A social preliminary to long-awaited University of Wichita-University of Kansas basketball game scheduled for Monday night, members of the Alumni Association of the two schools completed plans for a luncheon to be held Monday afternoon at the Allis Hotel. Tickets for the event go on sale at Dockum's No. 1 store. Officials announced today, reservations may also be made at the alumni office, 133 Administration Building.

All Extension Division Classes Begin on Feb. 2

Meeting Dates, Places Set for Convenience of Participants

Classes of the Extension Division of the University of Wichita for the second semester will begin the evening of Monday, February 2. All classes are scheduled for late afternoons, evenings and Saturday mornings in order that Wichita citizens may secure new information or special training while carrying on their regular work.

Classes are held in the University buildings or at other places about the city as indicated on the printed schedule obtainable at the office of the Extension Division. Some will be taught in the City Library, Y. W. C. A., Lassen Hotel, and the City Hall. One class on education will be held in the Junior College Building in El Dorado.

Variety is Offered

Courses are offered in accounting, cost accounting, advanced accounting, factory management, first engineering drawing (descriptive geometry), creative writing, all kinds of mathematics, beginning and advanced Spanish, speech, income-tax procedure, modern European history, religious education, human relations, business organization and management, political science, first aid, and sociology among others. Beginning German and scientific German will be offered if there is sufficient demand.

The educational service of the University through its Extension Division is of college grade and courses may be carried with or without credit. Library and other facilities are available to the evening students, who are invited to take part in all University social functions.

Students will register with their instructor at the time of the first class meeting. It is not necessary to make a separate trip to the campus for the purpose of registering. The University will arrange special courses, if possible, when ten or more students are interested. Students are especially urged to request the courses they need if these are not offered.

Tuition $4 Per Hour

The tuition fee, payable at registration time, for under-graduates and non-credit students, is $4 per semester hour of credit. The tuition for graduate students is $5 per semester hour. A limited number of courses leading to the master's degree are offered in addition to the regular classes.

Courses giving three semester hours of credit meet twice a week for a period of one and one-half hours. Courses giving two semester hours of credit meet once a week for a period of two hours.

The dean of the Extension Division and members of the evening faculty will be glad to discuss problems with students at appointed times. The dean will maintain an open evening office hours during the first part of the semester to consult with students concerning the selection of courses, credits, and other school problems.

Contestants Submit Snapshot Entries

Some examples of contest snapshots submitted to Phil McVey, editor-in-chief of the 1942 Parnassus yearbook, are shown above. Contestants representing all campus organizations are competing for the title of Picture Prince and Princess, and have submitted entries covering all phases of collegiate life at the University.

Successful candidates for the positions of Picture Prince and Princess will have a page in the yearbook dedicated to them. In the above layout, first semester highlights captured by the contestants' cameras include scenes of Homecoming events, football games, pledgehip, and other happenings which featured the University's fall and winter seasons.

Picture Contest Continues

SELECTED at random from the stack of nearly 200 snapshots turned in recently by entrants in the Parnassus Picture Prince and Princess contest, the above pictures show how life at Shockerville will be recorded in the 1942 yearbook.

This week, the contestants are busy preparing to meet the second deadline of the three-part contest, which falls on February 2. On that date, each will submit between 10 and 25 pictures similar to those above to Phil McVey, Parnassus editor-in-chief.

The first heat of the contest has been judged by a group of Wichita commercial photographers and artists, but no results will be announced until the closing rehearsal, sometime in mid-spring. Two winners will be selected, and will be crowned Picture Prince and Princess, respectively. A full page in a special section of the 1942 Parnassus will be devoted to them. All contestants will be pictured in the book.

Contestants include Betty Greene, Alpha Tau Sigma; Geraldine Israel, Pi Kappa Psi; Glenn Metz, Epsilon Kappa Rho; Betty Dunn, Sorosis; Marjorie Ryan, Delta Omega; Virginia Blackburn, I.S.A.; Ted Shidder, Alpha Gamma Gamma; Warren Tomlinson, Phi Upsilon Sigma; Olla Hassler, Men of Webster; and Richard Young, Pi Alpha Pi.

Volunteer contributions from any University student will be welcomed, the editor said. They will be used in the yearbook wherever a place can be made for them.

