Shapiro to Speak On Campus Today

Karl Shapiro, world renowned poet with a reputation for being the chief spokesman for his generation, is scheduled to arrive on the University campus this afternoon for a two day visit. It is around him that this week's "Karl Shapiro Film Festival" is centered.

Mr. Shapiro, holder of the Pulitzer Prize for his book of poems "V-Letter," is slated to speak at 8 p.m. this evening in the Commons Auditorium. Also included in his itinerary is an informal meeting with students and faculty tomorrow, May 13, from 9:30 to 11 a.m., in Rm. 231, CAC. All interested students and faculty are invited to attend his appearances. He is also scheduled to visit an English class during his two-day visit.

He will arrive on campus just three days after the publication of his latest book of poems, "The Bourgeois Poet."

Born in Baltimore, Maryland, Mr. Shapiro attended the University of Virginia and the Johns Hopkins University. During World War II he served as a sergeant in the South Pacific, and out of that experience his book of poems entitled "V-Letter" won the Pulitzer Prize in 1945.

His reputation as a poet and chief spokesman for his generation was further established by "Essay on Rime" and "Trial of a Poet." He became a Consultant in Poetry for the Library of Congress and a member of the National Institute of Arts and Letters. He was made an Associate Professor of English at the Johns Hopkins University, and then in 1950 became editor of "Poetry," the most important American magazine dealing with poetry today. He wrote two books of literary criticism, both regarded as extremely important—"Beyond Criticism" and "In Defense of Ignorance." His call for a revaluation of the importance of T. S. Eliot and Ezra Pound in American poetry and the ensuing controversy generated more correspondence in the columns of the New York "Times" than any other literary issue in the history of that newspaper.

Besides having won a Guggenheim grant, Mr. Shapiro has also edited the well-known Nebraska magazine "Prairie Schooner" and has traveled and lectured for the U.S. Department of State overseas. He has lectured at nearly every major American university and has appeared frequently on television. He is currently Professor of English at the University of Nebraska.

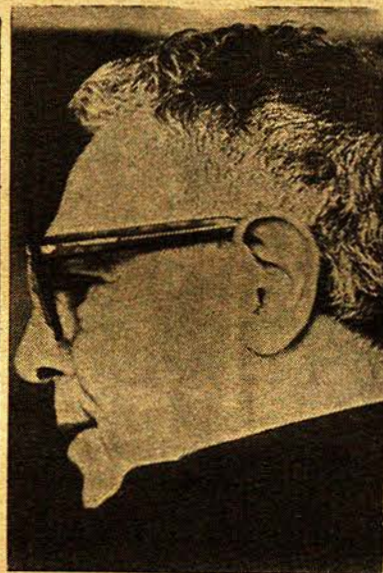

In connection with Mr. Shapiro's visit there will be twelve outstanding films shown during the week.

Applications Due

Parnassus and Sunflower applications are now available for students interested in participating in these campus publications next year.

Parnassus applications will be due on Monday, May 18, according to Sue Schrock, Parnassus editor. Sunflower applications are due Friday, according to Doris Mortimer, Sunflower editor-in-chief.

Both Sunflower and Parnassus staff members will be announced at the annual Journalism Awards Banquet to be held on May 20, in the CAC Ballroom. Tickets are now available at the journalism office, Rm. 110, Commons Bldg.

MENC Seminar Guest To Present Program

By TED TILMA, Staff Reporter

An experience in "Avant-garde" electronic music will make its Wichita premiere performance tonight at 8:30 in the concert hall of the Fine Arts Center, following the University Band concert.

This unique lecture-concert will be presented by Professor of Music Milton Babbitt from Princeton University, a director of the Princeton-Columbia Electronic Music Center in New York City.

Professor Babbitt is in Wichita as the third guest composer to attend sessions of the MENC-Ford Foundation Seminar in Contemporary Music currently in progress at the University of Wichita School of Music.

According to Dr. Leo Kreter, assistant professor of music theory and literature, and project director of the program, Prof. Babbitt will assist with two seminar sessions dealing with problems of preception in electronic and other avant-garde music, and will help seminar students as they prepare experimental electronic tapes for use in the public school system.

According to Kreter a few experiments with electronic music are already underway in Wichita public schools, and methods of approach are being sought in this seminar which can be easily used by the general public school music teacher.

