Ed-TV Programs Slated for Weekend

The schedule of the educational television department's programs to be shown this weekend has been announced.

"Local Ordinances" is the topic of the next lecture in the University's television course in race relations, "Race: Myth and Reality," to be aired Saturday, at 8 a.m., on the Kansas State Network (KARD-TV, Wichita).

Guest speaker is Carl Bell, Wichita City Commissioner. He will discuss with Asst. Prof. Richard Armstrong, of the sociology department, the possibilities of obtaining local ordinances which may help to prevent racial discrimination.

Sunday at 12:30 p.m. on the Kansas Broadcasting System (KTVH-TV, Wichita) the University will present at art exhibit which has been rescheduled from April 18.

During the St. Louis-Wichita basketball game on February 22, an exhibition of paintings, prints, sculpture, and pottery created by graduate students of the University's School of Fine Arts was shown on video tape. University professor of art, Robert Kiskadden, served as advisor for the telecast, which was produced for the studios of KTVH by Richard J. Meyer, director of educational television at the University.

The six minute presentation was seen on many cities of the Missouri television network, but was not viewed in Wichita because the game was blacked out in this area.

This program, which was the topic of an editorial in the national edition of "TV Guide" for April 11, in an article entitled "As We See It," will be followed by a short visual interpretation of Karl Shapiro's poem, "The Phenomenon."

"American Action" is the next program on "Magic Lantern to the Stars," television series on the history of films, to be aired Sunday, at 10 a.m., on KARD-TV.

The action-filled films of Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., William S. Hart and Tom Mix are featured. Portions of a variety of early western films will also be shown.

Finally, "Charlotte—A Diary in Pictures by Charlotte Salomon," a book of gauches published by Harcourt, Brace and World, is the subject of "Ideas in Action," to be shown at noon, Sunday, on the same station.

Narrator for the dramatic presentation will be Dalene Barry. Following this program, Rabbi Judea Miller of Temple Emanu-El, Wichita, will discuss the implications of the film with University Professor's Anthony Genova, philosophy department, and Grant Kenyon, psychology department, on this special hour-long program.

"Operation Alphabet," designed to help adults with reading and writing problems, continues to be shown from 6:45 to 7:15 a.m., Monday through Friday, on the Kansas Broadcasting System (KTVH-TV, Wichita).

WSU Pre-Registration Set to Begin Monday

Debate Team Wins 2nd in Winfield Tourney

The debate season ended last weekend with the University debaters amassing a number of firsts to win second place in Sweepstakes at the St. Johns College Tournament last weekend, according to Miss Quincelee Brown, assistant debate coach.

Bob Smith, University College freshman, won first place in radio speaking, second in storytelling and oratory, third in poetry reading, and fourth in Bible reading.

Pam McMaster, Liberal Arts sophomore, won first in poetry reading and second in book review.

Sandy Swanson, Liberal Arts junior, won first in oratory, second in story telling, third in radio speaking and fourth in Bible reading.

Bill Balthrop, University College freshman, won second in impromptu speaking and fourth in poetry reading, radio speaking, dramatic interpretation, oratorical declamation, and book review.

Mary Jo Tierney, University College freshman, won second in salesmanship and fourth in dramatic interpretation.

Linda Chapman, University

College freshman, won fourth in salesmanship.

These six people entered a total of 27 individual events. They reached the finals in 20 of these events and placed first, second, or third in 11 of them. This was the best individual record of any school at the tournament.

The debate team of Bob Smith and Bill Balthrop won five and lost three to place fifth in debate.

Advising for pre-registration for the fall semester will begin Monday and continue through May 8, according to Worth Fletcher, registrar.

A day student who desires to pre-register must make an appointment with his adviser and secure a tentative schedule of classes in quadruplicate. The adviser must retain one copy of the schedule, and the student must take three copies of his tentative schedule to the office of the dean of his college for signature.

An approved class schedule and an ID claim check is necessary before having cards pulled. Class cards will be assembled in Rm. 105, Jardine Hall beginning on May 4.

New SGA Members Installed

The new Student Government Association officers and Congressmen were installed at the regular meeting of the SGA, Tuesday evening in Area 9 of the CAC.

A special meeting has been called for Tuesday by Dave Crockett, the new president of the SGA. The meeting is to be held at 6:30 in Area 9 of the CAC.

After the installation of the officers and congressmen, Mary Ann Hopper, past-executive secretary of the SGA, presented past-President Dave Leach the traditional gavel given to all SGA Presidents after their tenure of office.