Girls Are Added To Military Band

Fourteen Are Needed For Balance of Section Instrumentation

Maj. Walter Duerksen, director of the R. O. T. C. Band, has chosen 14 girls from the University Coed Band to play in the R. O. T. C. Concert Band. Because R. O. T. C. officials wish to have only the boys practice during the regular morning rehearsal, the girls will attend the 5:30 to 7 o'clock practices.

The girls have been added, Major Duerksen said, to balance section instrumentation.

The girls who have been selected are: Betty Richey, Kathryn Hogue, and Virginia Base, clarinet; Doris Johnson, trombone; Marilee Jewell, French Horn; Glenn Metz, Virginia Campbell, Neola Bailey, and Glenna McPeak, flute; Billie Beth Summerfield, alto saxophone; Glendene Bagby, Dorothy Ledbetter, and Ruth Ann Young, trumpet; and Beth Trude, drum.

Coed Band to Play At Basketball Game

First appearance of the University coed band for the school year will be made tonight at the Friends-W. U. basketball game, according to Maj. Walter Duerksen, director.

Twenty-eight girls have enrolled in the band this year. Each member has a uniform in the school colors, yellow and black.

The Coed Band was organized a year ago this fall. John Davies is assistant director.

Sagendorph Will Be Next Student Forum Speaker

Authority on Military-Aviation to Be Heard Here Feb. 5

Kent Sagendorph, one of the nation's outstanding authorities on military aviation, will be the next speaker on the University's Student Forum, Bob Snider, executive secretary, announced today. Mr. Sagendorph will address the Forum in the University Auditorium Thursday night, February 5.

A survivor of the breakneck barnstorming period between the first World War and the rise of transport airlines, Sagendorph left the University of Michigan to join the old Air Service in 1922. This season, he will round out 20 years in military and commercial flying.

He was the first Army aviator to map the then-remote Philippines from the air, and he was the pioneer who introduced the commercial application of the aerial camera to the United States public. Among his globe-girdling adventures are flights through the Orient, across Siberia, Japan, into the American tropics and throughout Europe.

For more than 12 years, since leaving the Air Corps at Manila, he has been rising to fame in aviation as an independent military journalist, tactical expert, and author of more than 250 magazine articles. A decade ago he was contributing editor of Aero Digest and took an active part in the early development of the airline system in America.

For the past ten years he has been working closely with the chiefs of the Army Air Corps to interpret military aviation progress in national magazines and on the radio and the lecture platform.

Mr. Sagendorph acts as military aviation expert for the Chicago Times, Toronto Star, and his articles appear in Sunday feature sections syndicated throughout the United States and Canada.

Reed to Replace Lengel as Instructor

Albert Reed, of New York City, will assist Clayton Henri Staples, head of the University art department, in the portrait class which meets on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

Mr. Reed is replacing Walter Lengel, who was the former assistant. Mr. Lengel is now an employee of the Boeing Aircraft Company.

Mr. Reed will be Mr. Staples' assistant until the latter part of February, at which time he will return to New York City.

Rubinoff, the Artist, Is Known By All Too Few of His Admirers

By John Mitchell

WICHITA saw Dave Rubinoff Tuesday, heard him play his famous violin four times—twice in public concerts and twice over the radio. But, in reality, did Wichita see Rubinoff? Did Wichita see the man, or did Wichita hear the artist?

Few people realize the soul-tiring effort Rubinoff the man must put into his playing to make Rubinoff the artist. Few people know that a concert often leaves him weak; so weak he must lie down and rest after the concert because he has given his entire mind and body to the violin.

Too few people know that they endanger his health by taking advantage of his good nature after concerts and keep him for hours, at times, autographing music books, and even scraps of paper. They do not know that his underclothing is soaking wet with perspiration, rung from his very soul by the effort he puts into his playing.

Is Gracious to Reporters

There are not many celebrities of Rubinoff's standing who would spend 15 minutes of their time indulgently answering questions of an inquiring reporter. There is an even fewer number who would do so at 11 o'clock at night after making four appearances during the day and knowing that he must rise early the next morning, drive to another city and repeat his efforts of the previous day.

