Documentary, Opera Set by Film Society

The Wichita Film Society is showing two motion pictures Wednesday evening, March 11, at 8 p.m., in the FAC Auditorium.

Continuing their policy of bringing remarkable international films to Wichita audiences, the Film Society has slated Gian-Carlo Menotti's opera, "The Medium," and the prize-winning documentary, "Skyscraper," both in English.

Menotti, the brilliant American composer, who had already startled musical circles by directing the staging of the opera he had written and composed, supervised the filming of his work in Rome in 1951, the first time that an opera has been put on film by the composer himself.

The story is a thriller, concerning the psychological disintegration of a swindling medium, a shrewd, strong-handed Amazon who finds her spiritual seances becoming all too real.

In this demanding role is the American contralto, Maria Powers, bringing a powerful characterization to the part of the brutish charlatan. Her dark brooding, emphasized with exaggerated make-up, dominates the work.

In more sympathetic roles are Anna Maria Alberghetti, the Italian coloratura, at that time 14 years old, in a role suited to her delicate voice, and Leo Coleman, as the mute gypsy.

A static quality, often a technical problem in transposing theatre to the motion picture, is avoided in this film by fluid camera work and the interesting use of unusual photographic angles.

The much-awarded "Skyscraper," by Shirley Clarke, Irving Jacoby

250 Tickets To Be Sold For NCAA

Two-hundred and fifty tickets allotted the University for the NCAA Midwest Basketball Regional, March 13-14, in the Field House, will be distributed in the following manner:

1. Students, by showing their fulltime student ID card, may register at the Nursery room in the Campus Activities Center between 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., today.

2. Student Government Association representatives will pull 250 names from the cards. These 250 names will be posted in the CAC and a copy will be given to the Ticket Office in the Field House.

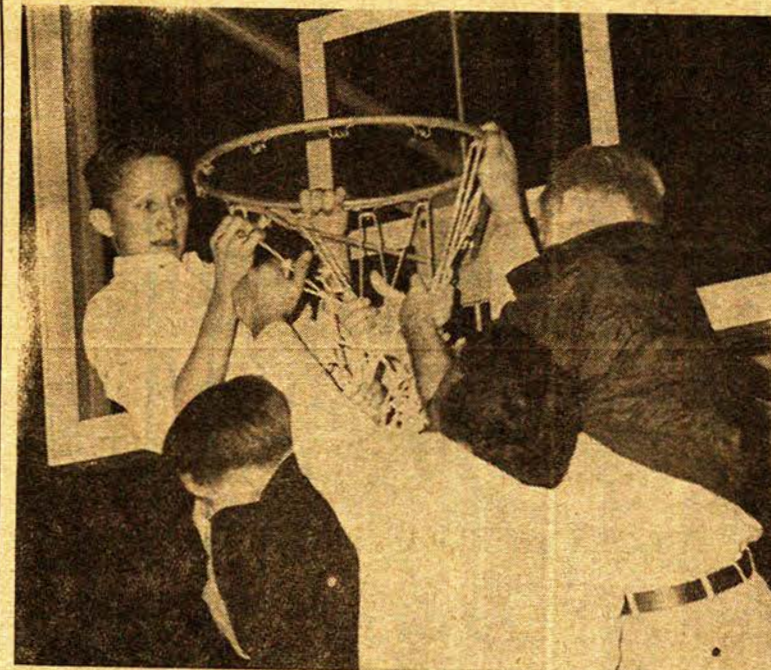

3. Students, whose names appear on the list of 250, may purchase one ticket for each night at the Ticket Office between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Wednesday. These tickets (student must buy for both nights) will cost $6. A student may obtain no more than one ticket for each night. He must show his ID card when he makes the purchase.

4. Students who purchased tickets at an earlier date will not be eligible to participate in the drawing for the 250.

Shocks Top in MVC Play; In Preparation for NCAA

By BILL MINGLE, Sports Editor

The University of Wichita's high-flying basketball team, tops in the Missouri Valley Conference, began drills this week in preparation for the NCAA regionals beginning here Friday night.

SHOCKER FANS tore the net from the rim following the Shockers' 58-50 win over the Drake Bulldogs in Allen Field House in Lawrence Friday night.