Electronic music is the most controversial of all new musical sounds and is considered by many respected musicians to be in fact non-music rather than a new means of musical expression.

As one of the world's foremost authorities on electronic music, Prof. Babbitt should clarify the aims of this music and should help Wichitans and students alike decide for themselves about its validity, Prof. Kreter also noted.

Babbitt has also served as a professor of mathematics, at Princeton University, and is currently a member of the editorial board of the "Journal Perspectives of Music," and has been a frequent contributor of articles to all the major music journals.

Babbitt has received many awards and commissions, including awards from the New York Music Critics Circle and the National Institute of Arts and Letters, and has been commissioned by many institutions including the Fromm Foundation and the Ford Foundation.

Professor Babbitt is also a former Guggenheim Fellow, and is in constant demand as a lecturer at major universities throughout the country.

JFK Pickup Nets $150

A total of $150 has been collected so far for the John Fitzgerald Kennedy Scholarship Fund, according to Nancy Anderson, chairman of the drive.

The money was collected between morning classes last Wednesday and Thursday by members of the Student Government Association. It was felt that collecting during the class day ensured an efficient and effective program in terms of being able to contact the maximum number of students.

Anyone who missed a chance to give for any reason, or who wishes to give more may leave their contribution at the student government offices on the second floor of the CAC. A contribution of $1 per student is needed to reach the projected goal, according to Miss Anderson.

Registration Booth To Be on Campus

A booth for registration to vote in the up-coming city, state, and national elections, will be set up tomorrow from 7:30 to 4:30 p.m., in the CAC, according to William Glenn, CAC director.

Students, faculty, and staff members who have moved to a new precinct, have changed names, or wish to change party affiliations will have this opportunity to register, according to Glenn.

University Band to Present Out-Door Concert Tonight

The first out-door band concert will be presented by the University concert band this evening at 7:15 in the University Fine Arts Center amphitheater.

Teacher Assignment To Be Given Today In Area 9, CAC

Student teaching assignments for next fall will be given at a meeting at 1 p.m. today in Area 9 of the CAC, according to Dr. Kenneth Nichol, director of student teaching.

On Friday, May 29, in the CAC Ballroom, there will be a luncheon for all students who participated in the secondary block program of student teaching during the current year. The price of the luncheon is $1.25.

Tickets may be purchased by students of the fall semester in 205 Jardine Hall. Students enrolled in the student teaching block this semester may secure their tickets from their college supervisors. The deadline date for purchase is Wednesday, May 20. Tickets may be purchased for guests.

The 70-member band, under the direction of Michael E. Garrison, will perform works by George Kenny, Mendelssohn, Osner, Lithgow, Williams, Jenkins and Fillmore.

Garrison said that in case of bad weather, the concert will be held indoors in the FAC Concert Hall.

The second outdoor spring band concert will be held on May 19. The University Symphonic Band will perform under the direction of James Kerr.

The public is invited to these concerts at no admission charge.

Included on the program are: "Coat of Arms March" by George Kenny; "Ruy Blas Overture" by Felix Mendelssohn; "Holiday for Winds" by Glen Osner; "Invercarigill March" by Alex Lithgow; "Symphonic Suite" by Clifton Williams; "Beguine for Band" by Glen Osner; "American Overture for Band" by Joseph Willcox Jenkins; and "Americans We March" by Henry Fillmore.

9 p.m. Curtain Set for 'Blacks'

A ritual murder is rehearsed by the cast of "The Blacks" which premieres tonight at 9 p.m. in the Pit Theatre.

The curtain will go up at 9 p.m. tonight on the premier amateur performance of Jean Genet's "The Blacks," presented by the University Experimental Theatre under the direction of Jean Ann Stevens.

The cast will present performances tonight, through Friday night. Tonight's performance has been delayed one-half hour so that those who desire to do so might attend the lecture of Karl Shapiro. The remaining performances will begin at 8:30 p.m. in the Pit Theatre, under the Commons Auditorium stage.

Student tickets are 75 cents and adult tickets $1, according to Miss Stevens.

Performed by an all Negro cast, the play takes the form of a ritual ceremony rather than being a direct discussion of the color problem. The audience sees a grotesque parody of a ritual, in which the bitterness that is to be communicated emerges from clowning and derision.