President Dave Crockett then called the meeting of the first 1964-65 SGA Congress to order. He reiterated the importance of the Congressmen's duties and urged each of them to talk with past representatives of the Congress to get a better knowledge of their jobs.

Each Congressman is urged to attend the special meeting set for Tuesday evening, in that business of importance will be discussed.

May Dance Scheduled For May 1

Highlighting May Day activities will be a May Dance, sponsored by the CAC Governing Board, to be held at the Cotillion Ballroom, according to Fred Funk, general hippodrome chairman.

Finalists in the skit competition will be announced at the dance, according to Funk. Music for the dance, which will begin at 9 p.m., will be provided by Peter Palmer's Orchestra and Voices. Many students will remember the group appearing at the Homecoming dance last fall.

Tickets are now on sale in the CAC and at the "Record Shop," 221 E. William, at a special advanced price of $1.50 per ticket. Tickets at the door will sell for $2 per ticket.

Hippodrome skits will be presented throughout the day by various campus groups. During the evening, the May Queen, Judy Snapp, will be crowned, and members of Mortar Board will be tapped.

Six SGA Posts Now Available

Six SGA positions for the coming year are open to applicants.

Representatives to the CAC Committee are needed in four areas: married students, graduate students, night students, and the student body at large. SGA posts available are for a graduate student representative and an executive secretary.

Applications may be picked up at the Student Government office, second floor, CAC. Positions will be filled by appointment.

Kansas College English Assn. To Present 2 Days of Talks

The University will host today and tomorrow a conference of the Kansas Association of College Teachers of English with the theme of "Kindred Spirits: Literature in the Arts and Sciences."

Headed and organized by Dr. James Ruoff, assistant professor of English, the conference will begin with registration in the east ballroom of the CAC, at 1 p.m. today.

After a welcoming speech by James K. Sours, dean of Liberal Arts, two talks will be given. The first entitled "An Inter-Disciplinary Approach to the Arts: Some Ground Rules" by Stuart Levine of Kansas University and the second, "Metaphysical and Mannerist in Poetry and Painting" by Dr. Walter M. Merril, English department head.

Following a coffee break and discussion, the lectures will resume with Sister Margaret Therese of Sacred Heart College presenting her talk "Existential Commitment in Robert Penn Warren's 'All the King's Men'."

Also in the afternoon the conference will present Jordan Y. Miller of Kansas State University with his talk entitled "Eugene O'Neill and Religious Philosophy" and John Willingham of Kansas University with a lecture entitled "Hart Crane and all that Jazz."

All sessions of the conference are free to students with the exception of the banquet which is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. tonight in the east ballroom of the CAC. The fee for the banquet is $4.

Featured speaker at the 8 p.m. session after the banquet will be Curt A. Zimansky, professor of English at the University of Iowa. Brought here under the auspices of the University Forum and the English department, Zimansky will give a talk entitled "Shakespeare, Gothic to Baroque."

Tomorrow's session will begin at 9 a.m. with coffee and doughnuts in the east ballroom of the CAC. University psychology department head Dr. N. H. Pronko will present the first paper entitled "A Psychologist Looks at Othello."

A discussion will follow and then M. S. Harder of Southwestern College will speak on "Social Concern in some English Poets."

The last three presentations of Students are welcome to attend any of these meetings.

DAVE CROCKETT, new president of the Student Government Association, receives some timely advice from Dean Josephine Fugate, faculty advisor to SGA.

DAVE LEACH, vacating the post of the president of the Student Government Association, presents the gavel of office to Dave Crockett, recently elected president.

Editorial Views...

National Recognition

National recognition has again been achieved by the University. This time, through a national magazine for a television program originating at the University.

The April 11-17 issue of TV-Guide devoted its weekly editorial column, "As We See It," to a unique half-time program presented over the Missouri Valley Television Network on Feb. 22. The show, seen at St. Louis, Tulsa, Dallas, Peoria, Cincinnati, and Des Moines, consisted of paintings, prints, sculpture, and pottery created by graduate students at the University. (The show will be shown in Wichita at 12:30 p.m. Sunday over channel 12.)

The Guide writer described the six-minute show as a "fascinating experiment," and suggests that perhaps the networks might experiment with half-time shows which show "what else goes on at our institutes of higher learning."