On the other hand, many thousands of people in additional thousands of audiences all over the world have come in contact with the Rubinoff humor, the quick wit that often keeps audiences in an uproar between solos on his violin which move them to tears. This humor is an inherent characteristic, with him as much off the stage as it is on.

Plays Stradivarius

He has modesty too. A good deal of his ability with a violin is accredited, by him, to his famous Stradivarius, made in 1731 and formerly owned by the Romanoffs, reigning family of Russia until the revolution. Rubinoff explains that this violin enabled him to play to the vast audience in the Forum without the use of a microphone.

Many have wondered why he carries two violins. The artist explains that he carries the second only as a spare, in case a string breaks on the Stradivarius. He has never, he said, tried to fool an audience by playing the spare. There is no comparison between the two.

But the fact remains that the Stradivarius in the hands of an amateur can sound as the worst of its replicas. It takes Rubinoff, the artist who practices from four to eight hours daily, to wrench tears from audiences one minute and carry them away to the clouds in the next.

Parnassus Queen Will Be Selected At Coronation Ball

Dance Is Informal Affair; Al Donahue's Band Will Furnish Music; Maestro Judges Contest; Informal Dinner Will Honor Candidates

Complete plans for the coronation of the Queen of the 1942 Parnassus tomorrow night were announced this week by chairmen of the Varsity committee as the advance ticket sale for the event proceeds briskly.

Parnassus Editor

Phil McVey, editor-in-chief of Parnassus, University yearbook, who is awaiting with anxiety the choice of Parnassus Queen by Al Donahue. Donahue will announce the selection at Intermission of the Parnassus Coronation Varsity Friday night at the Blue Moon.

Donahue, "name band" leader chosen to crown the queen, will interview each of the six candidates, at an informal dinner to be held in their honor Friday evening at Droll's English Grill. His decision will be announced during an intermission at the Blue Moon varsity the same evening. The dance is scheduled to begin at 8:30.

The affair will be informal throughout, although the candidates will be dressed in evening clothes. Corsages will be presented to them by Parnassus.

The candidates, chosen last week by their respective organizations, include Mildred Lundy, Alpha Tau Sigma; Betty Ann McClure, I. S. A.; Perle Eby, Pi Kappa Psi; Shirley Dean Ladd, Delta Omega; Heloise Hillbrand, Sorosis; and Jean Humphrey, Epsilon Kappa Itho.

The Blue Moon will be closed to the general public tomorrow evening, so that the dance will be strictly a University function, having the approval of the faculty committee on student activities.

Donahue's band, a 16-piece aggregation featuring "Low Down Music in a Top Hat," began a 10-night stand at the Blue Moon last week-end, and has already received the plaudits of University students who have heard it. The admission price for the Parnassus coronation varsity, $1.50 per couple plus tax, is considerably below the regular scale of prices.

Jim Kirkwood and Bob Tyler, co-chairmen of the Varsity Committee, are directing arrangements for the coronation. Bill Mandie is publicity director, and Phil McVey, yearbook editor, represents Parnassus.

Alumni Invited

Former students of the University may attend the coronation dance, committee members announced, and are urged to secure their tickets either during the advance sale or at the door.

N.Y.A. Reduces Aid to Students

Only 61 of 105 Receive Grants This Semester As Result of Cut

Because of the recent reduction in the University's NYA allotment, only 61 of the 105 students formerly receiving NYA assistance are on the list this semester, according to Dr. Hugo Wall, chairman of the Student Aid Committee. Dr. Wall further stated that most of those remaining on the NYA list have had the amount of their grants reduced.

"Some of those taken off NYA were given other University work," he said, "but at least half of those that were taken off NYA will be dropping out of school as a result of this action."

Selection of those to be given NYA grants or University work was made in an all-day meeting of the Student Aid Committee January 25.

C.A.A. School Has 95 Students

Civilian Pilot Trainees Increase in Number as Interest Grows

Ninety-five students attended the first meeting of the ground school for civilian pilot trainees Monday, according to Roy W. Elliott, director of civilian pilot training at the University.

"It looks as if we will fill our quota of 20 college students all right," Mr. Elliott asserted.

