Wichita Finance Groups Underwrite Music Show

Four savings and loan associations will underwrite the entire production of "Dream of Gerontius," scheduled to be presented May 15 by the School of Music and the Wichita Choral Society, according to Dr. David Foltz, chairman of the vocal and choral department and director of the Choral Society.

The firms are First Federal, Mid-Kansas, Southwest Citizens Federal, and Wichita Federal.

"Last year, the University presented 'King David' as a gift to the community," said Dr. Foltz.

Seek Outside Aid
"Unfortunately, this year's University budget was incapable of incorporating the expense of such a large-scale organization."

"We had hoped to establish the spring oratorio as a tradition, so we sought outside aid. It came in the form of complete financial assistance from four of the city's large savings and loan associations," Dr. Foltz explained.

"This is indeed a very worthwhile project, and the cultural contribution to the community as well as to the students will be boundless," said Mr. Vann Jones, of the Mid-Kansas firm. Mr. Jones is general manager for the production.

To Aid Quality
Dr. Foltz said that the assistance from the savings and loan associations "will enable us to secure a professional lead of high (Continued on Page 4)

Science Fair Entrants Win Scholarships

Two East High School students were named grand award winners in the Fourth Annual Wichita Regional Science Fair held Friday and Saturday in the Fieldhouse.

They are Sally Ann Campbell, a senior, and Mike Nelson, a sophomore. Each received a $300 scholarship to the University. In addition, they will receive an expense paid trip in May to the National Science Fair at Indianapolis, Ind., where they will enter their projects.

Approximately 150 projects of junior high and senior high school students were displayed in the two-day event, sponsored by the Sedgwick County Medical Society and the University. Entries were divided into biological and physical science sections.

This was the first year that the "Fair" was held in the Fieldhouse. Previously, it was held in Henrion Gym.

Europe Trip Applications Due Today

Applications for the European seminar must be turned in to the student services officer by noon today, according to Mrs. Raymond Ahrens, associate consultant for education abroad.

This year's seminar, under the leadership of Mel Moorehouse, associate professor of speech and drama, will visit eight countries including Czechoslovakia and Berlin, both of which are behind the Iron Curtain.

Seminar cost, which includes transportation, meals, lodging, and program items, is $1,187.50.

The purpose of the seminar is to observe first hand, the social, political, and economical conditions of eastern and western Europe.

The seminar is open to students and recent graduates.

BPOC Reorganizes in Effort To Improve Selection of Slate

$5,000 Given For FA Organ

The University recently received a $5,000 gift from a prominent Wichitan for the purpose of launching a fund to install a pipe organ in the FAC Concert Hall.

President Harry F. Corbin announced Saturday that Ralph Carney, retired vice-president of the Coleman Co., Inc., had presented the gift in recognition of the "quality of the University's School of Music."

A Substantial Beginning
"We are grateful to Mr. Carney for his generous gift, and this support of our development program," President Corbin said. "We hope that others who possess a similar interest in music will join in helping achieve the objective of this gift."

Dean Walter Duerksen, of the Music School, said that the gift represents a substantial beginning of an organ fund. He estimated the total cost of the concert and recital organ installation at $50,000. He said that a pipe organ must be custom designed for a particular auditorium.

Dean Duerksen said that a new organ would complete the University's facilities for organ students who are preparing for both church and concert work.

Notes Music Progress
"I believe that Wichita citizens must rally to the support of their University if it is to continue developing into a distinctive institution of learning," Mr. Carney said. "Great strides have been made in the development of fine facilities, a competent faculty, and a good student body. The School of Music has made consistent progress, and is today one of the truly fine schools in the nation. This gift is intended to further enrich the music program at Wichita," he stated.

In preparation for the SGA elections, the Better Politics on Campus party has been reorganized "in an effort to improve selection of more qualified candidates," according to Ted Taylor, Liberal Arts junior and BPOC chairman.

Frank Vannerson

Instead of direct affiliation with member Greek houses as has existed in the past, BPOC is taking applications from individuals only—Greek or independent, according to Taylor.

Some Restrictions
He indicated the only restrictions are that Greek applicants shall not belong to houses already committed to the CHANGE party.

Candidates for the top four BPOC officers are Frank Vannerson, president; Don Wiles, vice-president; Carol Pierce, treasurer; and Betty Richter, secretary.

Taylor said the purpose of reorganization is to allow the nominating committee to select candidates on the basis of personal qualifications rather than social organization ties.

Policy 50-50
"The nominating policy of BPOC this year in regard to the distribution of Greek and independent representation in the Congress will be 50-50," he added.

"Many of the remaining seats on the SGA Congress as well as most class offices are still wide open," Taylor said.