Due to limited seating capacity in the Pit, tickets are being sold in advance of performances at the Box Office.

Permission Granted

This week the University is honored with the premier amateur performance of "The Blacks."

After repeated requests to the author, Jean Genet, consent was given to the University Experimental Theatre for four performances, the first amateur performances of the production now playing on off-Broadway.

Congratulations to Jean Ann Stevens, director of the production, to the cast, and to the entire Experimental Theatre group for the honor which has been bestowed upon them by such a noted playwright.

Honors Deserved

Friday about 140 University students will be honored at the annual Honors Convocation scheduled for Friday.

Honors will be given to seniors who have a 3 point grade average or above and to all University students who have attained a 3.75 or above grade average.

Dr. Thomas Ungs, assistant professor of political science and coordinator of the University honors program, will speak to the assembled group.

The students who have maintained this high standard of achievement deserve the honors which will be given them Friday.

Sigma Pi Sigma To Hold Banquet

Dr. Worth Seagondollar, national president of Sigma Pi Sigma, national honorary physics fraternity, will be the guest speaker at the annual Sigma Pi Sigma initiation banquet.

Reservations for the banquet must be made by tomorrow in the physics department office, according to Joanne Larson, Sigma Pi Sigma secretary; and may be made by calling Ext. 237.

Dr. Seagondollar, professor of physics at the University of Kansas, will speak on "The Beginnings of the Atomic Bomb."

Members and associate members are invited to attend the banquet, according to Miss Larson.

SGA Student-Faculty Court Jurisdiction to Be Widened

By WILLIS C. JACKSON, Desk Editor

Editor Note: This is the second in a series of commentaries on the Student Government Association at the University.

When the Student Council of the University of Wichita wrote a new Constitution and revised the membership, changing it to the Student Government Association, in the spring of 1958, one of the new features included an SGA Student-Faculty Court.

The Student-Faculty Court was given original and appellate jurisdiction in many types of cases. The Court is composed of five justices, three appointed from the Association's membership, and two who are appointed from the University faculty. One of the faculty justices is designated as Chief Justice of the Court. The Chief Justice also appoints all appropriate officers of the Court needed for the "proper pursuit of its duties."

The Chief Justice of the Student-Faculty Court is Professor Curtis D. Terflinger, associate professor of administration. The other justices of the Court are Dr. Robert Teare, assistant professor of psychology; Tom Walden, Liberal Arts, junior; Steve Crane, Liberal Arts, junior; and Tom Waddell, Liberal Arts, junior.

There are no qualifications for appointment to the Court for faculty justices other than faculty status. An Association member must have a minimum credit point index of 2.5 and must be a full-time student as defined by the college or school in which he is enrolled, to be eligible for appointment as an Association justice.

"No Congressman or Cabinet member may be appointed as a Court Justice," reads the SGA Constitution.

The President of the University appoints the faculty justices and designates the terms they are to serve. The President of the SGA appoints the Association Justices. The appointments are subject to a two-thirds ratification by the Congress.

Any official act or decision of the Court is considered binding upon any Association member, the Congress, the Cabinet, or any organization if the act or decision is a result of a case brought properly before the Court.

The Student-Faculty Court recently voted to set the SGA election scheduled for April 10, because of the unconstitutionality of the date. The Association was said to have violated Article III, Section 2 of the constitution that provides, "Officers of the Association shall be elected from the Association at an election held on the last Thursday and Friday before Easter recess...." Because of the violation of this clause, the Court rescheduled the election for April 16 and 17.

This case was properly brought before the Court by two Association members of another party running in the election. The case was presented and acted upon. Any Association member is given the right to bring the Court any appeal that is within the Court's jurisdiction.

In the past, the jurisdiction of the Court has been handicapped by non-explanatory clauses in the Constitution. The SGA Congress has taken action to widen the jurisdiction of the Court, to include traffic appeals and other cases involving students.

Dave Crockett, SGA President, has appointed Sandy Mueller, Business Administration sophomore, to act as coordinator between Dr. George Comstock, dean of men; and Josephine Fugate, dean of women.