It is especially gratifying, he remarked, that 75 non-college students attended the meeting. There were 30 last year.

"This shows an increasing interest and confidence on the part of civilians in our training program," he pointed out.

Students will have to sign an affidavit before a notary public that they will enlist in the army or navy air corps when they have completed their course. Mr. Elliott concluded.

Military German Course Offered

Baton Rouge, La. (AP)—A language course in military German is offered military students at Louisiana State University for the first time this year.

Dr. Robert T. Clark, acting head of LSU's department of German language, expresses belief students in the University's reserve officers training corps will find the instruction useful as a means of studying official German military reports.

Donahue's Band Ranks High in Nation

Students and alumni of the University who attend the Parnassus Coronation Varsity tomorrow night at the Blue Moon will have an opportunity to hear one of the top bands in the nation in Al Donahue and his orchestra who will play for the occasion.

A recent survey conducted by the musician's publication Downbeat, ranked Donahue high in the list among dance bands of the United States. This is a high tribute to the youthful maestro, and to his troupe of musicians and vocalists.

Donahue's style, familiarly known as "Low Down Rhythm in a Top Hat" has proven immensely popular with local dancers in the short while that he has been playing here at the Blue Moon. A survey of attendance records set here by the band serves to amplify national tabulations showing that a recording of "The Shrine of St. Cecilia" by Donahue is now the second best selling recording throughout the United States.

Names in the 'Name Band'

Three outstanding members of Al Donahue's famous band who will play for the Parnassus Coronation Varsity at the Blue Moon tomorrow night are: left, Al Donahue, the maestro himself; Jean Gordon, lovely vocalist of the organization; and Phil Brito, Miss Gordon's colleague in the vocal division. Donahue features his famous "Low Down Rhythm in a Top Hat."

Idea of Union of the Americas Should Be Continued After Crisis

LAST week, the Pan-American conference of 21 American nations, met to co-operate in a hemisphere defense program, found one of their group, Argentina, unwilling to commit itself to the proposed plan of a common front against the Axis.

The first popular reaction in the United States was one of amazement at the shortsightedness of Argentina in delaying and blocking negotiations. In the opinion of most Americans, the attitude of Argentina promised dire things when considered in the light of Axis espionage activity in South America.

Before we censure the Argentines for their reluctance and opposition to the pact, we would do well to reflect that our ultra-commercial grasping methods in South America are being reflected in this attitude.

Our own nation, until the Pearl Harbor attack, was far from united in a nationally supported foreign policy. In vain did England, and earlier, France, appeal to us in the early days of the war to consider their cause our cause.

But let there now be but one prime objective for all American nations—to make an alliance of the Americas not a hastily-devised emergency measure to be discarded when the crisis is over.

Let us fight, and let us preserve the union.

Curtailment of Commodities Calls on People's Sense of Humor

AMERICANS are well acquainted with the "little man who wasn't there", but they are going to have to get acquainted with several other things which aren't there.

Imagine a suit with only one pair of trousers and minus cuffs to conserve on wool. Picture women without lipstick and nail polish because of a national emergency.

At present it is impossible to tell just how far the curtailment of commodities will go but one thing is certain. Americans will adjust themselves to this change with the same loyalty that has led them through other crises.

Synthetic Rubber Could Change Kansas to an Industrial State

Kansas may become a producer of synthetic rubber.

Millions are to be spent in establishing plants for the production of a rubber substitute in the United States, and what better place can there be for such plants than in the heart of the country—remote from the coasts and the bays, and near the vast oil supplies of Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, and Illinois?

And if parts of the new product have to be grown, what better place is there than the prairies of the Middle West?

Kansas might therefore easily become an industrial state after this war.

Campus signs and advertising would leave little doubt as to what is going on tomorrow night.

Officials hint that the Navy is stopping U turns in the Atlantic.

VICTOR this month offers a great many articles of note, the most sensational of which is the quite unexpected recording of Hindemith's "Mathis der Maler", well-played by Eugene Ormandy and the Philadelphia Orchestra.

There is also a set of some music from "Die Gotterdammerung" by Trossend and the NBC Symphony, recorded not in the usual acoustically perfect studio, but in the very warm Carnegie Hall.