The Shockers, who take a 22-5 over-all season record into the tourney, will be looking for a man to fill the starting position left vacant by Ernie Moore, who completed his eligibility in the play-off game against Drake.

Coach Ralph Miller says sophomore John Criss will probably get the nod Friday night, but that several combinations involving 6 or 7 players may be tried before the position is settled.

After the game last Friday night, Miller also said he could use either All-American Dave Stallworth or Dave Leach at that guard position, and put either Vern Smith or Gerry Davis in at a forward spot. It will be difficult to find the combination that can take up both the offensive and defensive slack caused by Moore's absence.

"The boys have a good attitude," the coach reports. "They have done the job before when we have had an injury or someone in foul-trouble. This is no different."

The Kansas State Wildcats, 19-5 on the year, will field a good ball-club as the Big-8 representative. Led by all-conference forward Willie Murrell, the 'Cats have shown increasing strength in late regular season play.

K-State has two good guards in senior Max Moss and sophomore Sammy Robinson. The 6 foot Robinson resembles Ernie Moore a great deal, in that, in spite of his size he is a good rebounder, good out-side shooter and a flashy ball-handler and passer.

The field for the regional was completed last night in Dallas. The Shockers will meet the winner of the Oklahoma City-Creighton game in the later game here Friday; K-State plays the winner of the Texas Western-Texas A&M game, in the 7:30 contest.

Announcements On Sale in CAC

Tomorrow is the final deadline for ordering senior announcements according to Bob Long, senior class president.

The deadline was extended because few students had received their packet of information through the mail, according to Long.

Students who will graduate in the June 7 exercises will be able to pick up the announcements they have ordered during April, according to Long. Also available is a booklet announcement containing photographs of the campus and a list of the honor graduates.

Spring Enrollment Told

There are 6,429 students enrolled in the University this semester, according to the official registration figures released by Worth Fletcher, registrar. This figure represents a drop of 289 students from last semester's official enrollment.

The Fairmount College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, with an enrollment of 1,152, was second to University College with an enrollment of 1,800.

The School of Education ranked third with 649 students and Business Administration ranked fourth with 460 students.

Four hundred and sixty Engineering students and 293 Fine Arts students complete the breakdown by colleges.

In addition to these, 611 students are enrolled in the Division of Continuing Education, there are 74 special students, and 894 students are enrolled in the graduate school.

Only 1,680 students are considered non-resident students, with 4,749 considered residents of the city.

Sen. Paul Wunsch to Address Collegiate Young Republicans

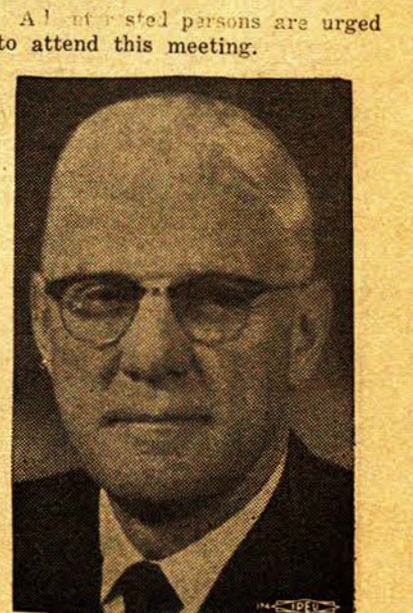

Sen. Paul Wunsch, Republican Kansas' present laws regarding candidate for governor, will speak the treatment of the inmates related to a meeting of Collegiate Young Republicans at 8 p.m., Thursday in Area 9 of the CAC, according to Merle Gates, chairman of State Collegiate Young Republicans.

Sen. Wunsch played an important role in the fight for the WU bill and is expected to have strong support in this area in the gubernatorial race, according to Gates.

Sen. Wunsch was elected to the House of Representatives from Kingman County in 1936. In 1939 he was Majority Floor Leader of the House of Representatives, and Speaker of the House in 1943. He has been a member of the Legislative Council for some 20 years, having served on practically all of the committees of both the House and the Senate.