He indicated that interested Greek and independent students are urged to apply and should contact him at the SGA office in the CAC.

The BPOC party was organized in 1955 and has held the majority of the seats in SGA since that time. Their presidential candidate was defeated last year, the first time since the party was organized.

Harvard Prof To Speak Here

"The Renaissance and the Golden Age" will be the subject of a lecture by Harry Levin, associate professor at Harvard, Thursday at 8 p.m. in the FAC auditorium.

Professor Levin, who instructs in modern languages, English, and comparative literature, is also a critic, author, and editor.

His books include "The Outreacher," a study of Christopher Marlowe, "The Question of Hamlet," and "Selected Words of Ben Jonson." He has also written several books on James Joyce and numerous magazine articles.

No admission will be charged for the lecture. The program is under the supervision of the English department.

Mikrokosmos Sets Deadline; $10 Offered For Cover Design

April 1 has been set as the deadline for submission of contributions to Mikrokosmos, campus literary magazine, according to Jerry George, managing editor.

Those who have not yet turned in their contributions are urged to do so as soon as possible in order to meet this early deadline. Although many contributions have already been received, more can be used. The magazine prints short stories, poems, essays, and art work. According to George, there is a special need for art contributions, and prints and drawings of any size and subject are acceptable.

Locked Container Provided
A locked container has been provided for depositing manuscripts and art work at the CAC information booth. Contributions may also be mailed to Mikrokosmos, in care of CAC, or may be given personally to any member of the Mikrokosmos staff, George indicated. Students interested in contributing or joining the magazine staff may call him at MU 6-8207.

A $10 prize will be awarded for the best cover design for the second issue. Designs should be in the form of linoleum blocks or woodblocks. The winner will be announced at the time the magazine is issued in May.

To Retain Cover
According to George, the traditional Mikrokosmos cover design will be retained for the fall issue. This is the first time that two issues of Mikrokosmos have been published in one year.

The May issue of Mikrokosmos will be copyrighted to protect contributors. Those whose works are accepted will receive free copies of the magazine.

WINNER—Sally Ann Campbell, East High senior, stands beside the project she entered in the Wichita Region Science Fair held at the Fieldhouse Friday and Saturday. She is one of two East students awarded a $300 scholarship to the University and expense-paid trip to the National Science Fair at Indianapolis, Ind. (Sunflower Staff by Gary Herlocker.)

The Editor's Board

Prestige and WU

Approximately five thousand persons were drawn to the University campus last Friday and Saturday for events involving intermediate and high school students.

The annual Science Fair, with 130 young participants, and the Drama Festival, with some four hundred participants, were held. The Science Fair is co-sponsored by the Sedgwick County Medical Society and the University, while the Drama Festival is sponsored by the speech department.

Events such as these give the University a chance to exhibit its facilities to prospective college students as well as spectators.

This can do much to elevate the prestige of the University and provides the possibility of gaining new students in the future.

Needless to say, a university's prestige is all important for its growth and betterment. The participating students were taken on campus tours and shown many of our fine facilities.

The CAC was one of the highlights of the students' tour. They were given special rates on the recreational facilities and they ate there.

In talking with some of the visitors they seemed to be impressed with everything . . . but the food.

One intermediate school boy stated that "your food is terrible."

It is doubtful that "terrible food" will discourage any student from enrolling at the University, but it is not good public relations.

While we congratulate the University for sponsoring such worthwhile events and striving to build prestige, we feel something must be done to improve the food services.

The More the Merrier . . .

Another new party entered the realm of campus politics late last week. The Abolition party is the newest addition.