"The Court will provide an appeals system for traffic tickets and other violations. This would not only relieve Dr. Comstock of his duties as the ticket arbiter, but would also provide the Student-Faculty Court justices with experience in court procedures," stated President Crockett.

"At the same time such a judicial structure would provide students with the means of appealing what they consider to be unjust offenses," he injected.

The widening of the jurisdiction of the Student-Faculty Court will give the University student a chance to appeal offenses concerning him. It will also provide the student with the experience of court procedure, and enhance the function of the Student Government Association in general.

President Crockett concluded, "In the past few years the only business to come before the Student-Faculty Court concerned elections. We, the SGA, feel than an active Student Court could prove beneficial to all students at WSU."

BA College Schedules 3rd Banquet

Outstanding students in the College of Business Administration will be honored at the third annual College of Business Banquet Friday, May 15, at 6:45 p.m. in the Ballroom of the Campus Activities Center.

Purpose of the banquet, according to Jack D. Heysinger, Dean of the College, is to recognize and honor students who have received scholarships and other awards. The Frank A. Neff Outstanding Junior and Senior Awards will be presented during the program.

Mr. Sheldon Coleman, President and Chairman of the Board, of The Coleman Company, will also be recognized. He has been selected 1964 Honorary Member of Alpha Kappa Psi, professional business fraternity.

All students of the College of Business are invited to attend the banquet at no cost. They may bring guests at a cost of two dollars. Reservations may be made in Rm. 102 Neff Hall until Thursday noon.

Mikrocosmos On Sale Today

Mikrocosmos, the annual literary magazine published by English students, goes on sale today in the CAC and the Fine Arts Center for 35 cents a copy.

The magazine contains prose, poetry, and art work by students. A new feature this year is cartoons, in addition to six art selections.

Awards are made each year for the best prose and poetry selection included in Mikrocosmos. Lloyd Thompson won this year's prose award for his short story "The Lot." Bob Blackwill's poem, "Remember," won the poetry award. The judge for these two areas was Bruce Cutler, assistant professor of English. Cutler is also faculty advisor for the magazine.

Lithographs, collagraphs, and sketches are reproduced in Mikrocosmos. The six used were chosen by Joanne Mathers, graduate in art.

The editor of this year's Mikrocosmos is Jon Roe, graduate fellow in English.

Group Met For Wunsch

The Wunsch for Governor Executive Committee met this week to prepare for the visit of Paul Wunsch, Republican candidate for governor, on May 20.

The committee, consisting of Susan McClure, Pat Kemp, Mary Ann Hopper, Susan Kramer, Jon Harris, Tracy Burton, and Don Woods, are working closely with John Conard, state chairman of the Wunsch for Governor Committee, according to Dell Barbour, campus chairman.

Advisors to the campus committee are Mrs. Kathleen Edmiston and Mel Moorhouse, assistant to the dean of University College.

Wunsch will be on campus the 20th to visit with students, according to Barbour.

News Forum Set For Noon Today

The weekly News Forum will be held Tuesday, May 12, at noon in the CAC Ballroom. Guest panelists, Mr. Chelo Huerta, head football coach, and Mr. Joshua Missal, associate professor in music, with Mr. Mel Moorhouse, assistant to the Dean of the University College, serving as moderator will round out the program.

Audience participation is welcomed. Also, it has been announced that there will be a summer news forum and the dates will be announced later.

Scholarships Given to Four At Breakfast

Four scholarships were awarded to university women at the Delta Delta Delta annual Pansy Breakfast held recently.

The breakfast is held yearly to honor graduating senior women, who are members of sororities on campus. The recipients of this year's Tri Delta scholarships were Linda Yaberry, Education junior, and Carol Lee Palmer, Fine Arts junior.

The scholarships are provided for through fund raising efforts by members of the sorority.

Two additional awards were presented on behalf of Sorosis, the local organization which affiliated with the national organization, Delta Delta Delta in 1958. These scholarships were presented to Julie Coyne, Education junior, and Susan Kueck, Liberal Arts junior.

For the breakfast, the chapter room of the Tri Delta house was decorated with flowers, including potted pansies. The pansies were distributed to guests as a memento of the occasion.

