all along.

WU line play in that game was great. But this has been the case through out the season. Although outweighed in nearly every game, the Shocker front wall has out-played the opposition each week.

Line coaches George Karras and Don Powell have helped develop the best line in the Missouri Valley conference. At the beginning of the season, WU had four returning lettermen at the tackle position in seniors Bill Parcells, and Steve Barilla, and juniors Fred Buss and Dick Klein. Buss has since been sidelined with injuries but the other three plus sophomore Butch Davis have done an outstanding job.

Parcells, who played quarterback in high school and end during his freshman and sophomore seasons, has turned into one of the best blockers on the squad and just might be the best tackle in the MVC.

The Shocker guard contingent of Barney Silverman, Butch Bartlett, Larry Hobson, Ron Mack and Chuck Sirianni has done a great job also. Another top guard, R. C. Brown of Coffeyville juco, was lost after the second game because of an injury.

Jim Waskiewicz has been sensational at center. The big sophomore from Wichita East has become a polished linebacker.

WU's opposition has found that turning the corners against the Shocker defensive ends is pretty tough. Herb Krumsick, Jackie Turner, and Larry Beckish are solid deterrents.

DECK THE HALLS

The time has come to think of Christmas shopping, for the Yuletide will be upon us quicker than you can say Jack Robinson. (Have you ever wondered, incidentally, about the origin of this interesting phrase "Quicker than you can say Jack Robinson"? Well sir, the original saying was French—"Plus vite que de dire Jacques Robespierre." Jack Robinson is, as everyone knows, an Anglicization of Jacques Robespierre who was, as everyone knows, the famous figure from the French Revolution who, as everyone knows, got murdered in his bath by Danton, Murat, Caligula, and Al Capone.

(The reason people started saying "Quicker than you can say Jacques Robespierre"—or Jack Robinson, as he is called in English-speaking countries like England, the U.S., and Cleveland—is quite an interesting little story. It seems that Robespierre's wife, Georges Sand, got word of the plot to murder her husband in his bath. All she had to do to save his life was call his name and warn him. But, alas, quicker than she could say Jacques Robespierre, she received a telegram from her old friend Frederic Chopin who was down in Majorca setting lyrics all she had to do was call his name to his immortal "Warsaw Concerto." Chopin said he needed Georges Sand's help desperately because he could not find a rhyme for "Warsaw." Naturally, Georges could not refuse such an urgent request.

(Well sir, off to Majorca went Georges, but before she left, she told her little daughter Walter that some bad men were coming to murder Daddy in his bath. She instructed Walter to shout Robespierre's name the moment the bad men arrived. But Walter, alas, had been sea-bathing that morning on the Riviera, and she had come home with a big bag of salt water taffy, and when the bad men arrived to murder Robespierre, Walter, alas, was chewing a wad of taffy and could not get her mouth unstuck in time to shout a warning. Robespierre, alas, was murdered quicker than you could say Jacques Robespierre—or Jack Robinson, as he is called in English-speaking countries.

(There is, I am pleased to report, one small note of cheer in this grisly tale. When Georges Sand got to Majorca, she did succeed in helping Chopin find a rhyme for "Warsaw" as everyone knows who has heard those haunting lyrics:

*In the fair town of Warsaw,
Which Napoleon's horse saw,
Singing cockles and mussels, alive alive o!*

But I digress. We were speaking of Christmas gifts. What we all try to find at Christmas is, of course, unusual and distinctive gifts for our friends. May I suggest then a carton of Marlboro Cigarettes?

What? You are astonished? You had not thought of Marlboros as unusual? You had regarded them as familiar, reliable smokes whose excellence varied not one jot nor tittle from year to year?

True. All true. But all the same, Marlboros are unusual because every time you try one, it's like the first time. The flavor never palls, the filter never gets hackneyed, the soft pack is ever a new delight, and so is the Flip Top box. Each Marlboro is a fresh and pristine pleasure, and if you want all your friends to clap their hands and cry, "Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus!" you will see that their stockings are filled with Marlboros on Christmas morn.

© 1963 Max Shulman

The holiday season or any other season is the season to be jolly—if Marlboro is your brand. You'll find Marlboros wherever cigarettes are sold in all fifty states of the Union. You get a lot to like in Marlboro Country.

Job Bureau Schedules 17 December Interviews

Gil Jones director of the job placement bureau, has released the list of job interviews for December. A total of 17 company representatives will meet with seniors who are seeking employment after graduation.

MENC Meet Set For Sunday Night

There will be a MENC dinner and meeting at 5:30 p.m. Sunday, at the Fairmount Congregational Church, according to Jacquelyn Barngrover, vice-president.

The program will consist of experiences and helpful hints told by teachers who have been in the profession for one year. All members are urged to attend.

Angel Flight, Anchoresses, and Army Blues are also competing in the drive. The coed soliciting the most donors in these three groups will win an 11 by 14 portrait from Rorabaugh and Millsap Studio.

Following the donation sandwiches, milk and cookies will be served the donors.

Blood can be kept only for 21 days after which time it is turned into derivatives such as plasma and fibrinogen. No blood is wasted, but a supply must be kept continually on hand for the unforeseeable emergencies that occur constantly in the area served by the Wichita blood bank.

"Only through voluntary donations of blood by people in the community, donations made on a regular basis, can this life-saving supply of blood and blood derivatives be made available to everyone," said Mrs. Elizabeth Clark, public relations director for the Wichita Red Cross.

Seniors who will graduate in either January, June or August of 1964 and are seeking employment should contact the Job Placement Office, Rm. 107 Morrison Hall, and make appointments in advance, according to Jones.

The following organizations will interview seniors with the designated majors on campus in December:

Cowgill, Cotter Given Posts On Committee

Dr. Donald Cowgill, head of the sociology department, and Dr. Cornelius Cotter, head of the political science department, were recently appointed to posts on the Kansas Advisory Committee by the U. S. Commission on Civil Rights.

Dr. Cowgill, who replaced Dr. Emory Lindquist on the committee when Dr. Lindquist became president of the University, has been a member of the faculty for 17 years.

Dr. Cotter, a newcomer to the staff, was formerly assistant staff director with the U. S. Commission on Civil Rights in Washington, D. C., and was assistant to the chairman of the Republican National Committee. He joined the University staff in September.

A meeting of the Advisory Committee will be held in Wichita Dec. 11-12.

Picture-Poem Display in CAC Depicts Varieties of Kansas

"Kansas Varieties—A Mosaic of Picture Poems," is currently on display in the Shocker Room and in the main hallway of the CAC.

The display, a collection of 217 photographs of Kansas, is the product of the combined efforts of Wilma Dunlap, an instructor at West High, who photographed the scenes, and Dr. Geraldine Hammond, professor of English, who composed poetic sequences to correspond with the photographs.

The production was recently aired on "Ideas in Action," an educational television production. The television production included music excerpts from "Wheatland," composed by Joshua Missal, associate professor of music.

Miss Hammond wrote 63 poem captions which will appear with the corresponding pictures.

Originally developed for "Kansas Heritage," a publication of the English department at Kansas State Teachers College in Emporia, Miss P. J. Wyatt, editor of "Kansas Heritage," asked Mrs. Dunlap and Miss Hammond to undertake the project.

Her objectives in the photographs and poetry were not to present an idea of geographical continuity or travelogue of Kansas, but rather to photograph scenes and objects in Kansas as they are, according to Miss Hammond.
