Instructions

How To

To search through publicly available information about Wichita State University faculty and staff, enter some text in the "Search" field and hit return. To narrow the scope of your search, select a section of information to search in. Using more words will narrow the results, but it will match on partial words. For example, searching for "Tim Strat" is sufficient to find Timothy Hart in Strategic Communications.

Default Search

The default search looks through name, title, department, phone and email fields and finds results that have words in those fields.

All Fields

Like the default search, this looks through multiple fields to provide results. This casts a wider net, looking through publicly available profile information as well as basic directory information.

Individual Fields —

Other search field selections will narrow the search to just those fields.

Updating information —

If you are a faculty or staff member and see something incorrect in your own listing, you may self-update most information in Banner Self Service on myWSU or on your Profile. If what you need updated is not something that can be reached through one of those two avenues, contact your department's administrative assistant or an EPAF-trained employee. If you are outside the university system and suspect that some information may be incorrect, please fill out a web support form.