Shocker Shenanigans

Warmer spring weather brings a renewed interest in all types of outdoor activities, and although there seems to be a definite trend toward kite flying; it will never replace the favorite campus sport of hiking (in from 21st Street). Shockers flying kites in front of the library are taking advantage of brief moments of moderate winds to test flight their creations. Students in classes for elementary school art teachers are being graded not only on artistic design but also on successful flight engineering of kites for their spring project, so it is not unusual to find several kites aloft and a score of spectators watching fascinated.

Pershing Rifles members of the Craig, and the God and Goddess eight companies of 7th Regiment who will be chosen to reign over attended a formal dinner and festivities. Richard Swaney is host awards ceremony and then danced for the pre-party and Tim Boyle to the music of the Dan Toltz Band has invited guests to a party at Friday evening at the Allis Hotel ballroom. Members from three states were on campus for rifle and drill competitions Friday and Saturday.

Greeks served coffee and doughnuts and chatted informally with faculty members Friday morning at the annual faculty-Greek coffee. Sorority and fraternity members painted campus crosswalks, and in some cases each other, Saturday afternoon as a special Work Day project, and the Greek Dance Saturday evening concluded traditional Greek Week activities.

Corinthian columns and a racing chariot will lend a Greek atmosphere to Spring Lakes Country Club Saturday evening at the Sig Ep formal. Special guests will be Alumni President Don Wright, Housing Board President Roy

New Cheerleaders Elected Wednesday

Six coeds, to serve as varsity cheerleaders for the 1964-65 school year were elected last Wednesday by members of the SGA Pep Council and representatives from various campus organizations.

Leading the Shocker fans next year will be Lynn Trombold, Bobbie Sue Caffrey, Sandy Hamm, Sharon Hodgson, Cheryl Brown and Terri Anderson. Alternates will be Lana Braden and Mary Ann Butcher.

Miss Trombold and Miss Caffrey are sophomores this year and the other four are freshman.

Masque of Roses Theme Of Speech Awards Banquet

Masque of the Roses is the theme of this year's annual Speech Awards Banquet to be held at 6:30 p.m. Saturday in the Innes' Tea Room.

A masque in theatrical terms is a revel, an entertainment, and entertaining the banquet should be. Skits are being prepared, awards are being voted on, and decorations are being made. At this time of the year, when all the plays are finished, all the debate trips are in the past, and the radio station is ready to sign off the air for the summer, the speech department gets together to hash over the year's triumphs and happenings.

Some awards which will be presented include: "Goof" award from the theatre department; the "Straight Man" award from radio; and various other honors from all three areas of the department.

Scholarships will be awarded by KMWU, and radio and debate "keys" will be presented to outstanding participants. National Collegiate Players will announce their new active members.

Members of Kappa Mu Psi, national honorary radio and television fraternity, will install new officers. The officers are: Clifford Hall, Jr., president; Larry Proffitt, vice-president; Ben Moore, secretary; Bertha Wilhelm, treasurer; Brad Awe, representative at large, and Jerry Glaser, sergeant-at-arms.

Tickets for the banquet are available in the speech office on the second floor of Commons Building, at $2.50 apiece.

Tea Held Recently In Honor of Wilkie

A tea in honor of Miss Grace Wilkie was held in the Grace Wilkie Hall lounge recently. Honored guests were Miss Wilkie, Josephine Fugate, dean of women; Miss Elizabeth Gane, assistant dean of women, and Mrs. Emory Lindquist, wife of President Lindquist.

Pastel spring colors decorated the serving table.

Emceeding a program to entertain the guests was Sandy Nassif. Participating in the program was Cheryl Roach, Barbara Reed, Marcia Reusser, Sheryl Schrock, Gail Eddy, Genny Coleman, and Marti Getz.

Dr. Gregor's Intriguing 'Souls' To Be Available This Week

"SOULS," the intriguing papers of Dr. Norman Gregor's English classes, will be offered in the CAC tomorrow, May 13, "or Friday, May 15, at the latest," said Dr. Gregor.

Each of his students worked on munication, was offered, and then one paper (soul) the entire semester. The paper was written and submitted; criticism, stimulating thought and "center to center" com-process was enacted seven times," said Gregor, indicating that seven was a "mystical number."

"It is difficult to rewrite seven times," he said, "Anton Pavlovich Chekhov, a Russian playwright, said that rewriting is like eating half a bowl of soup and finding a cockroach in it, then plucking it out and finishing the soup."