He has been particularly interested in education, public welfare, mental health, probation and paroles, and our mental hospitals.

In 1959 he served as chairman of the committee studying our penal and correctional institutions, and submitted a detailed report in connection with their study, and

Judy Snapp Named May Queen

May Queen Judy Snapp

Judy Snapp, candidate of Gamma Phi Beta, was elected May Queen at the election held Friday. Miss Snapp, an Education senior, will reign at the Hippodrome festivities.

Attendants to Miss Snapp will be Glennie Humann, Delta Delta Delta, and Debbie Snyder, Delta Gamma, according to Dan Tontz, election commissioner.

The Queen and her court will be presented at the annual May Day festivities on May 1.

Only 578 students voted Friday, according to Tontz. In the May Queen election last year, 687 voted. The excitement of Friday night's game in Lawrence was cited as a factor in the small vote this year, according to Tontz.

Results of the Presidential straw vote will be announced at a later date, according to Tontz.

No Spirit to Spare

Last week the University of Wichita campus was probably one of the most spirited campuses in the country. We had a winning basketball team and that was about all that mattered.

With the whole campus riding the peak with the basketball team few students had time to be concerned about a football long missing from the campus.

For the first time in a long time, some students took the time to try to stir a little spirit on campus. Several encounters with Friends University students proved fruitless. One visit to the campus which appeared to be fruitful turned out to be a dud.

Friends University students were of little help by bargaining with a "play-off" to determine the ownership of the 300 pound football to be held Friday night, the night of the Drake play-off in Lawrence.

Everyone is proud of the basketball team, and the team deserves the spirit which students so gladly give. But, so do other things about this campus. It is a shame that two such spirited circumstances had to occur at the same time.

Percussion Concert Set for Tonight

The 13th Annual Percussion concert will be presented by the Symphonic Percussion Ensemble at 8:15 tonight in the FAC Concert Hall, under the direction of James A. Sewrey.

The program, subtitled "Periods in Percussion," will present musical selections from periods that range from Bach's "Fuga XXII" through Bartok's "Sonata for Two Pianos and Percussion," Music from the score of "Flower Drum Song" will also be included.

Sewrey, assistant professor of music education and percussion, will be making his first appearance with the University Symphonic Ensemble. Before coming to Wichita, Sewrey was a lecturer and conductor in the instrumental music field for thirteen years.

The concert is open to the public.

UCF Slates Conference This Month

Tomorrow is the deadline to register to attend the Spring Conference of United Christian Fellowship to be held March 20 and 21, according to Rev. Thomas Townsend, Fellowship campus representative.

Featured speaker at the conference will be Dr. John Swomley, a professor at St. Paul's School of Theology, Kansas City, Mo. Dr. Swomley is known as a theologian and political scientist. The three lectures which he will give at the conference are expected to be on major political and social issues of the time.

All students will be welcome to attend the conference which will be held at Rock Springs Ranch near Junction City, Kans. It will convene on Friday night and participants will be allowed to stay overnight. Meals on Saturday will be furnished. The cost will be $6.00.

As well as the lectures by Dr. Swomley there will be discussion groups for students.

Dr. Swomley has authored several books on such subjects as nuclear warfare, race relations, and disarmament.

Students interested in attending the conference should see Rev. Townsend today or tomorrow.

Shakespeare's 'Macbeth' 'Endures' Production

By KATHIE HALL, Guest Writer

"One of the marks of Shakespeare's greatness has been his ability to endure practically any and all styles of production." This statement appeared on the program for the University Theater's production of "Macbeth," which Shakespeare's greatness has "endured" with some success.

The "modified" Globe reconstruction, despite a faulty curtain mechanism, was an impressive background for brilliant costumes. The taste and skill exhibited in both aspects justly celebrated Shakespearean tradition. The clever use of reds—wine red, blood red—strikingly focused in the scarlets worn constantly by the two Macbeths. Another authentic surprise came in the form of live bagpipes.