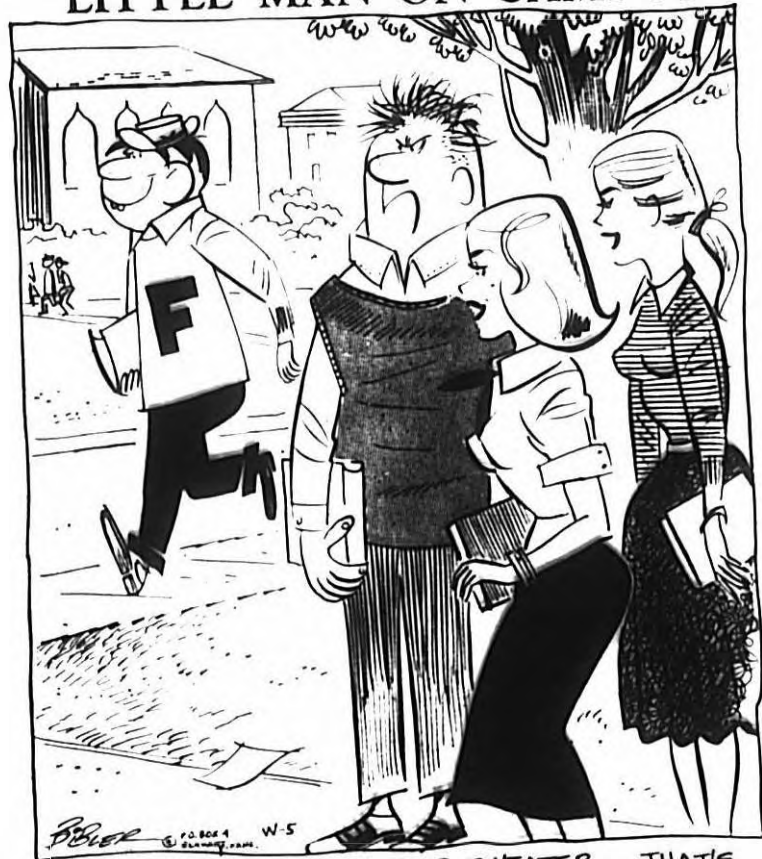

This brings the number of parties registered to a total of five. Others registered are BPOC, PCR, CHANGE, and BARB.

The latter was scheduled to have a ceremony to burn the registration slip yesterday, thus ending the party.

The campus situation is beginning to rival a French government election. The byword seems to be the more the merrier.

We do not feel this will make for better government. We hope that the parties will realize that for improved student government cooperation is necessary, not more factions to add to the chaos.

Question of Revision Reveals Definite Problems, Attitudes

The SGA Constitution has come under fire periodically since its establishment two years ago. Recently, a campus political party was formed with the direct purpose of revising this document.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION: Do you think the SGA Constitution needs to be revised?

Judy Denton, Logopedics junior—In my opinion the present Constitution is adequate. It was only written two years ago and should be given a chance to prove itself.

Ken Orr, Liberal Arts senior—The present proposal for revision does not offer anything. The students in SGA should concentrate on doing practical and progressive things rather than revising the Constitution semi-annually.

Myrna Schenck, Liberal Arts junior—I agree that parts of the present Constitution need to be changed but the present proposal for changing it is too radical. I'm in favor of continuing under the present system.

Allan Johnston, Liberal Arts senior—Basically our present Constitution is a good organ. Perhaps it does need some amendments, however. Our present Constitution is very similar to our federal Constitution so working under it is very practical experience for the student.

Bana Kartasasmita, Engineering junior—I think there is nothing wrong with the present Constitution. I'm against the new proposal because people should not have to vote for parties. A certain degree of candidate popularity is needed in elections.

John Ritchey, Liberal Arts sophomore—I don't think the students completely understand what is being attempted. Instead, we should let the Constitution stand until after election and then, if the students wish, the necessary changes should be made.

Marlene Samra, Liberal Arts junior—I think the Constitution needs a little revision, especially concerning maintenance of grade averages, but basically it is all right. I don't think the new proposal would do any good.

Carole Pierce, Fine Arts junior—I believe we have a fine Constitution. Instead of changing the Constitution, we should try to change the attitudes of some of the students. It would just be ridiculous to start all over again.

Leon Drouhard, Liberal Arts senior—I think the proposal for revising the Constitution has both good and bad features. We shouldn't do away with the proportional representation system, but I like their idea concerning the election of the president. If this was adopted, it would be less of a popularity contest and more closely approximate the function of the electoral college.

Musick Wins $50 Award For Top Paper

Raymond Musick, Engineering junior, has been presented a $50 award by the Wichita Section of the Instrument Society of America for a prize-winning paper on the subject of instrumentation.

"Simple Determination of Impedance at Radio Frequency by Use of Lecher Wires" was the title of Musick's paper, which was read last Monday at the Society's regular monthly meeting.

The award Musick received is an annual one presented by the group to a University student writing the best paper on instrumentation. Terry Pyle, Engineering senior, was also a finalist in this year's judging.

The panel of judges consisted of Kenneth Razak, dean of the School of Engineering; Elmer S. Hall, Kansas Gas & Electric Co.; and J. S. Cheek, Cessna Aircraft Company.

Anthropologist To Speak Here

A leader in the field of anthropology will discuss recent developments in that field at a public lecture here Friday. He is Dr. Walter Goldschmidt, professor of anthropology and sociology at UCLA.

Dr. Goldschmidt will speak in the East Ballroom of the CAC at 8 p.m., and will participate in a seminar at 9 a.m., Saturday in Rm. 330, Jardine Hall.

The California educator is the recipient of a National Science Foundation grant that enables him to tour colleges as a visiting lecturer.