The educational television department, directed by Richard Meyer, the art students who contributed time and works to this unique presentation, and Robert Kiskadden, professor of art, who served as advisor, are to be congratulated.

Incidentally, the Shockers won the game 86-71 over St. Louis.

New Wisconsin Plan Designed To Lower Cost, Aid Needy

MADISON, WIS.—(I.P.)—Plans and policies for holding down costs for all students at the University of Wisconsin and for increasing aid for those unable to meet normal costs were described to University regents recently by University Dean of Students Martha Peterson.

She said finances are one of the major obstacles able students encounter in obtaining a college education, that costs have been steadily increasing and probably will continue to increase, but that the University is committed to: 1. Keeping the costs to all students at a minimum consistent with quality education and sound financing; 2. Providing to individual students who cannot meet the costs all possible financial aids of the kinds that are soundest for those individuals.

Dean Peterson predicted that at least 15 per cent of the undergraduate students of the future will need scholarship, loan, and job help. She proposed that for each of these the University should set a goal at providing support by all means—a quarter by scholarships, a quarter by job earnings, and half by loans. As for holding down the cost to all students, she made these recommendations:

On Fees: Hold percentage student pays of cost of instruction to no more than present ratio (25 per cent for residents, 92 per cent for non-residents) and make efforts to reduce it.

On Room and Board: Keep next year's rates at present level, if possible, build apartments and encourage private interests to build apartments and cooperative living units. Seek gift funds for initial investments for scholarship cooperative houses.

On Other Costs: Examine costs of books and supplies and the possibilities of public transportation development. Provide more on-campus recreational and cultural opportunities and increase prepaid medical services.

Dean Peterson recommended further exploration of the possible financial savings for students in year-round University operations. She suggested centralizing financial aids and financial advising in one office and some flexibility in fee payments.

To help the individual who can't meet normal costs, Dean Peterson recommended:

Scholarships and Fellowships: Increase number and size of grants to reach the goal of supplying one-quarter of the need of 15 per cent of the undergraduate students.

Loans: Obtain more loan funds from federal and state funds, and from private sources with low interest and favorable repayment schedules. Increase kinds of financial aid available so that the student can limit his borrowing to 50 per cent of his college costs.

Employment: Upgrade student job opportunities and match student skills with jobs held. Establish an adequate minimum wage. Develop a system of "educationally related jobs" in the University next year.

In conclusion, Dean Peterson said "the help given in the past has been good insofar as it has gone. The funds and the staff have been inadequate to do as much as students' needs indicated necessary. The University cannot finance a college education for any student; it can hope to use its resources to the most efficient degree possible in aiding the student to finance his own education."

Lindquists Tour State

President and Mrs. Lindquist are currently on an "alumni meet the President" tour of Kansas.

They will travel through the state visiting with alumni groups. Included on the tour is a visit in Hutchinson where they will attend an alumni dinner at the Elks Club. Bill Barger and Gary Wyant, assistant football coaches, will narrate films of the University's football season during the program in Hutchinson.

Alumni, spouses, parents of University students, and friends are invited to attend this dinner which will be held on April 29.

Along with President and Mrs. Lindquist on the tour are Harry Hobson, alumni association president, and John Mertes, alumni association treasurer, and Beulah Mullen, alumni secretary.

The group will be in Salina on May 5 and will complete the tour in Topeka on May 7.

Frat Names New Members, Officers

Pi Sigma Alpha, honorary political science fraternity, initiated eight new members at a meeting held recently at the Hanover House of the Ramada Inn. Vince Bogart, recently elected Mayor of Wichita, was the guest speaker.

Initiates were Robert E. Crew, Kemp Irwin, Ronald Rowan, John L. Young, Hoon Chung, Jerry Cochran, George Grover, and Albert Kirk.

An award for the outstanding graduating senior was presented to two students this year, John Young and Joseph Zentner. Officers for the coming year were announced. They are: Kemp Irwin, President; Jerry Cochran, vice-president; and George Grover, secretary-treasurer.

Farewell Tea to Honor Professor of English

A farewell tea in honor of Dr. Richard Kennedy, professor of English, will be held in the East Ballroom of the CAC from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. Monday.

The tea, sponsored by the campus chapter of the NAACP, is in observance of Dr. Kennedy's years of service to the University. Dr. Kennedy has been at the University since 1956 and will leave at the end of the semester for Philadelphia, Pa., where he will join the faculty of the English department at Temple University.