These Elizabethan details supported sincere performances by the cast. Difficulties in production arose with the use of the two level stages. Phillis Barnum as Lady Macbeth shared her meaningful nuances with only part of the audience. She was artfully convincing to those of us within range. Macbeth struggled and then congealed in the hands of Mike Osterhout. His youthful impatience emerged as hesitant ambition in Macbeth. He was a vigorous Macbeth—exuberance becoming disillusioned, not embittered ambition accepting "defeated" wisdom. His interpretation of Macbeth was highly complimented by Dee Masters as Macduff. Throughout the play this character displayed the dignity and meaning of the tragic events.

This production was an ambitious undertaking for any University Theater, and ours has happily saluted Shakespeare's 400th anniversary.

Mu Phi Winners Perform Tonight

Two students from the School of Music will perform tonight for the Mu Phi Epsilon alumnae program, "Musiganza," to be held in the First Methodist Church, downtown.

The students are the Mu Phi Epsilon scholarship winners for 1964. They are Miss Sharon Siegrist, senior piano student of Mrs. Frances Wallingford, and Chris Karlowski, junior mezzo-soprano voice student of Inez Jamison.

Miss Siegrist and Miss Karlowski each won $100 scholarships in Mu Phi competition Feb. 21. These awards will be presented at tonight's program.

THE READERS SPEAK

To the Editor:

Poem: Dedicated to Robert Watts on What's Happened to the Faculty?*

Poor old Prof Spectrum
Leaned on a Lectern
Giving his lecture dry;
Along came a student
Who was slightly imprudent
And set up this hue and cry:
"Dear old Prof Spectrum,
Get off your rectum,
Shake off that old ennui!
The scientist's talking
So let's have no balking
Dig his straight facts with glee!
For natural selection
(with Divine election)
Stirs the young student's breast;
So drop all your commas
Along with your traumas
With science your thoughts must be dressed."

The moral is clear, now,
So drink you your beer, now,
Let's feed at our brainy trough;
There's one solvent for knowledge
In all of this college—
Philosophy's queen for the Soph.
*With apologies to Miss Muffet and her spider, who are both parts of the evolutionary process.

THE NEW HUE IN EAGLE BUTTON-DOWNS: FORESEEABLE FUCHSIA

LOOKS pink,* doesn't it? ★ We chose the name for this color from among the entries in our recent competition for new color-names because of its aptness: we predict great things. Remember you heard it here first. ★ What makes our solid pink new is that it isn't solid pink: the vertical yarn (or warp) is somewhere between a Robert Shaw Coral and a Lawsy Miss Scarlet; whereas the horizontal yarn (or woof) is a sort of 'Enry 'Iggins Just You White. ★ Thus creating an illusion, but of the finest oxford cloth all the same; with button cuffs and our dear, old bulgy collar, about $7.00. If you don't know where to buy this and other Eagle Shirts in your town, please write Miss Afflerbach who does; at the address below.

*Use your imagination; this paper doesn't print in pink.

Shocker Shenanigans

By LORRY BROSIUS, Society Editor

Excited Shockers are reliving the tense moments of the conference playoff game with Drake Friday. Wichita fans will be talking about the game for years and about how they journeyed to Lawrence, 10,000 strong, and filled the stands to the rafters to watch the Shocks win a hardfought victory and a berth in the NCAA regionals.

Greeks traveled to Lawrence en force and descended upon their chapters at KU for the weekend. Sig Eps are duly proud of their efforts to keep a tally on Foster's fouls. They displayed great placards reading, "That's one Foster," and, "That's two Foster," but regret not being able to display their masterpiece, "That's ALL Foster."

University Theatre had a successful weekend too. Their production of Shakespeare's "Macbeth" was a sellout.

Sig Eps hosted a basketball tournament for teams from other Kansas chapters Saturday, Feb. 22. Teams from Wichita, Baker, Fort Hays, Emporia, Manhattan, Lawrence, and Topeka participated. The first awards banquet in the history of the tournament was held Saturday evening and first and second place trophies were presented to Hays and Emporia.

Alpha Chis observed Hera Day, the day of their patron saint, by providing toys for under-privileged children. Traditionally they observe the day by participating in some type of service project.

Alpha Phi and Sig Ep sophomores kidnapped their presidents and walked out on other actives and pledges for a party last night. It is traditional to kidnap the president and take him along to the party so that actives not in on the plans will be unable to carry on a business meeting. The truants allow sufficient time for chaos to set in before they call and invite the others to the party.