The Music You Want record program for February 11 (KANS: 2:15) will be a concert by Feodor Chaliapin, who was born on that date in 1873.

Also worth the same risk is any record by Duke Ellington. But his latest, "The Blues" will have things he has ever done.

The Goodman sextet, composed of Benny, Lou McGarity, trombone, and the rhythm section featuring Mel Powell, piano, has made the most tasteful sides which come up to the high standard set by the old Goodman trio with Wilson and Krupa.

A more recent bash by the same group is "Blues in the Night", which features a falsetto blues chorus by McGarity, among other frequent kicks.

Other officers of the K. U. alumni chapter are: C. V. Waddington, vice-president; Lawrence Figge, secretary; and Ernest Newcombe, treasurer.

Shocking News

SO WERE sitting up in the Sunflower news room pleasantly musing over the thought that finals are past and that there's really little wrong that a good sleep can't fix, when in should come Higginson with his typed on a Wednesday on a Sunday and turned in on Monday, reminding us that time hasn't changed everything (from the song of the same name); and that we still have the job of filling this page.

Having successfully unwound at Blue Key's TGIFAP dance, Shockers now face the second lap of the Battle of Advertising and Varsity this week with the coming Parnassus Queen deal (commonly referred to by those in the know as the McVey-Tyler deal, getting the Moon exclusively for Shockers on a Friday night. It wouldn't take much guessing to figure out what type of deal was necessary, so it looks like it will take a lot of Shockers and their one sixty eights (tax incl.) to make the boys happy.

Things we've noticed: The favorable impression that the new athletic director, Ralph Graham, has made since he has been on the campus unofficially meeting the folks. And the way Editor B. J. and his B. A. head Mixerward afternoons, especially on afternoons that the Sunflower is expecting.

Such was the situation confronting Jack Sterrett when he came here this year, and with all due respects to a swell bunch of fellows, it must be repeated that the regime had made no efforts on the part of basketball as it had done for the Quakers attempt. In addition to this, Sterrett was confronted on his opening games with the prospects of meeting some of the country's better teams. And to top it all, the trip revealed that some of the dates were wrong and that other games had not even been "scheduled" at all.

Naturally enough, even hasty wiring and arranging could not do away with such difficulties as a 500-mile drive in one day from one game to the next.

Tonight and Monday—we'll be pulling for the boys to do a better job than we are when it comes to "gettin' any house."

While we're agitating, let's add another that we think is a legit agit—what conditions as they are, with University graduates going into the war effort, we find it in order to suggest, as has been often done before, that graduating seniors be exempted from finals. IN THE fall of 1916, Alpha Gamma Gamma, social fraternity on the University of Wichita campus, was founded. Lloyd Yazel, a college student, organized the group and was elected as the first president.

Alpha Gamma Gamma fraternity will hold its formal initiation service Sunday, February 15.

Hi, Kids! Well I see you got yourselves dragged back to school after all that after final celebration!

WHEE—I don't even get you all welcomed back for the second semester when Maria From Stephens hits the copy room and things start happen fast and furious and I do mean fast and I do mean furious.

SOME disgusted person suggested we change the name of this column to "Campus Laundry." (You know everything comes out in the wash). So you can dash out and get a clothes pin—quick, I'll close now.

Shockers Clash With Kansas U.; Quakers

Shockers Will Seek Upset Win Against Jayhawkers Monday

Big Six Co-Champions of Last Season Heavily Favored Over Wichita Squad; Kansas Boasts One of Strongest Teams in Years

By BILL MENDELL

Forrest C. "Phog" Allen, the man who gets his name in the sports pages nearly every day, will bring his high-scoring University of Kansas Jayhawkers, co-champions of the Big Six Conference, to the Forum, February 2, to meet the University of Wichita Wheatshockers.

The Jayhawkers, who are at present leading the Big Six with four wins and one loss, boast an impressive record this season. They have met and conquered six foes and have gone down to defeat only once. Kansas started the season with two non-conference victories, a 36-35 win over the University of Denver and a 61-28 win over Bethel College. Phog Allen used 18 players in the Bethel game.