He said that in the past college students were required to write a certain number of papers on specific subjects during the course of a semester. "Some of the papers were inspiring, but most were quite dead." The "SOULS" required the students to keep going. "To brood over their golden egg and polish it until it hatches. Then they will have something that they can live with for the rest of their lives."

Last year's project was very successful. Over 200 booklets of the "SOULS" were sold in two days. "They are not for sale this year," said Gregor, "They will be given away, however contributions will be appreciated. All proceeds will go toward a worthwhile project, such as the JFK scholarship, or perhaps a new scholarship will be initiated. Whatever the students decide to do along this line will be acceptable."

A total of 800 booklets will be available this semester.

Shockers Make Good Showing At MVC Tourney in Louisville

Drake University, apparently having been assigned the role of Shocker tormentors this year, came away with the Missouri Valley track crown, but the Shocker thin-clads made a good showing.

The Shockers of coach Fritz Snodgrass collected 42½ points and finished third; Drake had 82½ points, and Cincinnati finished second with 53.

First place victories for the Shockers came in the field events. Doug Schoenwetter finished first in the discus, with a toss of 158 feet, 2½ inches. Jim Waskiewicz finished second.

The almost unpronounceable combination of Schoenwetter and Waskiewicz also grabbed second and fourth places, respectively, in the shot put. Dick Carpenter scored the Shockers' only other first honor by uncorking a 197 foot 1½ inch throw of the javelin. Shocker Larry Dalton was third in the event.

Paced by Johnny Stevens medalist victory, the University's golfers captured second place in the Missouri Valley golf tourney Friday. North Texas State raced to their fourth golf title in a row, with a team score of 903. The Shockers took second place with 915 strokes, squeezing by St. Louis by one stroke. Cincinnati scored 918 to edge Louisville by one stroke for fourth place.

The Shocker baseball team was knocked from the running in the Valley tournament by Drake's Bulldogs. Taking a 7-3 lead into the ninth inning of the first round game, the Shockers appeared headed for the semi-finals when Drake stormed back for four runs, two of them crossing the plate on a home run.

Annual A-ROTC Field Day Scheduled for Next Week

The annual Army ROTC Field Day will be held at 7:30 p.m. on 14 May 1964 in Veteran's Field, Colonel Preston W. Wyand, professor of military science, announced recently.

The activities will include drill competitions and a review. Representatives from each of the cadet companies will participate in voice and command competition, individual drill down and squad and platoon drills.

The Army Blues, a coed marching unit, and Company F-7 Pershing Rifles, both sponsored by the Army ROTC department, will present drill exhibitions. The Army Blues will also compete in squad drill, while the Pershing Rifles machine gun crew will present a demonstration crew drill.

"Black Jack" the Pershing Rifles cannon famed from use on the football field, will signal the beginning and conclusion of the Field Day activities.

Cadet Col. Dennis B. Vanderheiden commands the Army ROTC Cadet Battle Group, Major Jerry D. Malcolm, is Pershing Rifles Company F-7 Commander, and Honorary Cadet Lieut. Col. Carol Campbell, Army Blues Commander, will lead the exhibition drill units.

Immediately following the Field Day exhibition medals and ribbons will be awarded to the winners in the Commons Auditorium, by the Sedgwick County Chapter Reserve Officers Association and Wichita Chapter Number Twenty-four National Sojourners.

There will be no admission charge for the Field Day activities and the public is invited to attend both the drill competitions and award ceremony stated Captain Kenneth R. Fortney, assistant professor of Military Science.

Pictures for ID's Now Being Taken

ID pictures for next fall are now being taken in Morrison Hall Lobby at the following times: From 8 a.m. to noon, and from 1 through 5 p.m. today, through Friday. Pictures will also be taken on May 18, and 19 at the same times as above.

Faculty-Staff pictures as well as Student's may also be taken at this time, and students should note that it is now mandatory that all students have an ID card next fall,

8 Students To Receive Scholarship

Eight students have been selected by the Geology Club to receive scholarships in the department of geology and geography for the 1964-65 academic year.

The club also named recipients of graduate and teaching fellowships and the winners of the Larry Ricks Geology Award.