New Delta Gamma leaders are Nancy Wright, president; Katie Renfro, 1st vice-president; Sharon Kinkaid, 2nd vice-president; and Bev Harmon, treasurer.

Spring semester pledges at the Sig Ep house are Brian Archer, John Bloomberg, Scott Dunham, Bernie Froman, Russ Hamby, Richard Harris, Hoyt Hillman, Dwight Keen, Ron Moore, Jim Myers, John Powell, Nyman Rakes, Larry Wacker, Wally Waldrop, and Jim Wilson.

Army Blues leave Thursday for a four-day trip to national drill competitions at the University of Illinois at Champaign, Illinois.

New Alpha Chi officers are Pam Weiss, president; Sandy Lindeman, 1st vice-president; Mary Ann Wulter, 2nd vice-president; Pat Beckord, recording secretary; and Judy Bridges, treasurer.

Alpha Chi Carla McNeal has announced her engagement to Larry Wilson and Alpha Chi Sharon Baker is pinned to Larry Billingsley, Alpha Sigma Phi at Missouri University.

DG Eledra Woodman is engaged to Phi Delt Gene Ralston. Gene is now attending law school at Washburn.

Alpha Phi Jeanie Kauffman passed the candle to announce that she is lavaliered to Beta John Kniseley.

Vickie Ann Kelley was crowned Iota Sigma Alpha Sweetheart at the annual Sweetheart Ball at the Cotillion Saturday, Feb. 29. Attendees were Mary Perkins and Ann Maloney. Larry Wilson held a pre-dance reception at his home.

and Willard Van Dyke, follows the construction of a New York skyscraper from blueprint to occupancy. Several years in the making, this documentary film uses searching photography to dramatize the excavation, erection of the steel framework and the handling of prefabricated walls of aluminum and glass.

The visual progression from site clearing to the eventual multi-storied architectural form, a New York phenomenon, reflects the city's unique qualities of growth and change.

116 Pledges Initiated This Term

One hundred sixteen pledges have been initiated into their respective sororities and fraternities this semester after serving a pledge period last term.

Initiated in the sororities were: Skip Clopton, Dave Crans, Van Gary Gunter, Jerry Lewis, Darrell Delhotel, Mark Gardner, Dave Gar-McCool, Godfrey Pringle, Oliver rison, Bill Henline, John Knisley, Ragland, Jerry Regier, John Sand-Hillis Krumroy, Harold Lacy, John-Hin, Ned Stoll, and Tom Waddell. Long, Wally Peckham, Dave Per-sonne, Rudy Richardson, Gary Ruedebsch, Paul Selman, Bob Smith, Stan Stark, Bob Stites, Cliff Tarpy, Roger Turner, Jim Wels-himer, Jerry Burnell, and Jerry Lewis.

Alpha Phi: Leatrice Edgington, Kathleen Farmer, Linda Ferris, Carolyn Francis, Janice Frazee, Judith Ivy, Kathleen Laurie, Vicky Lloyd, Delgene Moore, Cheryl Olson, Mary Phillips, and Karan Walker.

Delta Delta Delta: Susie Baughman, Barbara Bunting, Valerie Carlock, Dennice Daughenbaugh, Sandra Hamm, Diane Hatton, Barbara Hughey, Carol LaGree, Janice McConachie, Kerrie McDonough, Cynthia Moore, Mary Lou Starkweather, and Janelle Vaughn.

Delta Gamma: Cheryl Brown, Mary Ann Butcher, Karen Carmichael, Sharon Hodgson, Sonja Missal, Janet Neagle, Linda Russell, Susan Schuessler, Sandie Sharkey, and Jan Wolgamott.

Initiated in the fraternities were: Beta Theta Pi: Herb Albright,

Phi Delta Theta: Max DeWeese, Epsilon.