Kennedy has been at the University since 1956 and will leave at

A faculty council for the campus chapter of the NAACP will be organized at the tea, according to Dr. James Ruoff, faculty advisor to the campus organization. Faculty members are invited to the tea to honor Dr. Kennedy.

BSC Slates Noon Day Discussions

"Race Relations" is the theme for Noon Day programs at the Baptist Student Center scheduled for Monday through next Friday with the exception of Thursday.

Program discussions, to begin at noon and to run until 12:30 p.m., are: the racial problem is my problem; a Christian view towards race relations; what are the Christians obligations to the different races?; is race relations a factor in world missions?; is racial strife in the United States affecting the work of missionaries in the foreign countries?

On next Friday night, Dr. Stan Nelson, pastor of the University Baptist Church, will discuss the topic of race relations from a theological standpoint and intermarriage.

New officers of the Baptist Student Union will be installed tomorrow night at a "Luau" to be held in the home of Judy Hurst.

Officers for the coming year are: Richard Lusk, president; Jerry Ratliff, vice-president; John Zimmerman, missions chairman; Joy Whitefield, enlistment chairman; and Ed Stanley, devotional chairman.

Correction

The poem by Bruce Cutler which appeared on page 4 of the April 21 issue of the Sunflower was incorrectly titled "At Kents' Grave." The correct title is "At Keats' Grave." The poem deals with the grave of the English poet John Keats in the Protestant cemetery in Rome.

Tennis Team to Meet KU

By BILL RAPPS, News Editor

An unbeaten Shocker tennis team will face a strong University of Kansas squad on the University courts at 2 p.m. today and tomorrow. The Jayhawkers have one loss on their record.

The Shocker netters, with a team record of 9-0, will be paced in the number one position by sophomore Ben Anzola. Anzola has dropped only one match, to Wheaton College's star Dennis Bennema, making him 8-1 for the season in singles.

Anzola, who has only been defeated three sets in singles play, will provide valuable experience and deft net play against Kansas today and tomorrow.

The number two Shocker netter, Van Thompson, sports a 7-2 singles record including an impressive win over Oklahoma State's hard-serving George Folz. A junior, Thompson's hard-hitting and consistent play will prove an asset in the Kansas matches.

Senior Phil Adrian, one of the Shockers' big men, will fill the number three spot against Kansas. Adrian's record in singles dropped to eight wins and one loss only after he was defeated in three sets during last Saturday's match with Tulsa.

The other senior on the Shocker squad playing in the number four position is hard-serving Chester Anderson. Chester's big serve and his smashing ground game have carried him to a perfect 9-0 record in singles play.

Anderson has walked away with all his matches in two sets except for the two bouts with Tulsa where he went three sets both times with Tulsa's number four man Wendel Clark. His consistency will be a high card against the Jayhawkers today.

Sophomore Lin Harris rounds out the Shocker team in fifth position with a singles record of 6-2. Harris lost to Mike McSpadden at the University of Oklahoma and to Tulsa's Ben Abney. Harris defeated Abney in their second meeting last Saturday however.

With the improvement Harris has shown since his freshman year and his long endurance he will prove a formidable opponent in the fifth spot. He has been in one doubles contest against Arkansas University when he and Anderson took a number one doubles win in the match in which the Shockers blanked Arkansas 6-0.

The usual number one doubles combination for the Shockers is Anderson and Anzola. They have a season record of 7-1, dropping their first one to Oklahoma State April 15 at Stillwater.

Adrian and Thompson hold down the number two doubles spot with a record of 7-2. These men have given ground grudgingly taking all seven of their victories in two sets and losing to the University of Oklahoma and Tulsa both, in three.

Shocker coach Neil Rousch has guided his team to its perfect record while giving up only 9 individual matches. The worst his squad has done is winning 5-2 over Tulsa twice, and University of Oklahoma and Oklahoma State each once.

Double-Header Set Tonight In Baseball

Boasting a 5 win-5 loss record, the University baseball team heads into a double-header tonight with Washburn University at Lawrence Stadium.

The Shockers have won three of their last four games; the most recent triumphs came over Oklahoma City University. The Shockers shakkled the Chiefs 6 to 5 and 10 to 0.

Tim Bishop hurled the Shockers to victory in the 10 to 0 rout with relief help from Gary Logan. Bishop allowed only one hit and gained his third win without a loss. The big right-hander has allowed only three hits and no runs in the last eleven innings he has pitched.