Kansas opened its league play with a 51-32 win over the Oklahoma Sooners. Then followed a 48 to 34 victory over the Missouri Tigers and a 51-32 win over the Nebraska Cornhuskers. Then came the 43-41 loss to the Iowa State Cyclones, co-champions of the league along with Kansas. The Jayhawkers bounced back from the Iowa State defeat with a 46-44 overtime win over Kansas State. Coach Allen's high-scoring team has an average close to 50 points a game in seven games this season. The Shockers will not have to face Howard Engleman this year but the Jayhawkers have three men that are averaging over 10 points per game. Leading scorer is the Allen-forward, Charley Black, former star of the Southwest High School team of Kansas City. In five league contests Black has collected 29 field goals and 41 free throws for 69 points—an average of 13.80 points per game. Black's best performance was in the Oklahoma game, the opening league battle. Black hit 10 field goals and 5 free throws for 25 points—just six points short of the Big Six individual scoring record held by Jimmy McNatt of Oklahoma. The Jayhawkers' other forward is senior Ralph Miller, the former Chanute High School star. Miller did not play last season (he was letting his trick knee heal) but two years ago he finished second in the individual scoring of the Big Six with 116 points in 10 games. Miller played here in the Big Six playoffs two years ago at the Forum. The third member of the Jayhawkers' "big three" is lean Johnny Buescher, the junior center. Buescher scored 15 points in the Missouri game and made six points in the last two minutes of the Nebraska game. With three players averaging over 10 points a game, Kansas has a well rounded team. "Kansas has two good teams instead of one. It is the best balanced outfit Phog Allen has had since I've been coaching," Coach Bruce Drake of the Oklahoma Sooners said. So Phog Allen's team this year is considered a better team than the Jayhawkers team that trimmed the Shockers 54-29 last season. In last year's game the Shockers and the Jayhawkers battled neck and neck until the last seven minutes. At that point the game stood 37-35 for Kansas. Then blond Howard Engleman got hot and the game ended 54-39.

Ely Urges More Men Report for Track

Track Coach Eugene Ely this week issued a new call for more track and field men to report for training so that they will be in condition by the time the first meet rolls around. "All that is needed is the will," he said, "we'll furnish everything else." With the increased emphasis at the University of a well-rounded athletic program as was evidenced by remarks of the new University Athletic Director, it is hoped that students with athletic ability will see their way clear to participation in the varsity sports program.

Intramural Cage Play Will Start On February 5

Twelve Teams May Be Expected to Start Off This Season's Play

Basketball, one of the major intramural sports, will be in the campus spotlight once again as the 1942-43 season opens February 5 at 7:30 p. m. with games in both the men's and women's gym. About 12 teams are expected to open this season's play, which will feature a single round-robin and will eliminate the play-off system of the end of the regular playing season. The Alpha Gamma Gamma "A" team, defending champions, will be weakened by the loss of four of their last year's starters. Bob Jones, all-intramural center, will be the only returning man. Four new men, Bob Gensch, Francis Hesse, Bob Armstrong, and Homer Lay, will be brought up from last year's "B" squad. The Alpha Gamma Gamma "B" team this season, made up mostly of freshmen and pledges, will be captained by Jim Kirkwood, who will be playing his fourth year of intramural basketball. Holyoke Hall, last season's runner-up, will put another strong team on the floor this year. Charles Gibson, the league's leading scorer for the past two years, will be back, along with Dale Wallace, Ho-Stein Knutko, and Lyle Sturdy. Phi Upsilon Sigma, with all-star Phil Propper as the key man, will probably use a rushing offense. Jack Dodson, George Husock, and Bill Kessler will be other probable actors. The Gamblers will be weakened by the loss of two 1941 stars, Doyle Koonz and Oscar Sihal. Koonz and Sihal are playing varsity ball this year. The Ramblers, who had a bit of height last year with a line-up averaging 6 ft. 3 in., will have a fairly tall team on the floor again this season. Some of the tall boys are Bill Busch, former Phi Sig, Galen Low, Warren Lewis, and Ed Costello. Bill Campbell, diminutive freshman, may be in the starting lineup when the season opens. Men of Webster may have the dark horse team of the league. With men like Ned Subitsky of Columbia, Bill Mandle, and Dave Wilson, the Webster boys may give the other teams a race for top honors. Alpha Gamma Gamma, defending champions, won their title last year by defeating the Holyoke Hall team 25-23 in the playoffs, when Bob Kirkwood scored in the last six seconds of play. Last year's Holyoke Hall team set a new intramural scoring record when they whipped the Avescup team 104-19. Charles Gibson scored 27 points in this game and Ho-Stein Knutko made 24. Returning all-star players are Charles Gibson, Holyoke Hall forward; Bob Jones, Alpha Gamma Gamma, center; and Art Prophet, Phi Upsilon Sigma, guard. Jack Dodson, Phi Sig, made the second all-intramural team last year as a guard.