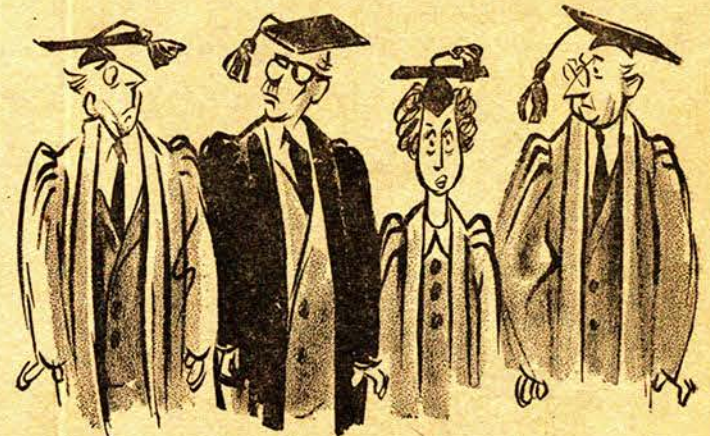

A ROBE BY ANY OTHER NAME

With the Commencement Day just a couple of short months away, the question on everyone's lips is: "How did the different disciplines come to be marked by academic robes with hoods of different colors?" Everybody is asking it; I mean everybody! I mean I haven't been able to walk ten feet on any campus without somebody grabs my elbow and says, "How did the different disciplines come to be marked by academic robes with hoods of different colors, hey?"

This, I must say, is not the usual question asked by collegians who grab my elbow. Ordinarily they say, "Hey, Shorty, got a Marlboro?" And this is fitting. After all, are they not collegians and therefore loaded with brains? And does not intelligence demand the tastiest in tobacco flavor? And does not Marlboro deliver a flavor that is uniquely delicious? And am I not short?

But I digress. Back to the colored hoods of academic robes. A doctor of philosophy wears blue, a doctor of medicine wears green, a master of arts wears white, a doctor of humanities wears crimson, a master of library science wears lemon yellow. Why? Why, for example, should a master of library science wear lemon yellow?

Well sir, to answer this vexing question, we must go back to March 14, 1844. On that date the first public library in the United States was established by Ulrich Sigafos. All of Mr. Sigafos's neighbors were of course wildly grateful—all, that is, except Wrex Todhunter.

Mr. Todhunter had hated Mr. Sigafos since 1822 when both men had wooed the beautiful Melanie Zitt and Melanie had chosen Mr. Sigafos because she was made for dancing and Mr. Sigafos knew all the latest steps—like the Missouri Compromise Samba, the Shays' Rebellion Schottische, and the James K. Polk Polka—while Mr. Todhunter, alas, could not dance at all, owing to a wound he had received at the Battle of New Orleans. (He was struck by a falling praline.)

Consumed with jealousy at the success of Mr. Sigafos's library, Mr. Todhunter resolved to open a competing library. This he did, but he lured not one single patron away from Mr. Sigafos. "What has Mr. Sigafos got that I have not?" Mr. Todhunter kept asking himself, and finally the answer came to him: books.

So Mr. Todhunter stocked his library with lots of lovely books, and soon he was doing more business than his hated rival. But Mr. Sigafos struck back. To regain his clientele, he began serving tea at his library every afternoon. Thereupon Mr. Todhunter, not to be outdone, began serving tea with sugar. Thereupon Mr. Sigafos began serving tea with sugar and cream. Thereupon Mr. Todhunter began serving tea with sugar and cream and lemon.

This, of course, clinched the victory for Mr. Todhunter because he had the only lemon tree in town—in fact, in the entire state of Maine—and since that day lemon yellow has, of course, been the color on the robes of masters of library science.

(Incidentally, the defeated Mr. Sigafos packed up his library and moved to California where, alas, he failed once more. There were, to be sure, plenty of lemons to serve with his tea, but, alas, there was no cream because the cow was not introduced to California until 1937 by John Wayne.)

Moorhouse Makes Flight in AF Jet

"Kansas looked flatter than ever," according to Melvin P. Moorhouse, assistant to the dean of University College, commenting on his recent flight in an Air Force jet.

Moorhouse, acting as faculty impressive, representative for a group of Air Force Cadets, visited Richards-Gebaur Air Force Base outside Kansas City, Mo.