With Shocker batsmen collecting seven hits and ten runs in only five innings, Bishop never was in trouble.

The Shockers 10-0 triumph was halted after the fifth inning by a ground rule that prohibits play after the fifth if one club is leading by ten or more runs.

Rallying to come up with two runs in the bottom of the fifth inning, the Shockers pulled the first game out of the fire 6 to 5. Chuck Broski collected two of the five Shocker hits in the first game, a single and a double. Tom Seigle, (Continued on Page 4)

Says Wesley H. Sowers, President of Frontier Chemical Company, Division of Vulcan Materials Company, Wichita, Kansas. "Kansans have a sense of purpose; a strong, progressive and enterprising spirit. This spirit, I believe, explains why Kansans have moved ahead in the important areas of education, health, transportation and civic development; and have thus created an attractive environment for business and living. Kansans understand the importance of community life and community responsibility and have taken the initiative in establishing high quality civic, cultural and spiritual programs which provide further depth and meaning to living in South Central Kansas. This is an important reason why South Central Kansas is an area that attracts people.

"This spirit is the reason why South Central Kansas is an ideal location for new and expanding enterprises that can bring increased prosperity and job security to us all.

"Yes, I like it here."

A native "Hoosier," Wesley H. Sowers came to Wichita as Vice President of Frontier Chemical Company in 1950. When Frontier became a division of Vulcan Materials Company of Birmingham, Alabama in December, 1957, Wes Sowers was named President of the Frontier Chemical Division and Director of Vulcan Materials Co. In early 1961, he was also made Executive Vice President of Vulcan Materials Company in charge of chemicals and metallics.

Mr. Sowers has demonstrated a deep concern for the progress of his community and state by actively serving in many capacities. Among a long list of public services are: former Chairman of the Metropolitan Area Planning Commission for Wichita and Sedgwick County; former President of Wichita Rotary Club and Wichita Chamber of Commerce; director of Wichita C of C, JA, Metropolitan Wichita Council and Wichita YMCA. He has also served or is serving the state C of C, KIDC, legislative council, University of Wichita and Kansas State University.

Mr. Sowers obviously knows, from practical experience, of the "Kansas Spirit" about which he speaks.

Graduate Fellows to Meet
The newly organized graduate fellows organization will meet at 3 p.m. Sunday, in Area 9 of the CAC, according to Cary Kazilbash, chairman of the group.

The club, organized to stimulate more intellectual interest, is composed of graduate students presently holding fellowships at the University. Graduate students not holding a fellowship may become members in the organization by being sponsored by a graduate student who does hold a fellowship.

Members of the membership committee are Sonya Offenstien, history; Raphael S. Amanna, business administration; Richard Bowman, business; Martha B. Cox, physical education; and Sebastian Faro, biology, according to Kazilbash.

Tri-Delt Scholarship

Two $50 scholarships are being offered by Delta Delta Delta sorority to any woman student who will be a senior next year.

Applications may be picked up and returned to Dean Fugate, office of Student Services, Morrison Hall. Applications should be turned in by April 30.

Two-Bit Flick

"Gidget Goes Hawaiian," starring Deborah Walley, James Darren, Michael Callen, Carl Reiner, and Peggy Cass will be the Two-Bit Flick at 8 tonight in the FAC auditorium.

This comedy depicts Gidget on vacation in Hawaii with her family. There she meets a TV idol and enters a whirlwind of parties, dances, and surf races. Lovely as Gidget finds the island, she still pines for her steady fellow back in the States, so her parents fly him to Hawaii to make her happiness complete.

The songs in the movie are "Gidget Goes Hawaiian," and "Wild about That Girl," and are sung by James Darren.

Flying Club Meet Set

The University Flying Club is scheduled to meet at 2 p.m. Sunday in Area 2 of the CAC. All members and persons interested in joining are requested to attend.

Simmons College To Try Program

—Boston, Mass. — (I.P.)—

Simmons College is experimenting this year with an accelerated course for all freshmen. According to Dr. Wylie Sypher, chairman of the department of English, Simmons has always had an accelerated course for about a third of the entering class. The new plan enables the majority to set their own pace.

"Students should not be shackled with a full year of learning to read and write up to college caliber," Dr. Sypher states, "if they prove they don't need to. This form of acceleration will enable us to recognize the abilities of students and exempt them from both the advanced and regular courses in freshman English as quickly as possible."