In a SHOCKER SPORTS CORNER With BILL HODGE

DOUBLE TROUBLE IS ON THE DOORSTEP OF THE Shockers this week as they set themselves for Friends University's Quakers in the Henrion Gymnasium tonight and a "last ditch" stand against the highly-touted University of Kansas Jayhawkers in the Forum Monday night.

After losing a close battle to the Shockers in their previous meeting this season, it seems reasonable to predict that Coach Glenn Henderson's squad will display that added incentive to win tonight. Coming out of the Quaker tussle (however the score may be), the team will move up against an almost hopeless task in the Jayhawkers three days later. At present, however, the score in this ball game at the Forum is still 0-0. Sports annals are crowded with nights when over just such a period of time as the K. U. squad will be on the floor Monday night, a clump has looked like a clump. A little praise to Coach Jack Sterrett and his small squad will not fall on undeserving persons. Altho not so exciting as the raised hand in the center when the battle is over—there is still a musty little group in every smoke-filled center where sportsmen gather who believe that REAL champions are crowned through the manner in which they lose.

Tommy Kinkaid may be back in the lineup with the Shockers tonight. After being out of the lineup for the past three weeks for a minor operation, he probably won't see much action tonight but will be in their among 'em in the Jayhawker game on Monday.

Ralph Graham, the new athletic director at the University of Wichita, is already in the process of building a grid team for next fall on the campus only a few days. The "Spride of Indiana University" has several promising players lined up from the high schools in the state. Some of the prospects will be forthcoming after the athletic policy committee has had a chance to pass on the boys.

The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You Dept. Word coming out of the athletic department this week has it that the cheering section of Shockers athletic teams almost got another backer this week. It seems that Mr. Leslie M. B., an architect, is quite enamored with a pretty Texas lass but the draft is being up proceedings, altho the southern Miss is willing. Attending a party at Dr. W. house the other night, Coach Jack Sterrett, playing the matchmaker role, called up the young lady at 2 o'clock in the morning and placed Mr. B. on the wire. After a "nice" conversation, the Southern Miss thinking that Mr. B. had changed his mind about the draft, sent a wire, bought a ticket on the first bus, and came to Wichita. Mr. B. is still a bachelor, however, the draft is still the same—and now it's "Butterfly" B.—and "Cupid" Sterrett.

The "Pho-e-e-r-god-o-w-n-again" course on the campus, according to Coach Jack Sterrett, is a new course which he is going to start teaching this semester. He has labeled it—Oral Penmanship. New course?

W. U. - F. U. Cage Game Is Tonight

Championship Will Be Settled as Quakers and Shockers Tangle

Wichita's intercollegiate basketball championship will be decided tonight as the University of Wichita Wheatshockers battle the Friends University Quakers at Henrion Gymnasium. If high-scoring Mike Taylor can get enough support from his teammates, the Quakers might be able to tie up the series, but if the Shockers show the form they did in the last game with their cross-town rivals, they will take the city cage title. The Shockers will end a two-week rest when they meet the Friends' crew. Their last game was against the Southwestern Moundbuilders January 16. The Shockers suffered their eleventh loss in twelve games when they went down to defeat at the hands of the Builders, 50-24.

Taylor is Threat Big Mike Taylor will again bring his six-foot, six-and-one-half-inch frame out on the court in an attempt to outscore the Shockers. Big Mike hit 20 points against the Shockers in the first encounter between the two schools this year. Taylor has been consistently piling up the points in every game this year and he seems always to have a good night against the University of Wichita.