Six Air Force ROTC Cadets also received orientation flights in the T-33. Those cadets flying the single engine jet were: John Crain, Harold Richards, Gary Titus, Charles Argo, Dwight Graham, and Russell Mutto.

In describing the experience, Moorhouse stated that the flight was extremely smooth, and the countryside, especially Wichita was Moorhouse was given an opportunity to deal with his confessed fear of high places when the pilot allowed him to take control of the craft for a short time. Surprisingly enough, stated Moorhouse, flying was a pleasant experience.

In flying over the University campus Moorhouse was amazed at the ability of the pilot to accurately estimate the capacity of the fieldhouse, or silver saucer as it appeared from around 10 thousand feet in the air.

The Air Force presented Moorhouse with a formal certificate Wednesday, certifying that he had taken a ride in a jet. The six Air Force ROTC Cadets will also be presented certificates at a ceremony in the near future.

The group, which included 22 other cadets, received a thorough briefing on Air Defense capabilities of the 326th Fighter Interceptor Squadron with its 1200 mile per hour F-102 Delta Dagger.

They then visited alert hangers to witness aircraft and pilots on five minute alert against possible enemy air attack and maximum performance take offs of the F-102.

Following a guest luncheon in the consolidated field mess the visitors from Wichita toured the $50 million SAGE—Semi-automatic Ground Environment—a massive array of electronic computers which automatically present essential data for air defense of the North American continent.

Moorhouse and the cadets were escorted by Maj. Darrell C. Dowdy and M/Sgt. Robert T. Wootton of the department of air science.

Meeting Scheduled For Honor Students

Honor students will meet at 4 p.m., Thursday, March 12, in the Fine Arts Lounge. For additional details call Dr. Ungs, assistant professor of political science, at Ext. 342.

GUEST STARS, Lois Hunt and Earl Wrightson, will appear this Sunday at the Field House with the Wichita Symphony. This will be the second Dollar Concert to be sponsored by the Women's Association of the Wichita Symphony Society. Tickets are available in the Music office.

Around the Campus

Reel Time Tomorrow

Reel Time will re-show the first part of the film "Martin Luther" tomorrow before showing part two.

Because of the excellent turnout at its original showing and because so many people requested that the first part be re-shown, the Audio-Visual Center has arranged for part one to be shown again tomorrow at 11 a.m., according to Carol Holman, co-ordinator of the Audio-Visual Center.

Part two of "Martin Luther" will be shown as planned tomorrow at noon.

The Louis de Rochemont production is an authentic historical presentation of the life of Martin Luther. The film represents his life as the moving spirit out of which Protestantism is born.

Lenten Service Slated

Rev. Richard Wilke of the Pleasant Valley Methodist Church will speak at the Lenten service from 7:15 to 7:50 a.m. tomorrow in the Harvey D. Grace Memorial Chapel. He will speak on "When There's a Cross Ahead of You."

The weekly services during Lent are being sponsored by the United Christian Fellowship, Rev. Thomas Townsend, director.

According to Townsend, all students are invited to attend the services which are held each Wednesday morning.

Soccer Practice Set

The International Club's soccer team is anticipating the coming spring and summer season by practicing the game of soccer. Anyone who is interested in playing or watching soccer is invited to come to the practice at Old Shock-er Stadium, Sunday morning at 10 a.m., according to club president Al Raisdana.

Tea and Conversation

Richard Brown, graduate fellow of the mathematics department, will discuss his recent trip to Europe with members and guests at International Club's Tea and Conversation tomorrow at 3 p.m. in Area 3 of the CAC. All are welcome according to Al Raisdana, International Club president.

Teacher Interview

One teacher interview has been announced for the coming week by the Teacher Placement Office.

On March 11, a representative from Newton, Kans., will be on campus to interview prospective teachers.

Appointments should be made with the Teacher Placement Bureau, Rm. 223, CAC, according to Miss Beulah Mullen, Teacher Placement Bureau director.

News Forum Today

The ninth in the series of News Forums will be held at noon today in the CAC Ballroom, according to Marshall Williams, assistant director of the CAC.

The panel for today's discussion will be William Glenn, CAC director and panel moderator; A. C.