In order to be exempt, students have to meet rigid qualifying standards, not only in writing, but in critical performance. Minimum standards include the ability to: write a coherent critical discussion; write coherent, sustained, well-developed paragraphs; master reasonably complex sentence structures; avoid major blunders in idiom; punctuate satisfactorily; avoid major misspellings; and avoid major grammatical blunders.

All sections in the basic course have a maximum of fourteen students to allow for more intensive individual work in writing and conferences.

Golfers Top Emporia Squad On Wednesday

Coach Bob Kirkpatrick's golfers fielded a varsity, a B team, and a freshman squad Wednesday afternoon, and met the Emporia State Varsity in a quadrangular match.

Varsity and freshman squads came out on top in the final scoring. The Shocker varsity team won all three of its matches, the frosh won two and lost one, the Wichita B squad won one and lost two, and the Emporians lost all three of their matches.

Grabbing medalist honors was Shocker senior Johnny Stevens, who shot a two over par 74 on the Crestview Country Club course. Richard Russ, also a member of the varsity, tied Shocker freshman Jamie Thompson with a 6 over 78, for second place in the medalist competition.

16th Annual Air Society Conclave Attended by University Delegation

A delegation of 12 students and Maj. John E. Davenport, professor of air science, attended the 16th Annual Arnold Air Society and the 9th Annual Angel Flight Conclave held in Denver, recently, according to 1st Lieut. (AAS) Gary Betourne, information officer of the University Walter H. Beech Squadron, Arnold Air Society.

The meeting was held at the Denver Hilton Hotel with approximately 1,500 people in attendance. The meeting was terminated by an Awards Banquet with actor Bob Cummings as master of ceremonies.

Those attending from the University were Maj. (AAS) Lewis M. Houser, delegate; 1st Lieut. (AAS) Gary P. Betourne, alternate delegate; Arnold Air Society members - at - large Roger A. Panton, James E. Sidebottom, Jimmy F. Campbell, Thomas V. Corns, Scott K. Dunham, John W. Burchill, Roger L. McClure, Jr., and James R. Wilson; plus Sandra L. Mueller, Angel Flight delegate; and Ann E. Furguson, Angel Flight alternate delegate.

The members-at-large worked on committees that composed resolutions to be sent to the floor where the delegates voted on them.

The conclave was composed of the opening ceremonies with the keynote address being given by Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, Commander, Air Force Systems Command; business sessions, a military ball, a tour of the United States Air Force Academy, and was culminated by an Awards Banquet. At the awards Banquet General Curtis E. LeMay, Chief of Staff, USAF, was awarded the General H. H. Arnold Trophy for outstanding contributions to national security through aerospace power leadership. He was also made Honorary National Commander for the 1965 National Conclave.

Astronaut Maj. Leroy Gordon Cooper, USAF, was awarded the John F. Kennedy Trophy in recognition of his monumental contributions to aerospace flight through his participation in the NASA Project Mercury. Major Cooper spoke on Aerospace at the Banquet.

The objective of the Arnold Air Society, named for General Henry "Hap" Arnold are to aid in the development of Air Force officers; to create a closer and more efficient relationship within the Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps; to further the purpose, tradition, and concept of the United States Air Force; to support airpower in its role in national security; and to advance air and space age citizenship.

There are 189 squadrons of the Arnold Air Society grouped into 17 areas geographically across the nation.

Gary Betourne, an alternate delegate to the Conclave from the University, stated, "It was one of the most impressive and informative events I have ever attended."

5 different ways to make a big splash! without going overboard on price

It's get-the-cottage-ready time. Put-the-boat-in-the-water time. Baseball time. Trade 'N' Travel Time at your Chevrolet dealer's. Time to get out of that wintertime rut, into one of Chevrolet's five great highway performers.

Now it's easy to go on vacation first class—without paying a first-class price. In a luxury Jet-smooth Chevrolet, for example. This beauty rivals just about any car in styling, performance and comfort. Or try a totally new type of travel in the youthfully styled Chevelle. Lots of room inside—yet nicely sized for easy handling.

FOR THE GREAT HIGHWAY PERFORMERS

Now thrifty Chevy II has hill-flattening power. Unique Corvair offers extra power that accents its road-hugging rear engine traction. And the exciting Corvette speaks for itself.

Yes, right now is new car time. T-N-T Time. Time to get the most fun from a new car. To get a great trade on your old one. To get a big choice at your Chevrolet dealer's. Come on in!