Tempe, Ariz. — (ACP) — The State Press of Arizona State University reports that Sigma Pi actives returned to a furniture-less, pledge-less house after their pledges decided to go on a walk-out.

Much to the actives' dismay, pledges didn't return with the TV set until after "Maverick" was over on Sunday.

This is the B-52. Advanced as it may be, this airplane has one thing in common with the first war-galleys of ancient Egypt . . . and with the air and space vehicles of the future. Someone must chart its course. Someone must navigate it.

For certain young men this presents a career of real executive opportunity. Here, perhaps you will have the chance to master a profession full of meaning, excitement and rewards . . . as a Navigator in the U. S. Air Force.

To qualify for Navigator training as an Aviation Cadet you must be an American citizen between 19 and 26½—single, healthy and intelligent. A high school diploma is required, but some college is highly desirable. Successful completion of the training program leads to a commission as a Second Lieutenant . . . and your Navigator wings.

If you think you have what it takes to measure up to the Aviation Cadet Program for Navigator training, see your local Air Force Recruiter. Or clip and mail this coupon.

3-Day Conference on Aging Begins Tomorrow in CA

DRAMATIC SCENE—Two high school students, participants in the district drama festival here Saturday and Sunday, present a one-act play. Four-hundred students attended the festival, sponsored by the speech department. (Sunflower Staff Photo by Gary Herlocker.)

The University will host the Conference On Aging to be held tomorrow, Thursday and Friday. This is the third such conference that has been held on campus.

The conference is a comprehensive three-day program to consider the problems of the "over-45-year" age group.

Cowgill To Be Chairman

The program will include nationally-known consultants connected with the problems of the older population as well as interested non-professionals from central and western Kansas.

Dr. Donald O. Cowgill, chairman of the Sociology and Anthropology department, will be the chairman of the conference. Dr. Cowgill encourages all students to attend as the meetings are open to the public.

The conference is planned in cooperation with the Kansas State Inter-Departmental Committee on Aging and the Kansas State Citizens Committee on Aging. The regional program is one of several that will lead up to the 1961 White House Conference on Aging.

8 Discussion Sections

University instructors who have been named to act as chairman of the discussion sections are: Dr. Robert Holmer, chairman of physical education, education and leisure time; Mr. Glen Gardner, director of development, employment security and retirement; Dr. Amy Gerling, associate professor of sociology, family life; Dr. Val W.

Woodard, professor of biology, health and rehabilitation; Dr. James K. Sours, head of political science department, housing; Mr. Verne A. Bunn, associate professor of administration, income and property maintenance; Dr. Emory Lindquist, dean of faculties, religion; and Dr. David Herman, professor of psychology, social services.

Dr. Cowgill said, "Our purpose is not to produce new knowledge but to expose more of our citizens to the problems and information about these problems."

Open to Public

The conference will begin at 8 p.m. Wednesday and the round-table discussions will begin on Thursday at 9:30 a.m. The meetings and conferences are free to all students and the general public.

Mr. Clark Tibbits, chief of the Program Planning Unit of the Special Staff on Aging of the U.S. Department of Health, will deliver a summary and analysis at the closing program on Friday. President Harry F. Corbin will give the concluding address.

The Sunflower needs six more reporters. Why not you? Call Ex. 348 for an appointment or drop into the editor's office, 005, Commons.

Dates & Data

Today

Members of the Accounting Club will go on a field trip as guests of the Wichita chapter of the National Association of Accountants. The Club will visit the new Sedgwick County Court House jointly with the chapter.

The trip will begin at 7:30 p.m. according to Dr. William F. Crum, professor of accounting, and sponsor of the club. He said that students will meet in the jury assembly room on the tenth floor of the building where they will join NAA members in beginning the tour.

Nate Harms, county auditor, and Richard A. Curry, president of the Wichita NAA chapter will be chief hosts to the students.

All accounting students, their guests, and prospective members are welcome and urged to attend, according to Dr. Crum and Holmes.

Wednesday

The next meeting of Student N. E. A. will be tomorrow, at 7:30 p.m. in the reception room of the FAC, according to Jo Anne Terrell, publicity chairman.

Mrs. Edra Weathers of the Wichita School Board will speak on "The Functions of a School Board." A question period will follow the talk.

Thursday, March 24

The mathematics department will present a film "Donald in Mathematic Land" in the Mathematics-Physics auditorium, Rm. 201. The film will be shown at the beginning of each hour from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. and will last for 26 minutes. "Mathmagic Land" is designed to show the value and importance of mathematics in everyone's daily life. The relationship of mathematics to music, art, architecture and other fields is incorporated into the film.

All students are invited to attend the showing. The audio-visual service department will be in charge of projecting the film.