Genova assistant professor and chairman of the philosophy department; and Dr. William F. Nelson professor of English.

The panel will discuss current events, news items, opinions, ideas, and generally things that will educate, inform, and entertain the audience.

Free coffee will be served and it is suggested that you bring your lunch during the 12 to 1 p.m. meeting. The Forum welcomes all.

Young Demos to Meet

The University Collegiate Young Democrats will hold two functions this week to begin their second semester activities.

The club will sponsor a coffee hour tonight featuring Dr. Hugo Wall leading a discussion entitled "Plans for future city government." David Brewer, publicity chairman for the club, said all interested persons should meet in Rm. 208 of the CAC at 8 p.m. tonight. Coffee will be served.

A special meeting, covering proposed election regulations, will be held tomorrow for club members at 2 p.m. in Rm. 205 of the CAC. All members are urged to attend.

Brewer said that membership dues for the remainder of the semester are $1. Prospective new members are welcome to attend the meetings.

Ministry Meet Slated

An informal fellowship for students considering the Christian ministry as a vocation has been organized on campus. Coordinator for the group is the Reverend Tom Townsend, UCF campus pastor.

Students interested in the monthly meeting of the group, or in securing information about seminaries are invited to contact Reverend Townsend at the UCF office in the CAC building.

Spring Enrollment . . .

ond in size. The sophomore class has 1,081 enrolled while the senior class has only 988 students.

Of the total 6,429 students, only 4,380 students are considered full-time students. The qualification for a full-time student is enrollment in more than 12 hours.

This figure represents an increase of 14.5 per cent over last spring's full-time student enrollment of 3,825.

Among the state schools, the University ranked third, following the University of Kansas with an enrollment of 10,549, and Kansas State University with an enrollment of 8,600.

The State Teachers College enrollments are as follows: Emporia, 4,541; Pittsburg, 3,750; and Fort Hays, 3,350.

'Party Line Persuader' Meets Match

By BILL RAPPS, News Editor

How many times have you been called from meals, company, or a good television program to answer the phone only to find that some one is trying to persuade you to join a beauty school or enroll in barber college.

For poor, hard-working college students who cannot afford a phone this may not be a problem, but for most people telephone soliciting is a real headache.

Because of this public alienation, telephone solicitors often have a difficult time talking anyone into anything. These "party line persuaders" are usually equipped with smooth and overwhelming sales talks, but occasionally they encounter, among the laymen who are their prey, a wit that is invincible.

The most classic conversation on record went something like this: "Hello."

"Hello, sir, this is the 'Awful Furry' dance studio. We have just now picked your name from the telephone book. If you can answer this question, we will present you with $30 worth of free dancing lessons. Now, what dance would you dance to this tune?" The sweet notes of the "Blue Danube" drifted over the wire.

"Jitterbug."

"Oh, I'm terribly sorry, sir, that is incorrect. However, since you seem to be a man who would enjoy learning to dance, we are going to give you another chance. Now, what dance would you dance to this tune?" A loud popular number blared through the phone.

"Waltz."

"NO!! I mean, no, sir, that is also incorrect. You have failed to answer two questions, but out of the kindness of my heart, I'm going to give you another chance. Now, try hard on this one." A delicate minuet reaches the listener's ear.

"Varsity Drag."

"Right, absolutely right! Now, (the salesman is jubilant over having found an answer to his sales resistance) when can you come down for your first lesson?"

"Well, I'll tell you, I sure would like to take advantage of your kind offer, but I have two wooden legs."

Undaunted the salesman goes on with his sales talk. "That's a difficult problem, but I'm sure we can help you. Why just the other day we taught a man to dance the rumba on crutches."

"No, you don't understand. I couldn't afford regular artificial limbs, so I had to use table legs."

"Well, if they'll hold you up?"

"Oh, they're strong enough, but someone has to stay here and hold up the table."

The salesman's code does not admit defeat. "Well, sir. What about your wife?"

"Well, I'm sure she would be interested, but she broke her back in a fight with the PTA mothers."

School systems are pretty rough down here you know."

"Do you have any older children?"

"No, but if you're still interested I've got a very talented St Bernard who would..."