Coach Glenn Henderson of the Quakers will probably start Harvey Schulte and Max Davis at forward and Orlin Ellis and Tex Rutledge at guards along with Mike Taylor at the center post. Don Hollar, the Shockers' high scorer of the first game this year with the Quakers, will probably start at forward for the Shockers along with either Marvin McDonald or Paul Hesse. Big Bob Jenkins will be at the center post opposite Taylor. Maurice Curry and Johnny Hyndman will be at the guard positions. Doyle Koonz, Oscar Schaaf, and Gene Steinke will probably see lots of action.

Friends, using their second string half the game, went down to defeat by one point last week to the Haskell Indians, a team the Quakers whipped 54-17 earlier in the season. During the last ten years the Shockers have beaten the Quakers nine times and have lost only once. The one Friends' win came during the 1939-40 season.

Several freshmen have also listed their preference as to events. David Christian, a star at North High last year, will compete in the quarter-mile. James Beckett will stick to the event that he annexed '39 North at the state meet, the low hurdles and also will run the dashes. Martin Perry, also of North, will run the half-mile, and Jimmy Ives, formerly of Kiowa, is expected to flash brilliant form in the high hurdles.

Activity Tickets Good for K.U. Game

Student activity tickets for the second semester will be honored for admission to the University of Wichita-Kansas basketball game Monday night if they are presented to the cashier's office anytime before that date and exchanged for either a five-cent ticket to the event or for 40 cents applicable on a higher priced seat. University authorities announce. These tickets will then be appended to the activity tickets, which will be returned.

Seating arrangements for students at the game, to be held in the Wichita Forum, will be the same as for the Oklahoma Aggies game held there during Christmas vacation. The Student Council has declared, and since student opinion was favorable in regard to the seats at that game, it is believed that much of the cause for objection by students aroused at last year's K. U. game will be alleviated. Either first or second semester activity tickets will be accepted for tonight's Friends University game.

Newman Club Meet Tentative plans are being made to hold a meeting of the Newman Club on Thursday evening, February 5, according to Max Kocour, president of the group.

Ping-Pong Friday

Second round ping-pong matches for girls are to be played by day, January 30. The next round will end Friday, February 6, according to Frances Blume, ping-pong manager. Play two games out of three to determine who wins the ping-pong game. After that post the score in the bulletin board.

Soup's on!

UNCLE SAM'S paratroopers, going "downstairs" on business, carry three square meals in one small pocket of their uniforms. It's very special food—powdered, concentrated—calories carefully counted—but complete from soup to coffee. It gives husky men the reserve power to keep going when other supplies are out. Reserve power is vital in industrial as in military emergencies. When defense plants began to eat up more and more electric power, reserve rations were ready. Reserves built up in advance by the business men who manage America's power companies. Reserves that met almost every defense demand overnight. But no power reserves could continue to satisfy hungry machines indefinitely. So the electric companies have been working fast to keep ahead. They put almost two million more horsepower into production during 1941. Here is a basic defense industry, able and willing to do its part—glad to pledge all-out cooperation with government and industry—until the skies and seas around America are free forever!

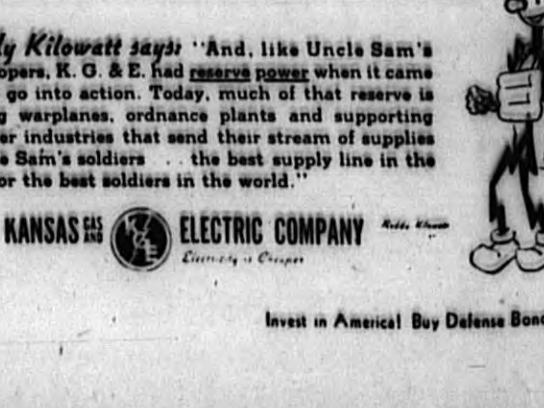

This ad is sponsored by 52 local electric companies—all producing power for America under American business management.

Raddy Kilowatt says: "And, like Uncle Sam's paratroopers, K. G. & E. had reserve power when it came time to go into action. Today, much of that reserve is building warplanes, ordnance plants and supporting the other industries that send their stream of supplies to Uncle Sam's soldiers... the best supply line in the world for the best soldiers in the world."