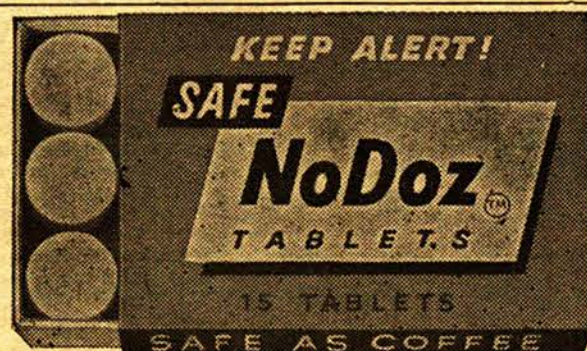

Recipients of the scholarships are: James L. Robbins, the Walter A. Ver Wiebe Scholarship; Dennis Myers, a Garvey Drilling Company Scholarship; and Roger E. Smith, a Garvey Drilling Company Scholarship.

Graduate and teaching fellowships have been awarded to Phillip M. Knighton, Harold R. Trapp, and John Robert Ward.

Simon Mambali, an international student from Tanganyika, and Larry Luke Taylor were awarded the Larry Ricks Geology Award.

The Larry Ricks Geology Award was established in memory of Larry Ricks, a young man who was killed as he attempted to save the life of another. Ricks was a sophomore majoring in geology at the University at the time of his death.

Each year the award is made to students who show promise in their studies and who exemplify some of the outstanding character traits of Ricks.

32 Cadets to Attend ROTC Summer Camp

Thirty-two University of Wichita Army ROTC cadets will participate in the ROTC Summer Camp at Fort Riley, June 20 to July 31.

The cadets will be part of the Thomas J. Haines, Sammy R. Gardner, James E. Harris, Richard G. Heffner, Donald R. Hoffman, Daniel M. Hopcus, Evan G. John-Colonel Preston W. Wyand, professor of military science.

The purpose of the camp is to train cadets in leadership and experience which cannot be obtained on the college campus. Cadets will receive training in weapons, communications, and tactics as well as serving as cadet leaders of the camp.

The cadets who will attend the camp this summer are: Ernest W. Ashenfelter, Bob R. Boaldin, Derald K. Boaldin, Larry D. Boswell, Allan B. Cluster, Kenneth J. Cupit, Charles A. Dent, Dennis S. Forbes, and Carl V. Ziegler.

Tennis Team Brings Third MVC Conference Title Home

By BILL MINGLE, Sports Editor

The University's tennis team brought home the bacon from the Missouri Valley tournament for spring sports, with the third championship claimed by a Shocker team this school year.

Led by sophomore Ben Anzola and senior letterman Chester Anderson, the Shockers scored 14 team points in the two days of competition, to edge by North Texas State's netters, who collected 13 points. St. Louis scored 7 for third place; Cincinnati had 6 for fourth; Tulsa grabbed 4 points for fifth; Louisville with 3, Bradley with 1 and Drake's 0, finished out the line of competition.

The Shocker netmen trailed North Texas one point, going into the final round of competition Saturday, but the victories scored by Anzola and Anderson, both in singles and doubles play, proved the margin of victory. Anzola rolled over the Eagles' Roland Ingram to take the number one singles championship.

He did not lose a set in the three matches he won during the tournament.

Although their numbers one and four singles players were kayoed by Anzola and Anderson, North Texas doubles team captured the number two division championship, vaulting the Eagles into a 13-11 lead; with two doubles matches between them and the number one division championship, Anzola and Anderson scrambled for two nifty wins over Tulsa and St. Louis and secured the Goubles championships for themselves and the team championship for their schools.

Anzola and Anderson were hard pressed to win the doubles contests, though. In the semi-final round with Tulsa, the two formidable Shockers downed TU's John Wymore and Ron Pitman in sets of 8-6 7-9 and 6-1.

The toughest test, however, came in the finals against St. Louis. Defeating the Bills' Larry Kast and Ed Costigan 6-2 in the first set, Anzola and Anderson came out with the victory only after an excruciating second set that saw the Shockers sew up the championship 14-13.

Anzola and Anderson collected 12 of Wichita's 14 points. Junior Van Thompson and team captain, senior Phil Adrian were eliminated in the semi-final round, but contributed the necessary two points for the victory.
